

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 152

"You won't." She withdrew her hand.

"Okay, I know you believe that I can handle it, but do you really bear to see that?"

He was right. If he hadn't found her to ask for her, she would persuade her to leave all Drake's things behind.

But now, she wavered after Drake talked about his misery. As her brother said, she was too susceptible and soft-hearted.

Sophia looked away unwittingly, "I don't want to be part of it."

"Then you shouldn't have slept with me."

"You slept with me, you need to be responsible for me."

Sophia said resignedly, "Can you just let it go?"

"No, I can't. You must be responsible for me."

She was annoyed, "So you are going to be like the sticky stuff?"

"Yeah."

Sophia had no idea how to refute him, but meanwhile she was aware that the reason why he booked the breakfast here was because it was a nice place to talk.

And honestly, she was touched by his words...

The hot dog with a coke happened to be served at that moment. Sophia started eating so that she could avoid his tons of questions.

But what she didn't know was that her thoughts had given her away.

After having breakfast, she was going to pay the bill herself when Drake interrupted, "I said it's on my treat."

"Alright." She took her money back.

It was fair enough, since last night she made him dinner .

When he saw Sophia was about to drive away, he soon stopped her.

"Aren't you going to send me to my company?"

"I believe there are tons of people who could drive you to work other than Paul."

She was not going to do that?
