Reborn as the Dragon King's Son-In-Law

Chapter 91: Liz’s Arrival

"Hena, you cheated. I also want to hug Cien."

As if realizing the jealousy that Elize was showing, I decided to take Elize into my arms as well. This was the happiest moment, being able to hold two beautiful women like Athena and Elize in my embrace.

Both Heilde’s and Ariel’s gazes incessantly stared at the side where a man and two beautiful women were embracing each other. Deep inside their hearts, Heilde and Ariel felt a little jealous when they saw how their brother-in-law hugged Athena and Elize.

But as Athena’s two younger sisters, there was nothing they could envy when they saw how their brother-in-law and older sister embraced each other. However, seeing Elize directly hugging their brother-in-law was enough to make the two women think of Elize as a rival they had to compete against.

Both Elize and Athena’s sisters did not have many friendships like Athena did. Moreover, Athena was the eldest of the three sisters. Therefore, the three sisters could not try to push their older sister away from their brother-in-law.

From the start, the relationship between Lucien and Athena had been completely approved by their mother. Because Lilith was the reason why Lucien and Athena were able to be together, Ariel, Heilde, and Shelia thought that Lucien and Athena had officially become husband and wife.

It was just that Elize had now completely received full recognition from Lilith to become Lucien’s second lover. That alone was enough for the three sisters to think of Elize as their rival whom they had to get rid of. But Elize was by no means an ordinary woman. Therefore, there was nothing the three sisters could do to remove Elize from their brother-in-law’s side.

Suddenly, Heilde’s and Ariel’s gazes unconsciously met each other. For the first time, a dangerous glint appeared in both Heilde’s and Ariel’s pupils. It was like female dragons initiating the beginning of their dispute.

But the two sisters had absolutely no idea what was really going on deep inside their hearts. From Heilde’s and Ariel’s point of view, they considered their brother-in-law to be their sister's man. However, there was not a single chance for the two women to make their brother-in-law their sole possession.

Without realizing it, the sound of sighing could be heard coming from Heilde's and Ariel's mouths. The two women couldn't recognize the hostility they had previously shown. Instead, both Heilde and Ariel only considered themselves side characters who could not stand by their brother-in-law's side.

Witnessing the closeness between their brother-in-law and Athena and Elize was enough to make the two sisters feel extremely jealous. Luckily, Ariel's thoughts at this time were not completely consumed by jealousy. As a woman reborn from the modern world, Ariel had far better self-awareness than the average living being throughout the world.

A memory of Ariel dying in the past due to an illness struck her mind. It was a memory that Ariel had long forgotten since she was first born into this world. For some reason, Ariel's gaze couldn't help but return to the figure of her brother-in-law.

'This brother-in-law... Is he very interested in every work I make? I only heard from Sister Heilde that our brother-in-law really likes reading comics. Is there a possibility that he and I come from the same world?' Question after question endlessly flooded Ariel's mind. Every time Ariel thought about the possibilities that might happen in the future, she couldn't help but get a headache when she remembered her past life.

"Um... Master, Madams, what exactly is that in the distance?"

The sound of thunder rumbling non-stop could be heard from several miles away. A woman's voice reached the ears of Elize and the others. For some reason, I was involuntarily reminded of the presence of an eagle that was born with an extremely powerful Lightning Element trait.

"That's Liz? Since when did your mount wake up from hibernation? Didn't she just begin hibernating within the last two years?"

No answer could come out of Elize's mouth as she listened to every question Athena gave her. The gaze Elize showed at this moment reflected her sharp expression. Without paying attention to the situation in the sky, Elize, without hesitation, immediately displayed her extraordinary strength before Liz could fly in front of her.

"This little girl... It seems I have to teach her a little lesson. Ice Element..."

In a matter of seconds, everything in the sky changed and formed into an iceberg thousands of meters tall. It was a mountain that could touch the edge of the outer layer of the sky. Even so, Liz's figure seemed to be completely submerged within the interior of the huge iceberg.

Freeze!—

"Lize, you are too much..." Those were the only words Athena could say when she witnessed how her best friend gave several punishments to her mount. As a woman, Athena felt sad when she witnessed how Elize's mount received such terrible punishment from her master.

The expression I was showing right now was completely blank. This was absolutely not something I could interfere with in order to help Liz's situation. On the contrary, I was endlessly watching the scene where Elize was now melting the iceberg with the power of her Fire Element.

"Master... please forgive... forgive me... Your mount is not a useful animal at all..." Even after Liz received an attack from her master's Ice Element, she could still open her mouth in response to the attitude Elize had shown toward her. Liz couldn't be angry about the treatment her master had given her.

As time passed, the giant iceberg that had previously reached high into the sky completely disappeared from its place. The figure of Liz, who had previously been in her true form, began to enter a state where she transformed into a little girl. For the first time, I saw Liz's human form as a little girl.

Two purple feathers that looked like crowns could be seen on both sides of Liz's head. Liz's current appearance was no different from that of a 13-year-old little girl. But as a monster of the 4th-star rank, Liz possessed strength equivalent to that of Dragon King-stage experts.

"Are you okay? Your master was too excessive in punishing you. I hope you don't mind the actions your master showed earlier."

There were no words that could come out of Liz's mouth other than a helpless expression. The strength demonstrated by Elize earlier had become much greater than before. As Elize's mount, Liz had received several attacks from Elize in the past.

Only Liz could be Elize's partner in one-on-one combat. After all, the job of a mount was to assist their master in doing what she wanted.

There was no reason for Liz to refuse any order Elize had given her in the past. From Liz's point of view, Elize's strength was the greatest of her generation, just as Elize herself believed.

Chapter 92: Rossweisse

"Please don’t worry about me. My master has had that kind of attitude towards an eagle like me from the start. She is not a gentlewoman who will always be kind to her mount. Of course, that doesn’t include him..." Unexpectedly, Liz’s gaze immediately shifted to Lucien’s figure, who was now showing an indifferent expression. From the start, Liz knew that her master truly loved Lucien as a man and not as a disciple. However, Lucien was the only one who received the gentle attitude that her master showed.

Usually, Elize would always act cold in front of other people, just as she did towards Liz. Moreover, Liz’s status by Elize’s side was that of a mount who would always give her master a ride. But after Elize had been gone for a long time, Liz felt disgusted when she recalled how her master had changed into a gentle woman.

One of the reasons why Liz decided to leave Elize’s territory without permission was because of a major problem that had occurred two days earlier. Initially, Elize wanted to return to her territory to check on the various situations occurring there. However, due to the presence of troops from the Vermillion family outside the borders, Elize decided to step in and deal with the oppression shown by the Vermillion family troops towards the troops of the Dragonia Kingdom.

Luckily, the appearance of Lucien and the others slightly eased Elize’s burden in facing the three elders of the Vermillion family. For that reason, Elize could save her strength when facing any enemies that might appear in the future.

"Hmph. Lucien is my man. You shouldn’t compare yourself to him. And what’s more, Lucien is my only and most valuable disciple~."

A small snort came out of Liz’s mouth. Listening to every confession that came out of her master’s mouth regarding the figure of her only disciple made Liz unable to hold back her lazy expression. For some reason, this was the first time Liz had witnessed the obsessive nature of her master when she was with her only disciple.

"Ck. Sorry for disturbing your happy time. But there is one important piece of news that I have to convey to Master."

"Important news? Who would dare disturb my important time because of someone else’s problem?"

A memory of Liz previously receiving a message from an unknown man came back to her mind. Since the time Liz was a little eagle, she had accompanied Elize wherever and whenever she traveled. There was even a time when Liz met Elize’s only master when she was still young.

"It’s news about your master... One of her disciples said that your master is preparing to visit you today."

When Elize listened to the explanation Liz gave her, she couldn't open her mouth at all in response to Liz's words. Instead of remaining calm after hearing the information Liz had given her, Elize continuously showed a face of disbelief as she recalled how her master had decided to come and visit her.

It was impossible for Elize's master to visit her disciple because of one small problem. As a disciple who had trained under the guidance of an incredibly powerful woman, Elize couldn't maintain her calm expression even if she was a Dragon Emperor-stage dragon.

For the first time, Elize's master had decided to visit her disciple in person. In Elize's entire life, this was the first time her master had decided to come and visit her personally. Even so, Elize couldn't contain her feelings of happiness when she remembered the figure of her master.

"Master Rossweisse? Will she come to visit me soon? This... this is so unbelievable... My master... She said that she would come soon and decided to visit me right now."

Neither Athena nor the other women knew how they should respond to Elize's words regarding the arrival of her master. From the start, Elize had been one of the direct disciples of that incredibly powerful human woman. Therefore, every woman in that place did not have the right to interfere in Elize's personal affairs.

"Cien! You will accompany me to meet my master. I'm sure she will be happy when she sees her disciple's future lover."

The expression I was showing right now was no different from that of a man trying to hold back his shock when witnessing the awkward expression of a woman who always acted indifferent. This was the rarest opportunity for me to witness Elize's expression, which had now changed into a worried one. Whenever Elize and I were together, she would always act like a mature woman.

But Elize's current appearance was no different from that of a girl trying to act cute in front of the master who had guided her until now. Therefore, as Elize's man, I was expected to accompany her when she met her master.

The duty of a lover was to meet the person who had guided Elize so that she could become the strong woman she was today. For me, as a human, I felt happy that I could meet Elize's master, who was also a human.

"Of course... I am also your disciple. Maybe it would be better if I could be with you and meet your master. But Hena and the others will come with us as well, right?"

Elize's gaze returned to the side where Athena, Heilde, Ariel, Tifa, and Tina were standing. For some reason, an involuntary sigh came out of Elize's mouth. A memory of Elize and her master spending time together in the past came flooding back to her mind.

Elize’s master was a woman who truly liked people who were born with extraordinary talents. Moreover, every woman in that place possessed talents far above the average of living beings in general. For that reason, Elize was willing to let the five women come and meet her master.

"Okay. They are not ordinary women either. Their talents are very great. I’m sure Master Rossweisse will be very happy about the presence of the five of you. Don’t worry."

"So we’re all going to meet your master? I’m really curious to see what Lize’s master looks like when we meet her."

A click of the tongue came out of Elize’s mouth. A dangerous glint involuntarily appeared in Elize’s pupils. She said, "I remind you not to behave badly when you meet her. She is very scary when she is in a bad mood."

Almost every woman in that place couldn’t catch her breath when they heard the warning Elize gave them. For a great expert like Elize to be wary of the personality her master displayed, Elize’s master was absolutely not a woman they could speak to casually.

This was what Athena and the others understood when they saw the change in Elize’s expression to one of worry. With Elize showing both a frightened expression and a happy expression, it was impossible for anyone in that place not to notice the attitude of Elize’s master, who was a woman strict in educating each of her disciples.

"Hm... You all talk too much. You too, Lize. We all know that being polite in front of a guest is the duty of noble families. Therefore, the six of us will not act carelessly even when we meet your master’s gaze."

Chapter 93: A Trespasser

"Because Cien has said so... I understand. Then you can come with us back to my territory while we wait for my master to arrive."

As time passed, Elize, Athena, the others, and I began to move away from the border region between the Dragonia Kingdom and the Vermillion family. There was no reason for us to guard the border between the two regions after the problems that had occurred previously.

The previous battle between the three elders of the Vermillion family and me was enough to prevent the enemy from carrying out any attacks on the territory of the Dragonia Kingdom. Therefore, Athena and the others decided to leave the border territory of the Dragonia Kingdom and follow Elize back to her territory.

At the bottom of the floating continent of the Dragon Realm, the figure of a woman with pure white-gray hair could be seen floating in the sky while riding a Wyvern. The woman's two feet were standing on the Wyvern's body, while the Wyvern's face showed a helpless expression.

"Hmph. You people never let anyone enter your territory. I just want to meet my disciple, but you're trying to block my way from visiting her? You're really brave, you disgusting lizards." The woman's cold voice gave a sense of intimidation to every dragon troop hovering in the sky. From the dragons' perspective, they felt their instincts endlessly screaming at them to escape from confronting the woman.

There was no reason for that woman to start a riot the moment she set foot in enemy territory. For a human like that woman, standing in the territory of the Dragon race was no different from risking her life at any moment.

"You... How dare you come to this place just to cause a riot! Do you know that members of the Human race are strictly prohibited from entering the lands of the Dragon race?"

In the Dragon Realm, certain rules had been established by the Dragon Emperor since the Flame Empire was first formed. Any human from the Life Continent was not allowed to enter the territory of the Dragon Realm without the approval of the Dragon Emperor. The reason why some humans had previously managed to enter the Dragon Realm to watch the fight between Lilith's future son-in-law and the young master of the Vermillion family was because of a direct order from the Dragon Emperor.

Only the Dragon Emperor could give the order allowing humans to enter the territory of the Dragon Realm. However, Lucien's case was different from what the Human race could expect. On the contrary, Lilith was one of the reasons why Lucien was able to enter the Dragon Realm as a human from the Life Continent.

In the entire Dragon Realm, only Lilith could break every rule that had been implemented by the Dragon Emperor since the empire was first formed. Therefore, Lilith and the Dragon Emperor did not have a good relationship with each other.

"That's none of my business at all. I only wanted to set foot in the Dragon Realm to meet a woman named Elize Kurt Damica. Now let me enter your territory, you lizards."

No answer could come out of the mouths of any warriors of the Dragon race. Most of the soldiers had been completely overwhelmed by the gray-haired woman. As a human possessing extraordinary strength, facing the troops guarding the borders of the Dragon Realm was no different from fighting ants.

"Oh? Still don’t want to talk? Fine. Since all of you are so stubborn, I have no choice but to do that..." At first, the woman wanted to continue her sentence about destroying every troop of the Dragon race within the borders. Suddenly, a woman’s voice was heard from above the sky. For some reason, the form of a giant spiritual image of a woman appeared above the firmament of the Dragon Realm.

The figure of Lilith was seen displaying extraordinary pressure toward every troop of the Dragon race guarding the border area of the Dragon Realm. At the same time, every soldier in that place felt an immense sense of fear when faced with Lilith’s pressure.

Every force in the border regions of the Dragon Realm knew Lilith’s true strength. None of the troops of the Dragon race dared to challenge Lilith when she released her extraordinary pressure. Even the gray-haired woman decided to show a polite attitude when dealing with Lilith.

"Stop it, all of you. She is my guest. Miss Rossweisse, forgive me for the attitude those foolish dragons have shown. I will escort you to meet your disciple."

"Mrs. Lilith, please don’t apologize. It was also my fault for forcing my way into your territory."

Both Lilith and Rossweisse were women who pretended to be gentle so that they could speak to each other peacefully. After Lilith allowed Rossweisse to enter the territory of the Dragon Realm, none of the guards dared to stop Rossweisse as they had done before.

As time passed, the figures of Lilith and Rossweisse completely disappeared from the sight of the Dragon race troops. For that reason, every force guarding the border region of the Dragon Realm couldn’t hold back their happy expressions.

For the first time in history, the troops began celebrating with one another after the departure of the two monstrous women. From the perspective of the troops guarding the border region of the Dragon Realm, facing a powerful enemy like Rossweisse was no different from facing death itself.

This was one way for the troops guarding the border areas of the Dragon Realm to survive attacks from enemies possessing extraordinary strength. Lilith’s presence was one of the reasons why the troops felt relieved when they saw how she handled every situation that had occurred previously. However, Lilith was a woman who belonged to the same Dragon race as they did.

"As expected of the Silver Divine Dragon. Just being near her is enough to make us unable to move our bodies. If something like before happens again, we only need to remain silent and wait for a powerful dragon like the Silver Divine Dragon to come and resolve the situation."

"That’s right. Let’s refocus on our guard duties. Don’t let His Majesty panic because of a single enemy who could take our lives at any moment."

None of the soldiers dared to respond to the words spoken by their comrades. It was impossible for any member of the Dragon race not to know about the dispute between Lilith and the Dragon Emperor. For that reason, it was enough for the troops of the Dragon race to consider both parties mortal enemies.

Moreover, the Dragon Emperor’s defeat when he faced Lilith in the past was enough to prove how powerful Lilith was. Since then, no one from the Dragon Emperor’s side had dared to attack the Dragonia Kingdom. Even so, the Vermillion family remained the only crazy family willing to challenge the Dragonia Kingdom.

"Ha ha... Your jokes always make us want to laugh... Junior, please don’t say such horrible things. I’m sure that if His Majesty found out what really happened, we would all be killed without leaving a trace."

Chapter 94: The Sudden Arrival

Half an hour passed after Elize, Athena, the others, and I had reached Elize’s territory. The other women and I were now sitting inside Elize’s wooden house. For some reason, various fresh fruits that had previously been absent from the table began to appear inside the living room.

This was the first time I had witnessed Elize taking the initiative to bring various fruits to the table in the living room. However, during the half year I trained with Elize, she had never once arranged the living room inside her residence so aesthetically.

After witnessing Elize’s attitude towards her master’s arrival, I knew that Elize truly respected her master, much more than when she met Lilith. For me, as a man, the attitude shown by Elize when facing Lilith was no different from that of a little girl staring at a lion.

It was the most exciting sight I had ever witnessed in my entire life. After all, a cold woman like Elize managing to show a panicked expression was the rarest thing I had ever come across.

Even when Elize was fighting against the Dragon Emperor’s guards, she didn’t show any hesitation or fear at all. On the contrary, Elize’s expression when facing the Dragon Emperor’s guards was filled with endless enthusiasm.

But I was also someone who enjoyed great battles as much as Elize did. Because I was Elize's only disciple, I inherited every desire from Elize to face opponents who were much stronger than I was.

Both Elize and I had our own characteristics when facing our opponents. However, I completely ignored Elize's actions when she tried to fight against dozens of Dragon Emperor-stage dragons. From the start, Elize's strength had been among the greatest, even before she fully broke through to the Dragon Emperor stage.

"Do you need help from me? I will help you as your disciple."

"Cien... No. Liz and I are enough to tidy up every speck of dust in the living room. Don't worry. This will only take half a minute, and after that... Of course, everything will be cleaned immediately!"

Fyush!—

The magical power of the Water Element and the magical power of the Fire Element began to collide with each other. The two opposing forces began endlessly cleansing and counteracting one another. After more than fifteen seconds, the magical power of the Wind Element involuntarily swept through Elize's residence.

Liz's two hands were now slightly raised upward as she tried to spread her gravitational power throughout the room in Elize's residence. Even when the incredibly powerful Wind Element magic of Elize struck everything inside her residence, not a single item in the room was damaged because of it.

With Liz's gravitational power preventing every object in her master's residence from falling, she managed to stop the fragile objects in the room from being destroyed. On the other hand, Liz's hair, which had previously been long, clean, and purple, unexpectedly became messy because of Elize's Wind Element.

"Sorry, Liz. But good job on completing your task perfectly."

Liz's current situation was not entirely good. Having experienced the full force of her master's overwhelming magical power, Liz had now completely reached her limits. Even if Liz could manage to move from her place, she couldn't fully move her body after activating the power of Gravity Manipulation.

A being like Liz, who had managed to learn the ability of Gravity Manipulation, was the rarest thing to find in the world. As an eagle that Elize had accidentally picked up in the past, Liz was Elize's only mount with great strength and talent.

"Can that be considered a side effect of activating the power of Gravity Manipulation? It seems that your mount still hasn't fully mastered the power she possesses."

Listening to Athena’s words about Liz’s weaknesses couldn’t stop Elize from sighing. Almost all the time, all Liz did was sleep and hibernate. Therefore, Liz’s mastery of magic was among the lowest compared to living beings in general.

"Hmph. Of course. All this girl does is laze around and never even bothers to try mastering any of her skills. That’s also the reason why I’m so harsh on Liz."

Every explanation given by Elize made sense in Athena’s eyes. As a friend of Elize who had known her for a long time, Athena knew that Liz was a monster who rarely practiced any of her magic.

From the perspective of Liz, who was both a monster and a mount, she considered her master to be the only person who would protect her throughout her life. Therefore, Liz didn’t care at all about her magical abilities, which were far inferior to those of others.

"Ha ha... But there’s no problem for a girl like Liz. No matter what happens, you as her master will always look after her, right?"

For some reason, Elize’s gaze once again shifted toward the figure of her mount, who had now collapsed where she stood. Various memories of Elize and Liz together in the past came flooding back into her mind. But another side of Elize felt disappointed with the lazy attitude Liz had shown after becoming her personal mount.

"No one knows what will happen in the future. Even if I can look after that girl for now, I’m afraid she will lose her life midway because of her weak strength."

At first, both Elize and Athena showed no expression on their faces regarding Liz’s low strength. Suddenly, the sound of clapping came from behind Elize and the others. The figures of Rossweisse and Lilith could be seen walking into the living room with calm expressions.

"Ah... Master! Greetings, Master Rossweisse. I have been waiting for your arrival for a long time!"

A slight grin appeared on Rossweisse’s beautiful and mature face. Rossweisse’s pupils, which resembled the morning mist, endlessly stared at the figures of the women in the room, along with the figure of a man. For some reason, no dragon aura could be felt from within the man’s body.

’Very strange. I clearly witnessed this child activating the true form of the True Dragon race. It was a transformation that could only be achieved by those with the purest blood of the True Dragon race. But this child doesn’t have the blood of a dragon flowing through his veins...’ Various questions began popping up in Rossweisse’s mind. In Rossweisse’s entire life, this was the first time she had witnessed a human possessing a complete transformation like that of the True Dragon race.

Since ancient times, there had not been a single being in the entire world capable of transforming into the form of another species unless they were born with the blood of that species. But the situation Lucien was currently experiencing was very different from what Rossweisse had expected. However, 100% of the blood in Lucien's body belonged purely to the bloodline of the Human race.

Chapter 95: Hidden Desire

"Nice to meet you, my name is Lucien Blackheart. I have heard from my master that you are Master Elize's master." As a disciple of Elize, I had to show a polite attitude when dealing with Elize's master. Even though I was Elize's lover, I had to regard the woman in front of me as my master's master.

Since the beginning, my status as Elize's disciple would never disappear in the eyes of all living beings. Even Rossweisse knew the identity of the human in front of her as the only disciple among her disciple's disciples. Instead of asking about my relationship with her disciple, Rossweisse decided to give a calm reply to my previous introduction.

"So you are Lucien? I am Rossweisse, Elize's master. Thank you for accepting Elize as your master all this time. I am very happy that my stupid disciple can act like a normal living being."

Because Rossweisse was someone who had guided Elize when she was little, she knew every characteristic of Elize in both the past and present. From Rossweisse's point of view, the attitude shown by the current Elize was much calmer than when she had first met her.

There was no reason for Rossweisse not to feel proud of the change in attitude her disciple had shown after taking a disciple like Lucien. Even though the disciple was a man, Rossweisse did not mind it at all, even if Lucien would become Elize's man.

"Master... please don't ask too many questions about things that are not related to your business. Also, Mrs. Lilith, I apologize for ignoring you for a while. Please sit together with your daughters."

"No need. I have to leave right now. My purpose in coming to this place was only to bring Miss Rossweisse to your side. Therefore, I have to leave right now. See you later."

Staring—

Lilith’s gaze unconsciously shifted to where I was currently standing. Before Lilith could completely disappear from Elize’s territory, she cast a gentle gaze at me, who had now returned to where Athena was standing.

Luckily, both Athena and the women in the room were completely unaware of the gaze that Lilith had previously given me. But as Lilith’s son-in-law, I couldn’t help but feel uneasy in my heart when I remembered the gentle gaze Lilith had given me.

’That feeling earlier was very strange. I felt as if I had attracted the attention of an ancient monster. Hopefully, what I’m worried about won’t happen...’

One of Athena’s hands unconsciously gripped one of my wrists very tightly. A slightly annoyed expression appeared on Athena’s face. Even so, Athena didn’t know at all whether the feeling she was experiencing right now was jealousy or not.

Athena’s instincts regarding the attitude shown by her lover moments earlier gave her a bad feeling in her heart. As a woman, Athena realized that the expression shown by her lover was no different from that of a man thinking about other women besides herself and Elize.

This was the first time her lover had thought about a woman other than herself and Elize. But remembering the physical constitution her lover possessed, which made him have to take another woman as his own, Athena managed to regain the composure she had previously lost.

"Hena... that hurts. Did I make you angry?"

"Cien, do you have someone you like? I just want to know."

Without realizing it, a coughing sound came out of my mouth. All the women in the room were fully aware of the panicked attitude I was showing at this time. But still, I was very confused by the question Athena had asked me earlier.

"That’s impossible. You and Lize both know that I don’t have a woman who can attract my attention at the moment. So don’t think too much about it. I was just thinking about something earlier. It was just something meaningless."

That meaningless thing was about Athena’s mother and the three sisters. There was no way I would tell Athena what I thought about Lilith. If I revealed what had previously happened to Athena, I was afraid she would become suspicious of her mother’s attitude in trying to take her man away from her.

But I still thought the gentle gaze given by Lilith earlier was a form of motherly love. However, my status within the Lucifer family was now completely official as Lilith’s son-in-law.

Thinking negatively about the attitude Lilith had previously shown towards me was not polite at all. With the extraordinary power that Lilith possessed, she could kill me anytime and anywhere she wanted.

"Something meaningless... Alright. I believe what you said. Even if you like a woman out there, Lize and I will happily accept your decision. But on one condition: we will evaluate that woman and see whether she is worthy of becoming part of our household or not."

"I understand. I understand. I will leave everything to you. Because no matter what, you are mine~" Ignoring the serious attitude shown by Athena, I immediately took her into my arms without hesitation. For now, Athena and I had begun hugging each other like a married couple.

There was nothing to doubt even if I hugged her in front of more than five women. My relationship with Athena was not a secret at all. Therefore, none of the women dared to open their mouths regarding the attitude I showed in hugging Athena in the guest room.

'Damn... I'm so jealous. Brother-in-law and Sister Athena are such a romantic couple.' Continuous frowns appeared on Heilde's face. Likewise, Ariel couldn't look away from the events unfolding before her. However, both Heilde and Ariel kept their feelings for their brother-in-law hidden.

'If I could take more initiative to stay by my brother-in-law's side, I might be able to become one of my brother-in-law's women...' A sigh involuntarily escaped Ariel's mouth. Ariel shouldn't think anything improper about becoming one of her brother-in-law's women. But a small part of Ariel considered Lucien to be the only perfect man in the entire world.

Even Heilde considered Lucien to be the only man worthy of becoming her husband. From the first time Heilde and Lucien met, she had felt a strange feeling she had never experienced in her entire life. Every man Heilde had met in the past had been male dragons who only cared about their own lives.

Moreover, Heilde and Shelia were two women who had graduated from the main academy of the Flame Empire. Every member of the Lucifer family was required to attend the main academy of the Dragon Realm. Therefore, Heilde, Shelia, and Ariel were three sisters who had been granted special privileges to enter the main academy of the Flame Empire.

Only Athena, among Lilith's daughters, was not granted special rights to enter the main academy of the Flame Kingdom. As the eldest daughter of Lilith and Lucius, Athena bore a great responsibility in inheriting everything from Lucius and Lilith.

For now, Lucien was Athena's partner, and the two of them would rise together as the rulers of the Kingdom of Dragonia. The present era and the era when Athena was first born were two different times. However, when Athena was first born into the world, the conflict between the Dragonia Kingdom and the Flame Empire was much worse than it was now.

Chapter 96: A One-of-a-Kind Human

The thoughts in Tifa and Tina's heads led them to have their own opinions about their master's previous reaction. None of the women in the room were aware of the thoughts in Lucien's head. On the contrary, both Tifa and Tina shared the same thoughts as Heilde and Ariel.

Various wary expressions appeared on Athena's face. It was not only once that Athena had witnessed the looks her two sisters gave her lover. This had happened more than a dozen times since Athena first noticed how her younger sisters stared at her lover like prey they could seize at any time.

Dealing with Shelia's obsession with her lover was enough for Athena to feel extreme fatigue throughout her body. But now, Heilde and Ariel had completely fallen for their brother-in-law's charm. That alone was enough for Athena to think of her three younger sisters as crazy and troublesome sisters.

There was not a single day when Athena could let down her guard while she was in the castle with her lover. Almost every day and every night, Athena's sisters would always greet her lover whenever and wherever he was. Luckily, Lucien was a man who could control his desires even when dealing with Athena's sisters.

Most male dragons in the Dragon Realm, when faced with Athena's sisters, would not be able to hold back their perverted thoughts while looking at them. That was also the reason why Athena's sisters did not like the male dragons in the Dragon Realm at all. Every male dragon who stared at Athena's sisters with lecherous gazes was no different from a dragon that had lost its mind.

But Lucien was a man with a mature nature and always considered Athena's sisters to be his future sisters-in-law. Maybe that was also the reason why Athena felt her love for Lucien was much greater than when she and Lucien first met. But because of their first meeting, Lucien felt that his feelings for Athena were true love.

Even though Lucien was not a virgin, he considered Athena to be the only woman he loved after Elize. Both Athena and Elize were women worthy of becoming Lucien's wives. For that reason, Lucien did not hesitate at all, even when he was alone with Athena and Elize.

"..." The silence that filled the room unconsciously caused Elize to move away from her master after realizing what had happened. Not a single expression could be seen on Rossweisse's face when she witnessed the attitude shown by the women in the living room. On the contrary, thoughts about Lucien being a bastard surrounded by many beautiful women began to creep into Rossweisse's mind.

After seeing how the women in the room reacted to Lucien's attitude, Rossweisse assumed that each of the women had feelings for the man. Moreover, Lucien was the only man in the room.

Every time Lucien and Athena showed affection toward each other, none of the women could calm down or offer their congratulations to the couple. That alone was enough for Rossweisse to assume that the situation in the room had completely turned into a competition over one man.

"To think that my disciple would fight over a man. But he is worth fighting for by those little monsters. That's right... This man is strong and has talent that can challenge the heavens." Even after meeting Lucien only once, Rossweisse realized that Lucien's talent was extraordinary and powerful. As a woman who had lived for thousands of years, Rossweisse had witnessed humans born with incredibly strong talents in the past.

Because the aura emanating from Lucien's body far surpassed that of any talented young man Rossweisse had ever met in the past, she considered Lucien to be the rarest human being in the entire world. For that reason, it was enough for Rossweisse to acknowledge Lucien as the only disciple Elize had.

Successfully taking a human being as extraordinarily talented as Lucien as a disciple was one of the dreams Rossweisse had long wanted to achieve. As a woman who had trained several disciples in the past, Rossweisse felt excitement when she witnessed a human being like Lucien being born into this world.

In Rossweisse's entire life, this was the first time she had witnessed a human being as incredibly strong as Lucien. Lucien's current strength allowed him to fight face to face against experts above the Great Dragon King stage. Therefore, it was impossible for Rossweisse not to consider Lucien's power incredibly formidable.

Since the first time Rossweisse witnessed the battle between Lucien and Charles, she had known that Lucien's strength was like an endless black hole. There was a great deal of hidden power within Lucien's body that he could not control.

Lucien's inhuman form, which he had previously displayed in the arena, had been fully witnessed by Rossweisse with her own eyes. For some reason, that was the moment when Rossweisse considered Lucien to be a unique human among all humans in the entire world.

’I see... I think I should test this kid before returning to the Life Continent. Therefore, I hope that this brat will not disappoint me by failing to display his extraordinary strength.’ The contemplative expression that had previously appeared on Rossweisse’s face returned to a calm one. There was no problem whatsoever in Rossweisse’s eyes with letting her disciple and her lover talk to each other. However, the situation occurring in the room was merely a household matter.

Various helpless expressions appeared on my face. Both Elize and Athena began trying their best to calm the situation occurring among the women. But as a man, I would not interfere further in the problems between Elize, Athena, and the other women.

"Have you finished discussing your personal matters? Let me ask you one thing, Young Master Lucien."

Listening to the request made by Rossweisse suddenly startled me slightly. The look Rossweisse was giving me right now was no different from that of a woman who wanted to conduct various experiments on a rare animal. That was also the reason why I couldn’t hold back my doubtful expression while listening to the request Rossweisse was about to make.

This didn’t mean I was unhappy to accept whatever request Rossweisse would give me. In the end, Rossweisse’s status in Elize’s eyes was that of a master. Because I was a direct disciple of one of Rossweisse’s disciples, I had to act politely in front of the Great Master.

By the way, I wouldn’t ask further about the hidden intentions Rossweisse wanted to discuss with me. On the contrary, I only hoped that this crazy woman wouldn’t do anything outrageous simply because I was a unique human being.

Chapter 97: Absorbing Abilities

"That... As long as it’s not a dangerous request, I’ll gladly grant it."

Unexpectedly, a happy expression appeared on Rossweisse’s face, which had previously shown a cold expression. For some reason, obtaining approval from a special human like Lucien was something Rossweisse had been looking forward to ever since she first met him.

Because that human allowed Rossweisse to do various things she wanted to him, other than taking his life, it was enough for Rossweisse to ask that human to carry out a theory that she had long wanted to realize. For now, this human was the only one who could realize Rossweisse’s theory, which she had long wanted to put into practice.

"Good! First of all, we have to find a large place for the two of us to prove my theory. I have long wanted to test this theory on a human who was born special like you. I hope you will be able to accept it happily."

A slightly doubtful expression began to appear on my face after listening to the word "theory" come out of Rossweisse's mouth. As a man who had endured torture from noble ladies both young and old, I knew that the expression Rossweisse was currently showing me was no different from that of a woman who had discovered her only experimental subject.

But there was no way for me to escape the experiments that Rossweisse wanted to conduct on me. Since the woman in front of me was endlessly emitting an incredibly powerful and intimidating aura, I assumed that she would not let me leave her disciple's territory even if I used all my strength.

Time passed as I walked out of Elize's residence. Elize, Athena, and the other women began following behind Rossweisse. For some reason, Rossweisse's current position was tens of meters away from me.

"What should I do? Do you just want me to remain silent while looking at you?"

"You're an interesting kid. But that's not the main issue. Let me see the form you used when facing thousands of troops from the Vermillion family."

Various complicated thoughts endlessly ran through my mind while listening to Rossweisse's unreasonable request. There was no way for me to activate that imperfect form, which increased my power far beyond any of my other forms. Even so, I decided to let out a sigh while listening to Rossweisse's request.

"But it is not an easy thing to do at all. There is one condition that I must fulfill in order to achieve my imperfect form."

Silence began to settle around Rossweisse. Rossweisse's gaze, which had previously been directed toward the sky above, returned to the figure of the man standing before her. Without talking about unnecessary things, Rossweisse decided to impart a strange skill to the man in front of her.

"No problem. I will teach you an ability that no one else can use. You just need to do whatever I ask." Rossweisse instantly appeared in front of me without making a single sound with her footsteps. On the contrary, I couldn't help but fall into a state of enlightenment as I began learning the ability that Rossweisse had previously given me.

Every time I learned the abilities that Rossweisse gave me, various unfamiliar pieces of knowledge began flooding my mind. It was an ability that could cause the user to lose their life due to a reduction in mana power. But as an abnormal human, I could survive even if my mana reached zero.

Ten seconds passed after I entered my state of enlightenment. My eyes opened again and continuously stared at Rossweisse with a complicated expression. However, the woman in front of me had dared to force me to learn a dangerous skill that could take my life at any moment.

[Ding! You have successfully learned the Absorbing Abilities skill. The ability you are currently learning was created directly by the Queen Witch.]

"The name of this ability is Mana Reversal. I simply named it that way. Although I don't fully understand the true nature of this technique, I think it can have side effects on the user to the point of causing them to run out of mana."

For some reason, an expressionless look began to spread across my face. Remembering the moment when Rossweisse mentioned the name of the Absorbing Abilities skill, which was completely different from its actual name, surprised me a little. Since the system referred to the ability called Mana Reversal as Absorbing Abilities, I assumed that Rossweisse was completely unaware of the true function of this ability.

[The side effects of using Absorbing Abilities can cause the user to lose all of their mana power. This is one of the reasons why those with low amounts of mana can lose their lives when activating Absorbing Abilities. Using the ability while possessing very little mana is no different from committing suicide.]

[Moreover, the system hopes that the host will think twice before using Absorbing Abilities in the future. The current you are merely a weak human. Before "it" arrives, the system hopes that the host will become stronger so that you can maintain your current peaceful life.]

'Wait. Isn't the woman in front of me the creator of Absorbing Abilities? Why does she call it Mana Reversal?'

[Even though she is the creator of this ability, she is completely unaware of the true function of Absorbing Abilities. She is merely its creator and not someone who has ever put it into practice. Since the system names each ability according to its actual function, it would be meaningless for the system to derive the name of the ability from the creator's perspective.]

"I understand..."

"Are you okay? Can we start now? I can't wait to test that strange form of yours and see whether the theory I researched in the past is true or not."

I knew from the beginning that there was no way I could escape from whatever Rossweisse intended to make me do. Therefore, I immediately activated Absorbing Abilities without giving any warning to Rossweisse.

When I activated Absorbing Abilities for a short time, I felt the amount of my mana begin to be absorbed every second the ability remained active. Even my instinctive use of my brain made me unable to resist an overwhelming sense of dizziness.

'What is this... I feel something strange...'

[MP: 101,766/144,766.]

[MP: 91,000... 61,333.]

[Warning! The system has detected that the host's mana is decreasing at an extremely rapid rate. The system hopes that the host can deactivate Absorbing Abilities immediately!]

[Warning... The host's Mana Points have fallen to a critically low level. Activating defense mechanisms... True Form transformation triggered successfully.]

'This feeling again... it feels so cold. But I can still maintain my mind and common sense. At least I can remain conscious even while in this imperfect form...' This was by no means the first time I had managed to maintain my consciousness even when my body was in an unconscious state. For some reason, the function of the Soul-Life Earring continuously supplied mana at a rate of 500 Mana Points per second.

Chapter 98: An Overwhelming Transformation

A dark and colorless aura endlessly surged out from my body. The amount of my mana power, which had previously been zero, began to exert immense pressure on everything within Elize's territory. For some reason, expressions of constant alertness appeared on Elize and Athena's faces.

Letting their lover enter his crazy state was not a good thing for Athena and Elize at all. To be able to wake their lover from that crazy state required at least intimate relations between Athena and Elize. Therefore, Athena and Elize were worried when they witnessed their lover assume his terrifying form.

The power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique endlessly spread throughout Elize's territory. Even the outer part of Elize's territory began to experience negative effects, turning all the creatures there mindless. Since the beginning, the power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique has not only been about having intercourse.

That was also what Athena and Elize had known since they first witnessed the true transformation of their lover. In Athena and Elize's point of view, the true form that Lucien was currently showing was the only power that God King Velvet had inherited from his successor.

"Amazing! The energy flowing out of your body actually increases as time passes. Lucien Blackheart, you are the only human who has interested me so far. Therefore, I hope that you will not disappoint me with the abilities I have given you."

The form of dark and colorless energy that had previously surged throughout my body began to shrink and reveal the true transformation of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. This was the third time I had activated the Velvet Prostitute Physique. For some reason, the form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique that I displayed now had changed to become much more perfect than before.

[Current progress of God's Bloodline: 0.0514%.]

[The process of the host's God's Bloodline has been successfully updated. For now, the host has one small drop of the blood of a God. The more the host purifies the blood of the host as a God, the true form of the host will develop until it can make the host become a true God.]

Every time the system explained the benefits of having God's Bloodline, I endlessly regretted the time when I chose God's Bloodline as my main choice. All the gifts given to me by the system are one way for me to develop and become much stronger than before. But for some reason, the system was one of the reasons why I decided to choose God's Bloodline as my main choice.

As if knowing its master's inner thoughts, the system decided to tell me the number of Affection Points needed for me to obtain the 108 Celestial Omniscient Scriptures. From the beginning, the reason why I tried to collect large amounts of Affection Points was to be able to purchase the 108 Celestial Omniscient Scriptures. Even so, the goal I have to achieve now is by no means an easy one.

At first, I thought that to get the 108 Celestial Omniscient Scriptures, I had to tempt Elize and Athena. But what I expected was wrong. On the contrary, every time I teased Elize and Athena, the amount of Affection Points awarded by the system would decrease by almost half a percent.

That was the time when I thought that the system was an object that would not let its master have an easy way. I also know the system's intention in giving a reduction in Affection Points to the master. However, the original purpose of the system appearing and guiding me was because I was the successor of God King Velvet.

Allowing myself to gain a large amount of Affection Points while flirting with the same woman was no different from making that woman my only possession. Every goal that the system wants to give me is completely under the control of the system.

One of the reasons why I was able to perfect the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique was because of the bloodline of a God. Therefore, the inhuman form I'm currently using has turned out to be much more perfect than when I first activated it.

The battles that took place in the arena of the Flame Empire were enough to provide several benefits, such as an increase in God's Bloodline. Due to my previous self endlessly absorbing the remaining energy of the dragons I had previously killed, I was able to refine the God's Bloodline to become much purer than before.

[To be able to purchase the 108 Celestial Omniscient Scriptures, the host requires at least 72,899 more Affection Points to achieve the host's goal. Good luck, host. The system will support the host's wishes in purchasing all that extraordinary knowledge.]

'Sigh... If you hadn't told me about the price of God's Bloodline during the selection... I would have, without hesitation, chosen the 108 Celestial Omniscient Scriptures as my main choice.'

[Hehe. Sorry, host. But this is all for the development of the host in pursuing the level of strength of every living being throughout the world. This system just doesn't want the host to become weak when the time comes.]

'Again, you are saying things that don't make sense. I'll pretend I don't know what you're telling me. And again...' My eyes started to turn to the side where Rossweisse was currently located. Rossweisse's current position had not moved from her place at all. Even though the power of the energy storm that had previously come out of my body could blow away everything within Elize's territory, for Rossweisse, the power of the energy storm that had previously come out of my body was no different from child's play.

Suddenly, various pains struck my head non-stop. My previously half-conscious mind began to be eroded by a mysterious force. Deep inside my heart, I felt another side deep within me starting to disappear as if something were devouring it.

"Be careful, Master. The current Cien is not the previous Cien. Please don't overdo it when the Master gives him a few blows."

There was no doubtful expression visible on Rossweisse's face other than her calm expression. A small smile appeared on Rossweisse's face. Turning to the side where her disciple was, Rossweisse nodded as if she understood what her disciple meant.

From the first time Rossweisse set foot inside Elize's residence, she knew that the man in front of her was not at all the same man as before. However, the power released by the man in front of her was much different from the first time Rossweisse witnessed the man's power in a live broadcast.

"Don't worry. I won't be harsh towards your lover. In the end, this man is also my son-in-law. You could say that..."

At the same time, the shape of a dark halo could be seen emerging from above Lucien's head. It was a halo that symbolized the figure of a divine being who stood above all. As a potential successor to the God King, Lucien has full rights to surpass every living being throughout the world.

Now, the form that Lucien is currently using is the true form of a God. For Lucien, who is now in his true form, he can defeat enemies with two main layers of his true power.

This was one of the advantages for Lucien after he successfully activated his true form as the Velvet Prostitute Physique. But the current Lucien couldn't maintain his consciousness even when he faced Rossweisse. On the contrary, Lucien's consciousness was endlessly fading every time he looked at Rossweisse's figure.

Chapter 99: True Form

"Cien! Please maintain your awareness! This is an opportunity for you to be able to control your true form!" Elize's voice could be heard from tens of meters away. Both of my previously dark eyes began to regain their brightness. For some reason, expressions of pain and helplessness came over my face again.

With myself now in a semi-conscious state, I could only smile when looking at the figures of Elize and the others. The current me can't control the true power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. Due to that reason, I could only nod before I finally decided to launch a full attack on Rossweisse.

My instincts relentlessly ordered me to attack the figure of the woman in front of me. Even though that woman had power that could cost me my life, I was completely unable to resist my instincts from carrying out a full attack on Rossweisse.

Luckily, Rossweisse could easily dodge every attack that I launched. A crack in the ground was visible beside Rossweisse, and it continued to spread to the end of Elize's territory. For some reason, an amazed expression began to appear on Rossweisse's face.

"Heh~. So this is the power of a human born with a rare talent? No. This isn't someone who could be considered a born talent at all. I think he is more worthy of being called a monster. Geez. Kids nowadays are much scarier than kids in the past." A small laugh began to come out of Rossweisse's mouth. Happy and curious expressions began to well up within Rossweisse. As a human, Rossweisse considered the changes in the man in front of her to be very different from those of living beings throughout the world.

In a matter of one millisecond, I immediately appeared beside Rossweisse and, without hesitation, launched an extraordinary attack on her. The Shadow Killing ability, which I had rarely used before, was now being displayed when facing Rossweisse. For some reason, the smile on Rossweisse's face did not show any sign of surprise at all.

An invisible barrier appeared on all sides around Rossweisse. Every time I tried to strike the barrier created by Rossweisse, I felt my blows being endlessly neutralized without leaving any trace.

Actually, I knew from the start that I couldn't win against Rossweisse. Moreover, my instincts relentlessly screamed at me to do bad things to Rossweisse. But still, the woman in front of me was extraordinarily strong.

One of the reasons why I was very confident in showing the true power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique was because of the presence of Rossweisse. That woman was one of the reasons why I was able to activate the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique without suffering any injuries. But everything I expected didn't go smoothly at all.

Even though I could maintain my consciousness as Lucien, the overwhelming power of the Velvet Prostitute Physique relentlessly tried to take over my consciousness. This was one of the primary instincts that emerged when one activated the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique.

To master the true transformation of the Velvet Prostitute Physique, I had tried very hard several times to master the imperfect transformation. Previously, Elize had told me about mastering the true transformation of the Velvet Prostitute Physique. But after witnessing the inhuman changes, Elize decided to let me slowly adapt to the imperfect transformation.

Because the woman in front of me was Elize's master, I knew that she was by no means a weak woman. Releasing all my power as the Velvet Prostitute Physique was a good choice. Even so, I felt that the power I possessed while in the true form of the Velvet Prostitute Physique had greatly increased compared to when I had previously displayed that form.

Every time Rossweisse tried to block every attack I launched with her barrier, she felt the power of my blows become much stronger as time went by. Everything, including the physical enhancement, truly surprised Rossweisse when she saw how the man in front of her could increase his strength every time he threw a punch.

Rossweisse couldn’t contain her shock when she witnessed the man in front of her shaking her barrier. From the start, it was impossible for anyone in the world to destroy Rossweisse’s barrier. But the man before Rossweisse was a man with peerless talent.

Expressions of disbelief appeared on the faces of Elize and the others. The blow that I launched gave a tremendous shock to every corner of Elize’s territory. Even the ground beneath the feet of Elize and the others began to crack every time I threw that terrifying punch.

"So this is Cien’s strength? He has grown to be very strong. At least Cien’s physique has strength that is almost equivalent to that of Dragon Overlord-stage dragons. But it’s still not enough to defeat my master." An endlessly serious expression appeared on Elize’s face. Even though Elize considered Lucien to be the strongest among people his age, she knew that Lucien was a man whose strength was only at the Dragon King stage.

The current Lucien was no match for Rossweisse at all. Even the power Rossweisse was currently using was only around 20% of her true power. Therefore, Rossweisse didn’t feel worried at all, even if the man in front of her could break her barrier.

Suddenly, a cracking sound was heard throughout Elize’s territory. The various barriers that usually protected Elize’s entire territory began to crack due to the clash between Lucien’s and Rossweisse’s powers. For some reason, Elize decided to strengthen the barrier surrounding her territory to become much stronger than before.

"That’s great... The attack from your punch is more powerful than when you first threw it. Boy, you are very unique~."

Gulp—

Without realizing it, my two legs immediately leaped backward, away from Rossweisse. The sharp and enthusiastic gaze that Rossweisse was giving me right now endlessly gave me a bad feeling in my heart. This was the second time I had felt my instincts screaming at me to run away from a woman other than Lilith.

Lilith was one of the reasons why I decided to withdraw from causing chaos within the Flame Empire. If it weren’t for Lilith, who suddenly came to stop my madness in the arena, I would have immediately lost my life due to the various attacks that the empire would have launched against me.

Luckily, both the empire and the various noble families decided not to interfere in the conflict between the Lucifer family and the Vermillion family. From the start, the attacks I launched against the imperial side were almost entirely directed at the Vermillion family’s forces. Despite that, the losses suffered by the Vermillion family after thousands of their troops were killed had been enough to weaken their foundation for hundreds of years.

"No... I can’t control it anymore. Please... please finish whatever you want to do quickly. I have to stop this madness before it gets much worse!"

"I know. I’ve been doing that from the start anyway."

At first, I was confused by the words Rossweisse said to me. In the end, Rossweisse was a cunning woman who would do anything to achieve her goals just to complete her experiment. For some reason, the dark and colorless aura that had previously surged out of my body began to change into a much darker and more terrifying aura.

"You... what are you— Aghh!!!"

Dragonoid Transformation...

Dragon Transformation...

The changes occurring in my body at this time began to display very unreasonable transformations. Due to that reason, I indirectly started to lose my mind and fell back into my subconscious. However, the transformation I was showing right now was the true form of the True Dragon race.

There were many differences in the transformation I was showing now compared to when I had first displayed the Dragon Transformation. The white scales that had previously covered my dragon form had turned into striking dark scales. In a matter of seconds, everything related to magic began to disappear with just one roar from me.

Discord Server: discord.gg/4yCzqTCUhp

Chapter 100: The Deciding Moment

The roar released by me at this moment was enough to negate all the barriers that had previously protected Elize’s territory. Not only that, my roar managed to reach the ears of Elize and the others. On the contrary, the roar that I let out at this moment managed to reach the ears of every living being within the Dragon Realm.

Within the Flame Empire, the Dragon Emperor, who was currently in a calm state, began to frown when he heard a mysterious and intimidating roar. A small part of the Dragon Emperor recalled the time he witnessed a human transform while that human fought against the young master of the Vermillion family.

Because the Dragon Emperor felt his bloodline as an ancient dragon being heavily suppressed, he couldn’t help but put on a half-wary expression. However, Lilith alone was enough for the Dragon Emperor to feel fear when he fought face to face with her.

Now, the figure of a human who could suppress every bloodline of the Dragon race had appeared in the world. Moreover, this human would become Lilith's future son-in-law. Therefore, the Dragon Emperor was completely unable to suppress his wary expression as he recalled the events that had occurred in the arena.

"Your Majesty, we have completed what you previously instructed us to do. That girl... she will be born soon."

Incessant blinking could be seen in the Dragon Emperor's eyes. Listening to the good news given by his subordinates about the birth of a girl was an event that the Dragon Emperor had been waiting for a long time. For that reason, the Dragon Emperor decided to step down from his throne and let his subordinates lead him into the laboratory.

From the start, the girl who would be born was the result of the merging of the bloodlines of a human and a powerful dragon. However, throughout his life, the Dragon Emperor knew that he couldn't win against Lilith.

"Lilith, oh Lilith. I will show you that you are not the only one who can have a unique human by your side. Just wait a little longer. Once this is all over, you all will no longer be able to stand in my way!" Endless laughter could be heard coming from the Dragon Emperor's mouth. Luckily, the Dragon Emperor's subordinates didn't pay any attention to the strange behavior shown by their master. On the contrary, they relentlessly maintained a calm demeanor as if they didn't care about what was happening.

In another dimension of the Dragon Realm, the figure of Lilith, who had returned to her nest, began to frown. With one wave of her hand, Lucien's figure appeared in the reflection of the giant mirror in front of Lilith.

"Lucien? Why did Miss Rossweisse give such a dangerous ability to my son-in-law? This woman should have known that the ability she gave could instantly drain someone's mana."

Shakes of disbelief could be seen from Lilith. The situation unfolding now was far from ordinary. However, Lilith was the only dragon who knew the true capabilities of the Velvet Prostitute Physique.

From Lilith's perspective as an ancient dragon, allowing the possessor of the Velvet Prostitute Physique to run amok excessively could easily bring destruction to the entire world. Therefore, Lilith continuously showed a helpless expression toward Rossweisse's treatment of her son-in-law.

Various thoughts about whether she should go down personally to stop Lucien's rampage surged through Lilith's mind. However, there was no reason whatsoever for Lilith to intervene while Lucien was displaying his terrifying strength. Rossweisse's presence beside Lucien was enough to put Lilith at ease.

"You have to take responsibility, Rossweisse. If something bad happens to my precious son-in-law, I will never let you go, even if you try to run away to the ends of the world."

The cold voice Lilith displayed at this moment reflected one of the vows she had made in her entire life. Lucien's life was even more important than the lives of every living being throughout the world. In the end, Lucien was the only man born with the Velvet Prostitute Physique, and he had also provided tremendous help to Lilith when she faced the Dragon Emperor.

There is only one person in the whole world who can provide help to Lilith. Almost every obstacle Lilith overcame in the past was purely the result of her own hard work. Since a weak man had unexpectedly done her a favor, Lilith would not hesitate to do everything in her power to protect Lucien's life.

Various roars that could deafen the ears spread endlessly throughout Elize's territory. Even the outer part of Elize's territory suffered such devastating effects that a giant mountain was destroyed. That alone was enough for Rossweisse to conclude that the transformation Lucien was displaying was his greatest one.

"This kid... Even though I only let him touch me without him realizing it. To think that the true function of the Mana Reversal ability could steal abilities from its opponents. I had expected it ever since I first created that ability."

A small grin began to spread across Rossweisse's beautiful face. The theory Rossweisse had wanted to verify all this time was the true ability of Mana Reversal. For some reason, Lucien's presence as Elize's disciple made Rossweisse unable to restrain her desire to let him test the true power of Mana Reversal.

Now, Rossweisse's goal had been fully achieved. There was no hesitation on her face as she confronted Lucien's overwhelming power. On the contrary, her previously calm expression gradually turned into one of arrogance.

"Come and fight me. I want to see what you can do now when you face me."

As if provoked by the challenge Rossweisse had just given him, Lucien's instincts began to emit a dangerous aura that caused the forests surrounding Elize's territory to tremble. Lucien's two dark eyes locked onto Rossweisse's figure.

Both Rossweisse and Lucien were now preparing to unleash their incredibly powerful attacks. Likewise, Lucien was preparing to fly straight toward Rossweisse. The speed he displayed in his dragon form far surpassed any speed he had demonstrated before.

Ultrasonic waves capable of destroying everything in the area began to have a tremendous impact on Rossweisse's defensive barrier. A cracking sound echoed from within the barrier. For some reason, a mysterious smile involuntarily appeared on Rossweisse's face.

"Master’s defensive barrier was broken through? What the hell is Cien? He’s even stronger than I could have ever expected."

For now, there was no expression on Elize’s face other than sheer shock. In Elize’s entire life, this was the first time she had witnessed someone break through her master’s defensive barrier.
