Chapter 866 Stay Away From Me

North was really biting him, wanting to bite off his flesh, but who knew that his low and sexy voice resounded in her ears, and then he fell on top of her.

North let out a sigh of relief.

Feeling North's stiffness, Raven wrapped her hands around the back of her head. Her thin lips fell on her fragrant hair, and he kissed her tightly.

"Sorry, I couldn't control myself, North. Don't be afraid..."

North's face was pale, and after a few seconds of silence, she raised her hand and pushed him, "Go away, you're so heavy, you're about to crush me to death!"

Raven put his hands on her side and raised his body slightly.

North looked away. She knew that although Raven did not speak his mind, he really wanted her.

She just bit him, and he reacted so wildly. It seemed that he had really been craving her body for a long time.

"Did you stain my skirt?" she asked..

Raven looked down. His clothes were wet, but she was fine and not dirty.

"No..."

"How is it no? You got your dirty stuff on my skirt, and you stained my skirt." North frowned.

Raven looked at her charming appearance and pursed his thin lips.

"Don't argue, I'll give you a new dress."

"No, my new dress is the latest dress. I'm the first one in Imperial to wear it. I just wore it today. I only want this and nothing else!"

When Raven saw that he couldn't coax her, he knew that she was deliberately making things difficult for him.

Her body was sticky and uncomfortable. "North, I'll carry you to take a shower." He offered.

North looked at him, "Raven, you're thinking too much. If you carry me to take a shower, can I still walk out of your bathroom intact?"

This time, he did not refute. He had never been a good person. If he took her to take a bath, something would definitely happen.

North reached out and pushed him away, then stood up and got out of bed.

Raven sat on the edge of the bed and looked at her. She tidied up her skirt lazily.

Maybe she disliked the smell of his body on her skirt.

“Mr. Raven, I’ll leave now. I’ll throw that photo in the trash, so don’t ask me for it. Just now, I’ve paid you back!”

With that, North turned around and left.

“North,” Raven suddenly spoke up.

North stopped.

“North, don’t send yourself to me in the future. I’ve been living a good life recently. If you’re not here, other women will be here. Without them, it’s you, so stay away from me. Don’t come and mess with me

His hoarse voice reverberated in every corner of the room. His words were obviously a warning, but they were so affectionate. North was expressionless, as she carried her bag and walked out.

-I

North walked out of the Enchanted Villa and onto the street outside. At this moment, a gust of cold wind blew. She felt cold, thus, she wrapped her slender arms around herself.

“Give me something to eat... Please... Give me something to eat...”

North looked up and saw an old woman with a gray hair on the street in front of her. She was kneeling and begging.

North walked over and took out a hundred dollar bill and handed it to the old woman.

The old woman was stunned when she saw the money.

At this moment, the old woman raised her head and looked at North. With one glance, the old woman immediately stiffened, “You...you are...”

North shuddered, because she felt that the old lady was very familiar. North seemed to have known her from her childhood.

“Miss Juniper? Is that you?” North asked uncertainly.

Juniper quickly held North’s small hand. “Miss, it’s really you. I couldn’t even recognize you just now. It’s really you!”

In the past, Juniper was a worker in the Paulo's family, and she was North's nanny. At that time, the Paulo family was ruined, all the servants were dismissed, and Juniper was nowhere to be found.

North did not expect to see Juniper here. Now that Juniper was miserable and weak, she looked like an old woman.

North squatted down and held Juniper's hand. At that time, she was too young.

Everyone around her disappeared overnight.

"Where did you go, and why did you become like this now?" she inquired.

Tears rolled down from Juniper's eyes, and they covered the ravines on her face.

"Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Paulo had been so kind to us. Something happened to the Paulo family. You were still so young. We didn't want to leave, but, someone drove us out and forced us to wander around to this point!"

When something happened to the Paulo family back then, did someone interfere?

"Who? Juniper, who is this person?"

"The Domino family!" When she mentioned the Domino family, Juniper's eyes displayed hatred.

Hearing these words, North's head thumped, as if she could not think anymore. She did not understand what Juniper was saying.

She only knew that when her family was destroyed, it was the Domino family who picked her up and raised her. The Paulo family and the Domino family had a good relationship.

"Miss, you might not know that the car accident between Mr. and Mrs. Paulo was not an accident, but a man-made accident. I was at the scene at the time. I overheard it. The brakes failed and the car was passively used in advance, so the accident happened."

"Later, I saw Mr. Domino at the scene. What happened to your parents were later tagged as an accident."

both are such a good people. Something happened to your brother. Your brother rushed back from the highest command office overnight, but on the way, your brother suddenly disappeared."

“Miss, what I wanted to tell you was that all of this was a conspiracy. It was a huge conspiracy. Someone came at the Paulo family and killed your father, your mother, and your relatives. There was no accident. They were all murdered. The real culprit behind what happened to your was the Domino family.

Chapter 867 Slowly Bury The Love

North felt like she had been pushed into the abyss. She could no longer breathe, and her hands and feet were cold.

Her eyes stared at Juniper in a daze, and her dry lips opened and closed. She still did not understand what she was saying.

Over the years, she knew that the Domino family had raised her.

Therefore, she silently endured Mrs. Domino’s harsh insults for so many years. She had received a slap in the face from Tobias Domino.

On her eighteenth birthday, Raven personally destroyed her and pushed her to hell.

She did not fight back, because she always remembered that when her family was destroyed, it was the Domino family who gave her a home.

How could she have forgotten the kindness they had shown her for so many years?

But now, Juniper’s words had caused the entire love she had built for them to collapse.

She was suddenly in pain, shocked, and confused. She had no idea what happened.

“Miss Juniper, you You said that the Domino family deliberately created that car accident and killed my father and mother. It was the Domino family that made my brother disappear from this world. You... you said...” North’s fair eyes slowly turned red. She lowered her head, as tears streamed down her eyes.

“But...But, it was the Domino family who adopted me. They gave me a home. No matter how unbearable their family was, I once treated them as my... relatives, I once truly loved them...”

“Miss!” Juniper tightly held North’s cold and trembling hand, “When you were taken away by that pervert, Tobias, I felt frightened. I’ll tell you the truth now!”

“Your mum and Tobias were neighbors when they were young. Your mum was born in a scholarly family. She was excellent and gentle. Tobias had a crush on your mum from a very early age. When he was in school, he deliberately said that your mum was his future wife. This was based on falsehoods, but inexplicably, your mother became his first love! Juniper paused, and then continued,

“Miss, your mum and Tobias had nothing to do with each other. Your mum’s first love was your father. Back then, they fell in love at first sight, then they got married and had children. They had you and your brother. Your parents had a very lovely marriage.”

“At that time, the Paulo family was a high-ranking family, and the Domino family had not yet become the richest family in Los Angeles. Because Tobias and your mother were neighbors, when Tobias shamelessly asked your father for help, your father helped him without even thinking twice. Your father helped the Domino family to acquire a piece of land in LA. Later, the real estate boomed. In just a few years, the Domino family's assets doubled. And they started to monopolize the real estate industry."

"Later, the Domino family grew bigger, but in front of such a high-ranking family as the Paulo family, Tobias was very careful every time, and he was full of inferiority complexes. I remember when Tobias came to the Paulo family as a guest, he did not dare to look at you. Tobias has been coveting your mother, who had become a successful young lady."

"Did Zhuri Domino ever say that she caught Tobias and your mother in bed?? Miss, let me tell the truth, that was because your mother was drugged. It was Tobias who drugged her. "Your father brought your mum back to the car. Because your mum was drugged, her sanity was still unclear. A smart person like your father would care about it. He didn't realize that the brakes had been manipulated. You parents were both in that car."

"Maybe it was coincidence, Zhuri also had a car accident on her way home and broke both of her legs. But it's ridiculous that she has been kept in the dark for so many years, thinking that your mommy deliberately cheated with her husband. Zhuri loved Tobias, but she didn't know that Tobias was so despicable. In fact, if you think about it, Zhuri is also to be pitied."

"Miss, think about the cause and effect of the things again. Do you feel horrified? The Domino family has already locked their dark eyes on the Paulo family and set up a series of conspiracies to kill everyone you love."

"Why did Tobias bring you home? Because Tobias himself is a dark and sick person. He couldn't get your mother, so he played with you, and made you innocently call him Uncle Tobias. His twisted psychology was greatly satisfied."

North's tears had already blurred her eyes. She was oblivious of all these things.

Now that she suddenly heard the truth, she knelt on the cold street and buried her wet face in Juniper's dirty arms.

She was only twenty-four years old, but her life had been so difficult.

Juniper reached out and caressed North's beautiful long hair lovingly. "Miss, back then, Tobias was afraid that things would be exposed, so he sent all the servants away."

"Once, I was begging in front of the Domino's family's door. On your tenth birthday, I saw the Domino family's son, Raven, walking out. He held your hand, and you smiled at him."

"Miss, there is no good person in the Domino family. Their blood is dark and dirty. Don't hold the Domino family's son's hand and think that he's your salvation. Don't fall in love with him, because maybe, he's just your next downfall."

North cried bitterly. She knew that it was too late. She had already fallen in love with Raven for so many years.

She had to admit that she still loved him.

That was why, the moment she saw her photo in his wallet, she couldn't wait to ask him for answers. He asked her if she cared about the women around him. At that time, she did not answer. In fact, she had the answer in her heart.

She loved Raven.

Why did Juniper's confession come so late?

After all, Raven had appeared at a time when she had lost everything. After all, Raven had given her the warmth and company she needed most over the years.

Juniper just told her not to love him. Everyone was saying that there was nothing good in loving a man like Raven, but no one told her who could replace him in her life.

Without him, what would she be like now?

Tears rolled down North's eyes. North could feel her heart wrench in pain. She gently closed her eyes and laughed to herself. She knew that she would never stop loving him in her life, but she could slowly bury her love for him.

Chapter 868 Either You Die Or I Die.

North raised her head and wiped the tears off her face. "Juniper, I already know the truth. I know what to do. Come back with me. I will take good care of you in the future."

Juniper nodded, "Okay."

North helped Juniper up. She took out the phone in her bag to make a call, wanting to call a special car to pick her up.

At this moment, a man in black suddenly ran over from behind. The man in black was very fast. Juniper's head was smacked with a huge force, instantly rendering her unconscious. North subconsciously grabbed Juniper's clothes and shouted, "Juniper" Juniper, who had been begging for a living over the years, was in very poor health. The sudden impact from the knock, rendered her weak..

North's pupils shrank, and the phone in her palm instantly fell to the ground. She looked at Juniper in shock. Juniper's eyes were still open. Before she died, she did not close her eyes.

North felt that the whole world had come to a standstill. A few seconds later, she screamed "Ah!" and frantically ran forward, "Juniper!"

Juniper was out of breath

"Hurry up and call 911! Hurry up and call an ambulance!"

Many passersby gathered around and started calling for an ambulance.

On the street, North felt the cold wind hurt her face like a knife. She looked up to find the man in black. The man in black had disappeared without a trace.

Who was he?

North knew that this was not an accident, but a deliberate plan. It was exactly the same as what happened to her father, mother, and brother back then.

She had just found Juniper, and Juniper just died.

At this moment, an extended business luxurious car slowly stopped across the street. The rear window slowly slid down, revealing a familiar face.

North looked up and saw that it was Old Mr. Domino, Raven's grandpa.

At this moment, her phone rang, it was a call from Old Mr. Domino.

North wiped her tears and got up from the ground using both her hands and feet as support. She picked up her phone, wiped her tears, and placed the phone beside her ear. "That man in black was sent by you, right?"

Mr. Domino's voice came with a faint smile, "Yes, so what?"

North's small hand was slowly pulled into a fist. She stood in the cold wind. Her tearful eyes penetrated the street and landed on Mr. Domino who was in the luxurious car. She looked at him calmly, and then, she slowly said, "My dad, mum, brother, and Juniper, how many lives have you taken from me? I'll take care of you in the future!"

Tobias sighed, "Originally, Juniper didn't have to die, but she said something that shouldn't have been said. North, it's actually you who made her die."

Notch sneered, "Back then, you shouldn't have spared me."

Chapter 868 Either You Be Or I Die.

"Actually, I thought the same way back then. The Paulo family was gone, and you were the only one left. It would have been great to send you to accompany them. However, my grandson, Raven, had taken a fancy to you. I didn't want him to be involved in these dirty things, so I could only let him bring you back and spoil you for so many years."

"However, this doesn't affect anything. You said that you would settle accounts with me in the future. I'm curious. You've been just a bird that Raven kept in a cage. What can you possibly do to us?"

North thought about his words for a while. It was indeed true. Over the years, she had been a precious little bird. Without Raven, she would be nothing.

But if Raven could be used, he would definitely be the most hurtful weapon in the world.

North slowly raised her red lips. "Even if I have only beauty, this beauty is your grandson favorite and irresistible thing on earth, isn't it?"

In the luxurious car, Old Mr. Domino looked at North and narrowed his cloudy eyes.

North looked at him calmly. "In the future, it's either I die, or you die."

After she finished speaking, North ended the call. The ambulance arrived. The doctor carried Juniper up and covered her with a white cloth. North followed and got into the ambulance and disappeared.

In the luxurious car.

Seeing North's pretty shadow disappearing from his line of sight, Old Mr. Domino snorted and threw the phone in his hand.

"Soundmind, now that North knows something she shouldn't know, you know how much trouble this will bring me!"

The butler in the front passenger seat was trembling. "Sir, we've tracked down Juniper for many years, but we haven't been able to find out her whereabouts. Who would have known that she would actually sneak here and reunite with North now? The butler replied nervously.

Old Mr. Domino's face was full of ruthlessness, but he pondered for a few seconds and then quickly shook his head, "If you do something against North, Raven will definitely find out about it. My grandson is really fascinated by that lady."

The butler nodded, "I think young master is really fascinated by North. But, from Miss North's words, I think she's likely to use young master, as a means to deal with the Domino family. I'm afraid..."

"Are you afraid that Raven will ruin the Domino family for North?"

The butler did not dare to speak.

All these y ears, Raven had always been in Old Mr. Domino's heart. Mr. Domino knew that Raven had inherited the business zeal of the Domino family. Power, status, and wealth were all his ambitions. Right now, it was only North, who would be a problem to him.

Old Mr. Domino shook his head, "I believe Raven, he won't. Actually, North was wrong. She is not fighting with the Domino family, but with Raven. If she wins, then she has really won, otherwise, she would lose terribly."

Chapter 869: Be His Pet

Old Mr. Domino believed in Raven.

If it were any other man, he might be extremely resistant to North's beauty, seduction, and temptation, but he was Raven. His love for North was real, but he was extremely rational and vigilant in his heart. His restraint was unmatched by ordinary people

How many years had North known Raven? About ten years.!

However, Mr. Domino had known Raven for more than twenty-nine years. Raven had grown up by his side.

He knew what his grandson could do, and couldn't do.

The man in black who had smacked Juniper was caught. The man in black complied with the police, and admitted his mistake.

The result of this was within North's expectations. She simply arranged the funeral for Juniper.

And then, she contacted Juniper's descendants and gave them a large amount of money.

Today was the day that Windshire Palace opened. The numbers of VIP guests at Windshire Palace were massive.

In the VIP arca downstairs, Raven came, and Liliana was by her side.

Today, Raven was wearing a thin black suit and a pair of golden glasses on his handsome face.

A cigarette was stuck between his two fingers. He lowered his eyes and smiled as he casually tapped the ashes in the ashtray. His indifferent and lazy aura was quite charming.

Even Olive had to admit that Raven was a born businessman. Back then, the Domino family indeed relied on the Paulo family to make their fortune.

Liliana was surrounded by some celebrities. The celebrities gazed enviously at her, as they realized. that she was Raven's new girl.

"Liliana, it turns out that you're dating Mr. Domino."

"Mr. Domino has dated a lot of girlfriends before, but it's the first time he's brought out a girlfriend. What does that mean?"

"Wow, Liliana, are you wearing a diamond necklace around your neck? This necklace was put up for auction two days ago. I wanted to buy it, but there was a mysterious bigwig at the auction. But I didn't expect the necklace to suddenly appear on Liliana's neck."

"Yeah, it's really that diamond necklace. Let me feel it, Liliana."

Being so touted, Liliana felt extremely proud. That night, Raven brought North in and drove her out. She was in a state of shock and was extremely embarrassed.

She was afraid that Raven would hate her, and find a new love.

But early the next morning, Raven's secretary knocked on her door and sent her this diamond necklace.

As a new actress, she had seen a lot of luxurious products recently. When she saw this diamond necklace, she knew that it was priceless.

Everyone knew that Raven was very generous, especially to the women who had been with him. Raven could make money, and he could spend. He lived a luxurious life like a rich person.

My

Chapter 56: Be His Pet

Liliana turned around, and her big watery eyes quietly looked at Raven's handsome face.

The bosses around him, were teasing him, "CEO Domino, is that your new girl? She's looking at you, her gaze is as if she's going to eat you, haha."

Raven looked back at Liliana.

Although he was looking at Liliana, the celebrities around Liliana had already positioned themselves, as if Raven was looking at them.

Raven only looked at Liliana. He held the cigarette with his fingertip to his thin lips and took a pull. When he exhaled the smoke, he stretched out his finger and pointed at Liliana, asking her to come over, That wanton gesture was very similar to that of a human summoning his nearest pet.

The socialites found Raven's gesture admirable. And they didn't mind being his pet too

Liliana immediately laughed. She bounced to Raven's side, and hugged his strong arm and attached to him.

Of course, Liliana was happy, because the socialites were right. The girlfriends Raven had dated in the past had only been photographed by reporters, but Raven had never brought them to a public event. She was the first.

This also proved that Raven really preferred her.

Liliana looked at the bigwigs around Raven. Her heart was pounding, because she had only watched these bigwigs on TV and in magazines.

Liliana's eyes quickly lit up because she saw the award winning director, Randy.

Randy was extremely talented. His films were big productions and high-quality products. Actors often competed to be featured in his production, and some didn't even want to be paid.

With Liliana's current position, she could not reach Randy, but now, her chance had come.

"Hello, Director Randy." Liliana greeted happily.

Due to his relationship with Raven, Randy was polite. "Liliana? Or is it Gianna?"

"You can call me Gianna too, but Liliana is my stage name." Liliana replied with smile.

"I heard that you have been in the limelight recently. It's a pleasure to meet you, Liliana."

"Director Randy, I'm a big fan of yours. I've watched every movie you've directed a thousand times. I heard that you're preparing a new movie recently. I wonder if I'll have the chance to work with you?"

Liliana had already set her sights on Randy's new film. This new film had a huge investment and was directly aimed at winning an award.

Liliana wanted to take a shortcut and rely on Randy's relationship with Raven, to directly bag herself the protagonist of the movie.

"This... Randy was in a dilemma. He turned, and looked at Raven

Liliana knew that as long as Raven said a word, she would have a role, so she looked at the man beside her and said coquettishly, "President Domino, I really want to feature in director Randy's movie."

Raven was smoking a cigarette and did not say a word.

"Miss Liliana," the producer beside her said, "You still don't know, but the protagonist of this new film has been decided. That's North."

What?

North?

Hearing this name again, Liliana froze.

At this moment, Raven slowly exhaled a puff of smoke from his thin lips. His cold eyes fell on Liliana's beautiful and tender face.

"What do you want me to do?" Raven asked her.

O(0)

Chapter 870

Liliana did not know what Raven's question meant. She only met Raven's cold eyes through the layers of smoke. Although he was smiling, his eyes were as cold as frost, and sharp like a knife.

Liliana felt her scalp go numb, and she quickly shook her head.

Raven put the cigarette on her thin lips, then stretched out her big palm and pulled her into his embrace. He patted her head like his pet.

Others might think that this was his favor for her, but Liliana was so frightened that she did not dare to say a word. Rigidly, she was hugged by him.

At this moment, Randy laughed and said. "Mr. Domino, I thought you had gotten a girlfriend, and forgotten about your sister. You are still the same. No one can take North's place in your life."

A few years ago, North had just entered the entertainment industry, and she had the best resources behind her.

Liliana suddenly raised her head and looked at Randy blankly, "Sister? Who is Mr. Domino's younger sister?"

North was Raven's sister. Some people knew about it, but it was a known information amongst the upper class.

Randy looked at Liliana strangely. "You don't know yet? President Domino's sister is North."

Liliana sucked in a breath. In fact, when she saw Raven bringing North into the room that night, she had guessed the relationship between the two of them. Liliana had guessed that Raven was North's sponsor.

Transactions of money and beauty were all too common in the entertainment industry, so Liliana was not surprised.

But now, Randy said that North was Raven's younger sister.

Liliana couldn't believe her ears. She remembered that Raven had asked her the call him, brother."

Liliana understood, she understood perfectly.

Raven's handsome face was devoid of emotions. He just let go of Liliana, and took off the cigarette on his thin lips. He lowered his handsome eyelids and looked at her with a smile on his face, "North is my sister. In the future, you have to let her come first, understood?"

"Hahaha, Mr. Domino, you're not afraid of your girlfriend being jealous, aren't you?" So he quickly teased.

However, Liliana didn't find it funny.

When Raven spoke, he knocked in the ashtray for a cigarette. The scarlet flames fell violently.

"Understood." Liliana replied in a trembling voice.

At this moment, someone excitedly said, "It's starting. The Windshire Palace has officially opened. Olive and North are going to dance on the same stage!"

As the models of Windshire Palace, Olive and North had to perform the dance that they were taught by Savannah.

All the distinguished guests quickly took their seats. They came from afar to watch Olive and North's performance.

The hall, which had been extremely noisy some seconds ago, quickly became quiet, and everyone's eyes focused on the stage.

Raven also took his seat. Liliana sat obediently beside him. At this time, all the lights in the hall were turned off, and all they could see was darkness. Only a few small lights were lit on the stage, like stars shining in the dark night.

Soon, Olive and North appeared. Olive was wearing a white gauze dress and North was wearing a black suspender. Their outfits caught everyone's attention.

Olive and North started to dance.

Both friends had learned how to dance since they were young. Their bodies were as soft as wool, and they had a tacit understanding.

Olive waved her sleeves and her slender body twirled in the air. She did not forget to look at North from time to time.

North knew what her best friend was worried about, because Raven and Liliana were sitting in the audience, and their seat, was the first seat in the VIP area, even if she did not look over, she could feel that Raven's gaze were firmly locked on her on the body.

North pursed her lips lightly. In fact, she had heard many love stories along the way.

She had heard that her best friend, Olive, had met her Mr. Augustine during the best years of her life. And since then, Elvis and Olive had grown stronger together.

She had also heard the story of Alpha and Annabelle. Their unspeakable love was full of pain and regret. However, in their lives, they only loved one person.

Later, she also heard about Marvin's story. He had sacrificed himself for the one he loved.

North was deeply moved. She had heard about love at a very young age and had fantasized about her future. Until later, she met Raven.

When she met Raven, she realized that she was not the protagonist in his story. All her dreams were just dreams.

In this world, there are all kinds of people, with different faces and character.

Not everyone could be as affectionate and pure as others. Some people walked away and left, and others slowly changed their appearances with time.

Many people would encounter many things in their life. After thousands of sails, they would occasionally stop by other people's sides. They could not even become their exclusive memories.

North was laughing. She didn't know if her laugh was genuine. But her soft and boneless body kept spinning on the stage.

A few clusters of small lights on the stage suddenly emitted bright beams of light, all of which hit North.

Soon, the dance stopped and North suddenly fell on the stage.
