I Am the Ruler of All chapter 111-This person was Serena's classmate from the dōjō—Noah Morris!

At the class reunion the day before yesterday, he was first beaten by Kingsley in the shopping mall until his face got swollen. After that, Noah was violently whacked with a leather belt!

Currently, his body was still burning in pain!

At the class reunion, he was fearful of Paige and therefore didn't dare to resist, but in his heart, he desperately wanted to tear Kingsley to pieces!

"What a freaking small world!" Noah gritted his teeth and grunted.

"Reene fired me from Neveah, and Kingsley even ordered others to beat me up severely! I must avenge the humiliation I suffered that day!"

At this moment, someone next to him voiced sullenly, "Mr. Morris, I have a very similar experience with you, but I resigned from Neveah voluntarily!"

The person who spoke was Benjamin Gibson, who used to work in Neveah. Then, he continued with a malevolent gaze, "I have seen that kid before. He killed my good friend, Gordon, right before me!"

"I heard about that too." Noah nodded before asking, "Why did you resign, Mr. Gibson? Isn't it better to stay in Neveah to avenge Mr. Rhodes?"

"D*mn it! Every time I mention this, I can feel my blood boiling!" Benjamin slammed the table heavily.

"Reene bought hundreds of luxury cars to reward the employees, and even the security guard got a Volkswagen CC, but I was deliberately left out!"

Finally, he clenched his teeth as he seethed, "She hated me for betraying her and siding with Alex! I saw that I would have no future in Neveah, so I resigned and submitted my resume to the Coliree Group!"

Ethan was relieved when he heard their resentful words as he spoke, "Fortunately, both of you have resigned from the Neveah Department Store. That's how you got the opportunity to join Coliree Group!"

Slowly, others also chimed in, "That's right, it's definitely a blessing in disguise. You two are going to get lucky!"

"Since many of us are on the same boat here today, let's avenge the two managers together! First, let's humiliate that brat, Kingsley!"

Noah and Benjamin both had sinister gazes as they agreed ruthlessly, "Okay! When that kid arrives, we will torture him until he begs for mercy!"

"Hahahaha..." Ethan laughed heartily at their angry vows. "I can't wait to trample on him!"

The private door was kicked open at that moment to reveal Kingsley's arrival!

"Hey! Aren't you the rich son-in-law of the Larson Family?!"

Ethan was the first to see him sauntering in as he was seated opposite the private room's entrance. Then, he leaned on the back of the chair and crossed his legs as he looked disdainfully at Kingsley.

Everyone immediately looked toward the entrance when they heard Ethan's remark.

Immediately, they saw Kingsley standing straight-backed and confident at the door, all the while exuding an imposing aura!

Those who had seen him for the first time could not help but stare with wide eyes, secretly exclaiming, Look at how he holds himself! He doesn't look like a penniless orphan at all!

Even Noah felt nervous as he recalled the painful experience the day before yesterday! Then, he noticed Reese behind Kingsley.

The sight of his two enemies simultaneously appearing before him caused the fury within him to surge and reach a boiling point!

However, Kingsley merely gave a cursory glance around the people present and commented with a smile, "It seems to be quite the full house today."

As he said that, he took Reese with him to be seated.

He behaved as if he was invited to dinner!

Ethan's cold eyes narrowed slightly as he questioned solemnly, "Why would you bring Reese with you?! Do you think that she can protect you even if she's here?"

Noah sneered as he spoke up, "Hah, I knew it. He's just a loser who relies on women! If there were no women as his backup, he probably wouldn't even dare to leave the house!"

As soon as this statement came out, everyone burst into laughter!

Reese's pretty face sank as she warned coldly, "Noah Morris, don't forget you used to be an insignificant manager under my command!"

Noah's face darkened at her remark. Then, he turned to Ethan and said, "Young Master Ethan, don't hold me back today. I must make this b*tch kneel before me and beg for mercy!"

"Of course, I won't stop you!" Ethan smiled contemptuously. "Neither of them will be leaving unscathed today!"

"Ethan, what are you trying to do?!" Reese pointed to the camera beside her and questioned coldly.

"What are all these for?"

"Hahahaha, don't you understand? I want Kingsley to admit that he's just a piece of sh*t! I will record it, make it into a video, and send it to everyone!"

Ethan even declared maniacally, "I want him to be embarrassed his whole life! He can only hide in the dark like a rat in the sewers! I want everyone to know that he is just lowly trash in front of me, and he will never become successful!" Her face twisted into a nasty scowl as she heard his absurd remarks.

She knew that Ethan was robbed of the limelight yesterday, so he held a grudge against Kingsley!

So, he intended to completely destroy Kingsley's life with his actions today!

"Ethan, you—"

Just as she was about to say something, she was interrupted by Benjamin's vicious voice, "Reese, do you remember me?"

"Mr. Gibson?"

"Hahaha... I'm no longer the manager of Neveah!" Benjamin jeered. "I will soon join Coliree Group!"

He stuck out his tongue and licked his lips, saying sinisterly, "Remember how you embarrassed me back then? I'll let you know what it means to regret your past actions today!"

Noah, next to him, also gritted his teeth. "That's right! How could you fire me because of personal grudges?! I will definitely make you regret it for the rest of your life!"

Speaking of that, Noah suddenly said sardonically, "But anyway, if you hadn't fired me, I wouldn't have dared to submit a resume to Coliree Group!"

Speaking of which, I have to thank you both!"

"Exactly!" Benjamin followed up with a scoff.

"Back then at Neveah, I worked hard every day just to earn 10 thousand per month! However, before I officially join Coliree Group, they have already offered me a monthly salary of 120 thousand!"

Just then, the person next to him looked at Reese contemptuously and remarked sarcastically, "D*mn, isn't she too stingy? Is a managerial position only worth 10 thousand?!"

Others immediately followed suit in agreement.

"It's just a small and insignificant company. I heard that it almost went bankrupt a while ago!"

"That's right. Compared to Coliree Group, her company is trash! She doesn't even deserve to be in our presence!”

As soon as the voice fell, there was a burst of wild laughter in the room! A trace of coldness flashed in Kingsley’s eyes as he questioned indifferently, “Are you so sure that you will be able to join Coliree Group tomorrow?”

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 112-Because of his sentence, everyone in the room stopped their laughter abruptly.

Ethan pursed his lips and sneered contemptuously, “What’s the matter? Are you trying to tell us that you have the ability to stop us from being employed by the Coliree Group?”

As soon as his voice fell, everyone threw him looks of mockery.

How could a mere orphan interfere with the Coliree Group’s recruitment?

That must be the funniest joke they had heard!

“Hahaha...” Noah sneered disdainfully.

“Young Master Ethan, do you think he has that ability? There are no women in the top management of Coliree Group! He wouldn’t be able to get so far!”

The implication was that Kingsley could only rely on women to clean up after him!

“Yeah. Without a woman, he is nothing but a sad, useless man!” Ethan laughed hysterically.

“Hahaha. Come on, let’s not waste time with this sugar baby! Just tie him up and record the video!” Then, under Noah’s command, everyone began to surround him!

“How dare you?!” Reese’s pretty face was cold as she threatened, “If you dare to lay a finger on him, I will never spare you!”

“Hehe. Why can’t you spare us?” Ethan sneered.

“You can’t even protect yourself. How dare you yell at us?!”

Reene furrowed her brows tightly as she retorted, "What do you mean I can't protect myself?"

Ethan waved his hand and boasted, "These people here will be the backbone of Coliree Group in the future! Don't you know how powerful Coliree Group is? It's such an easy feat for them to demolish your small company!"

"You..."

Reene's face went pale with anger at his remark, but she couldn't refute his words!

She knew that Ethan was right.

If these people joined the Coliree Group, it would be an easy feat for them to deal with Neveah!

Noah folded his arms in front of his chest with a smug look.

"Listen up, Reene Wynn. Once I join Coliree Group and take up a position in middle management, I will definitely make you feel the pain of your career being destroyed!"

However, Kingsley gently held her hand and reassured her when he noticed her ashen face, "Don't worry, Reene. As long as I'm here, no one can harm Neveah!"

Unfortunately, everyone burst into another round of jeers when they heard his declaration.

"Are you still trying to be pretentious after all this while?" Ethan tilted his neck and raised his chin imperiously.

"You're just a f*cking orphan! Who gave you the courage to be so confident?! I'm warning you, Kingsley Nicholson. If you don't want to see Reene's company ruined because of you, you'd better listen to whatever I say!"

Kingsley's gaze was indifferent as he replied, "If I do as you say, you won't touch Reene's company. Is that right?"

"Of course!" Ethan's face flashed a hint of triumph.

"As long as you explain in the recording that the invitation letter from the Larson Family has nothing to do with you, I will kindly spare the two of you!"

"Okay." Kingsley stood up slowly and answered, "Deal."

"Kingsley..." Reese's eyes had turned red-rimmed.

"You don't have to compromise for me. I am not afraid of their threats! I can give up on Neveah, but I don't want to see you getting bullied by them!"

"This is not a compromise." Kingsley offered her a light smile.

"You know, the higher you jump, the harder you fall. So, let them hop freely now until they fall under my feet and break their legs!"

"But....."

Reese wanted to say something more, but Kingsley patted her arm lightly in reassurance. "Trust me."

"What the hell are you doing, Nicholson?!" Ethan shouted.

"Hurry up and confess everything to the camera!"

Kingsley walked up to the camera and spoke monotonously, "I admit that the invitation letter from the Larson Family has nothing to do with me."

As soon as those words left his lips, he turned to look at Ethan, asking, "Is this enough?"

Considering his identity, the admiration or contempt of second-class families didn't affect him much.

Besides, the invitation letter he gave to the Larson Family was initially intended to help Cecilia anyway.

As long as the Larson Family knew the truth, nothing else mattered.

As for what other families thought, it wasn't something he cared about.

He even wished for those people to see this video more than Ethan.

After all, he didn't want strangers to know that he was related to Coliree Group.

Meanwhile, Ethan's face twisted into a nasty smirk when he heard that Kingsley personally admitted before the recording camera that the invitation the Larson Family had received had nothing to do with him.

"Darn you! How dare you steal my limelight! These are your consequences!"

He drank the wine in one gulp and urged in satisfaction, "Quick, continue talking! Say that you're a mere scum orphan who relies on a sugar mommy!"

A trace of malice crossed Kingsley's eyes as he warned, "Ethan, I advise you to know your limits!"

"Oh, so you're not gonna talk?"

Then, Ethan suddenly picked up a bowl of broth on the table and threw it on Reese!

Splash!

A bowl of expensive shellfish broth was all splashed on Reese's white shirt!

Fortunately, the dishes were served early, so the broth was not too hot.

Otherwise, a large patch of skin on Reese's chest would undoubtedly be scalded!

At the same time, Benjamin rushed over with a perverted expression and reached out to pull her shirt off!

"Your clothes are dirty. Allow me to take it off and clean it for you!"

He had long coveted Reese's beauty. Now was finally his chance!

That was the reason why when Alex usurped Reese's position; he demanded Reese to undress and allow him to search her body!

"F*ck off!" Kingsley yelled, turned around, and kicked at Benjamin!

As a result, Benjamin flew and hit the wall due to the strength of Kingsley's attack!

Kingsley glared at them as he embraced Reese, who was shivering and raged, "Do you have a f*cking death wish, huh?!"

In that instant, an intense killing intent erupted from his body!

His sudden change in demeanor caused the temperature in the entire room to drop drastically, and the whole place went dead silent!

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 113-Gulp.

Ethan reflexively gulped when he felt that domineering aura.

He was rendered speechless!

Kingsley scanned the crowd with cold eyes and said in a cold voice, "You wanted me to record the video, and I did as told. So, isn't it your turn now?!"

Ethan's body was tense as he questioned sternly, "What are you talking about?!"

"What are you going to do about insulting Reese and dirtying her clothes?!"

Kingsley stood straight and tall as he emphasized every word imposingly, and every word carried a chilling, killing intent!

Benjamin got up from the ground, clutched his chest, and groaned in pain, "What do you want, you little brat? Do you think we will be afraid of you when we have so many people here?"

Noah also snarled fiercely, "What's the point of having some moves?! You can't fight all of us with bare hands! Are you trying to beat the twelve of us by yourself?!"

The others also echoed, mocking Kingsley for being overly presumptuous!

However, he slowly raised the corners of his mouth into a smirk. "Why don't I try if I can fight all of you?"

When Ethan heard that, he immediately jumped up from the chair and declared, "Don't be so brazen! You will never get out of this door today!"

Then, he waved his hand fervently and demanded, “Do it! Make him beg!”

Under Young Master Ethan’s command, two young men approached Kingsley with great enthusiasm!

Unfortunately, before they could even get close, he had already hooked the chair in front of him with his feet and kicked it at them!

Bang!

The beautifully carved chair slammed into the two of them!

The two young men only managed to shriek in pain before landing hard on the table!

Crash!

The table full of food that they had not yet enjoyed was now scattered on the ground.

On the other hand, the two young men had their heads planted on plates of hot dishes. They curled into balls and groaned in pain!

Upon seeing that scene, the crowd was shocked.

His skills were far beyond their imagination!

With a gloomy face, Noah shouted, “This kid knows how to fight! Don’t go against him. Attack Reese Wynn!”

As soon as he gave his command, Kingsley appeared in front of him like a ghost!

His reflexes were so quick that everyone present could not even catch him!

Snap!

Kingsley clutched his hand around Noah’s neck and questioned coldly, “Didn’t you have enough of beating last time?”

“Let go of me... let go...”

Noah was struggling desperately like a stranded fish!

However, he could not break free from Kingsley's grip!

Every struggle he made was in vain.

In just a few breaths, his face turned purple.

His eyes were rolling to the back of his head as if he would die any time soon!

Everyone panicked when they saw it.

Fights were fights, but if human life were at risk, that would be a different story.

They were supposed to visit Coliree Group tomorrow for a job interview!

It would be troublesome if they were involved in a murder incident today!

"Kingsley Nicholson!" Ethan's forehead burst with blue veins.

"Let go of Noah!"

Kingsley was expressionless as he asked, "Why? Are you afraid? Are you afraid that it will be your turn next?"

"Bullsh*t!" Ethan's face turned ashen at his insinuation.

"Why would I be afraid of a lowly person like you?! I just don't want you to affect my career!"

Kingsley suddenly smiled disparagingly.

"I promised Reese that I wouldn't kill anyone in front of her again, so I will keep Noah alive for now!"

After he spoke, he let go of his arm and swung Noah, who was about to suffocate, about 10 feet away!

Gasp...

Noah lay on the ground trembling, desperately gasping for air as the experience was akin to having walked through the gate of hell!

“D*mn it! I almost got strangled to death...” Noah showed a vengeful face, grunting, “I can’t let him go just like that!”

Ethan glanced at Noah, then looked at Kingsley with a sneer, “I thought you really had the guts to murder him. It seems like you’re also a coward at times! Hahaha...”

The others were relieved and started mocking Kingsley one by one when they saw that Noah was spared.

“What a piece of trash! You obviously don’t have the guts to do the deed! You’re just using a woman as an excuse!”

“Well, he’s a professional sugar baby!”

“Don’t try to be pretentious when you don’t even have the balls to do it! Who are you scaring? I’m gonna gather more people next time and make sure you bawl your eyes out!”

Just as everyone was busy mocking and sneering at him, Kingsley touched his waist with his right hand and fished out a pitch-black and shiny pistol!

Ethan and the rest did not have time to react!

Bang!

Bang! Bang!

Kingsley had already raised his pistol and shot frantically within the private room!

The glasses, dishes, and cutleries on the ground were instantly shattered!

The whole room was covered in broken tiles, smoke, and dust in an instant!

“Ah—”

Those clamoring wildly earlier were now crouching on the ground, covering their heads with both hands.

All of them screamed and shouted in fear!

Even a few were so frightened that they pissed their pants!

Read Novel I Am the Ruler of All chapter 114

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 114-Kingsley's marksmanship was excellent!

His shots brushed past every person, but no one was injured!

Nonetheless, this was enough to scare those people out of their minds!

Kingsley uttered in a cold voice when the gunshots stopped, "What else do you want me to record?! Anyone here still wants to embarrass Reese?!"

Silence enveloped the room.

Everyone was petrified, so no one dared to answer him at all.

Only then did he put away the pistol. His dark eyes swept across the crowd, and his tone was frigid.

"I shall remember 12 of your faces! So, you'd better not kneel and beg me for mercy when we meet next time!"

After he said that, he kicked the door to the private room with a bang and left with Reese!

He wiped the broth off her body with a tissue when they returned to the car.

He also blamed himself and muttered, "It's all my fault that I didn't protect you well, Reese."

"It's not your fault..."

Meanwhile, Reese's pretty face had turned scarlet.

She was only wearing a bra underneath her white shirt.

Kingsley must have been able to see everything as he wiped her body in such close proximity...

"Kingsley, let me do it myself..."

She immediately leaned over to get a tissue, but her body collided with his warm palm.

“Ah—”

Reene let out a soft whimper and flinched like she had experienced an electric shock.

Kingsley also felt a little flustered the moment he felt the softness against his palm.

“Erm... Ahem...”

He coughed awkwardly and changed the subject. “Don’t worry, none of these people will be able to escape today! I’ll make them kneel at your feet and beg for forgiveness!”

How dare they hurt Reene in front of him!

To him, they were better off as dead people.

“Kingsley... How are you going to deal with them?” Reene returned to her senses with worry in her eyes as she advised, “You must never kill people again...”

“If you tell me not to kill, I won’t, but I will definitely make them regret their actions for life!”

While he started the engine, he spoke to her, “Tomorrow will be Coliree Group’s pre-bid conference. Come with me. After I’ve dealt with those people, I will introduce the vice president of Coliree Group to you.”

Hearing that, Reene widened her beautiful eyes. “V-Vice president of Coliree Group? Really?!”

Although Kingsley had once told her that the boss of Coliree Group was his comrade-in-arms, she was still surprised to hear that she was suddenly going to meet the vice president of Coliree Group!

“You should check out if there are any projects you are interested in tomorrow morning and discuss them with the vice president of the Coliree Group. Then, we can visit the pre-bid conference after that.”

“Okay! I will prepare myself, so I won’t embarrass you tomorrow!”

Reene’s eyes twinkled brightly as she looked at Kingsley, and there was also a hint of distinct sentiment in her gentle gaze.

Her little brother was a grown-up now!

He was no longer the little boy who asked for candy with a baby voice.

Kingsley had grown into a powerful and mysterious man that she couldn’t fully understand...

Early the following day, Reene came out to the living room wearing a white suit that accentuated her slim figure.

After she fastened the buttons, the action instantly revealed her slender waist.

She also wore a pair of nude stockings under the suit, which looked natural and not overstated. The stockings wrapped around her slim calves, and there was a hint of sexiness in her modest outfit.

Standing in front of Kingsley, she twirled around and exclaimed, “How do I look in this outfit? Does it suit me?”

“Absolutely beautiful! You’re the prettiest, Reene!” Kingsley beamed.

“You’re so gorgeous that I can’t bear to let others admire your beauty!”

“Sweet talker!” Reene hit him lightly before urging, “Let’s get going! It would be rude to be late.”

“Sure,” Kingsley responded and drove Reene toward Coliree Group.

Today’s pre-bid conference was held in Coliree Group Tower A, while Ethan, Noah, and the rest’s induction ceremony were in Tower C.

Kingsley parked his car at the entrance of Tower C.

He had to get rid of those clowns first before everything else!

Currently, in the conference room on the 12th floor of Tower C, more than two dozen applicants were waiting anxiously.

Among them, the 12 people from last night were all present!

They gathered around a spot with Ethan as their leader.

The final employment information of Coliree Group would be released soon.

Therefore, tension and anticipation were written all over their faces.

Read Novel I Am the Ruler of All chapter 115

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 115-Benjamin's face was still pale and it was obvious that he was still affected by Kingsley's kick yesterday.

He whispered, "It's almost time, Young Master Ethan. Why aren't the people from Coliree Group here yet?"

"Shh!" Ethan motioned for Benjamin to be quiet before he answered in an equally soft voice, "Don't worry. After all, all of us will surely get hired!"

While they were feeling uneasy, the door to the meeting room was slowly pushed open.

Immediately, everyone raised their heads to look at the door and they watched as Kingsley and Reese entered the room.

At this moment, Ethan looked stunned before he exclaimed in shock, "Why are you guys here?"

Truthfully, all twelve of them had panicked for a while after Kingsley left yesterday.

However, they quickly calmed down and decided to lodge a report regarding Kingsley's possession of firearms after they managed to enter Coliree Group.

In Qustia, it was a well-known fact that possession of firearms would land one in jail for at least three years.

Besides, Ethan had already sent Kingsley's 'confession' video to everyone present yesterday.

He thought that Kingsley would surely leave the industry and never show up again after getting humiliated.

However, he ended up showing up in his glory at such a critical moment. Benjamin had a disdainful look on his face as he cleared his throat and reprimanded, "Cough... This is Coliree Group's waiting room for job applicants! How can people like you guys trespass into this place?!" Benjamin loathed Kingsley and he could still feel his body aching after getting kicked by the man yesterday.

At this moment, he was forcing himself to be here to apply for work. Meanwhile, Noah scratched his neck and chuckled coldly before chiming in, "Well, maybe they're here to apply for a job as security guards. Wouldn't that make them job applicants too?"

Immediately, everyone started laughing.

At this moment, Kingsley walked toward them and took a random chair by the side before sitting on it. He then said to Ethan, "Didn't you ask me yesterday if I had a way to make sure that all of you wouldn't get hired? Let me give you an answer now. Yes, I can definitely make all of you return with nothing!"

"Haha!" Ethan laughed. "Nicholson, do you know where you're at right now? How dare you make outrageous claims like that?!"

Noah chimed in as well, "Exactly! This is Coliree Group! Do you really think that a small fry like you can do whatever you like here? Ignorant little fool!"

Following that, Jay entered the meeting room along with two secretaries.

Ethan, Noah, as well as the others quickly went quiet as none of them dared to be impolite in front of Jay.

At that instance, all of them stood up and greeted respectfully, "Good afternoon, Mr. Carter."

Right then, all of their hearts started racing quickly as this was the turning point of their lives—this was the moment where they either got hired or eliminated, after all.

When Jay walked toward them and wanted to say something, he suddenly noticed Kingsley sitting by the side, and he was taken aback.

Why is he here? Is he here to check on our work progress?

At the thought of that, he quickly reported to Kingsley, "This is the hiring—"

Yet, Ethan cut Jay off and snapped at Kingsley before Jay could finish what he wanted to say. "This is an important venue where Coliree Group is carrying out their hiring process! How can someone like you enter this place? Why don't you leave now?!" he bellowed.

Thinking that Jay wanted to question what Kingsley, an unrelated personnel, was doing here, he took it upon himself and shouted at the man, trying to make an impression in front of Jay.

While Ethan felt proud for what he did, Jay's facial expression darkened as Ethan had completely twisted what he was trying to say.

He felt his stomach dropping before he quickly motioned around in Kingsley's direction. "I didn't say that! He's the one who claimed so! I never said anything like this!"

Jay didn't want to cross Kingsley, for the man's identity remained a mystery. Nevertheless, Kingsley smiled softly. "It's fine. I'm just here to see what kind of talents you guys are planning to hire."

When he heard the word 'talents', Jay felt beads of cold sweat immediately forming on his skin. Isn't he criticizing us for not taking our job seriously?

He licked his dry lips before stuttering, "W-We still haven't decided on our final hiring list—"

After glancing at Ethan and the others, Kingsley asked nonchalantly, "Mr. Carter, I wonder if I have any say in your final hiring list."

"O-Of course!" Jay wiped the sweat on his forehead before he exclaimed respectfully, "You certainly have a say in this. After all, even Vice President Robinson would need to listen to your decision!"

What?!

Everyone in the meeting room was dumbstruck when they heard Jay. Subsequently, their minds started buzzing while they stood rooted to the ground as if they had been placed under a spell.

Read Novel I Am the Ruler of All chapter 116

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 116-Immediately, Ethan, Noah, Benjamin, and everyone else, especially those who attended Ethan's party yesterday, were stunned before their faces turned pale.

"How is this possible... Impossible..."

Ethan started trembling as if he was a broken kite, and he couldn't even find a stable footing at that moment.

Even Vice President Robinson from Coliree Group has to listen to Kingsley, and he has a say in today's final hiring list?! Is this a joke?!

His lips turned pale before he felt his vision darkening.

He didn't understand what was happening at all.

Isn't this guy an orphan from an orphanage who doesn't do anything and has nothing with him at all? He doesn't even have a job! How can someone like this get the vice president from Coliree Group to listen to him? How is that even possible?!

Noah and Benjamin looked confused as well.

How can someone who only relies on women have so much authority in Coliree Group?

“W-Who are you?” Ethan’s voice shook, and he had already lost the demanding tone in his voice just now.

“That’s a lot of questions from you!” Jay snapped.

“You don’t have any right to know his identity, and I’m warning you to keep your curiosity in check for your family’s own good!”

Jay repeated what Daniel had said to him in the past to Ethan.

“W-What—”

Ethan couldn’t believe what he just heard.

If Mr. Carter looks so terrified as well, doesn’t that mean that Kingsley’s identity is extremely noble?!

At the thought of that, he started trembling before he recalled something.

Back then, Kingsley had placed a bet with Henry during the Wynn Family’s banquet to see who could get the project with Coliree Group first.

Initially, everyone thought that Kingsley was just boasting, but it seemed like everything he said was the truth.

How easy would it be for someone who can give instructions to the vice president of Coliree Group to get a few projects from them? The bet was probably made to make fun of Henry!

Ethan could feel his legs twitching when he recalled those five invitation cards from the Wynns.

There’s no doubt now that Kingsley must have been the one who gave the Wynns those invitation cards! Michael was telling us the truth, and we were just too arrogant to believe it!

Just then, he felt like he was about to faint as his vision started blurring.

Looks like the real boss has always been next to me, but I was too much of a fool to realize it!

At the same time, Noah and Benjamin came to a realization as well.

The man that they had been making fun of all along wasn't actually relying on other women, and his identity was one that they could never achieve.

"Ugh!"

Benjamin felt his heart constricting before he puked blood.

Since he hadn't recovered after getting kicked by Kingsley, the moment of fear that he experienced placed pressure on his organs and caused him to vomit blood.

At the same time, Noah's condition wasn't looking good either.

Although he didn't puke blood, he had lost control of his bladder and bowels due to how terrified he was.

Immediately, the foul stench coming from Noah's pants made Jay feel like puking from disgust as he really hated being close to dirty and unhygienic things.

Thus, he retched at the sight of someone experiencing incontinence in front of him before he snapped angrily, "Noah Morris, you're fired! I don't want to see you entering Coliree Group from today onward!"

Noah's legs gave way upon hearing that, and he fell to the ground with a loud thump.

At this moment, he couldn't be bothered by the fact that his pants were soiled; all he could think about was how he had screwed up.

I'm dead! It's over for me this time! Now that I've crossed someone that I shouldn't, my career is officially over!

Apart from Noah and the others, those who attended the party yesterday were all trembling with pale faces.

Just like Noah, some of them even lost control of their bladders.

On the other hand, Jay was utterly confused when he saw these final candidates whom he had carefully selected starting to tremble before one of them puked blood while some of them lost control of their bowels.

He refused to believe that these were the best of the talents that he had handpicked on his own.

With a fearful look, Jay turned toward Kingsley and trailed off, saying, “Mr. Nicholson, these candidates weren’t like this during their preliminaries and tests—”

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 117-“I-I won’t repeat the same mistake anymore...” Ethan crawled toward Reese’s feet and pleaded.

“Reese, Reese, since Mia and I are engaged now, it would mean that you’re my elder sister as well! Please consider our relationship and forgive me...”

“Who is your elder sister?!” Kingsley kicked Ethan’s shoulder, causing him to fall to the ground. “Who are you to call her that?!”

At the same time, Ethan felt like crying because he didn’t expect himself to make another wrong move. Then, he quickly got back to his kneeling position before he started groveling at Kingsley’s feet.

“I’m wrong for calling her my elder sister! I don’t have the right to do that! Please, I’m begging you. Please don’t eliminate me from Coliree’s selection...”

Ethan gave him a pleading look. Almost everyone knew that he applied to work at Coliree Group, so he’d be too embarrassed to continue staying in Cleapolis if he were to get eliminated.

By then, he probably couldn’t even return to work at the Windsors’ anymore, as he’d be drowned by all the rumors and cynicisms circling around.

At the thought of that, Ethan trembled before he started slamming his forehead to the ground. A while later, his forehead was already bleeding.

When everyone saw how Ethan was reacting, all of them knew that there was no room for regret anymore.

Immediately, all of them followed Ethan and started crouching down to Kingsley and Reese.

Even Benjamin, who had already spat blood, got on his knees and followed suit.

Yet, Kingsley remained emotionless despite seeing all of them humbling down and kneeling in front of him.

Although he promised Reese yesterday that he wouldn't kill anyone, it didn't mean that he would forgive them.

Right now, he wanted all of these people to disappear in front of him forever.

Just then, Jay came back with the newest camera, and he looked slightly taken aback when he saw them kneeling on the ground. However, he didn't dare to ask anything unnecessary.

Immediately, Jay used a tripod to stabilize the camera before he said to Kingsley in a respectful manner, "Mr. Nicholson, you may start recording now."

At the same time, everyone kneeling on the ground had horrified looks on their faces when they saw the camera because they already knew what Kingsley was planning to do to them.

He was trying to give them a taste of their own medicine!

Right then, Kingsley's fingers tapped against the chair's armrest before he said nonchalantly, "Didn't you guys make me make a footage yesterday? It's your guys' turn now!"

Ethan's face turned as pale as paper before he stuttered, "W-What do you want us to shoot..."

"Calm down. You'll know soon enough!" Kingsley exclaimed before turning toward Reese.

“Reena, I don’t think it’s suitable for girls to watch what’s going to happen next, so it’s better if you leave with these two secretaries first.”

“Alright,” Reena replied before leaving the meeting room along with the two secretaries.

She was starting to be submissive toward Kingsley subconsciously.

After they left, Kingsley pointed at Benjamin. “Don’t you like removing other people’s clothing? Well, I want you guys to strip, starting from you!”

Immediately, Benjamin’s face went colorless from shock before he started beseeching again. “Please don’t... Please don’t make me do that...”

“Don’t be disrespectful! How dare you go against Mr. Nicholson’s demand?!” Jay snapped before he instructed the other job applicants who weren’t involved, saying, “Come over! Do it for him!”

Seeing this as an opportunity to perform, all of the other job applicants rubbed their hands together and headed toward Benjamin.

A while later, Benjamin was stripped of all of his clothes.

When Ethan and the others saw him getting stripped, all of them were horrified as this was way worse than death itself. If the clips went online, all of their lives would be ruined.

“I was wrong, Mr. Nicholson... Please forgive me...”

For a moment, everyone in the meeting room started wailing, but Kingsley wasn’t a soft-hearted person. After fighting through tons of battles, he knew well that being merciful toward his enemy was being cruel to himself.

“Remove them!”

Loud cries rang out along with his instruction.

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 118-All twelve of them were frightened out of their wits, and none of them dared to go against Kingsley.

A while later, all of them, who were initially dressed up nicely, stood there in their glory.

After Kingsley took a video of all of them, he got them to wear their clothes again before he gave all of them a disdainful look. “Do you guys know the consequences of this video getting leaked?”

“We do, we do...” All twelve of them, who were still in the midst of wearing their clothes, quickly answered in a terrified manner.

“That’s good to know,” Kingsley replied coldly.

“From today onward, if I run into any of you in Cleapolis, I won’t hesitate to release this video! Do you guys understand what I mean?”

Upon hearing that, everyone cried out, “We get it. We won’t ever show up in Cleapolis anymore!”

“I’ll get a plane ticket and move to another country! I won’t ever come to Qustian anymore!”

“Me too! I’ll migrate with my entire family, and I won’t show up in front of you ever again!”

No one dared not to agree to Kingsley’s terms as all of them were renowned business elites, and they’d rather leave the country than become other people’s laughing stock.

After dealing with them, Kingsley returned to Daniel’s office together with Reese.

When Reese saw the legendary vice president of Coliree Group, she got really nervous as her palms and feet turned cold, and she didn’t know how to react.

At the same time, Daniel was extremely nervous as his body stiffened up when he saw Ares, the God of War.

He really wanted to do a military salute, but he was afraid that it might be inappropriate.

Seeing these two standing stiffly and not knowing what to do, Kingsley broke out laughing before he asked, “Why are you two in a daze? Come sit down.”

Hearing him, Daniel returned to his seat cautiously before he took a stack of document files out and said to Reese, “Miss Wynn, we will release four projects during the pre-bid conference later. Do take a look at this.”

Reese’s eyes widened when she took the file. “T-The... largest project here actually costs up to 30 billion?”

“That’s right. This is a project with Cleapolis City Hall. If you’re interested, we can decide on a partnership now.”

However, Reese quickly waved her arms around after hearing him. “No, no, no! We are just a small department store, so we can’t handle such a large infrastructural project like this!”

Then, she gave Kingsley a look to express her shock.

Coliree Group is actually considering giving me their biggest project because of Kingsley? Is there anyone else in Solaris Province who can make this happen?!

Still, Kingsley smiled softly before he suggested, “Since that state-owned brand building quoted at 2 billion is very suitable for a department store, why don’t you let Neveah handle that?”

Reese nodded. “I prefer that project as well.”

“Sure,” Daniel answered without any hint of hesitation.

“Just write something on your tender during the pre-bid conference later on. I’ll make sure that the project will be Neveah’s!”

After getting Coliree Group’s vice president’s affirmation, Reese felt her face flushed red from excitement.

She was flattered as this was her first time getting a ‘back door’ business deal, and it was a pleasant experience.

After sorting the documents, Daniel glanced at his watch and reported respectfully, "Mr. Nicholson, the pre-bid conference is starting soon. Let's head over there right now."

When the three of them reached Tower A, Daniel didn't enter the hall together with them to avoid suspicion and entered through the staff area by the side instead.

At the same time, there were already many hotshots from all sorts of industries sitting at the pre-bid conference.

It was an understatement to claim that all of the top businessmen in Solaris Province were gathered there.

Just then, Kingsley and Reese got seated in a less noticeable corner.

Upon noticing them, Michael, who was sitting close to them, waved his hand at them happily. "Kingsley, you're finally here!"

Everyone present at the hall was society elites or businessmen that were millionaires, and he felt as if he was sitting on pins and needles sitting among these people as the head of a second-rated family.

At that moment, Michael felt like an ugly duckling that managed to blend into a group of swans, and he didn't even dare to look up at all.

Thus, he was relieved when he saw Kingsley.

Meanwhile, a surprised voice rang out the moment Kingsley and Reese sat down. "Reese Wynn?"

The person who spoke was a man, who had a slick back and was covered in designer brands from head to toe.

He raised his hand purposely to show his Rolex Kermit before he exclaimed, "It's really you! It's been a while!"

The man who spoke was Reese's classmate back in university, Will Maslow.

Not expecting to run into him here, Reese nodded with a cold face as a greeting.

"Come on, why are you still acting cold?" Will questioned sarcastically.

“Back then, you refused to go to the hotel with me even after I threw a wad of cash at you! I can’t believe that you’re still acting holy even after so many years!”

Reene frowned. “Will, you tried to humiliate me with money after I rejected you back then, and I’m not planning on talking about it anymore! Please stop trying to mess with me again!”

“You’re saying that I tried to pursue you?” Will questioned before he chuckled coldly.

“Reene Wynn, why would I, the young master of Diosna City’s Scarlet Heart Group, want to pursue you? All I did was place a bet with my mates to see who would get to sleep with your curvy a*s! It’s such a pity because I would have been able to get Jameson’s sports car if you had slept with me back then!”

Then, he started scanning Reene’s body with a lustful look before he licked his lips and exclaimed, “You looked even better than before now that I haven’t seen you in a few years! I also heard that you’d become one of Cleapolis’ well-known entrepreneurs? Tsk, it is my hobby to make strong women like you submissive!”

Immediately, Reene snapped with a stern look on her face, “Watch your mouth, Will! I’m not that girl that will allow you to step all over me now!”

“Haha! What about it? Just because you’re a progressive woman who happens to run a company?”

Will laughed disdainfully before a lustful look appeared on his face again. “Still, the more you act like this, the more it turns me on!”

Suddenly, he noticed Kingsley, who was sitting next to Reene, before he exclaimed with a look of realization, “So that’s why you keep rejecting my advances! I didn’t know that you’re into gigolos!”

Upon hearing that, Reene had her face darkened as she tried to suppress her anger. “Will, you better not try to humiliate me or the people around me again!”

“So what if I humiliate you?” Will crossed his leg with a smug look on his face. “What’s wrong with humiliating an orphan like you?”

I Am the Ruler of All chapter 120-"You!"

Reese gritted her teeth in anger. At this moment, she had a really strong urge to slap that smug look off Will's face.

"Ignore him, Reese," Kingsley commented nonchalantly. "He'll regret this later on!"

"Haha! Regret?" Will sneered. "That's not a word that I associate myself with!"

At this moment, Jay went on stage to announce the start of the pre-bid conference.

At that instance, everyone, including the smug Will, went quiet obediently.

Jay briefly introduced all of the leaders and guests that came today before he announced, "Since Coliree Group is all about being efficient, the bidding, open bidding, evaluation, and final signing of the contract will be concluded by today during this pre-bid conference!"

Upon hearing that, all of the industry hotshots nodded their heads with satisfaction as time was money to them.

In no time, the time for all sealed bids to be submitted ended.

Right then, the crowd started getting anxious as they waited impatiently for the open bidding.

Under Jay's organized guidance, the results came out in no time.

"The first project is a construction project for Cleapolis worth 30 billion, and the winning bidder is Ramada Corporation from Solaris Province's Cleapolis!"

Everyone started applauding.

Since this was a large project that involved local benefits, most of the people here were self-conscious, and not many of them dared to try bidding for this project.

Other than a few businessmen who expressed their disappointment for not getting the project, the rest of them could only watch with envious looks on their faces.

Most of the attendees had their attention placed on the two projects worth two billion and five billion, respectively.

Following that, Jay announced again, "The winning bidder for the second project is Scarlet Heart Group from Solaris Province's Diosna City!"

"The winning bidder for the third project is Modinium Tech Incorporated from Solaris Province's Fadena City!"

"The winning bidder for the fourth project is Neveah Department Store from Solaris Province's Cleapolis!"

When the announcement for all four winning bidders ended, everyone had different expressions on their faces, as a mixture of excitement, disappointment, envy, and confusion plastered on everyone's faces.

While all three mentioned companies were well known and influential in Solaris Province, none of them had ever heard of Neveah Department Store, and they couldn't help but wonder how a company that no one had ever heard of managed to win the bidding.

At the same time, Michael and Megan caught onto what had happened and gave each other a look.

Just then, Megan cursed mentally, What kind of dirty tactic did Reese pull to seduce Kingsley into giving her a project?!

On the other hand, Michael had decided that he had to get his daughter married to Kingsley when he headed back by all means!

Meanwhile, Will had a shocked expression on his face. “What the f*ck? Looks like you’re really a capable person, Reese! How did you even manage to win the bid? It seems like I’ve honestly underestimated you!”

However, he quickly broke into laughter. “It’s too bad that you only managed to get a small project worth two billion. You can’t even compare that to the project worth eight billion that Scarlet Heart Group won! Still, if you are willing to stay over with me at the hotel nearby later on, I can consider sharing a bit of my profit with that tiny company of yours! Haha!”

Yet, Jay’s voice rang out again before he could finish laughing. “Hang on! I just received a message from my leader! It seems like there are some changes regarding the winning bidders!”

What?!

The crowd started getting excited again as everyone got hopeful.

Following that, Will raised his chin and sneered, “Reese, I bet you’re getting eliminated! I knew a small company like yours wouldn’t be able to win the bid! Sure enough, Coliree Group must have made a mistake!”

Nevertheless, Kingsley gave him a nonchalant look. “Don’t jump to conclusions just yet.”

“What the f*ck? Since when is it your turn to speak?!” Will snapped. “How dare you speak to a young master like me—”

Before he could finish his sentence, Jay announced, “The winning bidder for the second project has been changed from Scarlet Heart Group to Sunrise Corporation from Diosna City!”

What?!

Will felt like something just exploded next to his ears as he stood up in an abrupt manner and shouted, “Why?! I demand an explanation!”

Yet, Jay replied coldly, “I’ve been informed that you crossed our president’s woman.”

“I-I crossed the president’s woman?”

Will looked confused.

How can I cross Coliree Group’s president’s woman when I don’t even know him?!
