Chapter 136

Chapter 136: Questions and Answers

Drexel POV

Penelope's first question put me in a tizzy. "Did you know I was your mate?" she asked, as she rested her head on my shoulder and gazed at the sky

I gulped. "Yes."

She stilled for a moment and I was sure that she would shout or yell at me, but she was quiet

She relaxed again. "Why did you fight your mate bond against me?"

I loosed a tense breath. "It was the most difficult thing I did and perhaps the stupidest. Penelope

"You didn't answer my question."

I lowered my chin and placed it on the crown of her head. "My mother was a human... She was too weak against my father... I hated weakness and since I thought you were a human..." I couldn't say much. "But I was unable to fight it long. My wolf always wanted to go back to you

"I know," she replied instantly. "Wolfe wanted to be with Ria. I think he will never let you leave me."

"No! and thank god for that!"

"When did you start loving me?" she asked in a low voice and I could feel her heart beating faster

I grasped her tightly. "From the day I saw you," I said and kissed her temple. "From the first day I saw you, I started loving you. It's just that it took time for me to realize my feelings."

For the next one hour, Penelope asked me various questions and I answered them all truthfully. I told her that I was being a jerk all the time, but it was mostly because of my circumstances. She asked about Freya

"I knew Freya from four years," I said. "She helped me a lot initially and was always on my side. But she changed a lot in the last two years and I didn't know that she had a mate. If you wouldn't have pointed out the frauds that she was committing in my business, I would have never come to know."

"But how is it possible that you didn't smell her mate on her?" she asked a valid question

"That is something even I don't know. How she managed to suppress that scent is too strange. I would like to know that very much. When my warriors caught her along with Walker in the lodge, they searched the whole place, but they didn't find anything that would make them suspect it!" I sucked in a sharp breath. "She cheated for two years, embezzled a lot of money, kept me under the impression that she would marry me when all the while she intended to marry Walker and kill me. Her intentions were to take over my pack and gift it to Walker."

Penelope's fingers came over my forearms and she began to caress me there. When I calmed a little, I realized that old anger was bubbling inside my chest

"Over the last two years, she had increased her network and roped in five Alphas to do the job for her. Of killing me. To scare you away was part of her plan..." I clenched my jaws and felt like going to the dungeons and killing Kiev

"She lied to me repeatedly. She told me that she had met Steven when in fact she had never ever met him. Her plans were to take over his diamond mine."

Penelope gasped. She trembled in my grasp and I couldn't help but curl my other arm around her chest to calm her. To tell her that I was there and she needn't worry more. She buried her face in the crook of my neck and mumbled, "I am so sorry for what she did to you..."

"And I am so sorry for how I behaved with you
