

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 204

"Sophia, the noodles you made is really delicious."

Sophia was out of words.

He was simply adding fuel to the fire.

Sure enough, Bard pointed his finger at Drake's nose. "This is the last time you come in here. If you come again, I will break your legs!"

Edwin looked angrily at Sophia, "Sophia, can you not open the door for him?"

This time, Sophia felt really aggrieved, "I didn't open the door for him. He came in himself!"

Charles said in a plain tone, "How could he get in if you didn't open the door for him?"

Drake had finished eating the noodles and had some soup before he said, "You have got a point. I am the property owner here, so I can get into any apartment if I want."

Charles looked at him. "So, there are security concerns here?"

"No!" After drinking up the soup, Drake said, "We just have spare keys. But once someone uses them to enter anyone's apartment without permission, he will be breaking the law. As for how I got in here, I had my own way. It has nothing to do with the property management here."

Charles didn't say a word, but he stared daggers at Drake.

Drake had finished eating. With a smile that annoyed the Lawson brothers, he said, "Sophia, it seems that I can't stay tonight. Call me whenever you want to see me. I'm leaving now."

Besides, Sophia was in her period. They couldn't have sex anyway and he might not be able to control himself around her, so he'd better leave.

Sophia blushed instantly. How could he flirt with her in front of her brothers?

Bard shouted, "Sophia will call anyone but you if she needs anything!"

"Oh? Really? You think other men dare to come in here?" as he said, there was a warning look in Drake's eyes.

And Bard was rendered speechless.
