Chapter 91 Her Potential Boyfriends

Anaya arrived at her company and received a call from Winston.

“Anaya, is Aracely at your place?”

“Yes, she said that she would like to live with me for the next few days.”

Winston fell silent. Then, he said, “Not surprised.”

Anaya asked with hesitation, “What do you plan to do next?”

Anaya wasn't a busybody. She had asked so because Aracely was her best friend.

“I still need time to figure it out.”

Winston had planned to keep his feelings to himself, stay by Aracely, and protect her.

What had happened last night was an accident, and Winston hadn't come up with a solution yet.

Aracely had told Winston to forget the accident last night before her flight this morning, but how could Winston forget?

The girl I have loved for eight years and ... Winston thought.

Winston felt horny at the thought of the seductive Aracely last night.

Winston collected his thoughts and continued, “Don't worry. I will be responsible. Now she and I need some time alone. Please take good care of Aracely for the coming days.”

“Okay.”

Anaya hung up the phone. When she intended to work, her ringtone sounded again.

Kelton Lomas: “Anaya, I will be back today. Do you have time to pick me up at the airport?”

Kelton was Anaya’s cousin.

Anaya’s mother was born into an ordinary family, and the Lomas family were teachers, apart from Kelton

Kelton started his career as a child star, and then his acting career went on well.

A few years ago, Kelton started to work with some famous directors abroad. He took the lead actor part in a lot of films, and each one became a hit. Now, Kelton was a world-renowned celebrity

After a few minutes, Samuel got a reply. Hearst: "Do whatever you want.

Samuel clicked his tongue and whispered, "He wants to win but pretends to be indifferent."

After the complaint, Samuel immediately gave orders to his colleagues.

In less than half an hour, Hearst led under the help of trolls.

As a senior user of Twitter, Aracely knew at one glance that Hearst's victory was suspicious.

"Mr. Helms seems to care about nothing. I didn't know that he was so competitive and would hire trolls to win." Aracely, who lay on the sofa, turned over. "Anaya, are you sure that you don't want to accept Mr. Helms? I think you and him are a perfect match."

Anaya did not answer the question but asked, "Kelton said that his friend would hold a welcome dinner for him tomorrow. Do you want to go?"

“Of course. I would love to go since it is fun,” Aracely blurted out. Then, she sat up from the sofa. “No, no, no. Ask Kelton if Winston will be there.”

Anaya sent a message to Kelton and quickly received a reply.

“He will.”

“Then, I won’t.”

Aracely fell back onto the sofa and suddenly found the sugar in her mouth tasteless.

Kelton sent a message to Joshua after getting the reply from Anaya.

Kelton: “Joshua, I’m back. There will be a welcome dinner tomorrow. Do you want to join us?”

Kelton hadn’t heard of the divorce between Anaya and Joshua because he spent most of his time abroad. Anaya only mentioned that she had rented an apartment near the hospital to take care of Adams.

Anaya and Joshua did not live together, so Kelton also sent a message to Joshua.

Joshua received the message from Kelton and frowned.

‘Anaya and I are divorced.’

Joshua didn’t send out this message.

He hesitated for a moment, deleted the message, and then sent out a yes.

Then, Joshua logged onto Twitter.

After the trending topic a few days ago, Joshua logged onto Twitter from time to time.

There, Joshua saw the trending topic about Anaya and Kelton and then found the ballot launched by fans.

Tens of thousands of people were discussing Anaya and her potential boyfriends.

The options included Hearst. Yarden, and Kelton.

Nobody remembered Joshua.

Displeased, Joshua threw his phone aside and didn't read on.

Chapter 92 Who Cheats?

Kelton sent the location of the gathering to Anaya's phone. Anaya received it and then walked into the dressing room

The apartment Anaya rented was not big, and the dressing room was less than 12 square yards.

S

Riven Group's main business was clothing. The company would send new arrivals to Anaya every season. The small dressing room was stuffed full of clothes and shoes, most of which she had not tried.

Anaya randomly picked a loose beige sweater and a black skirt to put on. She simply put on light makeup, and her slightly curly long hair scattered around her neck, looking elegant.

"Anaya, wait a moment before you leave," Aracely said, pulling Anaya back.

Anaya was wondering about Aracely's intentions when the doorbell rang.

Aracely jogged over to open the door, and Anaya followed behind her

The door opened, and Hearst stood at the door.

It turned cold in autumn, and Hearst wore a long black windbreaker. His figure was even more slender, and he looked more handsome.

Anaya looked at Aracely questioningly.

Aracely chuckled, "Kelton doesn't have many common friends with us. I am afraid that you will be embarrassed if you go, so I want to find someone to go with you."

"Don't do it again," Anaya said in a low voice.

Aracely was still giggling, trying to get away with it.

Anaya understood what Aracely was trying to say.

Aracely still dared to do it next time.

Anaya gave a gentle flick to Aracely's forehead and walked out. She apologized to Hearst, "Sorry to trouble you."

'I am glad. Let's go.'

Hearst came over by car, and Anaya directly took his car to Sunrise Hotel.

America,

Of course, the title was an exaggeration.

In fact, Addisyn's appearance in the entertainment industry was only average.

Normally, she might have an advantage over ordinary people, but Addisyn wasn't as pretty as Anaya

Someone nearby also said, 'I thought Anaya was pretty when I looked at the photos. I didn't expect her to be prettier than Addisyn..."

Hearing this, Addisyn glared at the man

Addisyn had liked Kelton for several years. Last night, she saw the scandal between Kelton and

Anava. Although the officials clarified the relationship between the two, Addisyn still regarded Anava as her imaginary enemy.

Just now, her friend told her that Anava was also here, so she rushed over.

Originally, Addisyn wanted to use her beauty to suppress Anava, but she did not expect that she would lose her spirit right away.

“Who are you?” Anava saw that Addisyn had come with ill intentions, and the smile on her face disappeared.

“I am Kelton’s fiancée, Addisyn Hornsby!”

*Fiancée?”

Anava was stunned.

Why hadn’t she heard that Kelton was engaged?

“Yes, I am Kelton’s fiancée.” Addisyn held her head high. “I advise you to stay away from Kelton. He is not someone a woman like you can approach! With just Riven Group’s assets, it’s still a bit lacking if you want to keep Kelton!”

Anava didn’t want to cause trouble for Kelton, so she didn’t argue with this woman who was deliberately picking up a fight. “Ms. Hornsby, you misunderstood. Kelton and I don’t have an affair. I don’t even have the intention of keeping him.”

“You didn’t mean that, but you ran to the airport yesterday to pick him up and even shamelessly had dinner with him.” Addisyn did not listen to Anava’s explanation at all. “Ms. Dutt, your story of wooing Mr. Maltz is known by all.

“You used to woo Mr. Maltz crazily. Now that you divorced him, you have kept several men of different styles by your side... I really don’t know what those men want with you...”

“Of course, they like me because I am young, beautiful, and rich. If you are jealous, you can try. However, it might be a little difficult for you to win their hearts.” Anava smiled appropriately, but her smile bore a hint of ridicule.

The ridicule in Anaya's words could not be more obvious. Anyone could hear it.

Addisyn's expression immediately changed. "Anaya, don't be too proud! So what if you are beautiful? So what if you are rich?

When you married into the Maltz family with 800 million dollars, didn't Mr. Maltz still cheat on you?

If you didn't have that money, you were nothing....

'Who cheated?'

Chapter 93 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 93 You Hit the Headlines With Other Men

Kelton walked out of the crowd. There was no smile on his usually smiling face.

Addisyn met his gaze and sensed his displeasure. She also realized that she had a slip of the tongue.

But Kelton had heard what she said, so Addisyn could only say, "Everyone in Boston knows that Anaya's ex-husband had an affair with Lexie..."

Kelton looked at Anaya, his beautiful eyebrows knitted together. "Why didn't you tell me about this?"

Anaya shrugged. "I thought you knew."

Anaya had let go of everything that happened in the past. Therefore, Anaya wasn't disturbed when Addisyn brought up the old matter again.

"So, Joshua really had an affair while you were still married?"

"Technically, no." Anaya knew well about Kelton. She was worried that he would cause trouble, so she explained, "The matter between me and Joshua has passed. You don't have to worry about it."

Anaya did not deny it directly, but said “technically, no”, indicating that there was indeed a problem with Joshua in their marriage.

Kelton gritted his teeth. “If I had known that Joshua, that bastard, had an affair, the first thing! would have done when I returned home yesterday was to go to the Maltz’s house and beat him up!”

“Didn’t you admire Joshua?”

“I admired him because you liked him.”

If it wasn’t for the fact that Anaya liked Joshua, who would pay attention to Joshua? He was bad-tempered Kelton answered without hesitation. Anaya suddenly felt warm in her heart.

Anaya pulled his arm away. "Kelton, it's okay. It will just be a while."

Kelton refused. "What if he hurts you?"

If she stayed here, Kelton could protect Anaya.

Joshua was annoyed and said, "I don't hit women."

Anaya laughed. Mr. Maltz, do you have selective amnesia? Didn't you give Bria a slap not long ago?

And in her previous life, Joshua had given her countless slaps because of Lexie.

This man's words were pleasant to hear. But his deeds were not consistent with his words!

Joshua couldn't retort and chose to remain silent,

Anaya looked at Kelton. "Kelton, I'm going out for a while."

"Are you sure?"

I've learned how to fight."

Kelton was slightly relieved and let them go out to talk.

The corridor was empty.

They walked to the end. Anaya leaned against the wall. "What is it?"

Joshua went straight to the point. "Don't you feel that there are more and more rumors about you online? Have you forgotten the warning I gave you?"

Anaya asked lazily, "Mr. Maltz, you have warned me about many things. Which one are you talking about?"

Joshua tried his best to calm down. "You have been hitting headlines with other men recently. Have you ever thought about the reputation of the Dutt family and the Maltz family?"

"People call Lexie and me scum because of you. Haven't you thought about reflecting on it?"

"Are those netizens wrong?" Anaya pursed her lips. She said in a tone full of sarcasm, "Don't you, Mr. Maltz, have the ability to shake the world? If you don't want to see the news, why don't you just withdraw it? Why do you come and question me? Can I control those reporters of entertainment and gossip?"

If Joshua could get rid of the news, why would he come to see Anaya?

At the mention of this matter, Joshua felt somewhat aggrieved.

It had been many years since he had been defeated like this after he had become the head of the Maltz family.

"I tried. But it can't be removed. I think Hearst is behind this matter. You should let him delete all the news on the Internet. It's driving me crazy."

Chapter 94 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 94 Anaya, Come Here

"Sorry, I don't seem to have the obligation to help you," Anaya said coldly

Joshua was angry. He stepped forward and forced Anaya to the corner.

The atmosphere was tense as Joshua said, "You are the reason for all that happened. Why did you say that you had no obligation to help me? You were surrounded, and I helped you. Why are you not willing to help me with this small matter?"

Joshua had sound reasons to accuse Anaya, and Anaya felt she couldn't retort.

It was said that gifts blinded eyes. It was true that all favors had to be returned in one way or another.

Now Anaya didn't even have the confidence to quarrel with him.

Anaya felt a little aggrieved.

Seeing that Anaya did not refute anymore, Joshua softened his tone and said, "Call Hearst now..."

Before he could finish, a cold voice came from behind him. "Mr. Maltz, if you want the things on the Internet to disappear, you can directly go to me. Why are you making things difficult for Anaya?"

Joshua turned around and saw Hearst walking over.

The emotion in Hearst's eyes was faint, like the morning fog that was about to dissipate, but his attitude was so tough that it could not be ignored.

Hearst's gaze moved away from Joshua and landed on Anaya. He raised his slender hand slightly and said in a gentle tone, "Anaya, come here."

When Joshua heard Hearst calling Anaya so intimately, his jaw tightened. He felt extremely uncomfortable.

Anaya did not know why this usually polite man would suddenly call her so intimately, but she knew that Hearst was helping her out, so she did not hesitate to take a step forward and walk to his side

"Have you finished greeting your friends?"

"Yes, they came early, and they have already left."

Joshua looked at the two of them, his eyes cold. "When did you two become so intimate?"

After he finished asking, he didn't wait for the two of them to answer. He laughed and said, 1

Kehon saw that Anaya didn't seem to be lying, so he was relieved. "He is sensible. If he dares to touch you, I will fight him even if I have to sacrifice my career!"

Anaya was amused. She joked, "He has bullied me many times before. Are you going to fight him to death now?"

Kelton looked serious as he asked, "When did he bully you?"

Anaya had known Kelton since she was a child. From his expression, she knew what he was Thinking and immediately wanted to end the topic. "When he and Lexie had an affair. Now that their reputation has been ruined, I sort of have gotten my revenge. Don't provoke them."

Anaya and Joshua had already gone their separate ways. If she implicated Kelton, it was too dear a price.

Kelton frowned and reluctantly agreed with her words.

Soon, someone called Kelton, and he left.

Anaya was about to ask Hearst to find a place to sit down with her when someone's lipstick suddenly fell and rolled to her feet.

It was Addisyn's.

Perhaps it was because Addisyn had lost her face in public not long ago, she was very friendly to Anaya.

She smiled at Anaya and said, "Ms. Dutt, don't move. I will pick it up myself."

Anaya stood still as she was told.

Addisyn squatted down. From Anaya's angle, she was unable to see Addisyn's expression.

Addisyn picked up the lipstick, stood up, and smiled at Anaya, "I'm really sorry."

After Addisyn apologized, she was about to leave when someone grabbed her shoulder.

Hearst looked at her with hostility in his deep eyes. "Hand over your phone."

Addisyn froze, then she shook off his hand, turned around, and raised her voice. "Sir, watch your manners. Please don't touch me, or I'll sue you for molestation!"

Addisyn said angrily and was about to leave. Hearst blocked her way again and repeated in a deep voice, "I'm doing this to save you some dignity. Hand over the phone."

Addisyn was so frightened by his aura that her entire body trembled. However, she still gripped her phone tightly, unmoved.

Anaya was clear that Hearst was not a person who would go out of his way to cause trouble. For him to do this, it was definitely because Addisyn had something on her phone that she did not want others to see.

Chapter 95 Be Falsely Accused

She walked over to Hearst and asked, "What's in her phone?"

Hearst saw that Addisyn was unwilling to cooperate, so he stopped caring about her dignity. "She just filmed underneath your skirt."

Addisyn screamed in anger, "Nonsense! I am also a woman."

Why should I have an interest in another woman? I am not a psychopath!”

Hearst didn't argue with her. He just quietly stared at her, his eyes terrifying.

Anaya quickly made a decision. “Ms. Hornsby, if you didn't take a photo of me, please show me your album and let me check it.”

Addisyn bore a grudge against Anaya, and it was very likely that she wanted to take her indecent photos to create trouble and deliberately retaliate.

Addisyn took a step back. “I have something private in my album. How can I show it to you? Do you think that you were not ruthless enough to bully me just now, so you deliberately made things difficult for me?”

“Anaya, you can't be so shameless! I have already apologized to you, and you are still targeting me. Do you have a

She spoke with great confidence and falsely accused Anaya.

Kelton was nearby. When he heard the dispute over here, he immediately walked over. “What happened?”

Seeing him, Addisyn felt a little guilty.

Anyone wanted to leave a good impression on the person they liked.

So did she.

Anaya told Kelton the whole story, and Kelton looked at Addisyn and said, “Ms. Hornsby, please show us your album and let us have a look. If there is something private in your album, you can directly click on the camera and only let us see the first photo.”

Addisyn was stubborn. “I... The first photo in my album is private...”

A girl in the crowd said, “Ms. Hornsby, I saw that you had been taking the photos of the delicacies on the table just now. Why can’t we see these photos?”

That girl’s words made Addisyn’s excuse a joke.

Kelton reached out his hand and said in a tough tone, “Ms. Hornsby, I don’t want to be impolite to ladies.”

Addisyn bit her lips and refused to give in.

Kelton was no longer polite to her and directly took her phone. “What is the password?”

For a moment, the atmosphere was even tenser.

Hearst broke the ice with a loud voice. "I've booked the presidential suite of this hotel for a year. If you don't mind, you can go up and get changed first."

Anaya hesitated for a few seconds before agreeing. "Thank you."

The two of them walked out.

When Joshua saw that the two were about to leave together again, his heart skipped a beat. He stood up and called out uncontrollably, "Wait a minute!"

They paused their steps. Hearst turned around and asked, "Mr.

Maltz, is there anything else?"

Joshua opened his mouth, wanting to say that he could.

immediately contact the manager of Sunrise Hotel to prepare a room.

However, it seemed inappropriate for him to say it now.

“Nothing.” Joshua clenched his fists.

Then, the two no longer stayed and left together.

Kelton was worried, so he excused himself and planned to catch up with them.

Addisyn held his hand. “Kelton, I didn’t do it on purpose just now. Don’t be angry with me...”

“Don’t talk to me.” Kelton broke free of her hand with a cold face. “I’m not familiar with you.”

Addisyn had done this series of foolish things because she adored him. Kelton had intended to give her a chance at the beginning and turn the big matter into small ones.

But she splashed wine on Anaya and tried to smash the glass on Anaya’s head.

For such excessive behavior, no matter how much she adored him, he could not show any mercy because of this.

He finally warned, “What you did today won’t end like this. I’ll punish you later.”

Then, he followed them and left.

Joshua sat in the crowd, watching the few leading characters leave one by one. The knuckles of his hand which was holding the wine glass were slightly pale, and the emotions in his eyes were unknown.

Chapter 96 Boast Without Shame

Anaya changed her clothes and came out. Kelton asked her, “Do you still want to go back to the private room?”

“I want to go home.” Anaya shook her head.

Kelton felt a little distressed to see Anaya was obviously tired. “Don’t worry, I will help you get back at Addisyn.”

After Kelton finished his words, he looked at Hearst and said, “Mr. Helms, could you send Anaya back?”

“Of course,” Hearst said indifferently.

Kelton thought Hearst was much better than that bastard Joshua. “Thank you for helping Anaya today. You can come to me if you need anything.”

“Alright.”

There was still a group of people waiting for Kelton in the private room below. So he did not stay long and quickly left.

Hearst drove Anaya home. After getting out of the car, Anaya did not leave immediately.

“Mr. Helms, Joshua helped me once before, and I gave him hundreds of thousands of dollars in return.” Anaya stood by the car and looked inside. “I can pay you back in this way too if you want.”

Today, Joshua threatened Anaya with the favor he had done for her, which made her very uncomfortable.

Anaya hated owing a favor.

Therefore, Anaya didn’t want to be at a disadvantage because of such a thing again..

“You don’t have to return it,” Hearst said in a light tone.

Hearst did not want Anaya to return the favor.

Because Hearst thought Anaya could always keep him in her mind only in that case.

Hearst knew that if Anaya returned the favor, he would lose contact with her.

Anaya frowned. “You should have heard the conversation between Joshua and me. What if you force me as Joshua did just now...”

“I am different from Joshua,” Hearst interrupted Anaya. “I won’t do anything that you don’t like.”

Hearst looked at Anaya with his eyes full of affection and said straightforwardly and seriously, “Of course, other than chasing you.”

“That’s right. We are all shareholders of Riven Group. If you lose money on this project, everyone will have to take responsibility together. We have no reason to pay for your willfulness!”

“There are so many potential projects waiting for us to do. Why do you insist on going into real estate? Are you too full of yourself? I am afraid you will fail in the end and implicate us all.”

“You once lent 800 million dollars to the Maltz family and put Riven Group in great trouble. How dare you still do such a stupid thing? Mr. Dutt is still in the hospital. If he knows about this, he will be furious!”

“Be quiet,” Anaya said in a cold voice. “In a week’s time, documents will be issued that the authority will focus on the development of East Boston. If it is well developed, it is very likely to become the new CBD of Boston. At that time, you are gonna make a fortune.”

Jason snorted, “Where did you get the news from? There is no news from the outside world at all, and how could you know that? I am afraid that you have been deceived!”

“If this project fails,” Anaya said in a low but firm voice, “I will sell all the assets under my and grandfather’s name to make up for the loss of the company this time.

“If the project succeeds, then we will share the profits together. However, if it fails, I will fill in the loophole of the funds myself, and you won’t lose anything.

“If that’s the case, you still want to stop me?”

The people on Mark’s side quieted down.

However, Anaya’s men got anxious. “Ms. Dutt, it’s a big deal to sell all the assets. Why don’t you discuss it with Mr. Dutt?”

Anaya affirmed, “It’s fine. This project will work.”

“Boast without shame!” Jason sneered.

Anaya ignored Jason’s ridicule and stood up. “Let’s bring the meeting to a close. I will not let go of the project about East Boston. There is no need to persuade me anymore.”

After Anaya finished speaking, she left in large strides.

When Anaya walked past Jason, he said in a low voice, “What a silly girl! If you really take this piece of land, you’ll regret it.”

Jason was obviously saying this for Anaya to hear.

Anaya glanced at Jason, but she did not say anything. Instead, she directly walked out of the conference room.

Anaya thought, facts speak louder than words. As long as I can withstand the pressure of these old bastards and take the project, we will just wait and see.

Chapter 97 Who Deals With Addisyn?

Kelton slept until noon because of the jet lag when the doorbell rang.

He got up from the bed, scratched his belly, and walked to the door. He now looked completely different from the perfect image in front of the camera.

He pressed the walkie-talkie.

The person who rang the doorbell was Addisyn.

Kelton instantly woke up and thought.

Alright, I haven't even gone to look for you. But you come knocking on my door!

Kelton did not change his clothes and went downstairs in slippers.

After all, he was a male artist, and it was not good to let a woman in rashly.

In the hall on the first floor, Addisyn was pacing back and forth, her brows locked tightly. She was in a terrible fix.

When she saw Kelton coming out of the elevator, she immediately walked over. "Kelton ... Mr. Lomas, I shouldn't have targeted Ms. Dutt last night. I can apologize for what I did. Can you let me go?

"I'm still looking forward to getting this year's best supporting actress by 'Small Boat'. If you get someone to change me, what should I do?"

"Small Boat" was a new movie by a famous director. This director was able to win awards for almost every movie. As long as someone played a role in his movie, he wouldn't be too bad.

Addisyn took a lot of effort to get this role. The movie was about to start filming, but the director asked for a new spot.

Not only that, but her other work was also losing. This morning, she received more than five termination notices.

Last night, Kelton said that he would not let go of the matter of her pushing Anaya so easily. Addisyn guessed that Kelton should be the one behind the scenes.

She had been busy comforting her partners all morning and wanted to continue the cooperation.

When she was finally free at noon, she immediately drove over to find Kelton.

Kelton was a little stunned. ““Small Boat“? Who changes you?”

He had fallen asleep after drinking wine last night and hadn't even had time to do anything.

“Didn't you ask someone to replace me?” Addisyn was stunned when she saw that he did not seem to know what was going on.

Kelton denied it honestly, and then said in a mocking tone, “However, no matter who this person

Samuel noticed that he was looking at the pink food box on the table and walked over to explain, “My girlfriend made it for me. Women just like to make these meaningless things. I already said that I like to eat takeout, but she insisted on making it for me. No matter how I tried to refuse, I c

As Samuel spoke, he opened the food box and showed it in front of Hearst. “This doesn’t look as good as the food in the hotel. I really envy you for being able to eat the food from the hotel.”

It was obvious that Samuel was showing off.

Hearst rolled up the sleeve of the white shirt to his elbow, revealing a small part of his smooth muscles. He got the fork and said, “Does Amelia know how many women you had before?”

Amelia Lynn was Samuel’s girlfriend, a good girl.

In order to date her, Samuel would never mention the girls he had met in Canada.

Although Samuel hadn’t had sex before, he had many girlfriends before.

If Amelia knew about his past, she would definitely break up with Samuel.

Samuel thought, it’s a threat!

He’s single, and he doesn’t even allow me to show off my affection?

Samuel didn't dare to vent his anger. Holding the food box, he silently squatted in a corner and ate.

After lunch, Hearst received a notification from his cell phone.

He picked it up and took a look.

It was a message from Anaya.

Anaya: "When should I return the clothes I got from the hotel?"

Hearst replied: "You don't need to return it. I bought it."

Anaya: "Then I will transfer the money to you."

Hearst: "No need."

Hearst paused for a moment and sent another message: "Do you want to return my favor?"

Anaya: "Yeah. Is there anything you want?"

Hearst: "Help me prepare a lunch."

Hearst typed this sentence for a long time before finally deleting it all.

Hearst: "Nope."

After sending the message, he put down his phone, leaned against the chair, and slowly closed his eyes.

Unknowingly, the things he wanted to get from her seemed to be increasing.

Hearst didn't expect that he would be touched by such a small thing.

Chapter 98 Joshua Has a Car Accident

At night, at the Dunbar's place.

It was quiet at the dining table, except for the clatter of cutlery.

Dominic chatted with Lexie with a loving smile on his face. “Lexie, how’re things going between you and Joshua? After the engagement was cancelled, did he ever mention it again?”

Lexie’s hand stopped in midair.

Her father asked her to go home for dinner, and she knew what he was up to.

Marisa sneered, “She caused such a scene before. Mr. Maltz won’t marry her.”

Hearing the sarcasm, Lexie maintained her usual fake smile. “Joshua will marry me. It’s just that the last time was a little overwhelming for him. He needs some time to process it. So he took a break.”

“A break?” Marisa didn’t believe her at all. “Do you mean a break from all mess or a break up with you?”

“You seem to want me to separate from Joshua, don’t you?”

Marisa gloated, “Oh, I’m just being honest. You see, Mrs. Maltz doesn’t allow you to walk in her house, and Joshua wants a break. How many chances do you think you have of marrying him?”

“Since you raised doubts, how about I call Joshua over now and let him give you an answer?”

“It’s just that Joshua hates it when people force him to do something. If you annoy him, well...”

Lexie did not finish her sentence, but everyone present knew what she meant.

Marisa could see that Lexie was trying to scare her.

Ever since Lexie became Joshua's girlfriend, she had been more and more arrogant!

Marisa cast her fork on the table unpleasantly. Dominic gave her a kick under the table. And he made a wink telling her to stop.

When Marisa picked up the fork and began to eat, Dominic looked at Lexie and said, "Lexie, the sooner it's settled, the better. I will feel relieved.

Joshua's car was knocked over in the middle of the road, and the truck fell into the green belt opposite the road. When Lexie received a call from Danica, she was having lunch with her colleagues.

Danica's voice was a little anxious and excited at the same time. "Lexie, come to Massachusetts General Hospital now!"

"What happened? Are you ill?" Lexie frowned.

"It wasn't me. It was Joshua!" Danica seemed to laugh a little.

"He had a car accident! He's bleeding a lot now and needs your blood. Hurry over!"

"Why did you do this without consulting me?" Lexie soon connected everything together.

"I know you are angry with me, but what happened had happened. There is no turning back. You must seize this opportunity!"

Lexie stood up and couldn't help but scream at the phone, "Why didn't you discuss it with me? He can't take my blood at all!"

"What? Why? Didn't you save him five years ago?" Danica was puzzled.

Lexie felt that she was going crazy. "I don't have a rare blood type, and the person who saved him five years ago was not me! Didn't I tell you to forget it? Why on earth did you do this?"

"What?" Danica was stunned.

It was only at this moment that she began to panic. "Then what should we do? Joshua was in the hospital. The doctor said that if he didn't get blood in time, he would die."

Although Danica had prepared for the worst, she was still in a panic when facing it.

Lexie hung up and took it out on the chairs around her.

The others were frightened seeing her like that. They didn't dare make a sound.

Lexie paced back and forth in her room and called Anaya at last.

Anaya was going to the land auction at two o'clock in the afternoon. After confirming all the details, she went to lunch.

As soon as she went to the cafeteria, her phone rang.

It was a strange number.

When it was connected, it was Lexie's voice.

"Anaya, Joshua had a car accident. He is in Massachusetts General Hospital. You have to go there immediately!"

Anaya wanted to hang up the phone in the first place, but when she heard what Lexie said, she did not.

"Why did you call me? What can I do in the hospital?"

Chapter 99 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 99 Save Joshua

Lexie sounded anxious. "He bled a lot and needs a blood transfusion. There is no stock of Rh-negative blood in the hospital, so you need to come over."

"How do you know my blood type is Rh-negative?" Anaya frowned.

"I saw it during the high school physical examination. You and Joshua both have the Rh-negative blood type. I remember this." Lexie was a little impatient, but she still put on a pleading tone. "I know you hate me and Joshua, but this is about Joshua's life. Now only you can save him! Hurry to Massachusetts General Hospital. Go before it is too late to save Joshua!"

After ending the call, Anaya stood there without moving.

Tim was right beside her, probably noticing that Anaya had something urgent to deal with.

"Ms. Dutt, the auction will start at two o'clock in the afternoon. If you go deal with other things now, you may miss the..."

To be honest, Anaya really did not want to waste any more time on someone who had nothing to do with her.

But it was someone's life.

If it was anyone else, Anaya would probably choose to lend a hand too.

"Take the documents and wait for me at the auction later. I'll be there as long as I'm done."

Tim nodded and reminded worriedly, "Ms. Dutt, we have prepared the project of East Boston for a long time. Please don't miss it."

"I know."

Anaya responded and rushed to the hospital quickly.

When she arrived at the hospital, Lexie was already waiting for her.

“How is Joshua now?” Anaya jogged over and asked before she stopped panting.

Danica and Lexie waited outside the ward.

Danica reminded Lexie in a low voice, "When Joshua is hospitalized, stop all your work in the studio. Take care of him here all day. You must let him see you as soon as he wakes up and know that you have been worrying about him and become haggard because of him..."

With an expressionless face, Lexie interrupted Danica, "Mom, was Joshua's car accident really arranged by you?"

"You didn't want to do it, so I did it for you. If you want to get what you want, you have to play some tricks," Danica said plausibly.

Danica went from a maid to Dominic's wife. She had done countless and all kinds of bad things. Danica was used to getting what she wanted by hurting other people.

“The driver promised me that he would take responsibility and go to jail in order to pay for his daughter’s surgery. You must keep your mouth shut in front of Mr. Maltz. Don’t leak it out.

“This has nothing to do with you and me. Do you hear me?”

Lexie was silent for a long time. She closed her eyes and opened them again. There was no hesitation in her eyes anymore.

Since it had happened, Lexie could not turn herself in at this time.

She must seize this opportunity and completely set her marriage to Joshua.

“I understand. I will be here and see what I can do. You can go back.”

Danica nodded and got up to leave.

Not long after she left, Cecilia rushed over.

“Where is my son? How is my son?” Cecilia cried on the way there. Her eyes were already a little swollen, and the exquisite makeup on her face was also ruined.

Cecilia grabbed Lexie’s arm and shook it fiercely.

“Joshua just finished the operation and is now in the ward. He hasn’t woken up yet. I just transfused my blood to him. There should be no big problem. He will definitely be safe,” Lexie responded. She had already put on a show and squeezed out a few drops of tears.

When Cecilia heard that, she stumbled to the ward and looked at the unconscious person inside through the glass, sobbing.

“He was fine when he went out in the morning. Why is he like this now...”

“Mrs. Maltz, don’t be too sad. Everything will be fine.” Lexie took the opportunity to let Cecilia like her.

Cecilia looked at Lexie with tears in her eyes. She wasn’t as sick of Lexie as before. Cecilia nodded hard.

Chapter 100 - Reborn: Another Chance To Leave Up

Chapter 100 Does Hearst Have a Chance?

When Anaya woke up, she smelt a strong smell of disinfectant and saw the white ceiling of the hospital.

Anaya had an IV on her right hand. The liquid in the medicine bottle slowly dripped down, just in time for the sound of the clock turning in the room.

Anaya propped herself up and found that there was a man sitting on the sofa opposite the bed.

The warm afternoon sun came in through the window, outlining the man’s deep and handsome facial features. His face was stunning and arresting.

Noticing that Anaya had woken up, the person on the sofa closed the computer and walked to the bedside.

“Do you feel better now?”

Anaya nodded. Her lips were still a little pale, and she looked more attractive because of being weak.

“Did you send me to the hospital?”

“Yes.” Hearst bent down and pulled up the quilt for her. “Do you want to eat something?”

Anaya had not eaten lunch at noon. After she woke up, her stomach felt uncomfortable. “I want some porridge.”

Hearst arranged for someone to buy it and then looked at Anaya. “The doctor said that you fainted because of anemia. Have you eaten on time recently?”

“I just missed one lunch. That’s not the reason for my anemia.”

“Then what is it?”

“Joshua had a car accident. I went to give him a blood transfusion,” Anaya said, not hiding the truth.

Hearst frowned and subconsciously reprimanded, “Again, you...”

Before he finished speaking, Hearst suddenly stopped.

“What?” Anaya looked up at him.

Hearst paused for a moment and then said, “Nothing.”

Not long after, Samuel returned with pumpkin porridge, placed the porridge on the bedside table, and quickly turned to leave.

“Mr. Helms...” Anaya couldn’t move her right hand with an IV on it.

She wanted to ask Hearst to bring the porridge over and put it on her quilt. But before Anaya finished her words, Hearst said, "Eat it yourself." Hearst's tone was extremely flat. But Anaya vaguely sensed some anger from it.

Hearst coolly glanced at Samuel. “Trick her?”

Samuel realized that he accidentally told the truth and immediately corrected himself. “No. You will always invite Ms. Dutt to get in your car out of goodwill. Sorry, I didn't use the right words.”

Hearst retracted his gaze and did not respond.

He did not want to discuss things about Anaya for the time being.

Although Hearst had been mentally prepared that Anaya wouldn't forget Joshua, when he faced the cruel fact, he couldn't be calm or peaceful.

Five years ago, Anaya almost died because of a blood transfusion for Joshua.

Today, she made the same choice.

Hearst thought that he would have a chance after Anaya was divorced.

He wondered, was I wrong?

However...

Even if Anaya still had another person in her heart right now, I won't back off.

The divorce of Anaya and Joshua made me realize a fact.

Other than me, no one will really cherish Ana.

Since Joshua can't protect her, I will.

By the time Anaya reached home, it was already completely dark.

Aracely sat on the sofa with Sammo in her arms, watching TV.

Seeing Anaya back, Aracely and Sammo came to her.

"Anaya, why did you come back so late? I brought you some cake. But you didn't come back, so I ate it all."

"I was busy with work." Anaya looked tired. "I'm going to take a bath."

Seeing Anaya's haggard face, Aracely no longer pestered her and picked up Sammo. "If you are tired, go to bed early."

"I know."

Anaya walked into the bathroom, filled the bathtub with water, and lay in the bathtub.

The warm water reached her collarbone, and Anaya's fatigue from the long day was alleviated.

Too many things happened today, and Anaya was indeed a little exhausted.

Tomorrow, she had to deal with the follow-up matters of the land of East Boston. Anaya also had to go to the hospital with Adams for a check-up. When the shareholders of the company knew that the land of East Boston had been successfully won by her, there would definitely be an argument.

The water vapor filled the air, and Anaya seemed to be in a daze.

She was still a little dizzy and did not stay in the bathtub for too long. Anaya quickly dried her body and changed into her night dress before coming out of the bathroom.

The living room was filled with a rich milk fragrance.

Aracely walked over with a cup of hot milk in her hands as if she was presenting a treasure. Sammo followed by her feet with his tail swaying, as flattering as Aracely.
