Reborn as the Dragon King's Son-In-Law

Chapter 111: Abyss of Despair

"Isn't this place the Abyss of Despair? Only those of the Dragon race will be sent into the Abyss of Despair if they are deemed to be traitors." Various thoughts about the Dragon race's inhumane rules from the past came flooding back into Rossweisse's mind. As a human who was more than a thousand years old, Rossweisse possessed extensive knowledge about every rule that had been implemented by the Dragon race in the past.

Currently, the Abyss of Despair is a place that cannot be entered by anyone other than members of the Dragon race. Therefore, until now, the Dragon race had completely forgotten the terrible history of the Abyss of Despair that had been created by their ancestors in the past.

In the end, the Abyss of Despair is a place where dragons who betrayed the Dragon Realm would be cast into the abyss to be executed. But after the war that had lasted for tens of thousands of years ended, the Dragon race decided to erase the history of the Abyss of Despair from their memories.

Only those who were born with great power knew the full history of what had happened in the past. Most living beings throughout the world considered the Dragon race to be strong and superior. But the Dragon race was no different from beings who had no pride because they dared to cover up the dark history of their own species.

"Hey, boy, I advise you not to jump off that cliff. It's not an ordinary place at all. You should know what it really means if you jump off that cliff."

Both Rossweisse and Lucien began to show serious expressions as they faced each other. Moreover, the expression Lucien showed at that moment was filled with despair. However, the amount of time Lucien had spent trying to escape from Rossweisse's pursuit had already reached three hours.

For now, Lucien had completely reached his limit after being chased relentlessly by a crazy woman like Rossweisse. On the other hand, Rossweisse's stamina had not decreased at all.

"What if I decide to jump off that cliff? Will you stop trying to make me your disciple?"

"Ugh... If you dare jump off that cliff, I will never forgive you for making my disciple Elize sad. Do you understand?"

An involuntary sigh escaped from Lucien's mouth after he listened to Rossweisse's answer regarding his plan to jump into the abyss. From the perspective of Elize's lover, Lucien knew that a woman like Rossweisse would never dare to recklessly allow her disciple's lover to plunge directly into that terrifying abyss.

As a man who had been tortured by human women in the past, Lucien had experienced bitter suffering many times while enduring their abuse. There had even been a time when Lucien was forced to wear a humiliating disguise by dressing as a woman to serve homosexual women.

That was also one of the reasons why Lucien was not happy at all when he discovered that some women were attracted to those of the same sex. For that reason, Athena and Elize decided to establish a rule that no woman in their family would be allowed to have same-sex relationships.

One of Lucien's traumas to this day was witnessing elderly women engaging in disgusting acts with men whom they had forced to disguise themselves as women. In fact, Lucien was not the only one who had been used as a tool for the abuse of human women. On the contrary, countless handsome young men had also suffered the torture inflicted by the brothel's customers.

"Is there no other way I can refuse your offer to become your personal disciple? Please show me some mercy!"

"Sigh. Lucien Blackheart, I will ask you once again whether you will become my personal disciple or not. I promise that I will never force you to come with me to the Life Continent. Instead, I will stay with you and Elize in the Dragon Realm so that I can train both of you together."

There was no expression on Lucien's face other than surprise. For the first time, Lucien's previously uncontrollable heartbeat began to calm down.

"That means I can still stay with the others?"

"That's right. Will you accept me as your master or not? If you decide to become my disciple, you won't be able to consider Lize your master anymore. Do you understand?"

Despite his doubts, Lucien had absolutely no other choice but to accept the offer Rossweisse had made to him. From the very beginning, Rossweisse was a crazy woman who would do anything to achieve her goals.

Because Rossweisse had now met the man she had wanted to meet her entire life, she had absolutely no intention of letting him go, even if another woman was already living by his side. Therefore, Rossweisse hoped that she could take him as her disciple and raise his strength far beyond its current level.

The only drawback to Lucien becoming Rossweisse's disciple was that his strength was still much weaker than that of the powerful beings at the highest level. For some reason, a serious expression began to appear on Lucien's face.

There was no longer any doubt in Lucien's heart about what had happened before. His mind had now completely regained its calmness. In fact, the reason Lucien had previously rejected Rossweisse's offer was that he did not want to set foot on the Life Continent a second time. After all, the Life Continent was the place where Lucien had suffered various forms of torture at the hands of humans.

But that did not mean Lucien hated the humans living on the Life Continent. From the very beginning, Lucien had been a human who was born and raised on the Life Continent. If it had not been for the bandits who destroyed Lucien's village, he would never have considered humans to be cruel beings.

Another side of Lucien recognized that the Human race was a unique and hardworking race. Moreover, Lucien's inherited talent as a human allowed him to adapt to any situation that occurred around him. That alone was enough for Lucien to consider the Human race a powerful race.

Lucien's pride in being born a human had never disappeared from his heart or mind. For now, Lucien's only hatred towards the Human race was that some of their natures far surpassed those of the evil beings throughout the world.

"Miss Rossweisse. No, I mean my master, Master Rossweisse, please guide me from now onwards. I entrust my priceless life to you."

"Hehe. Don't worry. You and Elize are both my personal disciples. I have decided to make you my only personal male disciple. Therefore, I will focus more of my attention on training your strength."

There was no reason whatsoever for Lucien to reject the training Rossweisse offered him. Because Rossweisse was Elize's master, both he and Elize would receive training that was not very different from each other.

Chapter 112: Gruelling Training

Unfortunately, the situation that occurred hundreds of thousands of metres away, on the cliff of the Abyss of Despair, revealed a mysterious and terrifying eye. Those eyes were not the eyes of a living being at all. Instead, they were dark, colourless eyes that could not be seen with the naked eye.

Even Rossweisse couldn’t help but feel worried as she stood near the cliff of the Abyss of Despair. Even though Rossweisse didn’t know the true nature of the Abyss of Despair, she believed it to be a place that contained the disgraceful history of the Dragon race.

Until now, not a single being in the entire world knew the true nature of the Abyss of Despair. Therefore, living beings regarded the Abyss of Despair as nothing more than an ordinary abyss left behind by the experts of the Dragon race in the past.

Every living being throughout the world could bear witness to the actions that had been committed by the Dragon race against their own people. However, the youths of the current generation and the previous two generations had absolutely no knowledge of the evil acts committed by the Dragon race. On the contrary, most living beings hated the Human race as the most arrogant race that always oppressed those weaker than themselves.

"Let’s go now and leave this place. I have an uncomfortable feeling if we continue to stand near that cliff."

Lucien nodded after listening to Rossweisse’s explanation. Just hearing Rossweisse’s concerns about the horrors of the Abyss of Despair was enough for Lucien to think of it as a cursed place. For some reason, there was no record explaining the origins of the Abyss of Despair in the Dragon race’s history books.

That was the only reason why Lucien did not know the true purpose of the Abyss of Despair at all. After all, Lucien was a man who had been born into the current generation as a reincarnator from another world.

"Understood."

After Rossweisse and Lucien left the area of the Abyss of Despair, a faint groan was heard from within the abyss. The figure of a giant dragon, which could be seen tens to hundreds of thousands of metres below the top of the cliff, silently watched the events that had occurred above. For some reason, the dragon’s sharp and imposing gaze gradually became calm.

’Human... he... is...’

Several days had passed since I accepted Rossweisse as my personal master. For now, Elize, Athena, Tifa, Tina, and I could be seen stretching after listening to the instructions Rossweisse had given to all of us. However, Rossweisse had now decided to stay within Elize’s territory and personally train me.

The graduation that Rossweisse had given Elize several years earlier made her decide to personally guide her youngest disciple once again. In fact, both Elize and Athena doubted whether they could defeat their lover, who had been born with talent beyond common sense. For that reason, Elize and Athena decided to participate in the training that Rossweisse gave to their lover.

Being weak was simply not in Athena's and Elize's nature. Neither of them was willing to lose to the overwhelming strength of their lover. Even I knew the true intentions of those two women as they tried to increase their strength in pursuit of my current power. For some reason, I found myself thinking back to the time when I first met Athena and Elize.

The power I currently possessed had far surpassed that of Athena and Elize when we first met. Even though I had never once fought them seriously, the two women considered themselves to be the weaker ones if they had to face their only lover.

For now, the power their lover possessed allowed him to fight head-on against experts below the Dragon Overlord stage or even those at the Dragon Overlord stage. That alone was enough for the two women to consider themselves weak. However, this was the first time Athena and Elize had ever witnessed another being whose talent far surpassed their own.

"Hah, ha... uh... This is an unreasonable exercise. Miss Rossweisse is too cruel, isn't she?"

"Don't complain, Sister Tifa. Because we both come from the High Elf race, we have great talent for magic. That is also one of the reasons why Miss Rossweisse doesn't mind the two of us joining the training with Master and the others."

An endless silence began to creep into Tifa's mind. Both Tifa and Tina had their own thoughts about the training Rossweisse was giving them and their master. Moreover, Tifa and Tina had now completely decided to become stronger under Rossweisse's guidance.

"By the way, Mrs. Elize and Mrs. Athena look very calm. They can even endure stretching while carrying a weight of almost a hundred tons for a long time. But Master is even more amazing. He can easily carry a weight of more than five hundred tons?! That's crazy!"

The weight of more than five hundred tons that Tifa was referring to was the special clothing I had been given, which made it almost impossible for me to move my body. Even though I could still move a little while doing push-ups, I felt my entire body experience excruciating pain, as if I were being crushed beneath thousands of giant cliffs.

For some reason, the expression of despair that had previously appeared on my face slowly turned towards Rossweisse. A cold smile remained on Rossweisse's beautiful face. From Rossweisse's point of view, making a man like me lift hundreds of tons was not difficult at all.

Making me carry a weight of more than five hundred tons was one of the ways Rossweisse intended to make me grow much stronger than I was now. For the time being, Rossweisse had ordered me to wear heavy clothing weighing more than five hundred tons at all times.

Almost every day, the weight of the clothes I wore would increase by several thousand tons in the future. Therefore, I had absolutely no chance whatsoever of avoiding the training Rossweisse gave me every day.

By the way, both Heilde and Ariel had decided to return to meet Lilith and Lucius. It would do the two sisters no good to stay away from home for an entire day. Moreover, both Lilith and Lucius would never allow their daughters to do anything inappropriate outside the castle.

Only Athena could protect herself even when she left the castle. For that reason, both Lilith and Lucius did not mind Athena staying at Elize's residence.

Unfortunately, Shelia, who had been left behind in the castle by her brother-in-law, could only show an expressionless face. That was also one of the rules Lilith had imposed on Shelia—not allowing her troublesome daughter to remain by her son-in-law's side. Therefore, Lilith had deliberately assigned Shelia various tasks, such as handling affairs in the neighbouring town.

Chapter 113: Rossweisse's Training

Trying to stand while bearing a weight of more than half a thousand tons didn't allow me to keep a calm expression at all. I was currently lying completely on the ground in a miserable condition. However, the training Rossweisse was giving me right now was much tougher than the training Athena and the others were undergoing.

I was the only one who had been given the heaviest burden among the four women in that place. Even though I had absolutely no chance of standing up from the ground, I had absolutely no intention of giving up on the tough training that Rossweisse had given me.

Therefore, I decided to try my best to endure the burden of more than half a thousand tons. So far, I had managed to do dozens of push-ups while wearing those heavy clothes.

But the expression Rossweisse was currently showing towards my performance only reflected her disappointment. However, Rossweisse was not disappointed in my weak physical strength at all. On the contrary, Rossweisse believed that Elize was one of the reasons why my physical strength was much weaker than that of Dragon Emperor stage experts.

Each Dragon Emperor stage dragon possessed the power to overturn a mountain with a single palm strike. Moreover, if they were dragons with exceptionally powerful physical strength, they could defeat experts several minor realms above their own strength at any time.

"You have physical strength that is disproportionate to your overall strength. Therefore, I will focus most of your training on forging your raw physical strength. That will also help you increase your Will Power and Soul Power."

"But this is too much. My body is completely unable to adapt to the burden these heavy clothes put on it."

A small sigh involuntarily escaped from Rossweisse's mouth. One of Rossweisse's fingers slowly touched the top of my head. For some reason, my body, which had previously raised its head in front of Rossweisse, fell back onto the ground once again.

"Don't complain too much. Within two weeks from now, you should have physical strength equivalent to that of experts above the Arch-Warrior stage. If you fail to meet your master's expectations, I will not hesitate to increase the burden of your training to ten thousand tons!"

Not a single word could come out of my mouth after listening to Rossweisse's explanation about what would happen if I couldn't attain the physical strength of Dragon Emperor stage experts. For some reason, I now understood Elize's true feelings regarding the cruelty of her master's training.

A slight feeling of regret over accepting Rossweisse as my master began to creep into my mind. For the first time, I experienced the bitter taste of training under the guidance of a crazy woman like Rossweisse. However, none of the training Elize had given me in the past involved wearing heavy clothes at all.

Rossweisse's requirement for anyone who became her disciple was that they had to wear heavy clothes during their daily training. For that reason, I couldn't hold back my frightened expression at all when imagining what would happen to me two weeks from now.

For now, my only goal was to do my best to adapt to every training session Rossweisse gave me over the coming months. I was the only one who had been given an additional portion of training compared to the women in that place. Even so, I had no complaints about the training Rossweisse was giving me.

"Understood... I will try my best to meet Master's expectations..."

"Good. Then keep fighting, Lucien. After all this is over, I will teach you all the knowledge necessary to master your magic power."

Hour after hour passed... Day after day passed. From morning, afternoon, evening, and night, I endlessly tried my best to adapt to the heavy clothes Rossweisse had given me.

However, the burden of the heavy clothes Rossweisse gave me continued to increase almost every day.

The weight added to the clothes by Rossweisse ranged from 1,000 kilograms to 5,000 kilograms. In fact, I had successfully adapted to every increase in weight several times. But unfortunately, I couldn't restrain my own thoughts, which drove me to continue adapting to every burden the heavy clothes placed upon my body.

"You are not bad. You have managed to stand while carrying a weight of almost 700 tons. Lucien, you already possess strength equivalent to an expert at the initial layer of the Dragon Emperor stage."

"Hah, ha... But that was all thanks to the guidance Master gave me. I only did what Master asked me to do."

Satisfied nods continuously came from Rossweisse. Rossweisse's assumption about the man's extraordinary talent had proven to be correct. For some reason, this was the first time Rossweisse had allowed one of her disciples to endure such an inhumane training load.

The physical improvement Lucien had achieved at this moment had allowed him to reach the initial layer of the Dragon Emperor stage in terms of physical strength. Furthermore, every one of Lucien's attributes had increased by one level compared to when he first broke through to the Dragon King stage.

"This is too outrageous. Has the increase in my stats already reached the initial layer of the Dragon Emperor stage? That has surpassed all the stats I had, even when I was training under Elize." Thoughts about the training Rossweisse was giving me right now made me completely unable to hold back my happy expression. For the first time, I witnessed how a weak guy like me had managed to obtain stats far above the average of the Great Dragon King stage.

Moreover, my current cultivation progress had reached 60%. That alone was enough for me to break through within less than half a year. Therefore, I hoped Rossweisse could help me break through to the Great Dragon King stage sooner or later.

Chapter 114: Talentless?

"It seems you are starting to realize the true function of the reason why I let you wear those special clothes."

"Master, you are very wise. I can now finally feel the benefits after training under you for the past week. Not only has my physique improved, but I also feel that all my attributes have improved massively."

"Heh~. That's a privilege that we get from being born as humans. With the adaptation abilities that humans have, we will be able to develop and become much stronger beyond the limits of our actual abilities."

At first, I regretted making Rossweisse my master, but now I feel an extraordinary sense of happiness because I chose Rossweisse as my master. However, Elize was a different dragon from her own master, who came from the Human race.

Because Rossweisse has human origins just like me, she has a lot of knowledge about the privileges that humans have. For some reason, a large part of Rossweisse was surprised by the progress her disciple had achieved.

In just one week, her disciple managed to increase his strength far beyond Rossweisse's expectations. Among all of Rossweisse's disciples, only Lucien was able to exceed Rossweisse's expectations. Therefore, Rossweisse relentlessly tried her best to maintain a satisfied expression while watching the progress of her disciple.

"Ah. I had expected that since I first started training under Lize. I have now decided to believe in my theory, which can allow me to increase my strength several times over."

Rossweisse's eyebrows involuntarily twitched after she listened to the explanation Lucien gave about the natural talents of humans. In fact, Lucien did not know the privileges of being born as a human at all. But after meeting Rossweisse, Lucien finally realized that being human could increase his strength much more than that of other living beings.

Several thoughts running through Rossweisse's head at that moment made her endlessly think about the stupidity of her disciple. Not all of Lucien's knowledge enabled him to know the true strengths of every species throughout the world. However, both humans and other living beings throughout the world have the privilege of being able to survive in this world.

The Elf race is one example that deserves to be called a unique race because it possesses an abundant amount of mana. They already have top-level magical talent from the moment they are born into the world. For that reason, only the Elf race can compete with the Dragon race in terms of magical power through the immense amount of mana they possess.

But Tifa and Tina are two High Elves who inherited the bloodline of noble families. Moreover, Tifa and Tina did not originate from low-class elves. On the contrary, they are among the elves who possess the purest bloodline from their ancient ancestors.

"I don't know whether you are stupid or not, but you have done enough to prove that you are an extraordinarily strong human being. You have survived this far because of your will to survive in this world."

Every word Rossweisse said was true in Lucien's eyes. There was not a single day when Lucien could remain calm, even when he was in the castle. From the start, not every citizen of the Dragon Realm was as kind to humans as Lucien had hoped.

Luckily, every citizen of the Dragonia Kingdom had completely accepted Lucien as one of them. For now, the Dragonia Kingdom was the only kingdom that considered Lucien equal to all of them.

One of the reasons why Lucien was able to survive in the Dragon Realm was because of the support Lilith had given him over the past two years. Speaking of which, the time that had passed since I first set foot in the Dragon Realm had now reached more than two years. Half a year ago was when I reached the age of 22.

After I trained under Elize for half a year, I had now lived in the Dragon Realm for two years. But it's not a big problem for me at all. Instead, I relentlessly tried my best to forget the time that was endlessly passing by.

Whatever it is, the life I am currently living has not experienced any significant changes at all. That alone is enough to show that I still have the same traits as when I first set foot in the Dragon Realm. My only weakness so far is not being able to kill a human who belongs to the same race as me.

This is the rule that every country implemented in my previous life. Killing fellow humans is disgusting and strictly prohibited. Therefore, up to now, I have absolutely no intention of doing anything cruel other than acting naive and pretending not to know what is happening.

"Just continue with your training. I will go to see those women. I also can't ignore them just because you are my personal disciple."

"I understand. I will go back to training my physique for now. Good luck, Master."

Time began to pass after Rossweisse gave her guidance to Athena and Elize. As for Athena herself, she didn't experience any improvement at all apart from her physical strength. However, Athena's strength was much different from Rossweisse's.

Apart from Elize, Athena was the only one who couldn't understand every explanation Rossweisse gave about her theory on developing magical power. From the start, Athena's magical power came entirely from Lilith. For some reason, Rossweisse simply did not have the knowledge to help improve Athena's magical power, which she had directly inherited from Lilith.

"Sorry, because I couldn't understand anything about the training you gave us. It seems like I don't have a talent like Lize and the others."

A sigh began to escape from Rossweisse's mouth. There was no disappointed expression visible on Rossweisse's face, only a helpless one. It wasn't because Athena lacked talent at all. On the contrary, Athena was a woman born with unique talents far different from Elize and the other young dragons.

She explained, "It's not your fault at all. It's all because you're so talented that you can't understand any of my teachings. You're different. I think you'd better go home and meet your mother again for guidance."

The doubtful look on Athena's face gave Elize a feeling of worry. As a good friend of Athena, Elize realized that her friend respected Lilith as the strongest being.

Asking Lilith for guidance was no different from lowering her image in front of her mother. Therefore, Athena felt hesitant when she listened to Rossweisse's suggestion that she go ask Lilith for guidance.

Chapter 115: Leverlight Family

There was nothing Athena could do right now other than go ask Lilith for guidance. As the eldest daughter of Lilith, Athena has every right to request training from her mother.

In the end, Lilith is a mother who loves her daughters. From the start, the reason why Lilith did not provide guidance to her daughters was that they were stubborn women.

From the perspective of Lilith’s daughters, they consider their mother to be the person they respect most in their family.

Even though Lilith doesn’t care at all about her nickname as the strongest in the whole world, she has until now remained silent in her nest and has been carrying out her daily activities.

There was not a single day when Lilith received a serious request from her daughters, such as providing training. For now, Athena was a little unsure whether she should go ask her mother for guidance or not. However, Athena is the only daughter of Lilith who knows the true power of her mother.

Among all of Athena’s sisters, she was the only daughter who had a close relationship with their mother when she was little. Therefore, there would be nothing strange if Athena had witnessed Lilith’s incredibly terrifying power in the past.

"You understand, right? The abilities of your Star Element are reserved for you and your mother. If you can’t solve your problems in terms of cultivation, I’m afraid you won’t be able to break through to the Dragon Emperor stage any time soon."

The expression shown on Athena’s face at this time remained expressionless. Actually, Athena already knew the reason why she couldn’t break through in the near future was due to her low understanding of the Star Element. For some reason, Lilith was the only woman in the entire world who could help Athena improve her understanding of the Star Element.

"Please think about it first. I have to go teach those two elf girls. Ah. And also, Lize, please don’t avert your eyes and quickly refocus on your training."

A crashing sound came from above Elize’s head. A slight groan of pain involuntarily came out of Elize’s mouth. For now, Elize has been recalling the time when she trained under the guidance of her master.

But every action Rossweisse gave Elize was a form of a master’s affection. Even Elize admires Rossweisse as a responsible woman. Even so, Elize did not dare to compare her master with Lilith.

Rossweisse’s self-esteem far exceeded Elize’s expectations in the past. Letting Elize compare the strength of Rossweisse with Lilith was like comparing heaven and earth. However, Rossweisse is a woman who doesn’t like it when other people try to compare her with others around the world.

"I’m sorry, Master. I will be more careful and will never avert my eyes!"

Shaking her head, Rossweisse decided to walk away, leaving Athena and Elize, who were now training together. For some reason, Rossweisse's gaze shifted towards the figures of Tifa and Tina, who were now in their meditative state.

"The concentration you have is very high. I'm sure you two are from the Leverlight family. Only those from the Elf race who come from the Leverlight family have magical talents with high levels of concentration power like you two."

Tifa and Tina's eyelids began to open as they listened to the praise that Rossweisse gave them. The name of Rossweisse in the Spirit Continent was known to every being in that place. Moreover, the elves who have top-level magical talent endlessly worship Rossweisse as the strongest magician among all living beings.

"To be praised directly by the Queen Witch is an honor. Thank you, Miss Rossweisse. You have allowed us to train under your guidance."

"Hm~. I already thought that you two were very interesting. Your talents are like water and fire. At least, they are rare talents. It's okay. I will help you two master the enormous mana power within you."

The full names of Tifa and Tina are Tifa Glare Leverlight and Tina Glare Leverlight. The two sisters were born in the main residence of the Leverlight family. As members of the main family of the Leverlight family, the two sisters were given special freedom to explore the entire Spirit Continent.

But due to the two sisters' desire to leave the Spirit Continent, they were ultimately thought to have died at the hands of a top-level beast by the members of the Leverlight family. Therefore, until now, no one in the Leverlight family had decided to go looking for their two family members.

"By the way, where are your two earrings? Every member of the Leverlight family has at least one pair of earrings that their parents passed down to their children."

An involuntary cough came out of Tina's mouth. Tina's gaze shifted towards the figure of her master, who was now relentlessly training his physical body. For some reason, Rossweisse indirectly knew who the person who had taken Tina's special earrings was.

"So that's how it is. Does that mean you consider that man to be a man worthy of your service?"

"Yes. Master Lucien is a good man. He didn't have any bad thoughts even when he first saved us from the clutches of those three evil dragons."

Wrinkles began to appear on Rossweisse's forehead. Lucien's charm is enough for any woman in the world to feel happy when they meet him. Therefore, Rossweisse admits that Lucien has good looks far above the average man in the world.

Unfortunately, Rossweisse's Charm is much better than Lucien's Charm. In the end, Rossweisse is a witch who has the strongest charm among the others. But still, Rossweisse is a virgin woman who has never once felt the true meaning of love.

This was the first time Rossweisse felt love when she met her soulmate. Lucien is the only one in the whole world who can become Rossweisse's man. For that reason, Rossweisse decided to give guidance to Lucien and to stay in the Dragon Realm.

"That man's charm isn't bad at all. That's good for the two of you. But please focus first on the training that I will give you from now on. Tifa and Tina, right? From now on, I will guide you two specifically like I did with your master."

A slightly doubtful expression appeared on Tifa and Tina's faces. The two sisters started to look at each other before they finally decided to let out a sigh. As two elves from the Spirit Continent, they never once imagined that they would receive training from the Queen Witch.

"That... we... we would both be happy to accept it!"

"This is our chance... Big Sister, let's do it together so as not to disappoint the master's expectations."

Chapter 116: Athena's Homecoming

"Please provide your guidance to us from today onwards!"

A feeling of endless joy began to surge through Rossweisse's mind. Getting two additional apprentices was a pleasant thing in Rossweisse's eyes. Moreover, the two elf girls were not ordinary elf girls like the ones Rossweisse usually met in the past.

Rossweisse couldn't ignore high-level talents like Tifa and Tina. As a woman born with a natural talent for magic, Rossweisse hoped she could provide her guidance to Tifa and Tina.

Among all the female disciples that Rossweisse had met in the past, perhaps only Tifa and Tina were able to train thoroughly under Rossweisse's guidance. But Elize wasn't completely born a witch. Therefore, Rossweisse did not consider her foolish disciple to be a future witch at all.

In the end, Elize is a dragon born with balanced strength in terms of statistics. Not all of the skills Rossweisse taught Elize were about magic. Instead, Rossweisse had taught Elize the martial arts she had learned in the past.

There were only two martial arts that Rossweisse had learned when she was young. Swordsmanship was the most common one Rossweisse could teach. In contrast, Spearmanship was a skill that Rossweisse had been honing to this day.

As the Queen Witch, Rossweisse had to be able to at least perform melee attacks when fighting against melee fighters. Therefore, Rossweisse had been able to survive against her enemies even when fighting against countless foes.

Only by mastering every skill that exists throughout the world would Rossweisse have more opportunities to face enemies far stronger than herself. For that reason, Rossweisse decided to create the Absorbing Abilities as an ability that could seize abilities from other users.

But there was no chance whatsoever for Rossweisse to try out the capabilities of the Absorbing Abilities that she had created with her own hands. On the contrary, Rossweisse decided not to think too much about her failure to use the Absorbing Abilities as her secret ability.

Among all the living beings in the entire world, Lucien is the only man who can master the skill of Absorbing Abilities. But even though Lucien could seize abilities from his enemies, he had to at least activate his true form to use the abilities of the Absorbing Abilities.

The next day passed, and Athena decided to say goodbye to Elize’s territory before saying goodbye to Lucien and the others. After thinking for a night, Athena decided to ask her mother for training in mastering the abilities of the Star Element.

"Are you okay if you go home alone? Should I go with you?"

"No need. Cien, please take care of yourself. I will be back as soon as all the training given by my mother is over."

A small nod came from Lucien. Athena’s departure from Elize’s territory slightly increased Lucien’s feeling of loneliness. However, Lucien did not expect that Athena would decide to leave Elize’s territory.

At first, Lucien thought that Athena would stay in Elize’s territory for a long time. In the end, the training that Rossweisse gave Athena did not suit her at all. Therefore, Athena decided to return to the castle and ask for training from her mother.

"Hena, don’t forget to tell us all about your situation. I will support you."

"Ha ha ha. You should worry more about yourself. Lize, I will defeat you sooner or later. In just half a year, I swear that I will soon reach the Dragon Emperor stage just like you."

Both Elize's and Athena's gazes began to show sharp and intimidating looks. The two friends are women who know each other and consider themselves rivals. For some reason, Elize's desire to become endlessly stronger began to rise every time she remembered the challenge Athena had given her.

"Oh? Then I'll wait for you for another half year. Once it's over, I want us to be able to fight as we did in the past."

After the conversation between the two friends, both Athena and Elize began to say their goodbyes to each other. Just before Athena decided to leave Elize's territory, she immediately kissed her lover on the lips.

The expression Lucien was showing right now after receiving a kiss from Athena only showed his embarrassed face. This was the first time Lucien had witnessed his first love take the initiative to kiss him in public. For some reason, Lucien's face started to turn away from Athena and the others.

"I'll go now~. Take care of them all, Cien. You are now the strongest. I'm sure you will be able to overcome any enemy who tries to find trouble with our Dragonia Kingdom."

Athena's figure began to disappear into the sky after she said her last words. After Athena flew away from Elize's territory, the expression on her face returned to its usual expressionless state.

A sigh of helplessness began to come out of Athena's mouth. There was not a single day when Athena had thought of asking her mother for guidance. Until now, Athena had never once troubled her mother in the past decades.

Time passed as Athena flew closer to the royal capital. A giant eye appeared in the sky above the Dragonia Kingdom. Even so, Athena felt nervous as she stared at the giant eye now hanging over the Dragonia Kingdom.

"Is that you, Mother? Wait. I thought it was Father who was trying to break through his shackles?"

Various strange fluctuations began to be felt by the citizens of the Dragonia Kingdom. The sky, which had previously been bright, began to turn a deep purple. That was the characteristic of the power Lucius possessed when he was in his true form.

The citizens of the Dragonia Kingdom immediately noticed the changes that had occurred throughout their kingdom. Every citizen living within the Dragonia Kingdom knew the reason why strong energy fluctuations had begun to spread across their territory. After all, the energy radiated by that power came directly from their king.

It was impossible for the dragons not to know the strength of a dragon who had reached the Dragon Overlord stage. Only those who had reached the Dragon Overlord stage could control the power of heaven and earth. For that reason, everything happening throughout the skies of the Dragonia Kingdom was the result of the great power of Lucius, who was now preparing for his breakthrough.

"Naughty girl, hurry and come in. Your mother is waiting for you in her nest. She told your father that you would come soon to see her."

Lucius's voice echoed throughout the sky and reached Athena's ears. The expression Athena showed at this time revealed only her admiration. For the first time, Lucius had finally broken through his shackles and was preparing to reach the Dragon Overlord stage.

"Cough. Father, congratulations on successfully breaking through the shackles that have held back your strength for so long. I'm sure the wounds you received in the past have completely healed."

An involuntary laugh came out of Lucius's mouth. As a loving father, it was rare for Lucius to hear praise given directly by one of his daughters.

Chapter 117: Small Universe

Moreover, Athena is one of Lucius's daughters who rarely praises her father. As the eldest daughter of Lilith and Lucius, Athena received special guidance from Lilith when she was first born into this world.

Most of the experiences Athena has had to date came directly from Lilith. But Athena never once asked for training from her mother. Therefore, until she grew up, what Athena did was travel with her mother and witness the battles her mother fought against her enemies in the past.

That was also one of the reasons why Athena felt amazed when she witnessed how her lover faced enemies who were much stronger than he was. However, the figure of Lucien when he faced his enemies reminded her of Lilith.

Almost all of Lilith's daughters imagined Lucien as their mother when she fought against an impossible number of enemies. Even when Lucien faced thousands of troops from the Vermillion family, both Athena and her other sisters began to imagine the figure of their mother as she fought face-to-face against countless enemies.

Numbers meant absolutely nothing in Lilith's eyes. Likewise, Lucien, when he was in his true form. When Lucien faced enemies at the Dragon King stage and below, he could easily destroy them all with a single wave of his sword.

The movements Lucien displayed when he killed most of the troops from the Vermillion family were enough to portray him as the second Lilith in the world. Even the Dragon Emperor admitted that Lucien had the same great potential as Lilith. Because of this, the Dragon Emperor began to view Lucien as a threat that would hinder his future path.

Inside Lilith's dragon nest, Athena, who had previously been standing outside Lilith's room, began to walk into her mother's room. However, Lilith's nest had been inside her room from the very beginning.

There was no reason for Lilith not to create her own little world within her private room. For some reason, an endless feeling of nervousness began to surge within Athena's heart.

Everything inside her mother's nest radiated the extraordinary power that Lilith possessed. Even as Athena stood inside Lilith's nest, she felt an unfamiliar amount of mana begin to enter her respiratory tract.

The feeling of breathing the pure energy within her mother's nest slightly eased the nervousness that had previously plagued Athena's heart. On the other hand, Athena's face returned to its calm expression when she felt the presence of her mother, who was now standing in front of her.

A small grin involuntarily appeared on Lilith's beautiful and enchanting face. Lilith's gaze continuously examined the condition of her eldest daughter. For some reason, an involuntary sigh escaped Lilith's lips.

The development of Athena's strength over the past half year slightly disappointed Lilith's expectations of her eldest daughter. The incredibly powerful talent that Athena possessed was something Lilith had passed down to her. As a mother, Lilith hoped that her eldest daughter would break through to the Dragon Emperor stage within the next few months.

Almost all the time, Lilith had been watching her daughters' every movement, even when they traveled throughout the Dragon Realm. But as both a mother and the strongest being in the entire world, Lilith hoped that her eldest daughter would develop as rapidly as her son-in-law.

"This is a bit disappointing. Luckily, you decided to come and ask your mother for something. I told you when you were young, didn't I?"

No answer came from Athena other than a small nod. Since she was little, Athena had listened to her mother's advice regarding the talents she had inherited from her. However, the abilities of the Star Element could only be used by Lilith and herself.

Each of Lilith’s daughters inherited one of the characteristics their mother possessed. Shelia even had an ability that allowed her to read the hearts of all living beings. Therefore, Lilith possessed all the abilities that she had passed down to her daughters.

Every time Lilith crossed paths with someone outside her family, she immediately knew what every dragon in the entire Dragon Realm was thinking about her. Because Lilith was the Dragon Emperor’s main enemy, the citizens of the Dragon Realm considered Lilith the greatest threat to the Dragon Realm.

That was one of the reasons why Lilith decided not to travel outside the Dragonia Kingdom, even though she was the strongest. Not everyone in the world considered Lilith a good being. Therefore, Lilith had absolutely no intention of doing anything bad to the citizens of the Dragon Realm.

"Sigh. I understand. I will help you from now onwards. But I want to ask one thing of you, my daughter. Would you allow it?"

"..." Silence involuntarily crept into Athena’s mind as she listened to the last sentence spoken by her mother. For the first time, Athena witnessed her mother asking for something she had never asked for in her entire life.

A large part of Athena was suspicious of her mother’s hidden intentions in trying to get close to her lover. Despite that, Athena couldn’t help but grant her mother’s request, even if she asked for something unreasonable.

"Okay... Just tell me what you want. But I beg you not to ask for anything excessive."

Without any visible reaction from Athena, Lilith immediately moved her to an empty and mysterious place. The place where Athena now stood was called the Void. It was a place that Lilith had created with her power.

"Welcome to this small universe that was created directly by your mother. I welcome your arrival, my beloved daughter."

"This feeling... Star Element... Isn’t this the ability of the Star Element? But it’s even more vast compared to what I can use up to now!"

Small, continuous chuckles began to come out of Lilith’s mouth. The expression Lilith showed at this time revealed nothing but her arrogance. After several thousand years of not showing her pride in front of others, Lilith was finally able to show off her extraordinary creation to her eldest daughter.

There was no reason for Athena not to feel amazed by the small universe her mother had created. This was the first time Athena had witnessed a living being create such a phenomenon, bringing the Void and all the stars around it into existence. For that reason,

Athena once again regarded Lilith as a mysterious woman who had surpassed the common sense of all living beings.

"This... This is completely unbelievable. Wait, Mother... Is it true that Mother isn't someone who has successfully reached the level of transcendent power?"

Chapter 118: Celestia's Mission

"Who knows? You can guess whatever you like. In the end... only those up there know your mother's true secret."

A confused expression began to appear on Athena's face after she listened to Lilith's every nonsensical statement. Although Athena was curious about the meaning of her mother's words, she decided to keep her mouth shut after witnessing the serious expression on her mother's face.

Everything that happened in the past was simply not something a woman like Athena could understand. Lilith's extraordinary power has kept her alive for hundreds of thousands of years. Therefore, Lilith didn't have any thoughts other than doing the best she could for her current life.

There is only one goal that Lilith wants to achieve until now: to be able to live happily with her family. After marrying Lucius and having four daughters to care for, Lilith has felt the true meaning of happiness whenever she is around her four daughters.

Among all of Lilith's daughters, she really cares about Ariel because of her attitude as a spoiled girl. But Athena was one of Lilith's daughters whom she most wanted to train. As an heiress, Athena bore a much greater burden than her other three sisters.

Luckily, Lilith is a loving woman who always lets her daughters roam freely outside the Dragon Realm. For that reason, Lilith did not mind Athena's actions in trying to leave the castle of the Dragonia Kingdom in the past.

There were hundreds of times when Lilith watched her eldest daughter try to escape from the castle. From then on, Lilith decided to let Athena roam freely throughout the vast world.

One of the reasons why Athena was able to meet Elize when she was still young was that Lilith agreed to let her eldest daughter roam freely on the Life Continent. For some reason, the memory of Lilith first witnessing the birth of her first daughter came flooding back into her mind.

That was the time when Lilith considered Athena her only valuable possession in the entire world. By the time Athena hatched from her shell, Lilith had decided to make Athena her successor, who would inherit the throne of the Dragonia Kingdom.

Even Lucius agreed with Lilith's decision to make their eldest daughter the next potential successor to the Dragonia Kingdom. Although Athena initially rejected her father and mother's wish to make her the next ruler of the Dragonia Kingdom, as the eldest daughter, Athena had to bear a great burden even when she was small.

"So can Mother give me some training right now?"

"Eh? Why the rush? Is there something bothering you?"

A doubtful look involuntarily began to appear on Athena's face when she remembered the challenge she had given to Elize. For the life of her, Athena absolutely did not want to be surpassed by her friend in terms of strength or talent.

In the end, Athena is the daughter of Lilith, who has inherited her mother's spirit to become the strongest. After Athena witnessed the development of her lover and only friend, she decided to focus on her training even while Lucien went to train under Elize.

"Actually, I have given Lize a challenge. I want to defeat her, or at least I want to catch up with her cultivation within the next half year. Therefore, I beg Mother to train me immediately."

There was no expression visible on Lilith's face other than her serious one. For some reason, a small and mysterious grin began to appear on Lilith's lips. From Lilith's point of view, she was happy to see how her eldest daughter had decided to become much stronger than she currently was.

"Of course. But I will tell you about my wish... Come here. I will tell you right now, my daughter. I hope you will not hate your mother after listening to your mother's request."

On a remote island, a purple-haired woman could be seen floating above the uninhabited island. The woman's two purple eyes began to send a great shock throughout the entire uninhabited island. Within seconds, everything on the entire island began to turn into an endless sea of fire.

The woman's form, which was previously human, began to change into her dragon form. The woman's name is Celestia XII Dragonova; she is the only daughter of the Dragon Emperor Astaroth. As a princess, Celestia has the task of destroying a place that is predicted to destroy her father's power, which has existed for tens of thousands of years.

But that was not Celestia's main purpose in coming to the underworld to destroy an uninhabited island. In the end, the reason why Celestia came to the underworld was to look for something she had always wanted to obtain. Despite that, Celestia didn't find anything she had been looking for for a long time.

"Where exactly is that thing? Mother has ordered me to look for a medicine that can restore my father's vital parts. Sigh... What a pitiful father. I will do my best to help my father restore his vital parts!" Various memories of Celestia previously hearing from her father about the destruction of his genitals began to flood her mind. That was the moment when Celestia couldn't keep her composure at all after finding out her father's true condition. After all, the Dragon Emperor, who had been worshipped by countless living beings yet suffered from reproductive defects, was an insult to every citizen of the Dragon Realm.

Actually, Celestia is a daughter who truly loves her father as a man. But she absolutely had no desire that would make her take excessive action against her father. On the other hand, Celestia had tried several times to restrain her lust whenever she was by her father's side.

Whatever the case, the Dragon Emperor was absolutely not a father who would love his only daughter as a woman. Even if the Dragon Emperor knew his daughter's true feelings for him, he would only think of Celestia as the little princess who had accompanied him until now.

Unfortunately, Celestia has no desire to give up trying to earn her father's feelings as a woman. For now, Celestia hopes she can help her father regain his reproductive organs, even if she has to search for the cure throughout the entire world.

Celestia's hatred for the Lucifer family had reached a peak that could not be extinguished with mere words. Ever since the first time Celestia witnessed how her father was oppressed by Lilith, she had considered Lilith her one and only eternal enemy whom she would fight in the future.

"That old bitch, she will pay for daring to destroy my father's most important reproductive organ! I swear to the world that I will destroy the Lucifer family from its roots!"

Chapter 119: The Emperor of All Mankind

Hundreds of meters away from where Celestia was currently, various figures from the Human race could be seen floating above the clouds. The expressions shown by the humans endlessly revealed their helplessness.

From the humans' perspective, the Dragon race is the most arrogant race among all the other races. After witnessing how the Dragon Emperor's daughter wreaked havoc on the small island within the Human race's territory, the humans were completely unable to hold back their anger at the actions that Celestia was carrying out against their small territory.

"The daughter of the Dragon Emperor is very arrogant! We should immediately stop that crazy woman before she can destroy all the remaining islands around this border region!"

"That's the right choice! But can you stop her? She's a dragon at the Dragon Overlord stage. I'm afraid none of us will be able to defeat that crazy monster."

Lifeless expressions once again appeared on the humans' faces. The angry expressions previously shown by the humans began to change into expressions of fear. After all, fighting face to face against a dragon at the Dragon Overlord stage was no different from bringing disaster upon the entire Human race.

"By the way, where is Lady Queen Witch? She should be one of the Sovereigns who has been assigned to guard the eastern border region. Because she left her post... in the end, some creatures from the Dragon race started acting as arrogantly as they wanted within our territory."

For some reason, not a single answer could come out of the mouths of any of the humans other than frightened expressions. A memory of the Queen Witch leaving a message that she would not return to the Life Continent for the next few years came back to one of their minds. For that reason, the human was completely unable to hold back his expression of despair after recalling that the guardian who had guarded the eastern border region had left for the next few years.

"That... actually, Lady Queen Witch... she..." In the end, the human decided to tell everything that had happened to his other companions. After telling everything he knew to his companions, the human decided to avert his gaze from the lifeless faces of his comrades.

At least they were all still able to survive the madness previously shown by a crazy dragon like Celestia. However, a guardian at the Ancient Warrior stage was someone who had been assigned to guard every border area of the Life Continent, both outside and inside the continent.

The disappearance of Rossweisse from the eastern border region made the humans guarding the area completely unable to hide their worried expressions. Every worry that had previously plagued the humans' minds had completely come true. Therefore, none of the humans could stop Celestia's madness, even though she was only one dragon.

"Let's pretend we didn't see what happened... I just hope that one of our Sovereigns decides to step in and deal with that she-dragon's madness."

Each of the humans began to nod at the suggestion given by their companion regarding the destruction that Celestia had caused. None of the humans dared to intervene against Celestia. For that reason, they all began to hope that one of their Sovereigns would intervene and drive Celestia away from the Life Continent.

As time passed, Celestia relentlessly began destroying every island located around the border region of the Life Continent. There was nothing the humans around the border area could do to stop the chaos created by the mad dragon. Instead, they all decided to act clueless about what was happening, as if it were not their problem at all.

Suddenly, a heavy pressure began to spread in all directions across a radius of millions of kilometers. A middle-aged man in his forties was seen walking through the sky. The middle-aged man's gaze endlessly gave off a feeling of intimidation towards everyone hovering around the border region of the Life Continent.

"You... You are His Majesty the Human Emperor?! How could His Majesty decide to intervene personally in dealing with a dragon that is completely insignificant to him?!"

The dragon form previously shown by Celestia began to revert to her human form. A large amount of blood endlessly spurted out of Celestia's mouth. For some reason, an expression of endless fear and despair began to spread across Celestia's beautiful face.

"How could you... It wasn't supposed to be like this! I still have to find the medicine... Otherwise, my father would..."

There was no expression on the Human Emperor's face other than indifference. The Human Emperor's gaze began to relentlessly convey a sense of intimidation towards Celestia. For the first time, Celestia felt a sense of despair that made her feel as though she could lose her life at any moment.

Apart from her father, the Human Emperor was the second person who succeeded in instilling an extraordinary sense of fear within Celestia. As a woman like Celestia, she had experienced the pressure exerted by every powerful dragon from the Dragon Realm.

For a human as strong as the Human Emperor, he was one of the rarest beings Celestia had encountered in her lifetime. Therefore, Celestia did not expect the Human Emperor's power to have such a terrifying impact on a powerful dragon like her.

"Emperor of all mankind... You're a cursed human!"

"You are the first person to have barged into our territory. Why did you have to curse me with that hideous face of yours? I don't feel guilty at all, Princess."

Bluff after bluff began to emerge from Celestia's mouth. Celestia's previously lowered head slowly turned back towards where the Human Emperor was standing. Even so,

Celestia couldn’t help but once again feel the incredibly strong pressure that had begun surging around her body.

An endless stream of blood began to gush out of Celestia’s mouth. Even Celestia’s pointed ears began to ooze blood, a bloodline inherited from a powerful dragon. For some reason, Celestia’s consciousness began to fade after she felt the immense pressure exerted by the Human Emperor.

"Hm? This strong and oppressive feeling... So that man decided to come to the rescue of his only beloved daughter? That might have been beyond my predictions. Isn’t that right, Astaroth?"

A cold snort began to sweep across the sky over the eastern border region of the Life Continent. The figure of the Dragon Emperor was seen descending from the clouds in his dragon form. At the same time, the Dragon Emperor, who had previously been in his dragon form, once again revealed his human form.

"Let go of my daughter, Prometheus. Can we talk peacefully? I’m sure you realize that there is no reason for you to hold my daughter hostage."

An involuntary silence fell over the Human Emperor before he finally decided to wave his hand in front of the Dragon Emperor. Within just a few breaths, Celestia, who had previously been lying in the sky, landed beside the Dragon Emperor.

Chapter 120: Compensation

"Because I have returned your daughter to you, will you pay for any damage your daughter has done to my territory?"

The Dragon Emperor’s gaze incessantly shifted towards the place where his daughter had previously destroyed every uninhabited island. The expression shown by the Dragon Emperor at this moment was nothing but a cold one. After all, his daughter was one of the reasons why he had problems with the humans.

There was not a single day when the Dragon Emperor would imagine a time when he would have to give compensation to the Human Emperor. For some reason, the pride of the Dragon race was much greater than that of all the other living beings.

Allowing humans to dominate the Dragon race was enough to reduce the Dragon race’s prestige in the eyes of all living beings throughout the world. But unfortunately, the Dragon Emperor had no choice but to sigh. In the end, the Human Emperor and his subordinates relentlessly cast intimidating gazes towards the Dragon Emperor.

Most humans already knew how to intimidate the Dragon race, one of the races born with the highest dignity. Humans had even faced the Dragon race countless times. Instead of engaging in an all-out battle against the Dragon race, the humans chose to intimidate the dragons that had caused a disturbance within their territory.

Still, one of the reasons why the humans were able to intimidate the Dragon Emperor was because of the presence of the Human Emperor, who was now standing opposite him. As an emperor who ruled over an entire region of the Life Continent, the Human Emperor's power was no less than that of the Dragon Emperor.

That was also the reason why the Dragon Emperor decided to hold peace talks within the Human Emperor's territory. Even though the Dragon Emperor was the second strongest being in the entire world, he would not have any chance of winning against the combined forces of the countless humans.

"Hehe. Of course. I will give you one of our empire's precious treasures. I'm sure you will all be satisfied after seeing what kind of treasure I will give you."

After pondering for a while, the Human Emperor nodded in satisfaction at the compensation the Dragon Emperor intended to give him. In the end, the precious treasure that the Dragon Emperor was referring to was one of the Twelve National Treasures of the Dragon Realm. Ever since the Dragon Realm was first established, the Twelve National Treasures had become the main target of every living being throughout the continent.

Obtaining one of the Twelve National Treasures of the Dragon Realm was no different from increasing the military strength of the Life Continent itself. Therefore, the Human Emperor felt happy when he learned about the compensation that the Dragon Emperor would give him.

"Very well. As expected of a doting father like you. For the sake of your beloved daughter, you are even willing to give one of your precious treasures to our Human race."

"Ck! Prometheus, you talk too much. But it doesn't matter. I'm also doing this for the future of this world. At least this world will become much more interesting compared to the past."

A hint of curiosity appeared on the Human Emperor's face as he listened to the mysterious words spoken by the Dragon Emperor. As a human who had existed for hundreds of thousands of years, the Human Emperor had experienced an overwhelming sense of boredom and could roam freely outside his palace at any time.

"Tell me more about your plans for the future of this world. I think I will join your plans as well."

Not a single happy expression appeared on the Dragon Emperor's face when he heard the Human Emperor's request to join his personal plan for world domination. From the beginning, the plans that the Dragon Emperor wanted to carry out were for his own personal interests. However, the Dragon Emperor couldn't allow anyone other than himself to interfere with the plans that he had long wanted to accomplish.

Allowing a human to interfere with the Dragon Emperor's plans to rule the entire world was no different from bringing destruction upon himself. But the Dragon Emperor had absolutely no intention of letting the Human Emperor join his plans. Instead, the Dragon Emperor slowly nodded before finally showing a confident expression in front of the Human Emperor.

"Hm. That's a good idea. If you decide to join the plan I've been carrying out, I'll be able to move more freely even if I have to face that crazy woman."

For some reason, a memory of the Human Emperor meeting the Silver Divine Dragon came flooding back into his mind. In fact, the Human Emperor admired the Dragon race as a powerful race. But even so, Lilith was the strongest among all the dragons throughout the world.

Deep within the Human Emperor's heart, he felt a flutter as he recalled the figure of Lilith, who now endlessly appeared in his mind. Even though hundreds of years had passed, the Human Emperor's love for Lilith would never disappear from the depths of his heart.

"Silver Divine Dragon... I hope that I will be able to meet a woman as charming as you once again. I'm sure she will fall in love with me once we meet again, sooner or later."

The Dragon Emperor's gaze revealed nothing but indifference. It was normal for the Human Emperor to have feelings for Lilith. But even so, the Dragon Emperor felt disgusted when he saw the expression shown by the Human Emperor as he remembered Lilith.

Even Celestia couldn't hold back her nauseated expression when she saw the strange expression shown by the Human Emperor, who looked like a perverted man. For some reason, Celestia's view of the Human Emperor as a powerful ruler began to crumble and turned into that of a perverted ruler.

'This person is also one of that old woman's admirers...! Hmph! He is completely untrustworthy. I hope Father won't completely trust that perverted man.'

Small snorts began to come from Celestia's nose. After some time had passed, both Celestia and the Dragon Emperor decided to move away from where the Human Emperor was standing.

Luckily, the Dragon Emperor did not forget to give the Human Emperor a communication device so that they could communicate with each other. Since both parties were now cooperating, the Dragon Emperor could move more freely whenever he wandered throughout the Dragon Realm.
