Not long after, Sophia's cell phone rang, from her mother. She picked up the phone, "Mom!"

Laura is a straightforward person, and as soon as she opened her mouth, she said angrily, "This Riley family, it is outrageous to slander you like this, I think they really don't want to die!"

Sophia's heart warmed: "Mom, you believe I haven't done this?"

"My daughter, of course I believe."

"But ..... aren't you afraid I'll actually do it?"

"How is that possible?" Laura didn't even have to think about it, she just believed her unconditionally: "You are my child of ten months, don't I know better than you what you can and can't do?"

Sophia was finally relieved that when she first saw such a smear, her biggest fear was that her family would believe it too.

After all, she had been with Drake three years ago, those three years, she is already full eighteen years old adult, according to the open-mindedness of young people now, the university has long lived together, if a pregnancy, or even drop a fetus, in fact, are very normal things.

But it is true that she has never done it in the past three years.

"Thank you, Mom!"

Sophia said from the bottom of her heart.

"What silly things to say, this time the Riley family is so bullying that even I can't look at it, Sophia, mom to help you deal with them?"

"No need!" Sophia hurriedly said, "Mom, just watch the show in peace, okay? I will fight this battle very beautifully."

Laura is really intolerant: "Your father saw the news, now hate to carry a gun to Riley manor, Sophia, you are our baby ah, how they slandered you before, we also endured down, but this can be about your reputation, you let us how... .."

Bullying her daughter are bullying to the head, they are parents, how can they sit back and wait for death?

"Mom, trust me, let me handle it first, and if I can't handle it, then I'll let you guys step in again, okay?"

Laura managed to say, "Okay, that's it for now."

The two men said something else before hanging up the phone.

the Riley Group.

The people below reported that it was Sophia who had arrived, which surprised Drake.

Sophia would reach out to him, it was like the earth exploded, it was impossible, he composed his voice and asked, "She really came?"

Paul said respectfully, "Yes, indeed, it is coming."

"Let her in!"

"Yes!"

Paul went outside to pass the word.

Drake briefly organized himself, seems to worry about the image of the above what the problem, but also took out the phone to watch.

It didn't take long for Sophia to walk in on her high heels, led by Paul.

Paul knew they had something to talk about and closed the door for them by hand.

Drake sat there as if nothing had happened, glanced at her, and said, "What's Miss Lawson doing here sometime?"

Sophia walked up to him and cleanly threw the papers in her hand directly at him, looking at him with contempt.

"Listen, tell the Old Riley to take down that hit piece or I'll sue him for slander, and if he wants to live in peace, be honest."

About that news, Drake naturally also saw, for such is he is also very upset, he was planning to find time to go to him, Sophia came first.

"Don't take what I say seriously, if you Riley family continues to play like this, don't blame me for being unkind to you."

Turning around, she was about to leave.

"Sophia!"

Drake called out to her.

Sophia turned her head, "Mr. Riley, what can I do for you?"

His eyes like the vastness of the universe locked with hers.

"You're here, is that all that matters?"

Sophia's mouth was still sarcastic: "What else does Mr. Riley want from me? I'm a woman who's pregnant with another man's child, and I've aborted another man's child, and you want to sleep with such a woman?"

Since her return, those who had heard from his stepmother and sister, including Emilia, that she was a woman who loved money and would even be willing to be with any man for it, he didn't believe any of it.

Not to mention the news this time!

If she was really that kind of woman, his approach, how would she behave like that?

"Sophia!"

This gentle cry surprisingly reminded her of him back then.

In an instant, Sophia came to her senses. It was impossible to go back to the old days between them.

"I apologize to you for that incident in place of grandpa!"

Sophia looked at him incredulously, "You believe me?"

Drake was about to say something else when Sophia said sarcastically, "But you don't need to use this solution either. the Old Riley is not going to end this easily if he doesn't personally take down the hits and apologize to me in front of the whole country and say that it was all a rumor."

She stepped on her high heels and thumped away.

Drake looked at the document in front of him and frowned.

Riley manor.

Drake's came back with a murderous aura, as if he was about to lynch someone.

the Old Riley looked at him, "Drake, why are you back when you're not supposed to be at work right now?"

"How did I get back? Grandpa, shouldn't you know better?"

That kind of language, that kind of expression, even everything everything with a questioning.

the Old Riley was not happy: "What do you mean, you came over for that news?"

"Grandpa, what you did this time is really a bit too much!" Although it is said that in the shopping mall, in dealing with people, it is indeed possible to be ruthless and unscrupulous.

But the Old Riley so deal with a girl, is really some people can not look down.

"Excessive?" the Old Riley asked rhetorically, "Did you think all those stories I sent out were fake?"

"Grandpa, it's true or not, I think you should know it in your heart."

the Old Riley couldn't believe it: "Drake, I've nurtured you for so many years, and you're telling me you still have that bitch in your heart?"

Drake's brow furrowed, "Grandpa, I don't want to hear those two words coming out of your mouth!"

"I said how, at first, she left you for money, we also gave you a video of her, the video of her with other men, these are you saw with your own eyes, these three years, we repeatedly let you marry Emilia , you do not marry, well, these are not related, but you now tell me, you actually still like that woman who hurt you? "

"Grandpa, you guys were the ones who told me she was doing it for our family's money, and I didn't really see her with another man, it's just a video, it doesn't mean anything."
