

Chapter 99

The cameraman put on an innocent expression.

"Mr. Alex, Mr. Barker asked us to restart the live stream to show your evening activities," he explained. "And to ask about your experiences participating in this episode of the show."

Alex's face darkened. "Why didn't you inform us in advance if you were going to live stream tonight?"

The cameraman thought to himself that if they had informed them beforehand, they wouldn't have captured the earlier scene.

He continued with a look of innocence. "Mr. Barker wanted it to be a surprise."

He added, "Don't worry, when we started the live stream, we were a distance away from you. We couldn't hear or record what you were saying. It's all confidential."

His words made Alex's face turn even darker.

The cameraman's comment implied they were doing something inappropriate that needed to be kept secret.

At home, Alex and Olivia were used to such intimate physical interactions, so they hadn't thought much of it.

Though the cameraman's remark annoyed them, they were also relieved that their conversation hadn't been broadcasted.

At that moment, the assistant director walked in from the entrance.

"Mr. Alex, Ms. Olivia, could you please share your thoughts on participating in this episode?"

Alex replied perfunctorily, "I've never experienced this kind of life before, so it's been alright."

Olivia smiled. "I've had very deep feelings about participating in this show. From the first day..." She began to elaborate, eager to make a good impression on camera.

However, the viewers watching the live stream were not focused on what they were saying at all.

"My goodness, was that earlier scene something we should have seen?"

"The production team's surprise caught such an intense moment, thrilling."

"Late at night, these two hugging and kissing in the courtyard, definitely thrilling!"

"Hey, they only kissed on the forehead and cheek."

"Kissing on the forehead and cheek isn't considered kissing?"

"Does anyone here have siblings? Do you behave like this with your siblings?"

"My brother and I are close, I'll link arms with him and lean on him while watching TV, but we've never been this intimate."

"I do kiss my little sister on the forehead, but she's only four years old..."

"I also hug and kiss my sister, but she's three."

"So, for adults like these siblings, such intimate hugging and kissing is indeed too much, right?"

"That's why I feel like I'm watching a dating show with them."

"I'm starting to believe those mystics' face readings from earlier."

"Me too. It makes sense that they're only this close because they're not real siblings."

"If they were biological siblings, then that's just too..."

"Even if they're not biological siblings, it's still strange. They publicly claimed to be siblings from the same family."

"Pseudo siblings, we all get it."

"These siblings leave me speechless. I can't stomach this kind of affection."

"I can't either. What happened to sibling love?"

"I'd like to ask, how do Alex's and Olivia's fans feel about this?"

"Especially Alex's fans, how do you feel about your idol hugging and kissing the angel? Sweet?"

"If I were an Alex's fan, I'd be disgusted."

"Wow, this is so intense. The drama just keeps coming!"

Alex's and Olivia's fans remained silent, unsure how to express their complex emotions.

They couldn't accept this kind of affection.

The chat was flooded with discussions about the siblings' intimate actions.

At the same time, a video of Alex and Olivia hugging and kissing was clipped and posted online.

The video titled "The True Nature of Alex's Sibling Love" quickly went viral.

Soon, another topic, "Moments Between Alex and His Sister," also started trending.
