

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 275

The corners of Drake's mouth twitched. So, she didn't believe anything he did before?

It was lunch break. Sophia didn't need to queue, so it was soon her turn.

Seeing that she was still nervous, Drake couldn't help smiling.

Sophia glanced at him. "Why are you laughing?"

Her emotions were very obvious.

"Can't I?"

Sophia went to the doctor, not paying any more attention to Drake.

Gastroscopy required intravenous anesthesia, so Sophia soon fell asleep.

When Drake saw the tube inserted into Sophia's stomach, he frowned. No wonder she was so scared. If there was another choice, he would never allow her to suffer like this.

Fortunately, the process took only a minute or two.

Sophia didn't wake up right away.

Drake walked in and asked. "How did it go?"

"Judging from the current result, the problem is not serious. She will heal if treated now."

Drake was relieved to hear that.

The phone rang. It was Emma calling.

Drake didn't want to disturb Sophia, so he went outside to answer the call.

"Mom!"

"How is it? Did the result come out?"

"The doctor told me that her problem was not serious, but there were symptoms, so she had to be treated."

"Yes, of course. Do you plan to use medicine to treat it?"

Drake froze for a moment when he heard this. "Is there any other way?"
