Chapter 491

Chapter 491 My wifel

The man came out of the bathroom and entered the room. Very quickly, a graceful figure jumped up, wrapped around the man like a water snake, and enticingly said, "Let me serve you well tonight."

The two hugged each other and rolled over on the large bed.

The wedding guests were jaw dropping. This is not a romantic movie, it is clearly a porn ographic film and the genre isn't suitable for children.

Crystal's face changed dramatically. She was shocked. What's happening? Why is the video changed?

The question is, who is that man?

Who is that?

Crystal knows that this is the only video of her and Elvis making love. The woman in the video is her, but the man seems...not Elvis!

How can it be?

Crystal suddenly realized something. She shook her head in disbelief, her hands and feet freezing.

Now people are whispering.

"What's going on? What about the love movie that we agreed on? Could it be a benefit for us?*

The woman in this depraved video is the princess. Unexpectedly, the princess looked elegant and dignified, but when closing the door, she lacked tact and was s lippy. It could be seen that she couldn't wait any longer, as if she had never seen a man before."

"Who is the man in this video? He looks like the groom, but he's not."

As everyone was discussing, the camera suddenly zoomed in. Through the bright moonlight outside the window, people saw the real fare of this man.

This man is not Elvis at all!

Although his appearance is similar to Elvis, his face is different.

"Oh my go d."

Everyone gasped, exploding. The Princess actually had sex with another man, and nakedly cuc kolded the groom?"

Crystal felt like five thunderbolts fell on her. Her pupils suddenly constricted, she didn't want to believe it.

The woman on the screen is her, it's a video of her making love to Elvis, but why isn't this man Elvis?

This man looks like Elvis, but he's not Elvis!

Crystal was like being pushed from heaven to hell. She always assumed Elvis was sleeping with her, but in fact, she slept with another man.

Well, then the child in her belly is not Elvis's. It is that bastard's!
Why?

She finally knew why Elvis had turned off the lights that night. He did it on purpose. He surreptitiously changed men and asked another man to sleep with her.

Elvis!

It must be him!

Crystal looked at Elvis in front of her. The tall man was standing there. His deep eyes gently scanned the big screen, his handsome face was calm. Apparently, all of this was arranged by him. Perhaps noticing her gaze, he glanced sideways, and his gaze fell on hers.

Elvis stood in front of her silently looking at her, with cold eyes that made people shiver.

The whole wedding scene was very quiet, strangely quiet, making the vague sound on the big screen even clearer. After returning to Greenland, she was a cold and arrogant princess, and now her image has suddenly collapsed.

Crystal woke up. She shouted: "Turn off the big screen! Turn it off quickly!"

1151

Chapter 491 My wife!

The big screen doesn't turn off, the frenzy is still going on. She rode on the man's waist and shouted, her voice very sweet. "All Elvis, I love you so much... You're finally mine."

Crystal was about to go crazy because everyone's eyes on her have changed, filled with ridicule, and contempt as if they were watching a good play.

This wedding is truly a stunning reversal. Logan put on such a big show, now turning into a large-scale insult for the grand princess.

Now the whole of Greenland knows that the princess has a bad personality and will be considered a prostitute from now on.

"What a pity for my groom! Let go of my groom! My groom deserves better!" A girl shouted.

It's over!

She's done!

Crystal's beautiful face paled. This horrible wedding was televised simultaneously online, and now her ugly face and corrupt nature have been exposed.

She has become the laughingstock of thousands of households, how will she live in the future?

At this time, a distinguished guest said:

"Princess, now that the video of you and a lewd man having an affair has been revealed, what do you want to say?"

"Princess, according to folklore here, anyone who commits adultery will be drowned in the pigsty."

People started asking her questions.

Crystal panicked, loudly saying: "It's not true. I was harmed. Dad, please save me!"

Crystal looked at Logan beside her as if catching a lifebuoy

Logan looked very unhappy. He kept Crystal because she was useful, now that she did such a thing almost dishonored him. He said seriously: "The wedding is stopped. Go home, everyone."

Logan wanted to take Crystal away.

Crystal wanted to avoid the limelight first. She had to get out of here first, and then slowly think of a way. She could still overcome it.

The scene caused an uproar. At this time the door of the wedding hall suddenly opened, and a man entered.

Crystal raised her head, trembling all over. This man was the man she slept with.

This man has a good body, but he is very ugly, with a few scars on his face. He looks very hideous.

He ran over, and lunged at Crystal, shouting "My wife!"

Crystal hastily hid behind Logan, exclaiming, "Shut up. Who's your wife?"

"Princess, you slept with me, you are my wife. You can't deny it. Do you want me to remind you of that night? I served you well that night... Scar Man said. He's just a local thug. He looked at Crystal pitifully, the corners of his mouth lifted, revealing yellow teeth

Crystal looked at him and wanted to vomit. How could she sleep with such an incompetent man? That was her first time. It's so disgusting

Crystal has been pampered since childhood, normally mostly despised men from lowly backgrounds. At this time, she desperately shouted: "Get out! Get this man out. Hurry up!"

The guards in black quickly ran over and grabbed Scar Man. Scar Man reacted very quickly. He sat on the ground, his butt crouched down, saying, "You dare hit people! The princess hits lowly people! When she slept with me, she wobbled a lot, every time she screamed. Currently, her belly has still carried my seed, and I am the biological father of her child."

Chapter 492 Follow him into the room

What?

Everyone looked at Crystal and her belly in surprise. Was she pregnant? Her Royal Highness not only had an affair but was also pregnant with a bastard child?

Seeing everyone's eyes on her, Crystal instinctively covered her stomach with her hand and shook her head: "No, I'm not pregnant. I am not pregnant with this man's child!"

When she first found out she was pregnant, she was overjoyed. How happy she used to be, how ironic now she felt She wishes she could break the bowl of pregnancy medicine that Elvis had just given her.

No wonder Elvis fed her it himself. She was very happy and he must have looked at her like a clown.

On the ground, Scar Man sneered and said: "Princess, don't deny it. Recently you have taken pregnancy medicine, everyone in the palace knows this baby is mine. I don't want anything. I just want to bring you back to my home, let you be my wife, and then give birth to a chubby son. I won't have to worry for the rest of my life. That's the glory of my ancestors hahaha."

Crystal was so angry that she trembled. She knew she had offended a scoundrel. He will never leave her alone.

She always wanted to climb to the glory of Elvis so that she could sit down and relax, but she was eventually trapped by a scoundrel who wanted to disturb her to enjoy all the glory and riches.

She had a terrible end.

She didn't want to marry this man!

She didn't want this bastard's baby in her stomach anymore! She wanted to kill this bastard with her own hands!

"Dad, get this guy out!" Crystal broke down, calling Logan for help.

Logan's face became more and more unsightly. Today, there is a joke in the royal family, that directly makes the world laugh. He ordered: "Come on, quickly pull this man out."

"Look, they are killing people. If something happens to me, everyone must avenge me! The king wants to kill me! Mr. Theodore, you can't do this to me. I am your daughter's husband. You are also my son's grandfather. Dad!" Scar Man on the ground ran over, hugged Logan's thigh, and refused to let go, affectionately calling "Dad".

Logan was dizzy with anger.

On the other side of the hustle and bustle, Olive stood outside watching, not expecting the wedding to turn out like this.

It turns out that Elvis has never slept with Crystal, and the child in Crystal's belly isn't his.

He only used a substitute to deal with Crystal harshly.

Olive remembers that when she said he slept with Crystal in the restricted area, he was furious and frustrated. Turns out that's the truth.

No wonder he called her here to help. The help was fake. He just wanted her to come and see for herself.

Olive turned to leave, walking out of the big wedding party.

As soon as she entered the hallway, she saw a tall and handsome figure in front of her, it was Elvis.

Elvis was right in front of her, and the vintage palace-style lanterns in the hallway covered his straight shoulders. exuding the charm and nobility of a grown man.

But Elvis wasn't alone, beside him was another girl, Clara, Logan's third princess.

This third princess is very much loved by Logan. Her biological mother is an excellent beauty, very good at manipulating men. Over the years, the concubines around Logan have come and gone, but the biological mother of the third princess has always been in Logan's favor. She is Logan's favorite wife.

It is said that once Logan enters this strange beautiful woman's room, there will be mesmerizing dance music. It is rumored that this strange beauty can... seduce men in this way.

When the third princess, Clara, was young, she was smart and lovely, especially smooth-tongued. Whenever she was next to Logan, she could always make him laugh.

Chapter 492 Follow him into the room

Both mother and daughter from this strange land are good at seducing men.

Now Clara is standing beside Elvis. She wore a long, pastel pink dress, and her pretty face attracted the eye. She looked up at Elvis with shining eyes full of admiration and pity. "Brother in law, don't be sad. I know this is all my sister's fault, so I apologize on behalf of my sisters. How about this? Brother-in-law, let's go out tomorrow to relax. I know a very fun place."

Olive stopped walking, looking at Clara in front of her. Clara vividly was expressing a woman's admiration for a man. This can effectively please a man. Men today just can't refuse this.

There's nothing wrong with what Clara just said. On the one hand, she showed her sisterhood and innocence, on the other hand, she stepped on Crystal to invite Elvis.

Olive curled her red lips. She knew that Crystal was over, and Clara was the highest-status girl she had ever seen. Crystal, a silly girl who comes to this palace, is waiting for Clara to pick her up and joke to her death.

It was clear that Clara had a crush on Elvis and was trying to win him over every step of the way.

Clara is absolutely not an ordinary girl. She grew up in Logan's harem, perhaps also among the machinations of palace maids.

Olive's clear eyes returned to Elvis' handsome face. He had no expression at all, his expression was cold and distant. Now, as if he is moved, he turns around, and those narrow, deep eyes look at her.

Four eyes facing each other.

Clara followed Elvis's gaze. Seeing Olive, she exclaimed. "Wow. What a beautiful young lady! Brother-in-law, do you know this girl?"

Elvis looked at Olive without even glancing at Clara.

Clara didn't feel shy at all, she laughed and said: "Brother-in-law, then you can chat with her! I won't disturb you. I'll go first."

Clara turned to leave.

After taking a few steps, Clara turned her head to look at Olive.

When she saw Olive, she met her clear eyes, and Olive stood there silently, looking at her, too.

Clara was stunned for a moment, then returned to normal after a few seconds, raised her small hand, and waved: "Miss, goodbye."

Clara's figure disappeared,

In the hallway, only Elvis and Olive remained. He reached out, opened a door to the room, and entered.

Olive blinked her slender eyelashes, then lifted her heel and stepped in.

Olive entered the room, but no one was in the room, she didn't see Elvis.

At this time, there was a "clack" sound from behind, and Olive hurriedly turned around to look back. It turned out that Elvis was standing behind the door, now leaning against the door board, with his left hand closing it

Chapter 493 How are you these days?

The door to the room was closed, and the hustle and bustle of the whole world was far away from them now.

Olive looked at him, momentarily unsure of what to say, "You found..... that scar man?"

"Yes" Elvis nodded, then took a step closer to her with his long legs.

Olive instinctively took a step back. "Are you close to the third princess?"

Elvis stared at her with his black eyes, and from his thin lips uttered a word: "No."

He is really simple and domineering. Though not close to him, Clara had her eye on him.

"At the wedding, you embarrassed Crystal and Logan, almost biting them to death. This is Greenland, and you messed up in other people's territory, aren't you afraid of revenge?"

Elvis raised his mighty eyebrows, and said, "No, I'm not afraid."

Now Olive feels a chill down her spine. She already had no way back. She had retreated to the wall, now her beautiful slender back against the cold wall. The next second, her vision darkened. "Bang" a sound, Elvis' tall and handsome body was approaching. He raised his hand, propped up against the wall beside her, directly hugging the slim woman into his strong, warm chest. He was so tall, blocking her view. Now her whole world was filled with his handsome face, his clean, masculine breath enthralled her.

Elvis looked at her. Her beautiful eyelids lowered. He whispered in a deep voice, "Olive, I, Elvis Augustine, fear nothing. I'm just afraid of you, of your fickle heart."

Olive felt hurt.

At this moment, Elvis raised his hand, his long slender fingers landed on her beautiful delicate face, gently stroking, "How are you these days?"

Olive's eyes suddenly turned red. He was asking how she'd been these days. He asked her just like she asked him with her empty cell phone that day. That day, she also asked him. "Elvis, are you okay?"

Now the tips of his faint fingerprints are caressing her soft face, the warmth of his palm constantly pressing against her slightly cool skin. Olive was digging her fingers into the wall, her small face pressed against his palm, like a suckling milk cat.

His straight shoulders could shelter any woman. She wanted to lie in his arms and seek his protection, too.

But she couldn't.

Olive knew he was asking about One Snap, so she nodded, "You should know how I am, Elvis. I'm fine."

Now that Elvis had another pill in his hand, he brought it to her red lips, saying. "Take this."

"Is there Crystal's blood inside? Didn't that scar-faced man have sex with Crystal once? Why is she generously giving you blood?"

"I spent some time with her and she was very pleased, so she gave it to me." Olive pursed her red lips. Crystal is the most greedy, she wants a lot and can never be satisfied, but she really likes Elvis. As long as Elvis is gentle, Crystal will be satisfied.

Olive took the pill, joking: "In the end, Mr. Augustine is the most attractive. The princesses of Greenland are all fascinated by your masculinity."

As soon as this word ended, Elvis' handsome brows furrowed together, showing displeasure.

Olive, realizing that something was wrong, asked him, "Are you angry?"

Elvis looked at her, then lowered his eyes and kissed her red lips.

Olive's pupils constricted and quickly turned her head to dodge.

Elvis kissed her long hair. He simply buried his handsome face deeply into her long hair, inhaling her sweet feminine scent. His thin lips curled into a shallow curve. He said hoarsely: "Olive, what's wrong? I mean, you won't forget what you said in that restricted area, right? You told me that as long as I don't sleep with Crystal, you will stay by my side. Why do I want to kiss you now but you don't kiss me?"

Chapter 411How are you these days?

Olive remembers what she said, but at the time she thought he was actually sleeping with Crystal and wanted to force him to back off.

She couldn't be with him anymore.

Olive lowered her slender eyelashes and whispered, "Tivis, I'm sorry..."

Elvis's tall body suddenly stiffened, he slowly raised his head, then stretched out his long slender fingers to pinch her small face. "Olive, say it clearly, withdraw your apology. Everyone who apologizes to me will go to hell!"

"You said it yourself. Now you don't want to admit it. Do you want to take it back?"

Elvis's heroic eyebrows were covered with hostility, Olive even saw a glint of murderous intent in his eyes. If she dared to nod and say sorry, he would most likely strangle her to death.

Such a proud man constantly continued to bow down to her, but she repeatedly lied to him and abandoned him. Olive felt that he was bound to hate her.

"Tivis, I'm sorry. I just... casually said that so I could quickly get rid of you and get out of the restricted area with Derrick that day. Actually, the fact that you and Crystal don't sleep together doesn't change anything..."

Before Olive could finish speaking. Elvis suddenly squeezed his fingers, her beautiful little face rapidly changing color under his fingertips, "Enough Olive, then why did you come to the wedding party? Did you rush over and trample me just in case I was?"

The tendon on Elvis' forehead twitched violently, his whole body revealing a terrifying ferocity. He roared with anger and deep hatred.

Olive closed her eyes. "Elvis, I'm sorry. We're... over."

Elvis's muscular chest rose and fell, he clenched his fist and was about to punch her hard.

The fierce wind blew towards Olive. Clive didn't avoid it. She just quickly closed her eyes.

There was a loud "hang".

Olive waited for the pain to come, but it didn't

She slowly opened her eyes. Elvis' fist slid across her cheek, hitting the wall next to her.

The wall above immediately had a hole, Elvis' hand was bleeding, and sent a hot blood stain down the white wall "Elvis, you are crazy!" Olive exclaimed, her pupils constricted.

At this moment, she smelled blood and sullenly felt an uncomfortable feeling in her chest, a stream of sour water flowing up. She pushed Elvis away, rushed to the bathroom, stooped over the toilet, and threw up.

Chapter 494 Elvis, this child is not yours

Elvis quickly went to the bathroom, he reached out a large hand to pat Olive's back, his handsome brows furrowed. He asked with concern in a deep voice, "Olive, are you okay?"

As soon as he finished speaking. Elvis seemed to suddenly think of something, and his big hand stopped.

Olive stopped vomiting, her slender eyelids quivering. She quickly stood up.

"I'm okay, I have work to do. I'll go first."

She was acutely aware of the change in his mind, so she wanted to run away.

But it wasn't that simple, Elvis grabbed her slender wrist and slowly narrowed his sharp narrow eyes at her, "Olive, tell me, what the hell is wrong with you?"

"Like I said, I'm okay..."

"You lied!" Elvis directly interrupted her.

Elvis's gaze slowly lowered, stopping at her flat stomach. He asked. "Olive, are you still pregnant? I remember when you were pregnant for the first time, you used to vomit like that, you... Our baby is still in your womb, isn't it?"

Olive hastily shook her head in denial. "No."

"Ha ha ha." Elvis suddenly laughed, a deep cheerful voice escaping from his throat. With one hand on his hip, he happily paced back and forth a few times, "Sure thing. Olive. I've always wondered why you are so cruel, and how you could kill our child."

"Elvis, listen to me."

"Olive, I don't want to hear you lie. You have lied to me so many times I won't believe you anymore. Now I only believe what the doctor says, I will call the doctor right now. This is Greenland, you can't collude with these doctors. They're all mine."

Elvis quickly took out his cell phone and called Peterson.

Because last time Olive had colluded with the doctors, this time Elvis was even more cautious. This is entrusted to Peterson, the doctors are all his people, very trustworthy.

Just then there was a knock on the door, Peterson walked in with a doctor in a white coat and two nurses, "Sir, the doctor's here."

Elvis looked at the doctor, "Go take a pregnancy test. I want to see if she is pregnant or not."

"Yes."

The doctor came forward and opened the medicine box, respectfully looking at Olive: "Miss Hart, I need a blood test now. Please show me your finger."

Olive stood still, clearly uncooperative.

"Olive, baby, it doesn't hurt to get pricked. Be patient." Elvis gently comforted her, then took her small hand and showed it to the doctor.

Immediately after, the doctor took blood.

Pregnancy results will be available soon. Elvis felt he couldn't wait any longer. His personality has always been mature and steady, rarely short-tempered, but now he is constantly testing time.

"Got the result? Hurry up." Elvis couldn't help but urge.

The doctor smiled and said, "Young master, wait a little longer."

"Hurry up then!"

Olive looked at Elvis and slowly raised her eyebrows. She knows that he cares for this child, but how happy she is now, how difficult she will face later.

"Young master, I got the pregnancy results!" The doctor shouted now.

Elvis took the pregnancy test, the doctor next to him explained: "Master, Miss Hart is really pregnant."

She's actually still pregnant!

They didn't lose their child!

Tremendous joy filled Elvis' entire chest, All the gloom, coldness, and hesitation of this period disappeared in an instant. One voice, then countless voices said to Elvis, "Olive not wanting this baby means she doesn't want you, but she loves this baby means she loves you!"

Tivis immediately stepped forward, stretched his arms around Olive's soft waist, and hugged her on the spot. He was so crazy happy. He asked. "Olive, why didn't you tell me? I know, you won't abandon my child."

Olive used her small hands to grab his shoulders, pushing him, "Elvis, let me down."

"Okay." Elvis quickly gently placed Olive on the ground, squatted down, put his handsome face on her lower abdomen, listened, and communicated with the baby: "Baby, I am your dad."

Olive lifted her slender eyelashes and looked at the man now. He was half-squatting in front of her, his big strong hands cupping her belly with tenderness and love, and he curled his fingers, tapping her belly like a knock on the door.

Olive's beautiful eyes quickly turned red. This is the first and last time Elvis canununicated with the two children.

"Elvis," Olive called his name softly, "Your baby is gone. This baby isn't yours."

What?

Elvis suddenly fraze, he raised his beautiful eyes to look at Olive.

"Young master... Young master," the doctor said, seeing the surprising pregnancy results, "Miss Hart's pregnancy date is wrong. She has just conceived, the baby is just... two weeks old."

If Elvis' baby is still there, it's been two, or three months, but this baby is only two weeks old, then there's only one possibility, this baby... isn't his!

The frenzied atmosphere just now descended immediately, like an ice cellar. Peterson's face changed dramatically. He knows how much his young master loves Olive and this child, but only now has he discovered that the child is not his!

Peterson had a bad premonition. He felt something was going to happen to his young master!

The smile on Elvis handsome face was gene. It turned so cold that there was no warmth. He slowly stood up. squeezing her shiny shoulders with his big hands. "This child is not... mine, then whose is it?"

Olive knew that her time was running out. She had only eight hours left. She has to leave here to go to the restricted area. She has to go home.

Olive's clear pupils looked into Elvis' narrow, clouded eyes. She said, "This child belongs to Derrick Domino."

This baby belongs to Derrick!

For the first time, Elvis experienced the feeling of falling from heaven to hell. Turns out she really didn't want to have children with him. She was with another man.

Elvis gritted his teeth, his handsome cheekbones moved, and he squeezed her shoulder so hard he wanted to crush her. After a long while, his eyes were red, and he said hoarsely, "Olive, you are real! You are so cruel!"

Chapter 495 Now, I don't love you anymore

Olive's face was pale. She felt her shoulder was about to break, but she didn't make a sound.

Before coming, she was afraid that her pregnancy would be exposed, so she used a needle to change the time of pregnancy. Even though he asked hundreds of thousands of doctors to check, the results were the same.

Elvis let go of Olive, and he kicked a chair, which cracked open.

He felt short of breath, so he reached out and smashed all the vases and lamps in the room to the ground. Even the documents on the table were thrown away.

For a moment, the whole room was in an uproar, the doctor and two nurses had retreated into the corner, scared to the point of not making a sound.

This is also the first time Peterson has seen his young master lose control like that. The self-control that his young master was most proud of was always broken in front of Olive in a split second.

Elvis has smashed enough. He smashed all the smashable things in the room. He stood tall in front of the French window, reaching frantically to pull the buttons of his shirt.

The two buttons of his shirt were roughly torn, revealing the man's delicate collarbone. At this time he was full of hostility, his whole body was so gloomy that it could drip cold water.

Olive was a little worried for him. Although she cured him of his insomnia in Los Angeles, his paranoia may return. His out of control and moody appearance now made her feel like he was sick like in Los Angeles at the time, and that he was showing symptoms again.

If he gets sick again this time, his condition will be even more serious, "Elvis..." Olive called, stepping forward.

Elvis didn't let her speak, reaching out his strong arm and rudely pulled her into his lap: "Olive, you fooled me. It's true. The more beautiful a woman is, the more deceived she is! When you were in the restricted area, you said as long as I hadn't slept with Crystal, you wouldn't leave me. Now, how many days have you been with Derrick and you can't wait to sleep With him?"

"Olive, you know what I hate most is betrayal, but you still betrayed me. How could you be pregnant with another man's child?"

"Olive, I was so good to you but now you look down on me. You trample my sincerity over and over again. I'm so fucking stupid!" Elvis shouted.

Then he shook his head: "No, I will never spoil you again. Before, I wanted to spoil you because I wanted to, but now you must obey me!"

Olive looked at him, asking, "What do you want?"

"What do you think?" Elvis slowly curled his thin lips into a mocking bloodthirsty curve, "I said don't force me, or I

Saying that, Elvis's black eyes looked down at her stomach

Olive saw a glint of hatred in his eyes, her pupils shrank, and she quickly covered her stomach with two small hands. "Elvis, what do you want to do?"

"Olive, you betrayed me, I will let Derrick die without a place to be buried. And you, first obediently blow away the evil seeds in your stomach. I will imprison you, waiting for you to wash your dirty body, then come and serve me!"

Olive gasped, and repeatedly backed away. "Elvis, you can't do that. You can't touch my baby!"

Elvis coldly watched the way she protected the evil creature in her stomach. She could abort his child at will, but she protected Derrick's child like this. Elvis had never hated anyone like this before, and now he hated her, really hated her.

Elvis forced himself to look away. He was afraid that he would kill her, so he glanced at the doctor with a cold sharp gaze, shouting: "What are you waiting for? Go prepare the abortion pill!"

The doctor frantically wiped a cold sweat, "Yes, sir."

Soon, the doctor brought a bowl of freshly mixed black medicine and said with a trembling voice: "Young master... Young master, the medicine is ready."

Elvis pursed his thin lips and ordered: "Let her drink!"

"Okay." The doctor walked towards Olive.

Olive repeatedly backed away, shaking her head in protest. "I won't take the abortion medicine. Elvis, you can't do that. I won't."

Elvis sat on the dark red sofa, stared solemnly at Olive, and repeated in a deep voice, "Drink it!"

The doctor looked at the two nurses, "Come and hold Miss Hart tightly."

The two nurses quickly came forward and grabbed Olive, the doctor squeezed

Olive's nose with one hand, and poured the medicine into Olive's mouth with the other hand.

"Don't! Don't!" Olive raised her leg and kicked the doctor.

The doctor, not prepared to be kicked, took a few steps back and spilled all the bowl of medicine.

People didn't expect Olive's fighting power to be so strong. The doctor looked at Elvis with both embarrassment and fear. After all, she is his young master's woman, they don't dare to be cruel. He said. "Young master, we can't deal with Miss Hart What should we do?"

"A bunch of trash!" Elvis shouted angrily, then took a new bowl of potion and walked towards Olive on his long legs Olive escaped the shackles of two nurses and quickly ran to the balcony. It was already dark, and the cold wind outside blew in, making Olive's skirt flutter,

She looked at Elvis who was walking closer, "Elvis, don't come over here. If you come over here. I'll jump from here!" Elvis stopped, a few seconds later, lifted his leg, walked towards her: "Olive, you always used yourself to force me, but now you have Derrick's evil seed in your stomach. Do you find yourself disgusting? Before, you relied on me because I love you. Now, I don't love you anymore!"

He said he no longer loves her.

Olive felt like a sharp knife had stabbed deep into her heart, causing her pain.

The pain she couldn't hear.

However, this is also good.

Even if he can't cure her, even if she dies, he won't be heartbroken nor shed tears because of her.

"Okay, Elvis, you said this yourself. You must remember this saying in the future. Don't forget it. As long as you show me a little affection in the future, I will laugh at you!"

Olive's clear eyes covered with transparent water, she slowly lifted her red lips, then she quickly turned around, her slender body jumped directly from the balcony.

She really jumped.

Chapter 496 The Blood of The Chosen Child

At this moment, Elvis' pupils filled with her jumping figure, and she almost disappeared from his sight in the blink of an eye.

“Olive!” With a growl. Elvis rushed to the balcony, reaching out to grab her. However, he didn’t catch anything.

Elvis felt his eyes were about to explode, and he hurriedly looked down. Olive jumped down, but wasn’t hurt because Derrick Domino was standing quietly in the dark. When Olive jumped down, he reached out and grabbed her. Her slender body fell into his arms.

The two large hands that were on Elvis’ balcony suddenly loosened. Seeing her safe and sound, he felt a little at ease. But the next second, a huge resentment welled up in his heart. Olive didn’t jump on the balcony to kill herself, because she knew Derrick was down there.

She just used this trick to get rid of him.

cooperated with Derrick and wanted to get away from him.

Below, the luxury car door was opened, Derrick gently put Olive in, then he raised his head, glanced briefly at Elvis, and the luxury car sped away.

Derrick took Olive and left!

Elvis’s pupils were filled with red blood. He went back to his room, put on his black coat and said to Peterson: “Call our men. Go after Derrick and Olive. I have to bring her back today!”

“Yes.” Peterson immediately issued a golden card to his subordinates. Once the golden card is issued, Derrick and Olive will be wanted worldwide.

Elvis was doing his best to get Olive back

Currently Logan is with Crystal. She was crying all over and she dragged Legan, “Dad, what should I do? You have to help me. That disgusting man is a delinquent. He’s already hooked on me. Dad, you should get rid of this guy in secret, and let him disappear from this world.”

Logan raised his hand. “Slap”, a slap hit Crystal in the face.

“Ah!”

Crystal fell to the carpet in shame. Logan slapped her hard, half of her face was red and swollen. She covered her swollen face, looking at Logan in disbelief, ‘Dad, you.. Why did you hit me?’

Logan looked at her disgustedly, this time he tore off his loving father’s disguise, revealing a disgusted expression: “You useless! I always thought it was worth it to use you, but who knew you were a piece of trash?”

What?

Did her dad really say she was trash?

Crystal was taken aback.

At this point, the door was pushed open, and a confidant approached and whispered in Logan’s ear, “Master, Olive and Derrick have appeared, Elvis is sending his men to hunt these two.”

Logan’s face changed, and he said, “Go. We’ll follow them.”

Logan left with his confidants.

Crystal was left alone here, like discarded trash. No matter how stupid she was, she could understand that Logan didn't love her like a daughter at all. Now that the delinquent outside still bothers her, there is a damn child in her stomach, what should she do?

Crystal feels that her life has been ruined.

She lay on the ground, crying in despair.

Chapter 46 The Blood of The Chosen Child

Right now, Damien and Alpha are together. The personal butler came over and said, "Sir, the young lady and Derrick have left Greenland."

The last time they left the forbidden zone, all the forces were getting ready, waiting for Olive and Derrick to reappear.

Damien looked at his personal butler and asked, "Where are they going?"

"It's a bit strange," said the private butler dubiously, "The young lady and Derrick left Greenland and returned to the Imperial Judging from the direction, they must head to the forbidden land."

Damien looked at Alpha

Alpha slowly narrowed his deep narrow eyes, "Olive really doesn't disappoint us. She's found her way home."

Damien stood up and said. "Then let's go take a look."

In the Imperial. The forbidden land.

Olive and Derrick came to this restricted area again. This is Olive's third visit to this restricted area.

Derrick looked at Olive. "Olive, where are we going?"

Olive glanced over the forest, and now all the clues in her head were connected and became one complete line.

At this time, two men in the dark chase, it is Logan.

Logan looked at Olive and Derrick, laughed and said: "Miss Hart, Seventh Young Master, you are really trapped this time, I want to see how you escape. At this moment, another team emerged from the darkness. It was Damien and Alpha Damien and Alpha looked at Olive and Derrick. Apparently they had cut off the road to the Imperial, Logan besieged the road to Greenland, and Olive and Derrick this time ventured into the restricted area.

With her hand sized beautiful face showing no signs of embarrassment, Olive turned her head to look at Logan, Damien, and Alpha. There was a glimmer of hope in her clear pupils. She said. "Mr. Theodore, Mr. Robert, Master Augustine, aren't you all looking for me and my mom? Okay, come here now." Olive stepped back while talking

Logan's face changed dramatically, "Olive, stop now. There's a scary formation behind you.”

Olive slowly curled her red lips, took Derrick’s hand, “Derrick, do you dare to go in with me?”

Now Olive seemed to shine, like a shining pearl, with a slight smile in her clear eyes, calm and brave.

Derrick smirked, “Why not?”

Olive pulled Derrick by the hand and stepped back, “Whoever you want to find, just come.”

After saying that, Olive and Derrick turned around, their shadows quickly disappeared into the long night.

“Olive!” Logan didn’t expect Olive to dare to rush into the heart of the battlefield, he muttered. “It’s crazy, Olive will never come back. She will definitely be gone with no bones left.”

Damien lifted his leg to move forward, but Alpha held him, and he looked at Logan, saying, “Logan, Joyce left behind the formation that year to prevent people with greed and malice from entering. This formation is very powerful. We all have greed inside, entering this formation will immediately die. But there is a way to break this formation. That is... the blood of the chosen child!”

“Logan, I heard that the kings of Greenland in the past had the bloodline of the chosen child, so you should also have “Ancient Visionary Kingdom?” Olive’s pupils suddenly shrank, and she couldn’t help but repeat the name.

Olive once saw the ancient Visionary kingdom in an ancient book. It was a rather mystical country, but it completely disappeared for some reason.

The cause of this isn’t recorded in ancient books, so Olive doesn’t know. She never thought she was from the ancient Visionary kingdom.

“Olive, that’s right, your homeland is the ancient Visionary kingdom, the ancient Visionary kingdom has the most profound medical skills in the world, especially good at acupuncture. It’s true fairies on earth. Your mother, Joyce Brown, is a current member of Visionary. She’s the queen.” Derrick said.

“What?” Olive blinked. “My mom is the queen, so... I am a princess?”

Derrick curled his thin lips. “No. Olive. Since coming home, you’re the new queen.”

Olive was completely unprepared and couldn't help but gasp, but she quickly regained her composure. "Derrick, let's go find the second treasure box Mom left"

"Okay."

Olive entered the forbidden area for the first time under the big tree, when she saw her mother's treasure box there in the mirror illusion.

Now, the second treasure chest was lying there quietly.

This time it's not an illusion, it's real.

Olive quickly ran forward and picked up the second treasure chest. Great, she finally found it!

The second treasure box was unlocked it directly, her eyes shining with a a bright smile. "Derrick, you said that my mom left me a treasure in the second treasure box. It is still the same treasure box, a medical book. right?"

Derrick didn't answer, Olive opened the chest. In the chest there was no medicine book, but a turquoise flute.

Mom really left her a flute?

As Olive was confused, she saw a letter pressed under the flute, and the envelope with her name on it.

Looking at this familiar little line, Olive quickly lifted her red lips, and her beautiful eyes reddened.

Because she realized, this is her mother's word, this is the letter her mother left her.

Eleven years passed in the blink of an eye. In these eleven years, her mother wasn't by her side, Currently, in her mind, she clearly kept all kinds of happy memories of her and her mother.

Olive quickly opened the letter. Joyce wrote in the letter,

"Tada. First of all, congratulations to my daughter, Olive. Olive, you've finally found your way home."

"Olive, did you think that this treasure chest would contain the second volume of the medical scriptures? Mom let you guess the beginning, so how could you guess the ending? When you return to Visionary, you will know that the medical scriptures aren't about volumes. It's all about the attic. When you get home, you can choose from one volume to the nth volume of the medical manual."

"Olive, I give you this flute. There's a song underneath it. No, it's supposed to be... the ancient wolf-training secret"

"Finally, Olive, I'm waiting for you over there, you'll be home on the water when the full moon comes, with mom welcoming you!"

Olive read the letter over and over again, not missing a single word. Her eyes were covered with transparent water. She carefully folded the letter, then opened the ancient wolf training book..

“Olive, your mom can also train wolves. Unfortunately, she has only tamed two wolves so far. As for how much you can train, let’s see your talent.” Derrick said.

The only thing in this world that confuses Joyce Brown is wolf training. She has only taught two.

Olive looked at the mysterious characters on the wolf training secret. Perhaps others didn’t recognize this ancient script, but she could tell at a glance,

Because her mother taught her since she was little, and she was born with this kind of gift because she is the bloodline of the ancient Visionary kingdom.

Olive watched the wolf training secret a few times, then looked up at the sky, and whispered, “Derrick, the moon is about to be full.”

Derrick looked at the full moon in the sky, “Yeah, it’s almost full. Olive, where’s the way home?”

Olive looked ahead. In front of her was a dense darkness, seemingly containing some infinite power, making people afraid to set foot.

She said softly. “Visionary has long since disappeared from this world. Later, due to the changes in the oceans and the movement of the earth’s crust, I think Visionary is between... this forbidden land and the border of Greenland.”

Derrick’s handsome eyebrows twitched, and he turned his head, “Olive, they’re after you.”

Olive turned around and saw a lot of people coming in front of her. The first thing that caught her eye was a tall and handsome figure. Elvis.

Elvis arrives with Logan, Damien, and Alpha.

“Olive, Seventh Young Master, we didn’t expect to find you!” Logan laughed and said. He originally intended to leave this formation. The story of Elvis will be slowly investigated when he returns. The problem is Olive.

Olive narrowed her delicate willow leaf eyebrows. Elvis has the blood of the chosen child, so it wouldn’t be surprising for them to find her.

“Olive, what are you holding?” At this time, Logan noticed the treasure box in Olive’s hand, and a flash of greed quickly appeared in his eyes.

The treasure box in Olive’s hand just appeared, the atmosphere at the scene became tense. She knew there were many people who wanted the treasure box in her hands.

Logan wants, Damien and Alpha want too. Olive’s clear eyes looked into Elvis’ handsome face. He didn’t look at the treasure box in her hand. He was clearly uninterested, his eyes dark and heady as he stared at her. All he wants is her! Olive smiled, “Looks like Derrick and I can’t go today.”

At this moment, Alpha took a step forward, "Olive, give us the treasure chest." Logan hastily said: "No, this chest is mine!"

Everyone was approaching.

Derrick wanted to move, but Olive quickly reached out her small hand to stop him. Her eyes flashed with a light, "If you all want what my mom left behind.

Okay, take it if you can."

Olive slowly took out her jade flute and began to play it.

The melodious flute slowly resounded throughout the forest, like the most moving melody of the night, lasting endlessly.

"Olive, what are you doing?" Logan asked, suddenly having a very bad premonition.

Alpha wanted to move, but Damien stopped him, "Listen. What is this sound?"

“Ooowhoo-”

This place was originally quiet, but now suddenly there is a sound that makes people’s scalp itchy.

“Wha.... What’s this sound?” Logan was appalled, panicking.

Elvis’s gaze was always fixed on Olive’s pretty little face, he pursed his thin lips slightly. “That’s the sound of a wolf.”

What?

Wolf?

That time when Elvis and Olive entered the restricted area, he had encountered two wolves, and now the howling of wolves is not two, but a lot!

“Wolf! Look it’s really a wolf!” At this moment someone shouted.

Elvis looked up and saw a pair of red eyes suddenly appearing in front of him in the dark night, then two pairs. three pairs, four pairs...

it were the eyes of the wolves, the red eyes belonging to the king of brasts that made everyone shiver.

Very quickly, a wolf came out, two wolves, three wolves.. Hundreds of wolves emerged from the darkness, wagging their tails, their sharp fangs emitted a fierce light,

They stood behind Olive and surrounded her, as if they were protecting her. Everyone gasped. This scene is truly unimaginable!

Logan was shocked, his face changed drastically. Olive didn’t play the flute, but used the ancient secret technique of wolf training!

“Olive, you know how to train wolves, you are... the legendary female wolf trainer!” Logan said, looking at Olive in horror.

At this moment, a cold wind blew. Olive in a white dress stood in the dark, her long black hair fluttering in the air in a swaying arc, her eyes bright.

Everyone stared blankly at her, as if their souls had been taken by her. The girls who trained wolves in ancient books turned out to be real. The girls who trained the millennial wolf are rare. It is said that they are not only extremely intelligent, but also have a great demeanor.

Olive is the wolf trainer girl!

Derrick looked at Olive beside him. His beautiful eyes were filled with a little wonder and admiration. Olive trains wolves better than her mother. Joyce Brown doesn't make it, but she can,

Elvis' gaze fell on Olive, too, hot, possessing and deeply paranoid.

She is his.

No one can take her away, not even herself.

Olive put away the jade flute, her bright eyes looking into the faces of everyone there, "These are the things my mom left me. If you want them, come get them."

Everyone retreated one by one, no one dared to advance, they didn't expect Joyce to leave the wolves to her daughter. Olive was polite to them, asking them to get these wolves.

Olive now has a fleet of iron wolf army, possibly in the thousands. If they don't want blood to flow into a river tonight, they mustn't act rashly.

Neither Darien, Alpha nor Logan moved. Olive looked up at the sky and muttered, "Look, the moon is full."

Everyone looked up, only to see the moon hanging in the sky becoming round. When the full moon shines on the sky, it immediately radiates a bright moonlight.

The bright moonlight illuminated the dark road ahead. Everyone gasped for a moment, because the road ahead wasn't a highway, but a murmuring river.

The river water was completely unpolluted by modern industry, crystal clear.

The river water flowed fast, the river

Chapter 495 Clive disappeared in the sky surface sparkled like gold.

A white mist hovered over the river, more like a fairy, making people not see the road ahead.

None of them know where the road comes from and where it leads.

Damien, Alpha, and Logan stepped forward one by one. They all knew that the way home had been opened for Olive.

That mystical country had disappeared at the end of the world, and after many years, it was in the public eye again.

Everyone was shocked.

Olive looked at everyone. "If you all can't take away what my mom left behind, then I'll go first, and we'll see later."

At this moment, the two wolf kings came forward, slowly kneeling in front of Olive and Derrick, as if bowing before their new masters.

Olive's eyes finally met Elvis handsome face, and she whispered in her mind to Elvis, "I'm leaving goodbye."

Olive was about to climb onto the wolf's back, but at this moment, a large hand reached out and grabbed her slender wrist, and a deep, scary voice said in her ear, "Olive, without my permission, you can't go!"

Olive turned, and Elvis handsome and dignified face was magnified in her field of vision.

At this time, Derrick whispered: "Olive, the time of the full moon will soon pass. Once the way home is closed, we can't go home."

Olive raised her head, only to find that the bright moonlight produced by the full moon had slowly faded after it peaked, and she had no time left.

"Elvis, let go. I'm leaving," Olive said softly and nonchalantly.

Elvis gripped her small hand tightly into his, the corners of his long narrow eyes tinged with scarlet, "As I said, you can't go, unless I'm dead."

Olive felt her heart ache, and her eyelids quivered, and a chuckle escaped from her mouth. "Oh, Elvis, then you can go to hell."

Olive's other hand flashed a cold light, it was a sharp knife.

"Young master! Peterson and Ray cried out and rushed forward.

But it was too late, Olive was faster. She turned her palm, and the sharp knife in her hand stabbed into Elvis' heart fiercely.

"Ooh."

Blood spurted out, staining Olive's white dress red.

Elvis looked down at the sharp knife in his heart, then looked up at Olive, his eyes filled with surprise, disbelief, and sudden pain...

He didn't expect that Olive would stab him and stab him in the heart.

She really wanted him dead!

Olive's face didn't change, she reached out and pushed each of Elvis's fingers away, then turned to sit on the wolf's back. Her beautiful little face shone like pearls in the bright moonlight, stirring up a captivating beauty.

"Bang", Elvis tall handsome body directly fell to the ground.

Olive turned, riding on the back of the wolf, she was very condescending and looked at him with an icy expression, "Elvis, you said it yourself. If you die, I can leave."

Olive turned to look, the wolf king leapt into the air, its powerful body rushing forward like a whirlwind, then landed firmly into the mysterious river.

There were two anore light boats on the river, and Olive was standing at the bow. It was vaguely possible to see her white dress and black hair dancing in the fairy mist. She left here with the light boat and disappeared into the sky.

She never looked back.
