Reborn as the Dragon King's Son-In-Law

Chapter 121: The Dragon Emperor’s Shame

"Astaroth, the doting father! Don’t forget your promise! If not, I will bring more than 100 million of my elite troops to invade your empire!"

"Ck! I knew that! Just think about yourself, annoying old man!"

Both the Human Emperor and the Dragon Emperor had their own internal conflicts that they had carried out from the past until now. As fellow old men who were more than hundreds of thousands of years old, the two men lived their lives as rulers and sole leaders of each of their species.

Moreover, the Human Emperor had experienced endless boredom several times while commanding all humans for tens of thousands of years. As the ruler of all mankind, the Human Emperor had carried out his duties in dealing with every problem within the Life Continent countless times.

One of the reasons why the Human Emperor felt bored and disgusted while carrying out his work as an emperor was because he had, several times, carried out simple tasks such as stamping every document from the nobles and his subordinates. However, the reason why the Human Emperor was able to be appointed as the ruler of all mankind was because of his extraordinary strength.

Among all the Heavenly Warriors in the entire Life Continent, the Human Emperor was the only human who succeeded in crossing the Human Path in terms of divinity. For that reason, none of the humans decided to carry out a coup against the rule of the Human Emperor.

Even the nine Heavenly Warriors throughout the Life Continent did not dare to carry out dirty plans against the Human Emperor. As an emperor who stood at the forefront of the entire Human Path, the Human Emperor could annihilate the powerful humans under him with a single wave at any time.

All living beings throughout the world considered the Human Emperor to be no less powerful than the Dragon Emperor. For that reason, both the Dragon Emperor and the Human Emperor began to show good manners whenever they met each other, as had happened before.

"Pfft... Ha ha ha! I won! But this is very interesting. I am becoming much more curious about the plan that brazen dragon man wants to carry out. I hope for the best from his plan."

Back on the side where the Dragon Emperor and his daughter were currently, the expression on the Dragon Emperor's face returned to its usual expressionless state. Suddenly, the Dragon Emperor's gaze fell upon his daughter, who was now in a state of fear. Even so, the Dragon Emperor had been watching over his daughter ever since she first travelled outside the Dragon Realm.

"Do you know what you did wrong? My little Celestia, I know that you did all this for your father's sake. But I don't need your help at all. The reason why I lost one of the most important organs in my body was also my own fault. Therefore, I will take great revenge against that old bitch!"

No answer could come out of Celestia's mouth other than her guilty expression. In the end, Celestia was one of the reasons why her father decided to intervene by providing compensation to the enemy. Therefore, Celestia had absolutely no comment other than keeping her mouth shut.

"Sigh... You have the same characteristics as your mother. You two are strange. I have already told both of you that what I am experiencing right now is not a big problem at all. But you have absolutely no desire to give up or even listen to my advice."

"But, Father! You have lost your reproductive organs! Mother was very angry after finding out that her current husband is a eunuch!"

The word "eunuch" that came out of Celestia's mouth endlessly gave a harsh slap to a ruler like the Dragon Emperor. Throughout the Dragon Emperor's entire life, he had never expected that there would come a time when he would lose his genitals as a man.

The nickname "Eunuch" was a natural thing to give to a man like the Dragon Emperor. Once again, the Dragon Emperor's anger towards Lilith began to rise tens of times stronger than before.

There was not a single merciful expression on the Dragon Emperor's face other than his hateful one. Likewise with Celestia, who had now completely shown her disappointed expression. Because her father was now a eunuch, he would no longer have the special right to have sexual relations with his wives as he had in the past.

"I... I understand what you mean. For that reason, your father will not allow that old woman to do the same thing to your father a second time! But before that, I must give you a proper punishment for daring to find trouble with that cunning human."

"Punishment? What punishment does Father mean? Can it be considered a punishment by squatting on the bed?"

An involuntary cough came out of the Dragon Emperor’s mouth. Without thinking, the Dragon Emperor immediately hit his daughter right on top of her head.

Thud!—

"You’re a naughty girl! Actually, what your father meant was the birth of your second ’little sister’. Father wants you to look after her until she has the body of a 5-year-old child."

"But that’s not my little sister at all! Why should I look after her? At least let Brother Elliot take care of the little sister!"

In the end, what the Dragon Emperor had hoped for all along had finally happened. There was no reason for Celestia to care for a baby who was not her little sister at all. However, Celestia fully knew the true identities of the baby’s parents inside the egg.

There was no reason for Celestia to accept her father’s request to care for a monstrous baby born with two incredibly powerful bloodlines. Even Celestia couldn’t hold back her frightened expression when she stood in front of that terrible baby. From Celestia’s point of view, she felt her lineage as a noble dragon being placed under endless heavy pressure by the presence of the baby in the research lab.

"Father has actually allowed your brother to meet the egg directly. But he is also as afraid as the scientists who previously guarded the research lab. Therefore, as my only little daughter, I ask you to take care of the baby inside the egg until it has the body of a 5-year-old child."

Endless doubt appeared on Celestia’s face when she witnessed the pleading attitude shown by her father as he asked her to care for a small baby. Because all the members of the imperial family felt fear in caring for the baby, Celestia was the only one who could carry out the duty her father had given her.

"I still have to think about it before the baby fully hatches from its shell. I have to at least confirm whether the baby has the form of a small dragon or not. Is that still allowed?"

"Of course. But you still have to accept the task your father has given you to look after the baby even if it has a strange body shape. Do you understand?"

Chapter 122: Time to Rest

The sound of a sigh of relief began to emerge from the Dragon Emperor's mouth when he saw how his daughter decided to take care of the baby in the research lab. After several weeks had passed, the Dragon Emperor finally found a babysitter who was willing to take care of a small baby that had not yet fully hatched from the dragon egg.

There was no problem whatsoever for the Dragon Emperor in making his only daughter a babysitter who would take care of that terrifying baby. In the end, Celestia was the only daughter of the Dragon Emperor who could carry out her duties as an older sister.

Another side of Celestia didn't feel happy at all when she found out about her father's plan to make her a babysitter to look after an unknown baby. For the first time, Celestia felt a feeling of dissatisfaction towards the action her father had personally chosen for her.

One week finally passed, and now it was the time when Lucien had to show the results of his training in bearing every heavy burden that the heavy clothes had previously given him. For now, Lucien had completely succeeded in adapting to every heavy burden that the heavy clothing had given him for the past two weeks.

At first, Lucien felt an extremely strong sense of fatigue as he tried his best to bear the heavy burden of the heavy clothes. But now, Lucien had completely succeeded in increasing his physical strength until it was several times stronger than it had been two weeks before. Even so, Lucien's cultivation level only increased by more than 13%.

By now, Lucien's strength had reached the peak of the Dragon King stage. Therefore, every stat increase that Lucien currently had had completely increased by one small level.

Although, in the end, Lucien was just a human who received intense training from a crazy woman like Rossweisse. For some reason, a satisfied expression began to appear on Rossweisse's beautiful and charming face.

After two weeks of Rossweisse watching the training that she gave to Lucien, he finally managed to pass every training session that had been given by Rossweisse. But unfortunately, Rossweisse had absolutely no desire to stop the training she would give Lucien next.

Rossweisse couldn't let Lucien get any rest time even after he had successfully graduated from bearing every heavy burden that the heavy clothes had previously given him. Instead, Rossweisse had decided to give some further training to her beloved disciple.

"If you struggle, you will definitely be able to do it. Try looking at your body in front of this mirror. I'm sure your changes now are much different from how you were two weeks before. You now have a much stronger charm than you did two weeks ago."

At the moment when Lucien's gaze fell upon the mirror that Rossweisse had taken out in front of him, the expression on his face could not hide his amazement at all. This was the first time Lucien had witnessed how a witch like Rossweisse took out a giant mirror from inside her small dimension.

"Don't avert your eyes. You have to see your current changes. I'm sure you will feel very satisfied after seeing your changes over the past two weeks."

By the way, the changes shown by the giant mirror to my current figure only show ordinary improvements in general. However, the person I am now and the person I was two weeks before have not experienced any significant changes at all.

In the end, I am a handsome man with full charisma. Of course, I noticed the change in my height, which was previously 184 cm and has now increased to 185 cm. Therefore, I felt a little happy after seeing how my height had increased by 1 cm.

"I admit that I've become a little more charming. Am I handsome? Of course, because I was a handsome guy to begin with. But I totally didn't expect that my current height would increase by 1 cm. This is very beneficial training for someone like me!"

Nod after nod was endlessly visible from my head. There was no reason for me to feel disappointed with any training that Rossweisse had given me over the past two weeks. Instead, I decided to praise Rossweisse's training methods in giving each of her disciples heavy clothing.

But as a man, I admit that my good looks are poison to every woman I will meet in the future. For now, Elize, Tifa, and Tina even felt their minds go haywire as they stared at my handsome and charismatic figure.

The smile I was showing right now indirectly plunged the three women into their eternal dreams. But fortunately, Elize was the first woman who managed to free herself from my charm. On the contrary, both Tifa and Tina endlessly began to lose themselves in their fantasies and endlessly imagined the handsomeness of their master.

"Heh~. You're very confident too. Even though you have good looks that are far above the average man, you have to be more careful in the future so as not to be stolen by other strong women out there."

The warning given by Rossweisse about my good looks had already been fully realized by me since I was first sold into the brothel. That was also the reason why I didn't dare to tease Athena's three sisters at all. However, I consider every woman other than Athena and Elize to be evil.

It is only natural for me to feel severe trauma towards every woman I have met to date. If it weren't for the noble ladies of a small town doing indecent things to me, I wouldn't think of every woman in the whole world as cruel and heartless beings.

But I have completely succeeded in slightly lowering my fear of every human woman in the entire world. Rossweisse is one of the reasons why I can lower my fear of women. After all, Rossweisse is also a human being just like me.

Moreover, Rossweisse is my master and also a human woman. But I can't think of Rossweisse as an attractive woman. In the end, even Rossweisse herself doesn't fully recognize me as the opposite sex.

"Don't worry, Master. Your disciple will never forget the advice the Master has given me."

"But Lucien, this master of yours thinks that you should go deal with Lize and the others. You should at least pay more attention to them after two weeks of not being together."

During these two weeks, what I did was relentlessly focus on training and try my best to adapt to every heavy burden that the heavy clothing had given me. Even though Elize, Tifa, Tina, and I live in the same place, I couldn't completely be with the three of them due to the intense training that Rossweisse had given me over the past few weeks.

Even I myself felt extremely tired while training under Rossweisse's guidance. But because I am a man born with the Velvet Prostitute Physique, I can recover my stamina with just one night's sleep.

Chapter 123: Can't Hold It In Anymore

"I understand. But before that, I hope the Master will not do anything strange while your disciple is talking with those three women."

Rossweisse's face began to show indifference. Her gaze turned towards the surrounding wilderness. As a master, Rossweisse had absolutely no intention of disturbing the intimacy between her disciples.

After witnessing that Rossweisse only showed an indifferent expression, I decided to walk closer to where Elize and the others were. After two weeks of not being together, I felt a strange feeling and fear that had now begun to creep into my heart without end.

Actually, I had been teased several times by Elize during the past two weeks, but I decided to ignore it and just focus on my training. However, what I had done during those two weeks was relentlessly focus on carrying out my training while adapting to the heavy clothing that Rossweisse had previously given me.

"Girls, you seem to have grown even stronger than you were two weeks ago. Especially Tifa and Tina, you two have completely developed into two very different girls."

"Master! You have finally decided to rest too! But we are still much inferior when compared to Master."

The current state of Tifa and Tina's bodies had fully developed to become much stronger than they were before their breakthrough. Therefore, Tifa and Tina's height, which was previously around 160 cm, had increased to 163 cm.

For the first time, I felt a sense of satisfaction when watching the development of Tifa and Tina's physical bodies. When I first met Tifa and Tina in a large forest, the two girls were no different from two ordinary girls.

But now, I felt a dangerous sensation when standing near Tifa and Tina. Even the aura emitted by Tifa's body endlessly released large amounts of mana power. With that alone, I knew that the training Rossweisse had given the two girls was not ordinary training at all.

The mana power emitted from within Tifa's body gave off a very domineering and sharp feeling, while the mana power emitted from within Tina's body gave a comfortable feeling to everything around her. For some reason, I couldn't hold back my amazement after witnessing the magical development of my two personal maids.

For a man like me, who had been tasked with training my physical strength for two weeks, it was enough to show that my magic power was below that of Tifa and Tina. However, throughout those two weeks, what Rossweisse had given me was relentless physical training.

"Of course. I have decided to take some time to rest. If you want to ask anything, I will be happy to answer any questions from the three of you."

After Elize finished cleaning off all the sweat that had previously covered her body, she decided to walk closer to where her lover was. Unexpectedly, one of Elize's hands immediately wrapped around one of her lover's wrists like that of a pair of lovers.

"Cien, can we do that right here and now? I can't hold it in anymore after being silent for two weeks."

Embarrassment involuntarily began to appear on my previously calm face. Actually, I admit that I had tried my best to suppress the desire within me to have sex with Elize. Therefore, I was completely unable to hold back the passionate expression that had now begun to creep across my face without end.

"But doing that in a place like this? I think we should move first. After all, it wouldn't be good if Master saw us having sex in this open place."

Unfortunately, the attitude shown by Elize at this moment did not show any shyness or fear at all. On the contrary, without thinking, Elize immediately created various ice walls that covered everything around us.

The ice walls created by Elize at this moment had become much stronger than the ice she had created before. For some reason, memories of the two weeks Elize had spent training her magic with all her strength came flooding back into my mind.

It must be admitted that Elize is an extraordinarily strong and talented woman. Among all the Dragon races throughout the world, Athena is the only one who can match Elize's talent as a Dragon Emperor stage dragon.

Elize's strength as a Dragon Emperor stage dragon was enough to make every dragon throughout the entire Dragon Realm feel wary whenever they met her. Even I, whose strength was slightly above Elize's, couldn't help but show a frightened expression. Of course, I felt an incredibly strong sense of fear when I witnessed the loving gaze Elize was giving me at this moment.

Instead of running away and trying my best to hide from Elize's sight, I decided to let Elize do whatever she wanted to my body. Even Tifa and Tina, who had previously been near me, began to show dissatisfied expressions. However, Elize had dared to chase the two of them away to stop them from watching the intimate relationship between the two of us.

"Lady Elize is very forgiving. But if you think about it more carefully, it's normal. Sigh... I'm sure Lady Elize has been trying her best to control the lust that has occupied her mind for a long time."

"It's okay. In the end, Lady Elize is one of our master's two official lovers. At least our current master isn't a bastard at all. Isn't that right?"

Unfortunately, no answer could come out of Tifa's mouth after she listened to Tina's words. Even if Elize was one of the two official women of their master, Tifa would not give up trying her best to pursue the image of their master as a handsome and perfect man.

Sighs filled with lust began to be heard coming from within the very thick ice walls, accompanied by a gripping cold aura. For some reason, a cough involuntarily escaped from Rossweisse's mouth.

Throughout Rossweisse's entire life, this was the first time she had witnessed a man and a woman having sex in front of her. But Rossweisse had remained a spinster throughout her entire life. Therefore, she had never once felt the warm embrace of a man while lying in bed.

"You two elf girls, don't take their relationship too far. This is advice from your master to the two of you, don't..."

But there was no hope for Rossweisse to keep Tifa and Tina away from the ice wall, which was now endlessly emitting piercing cold energy. Even Rossweisse couldn't hold back her tired expression. For the first time, Rossweisse let her disciples do whatever they wanted while they were by her side.

Chapter 124: Children? - R18

The warm breath released by Elize, and even the saliva now dripping non-stop onto my chest, made me unable to hold back my chaotic thoughts. As a man, I felt very happy when I saw that Elize's lust had now increased to its limits.

[Ding! You have begun the purification of your bloodline. The host's current God's Bloodline will increase by a few percent by a very small number.]

This was the first time I had witnessed Elize completely lose her mind as a female dragon. But I am a man with abundant experience in matters of sex. Therefore, without thinking, I immediately decided to do something indecent to Elize's beautiful figure.

Elize's pure white hair, like snowflakes, made my heart beat very fast without stopping. After Athena's return to the Dragonia Kingdom, I felt a deep sense of loneliness that made me train by Rossweisse's side for two weeks.

Luckily, the presence of Elize, who had always accompanied me for the past two weeks, was enough to make me feel happy as a man. But Tifa and Tina are the two girls who always look after Elize whenever and wherever she is. Even so, I really love Tifa and Tina as my two cute personal maids.

"Lize... you look very aggressive today. I thought I would be defeated by you alone in bed."

"Hehe~ ♡. Cien... Cien... I am yours. And so are you; you are mine alone for today. So please do as you please with my body, which has felt a deep sense of loneliness for two weeks."

In the end, Elize's figure when she lost control was no different from that of a succubus from the Demon race. There's no point in not having sex with Elize after two weeks. For some reason, I felt my cultivation improve every time Elize and I reached our orgasms.

Elize's two D-cup-sized breasts began to appear before me. Without hesitation, I immediately took one of Elize's small breasts into my mouth without thinking. Elize's sweat, the taste of her body, and even her erect nipples made me feel completely satisfied in my heart.

My cock, now inside Elize's pussy, began to throb violently after receiving strong pressure from all sides within her pussy. Within a few thrusts, a continuous stream of large amounts of sperm began to flood the inside of Elize's uterus.

However, due to my physical improvement, which had increased several times compared to two weeks ago, I was able to continue having sex with Elize, even though I had absolutely no desire to let Elize have her rest.

The figure of Elize, who had previously been sitting on my lap, began to lie beneath me. That alone was enough to prove that I had now completely succeeded in dominating Elize in terms of sex. But still, I absolutely could not forget the moment when Elize and Athena squeezed the sperm out of me.

One of the reasons I lost in having sex with the two female dragons was the increase in strength that Elize gained after breaking through and reaching the Dragon Emperor stage. If Elize were still at the Great Dragon King stage, I could defeat her at any time while we were in bed.

For now, my only focus was to have sex with Elize until one of us was satisfied. Likewise, Elize still did not feel completely satisfied. Without thinking, Elize and I resumed our wild, animal-like sex.

The cold temperature inside the ice wall endlessly created a mixture of cold and hot air. But because Elize and I have resistance to the Ice Element and Fire Element, we can continue our relationship as usual at any time.

"No... You're too rough. Cien, you have turned into a man who is much more skilled at sex than you were two weeks ago. Even the size of your cock has reached around 26 cm..."

"Heh. That means you and Hena will have an experience that will make you feel happy forever. As the lover of both of you, I feel very happy when I hear the praise you have given about the increase in the size of my cock."

Pondering for a few moments, Elize's gaze returned to her lover's cock, which was now inside her pussy. There was even a small bulge on her stomach caused by her lover's long and large cock. Therefore, Elize decided to rub her stomach, which now showed a slight bulge because of her lover's long and large cock.

"Who would have thought that your cock would be able to penetrate to the deepest part of my egg cells? But I'm a little worried, Cien. What if it gives us a child?"

Elize's worry about an accidental pregnancy is normal for an inexperienced woman like her. In fact, I had absolutely no desire to have a child with Elize. Instead, I decided to calm the worry that had previously surged within her.

As I stroked Elize's long hair, I decided to kiss her forehead before finally touching her soft cheeks. I said, "Even if that happens, I will take full responsibility for your accidental pregnancy. But that can't happen because neither you nor I have any desire whatsoever to have a child to care for at this time."

After listening to the answer that came out of my mouth, Elize's expression returned to its calm state. Every word spoken by her lover was something Elize had been thinking about for the past half year.

A young dragon like Elize giving birth to a baby is taboo in the eyes of all living beings of the Dragon race. In the end, a young dragon is still a young dragon. Only dragons who have reached maturity can have a child with their mate.

"If you had a child with another woman besides Hena and me, would you also do the same thing you just said to me?"

Doubt involuntarily appeared on my face before I finally decided to snap out of my thoughts. Actually, a young dragon can give birth. But still, both Elize and I are lovers who have vowed not to have a baby before I can achieve an extraordinary accomplishment in the eyes of all creatures throughout the world.

Even Athena agreed with Elize's suggestion not to have a baby with their only lover for now. In the end, the world where Athena and the others currently live is a dangerous one. As two women who have witnessed bloodshed among every species in the world, Athena and Elize consider having a child with Lucien to be no different from bringing destruction upon their family and future children.

Chapter 125: Deep in Thought

But because Lucien, in his previous life, was an adult man, he would take full responsibility for the pregnancies of his women. But from Lucien's point of view, that was completely impossible. Therefore, both Lucien and Elize once again showed their passionate expressions.

There was no reason for either lover to stop having sex with the other. In the end, both Lucien and Elize had completely reached their limits in having sex with each other.

Even a mature man like Lucien could not forget the time when he and Elize had sex with each other in the past. For now, Lucien was fully able to thrust his cock into Elize's pussy again.

With just one glance from Lucien and Elize, the two lovers started their intense kiss again, endlessly exchanging saliva with each other. Up to now, both Lucien and Elize had been having sex for an hour.

On the side where Rossweisse, Tifa, and Tina were currently, the faces of the three women endlessly showed expressionless expressions. Moreover, the thoughts shown by Tifa and Tina at this time had completely revealed their hallucinatory expressions.

Unfortunately, the rest time given by Rossweisse to Tifa and Tina only lasted for half an hour before they finally decided to continue their training. Even though Tifa and Tina decided to continue the training that Rossweisse had given them, the two sisters couldn't forget the moment when their master had sex with Elize.

Luckily, Rossweisse's mind was not completely focused on supervising Tifa and Tina's training. On the contrary, Rossweisse was endlessly pondering whether her choice to stay within the Dragon Realm was the right one or not.

Not everything on the Life Continent had been completely resolved by Rossweisse with her own hands. For that reason, Rossweisse was completely unable to restrain her chaotic thoughts as she imagined the moment when her guard post would receive a sneak attack from an external creature.

Even though, up to now, not a single human had come to the Dragon Realm to report any events that had occurred on the Life Continent, Rossweisse considered that her guard post within the Life Continent had now completely become a safe place.

That was something only Rossweisse could think of on her own. There was no reason for the humans to tell Rossweisse about every incident that occurred within the Life Continent. However, Rossweisse had dared to leave the territory she guarded without informing the Human Emperor of her departure.

As the Human Emperor, he had no obligation to inform the Dragon Emperor's daughter of every attack on the eastern region of the Life Continent. Instead, the Human Emperor decided to express his gratitude to Rossweisse for deciding to leave her guard post in the eastern region of the Life Continent.

In fact, the Human Emperor had predicted that there would come a time when outsiders would carry out successive attacks on one of the regions of the Life Continent. The reason why the outsiders had not dared to attack the Life Continent until now was because of Rossweisse's presence. For that reason, the Human Emperor had been monitoring the eastern region of the Life Continent from the very beginning after Rossweisse disappeared from her guard post.

In the end, the Human Emperor himself felt immense anger when he learned of Rossweisse's desire to leave her guard post for the next few years. After all, Rossweisse's status in the eyes of all living beings throughout the world was that of the strongest human beneath the ten Heavenly Warrior stage experts.

"Is this okay? Do I have to call one of my disciples who is out there to tell them about the situation happening in the eastern region? I can't help but worry..." A sigh escaped Rossweisse's mouth. This was the third time Rossweisse had sighed because of the eastern region of the Life Continent. After all, the eastern region of the Life Continent was Rossweisse's main base, which she had built with all her efforts.

But still, Rossweisse had absolutely no desire to leave Lucien and her three new disciples in the Dragon Realm. Since the first time Rossweisse tutored Lucien and his women, she had completely regarded her new disciples as extraordinarily talented.

Abandoning talented disciples like Lucien and the others was something detrimental in Rossweisse's eyes. But unfortunately, Lucien and Elize had still not completely stopped their sexual relationship.

At least Tifa and Tina were two talented girls who had been born with exceptionally abundant mana. That was also the reason why Rossweisse let Tifa and Tina endlessly cast their magic spells around them. For some reason, fire magic and defensive magic began to appear from where Tifa and Tina were currently.

It had been almost hundreds of times since Tifa and Tina had performed their magic chants to test the limits of their mana. But after half an hour of non-stop magic chanting, the two sisters did not feel the slightest bit of tiredness.

This was one of the reasons why Rossweisse felt immense boredom when training two talented women like Tifa and Tina. Even so, Tifa and Tina's level of understanding of magic was one of the best and was even on par with Elize.

"Sigh... That's enough, you two. Master thinks we should stop our training for today. You can go back and clean yourselves up now."

Both Tifa's and Tina's gazes turned towards each other before they finally showed expressions of disbelief. For the first time, Rossweisse decided to stop the training she had given her disciples much earlier than usual. Even so, both Tifa and Tina decided to nod before finally walking away from Rossweisse's sight.

"Today, Master looks strange and not like her usual self. She should have stopped our training after dinner time. But now Master..."

"I thought it was because of our master? Because Master wasn't by Master's side, she ended up feeling very lonely and decided to stop our training earlier than usual."

Unfortunately, there was no correct answer that Tifa and Tina could give regarding the reason why Rossweisse decided to stop training her disciples earlier than the specified time. Because Rossweisse had decided to let her disciples return earlier than usual, both Tifa and Tina happily roamed around the grounds of Elize's residence.

Suddenly, two ferocious auras capable of shaking the entire barrier within Elize's territory made Tifa and Tina become alert. At the same time, Lucien and Elize, who had previously been inside the ice wall, began to walk out from within it.

Chapter 126: Behind Their Backs

"Master and Lady Elize... They seem to have become stronger again... I'm becoming much more curious about what method the master has used to increase the cultivation of his partners."

Pondering for a few moments, Tina's gaze returned to her older sister's figure. A large part of Tina realized that the action her master had taken to increase the strength of his partners was by having sex.

Since the first time Tina walked into the private room of her master, she had been fully aware of how Elize and Athena could improve their cultivation by having sex with Lucien. Therefore, Tina did not completely show her confused face, which was much different from what Tifa had shown at this time.

Even though Tina's age is younger than Tifa's, she has extensive knowledge when it comes to sex. Even so, this was Tifa and Tina's first experience of witnessing how a man had sex with his woman.

A girl is a girl in the end. Even if Tina had the knowledge of adults in having sex, she had absolutely no experience whatsoever with being in bed.

For that reason, Tina once again decided to let out a sigh after witnessing the development of her master's power. After having sex with Elize, Lucien's current strength had completely broken through and reached the peak of the Dragon King stage.

Even Lucien's knowledge of the Ice Element had reached the level of Dragon Overlord stage experts. Therefore, Lucien was currently completely unable to hold back his happy face after witnessing how Elize had made an incredibly big breakthrough in terms of the Ice Element.

Now was the time when Lucien had strength equal to Dragon Emperor stage experts. Although Lucien really believed that he had to face Dragon Overlord stage dragons. But as a man who did not have any experience in fighting, Lucien could only ignore the useless thoughts that were now surging in his head.

Ultimately, fighting against Dragon Overlord stage dragons was no different from bringing death to Lucien's current self. Life is something that is very necessary for a human like Lucien. Therefore, Lucien couldn't hold back his relieved expression at all after witnessing the great development of his strength, which had increased several times.

The expression that Elize showed at this time couldn't contain her amazed face at all. After more than two weeks, Elize had now completely succeeded in making a small breakthrough in every magical ability that she had mastered.

It's just that a slightly dissatisfied expression appeared on Elize's face. Even Elize didn't feel satisfied at all after she finished having sex with Lucien. However, the two couples only had sex for more than an hour.

Usually, both Elize and Lucien would have sex for more than half a day. But now Lucien decided to stop their hour-long sex. For this reason, it is not surprising that Elize feels an enormous sense of dissatisfaction when she witnesses how her partner refuses to continue their sexual relationship.

Bringing his face closer to Elize's ear, Lucien decided to give a little hope to his cute girlfriend who was now acting jealous. He said, "Don't worry, Lize. Tonight I will let you visit my room. Therefore, you should quickly prepare and then go straight to visit my room~."

Unexpectedly, Elize's gaze began to flicker several times before she finally couldn't hold back her embarrassed face. At first, Elize thought that her lover didn't want to continue their sexual relationship, but what she thought was. On the other hand, her lover is a wise man and will always pamper his lovers.

"So this is one of the functions of the Velvet Prostitute Physique? It can even increase the strength of that foolish disciple of mine. Although that is an interesting thing..." There was no information that Rossweisse could understand about the actual use of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. In the end, Rossweisse was a human who did not have complete worship towards the figure of God King Velvet.

Even if God King Velvet had the origin of the Human race's bloodline, the humans would not consider God King Velvet to be their god at all. Among all living beings in the entire world, only the Dragon race regards God King Velvet as their god.

In history books, it has been written that God King Velvet is a god who created the Dragon Realm and also a god who gave a large area of the Dragon Realm to the beings of the Dragon race. In the past, the Dragon race received massive discrimination from every living being throughout the world and was considered a huge threat. But after the appearance of God King Velvet, who gave a large territory to the Dragon race, they began to worship God King Velvet as their god.

That was one of the reasons why Lilith admired the figure of God King Velvet as the creator of the Dragon Realm. Unfortunately, every citizen of the Dragon Realm had completely forgotten the kindness that God King Velvet had given to the citizens of the Dragon Realm. Therefore, Lilith felt an immense feeling of disgust when she remembered how the inhabitants of the Dragon Realm had absolutely no worship towards the figure of God King Velvet.

No one knew who exactly God King Velvet was, who had created an entire region of the Dragon Realm. Even the citizens of the Dragon Realm did not consider God King Velvet to be their savior at all. In the end, from the perspective of the citizens of the Dragon Realm, they viewed God King Velvet as no different from a lowly human.

Time endlessly passed, and now it was the time when Lucien and the others had finished their dinner. At first, Rossweisse decided to come to visit Lucien in his room. But unfortunately, Lucien completely ignored Rossweisse, who wanted to talk to him alone.

Elize's presence in Lucien's room was one of the reasons why Lucien decided not to let his master walk into his room. Likewise, Elize couldn't hold back her jealous face at all. Luckily, Lucien decided not to let Rossweisse walk into his room even if she was their master.

Even though Elize respects Rossweisse as her only master and adoptive mother, Elize will not let Rossweisse succeed in getting close to Lucien, whom she considers her man. A master is a master. That was what Elize had been thinking about her master for two weeks.

Throughout time, Elize realized that her master had romantic feelings for Lucien. There was even a time when Elize witnessed how her master carried Lucien to sleep on her thigh. That alone is enough to show that Rossweisse has feelings for Lucien.

Silence began to fall in the hallway in front of Lucien's room. A dissatisfied look appeared on Rossweisse's face. Even though Rossweisse had tried her best several times to get close to Lucien, she didn't have any chance to make Lucien her man.

Chapter 127: Little Mount

At the same time, in Tifa and Tina's room, the faces of the two sisters began to show signs of worry. As Lucien's two personal maids who lived next to their master's room, both Tifa and Tina were fully aware of Rossweisse's real plan to visit Lucien's room.

Until now, Rossweisse had shown no intention of giving up on trying to snatch Lucien's feelings away from her disciple. Even though Rossweisse didn't think Lucien was a man worthy of becoming her partner, she hoped she could make Lucien the strongest man who could stand on equal footing with her.

There was no reason for Rossweisse to love Lucien, who was still a weak boy. There wasn't even a single quality that made Lucien worthy of making Rossweisse his woman. In contrast, Rossweisse and Lucien had their own thoughts towards each other.

For example, Lucien relentlessly tried his best to get away from the advances Rossweisse was trying to make towards him. Deep inside Lucien's heart, he felt an immense sense of wariness towards Rossweisse.

That didn't mean Lucien thought Rossweisse was a nuisance. On the contrary, Lucien considered Rossweisse to be a woman who was extraordinarily strong both in terms of magic and martial arts.

The reason why Lucien was able to improve his understanding of martial arts was because of the teachings Rossweisse had given him. There were also times when Lucien secretly trained his Ice Element until he achieved a breakthrough. However, most of Lucien's improvement in the Ice Element came directly from Elize.

Without Elize, it would have been impossible for Lucien to increase his understanding of the Ice Element beyond the Dragon Emperor stage. For some reason, gasps started to come out of Lucien's and Elize's mouths.

After hearing Rossweisse's footsteps walking away from the front of Lucien's room, both Lucien and Elize began to feel relieved. But still, the two lovers couldn't hold back their frightened expressions as they imagined the anger Rossweisse would show towards them.

Luckily, Elize decided to calm the fear that was now relentlessly surging within Lucien. For that reason, Lucien and Elize were able to resume their intimate relationship, which had been postponed that afternoon.

"Can we continue? Master has already left. If she decides to come back again, it will be troublesome for both of us."

"You're playing with fire too much, Lize. What if Master finds out what the two of us are trying to do? I even believe that Master already knows what a male disciple and a female disciple actually do when they are in the same room."

Looking at the window from inside Lucien's room, a soft sigh once again escaped Elize's mouth. What her lover had said was true. As one of Rossweisse's disciples, Elize considered her master to be a woman who could understand everything around her.

Now her master even intended to snatch her lover away from her. At first, Elize didn't believe her master's intention to steal her lover away from her disciple. But after witnessing the interaction between Rossweisse and her lover, Elize thought of her master as a lion that would devour its prey from a distance.

"I'm sorry, Cien. Because of my selfish desires, we even had to ignore Master... But can we continue?" Elize's face began to show a pleading expression. The two lovers looked at each other for the second time. After that, both Lucien and Elize resumed their intimate relationship, which they had previously postponed.

The passage of time at night was truly the longest for the residents living in Elize's residence. Tifa, Tina, Rossweisse, Elize, and Lucien all had their own activities to do. For that reason, even Tifa and Tina were completely unable to hold back their curious expressions as they once again peeked at the nightly activities between their master and his lover.

Around the green yard in front of Elize's residence, Rossweisse stood with a serious expression while looking at the full moon in the sky. The full moon that night gave Rossweisse a warm feeling. For the first time, Rossweisse considered the Dragon Realm to be a suitable place to witness the rise of the full moon at night.

"Little eagle, I know you are hiding around those trees. You can show yourself if you want."

Among the forest that stretched out before Rossweisse stood the figure of a little girl dressed like a cute girl. The girl's purple hair endlessly reflected the light of the full moon, which continued to shine on every corner of the forest. At the same time, the girl's purple eyes began to show a strange look towards Rossweisse.

A woman with pure white hair like Rossweisse was someone Liz feared very much. From Liz's point of view as Elize's personal mount, she had witnessed several times how her master's master trained her master herself.

Those were sad days filled with despair for a young woman like Elize. Even now, Elize had to once again undergo training under the guidance of her master. For that reason, Liz did not dare to reveal her presence at all while a terrifying woman like Rossweisse was staying at Elize's residence.

Among all the living beings in the world, Rossweisse was the second person who could instill fear in Liz. The first person who could give Liz nightmares was her own master. Since Liz was first discovered and raised by Elize, she had been subjected to various forms of torture several times while also obeying Elize's every inhumane wish.

Allowing herself to become a suitable target for casting magic spells was the most inhumane thing Elize had ever done in the past. One of the victims who received the most bullying from Elize in the past was Liz. That was also the reason why Liz didn't show any expression at all when Elize created an ice mountain of an unreasonable size right in front of her.

In reality, Liz herself had given up on her master's habit of using her as a target to cast magic spells. Since then, Liz's resistance to the Ice Element had increased several times beyond that of the average Ice Element magician throughout the world.

But Liz could still feel an incredibly piercing coldness every time she received an attack from Elize's Ice Element. Even though Elize was as bad a master for a mount as Liz believed, she was the only woman who accepted Liz for who she was.

Since Liz was first born into the world, she had never once received good treatment from her own species. But Elize's appearance in saving Liz from her species was enough for Liz to accept Elize as her master. Therefore, Liz had absolutely no problem with her master's intention to use her as a test tool for casting the abilities of her Ice Element.

Chapter 128: Power System

"Grandmaster, I, Liz, apologize for daring to spy on Grandmaster before. I truly regret my actions!"

After staring for a few moments, no answer came out of Rossweisse's mouth in response to what Liz was currently trying to do behind her back. In the end, Liz was Elize's pet who had remained very loyal in accompanying her master to this day.

One of Rossweisse's hands began to wave in front of Liz. At first, Liz refused to walk closer to Rossweisse, but she didn't dare to reject her Grandmaster's wishes.

Likewise, Rossweisse didn't care at all about the frightened expression Liz was currently showing towards her. Even if Liz thought Rossweisse was a terrible woman, she had no intention of rejecting every thought that was now running through Liz's head about her.

For a woman like Rossweisse, she admitted that she was a stubborn and arrogant woman. But to Rossweisse, her stubborn and arrogant nature was the result of her hard work over thousands of years of living in this world.

Occasionally doing the things she wanted freely was something Rossweisse had longed for for a long time. Moreover, Rossweisse had now completely succeeded in freeing herself from the duties the Human Emperor had given her. For that reason, Rossweisse felt an extraordinary sense of happiness after successfully leaving her guard post.

It was something Rossweisse could only imagine in the past. After all, trying to escape from the task the Human Emperor had given her was no different from defying the Human Emperor's orders.

But for now, Rossweisse had other duties to carry out in guiding Lucien and her three other female disciples. Until now, Rossweisse would do her best to train her four disciples until they had the strength to defeat enemies far stronger than themselves.

Likewise, Liz wanted to be trained directly by Rossweisse for the sake of Elize's and Lucien's future. As Elize's mount, Rossweisse hoped that Liz could make a great contribution to the future of her beloved disciple.

"Um... Is there something you want to tell me, Grandmaster?"

"You're a weak animal. Hey, Liz, do you remember your first meeting with your master?" Rossweisse's gaze began to show her softer side. In fact, this was the first time Rossweisse had shown her attitude as an adult woman in front of Liz. For now, Rossweisse had her own thoughts about guiding Liz in her future training.

Liz was an eagle who loved being lazy. It was a miracle for a lazy eagle like Liz to possess strength equivalent to the Dragon King stage. Therefore, Rossweisse considered Liz to be one of the most talented individuals she had met to date.

If Liz hadn’t been lazy for decades, she would have had strength equal to or even greater than Elize’s. That was something Rossweisse had thought about in the past regarding Liz’s great potential.

Maybe if Liz had trained ever since she first met Elize, she would have been able to relieve every burden Elize had borne while guarding the borders of the Dragonia Kingdom. But it was all just a delusion from Rossweisse’s point of view.

In the end, the little girl was a weak eagle and had her own way of dealing with enemies who were much stronger than herself in the past. But Liz had no thoughts of training to become much stronger than anyone else. On the contrary, Liz only wanted to stay by Elize’s side and live a comfortable and peaceful life.

"I still remember. I will never forget the kindness my master showed me after taking me away from that terrible place. Likewise, Grandmaster. I truly respect you for deciding to become Miss Elize’s personal teacher."

Many incidents happened to Liz when she was young. Almost all of Liz’s life in the past was filled with violence and bloodshed. In the hometown where Liz lived, every eagle had the idea of eating one another.

Those who were weak became food for those who were strong. Because Liz was the weakest among the other young eagles, she received severe criticism from various opposing parties, forcing her to flee from the countless eagles chasing her.

At that moment, Liz had completely given up on living in this world and wanted to end her life immediately. Unfortunately, Elize’s appearance in her dragon form came as a great surprise to the eagles living there. For that reason, Liz completely managed to survive the pursuit of every eagle that tried to execute her.

"So do you know that your master has become very disappointed with the person you are now? You are weak. Even though you’re talented, you’re an eagle who likes to laze around and has no desire to become strong. If you continue being like that, you will only be abandoned by your master sooner or later."

Unfortunately, silence settled over Liz for some time before she finally showed a half-doubtful expression. The trauma that had long plagued Liz’s heart made her unable to hide her guilty expression. At the same time, because of the great talent within Liz’s body, she felt extremely hesitant about training to increase her strength.

A large part of Liz didn’t want to surpass her master’s power. It’s just that Liz’s strength had now reached the Dragon King stage. Even though she could only be considered a 4th-star beast, it was something Liz had managed to achieve after staying by Elize’s side for three decades.

The strength of beasts could be classified from 1st-star beasts to 9th-star beasts. The nine-star ranks represented the main forces of the beasts living within the Spirit Continent. But there were also a large number of demi-humans who were on a different level from beasts.

Most demi-humans considered their power system to be the Spirit Realm. It was a power system that focused solely on nurturing one's soul. Therefore, even Tifa's and Tina's families followed the power system of the demi-humans, whom they considered to be the main force of the Spirit Continent.

The Human Race has a power system called the Warrior Realm. Meanwhile, dragons have a power system called the Dragon Realm. Although, in the end, every race throughout the world has its own path that it can achieve.

The Demon race, the Vampire race, and various other evil races shared the same power system as the Demon race. Both the Vampire race, the Ogre race, and various other evil races followed a caste system called the nine layers of the Demon Realm.

Young Demon, True Demon, High Demon, Demon Lord, Demon King, Demon Emperor, Demon Origin, Demon Saint, and Demon God. Those were the nine major realms of power on the Demon Continent. Most living beings on the Demon Continent who were born from the bloodline of an expert above the Demon Emperor level possessed a high caste in the eyes of all living beings living on the Demon Continent.

Chapter 129: Caste System

Although the nine major levels of the Demon Continent could be considered a system of power, they also served as the caste levels in the eyes of all living beings on the Demon Continent. Those of low caste would be erased directly from the Demon Continent itself.

Among all the living beings living on the Demon Continent, the Imp race was the only inferior race in the eyes of all living beings living there. However, there had never been any history of the Imp race possessing either a high-level caste or a middle-level caste on the Demon Continent.

Three of the races with the highest caste on the Demon Continent were the Vampire race, the Undead race, and the Demon race itself. But the three races did not have a harmonious relationship at all, unlike those on the Life Continent and the Spirit Continent.

It's just that the races leading the Demon Continent were none other than the Vampire race and the Undead race. Currently, the Demon race was the weakest race on the Demon Continent. After all, the glory of the Demon race had completely come to an end after the war that lasted for hundreds of thousands of years.

There was no longer such a thing as the Demon race's dominance in the eyes of all living beings throughout the world. The arrogant and disgusting attitude of the Demon race was one of the reasons why its dominance had been destroyed in the eyes of all living beings throughout the world. Although there was still a small portion of the Demon race that managed to survive after the war that lasted for hundreds of thousands of years.

The demons who survived were those who had lived in the Demon Empire, which had now been destroyed for hundreds of thousands of years. Even though the surviving demons possessed pure demon bloodlines, they were all weak demons who simply were not worth fighting over for either the vampires or the undead.

Every ten years, the position of Demon Emperor would be replaced by a member of either the Undead race or the Vampire race. Only the strongest could become the leader of all living beings on the Demon Continent. Therefore, weak beings like the Demon race were only regarded as labour for the two superior races.

In the end, the Demon race was still one of the strongest races among the seven major races throughout the world. But with the Demon race's population being so small, they had no chance of dominating the leadership of the Demon Continent. For that reason, it was not strange that the Vampire race and the Undead race could suppress the position of the Demon race on the Demon Continent at any time.

The strongest beings of the Demon race were only between the Demon Emperor stage and the Demon Origin stage. For some reason, every living being of the Demon race decided to submit to the orders of both the Vampire race and the Undead race.

All of this was also because the population of the Demon race was only around tens of millions. Most of the Demon race's population consisted of women. Among the men of the Demon race, the majority had been completely used as war troops by the Vampire race and the Undead race.

It was not strange that the men of the Demon race numbered only around hundreds of thousands. In the end, the women living in Demon City were unable to find partners for the rest of their lives. Therefore, it was not strange that the Vampire race and the Undead race decided to use the men of the Demon race as their war troops.

Allowing the men of the Demon race to live together with the women of the Demon race was no different from bringing destruction upon all living beings living within the Demon Continent. If it were not for the Demon race's population being only around tens of millions, they would not have been defeated by the two races known as the Vampire race and the Undead race.

"I still have to think about it first. I still can't forget the trauma I experienced in the past. I'm afraid that when I become strong..."

A pat on the head could be felt on top of Liz's head. Staring at Rossweisse, who was now showing her a gentle smile, Liz couldn't hold back the sadness on her face after remembering the time when she had been tortured by her fellow species.

The thing Liz feared most now was training to become stronger than anyone else. Most of the fear Liz felt now came directly from her fellow species. Therefore, Liz absolutely did not want to train to become stronger than anyone else.

Living an inconspicuous life was one of Liz's goals for continuing to live in this world. But Liz also realised her own weakness when she fought against Lucien before. At first, Liz underestimated Lucien as a weak man, but she couldn't hold back her expression of disbelief after witnessing Lucien's true strength.

The development of Lucien's power made Liz unable to completely control the jealousy that was endlessly surging within her heart. As Elize's personal mount, Liz considered her master to be the only family she could trust for the rest of her life.

After her master found a lover to accompany her, Liz noticed a change in her master's attitude that was completely different from how she had been in the past. Liz even thought of her master as a foolish woman who had been manipulated by a man like Lucien because of love.

"Try to forget the times when you suffered for so long. You are now my disciple's personal mount. You should at least make your master proud that you can become a good and disciplined beast."

"I..."

In fact, a small part of Liz truly wanted to train to become stronger in order to protect Elize. But deep inside, Liz was afraid that she would make Elize feel immense jealousy towards the growth of her strength.

"Are you worried that your master will feel jealous of your growth? Don't forget that she currently has a man whom she can rely on at any time. Moreover, that man will always accompany your master until she can improve her own strength."

There was no expression on Liz's face other than doubt. Every word Rossweisse said was true in Liz's eyes. However, her master's current progress compared to six months ago was like heaven and earth.

Liz also knew that Lucien was one of the reasons why her master could improve her cultivation much faster than the average living being. After witnessing how her master managed to break through to the Dragon Emperor stage, Liz thought that she had become a useless mount in Elize's eyes.

But Elize had never once thought of Liz as a useless mount. On the contrary, Elize considered Liz to be one of her family members who had accompanied her since she was young.

Back when Elize trained alone under Rossweisse's guidance, Liz was the only being who always stayed by Elize's side. In fact, the relationship between Elize and Liz was more like that of sisters.

Chapter 130: Liz's Determination

Tears involuntarily began to flow from Liz's two beautiful eyes. Every memory that Liz had shared with Elize began to appear in her mind. Both Elize and Liz had the same fate and were both born without love from their parents.

Elize's past was much darker than Athena and the others could imagine. Until now, Elize had never been able to forget her past as a dragon who was considered a strange monster in the eyes of every member of the Darmica family.

The Darmica family was one of the main families in the Flame Empire. Even the Dragon Emperor had to be polite when meeting the leader of the Darmica family. Therefore, the relationship between Elize and the members of the Darmica family was no different from fire and water, which could never be reconciled.

Rossweisse and Liz were the only ones Elize considered her family to this day. Even though Elize now had a lover who would always accompany her forever, she still hoped that she would not disturb the life of her lover, who had an unlimited future.

"Um... I beg you to help me just this once, Grandmaster. I promise that I will not disappoint my young lady."

"Are you truly confident in becoming stronger under my guidance? Liz, tell me, do you want to become stronger for your master or for yourself?"

There was no doubt in Liz's bright purple eyes. Even the expression she was showing at this moment endlessly reflected her unwavering determination. For the first time, Liz began to take her training seriously in order to increase her strength under Rossweisse.

Even if Liz had never trained under Rossweisse, she never thought about whether she could go further and free herself from her dark past or not. In the end, the trauma from her hometown would forever haunt her until the very end.

Even though she was afraid and worried about the trauma she had experienced in the past, Liz decided to continue moving forward so that she could help her master have a much better future than she had now. It didn't matter whether her master already had a man who could protect her in the future or not; Liz would continue to grow stronger so that she could remain by Elize's side.

"I, Liz, swear to the world that I will forever follow my young lady, Elize, until the end of my days." As if the world had listened to Liz's oath, various light blue spiritual energies began to flow into the depths of Liz's body and into the roots of her soul. It was Liz's oath to remain loyal to Elize until the end of her life.

Nods of satisfaction were endlessly visible from Rossweisse after witnessing the change in attitude shown by the cowardly little eagle she had met in the past. The little eagle, who had once been a coward, had begun to change her attitude and strive to become stronger than anyone else. Several factors caused Liz to want to train and become stronger. The first was to protect Elize, and the second was to compete with Lucien for the position that had once belonged only to Liz whenever she was by Elize's side.

There was no reason for Liz to give up her position as Elize's guardian to Lucien. Moreover, Lucien was a man who had succeeded in winning Elize's heart. That alone was enough for Liz to consider Lucien her rival, who would always compete with her for the position of protector whenever they were by Elize's side.

"Before morning arrives, I want to give you a special gift."

A confused expression began to appear on Liz's face. Although she was confused by the meaning of Rossweisse's words about giving her a special gift, Liz asked, "A special gift? What is that?"

Rossweisse continued her explanation while holding a necklace usually worn by girls, with a lightning symbol engraved on it. It was an artifact specifically meant for those who cultivated the Lightning Element. Therefore, Rossweisse decided to give the necklace to Liz so that she could increase the efficiency of her Lightning Element training.

"This is the Storm Spirit Pendant, one of the artifacts that only your Grandmaster possesses. When your Grandmaster was travelling around the world in her youth, she found this pendant in the western mountains." Pondering for a while, Rossweisse couldn't hold back her sigh. She continued, "But no human dared to take the pendant that was hidden within those mountains. However, your Grandmaster managed to retrieve the artifact from within the mountain and has kept it until this day."

Once again, Liz carefully looked at every detail of the Storm Spirit Pendant. It had to be admitted that the design of the Storm Spirit Pendant was not bad at all. As a girl, Liz was very happy to receive a special artifact from her Grandmaster.

"It can increase the efficiency of your Lightning Element training by 5%. Therefore, I hope you will continue to train both your strength and your cultivation. Don't let me see you slacking off. Do you understand?"

In the end, Liz's happiness didn't last long. After all, Rossweisse was a woman who was very strict with her disciples. If there was a lazy disciple, Rossweisse would not hesitate to punish that disciple until they could never stand up again.

"Liz understands."

After a brief conversation between Rossweisse and Liz, Rossweisse decided to let Liz walk a few steps away from her. Rossweisse's gaze endlessly examined the inside of Liz's body with her spiritual vision.

"Okay. You may go now. By the way, don't forget to wear the heavy clothes that your master once wore all over your body. Because after all, you are now my disciple."

Unfortunately, no answer came out of Liz's mouth in response to every order Rossweisse had given her. A large part of Liz felt an enormous sense of terror towards the training methods Rossweisse used on her disciples. Even now, Liz had been ordered to follow every training method that Rossweisse had once given to Elize and the others.

"Ah... I have to go now! See you later, Grandmaster!"

Liz's sudden disappearance from Rossweisse's presence did not make Rossweisse show an expression of anger or disappointment. Instead, Rossweisse decided to look back at the full moon, which continued to shine endlessly over the green grass surrounding her.

"I will only help you this once, my foolish disciple. I truly hope that the little girl can help you increase the efficiency of your training. However, relying on Lucien alone to increase the intensity of your training will not bring you any significant improvement," Rossweisse muttered slowly. There was only a lazy expression on Rossweisse's face tonight. Even so, Rossweisse couldn't suppress the memory of trying to visit Lucien's private room earlier.
