Chapter 81 Anaya Has an Abortion

Yamilet felt that it was a little strange.

The man kept staring at Anaya's back. He looked like a cold man. But when he looked at Anaya there was love in his eyes.

Was Yamilet mistaken?

Yamilet was curious. But Yamilet was not familiar with Anaya and did not ask Anaya about it.

Anaya and Yamilet went up to the ninth floor, and the medical staff was already waiting at the door.

Anaya asked Yamilet, "Are you sure you want to do it?"

Yamilet had made up her mind when she saw the pregnancy test results. "This baby is a mistake. It's the best choice for both of us."

Yamilet said decisively. But Anaya could not understand the sorrow in Yamilet's eyes.

"Go inside. I'll wait for you outside."

Before entering the operating room, Yamilet said, "Ms. Dutt, I owe you a big one. I'll do whatever I can if you ever need my help. Please keep it a secret."

It was not a big deal to keep it a secret. Anaya nodded..

Not long after Yarilet entered, Hearst returned with two servings of food.

He bought some chips and hamburgers on the street opposite the hospital.

Anaya asked, “Do you want to eat here?”

“Why not?

“I just feel that eating snacks in the hospital corridor is a bit...”

“A bit what?

it’s a bit strange.” Anaya finally found the word, “You look like the type of guy who only eats in fancy restaurants.”

“Is that what you think of me?” He was amused by her and his thin lips curved into a smile. “I once

Although Anaya had already guessed it, a lot was going on in her mind when she really heard it.

Hearst had done a lot of things, but he never told her.

It was as if Hearst could take delight in protecting her.

Anaya turned her head and looked at the scenery outside the window. She whispered, “Hearst, don’t be so kind to me. I’m afraid...”

What was Anaya afraid of?

Anaya paused, not knowing what to say.

Hearst heard her words, but he did not ask her what she was afraid of.

He had always been like this. He would never force her to answer him. He allowed her to make decisions on her own.

He never pushed her, but he was determined to win her love.

When they arrived at the apartment, Anaya got out of the car and said, “Goodbye.”

Then she turned around and left. She fled helter-skelter.

Hearst turned his head and looked in the direction she had left. There was a faint smile on his face.

He said softly, “Good night.”

Then he turned around and left.

Bria arrived at the Maltz’s home and headed straight for Joshua’s study.

Bria was anxious but she still knocked on the door.

Joshua didn’t like it when others behaved impolitely.

Even if Bria was his cousin, it was the same.

Joshua’s flat voice sounded from inside the door. “Come in.”

Bria pushed the door open and closed it. She rushed to Joshua and asked, Joshua, do you know whom I met at the hospital tonight?”

Joshua looked at the project on the table and did not look up. “Who?”

“Anaya and her boyfriend, Hearst!”

Hearing this. Joshua raised his head, his calm and handsome face looking impatient. “So what?

You came over in the middle of the night just to tell me this?”

“The point is, they went to the gynecology department!” Bria was a little emotional, and her pitch turned high. “Hearst accompanied Anaya to the hospital. Anaya had an abortion!”

Chapter 82 How Dare Anaya!

Hearing this, Joshua frowned unconsciously. “What’s going on?”

“I went to the hospital tonight. When I passed by the door of the operating room, I happened to meet Hearst. I heard their conversation. It seemed that Anaya went to have an abortion.

“I asked my mother to ask her friend to help me. What she did was indeed an abortion surgery!

“Joshua, do you know? Anaya has been pregnant for two months! You and she have not divorced two months ago!” Bria said angrily.

“Are you telling the truth?” Joshua frowned.

He had never touched Anaya in the year of marriage.

If Anaya was really pregnant, this child could only be Hearst’s.

Bria took out her phone and checked Anaya’s medical records. “This is the record of Anaya’s consultation tonight. Take a look.”

Joshua took her phone and saw it clearly. His face instantly darkened Bria was angry when Anaya snatched the project of McKlein Inc.

Joshua refused to help Bria. Bria could not defeat Anaya, so she could only hold back her anger.

Today, she finally caught hold of Anaya’s weakness. She wanted Joshua to go and tear Anaya up right now.

She added fuel to the fire and said, “Joshua, although she and you have divorced, the fact that she had an affair is true! She said that Lexie slandered her before. Why is this woman so shameless?

“I saw the evidence against Lexie on her Twitter. It might not be true. You have to check it again. Don’t be fooled by her.

“She treats you like this, so you can’t let her go so easily! You must let her and her adulterer...”

“Shut up

Joshua was annoyed by her.

Bria was shocked by his sudden reprimand and fell silent.

Joshua returned the phone to her. "You are not allowed to spread this matter."

"I know." Domestic shame should not be made public. Cecilia and Joshua both cared about their reputation. Bria naturally would not challenge their bottom line. "Joshua, how do you plan to deal

As soon as she heard the names of these two people, Aracely instantly became interested. “Send me the time and place. I’ll call Anaya and go together!”

Before, Anaya said that Joshua would not break up with Lexie because of the trending topic.

Aracely did not believe it, but it was actually true!

Joshua was very affectionate towards Lexie and even opened a studio for her!

There was no way for Aracely to watch Anaya suck it up while those two went everywhere together.

Lexie had been hanging around Joshua all day and showing off. Did she really think that she could replace Anaya?

After persuading Aracely, Winston informed Anaya in advance.

Anaya had just finished chatting with Winston when a message came from Hearst.

Hearst: “You owed me a meal last night. Will you pay me back today?”

Anaya: “I have a dinner party to attend tonight. Sorry, next time.”

Anaya sent a message, but there was no reply.

After rejecting Hearst twice in a row, Anaya felt guilty.

Time was limited. Anaya intended to go home and change her clothes after work, but Aracely personally came to the company to pick her up. Aracely took Anaya to the nearest beauty salon and did her makeup.

Anaya felt a little helpless. “The limelight belongs to the models on the runway. Why do I have to dress up?”

“Tonight, Lexie and Joshua will come. You can’t look worse than them! You have to prove that you are living a carefree life after getting divorced!”

Anaya actually didn’t care about this.

She was divorced, and she just wanted to have her own life.

However, Aracely was in high spirits, so Anaya didn’t want to disappoint her.

Tonight’s business banquet was held at a club called Maploem Club, and the two of them packed up and set off from the beauty salon.

The car stopped at the main entrance of Maploem Club, and the driver went around to open the door for the two ladies.

Anaya got out of the car and looked up to see a handsome man walking towards them.

Anava looked at Hearst, who was walking toward her. Anaya asked, “What are you doing here?”

“Ms., Tarleton said that you need a date.” Hearst looked indifferently.

Anaya looked at Aracely.

Aracely immediately explained, “I just wanted to help you piss Joshua off. As you can see, Joshua and Lexie are doing so great. You have to show that you still can live a better life without that jerk.”

Anaya looked a little annoyed.

Standing in front of Anaya with his back to the light, Hearst looked down at Anaya with his dark cold eyes. “Why the long face? You don’t wanna see me here?” he asked.

“No,” Anaya bit her lower lip and continued, “I just hate to put you through this because of my personal reason.”

Anaya felt bad about using others.

Anaya didn’t want to end up like Joshua.

Joshua enjoyed taking advantage of those who cared about him, which made Anaya sick.

Aracely realized that she was wrong, so she immediately apologized, “Mr. Helms, I’m really sorry. I let my anger get the best of me. Please forgive me. I really should have considered your feelings.”

“Doesn’t matter. Let’s go in there.”

The three of them walked into Maploem Club.

Anaya wore a blue backless evening gown that framed her curvy figure, especially her thin waist. Walking in with grace and sex appeal, Anaya was eye-catching.

Anaya attracted everyone’s attention at once as she walked in.

Aracely held onto Anaya’s slender and fair arm. “You’re born to be the center of attention, Anaya,” Aracely whispered proudly

Anaya smiled, “You look gorgeous too, Aracely.”

Anaya cut in, "Just drop the act. You're no friend to me."

Lexie pretended to sob, "Anaya..."

At the same time, Lexie secretly glanced at Joshua.

With a sullen face, Joshua silently looked at Hearst who stood beside Anaya.

Lexie knew what Joshua was thinking. Even though Lexie was pissed off, she tried not to show it.

She had gotten back together with Joshua not long before. It was a critical time. Lexie didn't want to screw things up

Lexie admitted that she was too impulsive. She thought, shit. I shouldn't have shown off in front of Anaya.

Lexie hoped that Joshua wouldn't overthink it.

Sensing Lexie's embarrassment, Bria stood up for Lexie and instantly changed the subject "Lexie. did Joshua say that he was going to buy Felix's stunning dress for you tonight?

"As I know, Joshua never brought Anaya anything. I heard that it was Anaya who brought herself the wedding ring and the house when they got married."

There was a scheduled fashion show at the business party to display the Hader family's new products

Not long ago, Felix Turner, a world-class fashion designer, promised to work with the Hader family. Felix's first dress after Felix worked under the Hader family was named "Dew". It was said that "Dew" would make its public debut in the fashion show.

All the clothes at the show could be brought. Therefore, all rich ladies' hearts were set on Felix's dress.

Lexie hurriedly waved her hand and replied, "Joshua's all talk. Besides, I can't accept such a valuable gift."

Joshua wants to buy it for you because he cares about you. I don't see why you can't accept it. Isn't it natural for a man to buy his girl things?"

Mark always bought Bria a lot of jewelry. Bria saw nothing wrong with that and took it for granted.

"Bria, I don't think so..."

Hearing Lexie and Bria's unreasonable words, Aracely couldn't help but roll her eyes at them. "The show hasn't started yet, but you sound like you've bought Felix's dress. Ms. Aucher, why are you so sure that the dress is gonna be Lexie's?" Aracely snorted.

Bria said firmly, "I know it will. No matter how much it costs, Joshua will buy it for Lexie!"

Chapter 84 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 84 I'll Buy it for You

Joshua frowned when he heard this.

When they were in the car, Bria had been telling Lexie about the "Dew." He felt annoyed, so he casually said that he would buy it for Lexie and asked them to go back to discuss it.

Why did Bria understand it this way?

Hearing Bria's words, Anaya raised her eyebrows. "Is that so? Then let's see who bids higher later."

Bria was so confident. Anaya was hesitating whether to bid too and make Joshua pay more later.

Anaya was lost in thought when Hearst, who had been quiet, spoke lightly. "You want to have that dress?"

"Huh?" Anaya turned to look at him. "Yes, I do."

She was not interested in this dress, but she still wanted to raise the price.

"I'll buy it for you."

Joshua, who was opposite him, instantly put on a grim look and stared at the two of them.

He had no intention of buying this dress.

However, now, he changed his mind.

Anaya knew that Hearst always kept his word, so she hastened to say, "No need. I'll buy it myself."

Hearst did not respond.

Bria said in a mocking tone, "Anaya, do you think I don't know the current situation of the Dutt family? Adams has collapsed, and Frank has been missing. At such a tense stage, how can you still have the money to compete with us?"

“To fight for dignity. It’s worth it.” Anaya deliberately provoked her. “If you bid 160 thousand dollars, I will bid 1.6 million dollars. If you bid 1.6 million dollars, I will bid 16 million dollars. I am very curious how much Ms. Dunbar is worth in Mr. Maltz’s eyes?”

Since Bria had already said that Joshua would buy the dress no matter how much it cost, what was there to be afraid of?

Anaya could just raise the price as much as possible.

Anyway, she wouldn’t be the one to pay in the end.

Bria shouted, “Of course it’s priceless! Lexie is the person my brother cares about most!”

“Really?” Anaya looked surprised. “Since she is priceless, why did Joshua give up on her for 800 million dollars a year ago?”

"He's still working in the company." Aracely put away her phone. "Anaya, let's go to the show stage It's boring here."

Anaya responded and was about to go find Hearst and ask him to come along.

A waitress came over and asked, "Are you Ms. Dutt?"

Anaya nodded. The waiter continued talking, "Ms. Dutt, Mr. Helms asked you to wait for him backstage. Please follow me."

What does he want to do?"

"I'm not sure about it. You need to confirm it yourself."

Anaya didn't ask further and then said to Aracely, "Aracely, would you like to go together?"

Aracely smiled mockingly. "He only wants to meet you. Why should I go? Do I look that insensible?"

Anaya knocked on Aracely's head. "Then you may go around yourself."

"OK"

Anaya followed the waitress around and walked to the preparation room backstage.

The corridor was full of people, and the staff was very busy.

From afar, Anaya heard Bria's unreasonable roar coming from one of the rooms. "What do you mean by being sold? The runway show hasn't even started yet. Who can you sell the 'Dew' to? Is it because you think we can't afford it that you deliberately don't want to show it to us?"

As she approached, Anaya could still hear Lexie's gentle voice. "Bria, don't be angry. She is the person in charge here. She shouldn't lie to us. Since the dress has been sold, just let go."

"How can we let go? This person is clearly a snob! Joshua, look at him..."

"Enough!" Joshua said in a stern voice. "Mind your manners. You are a lady of the Aucher family, not a vulgar bumpkin. Don't shout all the time!"

Anaya listened outside and felt somewhat amused.

Didn't Joshua himself often shout hysterically at her?

He always acted like a gentleman in front of outsiders.

She walked to the door, and Joshua asked, "Who did you sell the 'Dew' to?"

Joshua showed a powerful demeanor. Facing his gaze, the person in charge felt frightened and answered, "It was bought by Mr. Helms for his girlfriend."

Helms?' Joshua's eyelids twitched.

The next second, Anaya pushed open the door and walked in.

'Hi's quite lively here,' she said with a smile.

Chapter 85 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 85 Feelings for Anaya

When the people in the room saw Anaya, they had different expressions.

What was she doing here? Joshua guessed in his heart. His cold eyes stared straight at her.

At this time, Bria was already full of anger. Not long ago, Bria was sneered at by Anaya. Now, all of Bria's negative emotions were directed at Anaya, “Anaya, are you a tagalong? You follow us everywhere. Are you jealous that Joshua and Lexie went out together? So you followed us and wanted to cause us trouble, right?”

The main reason why Anaya came today was to keep an eye on Aracely, and Anaya did not want to cause trouble.

However, Anaya did not expect Bria to repeatedly provoke her.

Anaya thought, does Bria think I am afraid of her?

“Ms. Aucher, please figure out one thing. I was the one who divorced Joshua. Even if he slept with Lexie right now, I would have no interest in their affairs.” Anaya looked at Bria with sharp and icy eyes.

Joshua already knew that Anaya had given up on him.

However, as he heard it, he felt a little depressed.

Last night, after Joshua found out that Anaya and Hearst went to the hospital for an abortion, Joshua made up his mind not to pay attention to the two of them anymore.

So when Bria and Anaya quarreled today. Joshua did not interfere and just watched coldly.

The emotions that he had been trying to suppress surged up inside him at this moment, turning into a sharp sword that pierced his heart.

Joshua finally clearly realized that he had feelings for Anaya.

He finally understood what the uncomfortable feeling in his heart was every time he saw Anaya with other men after the divorce.

Joshua was jealous.

It wasn't out of possessiveness, but because he liked her.

Such feelings had once appeared when Joshua was a teenager

She now could guess what he was thinking.

"Alright, I'll tell Trevor that I don't want it."

Hearst knew that Anaya had wanted to buy this dress just to get back at Joshua and the others.

Now that she had vented her anger, it didn't matter who took the dress away.

Bria was ignored, and her face turned purple with anger. She began to speak incoherently. "Anaya, you're very capable. You've hooked up with a rich man. No wonder you had the confidence to compete with us just now! How much can you earn by sleeping with this person for a night? Do you have as much money as when you were Mrs. Maltz? You're shameless..."

Thwack!"

A slap landed on Bria's face, and half her face quickly swelled up.

The slap was not from Anaya or Hearst.

The person who attacked was Joshua.

Bria covered her face in disbelief, feeling both angry and aggrieved. "Joshua! Why did you hit me?! just told the truth..."

Joshua gritted his teeth and scolded, "Shut up! Don't you think it's embarrassing enough? You're so rude. Is this what the Aucher family taught you?"

Joshua was already in a bad mood, and Bria was being unreasonable, so how could he endure it?

When had Bria ever seen Joshua so angry before?

After being yelled at, Bria instantly did not dare to make a sound.

Lexie acted as the mediator. Joshua, Bria made a mistake, but you didn't have to hit her."

Joshua did not respond to Lexie, and his face was grim

Seeing such a farce, Anaya clicked her tongue.

It turned out that Joshua wouldn't just hit her.

It seemed that whoever was close to him was unlucky.

The farce finally ended. Anaya did not stay any longer and left with Hearst.

Before leaving, she smiled at Bria and Lexie, "I won't compete with you for 'Dew' later.

"This dress seems to be more suitable for Ms. Dunbar."

Lexie gritted her teeth.

Lexie thought, how can I possibly want something that Anaya doesn't want?

Is Anaya mocking me for picking things that she doesn't want?

Even though she was extremely angry, Lexie could only suppress her anger.

If Lexie married Joshua, the first thing she would do was deal with Anaya.

Chapter 86 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 86 Their New Lovers

When Anaya and Hearst came out, the runway show had already begun.

Aracely had saved seats for them. She leaned toward Anaya and asked curiously, "Why did you come out together? Were you doing something unspeakable behind my back?"

Anaya pushed Aracely away with a stern face and told Aracely briefly what happened backstage.

After Aracely heard it, she laughed, rocking back and forth. "I didn't expect that piece of shit would be so heartless to his own people. Admirable!

"No wonder I only saw Joshua and Lexie coming over just now and didn't see Bria. Bria must have a swollen face from the beating and have gone home to recover from it!"

After she finished laughing, Aracely whispered in Anaya's ear, "But what does Mr. Helms do? He actually could make that stingy old bastard, Trevor, give this dress to him. That's really something."

"I didn't ask."

Anaya didn't want to pry into others' affairs.

They had met so many times, but Hearst never talked about his job with Anaya. It must be because he didn't want her to know.

"I don't think he is poor. Could he be from some rich family?"

There is no Helms in Boston's high society."

"Could it be that he has just come back to this country? Last time, you said he was on a business trip in Australia."

Just then, Jared's name flashed through Anaya's mind.

The mysterious and elusive CEO of Prudential Group.

If Hearst was Jared, then it made sense that Prudential Group would agree to invest in Riven

Group

The seed of doubt was planted in Anaya's mind. Anaya spent the rest of the time thinking about this thing she didn't even pay any attention to who got that dress in the end.

Aracely wanted Hearst to send Anaya back. So before the event ended, she tricked Anaya out of Yarden hurriedly went to apologize to Anaya. Fortunately. Anaya did not mind this joke and did not get angry with him.

Meanwhile, at Prudential Group.

Jayden entered Hearst's office with some documents. Seeing that Hearst was looking at his phone, Jayden waited nearby.

Suddenly, Hearst asked, "Are Yarden and Anaya close?"

"I heard that they are friends," Jayden hesitated for a moment and said, "At Mr. Dutt's birthday party last time, Mr. Simpson said that he would marry Ms. Dutt when he grew up, but it should be a joke."

Hearst looked up and asked, "Why didn't you tell me about it?"

"You have been busy taking care of Ms. Dutt at that time. I figured you wouldn't want to be disturbed..."

And after that, Jayden forgot about it.

His job was to buy and sell stocks and raise money for the projects. His boss's love life was not his concern.

Hearst tapped on the smooth surface of the table. "I remember that the young miss of the Cooper family likes Yarden?" a

Chapter 87 Determined to Be His Enemy

Yarden was lying on the king-size bed in the hotel and lavishing praise on Anaya. He was about to ask Anaya out for lunch when he suddenly received a call from Kim.

"Yarden, when are you coming back?"

"I plan to go back right before the university starts. What's up?"

Kim glanced at the young miss of the Cooper family sitting in the living room who was talking and laughing with his mom. "Your grandmother went for a walk by the river today and accidentally fell and hurt her leg. Hurry and come back."

Yarden sat bolt upright. "Is it serious? Which hospital are you in?"

"It's a bit serious. They are putting her leg into a cast. Central Hospital. Hurry up and take a plane back. I'll get someone to pick you up."

Yarden nodded and hung up. He immediately booked the earliest flight and rushed to the airport after packing up his luggage.

Only when Yarden arrived at the departure lounge did he have time to reply to Anaya.

Yarden: "Anaya, my grandma hurt her leg. I have to go back to see her. I'm already at the airport. Let's have lunch together another day."

Yarden got the reply a while later: "Okay. Tell her I hope everything will be alright."

Yarden heard the boarding announcement for his flight. He hurriedly replied with an "OK" and dragged his mini suitcase onto the plane.

At the foot of Riven Group's building.

After Anaya sent the message, Hearst leaned against the car and asked her, "So?"

"I got stood up. Let's go."

Anaya owed Hearst a meal. Just now, Hearst asked her out. Anaya had wanted to reject Hearst because she thought she would have lunch with Yarden, but Yarden suddenly had to go home.

Yarden left in such a hurry. His grandma's condition must be serious.

But Anaya hoped there was nothing serious

The restaurant that Hearst took her to today was still Cosette Restaurant

Their table was at the same place as last time. It was by the window and favored by natural light. If one looked out the window, one could see the forest park not far away.

"Don't tell me you've bought this table."

It was difficult to make a reservation at Cosette Restaurant. Hearst had taken her here twice, and it was the same table both times. It was a bit too much of a coincidence.

Hearst lowered his eyes to look at the menu. “No,” he said.

He had only bought this whole place.

After ordering, Hearst poured water for her and asked, “Who stood you up?”

“Yarden.”

She was really determined to be his enemy!

Joshua did not speak for a long time. Alex tentatively asked, "Mr. Maltz, are we still removing this trending topic?"

"Let it be."

He knew that Anaya was very stubborn.

If Anaya made up her mind to mess with him, neither of them would be the winner if Joshua chose to fight her till the end. They would only make the middleman earn a large sum of money.

Now that the Maltz family had gained a firm foothold, a little bit of gossip about him would not affect their stock prices at all.

"Yes."

Alex heaved a sigh of relief and left the office.

The news about the business party had trended for two days. Even Anaya was stunned.

Were the netizens so enthusiastic in criticizing that scumbag and home wrecker?

"Anaya, what are you looking at?"

Adams called out to Anaya. Anaya came back to her senses and put down her phone.

"Some

news."

Adams had recovered a lot over the past two days, and he would be able to get out of bed and walk again soon.

If not for Frank, Adams would be able to work and live like a healthy person now.

Thinking of what had happened at the birthday party that night, Anaya still felt scared.

If she had not learned how to perform CPR in her previous life, or if the ambulance had been late.

then she would have lost the last of her family.

Adams was her only family now, and she must not lose him no matter what.

“How does Frank’s case go?”

The first trial is over, and the sentence is life imprisonment. Frank filed an appeal and wanted a lighter sentence. I will try to pressure the court to end this matter as soon as possible.”

Adarns nodded. “How is the company?”

“Everything is fine Get beller soon When you are discharged from the hospital, come back and take over the company Then I’ll be free and able to travel the world with Aracely.”

“You are so cruel. I am already so old, and yet you still want me to work...”

Anava staved at the hospital until seven o’clock in the evening. When she arrived at the foot of her apartment, Anaya received a call from the private detective who told Anaya that he had gotten the evidence on Darren and Alyson.

The two were indeed seeing each other during this period of time. They had even stayed at a hotel together, and there was also a medical certificate for Alyson’s infertility.

Chapter 88 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 88 He Pushes Her Away Again

Receiving the evidence, Anaya immediately called Aracely to ask her out to meet up.

However, Aracely’s call could not get through.

Anaya had a bad feeling and then called Winston instead.

“Winston is Aracely at home?”

“Aracely told me an hour ago that she was going to find you and have dinner. Isn’t Aracely with you?”

Anaya’s heart skipped a beat. Anaya became more and more anxious. Anaya answered, “No. I tried to call Aracely but I couldn’t get through.”

Winston was silent for a few seconds and quickly made a decision. “Call your friends first and ask if your friends know Aracely’s whereabouts. I’ll come and find you.”

“Alright.”

After hanging up, Anaya asked her friends one by one, but no one knew where Aracely was.

In Anaya’s mind, there was the image of Aracely, who was covered in wounds from her previous life, lying in the morgue. Anaya was anxious and tried to keep calm.

As soon as Winston came over, the two of them went to the bar where Darren was a regular singer.

As expected, Darren did not attend the show today.

Deafening music came from the dance floor. Anaya raised her voice and asked the drummer, “Where did Darren go?”

The drummer was the man who said that Aracely was a Fanee the last time. He leaned on the sofa and held a woman in his arms. His attitude was perfunctory. He said, “Why would I know anything about him?”

After the drummer finished speaking, he suddenly scanned Anaya, putting on a malicious smile. He said, “If you can stay with me for a night, I might be able to tell you where Darren is. Darren and that stupid woman, Aracely, are probably doing it...”

Before he finished speaking, a figure behind Anaya rushed forward, picked up the drummer, threw him on the table, picked up the beer bottle on the table, and smashed it heavily on the head of the drummer

On the glass table full of bottles and snacks, blood gradually spread.

The music that was about to flip the roof over could not cover the heart-wrenching screams of the drummer

Winston had always been a warm and gentle guy in Anaya's mind. Winston was good to Anaya and Aracely. Even if Winston was angry, he would only scold them.

Anaya thought that a modest gentleman like Winston would have nothing to do with such a rude thing as fighting

Anaya didn't expect Winston would be so ruthless when Winston went crazy.

When the surrounding people saw this, they all hid far away.

There was a wound on the drummer's head, and he kept wailing. He tried his best to fight back, but Winston held him down. And the drummer could not move.

"Where is Aracely?" Winston's usually warm face was as gloomy as a demon's face.

"The Collard family is considered a prestigious family in Boston. Mr. Collard, aren't you afraid of embarrassing the Collard family by looking for trouble like a local ruffian?"

"I am willing to do that!" Darren was unreasonable. Darren continued, "Since you and Winston are on the same boat, I will deal with you bitch first... Ah!"

Before Darren could finish speaking, Anaya had already knocked Darren to the ground.

Anaya stopped and looked down at Darren. Anaya said, "Mr. Collard, we are all in the same circle. Maybe we will meet again at a gathering. Don't be indecent."

When Darren was beaten up by Winston earlier, Darren was already extremely angry. Darren held his anger and waited to vent it.

However, Darren was defeated again by Anaya, a woman. Darren felt even more humiliated. Darren could not listen to Anaya at all and ordered the people around him, "What are you all standing there for? Go! You are men. Are you afraid of this bitch?"

Darren's companions heard this and rushed forward.

Anaya had been training in the gym for a period of time, and her combat skills had obviously improved, but it was still a little difficult to deal with the several punks with rods.

Anaya knocked down a hooligan and was about to pick up his weapon when that man suddenly jumped up and grabbed the rod to hit her leg.

Anaya let out a groan of pain and half knelt on the ground.

The man still wanted to give her another blow, but he was kicked away by Joshua, who rushed over. That man knocked over the trash can on the side of the road, and he was unable to get up again.

Joshua said, "Are you alright?"

Anaya was surprised that Joshua would help her. Anaya shook her head. When Anaya was about to thank Joshua, Anaya suddenly saw someone rushing over from behind Joshua.

"Be careful!"

Joshua suddenly looked sharp. Joshua turned around and swept his leg, and the man fell to the ground.

Joshua took off his suit jacket and threw it on the ground. Joshua stood in front of Anaya and picked up the iron rod. Joshua was full of killing intent.

In the past, Joshua had always been in a suit and dressed like an elite, but today, Joshua was more ruthless than those hooligans, and every move was fatal.

After an unknown period of time, those people all fell to the ground, and only Joshua was still standing.

After Joshua finished with the last person, Joshua quickly turned around and helped Anaya up. The Viciousness in Joshua's eyes dispersed. Joshua looked worried and said, "Does your leg still hurt?"

Anaya endured the pain and shook her head.

Lexie looked at the two of them supporting each other, and her nails dug deep into her palms.

They have already divorced. Why is Joshua helping Anaya?

Anaya deserves to die here!

A hooligan crawled to Lexie's feet and grabbed Lexie's ankle.

The man's breath was weak, and he had no attack power. He probably just wanted to find something to help him up

Lexie lowered her head to take a look and deliberately let out a scream in panic.

Joshua, help me!"

Joshua was helping Anaya up when he heard Lexie cry. And Joshua's expression changed. Joshua couldn't care about anything else and accidentally pushed Anaya away, Joshua turned around and rushed to Lexie's side. Joshua kicked the person next to Lexie away and tightly hugged Lexie.

At the same time, Joshua heard a groan coming from behind him.

Chapter 89 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 89 The Injury Is Caused by Him

Joshua turned his head to look.

Anaya's head hit the wall, and there were traces of blood oozing from her forehead, which was a stark contrast to her fair skin.

Anaya frowned. But she did not say a word, complain, or get angry.

Joshua's eyes were stung by the bright red blood.

He was the one who pushed her away.

But he didn't do it on purpose.

Joshua clenched his fists. Strong self-blame and all kinds of indescribable emotions filled his entire chest. He felt uncomfortable.

He wanted to go over and apologize, but Lexie put her arms around his waist tightly and buried her head in his arms. She seemed to be scared. "Joshua, thank you. I was really scared by that person who suddenly grabbed me just now."

Joshua was agitated, and he casually comforted Lexie with a few words and was about to go to Anaya's side.

Without waiting for him to go over, the police rushed over and took all the people involved in the matter.

When they arrived at the police station, the police took Anaya to a room alone and bandaged the wound on her head, while Joshua and Lexie were arranged to make a statement next door.

Joshua and Lexie didn't know much about the whole thing. They just helped Anaya when she was in danger, and the statement was quickly finished.

When they reached the door next door, the female police officer had just finished wrapping the wound on Anaya's forehead.

The female police officer put away the gauze and medical alcohol and said, "This group of hooligans actually hit a girl and left wounds in such an obvious place. What if you are disfigured?"

Anaya rubbed her leg and casually said, "They didn't do this to me."

Outside the door, Joshua's action of pushing the door stopped, and he felt guilty

Although Joshua didn't do it on purpose, he was the one who caused Anaya injured on the forehead.

"If it weren't them, then who did it?" the female police officer asked.

Aniaya did not answer. "May I ask if you are going to start taking the statement now?"

"I'll take you there," the female police officer said.

The female police officer pushed open the door and saw Joshua and Lexie at the door. "It just so happens that you guys are here too. Let's go to Darren together. We need to check the accordance of your statement."

After the divorce, he could only see her leaving figure.
For a moment, Joshua had the urge to put down Lexie and chase Anaya back.

But soon, he dismissed the idea and fell into self-blame.

Joshua
thought, Lexie is the person who gave me a second chance at life. How can I put Anaya in a more important position than Lexie?

Even if it is only for an instant thought, I shouldn't have it.

It must be because I accidentally pushed Anaya and caused her to be injured. I felt guilt

Joshua tried his best to convince himself to stop thinking nonsense. He turned to Lexie and said,

"Let's go. I'll send you home."

Anaya walked to the side of the road and took out her phone to call a taxi but found that her phone had shut off automatically.

She did not have any cash on her, so she couldn't hail a taxi.

Anaya did not stay where she was and walked forward.

This place was not too far from the apartment she rented, and it would take more than twenty minutes to arrive

Although the wound on her leg would still hurt, Anaya still could endure it.

She would rather walk home than go back to the police station to borrow money from Joshua.

It was late at night, and there were fewer cars on the road, and Anaya was the only one walking slowly on the sidewalk that was planted with sycamore trees.

After walking for an unknown period, a skinny man walked towards Anaya, Anaya glanced at him, then continued walking on the floor tiles that had some cracks on them.

As the man brushed past Anaya, he suddenly snatched the phone in her hand and pushed her into the green belt.

Anaya's leg was already in pain, and with this twist, she was in so much pain that she broke out in cold sweat.

She thought, today is an unlucky day.

One after another bad things happened to me.

She wanted to chase her phone back, but she felt powerless and could not stand up no matter what.

She sat there in a daze for a while, then suddenly grabbed a handful of grass beside her, pulled it up, and threw it out as if she was venting her anger.

"Ms. Dutt."

Hearing this voice, Anaya was stunned.

Chapter 90 You Get the Wrong Person

Aniaya looked up and saw Hearst standing silhouetted against the sun in front of her.

As usual, Hearst was cold and handsome.

Anaya remembered her current sorry state, looked down, slowly moved, and hid her upper body behind the short shrubs.

Her voice was a little muffled, "You got the wrong person."

Hearst laughed. He stepped into the green belt, grabbed Anaya's wrist, and lifted her up.

Anaya felt a blur in front of her eyes before falling into Hearst's warm arms.

Anaya's nostrils were filled with the scent of the herbs she was familiar with.

In the past, Anaya resisted Hearst's closeness, but today, she did not push him away immediately.

She asked, "Why do you always have the smell of medicine on you?"

"I need to take medicine to nourish my body." Hearst pulled Anaya out and helped her steady herself. Then, he took out a phone from his pocket. "This is your phone."

"Thank you." Anaya took the phone and looked at the road. "Where is the robber?"

"He was sent to the police station. Let me take you back." Hearst didn't say much more.

His car was parked not far away.

Anaya nodded and walked forward.

Hearst noticed that her walking posture was a little strange. "Did you get hurt?"

Anaya nodded

"Did you fall just now?"

"Yes,"

The previous matter was troublesome to explain, and Anaya didn't want to talk now, so she casually replied

Anaya was walking forward when Hearst suddenly held her waist.

Anaya was shocked Her head was spinning, and Hearst picked her up.

Anaya's heart was beating fast. She didn't know if it was because she was scared or something else. "Why are you suddenly like this?" she asked.

"You taught me last time."

It’s not about stereotypical impressions.” Anaya liked some rock stars. She was just stating the facts. “I have some things here that you might need to take a look at.”

Anaya was worried that Aracely would go back to Darren to discuss what happened last night, so she decided to cut it short and directly handed over all the information the detective obtained to

Aracely

After looking at it, Aracely stood up from the sofa with a “whoosh” sound. Her expression was filled with disbelief. “Where did you get this?”

“I suspected that there was something wrong with Darren earlier, so I asked a detective to investigate. All the information is real.”

Aracely was stunned for a while before she fell back onto the sofa and muttered, “Anaya, you are afraid that I will feel pressured because I betrayed Darren, so you prepared the fake information to deceive me. You want me to accept my betrayal calmly, right?”

Anaya did not speak.

However, Aracely understood what Anaya meant.

“So, Darren is with me because he wants me to be a surrogate mother. He doesn’t like me at all.”

Although Anaya couldn’t bear to tell Aracely the truth, Anaya nodded.

She was worried that Aracely would collapse, so she was ready to give her a comforting hug at any time.

Unexpectedly, Aracely's sadness only lasted for less than a minute. She wiped away her snot and tears and snapped, "Where's that bastard Darren? I'm going to castrate him!"

Essentially, Aracely's good impression of Darren was basically based on her self-worship and one sided wishful thinking toward freedom.

Now that Darren's image collapsed, Aracely would leave decisively.

Just like those girls who were clear-headed, if they knew that their idol was scum, they might even come back and trash-talk him,

Moreover, they might trash-talk him the most ruthlessly.

Seeing that Aracely was so free and easy. Anaya laughed.

Fortunately, in this life, Aracely recognized Darren's true colors before her feelings for him reached the stage where she was unable to part with him. She let go of him.

"Darren is in the police station. If you want to see him, I can take you there. But if you want to castrate him, the police may not allow you to do it."

"Why did he enter the police station?"

Anaya told Aracely everything that happened last night, and Aracely scolded Darren again.

After cursing, Aracely was quiet for a while and asked, "Anaya, can I stay at your house for the time being?"

Aracely had not thought of how to face Winston yet.

"You can stay as long as you want," Anaya agreed.

"I love you the most!" Aracely said as she hugged Anaya.
