

A Fresh Start?

Charlie's POV

As soon as Killian said those words I became unhinged. I removed my hand from his erection and heard him whimper. I bit my lip and pulled my dress completely off leaving us both fully naked in the moonlight. He had led me to this beautiful meadow that was covered in black moon roses, the roses are considered a gift from the Moon Goddess. I watched him strip himself of his clothing and basically rape me.

We stood there both naked and looking at each other. I decided I wanted to be in control so I pushed him down on the ground. I lowered myself but instead of straddling him I kissed his left shoulder and kissed my way down to his ck. I could feel him shudder as I slowly moved around his dk. I sat up a little and looked in his blue eyes. I noticed they were no longer blue but black. His Wolf Spirit was trying to take over and he was holding him back. I smiled at myself knowing that I could do this to him. I lowered my mouth and licked the length of his ck. He tried to bring his hips up but I held them down. I took his full length into my mouth and started to move my head up and down. I felt his hands in my hair and could hear him saying fk and Don't Stop every other second. I smiled to myself. I would have kept sucking him but he pulled my mouth off of him and captured my lips with his. God he was an amazing kisser. While we were kissing he pulled my body onto and placed me firmly on his ck.

I threw my head back and moaned loudly. He started to kiss my neck trailed kissed down my boobs. He latched on to my right nipple and nibbled on it while his other hand was pinching my other nipple. I couldn't help but beg for more because how great it felt. Killian used his free hand to help guide my hips so I could ride his ck. fk I liked being on top. I started off slow. I would slowly lower my hips and bring them up fast which was torturing us both. After a few minutes of that Killian let go of my other nipple and replaced his finger with his mouth. I yelled out his name which seemed to make him harder. He decided he had enough of my boobs and laid all the way on his back leaving me sitting straight up on his ck. God he felt amazing between my legs. This time he used both of his hands to set the pace. He was making me ride him fast. I started to moan and told him I was close.

He flipped us over so that he was on top. He pulled my left leg up so that it ran along his chest as he slammed into me. He was pumping into my py hard and fast. I was so close to coming. Killian began to do a circle motion with his hips and brought one hand to my py to play with clit. I came right then, "fk Killian!"

He laughed and then kissed my leg as he slammed deeper into me. After a few more minutes he came. He lowered my leg and laid next to me. He pulled me into his arms as we looked up at the moon. I was content in that moment.

We stayed there for about an hour before we got dressed and headed to his place. We walked back in silence and he was holding my hand. It seemed like my Uncle was right. Maybe this was the best thing. To start a new life with my mate. I couldn't be any happier.

As we made it to the outside patio of his place I saw a beautiful woman coming running up to us. Not us, she was running to Killian. He let go of my hand as soon as he saw her. She jumped into his arms and kissed him on the lips.

I took a step back when I noticed he was kissing her back. Who the hell was this female and why was my mate kissing her?
