Reborn as the Dragon King's Son-In-Law

Chapter 101: Queen Witch

Rossweisse’s status in the Life Continent is that of a magical woman with extraordinary magical powers. There are only a few people in the entire world who can fight Rossweisse evenly in a one-on-one battle. Moreover, most of those people are Heavenly Warrior-stage experts.

Ancient Warrior-stage humans are no different from food in Rossweisse’s eyes. A woman born with peerless magical talent is the rarest thing to find in the entire world. As a witch recognized as the Queen Witch, Rossweisse is the only woman worthy of becoming the next Heavenly Warrior in the future.

That is the thought of all living beings throughout the world. In the end, Rossweisse is tens of thousands of years old. Therefore, almost every living being throughout the world considers Rossweisse to be one of the next humans to reach the Heavenly Warrior stage.

"You are very strong. But what you are facing is me, the Queen Witch. If it were a human with strength one level lower than mine, they would not have any chance against the current you. I acknowledge you. But unfortunately..." Rossweisse’s gaze, which was previously filled with awe, began to turn serious. She continued, "I have to end this fight between us that has been going on for more than a minute."

Rossweisse’s figure, which had previously stood on the ground, began to float into the sky, revealing her extraordinarily graceful and beautiful appearance. A broomstick, like those generally used by witches, became visible in Rossweisse’s right hand. Likewise, the witch’s hat on Rossweisse’s head now endlessly emitted a sharp and majestic aura.

"This is bad! Everyone, protect yourselves immediately if you don’t want to get hurt or die! My master is about to show her seriousness!"

"Eh? Alright. I’ll protect the others."

When the strongest witch shows her seriousness in facing an extraordinarily strong enemy, what the enemy receives is death. But Lucien is the lover of one of Rossweisse’s disciples. Therefore, Rossweisse will be gentle even when she shows her seriousness while facing Lucien.

The ability that Lucien seized previously when he came into contact with Rossweisse was an ability that could disrupt space. That was one of the reasons why Lucien was able to destroy Rossweisse's barrier as well as the barrier protecting Elize's territory. After all, the spatial ability that Lucien received from Rossweisse was a top-level ability.

Sounds of collisions like lightning strikes began to sweep across Elize's territory. Rossweisse, who had previously been casting her magic, began preparing to use her Mana Reversal ability. But even so, Rossweisse was completely unable to control the true power of Mana Reversal.

In the end, Rossweisse is still a human below the Heavenly Warrior stage. From the start, Rossweisse's only flaw in life was her inability to reach the Heavenly Warrior stage. Despite that, Rossweisse was glad that she was able to witness the true capabilities of Mana Reversal.

"Three mountains that symbolize the absolute wall. Sunlight that can purify all evil energy throughout the universe. Menace Lord."

There was no chance for Lucien to survive any attack that Rossweisse would launch at him. Countless unstoppable walls appeared around Lucien. At the same time, a giant mountain began descending from the skies above Elize's territory.

"Is this a battle between two truly powerful beings? She can even summon a mountain?"

"There's no need to be surprised. My master is not an ordinary human at all. Moreover, this is not the first time you have witnessed someone creating such an unreasonable phenomenon as a mountain."

A look of endless nervousness began to appear on Ariel's face. Even Heilde, who usually had an indifferent attitude, started to show an expression of amazement. From Heilde's point of view, the ability Rossweisse displayed while facing Lucien's true form was extremely terrifying.

"Sigh... This can no longer be called ordinary magic. Lize, your master is not a normal human at all."

"I know... Sorry."

After the giant mountain created by Rossweisse completely landed on Lucien's dragon form, an unreasonable feeling of heaviness began to spread throughout Lucien's body. There was no chance whatsoever for Lucien to survive under a burden that weighed as much as hundreds of countless mountains.

Rossweisse's abilities are not limited to creating mountains; she also possesses other abilities, such as manipulating the laws of reality around her. With Rossweisse successfully manipulating all the air and gravity around Lucien, she was able to exert unreasonable pressure on him.

In just a few breaths, Lucien's dragon form was completely submerged beneath the giant mountain created by Rossweisse. For some reason, there was not the slightest sign of resistance from Lucien as he endured Rossweisse's terrifying attack.

Lucien's form, which had previously been in his dragon form, began to change back into his human form. But Rossweisse had no intention of stopping her attack. However, Lucien's current form as the Velvet Prostitute Physique did not completely disappear from his body.

That was one of the reasons why Rossweisse decided to lift the giant mountain off Lucien's body. At the same time, Lucien, who was now in a miserable state, began to moan in pain endlessly.

"You are quite powerful to be able to withstand such a powerful attack. But what about an attack that can purify everything in this world? I want to see whether you can be purified by this power or not."

A light so bright that it could blind all living beings appeared in the sky above. It was not an ordinary light at all. On the contrary, it was sunlight that could burn everything in the world.

The sun created by Rossweisse was no smaller than a small Human race territory. Even that alone was enough for Rossweisse to destroy a small country with a single attack. Even so, the enemy Rossweisse was currently facing was by no means weak.

The sunlight shining from above began to cause Lucien immense pain. Lucien's consciousness, which had previously been submerged within his subconscious, began to awaken as he realized what was happening. From Lucien's perspective, he realized that Rossweisse was one of the reasons he was able to regain consciousness as Lucien.

Of course, I could have simply stayed where I was without telling Rossweisse anything that had happened. Because the remnants of the Velvet Prostitute Physique's power still coated my entire body, I let Rossweisse purify the terrifying power engulfing my body until nothing remained.

'Luckily, I managed to survive. I won this bet. Ha ha... So that's what it feels like to activate the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique? I've even become much better at mastering that true form of mine!'

A feeling of endless happiness struck deep within my heart. This was my first experience of being able to maintain my consciousness while activating the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. Because Rossweisse has given me an ability that allows me to activate my true form, I will be able to survive longer in the future when facing strong enemies.

Chapter 102: Dimensional Breaker

Every time Rossweisse tried to purify the evil power surging through my body, she felt her senses being slightly eroded by the inhuman power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. For some reason, a strange and slightly perverted feeling began to surge throughout Rossweisse's body.

The true ability of the Velvet Prostitute Physique is ultimately an ability that can attract the attention of any woman throughout the world. Moreover, Rossweisse is a woman. Therefore, it was not surprising that Rossweisse felt a strange sensation when she felt the remnants of the power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique surrounding her entire body.

Luckily, Rossweisse is a woman who was born with abundant magic power. It was impossible for Rossweisse to completely succumb to her lust. In the end, Rossweisse is a woman with the title of Queen Witch.

Suddenly, a sound that resembled a cough started to come out of Rossweisse's mouth. Rossweisse's two eyes, which had previously shown a blank stare, began to stare at where I was. Unexpectedly, an involuntary sigh escaped Rossweisse's mouth.

In Rossweisse's entire life, this was the first time she had witnessed a young man successfully deliver multiple attacks against her. If not for the fact that the man was in his 20s, Rossweisse would not have thought of him as attractive and talented.

A human in his 20s possessing combat power equivalent to the Dragon Overlord stage was by no means an ordinary human. As a woman who liked talented young people, Rossweisse considered me to be the most talented young man she had ever met in her life.

"Cough. Lucien Blackheart, have you regained your consciousness? If you feel something strange inside you, you can ask me to do you a favor."

"No complaints at all. I'm just not happy with how you forcefully let me fall into that crazy state. Did you know that the ability I snatched from you was the Dimensional Breaker ability?"

A memory of Rossweisse previously feeling one of her abilities being taken away by the man who was now lying on the ground came back to her mind. At first, Rossweisse didn't believe at all that one of her main abilities had been taken by me. But after witnessing how I managed to penetrate her defensive barrier, Rossweisse began to think of the true ability of Reversal Mana as Absorbing Abilities.

For now, Rossweisse's view of the Reversal Mana ability she had created had completely changed to Absorbing Abilities. As the creator of Absorbing Abilities, Rossweisse had a hypothesis about the true ability of Reversal Mana.

There were two names that Rossweisse had prepared when she first created the ability of Reversal Mana. The first name was Reversal Mana itself. But the second name was Absorbing Abilities, which could seize every ability from other living beings.

One of the reasons why Rossweisse considered Absorbing Abilities to be an ability that could seize the abilities of every other living being was that Rossweisse's true goal was to gain abilities from her opponents. However, living for thousands of years was not fun at all. Moreover, Rossweisse had fought face-to-face several times against enemies with unreasonable abilities.

Rossweisse's jealousy towards every enemy she had faced in the past made her create a new ability, such as Absorbing Abilities. Instead of succeeding in creating an ability that could seize the abilities of other living beings, Rossweisse actually created a dangerous ability that could take the life of the user who used it.

Since then, Rossweisse's dissatisfaction with the abilities she had created, which had experienced endless failures, had plagued both her mind and heart. In fact, it almost drove Rossweisse crazy just thinking about the time when she failed to create such a great ability. But now, all the theories that Rossweisse had been thinking about all this time had completely come true.

It's possible that in the entire world, I'm the only one who can activate Absorbing Abilities without experiencing any side effects. But a small part of Rossweisse felt a little unhappy when she remembered the requirements for using Absorbing Abilities. Therefore, Rossweisse decided to forget about the current events.

In the end, Absorbing Abilities can only be used by those who possess unreasonable strength like me. Due to my origins as the successor of a God King, I have an advantage that allows me to possess combat strength far above that of ordinary weak living beings.

"You're a great human being. You have succeeded in proving that the theory I have always wanted to know is correct, which is enough to answer every doubt I have. You, Lucien Blackheart, have an extraordinary future and will be able to surpass all living beings throughout this world."

Continuous applause sounded from Rossweisse's palms. Rossweisse's figure, which had previously floated in the sky, began to descend and came to stand beside me as I lay in the crater. For some reason, I couldn't move my body at all after activating the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique.

Athena, Elize, Heilde, Ariel, Tifa, and Tina began walking closer to where I was. The worried expression on Ariel's face gradually turned into a serious one. However, my current condition was completely due to having exhausted all of my mana.

"Let me help you, brother-in-law. I can transfer half of my mana into your body. At least I can also heal the wounds on your body with my Healing Magic."

Both Athena and Elize, without hesitation, immediately gave their permission for Ariel to assist their lover. Likewise, Tina and Tifa, without hesitation, immediately helped Ariel take care of their master. As Lucien's personal maids, Tifa and Tina had the duty to look after their master even when he was not in his best condition.

Tifa and Tina's mana reserves were much more abundant than Ariel's and Heilde's. Therefore, Tifa and Tina had absolutely no qualms about letting their master receive the abundant amount of mana within them.

There was no reason for Tifa and Tina to hesitate to give their immense mana power to their master. Since the first time Tifa and Tina met their master, they had completely regarded Lucien as a strong and kind master.

"It feels comfortable too. Successfully obtaining magic power from three beautiful women wasn't as bad as I imagined..." My two eyelids, which had previously been open, slowly closed until I was completely lost in my thoughts. I didn't completely fall unconscious. Instead, I relentlessly tried my best to digest every piece of information from the Dimensional Breaker ability I had snatched from Rossweisse earlier.

Chapter 103: Rejection

'This is a very useful ability. I feel like I can do anything in this world. Dimensional Breaker is not only capable of destroying but can also tear apart another dimension...'

Actually, tearing apart another dimension with the Dimensional Breaker ability requires at least a large amount of mana. It even requires almost hundreds of thousands of mana to tear apart a small dimension. Therefore, Rossweisse is the only person in the world who can use the Dimensional Breaker ability without experiencing any side effects.

But Rossweisse's Dimensional Breaker ability has now been completely usurped by me. However, as the creator of the Dimensional Breaker ability, Rossweisse can relearn that ability at any time with all the understanding she possesses.

A creator is ultimately a creator. If it were someone who was not the creator of the ability that I had currently seized, they would have no chance of relearning the ability that had previously been seized by me.

But Rossweisse is the true creator of the Dimensional Breaker ability. From Rossweisse's point of view, as the greatest genius magician of the entire Human race, she possesses knowledge that far surpasses the common sense of living beings in general.

For some reason, complicated thoughts endlessly began to run through Rossweisse's mind. Every time Rossweisse recalled the results of her hard work in creating the Absorbing Abilities, she felt a sense of helplessness strike deep within her heart.

This was a rare first experience for Rossweisse simply because she couldn't master an ability that she had created with her own hands. However, the requirement to activate Absorbing Abilities is at least an almost infinite amount of mana.

In my case, after successfully activating Absorbing Abilities, the mana power I possess became much different from that of living beings in general. After activating the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique, the mana within my human body began to transform into the purest power that existed among all living beings throughout the world.

In the end, I am the successor of God King Velvet, who inherited the physical body of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. For that reason, it is enough for anyone throughout the world to consider me as someone born with the privileges that the God King passed down to me. But that's not a big deal at all for someone like me.

"He's different... Even the mana within his body is much more abundant than that of experts at the Dragon King stage or Great Dragon King stage in general. For that reason, I also recognize this child as the strongest candidate among the entire Human race in the future."

The low voice that came out of Rossweisse's mouth couldn't reach the ears of Elize and the others at all. In contrast, Rossweisse was completely focused on assessing the true abilities of the man before her.

Rossweisse couldn't doubt the man's extraordinary talent. After assessing every ability the man possessed when he fought face-to-face against her, Rossweisse felt a strange and uncomfortable feeling that endlessly filled her body with fear.

The moment Rossweisse felt fear was the moment the man roared in his dragon form. From the start, the roar released by the man in his dragon form could easily suppress any bloodline, just like that of the Dragon race. Therefore, there was nothing strange about a human like Rossweisse feeling fear when facing Lucien's true form.

It had been a long time since Rossweisse had felt her heart beating so fast without stopping while facing an enemy like Lucien. Even though Lucien was Elize's disciple, Rossweisse knew that Lucien couldn't remain under Elize's training forever.

Lucien's talent beyond common sense was enough for him to master everything Elize taught him. That was also what Rossweisse had known when she first visited her disciple's residence. When Rossweisse observed how her disciple reacted to Lucien, who was her own disciple, the gaze Elize showed at that time was no different from that of a master who considered her disciple to have successfully passed every lesson she had given him.

From then on, Rossweisse knew that Lucien was a talented man who had completely succeeded in mastering every teaching Elize had given him. It was just that because Lucien's talent was extraordinary, he couldn't progress any further than he already had.

"Hey, boy, do you have any dreams to achieve in the future?"

My two eyelids, which had previously been closed, began to open, and I looked back at Rossweisse with a confused expression on my face. A small part of me was completely unaware of Rossweisse's true intentions in asking such a useless question. However, Rossweisse is a woman who has a lot of work to do.

"Why? Do you intend to take me as your disciple? Unfortunately, I can't accept it."

"Eh... That's very unfortunate. If you wish to become my personal disciple, I can take you with me to the Life Continent for the next few years."

The sound of clicking tongues involuntarily came from behind me. My eyes, which had previously been looking at Rossweisse, turned toward Elize, who was now showing a sharp gaze. Even Rossweisse couldn't hold back her cough when she saw the sharp gaze her disciple gave her.

"Master... You should know that Cien's current training period is still not completely over. I will not let him go before he can surpass the level of strength that I currently possess. Only after all the conditions are met will I let Cien decide whether he should make you his master or not."

Both Rossweisse and Elize began to show their respective sharp gazes. Two heavy and uncomfortable auras began to collide with each other in the air where Athena and the others were standing. For some reason, the master and disciple started to look as if they were preparing to battle each other.

There was no expression on my face other than a look of indifference. It was normal for me to witness the women around me starting to fight each other over me. In the end, I am a man born with extraordinary talent.

Of course, that’s just a one-sided belief that only I can have. Not everyone in the world considers me a miracle with unrivaled talent. There are many powerful experts like Lilith roaming throughout the world.

Calling myself the only powerful miracle who can surpass every miracle in the entire world is no different from making myself look like a fool. Even though I possess the Velvet Prostitute Physique as my strength, the current me is just a naive kid who can’t control the childishness deep within my mind.

Chapter 104: Sparring Match

"Master, I want to challenge you to a duel right here and right now! I’ve been wanting to spar with my Master alone for a long time." The wide smile Elize was showing at that moment reflected her enthusiasm. It had become Elize’s main goal to fight Rossweisse one-on-one. However, in the past, both Elize and Rossweisse had fought together several times.

As Elize’s master, Rossweisse had taught various things to her disciple. Moreover, Elize was the disciple who had the shortest training period compared to Rossweisse’s other disciples. Therefore, Rossweisse was a little impatient to spar against her youngest disciple.

"Of course. I hope you won’t beg for mercy after losing to your master. Don’t be too arrogant just because you’ve managed to break through one major layer."

"Hehe. Master had better prepare yourself. Otherwise, I’m afraid your head will suffer an injury!"

Transformation!—

The Dragonoid Transformation began to appear all over Elize’s body. Elize’s current mana power had increased much more than before. Even Rossweisse couldn’t hide her amazed expression at the progress her youngest disciple had shown.

It was the rarest thing for Rossweisse to take a dragon as her disciple. After Elize became Rossweisse’s youngest disciple, Elize was the only one who managed to pass the harsh training Rossweisse had given to her disciples.

That was also one of the reasons why Elize was able to return to the Dragon Realm after successfully graduating from Rossweisse’s training. But Elize didn’t make any progress at all after returning to her homeland. On the contrary, almost every day, what Elize did was train and guard the border areas of the Dragonia Kingdom.

Elize's only duty while in the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom was to guard the borderlines and not let any intruders succeed in entering the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom. But after Elize left her duties in the border region, the intruders from the Flame Empire managed to sneak in and make preparations for their cunning plan.

But due to the presence of Lucien, who succeeded in defeating the invaders from the empire, the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom once again managed to escape the sneak attack that the empire would launch against the Dragonia Kingdom. Therefore, neither Lilith nor Lucius cared at all if Elize wanted to go out alone with their son-in-law.

Lucien alone was enough to kill any intruder who tried to sneak into the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom. Although Lucius was a little doubtful about whether he should trust his stupid son-in-law to guard the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom or not, Lucien was still the only man who had managed to gain recognition from the strongest.

Rumble!—

Various terrible phenomena, such as earthquakes, began to strike all the areas where Athena and the others were currently located. There was even a roar like thunder starting to echo throughout the entire land of the Dragonia Kingdom. For some reason, the extraordinary attacks from both Elize and Rossweisse began to affect the realms around the Dragonia Kingdom.

There was a time when cracks could be seen around the border region between the Dragonia Kingdom and the Vermillion family. However, the fight between Rossweisse and Elize was currently taking place along the border between the Dragonia Kingdom and the Vermillion family.

A single collision between Rossweisse's and Elize's magic attacks began to create a devastating impact like a giant storm. Dozens of storms, each hundreds of meters in size, could be seen surrounding the area around Elize. Unexpectedly, the storms relentlessly began to strike Rossweisse, who remained completely motionless.

Rossweisse's arms were now crossed. The calm expression Rossweisse was showing at that moment was enough for Elize to think that her master was not serious at all about fighting her. In fact, almost every phenomenon occurring in the border area between the Dragonia Kingdom and the Vermillion family originated from Elize's combined attacks.

"She's too much! Does she really want to win against her own master that badly?" Athena's left hand began to cover part of her face. The dozens of storms created by Elize at that moment had a slight negative impact on Athena and the others. Even so, Athena didn't feel anything apart from the discomfort in her heart.

The current fight between Elize and Rossweisse was much different from the fight that had occurred between Rossweisse and her lover. From Athena's point of view as a talented dragon, Elize's current fight was no different from a childish one.

But Athena admitted that Elize possessed extraordinary power deep within her body. Just a few attacks from Elize were enough to create a phenomenon capable of damaging every realm around her. That alone was enough for Athena to think that Elize was much stronger than she was.

"Sister, is it okay if we continue to stay in this place? We should leave immediately and take my brother-in-law to a safe place to rest."

"You're right. We'd better get away from this place. If an attack from the two of them lands among us..." Athena's body involuntarily trembled violently when she remembered how the attacks from Elize and Rossweisse could destroy everything around them. In the end, the attacks from the two women were enough to inflict serious injuries on Athena and the others. Therefore, Athena hoped that she could lead Lucien away from the fight between the two crazy women.

Unfortunately, I didn't want to leave while watching the fight between Rossweisse and Elize. As Elize's disciple, I intended to watch my master fight until she managed to injure Rossweisse.

"Stop it, all of you. I'm fine. I don't want to miss the fight between my master and her own master."

Suddenly, a frown and a doubtful expression began to appear on Athena's face. The worried expression Athena was currently showing could no longer be hidden, especially after witnessing the terrible condition of her lover. In the end, the situation Lucien was experiencing was by no means an ordinary injury.

Losing a large amount of mana was simply no different from bringing death upon oneself. Since I had not yet completely recovered my mana under normal circumstances, Athena hoped that I could focus more on restoring the mana within my body.

"But Cien... your wound..."

"I already said that nothing bad would happen. Hena, please let me watch Lize and her master fight."

But the doubtful expression still did not disappear from Athena's face. On the contrary, the worry within Athena grew even greater the moment she witnessed how the fight between Elize and Rossweisse began to spiral out of control.

"Ugh... I understand. I will comply with your wishes, my beloved Cien."

Chapter 105: Family Bonds

The hug that Athena was giving me at that moment calmed my thoughts, which had previously been a little confused. At the same time, I felt Tifa's and Tina's hands beginning to hold my back.

Without realizing it, a small grin began to appear on my face, which had now returned to its calm state. I couldn't reprimand Tifa and Tina for trying to touch me. On the contrary, I felt my heart become much calmer whenever the women I loved were near me.

'No problem, right? I hope Hena and Lize won't get angry just because I have two other women who want to be mine.' Lots of useless thoughts began to creep into my head. One of the reasons why I consider Tifa and Tina to be among my future wives is because of the approval given by Elize and Athena. Therefore, I don't think that making Tifa and Tina my wives is absolutely impossible.

Even another part of me admitted that my love for Tifa and Tina was beginning to grow a little stronger than when I first met them. But as two elf girls with petite bodies, I don't have any hope of marrying those two girls or doing anything perverted to them.

In the end, I am a man who has the common sense of an ordinary adult man. I shouldn't love two girls with tiny bodies like Tifa and Tina. Although, in the end, I had done perverted things to Athena and Elize, who could be considered two young dragons at their age.

But the situation happening now is different from when I decided to make Athena and Elize my women. Athena's and Elize's bodies have the appearance and proportions of adult women. Therefore, I have absolutely no problem even having sex with Athena and Elize.

There is only one principle in my entire life, and that is not to do anything bad to little girls. I will only love women who sincerely keep their hearts devoted to me. If a woman didn't love me at all, I would simply decide to forget about her.

Until now, I have never done anything other than stay in the castle and focus on studying the history of the entire world. I now have enough knowledge to understand much of the information that exists throughout the world. For some reason, I even realized that there were four continents in the world.

Two of those continents are the Life Continent and the Spirit Continent. In addition, there are also the Demon Continent and the Dust Continent. These two continents are the most dangerous in the entire world. It is very rare for any living being to decide to explore either of them.

The more dangerous of the two is the Dust Continent. Many myths say that the Dust Continent harbors the mysterious pressure left behind by every expert who fell in the past. Moreover, this place was where the wars of the First Era were fought.

It is the only place that cannot be explored by any living being in the entire world. In fact, the Demon Continent is the saddest continent among all the continents. There is no such thing as peace for the living beings that inhabit the Demon Continent.

Every phenomenon that occurs on the Demon Continent involves extremely hot weather during the day and freezing weather at night. There are even times when the temperature at night almost reaches absolute zero. But fortunately, most of the beings living on the Demon Continent can survive every natural phenomenon that occurs there.

This was also a reality that I only learned after Athena brought me to the Dragon Realm. By the way, I don't know how many realms are spread throughout the world. But one thing is certain. I assume that the Dragon Realm is not the only realm in the entire world.

Unfortunately, I don't know how many realms exist beyond this world. But I'm guessing that the predecessors who wrote the history didn't want to mention the names of those realms at all. Even so, I feel very satisfied after successfully gaining so much knowledge since being born into this world.

"What's wrong? Is that all you can do? You'll never be able to beat me, never!"

The sound of grinding teeth began to come from Elize's mouth. Elize's anger and frustration made her unable to hide the frightening expression on her face. However, there was no chance whatsoever for Elize to win in a fight against Rossweisse.

The situation Elize was currently experiencing was no different from that of a girl being bullied by an adult woman. But from Rossweisse's point of view, she felt very proud of her disciple, who had grown much stronger than the last time they met.

Elize's current strength had made her the strongest among Dragon Emperor-stage dragons in general. But still, Rossweisse was a little worried when she saw how her disciple was completely unable to control her emotions.

The cold attitude that Elize usually showed when dealing with other people was only a form of formality. But whenever Elize was by Rossweisse's side, she would show her childish side, just as she had while training under Rossweisse's guidance.

Rossweisse was the first woman in the entire world to treat Elize like family. It was also the moment when Elize understood the true meaning of compassion. Since then, Elize had regarded Rossweisse as her only master and someone she should consider a mother.

Elize’s admiration for her master wasn’t just because she was the strongest female witch. On the contrary, the admiration Elize had for Rossweisse came purely from the familial affection her master had shown her.

Whenever Elize felt lonely, angry, or sad, Rossweisse would always be by her side and comfort her like a mother. From Rossweisse’s perspective as an ancient human, she realized that Elize in the past had been a woman abandoned by the residents of the Dragon Realm.

The mixed feelings Rossweisse felt when she first met her disciple made her love Elize far more than her other disciples. Therefore, there were some of Rossweisse’s disciples who didn’t really like Elize’s presence.

Luckily, the only disciples of Rossweisse who disliked Elize were useless ruffians. Even Rossweisse didn’t consider those disciples to be great at all. Instead, she only regarded them as apprentices who merely wanted to receive instruction from her.

Because the sad expression Elize was showing right then made Rossweisse unable to hide the guilt on her face, she decided to show a little leniency while facing Elize. Despite that, Rossweisse would still try her best not to let Elize succeed in harming her.

Chapter 106: The First Victory

"Disciple, try harder. But if you are tired, please just give up immediately."

"I don’t want to. I will never give up. Master herself said that someone who decides to give up when facing their enemies is trash. Therefore, I, as your disciple, will never disappoint any teachings you have given to your disciple!" Screams began to come out of Elize’s mouth. The terrifying aura that previously engulfed Elize’s body began to change into a calm aura like a flowing river. For some reason, a sword formed from the Ice Element appeared in Elize’s left hand.

The ice sword that Elize created now was no different at all from the ice sword that I had created when facing Charles. For some reason, Elize’s previously enthusiastic gaze began to turn into a lifeless one.

Various cold blue auras began to adorn all sides of Elize’s body. The Ultimate Ice Form, which Elize rarely used, began to appear as she faced her master. Therefore, Rossweisse’s eyelids involuntarily blinked as she witnessed the extraordinary change in her disciple.

"Oh? Ultimate Ice Form... Is that your perfect form after successfully mastering the full abilities of the Ice Element? If I'm not mistaken, your master also taught you not to stick with just one element. Isn't that right?"

"I know. But this is the only way for me to win against Master. I beg your disciple's forgiveness for disappointing you."

Even though the expression shown by Rossweisse did not display any emotion other than her cold face, a small smile appeared on her lips. As Elize's master, Rossweisse felt that Elize's desire to win by fighting against her own master came purely from her deepest desires.

But it was impossible for Rossweisse to decide to give up and let Elize land an attack on her. If she let Elize win by fighting against her, Rossweisse's pride as a master would disappear without a trace.

"It's up to you. I won't be gentle because you have shown your full strength."

An endless expression of indifference began to appear on Elize's face as she listened to Rossweisse's words. Elize's current focus was completely directed towards facing off against Rossweisse. Therefore, both Rossweisse and Elize were now preparing to carry out their final attacks.

In just a fraction of a second, a lightning-fast movement that exceeded the speed of sound was seen across the sky. Both Elize and Rossweisse had demonstrated their finishing moves by unleashing their final attacks. For some reason, a sound of laughter involuntarily came out of Rossweisse's mouth.

"Hehe. How unfortunate. But I won this fight. Forgive me, disciple. But you won't have the chance..."

Freeze—

One of Rossweisse's large breasts, which was covered by her clothes, was scratched, and she unknowingly received an attack from a small block of ice due to the final attack launched by Elize when they carried out their finishing moves. No one realized that the expression shown by Rossweisse at this time displayed a face of disbelief. Even in Rossweisse's lifetime, she had never once let anyone touch or injure one of her large breasts like Elize had.

It was only when Rossweisse fought against Elize that she accidentally let down her guard as the greatest witch. Still, the movements shown by Elize when she carried out her final attack far exceeded Rossweisse's expectations. At that moment, Elize's attack was directed at Rossweisse, and she thought that Elize would launch a direct attack against her.

But what Rossweisse thought did not happen at all. On the contrary, the final attack that Elize delivered was the most indiscriminate attack she had ever used in her entire life. However, in almost every battle that Elize experienced, she always fought fairly against each of her enemies.

There would be nothing strange if Rossweisse thought the final attack her disciple would display would be a direct attack. Although, in the end, Rossweisse was the one who had been defeated by her disciple. For that reason, Rossweisse simply had no words to refute the victory her disciple had obtained after fighting against her.

Losing is losing. Because Rossweisse had made the mistake of lowering her guard, Elize finally managed to land an indiscriminate attack and injure one of Rossweisse's large breasts.

The fact that Elize managed to land an attack on one part of Rossweisse's body was enough to demonstrate Elize's prowess. Even Elize couldn't believe that she had managed to win against Rossweisse. A memory of previously witnessing an opening in Rossweisse's defence came flooding back into her mind.

Currently, Elize had succeeded in gaining an ability that allowed her to see every weakness of a living being. Because Rossweisse showed an opening around one of her breasts, Elize, without thinking much, decided to immediately launch a full attack at it.

At first, Elize was hesitant about whether to carry out an indiscriminate attack against her master or not, but she remembered how extraordinary her master's strength was. If Elize didn't use a cunning trick to fight against her master, she wouldn't have any chance of causing even a small wound to Rossweisse.

But unfortunately, Elize's current condition was far from her strongest. There was a visible wound on her left hand. This wound had been received when Elize launched the final attack during her fight against Rossweisse.

"Ha ha... I won. I finally managed to win the battle against Master..." Elize's consciousness involuntarily faded as she tried to look at her master's figure. Because the amount of blood flowing from Elize's left hand was not small, she felt dizzy, making her unable to maintain the Ultimate Ice Form.

The regeneration of the Dragon race, which was considered the most powerful regeneration, was completely unable to heal the wounds Elize had received from Rossweisse's ultimate attack. Luckily, Rossweisse appeared to save her disciple from losing her footing. Just before Elize fell from the sky, Rossweisse, without hesitation, immediately came to carry her disciple on her back.

"You are still very troublesome to your master. Previously, you forced yourself to win against me, but now you have become much more obsessed with beating me. I'm sure it's all so you can keep that man by your side."

"Please don’t take Cien from us..."

An involuntary sigh came out of Rossweisse’s mouth. From the start, Rossweisse had no intention of taking her disciple’s lover away from her and the others. On the other hand, Rossweisse had only been playing around when talking with her disciple’s boyfriend.

Because her disciple’s boyfriend had flatly rejected Rossweisse’s offer, Rossweisse would not force the man to become her disciple a second time. However, Rossweisse did not feel any strong enthusiasm for the man to become one of her disciples.

Chapter 107: Doubt

Only those who have the fighting spirit to become stronger can become part of Rossweisse’s disciples. Since her disciple’s boyfriend had absolutely no desire to become one of her disciples, Rossweisse decided to forget about the stupid question she had previously asked him.

As a master who had countless disciples, Rossweisse did not lack disciples to teach. But talent was the most important thing in Rossweisse’s principles. Therefore, Rossweisse felt disappointed when she heard Lucien’s refusal to become one of her disciples.

Now, Lucien was by no means a weak human like ordinary humans. Lucien’s current strength allowed him to fight against every one of Rossweisse’s disciples. For that reason, Rossweisse deeply regretted not being able to take Lucien as her disciple.

Rossweisse’s only regret in her current life was not being able to take a talented human like Lucien as her disciple. Instead of being born with talents like other talented humans, Lucien had everything that no human in the whole world could possess.

Talent and strength were two things that Lucien had when he first set foot on the path of cultivation. Currently, Lucien was one of the strongest in the Dragonia Kingdom. Therefore, Rossweisse acknowledged that Lucien’s raw power had allowed him to face off against Dragon Emperor stage experts.

"You won. Your master has been defeated by you. So you can rest without having to face any disturbances. Also, don’t worry. I won’t force your lover to become one of my disciples."

"Those are Master’s words. But I’m not sure that Master will decide to let go of a man as talented as Cien."

No sound could be heard coming out of Rossweisse's mouth as she listened to the soft voice that came out of Elize's mouth. However, every word that Elize spoke at that moment had been brewing in Rossweisse's mind for some time.

There was no way Rossweisse could forget Lucien's extraordinary talent. Making Lucien her personal disciple was something that could increase Rossweisse's benefits in the future. As a master, if one of her disciples gained a great reputation that could shake the whole world, that would be the most pleasant thing to witness.

Certainly, Rossweisse would gain many benefits as well as receive great honour from every living being throughout the world. In the end, Rossweisse's only drawback in her current life was not being able to reach the Heavenly Warrior stage. If it weren't for the obstacle preventing Rossweisse from reaching the Heavenly Warrior stage, she wouldn't have any complaints as her fame increased in the eyes of all living beings.

"Just let your master think about it for a moment. Please just focus on healing yourself."

After that short conversation, both Elize and Rossweisse stopped talking. Instead, Elize was now completely immersed in the healing process for her left hand.

Elize's left hand, which had previously held the ice sword, had completely turned pale. Because the power released by Rossweisse when carrying out her finishing attack was an anti-regeneration attack, Elize had received an injury that made it difficult for her to heal the wounds on her left hand.

"Lize! Is she okay? The wound Lize received on her left hand looks really bad." Deep in my heart, I absolutely could not bear to witness the condition that Elize was currently experiencing. This was the first time Elize had received a wound that prevented her from healing herself instantly. Therefore, I hoped Elize could focus on healing herself for now.

So far, I had managed to obtain two new abilities: Absorbing Abilities and Dimensional Breaker. Rossweisse's arrival to visit Elize was one of the reasons why I had managed to obtain those two extraordinary abilities. Even so, I didn't have any chance whatsoever to activate those two incredibly powerful abilities.

"Don't worry. I will heal her as soon as possible. Even though you don't know about my abilities, I am a witch who is skilled in all magical abilities."

"So can you cure my master?"

"Of course. Wait a moment. Let me heal her left arm first."

Several minutes passed while Rossweisse carried out the healing process for the wound Elize had received on her left hand. Most of the wounds on Elize's left hand had been completely restored by Rossweisse's power. But for some reason, Rossweisse couldn't hold back her gloomy expression when she remembered the last words Elize had said to her.

Having Lucien as her disciple was not a disadvantage for Rossweisse at all. But the man would not be able to leave his loved ones behind. Therefore, Rossweisse realized that the only way she could take Lucien as her disciple was to live together with him in the Dragon Realm.

'But my disciples will definitely come looking for me. But this man's problem is more important than all of them! I have to give up all of them for the next few years just to be able to make a unique man like Lucien my personal disciple.' Rossweisse's breathing began to become uncontrollable. Her heartbeat, which had previously been steady, began to quicken. For some reason, Rossweisse's pupils, which had previously shown doubt, began to show determination.

The doubts that had previously plagued Rossweisse had completely turned into determination. It would be useless for Rossweisse not to take Lucien as her disciple. In the end, it was very rare for Rossweisse to meet a man born with such rare talent as Lucien.

For now, only Lucien could replace Elize as the most talented disciple Rossweisse had ever met. Various responsibilities, such as taking care of each of her disciples on the Life Continent, were not a big problem at all. On the contrary, Rossweisse believed that each of her disciples on the Life Continent could take care of themselves.

My head, which had previously been tilted down, slowly returned to an upright position. Because Elize's current condition was not good at all, I couldn't help but feel worried as I watched Rossweisse's healing power continuously restore Elize's wounds.

"Is Lize okay? Cien, I'm also very worried about the condition of my only friend. I hope she can recover as usual." Athena's tone of voice showed her concern about Elize's current condition. From the start, Athena and Elize had maintained a close friendship. As a friend, Athena hoped that Elize could recover and return with them as before.

None of the women in that place dared to take their eyes off Elize's condition after her fight against Rossweisse. Moreover, Tifa and Tina couldn't hold back their sad expressions after seeing Elize's condition. After all, Elize was one of their master's women.

Chapter 108: Opportunity

"Master, I beg you not to be sad. Ms. Elize is strong. She even managed to injure Miss Rossweisse, who is considered the Queen Witch."

"What Tifa said is true. Please don't show such a sad face. As your two personal maids, we are both very sorry about Ms. Elize's condition."

The words spoken by Tifa and Tina unconsciously succeeded in calming the worry that had previously plagued me. As a weak and helpless man, I could only nod at every word Tifa and Tina said to me. On the contrary, I silently remained where I was while watching the bright scenery above the sky.

The previously dark sky once again revealed its bright colours. Even the entire territory of the Dragonia Kingdom had completely returned to its usual state. Therefore, I found myself constantly contemplating my thoughts while watching the scene unfolding above the sky.

The comforting words from Athena, Tifa, and Tina were the very words that succeeded in calming the worry that had previously plagued my heart. There was no reason for me to distance myself from or not acknowledge Tifa and Tina as women. However, only Tifa and Tina could interest me for now after they decided to submit and become my two personal maids.

"The sky is very beautiful. There is even a rainbow stretching to the horizon."

"It's quite beautiful, isn't it?" Both Heilde and Ariel began to praise the changes that had occurred in the sky, which had now become bright again. From Heilde and Ariel's point of view, the changes that occurred in the sky after the fight between Elize and Rossweisse had created a beautiful phenomenon like a colourful rainbow.

The sound of my breathing began to be heard. For now, I had completely regained my composure. At the same time, I felt that the wounds that had previously plagued my body had completely healed.

"I thank all of you for accompanying me throughout this day. Even though it wasn't a pleasant day at all..."

"Hehe. Can a brother-in-law even praise his own sisters-in-law? That really makes me happy~" Ariel's pupils involuntarily took on the gaze of a wild beast. The change shown by Ariel at that moment went completely unnoticed by me. On the contrary, Heilde and Athena were the only women who noticed the change in Ariel's attitude towards my words.

From my point of view as Ariel and Heilde's brother-in-law, I considered every word Ariel had previously spoken to be a form of praise. But from the point of view of the women who were present, Ariel's response to my gratitude was no different from a declaration of "war" between women.

There was not a single woman present who did not like Lucien as a member of the opposite sex. Therefore, even someone like Heilde was amazed by the extraordinary qualities that her brother-in-law possessed.

"Huff... Heilde, Ariel, do you two want to talk in private with your sister? I want to ask you both a question."

Even though they were confused about the question their older sister suddenly wanted to ask, Ariel and Heilde decided to agree to her request. In the end, Athena was the older sister whom Ariel and Heilde respected the most.

Rejecting their older sister's request to ask them a question would not have been polite at all. Even though Ariel and Heilde regarded Athena as the sister they respected the most, they would never forget that she was their brother-in-law's first wife.

There was no chance whatsoever that Ariel and Heilde would be able to snatch their brother-in-law away from their older sister. Suddenly, Athena unknowingly grabbed Ariel's and Heilde's wrists. In less than a few seconds, Heilde and Ariel had moved several metres away from Lucien and the others.

"You should understand what your sister means. Actually, this is about your brother-in-law. I just couldn't stand it after seeing how Cien became more attentive towards the women around him. Even though it was both of our faults..." Sigh after sigh came out of Athena's mouth. Because of the agreement between Athena and Elize to allow their lover to have any woman in the world, they considered themselves to be one of the reasons why their lover had begun to look more seriously at the women living in the castle.

Since Athena and Lucien had their first time together, Lucien had completely decided to pay more attention to the situation around him. Because Lucien knew that Heilde's and Ariel's feelings for him were those of women in love, he decided to pay closer attention to their behaviour whenever they were around him.

But it wasn't a big problem at all for Athena and Elize. Even Elize admitted that making Heilde and Ariel potential women for their lover was not a bad thing at all. However, for a woman like Shelia to become one of their lover's women was the most dangerous possibility when considering a future wife.

Even Athena agreed with the opinion given by her best friend that Shelia should not become a candidate to be their lover's wife. In fact, the feelings that Shelia showed towards Lucien came purely from her sincerity. But still, Shelia's possessive attitude towards their lover was enough to make both Elize and Athena feel uncomfortable whenever they were near her.

"What is Big Sister trying to say? Neither of us understands it at all. Isn't that right, Sister Heilde?"

Unfortunately, no answer came out of Heilde’s mouth after she heard Ariel’s words. Instead, an endlessly serious expression began to appear on Heilde’s face. She continued, "Did you know? I love my brother-in-law. I admire him as a strong and great man. My instincts as a female dragon absolutely do not allow me to forget the extraordinary figure my brother-in-law has shown. I... I also want to be by his side..."

"Hm... What about you, Ariel? Are you sure about your feelings?"

An expression of doubt involuntarily appeared on Ariel’s face, which had previously shown a serious expression. In Ariel’s past life, she had considered polygamous relationships to be forbidden. Therefore, Ariel felt unsure whether she should make herself one of her brother-in-law’s women or not.

"I don’t know. I don’t accept this polygamous relationship... But I think I really love my brother-in-law. I think that’s my real answer."

"You two... Sister understands. Then show your sister that, in less than two years, both of you can develop your romantic relationship with Cien. That way, I will let Cien decide whether he should make you one of his women or not."

Without realizing it, expressions full of hope began to appear on Heilde’s and Ariel’s faces. It was rare for the two sisters to ask their older sister for something. For the first time, Heilde and Ariel asked Athena for something.

Usually, both Heilde and Ariel would ask their father and mother for something. However, because of the current issue regarding the feelings they had for their brother-in-law, it was not something they could ask for freely. In any case, there was no chance whatsoever that Heilde and Ariel would receive Lilith’s and Lucius’s approval to become two of their brother-in-law’s wives.

Chapter 109: The Complete Opposite

"Does Sister Athena allow us to be by our brother-in-law’s side?"

"Of course. But the condition is that you have to prove to your sister that you will love Cien far more than anything else in your entire life. Your sister loves your brother-in-law with all her heart. Therefore, please don’t disappoint your sister’s hopes."

Neither of the two sisters could hold back their happy expressions after receiving their older sister’s approval to be by their brother-in-law’s side. For the first time, Heilde and Ariel considered Athena to be the most perfect woman among all women in the whole world. After all, Athena was the only one who could allow her lover to have another woman as one of his wives.

Moreover, Athena was a female dragon who possessed a naturally possessive nature towards her partner. Luckily, Athena was a woman whose way of thinking went far beyond that of ordinary women. For that reason, Athena's willingness to allow her lover to have other women was something completely natural in her eyes.

If any female dragon other than Athena had become Lucien's first woman, he would not have had any chance of getting permission to make another woman one of his wives. But Athena was a kind and understanding woman. For that reason, Lucien's love for Athena far surpassed his love for the other women in that place.

Only by showing his love for Athena could Lucien make her the most special woman deep in his heart. Until now, Lucien's bias towards Athena had been fully known to Elize.

In the end, Athena was one of the reasons why Lucien was able to make Elize his second woman. Elize also found out that Athena was the woman who had agreed to let her become one of Lucien's women. Since then, Elize decided to consider Athena as part of her family.

Several hours had passed since Elize and Rossweisse's fight ended. Elize's condition had already returned to its peak state. Instead, an endless look of discomfort began to creep across Elize's face.

Even Athena and the others started to show confused expressions at the situation unfolding before them. For some reason, Rossweisse was currently hugging Lucien nonstop while he remained in a helpless state.

For now, I felt a sense of helplessness that endlessly began to creep into my heart after witnessing how Rossweisse continuously begged me to become her disciple. However, I had absolutely no intention of becoming one of Rossweisse's disciples.

Making myself one of Rossweisse's disciples was no different from having to separate from the women I loved. For that reason, I hoped Rossweisse could forget about her strange intention of making me one of her disciples.

"You... Please don't force me! Why don't you ask my other sisters-in-law? They are even better than me!"

"Ck. I already said that you are a unique human! You can't compare those two ordinary women to yourself at all!"

A half-dead expression began to appear on my face after witnessing Rossweisse's stubborn attitude in trying to make me her disciple. For the first time, my previous view of Rossweisse as a mature woman completely collapsed. On the contrary, I could only think of Rossweisse as a woman with a childish attitude.

There was no chance that I could escape hearing every plea Rossweisse made to a man like me. This was the first time I had witnessed a woman like Rossweisse being shameless towards a young man like me. However, I had never imagined receiving a request as troublesome as becoming one of Rossweisse's disciples.

"Miss Rossweisse, you are the Queen Witch. Please be more dignified. Moreover, I beg you to keep your promise after you were defeated by your own disciple."

One of Rossweisse's cheeks began to puff up as if she were angry at the words I had just said. There was no way Rossweisse could convince me to become one of her disciples. For that reason, Rossweisse decided to tease the man in front of her in an even more indecent way.

But that man was by no means a perverted man who could be affected by Rossweisse's charms. Perhaps that man was the only man in the entire world who could resist Rossweisse's charm. However, Rossweisse admitted that a man like Lucien could never fall in love with an old woman like her.

The age difference between Lucien and Rossweisse was enough to show that they were not a good match at all. That was also the reason why Rossweisse felt so desperate when she tried to make Lucien one of her disciples. For some reason, one of Lucien's hands unconsciously slipped into the gap between Rossweisse's breasts.

Unfortunately, the attitude shown by Lucien at that moment continued to display complete indifference. Even though one of his hands had ended up between Rossweisse's breasts, he was not tempted simply because a beautiful woman like Rossweisse was trying to tease him.

"Ouch. This Cien... He has absolutely no room for flirting. As expected of the man we both chose." Praise after praise for Lucien's composure as one of his hands rested between Rossweisse's breasts began to flood Athena's mind. Although Athena had initially thought of Lucien as a pervert, she now knew that Lucien was only interested in women with whom he had a close relationship.

A woman like Rossweisse would not be able to attract any romantic interest from Lucien. From Lucien's perspective, having been surrounded by young and beautiful women, he did not care at all about an older woman like Rossweisse, no matter how much she tried to tease him.

A groan involuntarily came out of my mouth. My eyes, which had previously shown a blank expression, began to show a strange look. For some reason, I immediately pulled my right hand away from between Rossweisse's breasts.

"What the hell is going on?"

"Does it feel good? Don’t I have a beautiful and sexy body? Isn’t it no worse than Lize’s or your lover’s? Isn’t that right?"

"Not that. Miss Rossweisse, are you actually a human? You don’t look like a normal woman."

The only sound that came out of Rossweisse’s mouth was her breathing. After seeing the serious look in my eyes, Rossweisse took a moment to compose herself before finally opening her mouth.

"I’m human. But do you know about the charm of a witch? The higher your talent in magic, especially if you are a woman, the higher your Charm will become. It can even reach S Grade."

The S Grade that Rossweisse referred to was the Charm attribute. Because I also understood Rossweisse’s true meaning when she said her Charm had risen far beyond that of ordinary women, I did not think of Rossweisse as a strange woman at all.

Chapter 110: The Chase

As a man, I admit that Rossweisse’s beauty far surpasses the beauty of any woman in the world. But Lilith is the most beautiful woman I have ever seen. Therefore, I would never consider Rossweisse to be the most beautiful woman among all women in the whole world.

This is by no means the first time I have seen a beautiful woman like Rossweisse standing before me. The figure of Lilith, who possesses unmatched beauty, is enough to make me feel fear and helplessness in my heart. However, there was no chance for me to speak casually while standing opposite Lilith.

Just standing face to face with Lilith is enough to make someone like me tremble with fear. But Rossweisse was a woman who couldn’t make me feel the meaning of fear at all. On the contrary, I felt a strange feeling that I knew nothing about whenever I stood opposite Rossweisse.

"I know. Does it have anything to do with your extraordinary beauty? Even the charm you possess almost makes me admire your beauty. Luckily, I have Soul Power that is above average."

For some reason, disbelief began to appear on Rossweisse's face. After hearing that my Soul Power was above average, Rossweisse's opinion of me rose much higher than when she had tried to make me her personal disciple.

"So that's how it is... I see. You are far more extraordinary than I expected. You have resistance to every charm that far surpasses experts at the Ancient Warrior stage."

There were no words that could come out of my mouth after listening to the praise that Rossweisse gave me. On the contrary, a large part of me endlessly screamed to escape from looking into Rossweisse's eyes. For some reason, the expression Rossweisse was currently showing towards me had changed into that of a woman looking at a man she loved.

'I am very grateful to be able to visit my foolish disciple. I'm happy because I can finally meet my soulmate. He is the man who is destined to be my husband...' A small grin involuntarily appeared on Rossweisse's lips. For some reason, Elize, who was now standing beside Athena and the others, continuously showed a wary expression towards the attitude shown by her master.

This was the first time Elize had witnessed the change in expression her master showed when facing a man. It was impossible for other men to attract the attention of a woman like Rossweisse in the way Lucien had. However, the expression Rossweisse was showing right now was not at all the expression of a woman trying to recruit a man as her disciple.

The expression of love and affection shown by Rossweisse at this time was a desire that she had held back for a long time. For some reason, Lucien's feet began to step backwards nonstop as he stood opposite Rossweisse.

"I have to go now. See you later, Miss Rossweisse. I wish you a safe return!" My feet, which had previously been inside Elize's residence, began to walk out of the living room. Unfortunately, Rossweisse had absolutely no intention of letting me leave the area of her disciple's residence. On the contrary, Rossweisse relentlessly chased after me, even after I was thousands of metres away.

Because Rossweisse had absolutely no intention of letting me leave her disciple's residence, I could only show a half-dead expression. For now, I had absolutely no hope of escaping Rossweisse's sight.

In just a few breaths, Rossweisse immediately appeared in front of me. The presence Rossweisse suddenly showed at that moment was not an illusion at all. On the contrary, with a single step, Rossweisse could move thousands of metres.

Pursuing a young man like Lucien was an easy thing for Rossweisse to do. For now, Rossweisse had the upper hand over a figure like Lucien.

"Where are you going? You won't be able to escape from my sight! I will keep forcing you until you accept me as your master."

"You are a crazy woman! I swear that I will never forgive you!" Unfortunately, I had absolutely no intention of becoming one of Rossweisse's disciples. Since the first time I met Rossweisse, I had known that she was a woman with unreasonable thoughts in her head.

Now I had the full attention of a crazy woman like Rossweisse. But I had absolutely no hope of escaping Rossweisse's sight. Therefore, I continuously showed an alert expression whenever I saw how Rossweisse managed to chase me wherever I went.

"Hehe~. Don't worry. I will take good care of you if you decide to become my only personal disciple. Isn't that not a bad offer at all?"

Actually, the offer that Rossweisse gave me was not a bad one at all for a man like me. Because I am a man who had a previous life, I considered Rossweisse to be an attractive woman just like Athena and the others.

Of course, I would never have thought that Rossweisse had a chance of becoming one of my women. For the first time, the strength Rossweisse displayed when I fought against her showed me just how far my strength was from the extraordinary strength she possessed.

"Is it okay if we don't stop the problems your master is causing? You yourself said that your master is very wise and mature-minded. But she actually has traits that are the complete opposite of what you said..." A gloomy expression began to appear on Athena's face, which had previously shown a worried expression. As one of Lucien's women, Athena felt extremely worried when she witnessed how her lover was being terrorized by a powerful expert like Rossweisse.

The situation Lucien was currently experiencing was one in which no one in the world could suppress their fear when facing Rossweisse. Moreover, the younger generation of every species throughout the world had absolutely no chance of escaping Rossweisse's pursuit. Therefore, Athena continuously condemned the bad attitude Rossweisse was showing towards their lover.

After the chase between Rossweisse and Lucien ended, both the man and the woman stopped at a very deep cliff. It was not an ordinary cliff at all. Rather, it was an ancient tomb that had usually been used by the ancestors of the Dragon race to dispose of the remains of their fallen troops.

A large amount of negative aura began to spread from within the deep abyss. There was even a feeling that an unknown creature had begun staring at Lucien from a distance. But Rossweisse didn't care about what was happening at all. However, Rossweisse already knew the true purpose of the cliff.
