

Reborn: Another Chance to Leave U by Hazel Ramirez

Chapter 131

Chapter 131

Chapter 131 Careful

Hearst forked a piece of fruit and put it into his mouth. After chewing and swallowing it, he said unhurriedly. "This may be useful to others, but for Anaya, it is impossible."

Anaya was stubborn, and she would not give any person any more chances if they let her down.

Joshua could serve as a good example.

Although Hearst wanted to lock Anaya up and let her be by his side...

It would only make her hate him.

So he held it in.

If Hearst wanted to win Anaya's heart, he could only do it step by step.

Samuel clicked his tongue and said, "With your calm and collected look, those who are not familiar with the fact would have thought that you had succeeded."

"Are you that free?" Hearst glanced at Samuel.

Samuel stood up straight in an instant. "No, I'm busy. Take your time and enjoy the fruit. I'll go out."

After saying that, he hurriedly ran out, afraid that he would be caught by Hearst.

He thought, I'm not kidding. Even if Hearst is injured, he is still able to fight against one hundred people alone!

I am still young, and I do not want to die young

"Hank is already in prison?"

Anaya was a little surprised to hear the news from the police.

She had come to the police station to ask about the progress of Hank's case and add some evidence that Hank had once raped a woman.

However, she did not expect Hank would be put into prison so quickly.

Who did this behind the scenes? Anaya could easily guess that it was Hearst.

She owed him more and more.

After leaving the police station, Anaya bought dinner and sent it to Adams and Melody.

Silvia was in the hospital, and Melody was now being taken care of by a nurse,

To prevent Melody from worrying about her, Silvia asked Anaya to tell Melody that she was busy with work and had to go to another city. This way, Melody would rest assured.

Melody may not believe that Silvia was on a business trip, but if Anaya went to visit her and said a few words, Melody should feel more at ease.

Anaya got out of the car with food and ran into Aria, who was wandering nearby.

She heard the bodyguard guarding Adams's ward say that Aria had been coming here often recently, and they didn't know what Aria's purpose was.

When Aria noticed Anaya, a trace of resentment flashed through her eyes, but she greeted Anaya with a smile.

"Anaya, long time no see."

Anaya looked at Aria expressionlessly. "What's the matter? Do you want to move back to the Dutt's house? Or do you want me to withdraw the lawsuit and let Frankoff?"

The two things Anaya mentioned were both Aria's sore points. When Aria heard this, the fake smile on her face almost went away.

"I'm just here to visit Adams. I don't have so many complicated thoughts."

"Do you believe your own words?" Anaya asked with a cold look.

Aria smiled, "Anaya, I'll lower myself and speak to you in a nice voice. But why is your attitude so bad?"

“Aria, I know you hate me in your heart. You don’t have to pretend to be hypocritical to me.” Anaya did not beat around the bush and said, “I won’t let you see my grandfather. Please go back.”

Anaya’s attitude was firm, and Aria’s face changed completely. “Anaya, I am Adams’ daughter-in-law. Why can’t I see him? Why are you stopping me? I am just concerned about his condition. You disappointed me a lot!”

“Are you concerned about my grandfather’s condition?” Anaya sneered, “Previously, Frank drugged my grandfather and caused him to have a heart attack. Don’t tell me that you don’t know it!

“I don’t have any evidence to prove it right now, but I believe that you will have to go to jail to stay with Frank soon!”

Aria was so angry that her face turned red. “You! You ingrate! You harmed Frank, and you even want to harm me!”

Anaya didn’t bother to talk nonsense with Aria anymore and walked past her directly.

Aria crossed her arms and shouted at Anaya, “You can be proud now! When I pull you down from the position of the eldest daughter of the Dutt family, you will be nothing!”

Anaya ignored her and entered the building without looking back

Aria was angry in place for quite a while. Just as she was about to leave, she was hit by a cart that was full of sheets.

Aria was in a fit of anger. When the nurse bumped into her, she scolded loudly, “Are you blind? How can you bump into me when I’m standing here?”

The young nurse was new and did not dare to retort after she was scolded. She could only apologize.

Aria cursed a few more sentences and then was at ease.

With a casual glance, she noticed that the pillowcase in the cart was with a few strands of hair, and she could not help but be delighted

She forgot that even if she was not allowed to enter Adams’s ward, she could still get his DNA samples from the sheets that had been changed!

Arta cursed in her heart, Anaya, that damned girl! She has been bossing me around all day. When I take away her position as the heir of the Durr family, she will not be arrogant anymore!

Melody had doubts about what Anaya had said about Silvia going to another city.

 Ms. Dutt, nothing serious has happened to Silvia, right?"

"No, it's just inconvenient for her to come over."

Melody was quiet for a long time before she said, "Then tell her to come back as soon as possible. If she doesn't come back, I won't accept the operation."

Melody's tone was firm. No matter how Anaya tried to convince her, it was useless. Anaya could only pass her words to Silvia without any delay:

Although Silvia was anxious, she had no choice, she decided that if she could get out of bed, she would immediately return to Melody's side.

In the next few days, Anaya went to the hospital to deliver breakfast to her.

She had to deal with work during the day. Moreover, she needed to take care of Hearst and Adams. Occasionally, the lawyer would come to discuss the progress of Frank's case with her.

She was a little short of sleep, and after entering the ward, she yawned several times.

Hearst noticed that Anaya looked a little tired and suggested, "It's still early. Do you want to sleep on the bed?"

Anaya shook her head. "No need. I'll just take a nap beside the table."

With that, she crossed her arms and placed them on the bedside table, napping,

After a while, Hearst heard Anaya's soothing and long breathing beside him.

He knew that she should be asleep.

Too many things had happened recently, and Anaya was almost busy every day.

Hearst put down the bowl and turned his head, his gaze carefully depicting Anaya's half-exposed face.

The morning sunlight was not dazzling, only a little bit coming into the room.

The light rested on Anaya's smooth skin, making her look delicate.

It was rare for Hearst to have the chance to observe her at such a close distance.

The only time was the day when Adams was hospitalized and she was brought home by him.

Ataya didn't know that Hearst had been guarding her by her bed the whole day.

It was only when she was about to wake up that he got up and left the bedroom.

He was afraid that if he was too close, she would be disgusted.

He was cardul with her and everything he did to her.

Hearst stated at Anaya for a long time and couldn't help but raise his hand to stroke her hair gently. "Since you are so Ehted, why don't you ask me for help.

buddenly, Joshua's cold and sharp voice sounded at the door.

"You two ate 5 sweet and effectionate di series that I came at the wrong time."

Chapter 132

Chapter 132

Chapter 132 What Do You Want to Do?

Samuel saw Joshua being pushed over and was going to chase him away.

Joshua spoke before Samuel could chase him away.

Hearing Joshua's voice, Anaya, who was still asleep, frowned.

She hated the voice.

It was unlucky to hear it in the morning.

Samuel had always been protecting Hearst. When he heard Joshua's mocking tone, his face showed a bit of provocation. He thought, his tone was so cheap! Does he want to be beaten?

"Hey, Mr. Maltz, why are you sounding so jealous? What happened? Didn't Lexie satisfy you last night, so you came here to disgust others?" As he spoke, Samuel seemed to have just thought of something. His smile became even more brilliant. "Alas, I forgot that you are still in a wheelchair. I'm afraid that you can't do anything even if you want to."

Joshua had been in a high position for a long time, and few people dared to be so impudent to him.

His face immediately darkened. "Watch your mouth!"

"What? What do you want to do?" Samuel was not afraid at all.

"Samuel," in the ward, Hearst spoke indifferently, "Stop."

Samuel pursed his lips and fell silent.

Hearst asked Samuel to stop saying more, but Joshua did not appreciate it.

If Hearst really wanted to stop Samuel, he wouldn't have let Samuel say so much at the beginning.

His silence just now was acquiescence to Samuel's behavior.

Hearing the noise, Anaya finally woke up.

"Sorry, I woke you up." Hearst said.

"It's fine. This isn't your fault." Anaya yawned.

As she spoke, she glanced at Joshua, who was at the door.

The meaning of her glance was obvious.

Obviously, she was annoyed by Joshua.

Anaya casually tidied up her slightly messy hair, stood up, and leaned against the bedside table. "Mr. Maltz, you came over so early in the morning. Are you here to quarrel again?"

Joshua came to confirm if Anaya was there.

But he couldn't say this.

The marriage between him and Lexie had already been settled, and he did not want Anaya to feel that he was still Caring about her in his licart.

Although...

He was still missing her.

Joshua hid his thoughts and snorted, "DX you think I'm so free

Anaya smiled. "If you are not, why would you appear here?"

Joshua choked and had nothing to say.

Anaya had no intention of pestering him. She checked her time and said to herself, "I'm going to work. I'll bring you supper tonight."

Hearst's cold face was with a faint smile.

Anaya picked up her bag and quickly went out."

When she passed Joshua, she did not even give him a glance.

Joshua stared at her back until she disappeared into the elevator. He didn't look away.

A shadow appeared from the side of him.

"Mr. Maltz, you came here to confirm whether Anaya is here, right?"

Hearst's cold voice came from above. Joshua raised his head and saw that Hearst was standing beside him in a white hospital gown.

Hearst's body was straight, and his face was no longer pale.

"How is this possible?" Joshua denied and sized up Hearst. He then asked, "Where are you injured?"

Hearst said concisely, "Waist."

"But you don't look like a patient." Joshua narrowed his eyes and added, "Are you pretending to be sick and letting Anaya take care of you?"

"I didn't. It's just that I'm almost recovered, but I've just extended the hospitalization."

Hearst's wound this time was not deep. Moreover, his family doctors would come every day to change his dressing, so his injuries recovered very quickly.

He should have been discharged yesterday.

but he didn't.

Because once he left there, the connection between him and Anaya would be temporarily cut off.

Joshua understood what Hearst meant instantly and sneered, "Mr. Helms, I thought that you were some kind of upright person, but I didn't expect that you would also play such a dirty trick"

"Mr. Maltz, compared to you, I am still a bit inferior." Hearst looked down at Joshua, and the smile on his face disappeared. He said indifferently. "If one wants to get what he wants in his heart, he needs to spare some et tort."

Joshua was unhappy and wanted to show off, so he said, "As for Anaya, does she need you to spend so much effort? I didn't do anything in the past, but she hung to me."

"Then, don't look at you in one now"

Joshua's words successfully liked Joshua's splendid.

It would be the boldest of all. No matter how much Anaya liked

Joshua, that was

Super cool, was in the past

Moreover

Anaya seemed to like him because she had mistaken him for someone else.

Thinking of this, Joshua felt a sense of defeat in his heart.

He had to admit that now, Anaya seemed more willing to be closer to her,

Hearst glanced at the person behind Joshua and said indifferently, "Mr. Maltz, since you have a fiancée, then don't pester Anaya anymore. Otherwise, before I can make a move, you might be burned to ashes by the fire of jealousy from others."

Then, he turned around and returned to the ward.

Joshua seemed to sense something and turned around, only to see Lexie standing behind him.

He pursed his lips. "When did you arrive?"

"Two minutes ago," Lexie said casually. "I'll send you back to the ward."

She didn't ask about the matter between Joshua and Anaya.

At present, Joshua still had a grudge against her in his heart, and if she asked too much, it would only incur his aversion.

If she was more sensible and asked less, her silent forbearance might make Joshua under more pressure.

Seeing Lexie's grievance, Joshua felt a little guilty and his tone softened a lot. "Let's go."

Lexie pushed him toward the elevator. "Joshua, I heard that the real estate under Maltz Group in the south of the city began to sell. Is it true?"

Joshua could guess the reason why she suddenly asked about it.

Lexie hesitated for a while, but she still said, "My father has begun to venture into house decoration recently. He let me ask you if there is any need for it. If so, can you ask the staff to recommend my father's company?"

She and Joshua were not married yet. Originally, she did not want to mention this, but her father forced her to do so. She had no choice, so she tried to ask Joshua.

Joshua felt guilty about what had just happened.

Lexie's request was not too much, so Joshua took the opportunity to agree.

*Sure, I'll ask Alex to go to your father's place today to talk about cooperation."

In the end, he warned, "There are all high-end houses in the community. Ask your father to be more careful. Don't make any mistakes and ruin the Maltz Group's reputation."

"I understand."

Chapter 133

Chapter 133

Chapter 133 That's right and Proper

Since Joshua was hospitalized, Robin hadn't come to visit him. He was free today, so he came with Bryant.

"They met at the entrance of the hospital. After seeing Bryant, Robin found that Bryant didn't look good. Bryant's dark circles beneath his eyes were quite conspicuous, and he seemed haggard.

Robin was a little surprised. "What have you done at night?"

Bryant glanced at him and didn't answer. "Go buy dinner for Joshua first."

They brought food and then entered the hospital.

The greenery in this private hospital grew well. It was rare to see the sun after autumn, but today, the sunshine was enjoyable. Many patients and their family members were walking on the roadside.

Robin looked around and noticed a woman wearing a hospital gown standing under a maple tree not far away. His eyes instantly widened.

He pulled Bryant's hand. "Bryant, look over there. Does that woman look like Shiloh?"

In the past two years, Robin had helped Bryant to find Shiloli, so he was also familiar with Shiloh's appearance.

Although the woman was wearing a mask, the eyes that were revealed were so similar to Shiloh's.

Bryant looked in the direction Robin was pointing at, and his breathing almost stopped.

Under the maple tree, the woman raised her head slightly, enjoying the scenery not far away.

Her eyes curved into crescent moons, which was the most familiar appearance Bryant remembered.

Bryant looked at the woman wearing a mask and approached her uncontrollably.

He wouldn't be mistaken.

That pair of eyes must be Shiloh's!

Soon, the woman under the tree also noticed Bryant.

She was startled and hurriedly stood up to run.

However, she was sick and couldn't run fast.

As soon as the woman took two steps forward, her legs went weak, and she was about to fall down.

Suddenly, a pair of hands wrapped around her waist and pulled her up.

Erlere she could react, the mask on her face was removed.

After seeing Silvia's face, the excitement and joy on Bryant's face instantly disappeared.

He cursed in his heart, it is this lowly and ugly woman again!

The moment he saw Silvia's face, Bryant pushed Silvia away as if he had touched a terrifying virus.

Originally, Silvia had lost her balance. Now, she was pushed by Bryant and fell heavily to the ground.

The injuries on her body had not healed yet. After the fall, not only did her palms and knees scratch, but her previous injuries also became even more painful.

Silvia gasped and let out a low groan. She propped herself up and tried to get up, but she was unable to exert any strength. She could only fall to the ground in a sorry state.

Seeing this, Robin wanted to help Silvia up, but he was stopped by Bryant.

"Bryant, what are you going to do?"

Bryant didn't answer. He squatted down, grabbed Silvia's hair, and pulled her up. He grabbed her neck without any pity in his eyes. "You hid pretty well, huh? Tell me, where is Shiloh?"

Silvia bit her lip and did not speak.

Bryant was furious. "Are you dumb? You don't answer me every time I ask you a question! Do you think that I can't do anything to you? As for a woman who has no power or influence like you, I can easily make you disappear from this world without a trace. Do you believe it?"

Seeing that Silvia still refused to say anything, Bryant gritted his teeth. "If you don't tell me anything, do you believe that I will deal with your mother first? Hearst's people shouldn't be guarding her, right? If I torment her as I did to you that night, do you think she can still survive?"

At the mention of Melody, the originally calm Silvia instantly became emotional. "Don't... Don't hurt my mother..."

Her voice was clear and trembling slightly. It seemed to carry extreme hatred or pure fear.

The moment Bryant heard Silvia's voice, he was stunned.

He would never forget this voice even in death.

Two years ago, every night after he met Shiloh, he had heard this voice on the bed of the villa in the western suburbs.

Bryant thought that the woman only had eyes that were similar to Shiloh, but why was her voice so similar?

A thought, just like a seed, was planted in his heart, quickly germinating and growing wantonly. He was unable to control it no matter what.

Bryant loosened his grip on Silvia's neck and froze for a few seconds, wanting to say something.

But someone suddenly kicked him from behind and knocked him to the side.

A sharp pain.

However, it was as if Bryant couldn't feel it. He fell to the ground, motionless, and watched in a daze as Silvia was helped up by Anaya who had rushed over,

Anaya patted off the dust on Silvia's body. "Did you hurt anywhere?"

Silvia shook her head in silence. She immediately grabbed Anaya's hand and hid behind Anaya as if she felt Bryant's gaze.

Anaya also noticed that Bryant had been staring at Silvia. She turned around and protected Silvia behind her, blocking Bryant's gaze completely Silvia was still looking for her biological parents. After that, Anaya wanted Silvia to be her helper, and that was why she helped Silvia now.

However, after being together with Silvia for such a long time, Anaya felt some pity for this ill-fated woman and regarded her as a friend, 11 Bryant wanted to hurt Silvia, Anaya would never ignore it.

"Mr. Tirrell, you should have received the complaint from the court, but now you still want to pester Silvia. Do you think your crimes are still not enough?"

Bryant got up from the ground. His people wanted to attack Anaya and Silvia, but he stopped them.

He stared straight at Silvia as if he couldn't hear anyone around him.

"Shiloh?" he asked.

He had always been fierce and powerful, but this time, his voice was trembling slightly.

Silvia put on her mask again, lowered her head, and pulled Anaya's hand. "Ms. Dutt, let's go back."

Anaya nodded and looked at Bryant cautiously.

As soon as they took a step forward, Bryant strode toward them and reached out to grab Shiloh.

Before Bryant could touch Silvia, he was kicked away by Anaya again.

"Stay away from us," Anaya said coldly as she retracted her leg.

Bryant fell to the ground and was stunned for a while. He came back to his senses and stood up, his face gloomy.

"Anaya, if you don't want to die, get lost!"

Anaya was not afraid at all, and her smiling eyes looked so sharp. "Mr. Tirrell, I want to see how you are going to deal with me."

Bryant was enraged. He had never been a person who cared for women. He raised his hand and swung it toward Anaya's face.

Before his hand could touch Shiloh, Samuel caught it.

Samuel still had a casual smile on his face. "Mr. Tirrell, hitting a woman is not fun.

"This is even worse for Anaya."

As he spoke, he flung Bryant away.

Bryant lost his balance and almost fell to the ground again.

Samuel didn't come alone. Bryant had fewer people on his side, so it was difficult for him to win.

He didn't make a move but gritted his teeth. "Do you think I want to hit a woman? She hit me first, and I was forced to fight back!"

Sanuel grinned and said confidently, “She hit you, and that was right and proper. But if you want to hit her, you have to ask us first!”

Chapter 134

Chapter 134

Chapter 134 How Can She Forgive Him?

Samuel had a free soul and seemed to be not afraid of anything, when he met Hearst a few years ago, he was just a punk. Back then, Samuel was best being shameless and unreasonable.

After being disciplined by Hearst for the past few years, he had learned to behave himself. However, facing someone like Bryant, who deserved to be taught a lesson, Samuel showed no politeness.

Hearst was the most important person to Samuel, and Samuel cared about Anaya the most. So, Anaya was important to Samuel too.

If Bryant really hurt Anaya, whatever the consequences would be, Samuel would kick Bryant’s ass.

Bryant was kicked twice by Anaya and provoked by Samuel. He felt so humiliated.

Bryant had been running roughshod in Boston for over 20 years, and no one had dared to treat him like that.

Bryant thought, Samuel kept provoking me Clearly, he doesn’t take me seriously.

My family has some power in Boston, and I’m not a pushover!

And the woman behind Anaya...

She must be Shiloh!

Anyway, I must take her back today.

Hearst cares about Anaya, so I can’t hurt her. As for other people, I’m not afraid of hurting them. Hearst won’t fight against me for his subordinates.

It’ll be okay as long as I can let Shiloh leave with me without hurting Anaya.

After figuring out what he should do, Bryant no longer hesitated and decided to give it a shot.

“Don’t hurt Anaya. Catch Silvia!”

The bodyguards behind Bryant heard the order. They immediately raised their fists and rushed toward Samuel and the others.

Robin regained his freedom. He wanted to stop the fight but could do nothing. Anxiously, Robin took out his phone and called Joshua, asking Josliua to send his people over to control the situation.

Sering how fierce and resolute the bodyguards were, Anaya wanted to help.

Samuel stood in front of her with his back to her.

“Anaya, Hearst has told me to protect you. If you get hurt, he will be angry with me. Just stay here.”

Anaya hesitated, but soon, she was assured.

Anaya remembered how Hearst behaved at the shooting range,

Hearst was calm, collected, mighty, and brave.

So, Hearst’s people must be as outstanding as Hearst himself.

Bryant’s people were completely defeated by Hearst’s people.

Soon, Bryant and his bodyguards were all knocked dowii.

Bryant was hall–kneeling on the ground, and here was a faint smell of blood in his mouth

His pupils seemed to be dyed with blood as he stared at silvia.

“Shiloh, do you think you can be safe and sound by hiding behind these people?”

“Don’t forget about your adopted mother.

“If you keep liiding from me, what happened to your father will happen to her again!”

silvia was frightened by Bryant’s sick and threatening words. Anaya felt hier trembling and held her hand to comfort her.

Silvia quickly calmed down. The timid look in her eyes suddenly turned firm. Silvia released Anaya's hand, took a few steps forward, and walked to Bryant.

Bryant kept staring at Silvia affectionately as if Silvia's face wasn't covered in scars.

Seeing Silvia approaching him, Bryant thought that she had compromised. The anger on his face dissipated and was replaced with a smile. "Shi..."

Clap!

The slap made Bryant's head tilt, and blood seeped from the corner of his mouth.

The smile on his face froze. Bryant couldn't even react.

Silvia's trembling voice rang in his ears.

Her voice was like a sprout that was bent by a huge rock. It was delicate but extremely powerful.

"Bryant, you made my father jump into the sea desperately, and my life was ruined by you. You have hurt me so much, but you won't stop, even trying to hurt my adopted mother.

"I used to be a coward. I didn't dare to sue you. I didn't dare to use a legal weapon to protect myself. But you left me no choice and wanted to continue to hurt the people around me. I won't let you!

"Even if I have to risk my life, I will sue you and make you repent for your mistakes in prison for the rest of your life!"

Bryant heard the hatred in Silvia's voice, and a trace of confusion flashed in his eyes.

"Shiloh, when have I ever hurt you? I offered you the biggest house, bought you the most expensive clothes and bags, and took care of you as well as I could.

"I am the one who treats you the best!"

"You?" Silvia suddenly laughed, "But my scars were also caused by you."

Bryant dodged Silvia's gaze, "Shiloh, I didn't know it was you, so... I didn't mean to hurt you."

Bryant could be cruel to everyone, but he never wanted to hurt Silvia.

"What about my father? Don't tell me that you didn't mean badly! And my life..."

Silvia tried her best to calm down the surging emotions in her heart. "If you hadn't deliberately threatened me in order to punish me and locked me in the attic of the riverside villa, how could I have been unable to escape when I was trapped in the fire and almost buried by flames?"

11 Silvia had not jumped into the river that day, she might have lost more than her face and half of the skin of her upper body.

Silvia might have died.

Before meeting Bryant, she had been the youngest and most famous painter in Boston,

Silvia once had a father who cared about her, a boyfriend who loved her, and a bright future.

Now, she had nothing

When Silvia mentioned the past, Bryant's heart ached. The heavy regret of the past two years drowned him once again.

"Shiloh, I'm sorry for the past, but I promise I won't make any mistakes again. As long as you come back to me, I will do everything I can to make it up to you. Can you forgive me?"

The man who used to be insufferably arrogant was half kneeling on the ground. Bryant looked up at the ugly woman in front of him, his eyes filled with pleading.

Silvia silently looked down at him, indifferent.

This man had ruined her life.

How could she forgive him?

Silvia wanted Bryant to die.

She wanted him to atone for all the sins in the past.

Silvia clenched her fingers into her palm, and her pale little face was full of determination. "Bryant, you have done all the bad things. I have already obtained the evidence of your crimes. This time, no matter who you bribe and how you threaten me, I will sue you!"

Bryant heard the resoluteness in her words and panicked. "Shiloh, don't do that. Come back with me. I'm sorry for the past. No matter what you want, I will compensate you."

Bryant reached out and tried to grab Silvia's hand.

Anaya reacted quickly and pulled Silvia back a few steps. She let Silvia stand behind her.

Bryant didn't grab Silvia's hand. In addition, his body still hurt. Bryant lost his balance and fell to the ground. He looked pathetic.

Robin helped Bryant up and wanted to say something, but he didn't know what to say.

Robin only knew that Bryant kept a girl, had fun with her, and was crazy about her.

He thought that Bryant and Silvia were in love.

Robin believed that they separated reluctantly because of some misunderstandings.

However, he did not expect Silvia to be forced by Bryant.

To keep Silvia, Bryant ruined her life and her future, he imprisoned her and made her live in darkness and despair.

Bryant looked miserable.

Robin had never sort blinks that.

He was supposed to feel sad for his good friend

However, Robin was unable to pity Bryant.

He had to say that Bryant deserved this.

What Bryant suffered was not even one in ten thousand of what Silvia had suffered.

#Chapter 135

Chapter 135

Chapter 135

Chapter 135 Pretend to Be Weak

After Bryant stood up with Robin supporting him, he seemed to be in a daze, and his eyes were blank

After seeing Silvia, Bryant stared at her, and his possessiveness was aroused.

In the past, he kept Shiloh by force.

Bryant thought, she hates me now. But so what?

I forced her in the past, and I can do it again!

Thinking of that, Bryant shook off Robin and pounced toward Silvia again.

However, he was already very weak. Samuel easily stopped him, tied his hands behind his back, and held his shoulder.

“Mr. Tirrell, don’t move, or I will break your arms or legs. Do you understand?”

Before Bryant spoke, Joshua’s voice came from not far away. “Don’t you dare!”

Hearing Joshua’s voice, everyone turned to look at him.

Joshua was pushed over. He looked gloomy as he glared at Samuel. “Let go of him!”

Samuel had no intention of listening to Joshua and provoked him, “What if I don’t? Are you going to stand up from the wheelchair and hit me, Mr. Maltz?”

When Robin saw Joshua, lie quickly walked over. “Joshua, I asked you to come to stop the fight. Why did you bring so many people with you?”

Robin felt that things were going to get uglier.

He regretted calling Joshua over.

“I am indeed here to stop the fight, but only if they want to stop!” Joshua pointed at Samuel. “Look at him. Does he look friendly?”

Robin was speechless.

He felt that Bryant deserved to be beaten.

However, the current situation was really complicated. Robin thought that Samuel should stop.

Joshua ignored Robin and said to Anaya, “Tell that bastard to let go of Bryant. Otherwise, I’ll take some forceful action!”

Anaya’s face was full of ridicule. “Mr. Maltz, watch your mouth. You don’t seem friendly either.

“Mr. Maltz, you should know that we got your friend.” Anaya raised a smile and looked a little arrogant. “We can easily make your friend more iniserable. So, have some respect.”

Joshua gnashed his teeth in anger at Anaya's words, but in the end, he softened his attitude. "Let's both take a step back. You let Bryant go, and promise that my people won't hurt you."

Samuel looked at Anaya inquiringly. "Anaya, should I let him go?"

"Let him go."

Joshua had brought a lot of people, and Bryant had learned his lesson today.

As long as Bryant didn't continue to pester Silvia shamelessly, such a deadlock was unnecessary.

Samuel released Bryant and pushed him toward Joshua

Bryant's legs hurt, and he couldn't stand steadily. Robin quickly supported him to help him stand well.

Anaya held Silvia's hand and said to Samuel, "Let's go back to Hearst."

Anaya came to visit the patients and didn't expect to run into such a thing.

she thought, I guess I have to transfer the two to another hospital.

Anaya kept running into Joshua and Bryant there. She felt sick.

Anaya and the others walked past Joshua and his people. Bryant watched as Silvia walked past him. He reached out to grab her but was stopped by Anaya.

"Don't touch her."

Bryant still didn't retract his gaze when Silvia and the others disappeared from a corner.

Joshua instructed the people around him, "Take Bryant for treatment."

"Yes."

Bryant left, being supported.

Joshua also wanted to leave, but Robin stopped him. "Did you know what Bryant had done to Silvia before?"

Joshua did not avoid the question. "Yes."

"Then why did you help him look for Silvia?" Robin was furious.

If Robin had known that Bryant had done so many bad things to Silvia in the past, he wouldn't have done his best to help Bryant look for Silvia.

Robin thought, finding Silvia for Bryant is basically killing her!

Joshua felt that Robin's anger came out of nowhere. "Shiloh's father was just an ordinary worker. Bryant gave her a generous living environment. Although he did something wrong, he helped her change her life anyway.

"What's more, Bryant wants to change now. If Shiloh goes back with him, she will live a good life.

"I am helping both Bryant and Shiloh."

Robin was so angry with Joshua's ridiculous words.

He wondered, why are my friends both so ridiculous?

They are selfish, completely disregarding the feelings of others!

"Forget it. Your and Bryant's things have nothing to do with me. You are so bad. You two will definitely regret it one day."

After saying that, Robin silently left.

Joshua stayed and was lost in thought.

He wondered, regret it?

Why?

Bryant is miserable now because he can't move on

But my feelings for Anaya are fake and wrong.

When Lexie and I get married, I believe that I will get over the meaningless feelings.

I decided a long time ago that Lexie would be my wife

Now that my wish is going to be fulfilled, why will I regret it?

Though thinking that way, Joshua still felt a little depressed and couldn't get rid of the depression.

After sending Silvia back, Anaya immediately asked Tim to arrange wards in another hospital.

After sending Silvia off, she went to Hearst's ward.

When she entered, Anaya saw that Hearst had already changed out of his hospital gown and was wearing his suit. Hearst raised his left hand and was buttoning it up with one hand.

"Are you going to leave the hospital?"

Anaya thought, if I remember it right, this morning, this man was so weak that he lay on the bed and couldn't move. He even let me help him cut the fruit and get the cup.

How did he recover in just one day?

"Yeah. I will set off to Canada tomorrow afternoon. I need to go back to pack up tonight."

Previously, Hearst had said that he needed to go abroad. But he hadn't prepared for it recently. Anaya thought that Hearst wouldn't go.

"You haven't recovered yet. Can you go abroad now?"

"I can walk well now."

"You recovered two days ago, didn't you?" Anaya looked at Hearst carefully.

Hearst put on his watch and raised his eyes to look at her, answering honestly, "Yes."

"But you pretended to be weak."

Hearst's voice was deep and mellow, and he said slowly with a smile, "Yeah."

Anaya did not ask him why he pretended to be weak

She knew the reason.

But Anaya didn't want to hear or face it.

"How long will it take?" Anaya asked.

"This is an important trip. It will probably take a week." Hearst looked at Anaya devotedly. There seemed to be light shining tenderly in his deep eyes. "Will you send me off at the airport tomorrow?"

Anaya hesitated for a moment and nodded.

In the end, she inexplicably added, "Come back early."

Chapter 136

Chapter 136

Chapter 136 Anaya Isn't Adams' Biological Granddaughter

The next day, Anaya went to the airport to send Hearst off.

A snow-white plane line streaked across the blue sky. Half an hour after Hearst left, Anaya left the airport.

She didn't know why, but Hearst's departure made her feel uneasy.

Perhaps it was because Hearst had been staying with her recently and Anaya was used to that unconsciously.

When Hearst suddenly left, Anaya was somewhat disappointed and lost.

She drove back to the company and received a call from the bodyguard on the way. The bodyguard that Aria was making a fuss in the hospital and insisted on seeing Adams.

"You don't need to tell me about this next time. Just stop her," said Anaya with a calm expression.

Recently, Aria had been causing trouble more and more frequently, and Anaya didn't even want to pay a bit of attention to her.

The bodyguard on the other end of the line seemed to be in a dilemma. "Ms. Berry brought a girl with her. She claimed that the girl was Mr. Dutt's biological granddaughter, and she had the report of a paternity test."

"Have you verified the authenticity of the report?" Anaya asked with a frown.

"We took a look. It's probably real..."

Anaya hesitated for a few seconds before turning the car around. "Stop them. I'll go there right away."

When she reached the hospital, Anaya headed straight for Adams' ward.

Aria and a girl sat in the chair in the corridor waiting for Anaya.

Seeing Anaya come, Aria immediately stood up. "You came quite quickly. Hurry up and let the bodyguards go away. I need to go in to see Adams. I came here with very important news today!"

Anaya did not listen to Aria talking at all. She looked at the girl beside Aria.

The girl was the waitress who was teased by Hank at the hotel last time,

"You are...."

Before Anaya finished her sentence, Aria interrupted, "This is the real daughter of the Dutt family! You should have heard that from the bodyguard on the phone. I came here today to bring her back to her family!"

"You'd better be respectful When you are kicked out, maybe I will help you a little."

Anaya looked at Aria, a little annoyed. "You suddenly brought a girl over and said that she was the real daughter of the Dutt family. If so, then who am I?"

"How would I know? I only know that Karley is Adams' biological granddaughter! I have already taken her for a paternity test. The evidence is right here. Believe it or not, it's true!"

While speaking, Aria took out the report and handed it to Anaya,

Anaya did not take it. "Forging a report is not difficult. This piece of paper won't make me believe you."

"Are you saying that I forged this?" Aria was a little angry, "The test was taken in this hospital. If you don't believe me, you can check it."

Anaya had the same idea. She immediately asked the bodyguard to see the doctor in the hospital.

Soon, the bodyguard came back to report it to Anaya.

The report Aria brought over was indeed real.

After receiving the reply, Anaya was stunned for a moment.

Just now, she thought that it was just an excuse for Aria to make trouble. Anaya didn't expect that it was ... true.

If that girl was Adams' real granddaughter, then who was Anaya?

Anaya's mind was suddenly in a mess.

Aria pushed away the bodyguards in front of her. "Can we go in now?"

Anaya did not speak. The bodyguards hesitated for a moment and moved out of the way to Adams' ward.

11 Karley was the real daughter of the Dutt family, then they would most likely work for Karley,

If the bodyguards made Karley unhappy now, they might have to pay for it.

Aria complacently glanced at Anaya and swaggered toward the ward.

Karley followed Aria timidly. When she passed by Anaya, she glanced at Anaya gingerly.

When their eyes met, Karley immediately retracted her gaze guiltily.

Last time, Anaya helped her. Karley said that she would definitely repay Anaya's kindness when she had a chance. However, she came today to snatch the family property from Anaya. Karley felt somewhat guilty.

But...

Compared to repaying Anaya's gratitude, Karley was more willing to take back everything that belonged to her.

Karley thought, I'm the real daughter of the Dutt family:

Anaya has occupied her identity for so many years. I'm just taking back what should have been mine.

I'm not doing anything bad.

Karley prepared herself mentally and quickly followed Aria.

Anaya stood still for a while and then turned around to follow them.

When she entered, Adams was reading the report that Aria had brought over,

Anaya thought that Adams would be shocked or skeptical.

However, Adams indifferently put down the report.

Aria did not get the reaction she wanted from Adams. She was a little anxious. "Adams, have you looked carefully at what I gave you? Karley is your biological granddaughter! Anaya isn't! Why aren't you surprised at all?"

Adams' wrinkled face was extremely calm. "I already know that Anaya is not Richard's biological daughter."

Richard Dutt was Anaya's father.

Theti, Aria was shocked, "You already knew! Then why would you rather give the family property to Anaya, an outsider, than us?"

Adams let out a short and said, "Although Anaya is not my biological granddaughter, she treats me the best. What about you? All of you want me dead! Even if she is not my granddaughter, I am willing to give her everything!"

Hearing Adams' words, Anaya calmed down a little.

She only cared about Adams in the entire Dutt family.

As long as Adams would not alienate her because of the report, Anaya wouldn't be afraid of anything.

After Adams finished speaking, he looked at Karley and was silent for a while. He felt somewhat complicated.

Karley had been taken by the traffickers for so many years. Adams didn't expect to find her.

Unexpectedly, Karley was found by Aria, who didn't mean well.

"Is your name... Karley?"

Karley nodded.

Adams waved at her. "Kid, come over and let me look at you."

Karley walked over. There was some timidity on her pretty face. Karley called out hesitantly. "Grandpa..."

When Adams heard that, his eyes instantly turned red.

All these years, it was impossible that Adams did not miss his granddaughter at all.

"How have you been all these years? Can you tell me about it?"

Karley did not refuse. She talked about her experiences in the orphanage and her current situation of being a waitress in the hotel.

Anaya stood aside and did not disturb them, listening to them quietly.

After Karley and Adams finished talking, Aria finally found a chance to speak. She said, "Adams, since you have confirmed that Karley is your real granddaughter, shouldn't you transfer your property to Karley and kick out the bitch who has seized Karley's home for herself for so many years?"

Chapter 137

Chapter 137

Chapter 137 Anaya Wants to Find Her Parents

Anaya pursed her lips tightly, waiting for Adams to give his verdict.

The smile on Aria's face became even more arrogant. She could not wait to let Adams kick Anaya out of the family.

However, she could not laugh soon.

Adams said, "Karley is indeed my granddaughter, but so is Anaya."

Aria looked a bit pale and said, "Adams, what do you mean by this? Do you still want to leave the Dutt family to an outsider like Anaya? You built the Dutt family with your own efforts. You should give it to your relatives. How can you give it to an outsider?"

Aria had spent so much time and energy looking for Karley because she wanted to drag Anaya down from her position as the Dutt family's leader. Then she could control Karley, who was still innocent.

If Aria could not pull Anaya down from her position, all her efforts during this period of time would be wasted.

"Relatives?" Adams sneered. "My relatives wanted to drug me! How nice they were to me! I used to treat you as my family, but you treated me as a fool. How can you still have the cheek to say that you are my family when you have done all kinds of bad things?"

"Although Anaya isn't my biological granddaughter, she is thousands of times nicer than you ungrateful guys!"

Adams had a clear mind and spoke powerfully.

Anaya felt moved when she heard that.

She was already prepared to leave the Dutt family, but she never expected that Adams would actually accept her.

Aria never expected this result. "Then what about Karley? She is your granddaughter. Why don't you leave anything to her?"

Hearing this, Karley was nervous.

She followed Aria over for the sake of the Dutt family's property.

If she couldn't get anything, what would she come back for?

Adams said, "I will leave half of the Dutt family's property to her. But she doesn't understand anything right now. For the time being, Anaya will still be in charge of the family."

He looked at Anaya with an apologetic look in his eyes and said, "Anaya, I know my decision is very selfish, but I have no other choice. Can you accept it?"

Anaya shook her head and said, "You've raised me for so many years. You've been so nice to me that you don't owe me anything."

Even if Adams gave the entire Dutt family to Karley, Anaya wouldn't complain.

Realizing that Anaya was so sensible, Adams felt even more distressed,

Today's mess came so suddenly, and Adams felt sorry that Anaya was given a hard time.

"Karley, stay in the Dutt's house and ask Albert to buy you some daily necessities. As for the rest, we'll talk about it tomorrow."

Karley nodded. She didn't want to just let it go. She wanted to say something but was driven out by the body guards,

Walking out of the ward, Karley was full of joy, "Aria, how much is half of the property of the Dutt family? Are there hundreds of thousands of dollars?"

Aria sneered.

She thought that Karley was indeed an ignorant girl.

"The market value of Riven Group is billions of dollars. How much do you think?"

Karley was shocked. "Billions of dollars!"

“Yes! Don’t you want to get all of it?” Aria guided Karley patiently and systematically.

Karley was a little hesitant. “But Grandpa just said that half of it is for Anaya...”

“Why should you give your things to Anaya? Are you willing to give so much money to her for free? she has occupied your property for twenty years. Don’t you want her to return it all to you?”

Aria’s questions came one after another, and Karley quickly made up her mind. “I want to take back all my things!

“But what should I do?”

Asinister smile appeared on Aria’s face. “I have a plan. Just wait and collect the money.”

Then they left the ward.

Inside the ward, Adams said, “Anaya, I heard that you just took down the project of East Boston recently, and the company’s market value has increased several times. Will you blame me for sharing your results with Karley?”

“Riven Group is your asset. I have nothing to blame.” Anaya walked to the bed and sat down. “Grandfather, if I’m not your biological granddaughter, who are my parents?”

“I didn’t know about that either. Back then, Karley was taken away by someone, and we searched for her for a few months but could not find her.

“One morning, when I opened the door, I saw you abandoned at the door. Richard thought you were sent to compensate us, so we adopted you.

“We tried to find the person who abandoned you, but we couldn’t find anything. After a long time, we had to just let it 20.”

Anaya understood and chatted with Adams for a while before leaving.

It was the weekend the next day. Aracely called and asked Anaya to take her to view the houses.

Anaya had been cooped up at home for the whole night and didn’t sleep well. Her thoughts were a little messy, and she was about to go out and get some fresh air, so she agreed.

Aracely drove over to pick Anaya up, and they went out together.

"Why do you suddenly want to view the houses?" Anaya asked as she fastened her seatbelt.

Aracely stated, "L... I want to live alone. I'm not young anymore. It's time to find a job. It's more convenient to have a house

Anaya guessed that it must have something to do with Winston. "Shouldn't you find a job first?"

Aracely couldn't find an excuse, so she simply said. "Anyway. I just want to find a house. Whether I can get job doesn't matter to me."

Anaya did not make things difficult for her and leaned against the seat for a while.

Aracely acted decisively. After seeing the first house, she decided to buy it. She also asked the agency to introduce her to a furniture company. She wanted to move in as soon as possible, and she had to get the house decorated. The sooner, the better.

When the agent saw that Aracely was straightforward, he immediately took her to a furniture company.

Aracely wanted to get it done as soon as possible, so she did not refuse and took Anaya with her.

The negotiation went very smoothly, and both sides soon finalized the design drawings and the date of work

It was probably the first time that the person in charge of the furniture company had seen such a straightforward client. He saw Aracely and Anaya off with a bright smile.

After that, he turned back to the office.

Just as he turned around, he saw Lexie standing not far behind him.

"Ms. Dunbar, why are you here?" he asked, walking over.

Lexie looked at Anaya and Aracely's departing backs and asked, "What were they doing here?"

"They bought a house and wanted to look for us for decoration."

"I remember that last week, we introduced a batch of putty powder with excessive formaldehyde content, and its quality is not up to scratch, but we can't return it, right?" Lexie asked.

The person in charge did not understand what Lexie meant, but he still responded, "Yes."

"The renovation of their house will be done with that batch of putty powder."

Lexie hated that Anaya repeatedly seduced Joshua and pestered him. She couldn't do anything to Anaya in the open, so she could only use some tricks to vent her anger, which made her feel a little better.

The person in charge was a little embarrassed. "Ms. Dunbar, this is business. This low-quality putty powder will cause the owner of the house to feel unwell and even induce illness. You..."

Lexie berated, "just do what I ask you to do. Cut the crap. Do you still want to keep the job?"

In the past, Lexie didn't have the power to make decisions about the company.

But ever since the news of her marriage with Joshua was released, everyone in the company dared not disobey her.

The person in charge hesitated for a moment, but in the end, he nodded.

Chapter 138

Chapter 138 To Embarrass Karley

The news of the return of Adams' real granddaughter quickly spread through the upper class.

In order to pave the way for Karley's future, Aria bribed the news media and hyped up the news.

"The real lady of the Dutt family? Am I watching a drama?"

"I remember that Anaya just took down the East Boston project not long ago. And Riven Group's market value has increased several times. Now the real lady has come back. Did she come back to share the property? I think it has been planned."

"I feel like my dream girl has worked hard for someone for nothing..."

"She's not working hard for nothing. A year ago, when the Dutt family was in the ascendant, it was much more valuable than now. It's Anaya who made Riven Group suffer a decline. Shouldn't she work hard to make up for it?"

"So... Anaya owes Karley?"

"I don't think Karley is Adams' real granddaughter. Adams dotes on Anaya so much. If Anaya is not his granddaughter, why should he pamper her?"

When she woke up in the morning, Anaya found that messages came in droves.

She didn't look at any of them and directly unloaded the media app.

After washing up and going to the company, Karley was brought by Mark to familiarize herself with the environment.

Karley was still not familiar with the business of the company and temporarily took the position of vice president. Mark would guide her until she could do it alone after getting familiar with the work

When Karley and Mark met Anaya, Mark did not hide his delight and schadenfreude.

"Anaya, weren't you quite powerful in the past? Now half of the family property has been taken away. Why haven't you dealt with Karley?"

Anaya, who wore delicate makeup, revealed a decent smile. "You're so proud of yourself. Those who don't know the inside story might think that it's you who have taken half of the Dutt family's property."

Mark was angry. "Although I didn't get a penny, I'm happy to see you suffer!"

Anaya made a "tsk" sound and said, "Your father is still under arrest, but you are in such a good mood. What a filial son."

At the mention of Frank, Mark was enraged. "It was you who put my father in prison. How dare you mention it?"

"Mark, we are in the company, it's better not to make too much of a fuss." Karley stopped Mark

Anaya took a few glances at Karley.

Karley had lived a hard life and could endure much more than Mark.

But Karley was more difficult to deal with than Mark because the former could hide her emotions.

Mark didn't want to let it go, but he still listened to Karley. He glared at Anaya fiercely and said, "Just wait. Sooner or later, I will pull you down from your position!"

"Whatever," Anaya said nonchalantly.

Her calm attitude angered Mark even more, making him look like a clown.

Karley was worried that Mark would act on impulse and quickly stopped him from making the further move. "Anaya. Mark still needs to take me to get familiar with the company, so we have to go now."

With that, Karley and Mark quickly left.

Anaya also turned around and returned to her office.

Walking into the office, she saw a bouquet of white lilies on the desk.

"Who sent the flowers?" Anaya called Tim over.

"It was from Karley. She brought everyone a small gift today."

Anaya was stunned.

Karley knew how to win the people's support by hook or by crook.

Anaya walked over and glanced at the flower.

She picked one and noticed that several disgusting caterpillars were crawling under the green leaves of the remaining flowers.

Anaya narrowed her eyes.

Karley really gave her a good gift.

"Tim, send this bouquet of flowers to the company canteen and have someone use it to make some dessert for me. I will personally send it to Karley later."

Tim was puzzled. "But we don't need to use flowers to make dessert, right?"

"But I need to make it smell fragrant." Anaya threw the white lily in her hand into the trash can.

"It just so happens that I have flowers."

Karley followed Mark around the company and exclaimed at the size of the Riven Group. At the same time, she became a bit more ambitious.

When Aria helped her deal with Anaya and Adams, the company would be Karley's.

Karley felt a burst of joy at the thought of the wealth she was about to obtain.

She returned to her office and saw Anaya waiting for her.

Karley smiled kindly and walked over. "Anaya, why are you here?"

Anaya leaned against the desk and smiled, "I think you haven't had breakfast yet, so I brought you some dessert."

When Karley heard that, her eyes lit up. "What did you bring over?"

She heard that the breakfast of rich families was very luxurious, so the thing Anaya brought for her should also be good.

Anaya opened the food box and said, "it's a dessert made of flowers, I've just cooked. Try it."

Karley was happy and excited when she heard that Anaya sent her dessert.

She did not expect Anaya to be so nice to her.

Karley thought that Anaya must be happy to receive the flowers. The thought of Anaya being so easy to deal with made Karley feel happy.

With this thought in mind, Karley hid her disdain for Anaya and smiled sweetly.

"Alright, I'll try it."

Karley picked up a piece of cake and finished it in two bites.

The scent filled her mouth, and Karley felt it was delicious.

Karley couldn't help but take the second one. "Anaya, where did you buy this? It's delicious."

"I didn't buy it. I asked the canteen to make it," Anaya said with a smile.

Karley took a bite and asked, "What's it made of? I feel like it smells of flowers."

"Yes. It's made of flowers, and it has added something else."

“What is it?”

The smile on Anaya’s face grew brighter and brighter. “The flower you gave me.”

“You mean lily?”

Halfway through her words, Karley suddenly realized something. She looked at the cake she had just bit in her hand and felt nauseous. She walked to the trash can and lowered her head to spit out all that she had eaten.

Anaya asked leisurely, “Karley, I brought you the cake out of kindness. Why don’t you finish it?”

Karley retched for a long time, but she could not spit out what she had eaten.

The thought that she had just eaten a few caterpillars made her sick

Karley wiped her mouth and leaned against the wall. In the end, she couldn’t hold back her anger and asked Anaya, “Anaya, what do you mean by this? I was kind enough to send you flowers, and you did such a disgusting thing to me!”

Anaya said unhurriedly, “Courtesy demands reciprocity. Since you have given me such a good gift, I just returned you a dessert. What’s wrong?”

“Have you thought about the consequences of doing so? I am Adams’ granddaughter, and you are just adopted. I can kick you out if I demand it!” Karley was pissed off and showed her true face.

“You can try.”

Chapter 139

Chapter 139

Chapter 139 Beg for Forgiveness

Anaya might not have confidence in other people.

But she had stayed with Adams for Twenty years. Even though they were not related by blood, Anaya was clear about Adams’ character.

If Adams really wanted to chase Anaya away, he would not have doted on her for so many years. Now, he even gave her half of the property of the Dutt family.

Karley knew that Adams would not fall out with Anaya just because of her words. After saying this, she was even more anxious when she saw Anaya's indifferent look.

Anaya stood up and did not intend to waste any more time with Karley. "Karley, I do not intend to snatch anything from you. The Dutt family is yours. I will return it to you at the right time.

"Before that, please don't provoke me. If you provoke me, you will get nothing."

After that, Anaya walked out of the office in her high heels.

Karley took a bottle of mineral water to rinse her mouth. No matter how many times she rinsed her mouth, she still felt disgusted. Finally, she threw the mineral water bottle to the ground.

Karley thought hatefully, how dare she!

Anaya has taken my place for more than twenty years, and now she is vying with me for my family property!

How could she still have the cheek to say that she would return the property to me at the right time?

She clearly doesn't want to give it to me!

Anaya has stolen what belonged to me! I have to let her return it all!

After work in the afternoon, Anaya went to visit Silvia.

At the door of the ward, Anaya met Bryant, who was guarding the door.

She didn't expect that Bryant would come to Silvia's door so soon after they had changed the hospital.

The door of the ward was closed. Bryant must have been kicked out.

Bryant stood against the wall, raising his chin. His slovenly look now was a far cry from his delicate look on normal days.

When he saw Anaya, Bryant immediately stood up straight.

 Anaya, let Shiloh open the door. I want to see her..."

"Mr. Tirrell, you injured her so badly, and you still want to see her?" Anaya stopped in her tracks.

Hearing Anaya's question, Bryant felt a pain in his heart.

He felt sorry that he had injured Shiloh so seriously

But at first, Bryant did not know that Silvia was Shiloh!

He could not be blamed for this!

He didn't mean it!

"I didn't mean to hurt her. She should give me a chance," Bryant said.

"Give you a chance?" Anaya sneered. "Did you give her a chance that night? If it wasn't for Hearst's people arriving in time, Silvia might have died there that night!"

"Do you know what those men wanted to do to her if torture didn't yield results? Do you know that innocence matters to a woman?"

"You almost caused her to be... How could you have the cheek to ask her to give you a chance after you've done such a sinister thing?"

Silvia carried too many burdens. As Anaya spoke, she could not help but get excited.

If Silvia had not mentioned it to her, Anaya would not have known that Silvia had almost suffered such a terrible thing that night. Anaya only thought that Silvia had just been beaten.

Although she had not experienced what Silvia had experienced, Anaya knew how bitter Silvia was.

Bryant had harmed Silvia so much that he was not worthy of being forgiven!

Bryant knew how much he owed Silvia,

It was precisely because of this that he was unable to sleep at night. Every time Bryant thought about how he almost caused the woman he loved so much to die, his heart would ache as if it had been cut by a knife.

Bryant was domineering for his entire life and never gave in to anything.

But now, he lowered his dignity and said, with his head down, "I know that I have let her down, but as long as she is willing to give me a chance to make it up, I am willing to do my best to treat her well..."

"Anyone can make a promise, but how many could follow through?" Anaya interrupted him coldly.

“Besides, she doesn’t want what you want to give her. She probably doesn’t want to listen to your promise.”

After Anaya finished speaking, she passed by him and knocked on the door.

The door to the ward was opened by the nurse inside. Bryant wanted to break through forcefully, but he was stopped by the people Hearst left behind.

The door quickly closed again. Bryant looked at the door in a daze, as if he could see the person inside through the door.

Bryant would definitely have Silvia personally open this door for him.

He could do it!

After Anaya entered the room, she sat down on a chair next to the bed. “Are you seeing better today?”

Silvia was half lying down, and a smile appeared on her pale face. “I’m much better now. I wanted to go out for a walk, but someone had been guarding the door, so I didn’t go out.”

Bryant had been guarding outside the entire time. He couldn’t enter or leave, so they were in a deadlock

Anaya asked her, “He insisted on seeing you. Have you ever been soft-hearted?”

“He caused me to become like this. How can I be soft-hearted toward him?” Silvia shook her head.

Even if Bryant died in front of her, Silvia would not be sad for him for even a second.

“How are the preparations for the lawsuit with Tolon?”

I have already filed a lawsuit against him. We have to go through the procedure. However, I heard that Bryant’s father wants to settle the matter with money. I’m afraid it will be difficult for me to win this lawsuit.”

“Want me to help you?”

Silvia said with determination, “No, I should be able to deal with it. No matter how powerful the Tirrell family is, they can’t be lawless.

"There is always justice."

Hearing that, Anaya no longer asked more.

Silvia asked, "I heard from a few people outside that Mr. Helms went abroad?"

Anaya paused for a moment when Silvia mentioned Hearst and nodded, "Yes."

Hearst was always with Anaya, but he had been abroad for two days, and he didn't call her once.

Anaya even began to wonder if his confession was real.

Silvia looked at her and suddenly smiled, "Why do I feel that you seem to be a little disappointed? You miss him?"

"Why should I miss him? Whether he is here or not does not affect my life much," Anaya said.

"Is that so?" Silvia smiled in meaningfully.

Anaya stood up and said, "I came here today mainly to check how you are. Since you are fine, I will take my leave. I will visit you again."

With that, Anaya immediately left.

Silvia looked at Anaya as she walked out of the door. Anaya seemed to be fleeing.

It seemed that it wouldn't be long before Hearst got his beauty.

After leaving the ward, Anaya drove home.

It was getting late, and Anaya packed up food at a restaurant by the roadside and went home.

Sammo was guarding the entrance, and as soon as Anaya returned, it circled around her feet excitedly.

Anaya led it through the door and placed a dog bowl in the shape of a dog's paw under the coffee table. She fed it some food and then sat down on the sofa to have dinner.

She turned on the projector, wanting to see a movie.

Before she found the movie she wanted to watch, her phone rang on the table.

She picked it up and saw that it was from Hearst.

An hour ago, Anaya was still wondering why Hearst didn't call her after he went abroad, but now, she didn't expect him to call her.

Anaya cleared her throat and picked up the phone. "Hello?"

Chapter 140

Chapter 140

Chapter 140 No More Blood Transfusion This Time

"Are you home now?"

Hearst's voice came from the phone, as pleasant as ever.

"Yes. Why?" Anaya continued to search for movies using the remote.

"Open the door."

Anaya tightened her grip on the remote. She had a presumption.

She thought, didn't he say he would stay abroad for at least a week?

He's back already?

She stood up and walked towards the entrance.

She asked the man on the other end of the line, "Are you at the door?"

Hearst did not answer and waited for her to open the door to verify.

Anaya approached the entrance, and for some reason, she had some anticipation.

She opened the door.

In the empty corridor, she saw nothing but a small bottle of candy on the ground.

"You are not back?" Anaya bent down and picked up the bottle.

"No. I'm still in Las Vegas."

Anaya leaned against the door and could not help but smile, "Mr. Helms, since when do you make those small jokes?"

“Samuel said I should keep you at arm’s length. That’s the way to attract you always.”

Anaya teased, “He sounds like a relationship therapist.”

“Then tell me, were you looking forward to it just now?” She heard his pleasant, low laugh from the phone.

“Have a guess.” Anaya fiddled with the bottle in her hand.

“I think you were expecting me.”

Anaya refused to admit it. She said, “Mr. Helms, you’re reading too much into it.”

Hearst did not argue with her. The two chatted for a while and ended the call.

A

ya was in a much better mood. After dinner and watching a movie, she went back to bed.

The next day, she received a text message from Kelton, asking her to go out for dinner at night.

Since Karley returned, she had not been in touch with Kelton.

Now that Karley was confirmed as Adams’ granddaughter, Kelton was no longer Anaya’s cousin.

After the matter was exposed, Anaya had not contacted anyone from the Lomas family, more or less because she was avoiding them

But she couldn’t just run away from the fact

She replied to Kelton: “Text me the time and place.”

After receiving his reply, Anaya contacted the private investigator who had worked for her earlier and had her parents’ identities checked.

Though it was a long shot, she would try.

It was night, and Anaya went to the hotel.

Kelton booked a private room. Anaya asked the hotel reception for the floor and headed for the elevator.

When she went over, the elevator doors were about to close.

she quickened her pace and walked over, pressing the up button.

The elevator doors opened again, and she noticed the four people inside.

It was Joshua, Lexie, Bria, and Cecilia.

It was like a small family gathering

When the four people saw her, they had different expressions.

Without changing her expression, Anaya stepped into the elevator to press the floor button, only to find that the button for the floor she was heading to had been pressed already.

she would go to the same floor as those from the Maltz family.

Seeing that Anaya did not press the floor button, Bria muttered, "She isn't going to follow us up, is she?"

Anaya's deterrence last time worked. Bria didn't dare to provoke Anaya directly.

Anaya ignored Bria and quietly watched the elevator doors close.

"Anaya, do you want to eat with us?"

It wasn't Lexie who offered.

It was Cecilia.

Anaya was slightly surprised.

Anaya thought, normally, there's only one reason why Lexie would talk to me. Lexie wants to maintain her gentle and kind image

Cecilia, on the other hand, has always been at odds with me. Why would she be so enthusiastic today?

Ladie's face was originally full of smiles, but when she heard Cecilia's invitation, the look in her eyes suddenly changed.

Lexie glanced at Cecilia with a hint of warning in her eyes.

Lexie thought, does she find me not good enough? And she is now trying to win Anaya back?

Cecilia ignored Lexie's gaze and continued staring at Anaya, waiting for Anaya's reply.

Anaya was just about to refuse when she heard Joshua say, “Mom, why did you invite her? she must have heard about our plans and deliberately followed us here. Isn’t that exactly what she wants?”

Anaya pursed her lips. “Mr. Maltz, don’t you think you think too highly of yourself? I’m here to eat with my cousin. How come i’m a stalker in your mouth?”

“Isn’t stalking your favorite thing to do? i’m not you, Mr. Maltz. Such a kind of thing is too lowly for me.”

Joshua had indeed done a few unspeakable things before, and for a time, he couldn’t find any words to refute Anaya.

when the elevator reached the floor, Anaya got out first. Before leaving, she “kindly” warned, “Mr. Maltz, you are just starting to walk again, and you go for a long way to cat. You should be careful.

“Don’t get into another car accident or something like that in case you lose too much blood again. I won’t have a blood transfusion for you so easily this time.”

After she finished speaking, she left directly.

Joshua frowned.

What did she mean by that? Lose her blood for him?

What the heck was she talking about?

Lexie noticed Joshua’s expression and hurriedly said, “Joshua, let’s go to the private room. I’m a bit hungry.”

Joshua nodded but still frowned.

Anaya found the private room Kelton mentioned, pushed open the door, and walked in.

The people in the private room were those from the Lomas family and ... Karley.

They were also stunned when they saw her.

“Anaya, why are you here?” Kelton stood up from the chair, feeling a little uneasy.

“Didn’t you text me to come over?” asked Anaya.

Kelton was a little confused. “No.”

“You didn’t text me this morning?”

Kelton shook his head. To make sure, he took out his phone and checked it again.

He did not text Anaya.

Anaya realized something. "Did Karley use your phone?"

Kelton glanced at Karley suspiciously. "I don't know. I didn't see her use it. I did leave my phone next to her this morning, though..."

Seeing that Kelton doubted her, Karley hurriedly said, "Kelton, I wasn't even near your phone."

"Then where did this message come from?" Anaya took out her phone and showed them the message.

Karley was a little relieved, her voice soft, "I don't know..."

Anaya looked at Karley with ridicule in her eyes.

Laila Julius, Karley's mom, opened her mouth to ease the tension. She said, "Anaya, I think it's a misunderstanding. Karley is a good girl, and she won't do anything like that. Now that you're here, why don't you sit down and join us?"

"I'll pass, thanks." Anaya looked away from Karley. "I think it's a family dinner."

Anaya refused casually, while Karley caught the word "family" said by Anaya. Karley said, "Anaya, although I am my uncle and aunt's niece, we think of you as family, too, sit down and eat together with us."

Karley clearly drew a line between Anaya and the rest of them

Karley said it as if she was the hostess, while Anaya was the guest.

"OK" Anaya did not refuse, she raised her tousled lips.
