

Crowning Day

Charlie's POV

It was my Crowning day. I was standing in front of TA trying on some of the dresses I brought. We had yet to find one that I liked. I ran back into the closet and pulled on a pair of jeans and a black tank top.

When I walked out of the closet I saw my Uncle Alec hugging TA and Orin was just standing there looking like a little kid in a candy store. I squealed in happiness to see see them. Alec let go of TA and held his arms out to me. I went crashing into him. I then hugged Orin. I started to cry. Stupid emotions messing with me. If I was gonna cry all during my pregnancy then I would look weak. I needed to get a grip on my feelings.

I let go of Orin, " When did ya'll get here?"

Alec answered before Orin could, " We arrived about 2 hours ago. I went over security details with Ashton who shared some very interesting news with me."

I groaned," That damn blabber mouth. He can't keep damn mouth shut."

TA laughing added, " Hey now he has a cute mouth."

I laughed at that. There was clearly an attraction between her and Ashton. They would be a cute couple. Orin looked at me confused, " OKay I have two questions. First off please tell me that is not what you are wearing for your crowning and what is the interesting news?"

I laughed even harder at his confusion, " No this isn't what I am wearing I can't find anything I like. The interesting news is that your older sister is having a pup."

Orin pulled me into a fierce bear hug and said, " Congrats Cha Cha."

I growled as I pushed him away. He just had to call me that damn name. I pushed him again playfully as my father and Killian walked into the room. Everyone of us bowed our heads to them. I glanced at what my father was holding. I was a black bag, " Hello Alpha Brenton."

My father smiled at me and placed the bag on my bed, " Your mother wore this on her Crowning Day and I was hoping you would honor her by wearing it."

I quickly unzipped the bag and looked at the dress. I was a snow white dress that fell off one shoulder. I had seen pictures from her Crowning Day and she was beautiful in this dress. I started to cry a little. Again with these emotions. I thanked my father and kicked everyone out of my room so that I could get ready. I let TA stay because I need her help with the zipper and my hair. Once I was in the dress TA pulled half my hair and then curled it then re pinned it to look like a waterfall of curls. We smiled at each other in the mirror and she said, " Your mother would be so proud of the wolf you have become."

I smiled at her and thanked her. She went on down stairs to find a place next to Alec. There was a slight knock on my door, " Come in."

Killian stepped into my room. I went stiff. This wasn't apart of the plan. Ashton was suppose to escort me to the platform out in the meadow. I looked at me all confused, " Alpha Killian what are you doing here?"

He stepped toward me and I took a step back. I could feel the wall against my back. Killian pressed his body against mine, " I wanted to see you before everything. There is so much I want to tell you. I have been stupid. I am a fucktard."

I bite my lip, " Yes you are The Fucktard of all Fucktards."

HE laughed at that, " True. I want to start over fresh with you. No more distance, no more Layla, just us."

I liked the sound of that. I nodded to him, " Well Alpha will you escort me to this shindig?"

He laced his arms through mine and we headed to the meadow.

Once we reached the meadow we were led to the platform. It felt strange to have everyone staring at me. Killian and I stopped in front of the altar where I was to make my vows as Luna. I dropped down to my knees in front of him as he said, " Do you Charlie swear to be the true Luna of the Waning Moon Pack? Do you Swear to put their needs before everything? To sacrifice everything for them?"

I gulped, " I swear it."

Killian handed me the dagger so I could make a small cut on my hand. The cut hurt. I dropped about a mouth full of blood into the cup. Killian did the same thing. Another cup was handed to me that was already full of blood from the surround pack members. I was to drink the full cup and they in turn would drink from the cup that held Killian's and my blood. It is a way to tie all of us together. After I finished drinking the content in my cup Killian helped me up. He pulled me next to him, " Waning Moon Pack I would like to introduce you to Luna Charlie."

They all cheered. I was smiling so big, " Thank you everyone. I promise to always be there for you. I already have some very exciting news for you."

They all became silent. Killian placed his hand on my stomach and said, " The Moon Goddess not only blessed us with a Luna but also with our first pup."

Once again the pack went wild with yelling congratulations. A tear slide down my eye. I was overjoyed. I was worried that they would reject me but they didn't. I looked down and saw my father smiling with tears rolling down his face. Sienna looked to be in shock. My eyes trailed all the way to the back where I saw Layla. She was wearing a smug grin on her face. I knew she was up to something. I would have to watch my back around her. I smiled up at Killian and he placed a kiss on my forehead as he mind linked to me, ' Once we get home I plan to slowly strip that dress off of you and make love to you. I will wait til the party is over.'

I gulped again as a shiver went through my body. Well if he was going to wait then I would make crazy with desire till then.
