Chapter 951 A boy and a girl standing in the rain

Even though she was smiling, the smile didn't reach the corners of her eyes. Raven felt that her smile right now was extremely dazzling.

"Mr. Dominos, don't work too late. Be careful driving. I'm going to take a shower." She said and went into the bathroom.

Raven immediately stretched out his large hand, holding her slender wrist.

"What's wrong. Mr. Dominos?" North blinked her slender eyelashes and asked him.

"Does your inability to conceive have anything to do with me? When you left, you seemed... deeply hurt." Raven lowered his voice.

North's delicate eyebrows showed a lazy look. She replied, "Mr. Dominos, you still remember that I just celebrated my 18th birthday... The wound was indeed quite serious. I lost a lot of blood and needed more than a dozen stitches. I clearly remember that time Dr. Freya asked me why my boyfriend didn't come. When I said I didn't have a boyfriend, the nurses looked at me with disdain and strange eyes. I endured the pain and crawled out of bed to pay, and a man came and asked me," "Little sister, how did you sell it?"..."

Raven curled his fingers and unconsciously tightened her wrist.

"Ah."

North immediately groaned in pain. She looked at him with lovely eyes: "Mr. Dominos, you hurt me so much."

Raven quickly let go.

His throat was dry, and his thin lips moved a few times before making a sound: "North, I..."

“Mr. Dominos, there’s no need to apologize. When I had the hardest time, you didn’t come to see me. Don’t mention it again in the future.” Having finished speaking, North turned and walked into the bathroom.

Raven drove on the way to work.

He was still in a meeting at the company, his mother called to tell him to go to the family villa for dinner. He refused without thinking and wanted to hang up, but his mother said North had arrived.

He immediately abandoned what he was doing and rushed straight to the Dominos’ villa, driving very quickly along the way for fear that she would be bullied.

He didn’t know she couldn’t get pregnant, and he didn’t think about having children with her, either.

They have gone through a bumpy road. The two of them have just been together and haven’t enjoyed their sweet time yet. He doesn’t want any third person to disturb them, including the children.

She was faised by him. She can be called his sister or his daughter. In his eyes, she was just a little grown up, used to being pampered, how could she give birth?

He never thought about marrying her. She is the daughter of the Paulo family. He can’t give her marriage and status. This is the key point, which cannot be changed.

As for her leaving when she was 18 years old, he didn’t look for her, either.

He has taken care of her for so many years. For the first time, he was truly absent from her life.

Actually, it was not that he didn’t want to find her. He intended to look for her countless times but didn’t dare because there was a thousand-pound weight under his feet.

He really didn’t dare.

He didn’t dare let anyone ask about her, and he didn’t dare to hear her name anymore.

He then went to find Miss Jones, who brought her back.

The time she left was an empty time for him. He didn't know what happened to her.

Raven slowly stopped the luxury car on the crowded street. The neon lights of the city at night shine through the car window onto his handsome face. He suddenly stopped, took out a cigarette, and quietly lit it.

In the blue smoke, he frowned tightly, feeling guilty...

No matter how guilty the Paulo family is, she is still just an innocent girl. It was his hand that pushed her into the abyss.

Day after day, the destruction and desire in his heart could no longer be restrained, so he possessed her in the name of hatred.

From that day on, he also deeply understood that he had finally lost that girl, who always had all her eyes on him.

She was discouraged because she was alone and was afraid of the city.

He really didn't dare.

At this moment, his cell phone rang and there was an incoming call.

Raven pressed the connection button, the personal secretary's voice rang out: "President, Mr. Mitchell has arrived. When will you return?"

He extinguished half of his cigarette, saying, "I'll be there soon."

The photo shoot went smoothly. Miss Jones went to the garage to get her car and said uneasily: "North, I'm going to get the car. Wait here. Don't run around."

North nodded: "Don't worry. I'm not a little child."

Miss Jones looked at North's soft, seductive face, finally understanding Raven's worry. This woman is so beautiful that it is not safe to take her out.

Miss Jones was gone.

North obediently stood there waiting. At this moment, one, two, three drops of rain fell on her small face. She looked up and saw that it was raining.

It was really raining.

She reached out her small hand to catch the cool raindrops.

The next second, a black umbrella was placed on her head, blocking the wind and rain for her.

Who?

North turned around, in front of her was a handsome young man.

“North, do you still remember me?”

She looked at the person in front of her and asked suspiciously: “Who are you?”

“North, this is for you. After so many years, do you still like dolls?”

North looked at the doll in his hand, suddenly remembering, her eyes lit up. She asked, “Amir... Mitchell?”

Twenty years ago, everyone knew about the Paulo family, a powerful political family, and the Mitchell family, a powerful business family. The two families were friends.

But then the Mitchell family settled abroad, the Paulo family was ruined overnight, and they gradually disappeared from everyone’s sight.

But in recent years, the Mitchell family has withdrawn from Los Angeles and developed abroad. Currently, the Mitchell family has abundant financial resources and has become a financial tycoon. Amir is the only son of the Mitchell family. He has been excellent since childhood, has a good background, is the same age as North this year, and has a good temperament.

Amir was wearing a khaki windbreaker, holding a black umbrella in his hand. His bright black eyes looked at North and he said: “North, you finally recognize me.”

She loved this doll when she was little. Her mother bought it for her.

Later, when North grew up, she wanted to buy another similar doll, but this outdated model was no longer on the market.

Looking at this doll is like accidentally meeting an old friend. North's beautiful eyes flashed with a bright smile like stars. She looked at Amir and said: "Amir, long time no see."

"That's right, long time no see, sis. You've grown so much."

Amir still remembered that when her father, Ezra, promised North to be his fiancée, she was only a little older than him and still the most dazzling little princess of the Paulo family.

North and Amir looked at each other and smiled.

At this time, a Maybach slowly stopped, the driver's window slid down, revealing a cold and handsome face. Raven has arrived.

Raven looked at the boy and the girl across the street smiling at each other. They were all at their most beautiful age, standing in the rain, holding umbrellas together. It looked as beautiful as a sand painting.

Chapter 952

Chapter 952 Official pursuit of North

Raven glanced and recognized Amir. He is the son of the Mitchell family and grew up in the sunshine. If he remembers correctly, the Paulo family and the Mitchell family were friends and engaged to each other. Further more, Ezra personally promised North to be Amir's fiancée. Ezra, who had a high position and had many friends, loved Amir and entrusted his daughter to him. Raven's eyes looked at North again. At this moment, she was holding a doll in her arms, smiling. She smiled brightly, her eyebrows and charming eyes were wavy. She was like a blooming flower.

Last night, she smiled at him, too, but her smile was fake and perfunctory, as if she had never really smiled since she got back together with him after she turned 18.

Now she is smiling happily when she is with another man.

Raven's long fingers suddenly tightened, and he grabbed the steering wheel with force.

Closing his beautiful eyes, he forced himself to suppress the anger in his chest, then opened the car door and got out of the car. He said, "North, Mr. Mitchell, what a coincidence."

When North heard the noise, she turned around. She saw Raven, tiny drops of water hitting his straight shoulders. He was wearing black clothes through the rainy night.

Miss Jones had just got out of the car when she saw three people on the road. She looked at the unfamiliar creature next to North, who was Amir. She screamed inside that it was over. Who is he? Leaving North alone in this place is dangerous!

She just went to pick up the car and something big happened!

Raven walked to North's side. There was no emotion on his handsome face. On the contrary, he looked very gentle, saying, "North, why did you come here with Mr. Mitchell?"

Amir looked at Raven and then at North, "North, who is this?"

Before she could speak, Raven curled his thin lips and whispered: "North, please tell Mr. Mitchell who I am."

North saw the danger in Raven's cold black eyes, but she gently looked away, saying, "Oh, let me introduce you. This is Raven Dominos, my... brother."

She said he was her brother.

"Haha."

Raven laughed slightly without knowing why..

"I remember, North. After bad things happened to the Paulo family, you were adopted by the Dominos family. This is definitely Mr. Raven Dominos, currently the richest person in Los Angeles. Hello, Uncle Dominos." Amir called generously.

Uncle Dominos...

Raven,"

..

Why did he find the word "uncle" so heavy? That's right. Now that he was over thirty, it was time for him to be called "uncle" by others.

Raven raised his hand, placed his large palm on North's shoulder, hugged her, smiled faintly and said: "Hello, Mr. Mitchell."

North realized his dissatisfaction. Now he is wrapping his arms around her shoulders very domineeringly, as if he is declaring his sovereignty in front of Amir.

Chapter 952 Official pursuit of North

Sure enough, Amir suddenly saw him hugging her. After all, he wasn't her biological brother, and hugging like that was too intimate.

North quickly struggled and escaped Raven's arms. She raised her eyes to look at Amir, saying. "Amir, I have to come back to the film crew to film night scenes. Thank you for your doll. I'm going. Search the findnOvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"North, let's add Facebook so I can contact you in the future." Amir said.

North paused for a moment, then took out her cell phone: "Okay."

Amir added North's Facebook account and they became friends. North then got into Miss Jones' car and left.

LIL

North left, leaving only Raven and Amir here. Raven looked at Amir. Amir's eyes kept moving. towards the direction North disappeared, following her for a long time.

Although Raven's black eyes were calm and composed, on closer look they were like two dangerous abysses, and the soul of anyone who looked into them would be sucked in side. He nonchalantly raised his thin lips and said: "Young Master Mitchell, I saw your father last night and he was looking for you, but I didn't expect you to come looking for North."

Amir reluctantly withdrew his gaze and said: "Uncle Dominos, North is an outstandingly beautiful girl, so there must be many guys around her, right?"

"Uncle Dominos" raised his eyebrows. Actually, no. With him protecting her all these years, she has no other people of the opposite sex around her. Although those men liked her, they didn't dare to pursue her.

"Why you're asking this, Mr. Mitchell? Do you love North?" Raven asked directly.

Amir blushed, replying. "That's right. Uncle Dominos. This time I came back because of North. I want to officially pursue her."

Raven put his hands in his coat pockets, asking, "Does your father know about this?"

"My dad? I've already told him. He hasn't clearly stated his opinion yet. This is my personal feeling. My dad will respect me. He will definitely accept the girl I like. Before, our Paulo and Mitchell families were friends, and North was my fiancée, but everything has changed since then."

"Uncle Dominos, I know you and North have a deep relationship. Please rest assured and entrust her to me. I am very serious. I will definitely protect and love her in the future." Amir said solemnly.

Raven looked at Amir, slightly curling his thin lips. He's really a simple and naive boy-

Jace Mitchell, his father, is an old fox. Of course, now he won't agree to the previous marriage contract between the Paulo family and the Mitchell family.

And Amir should tell the ghost about these vows.

Raven replied nonchalantly: "Yes. Good."

North returned to the crew room. She had no appetite so Miss Jones prepared a vegetable and fruit salad.

North used a small spoon to eat a small cherry tomato. At this moment, the door opened and Raven came back.

She looked up and gave a positive and commercial smile, "Mr. Dominos, you're back."

Raven closed the door, took off his coat and walked behind her. Looking at her simple dinner, he frowned and said, "Why do you only eat gra?"

North playfully winked, "Mr. Dominos, you know, "Mr. Dominos, you know, fairies eat gra."

He reached out to rub her long hair and said sympathetically: "So, little fairy, can I taste some of your fairy gra*?"

North picked up a few perilla leaves and dipped them in salad dressing, brought them to his lips, and said, "Ah. Open your mouth."

When Raven ate it, his heroic eyebrows furrowed.

"Is it good? No? I think it's quite good..."

Raven placed his large hand on the table next to her, solemnly hugging her, "So maybe we didn't eat the same food. Let me taste it in your mouth..."

He leaned down and kissed her red lips.

"No." North quickly dodged, not letting him kiss her.

Raven glanced at her, ran his big hand through her long hair, hugged the back of her neck, used gentle pressure to force her head up, then leaned down to kiss her..

She trembled. He kissed her in such a forced position, her head was in his palm, he completely controlled her, not giving her any chance to refuse or escape.

A moment later, when North felt her lips and tongue numb, Raven let her go and said: “Fairy Paulo, eat all the fairy gra.”

Raven sat on the sofa, his long legs stacked elegantly on top of each other, holding a file in his hand. He lowered his eyes and looked, asking: “Do you like the doll Amir gave you that much?”

North looked at the doll in her arms. She loved this doll very much and never let it leave her side after bringing it home.

“Yeah, I really like it.”

Raven didn’t raise his head and concentrated on reading the document, but his thin lips formed at slight arc, and he whispered, “Little girls like dolls. North, you’re past the age of little girls. You should like jewelry like...diamonds.”

Although she had never liked the jewels, diamonds and glowing pearls he gave her that much.

North held the doll in her arms, looked up at the man on the sofa with flirtatious eyes, asking: “Why are you talking so weird? My doll has already irritated you. I’m in my prime. When people see me, they will call me little sister, what about you? Uncle Dominos!”

She emphasized the pronunciation of the title “Uncle Dominos”, intentionally irritating him.

Raven never felt old, but Amir, the little furry monkey that ran out of nowhere, called him Uncle Dominos. This made him very unhappy, making him feel like an old buffalo eating young gra.

He gently raised his eyelashes, glancing at North, “Do you believe that Uncle will treat you well in bed later?”

Of course, she believes that.

North ignored him and continued eating her vegetables.

At this time, her cell phone made a “ding” sound, which was a Messenger notification.

North clicked on it and saw Amir’s message, “Sis, let’s have dinner together tomorrow night.”

She wanted to refuse. She didn’t want to attend any dinners.

But Amir added that his father wanted to meet her.

North stopped. At that time, she was still young and had no impression of Jace. She replied with one word.

At this moment, Raven’s deep and magnetic voice entered her ears, “Who sent you the message?

North put down the phone: “Yes, Amir invited me to dinner tomorrow night.”

“You agreed?”

“Why should I refuse?”

Raven didn’t raise his head, signed his name at the end of the document, his voice indifferent: “North, you know what I don’t like, so don’t mess with me and stay away from Amir.”

“The Mitchell family is now one of the top financial tycoons. Jace has strict control over the choice of daughter-in-law. Although you and Amir were previously engaged, that no longer counts. Jace won’t take you seriously. You know what I mean?”

If Raven hadn't mentioned it now, North would definitely have forgotten she was engaged to Amir.

She has no romantic feelings for Amir. When she got engaged, she was young so she didn't take it seriously.

She looked up at Raven, her red lips curling into a faint, lazy smile, "Mr. Dominos, I don't understand what you mean. Why does Uncle Mitchell look down on me?"

Raven's large hand holding the pen stopped, he raised his head to look at North.

When their eyes met, she smiled even more cheerfully: "Mr. Dominos, are you saying I was adopted by you as your mistress in the name of my brother, or are you saying I can't get pregnant and am a broken woman?"

Looking at the smile on her small face, Raven's handsome face turned cold.

North put down the small spoon, pushed the fruit and vegetable salad out, hugged the doll and said: "Mr. Dominos, don't worry. You don't need to remind me. I'm self-aware. They won't even look at me."

Then she stood up and said: "I'm going to take a shower.

To go to the bathroom, she had to pass him. Raven suddenly reached out his large hand and grabbed her slender wrist.

North paused for a moment, tilting her head to look at him suspiciously, "Mr. Dominos, is there anything else? Oh, I see. Is it because I said you were my brother when I introduced you to Amir today that you are unhappy?"

That's really unfair. Mr. Dominos, you have no intention of marrying me. Our relationship must be... ambiguous. I want to say that I'm your mistress, but you won't allow it. I don't dare to make angry by saying nonsense."

Raven's handsome eyebrows were covered with a layer of cold frost. He quietly looked at her without saying a word.

you

North pulled away and said: "Mr. Dominos, why don't you let me go? Oh, I understand. Do you want to take a bath... with me?"

"Okay, it's okay. Bathing is also part of my job. I'll take off my clothes now."

North raised her remaining small hand and began to unbutton her clothes.

Raven was so angry that he said in a deep, sinister voice: "North, don't look down on yourself like that!"

"Aren't I cheap right now?" She was amused and asked him.

The atmosphere in the room was very stagnant and dropped to a low level.

Raven let et go of his big hand and said, "Go take a shower. I don't want to see you now."

North lifted her feet and left.

North took a hot bath and then went to bed, leaning back on the blanket and curling up.

Before long, the quilt on her body was pulled off and she was lifted up.

She opened her eyes, looking at the handsome face in her sight. Raven carried her to the sofa, letting her sleep in his strong arms.

His face was still very bad. He is a man who holds a high position and is always respected, and she is the only person who dares to provoke him.

"Who told you to sleep?" He spoke in a deep and dissatisfied voice.

North paused for a few seconds, then raised her two small hands to hug his neck, kissing his thin lips.

However, Raven avoided it and didn't let her kiss him.

She hesitated. Since when did this type of carnivore become a vegetarian?

Raven looked at her faintly, "What are you doing?"

"You... don't want to? How do you want me to please you tonight?" North's small hand slid down uneasily...

Raven quickly grabbed her small hand, stopping her from lighting fires everywhere. "If I'm not in the mood tonight, you're not allowed to sleep. Read the documents with me."

Chapter 954 She is his only weakness in this life

He said he wasn't in the mood tonight?

However, where her fingers had just slipped, all the muscles in his body were tense, and even his body temperature increased.

Raven brought the blanket and covered her body, burying her two small hands in it, "You messed up my mood, do you still want to sleep? You're not allowed to sleep. Stay up and work with me!"

her!

North didn't understand and felt very naive. She didn't know who just said he didn't want to see Raven ignored her, hugged her tightly under the blanket, and continued reading the documents. North had no interest in the material. At first, she kept her eyelids open, but then she fell asleep again.

She wasn't stubborn. She found a comfortable position in his arms, buried her face in his lap and closed her eyes.

While she was sleepy, she felt a small spoon being put into her mouth. When she opened her mouth, there was red bean porridge, very sweet.

She took a bite and then turned away, refusing to eat any more.

At this moment, a fierce voice came from above her head: "Open your mouth. Don't force me to do it."

It was really fierce.

North honestly turned away, barely eating half the bowl of porridge he fed her.

She fell asleep.

Raven used a tissue to wipe the corner of her mouth, then contentedly withdrew his hand. There was half of the porridge left in the bowl, so he ate it himself.

After doing all this, he continued reading the document.

The girl was sleeping soundly in his arms, her small face was soft and red, adding a bit of grace. Raven lowered his eyes and gently kissed her red lips.

His big hand also penetrated the blanket, squeezing her twice....

Because he couldn't control his strength, the girl moaned two times in her sleep.

Raven immediately let go of her, and the corners of his squinted eyes were dyed red.

When North woke up in the big bed, Raven had left.

During the day she filmed, and at night she went to the Mitchell family's house to have dinner.

Amir waited for her on the lawn outside the villa for a long time. He happily greeted her: "North, you're here."

North nodded: "I'm not late, am I?"

"No no. I'm too impatient."

At this time, Jace came out and said: "North, you're grown up. I almost didn't recognize you."

She looked at Jace. He had taken care of himself very well, an elegant and mature fifty-year-old man. Now he is looking at her lovingly.

"Uncle Mitchell, hello." North greeted politely.

"Amir, go see if dinner is ready." Jace told Amir to leave.

Amir didn't want to leave, but due to his father's instructions, he reluctantly glanced at North and went in.

"North, when something happened to the Paulo family, I was in no hurry to return. During these years, you were adopted by the Dominos family. With Tobias's despicable personality and Zhuri's extremely twisted personality, you must have suffered a lot."

She knew that Uncle Mitchell must have had something to say to her when he sent his son away. She shook her head: “Everything is over.”

North is not a stupid person. Compared to the Dominos family, the exemplary man in front of her was even more strange to her, so she wouldn't get along with him.

“North, that year the Paulo family and our Mitchell family were friends. Your father even personally betrothed you to Amir. Logically speaking, if something happens to the Paulo family, I will definitely come back, but I can't.”

“That year, your father and Tobias had a good relationship. At a glance, I could tell that Tobias had ambitions. I reminded your father several times, but he didn't take it seriously. Not only did he support the Dominos family, he also shunned me because of that.”

“At that time, there were serious shortcomings in the management of the Mitchell family, all capital chains were broken. At that time, the Dominos family became an upstart in Los Angeles with the support of your father. Tobias took this opportunity to add injury to us, kicking me out of Los Angeles.”

“My last resort was to take my wife and children abroad and start over. When I found out what happened to your father, your mother and your brother, everything in Los Angeles was under the control of the Dominos family, and I was completely unable to save you.”

“We've developed quite smoothly these years abroad. I've never forgotten you, North, so I brought Amir back to find you.”

Jace said these words with deep affection. He kept sighing as if his heart was aching.

North looked at Jace and said: “Uncle Mitchell, you don't have to blame yourself. This is probably the fate of the Paulo family.”

“North,” Jace deliberately lowered his voice at this time, “Have you ever thought about whether this is the fate of the Paulo family or is it created by humans?”

North's heart was pounding: “Uncle Mitchell, what do you mean?”

“North, I suspect the car accident involving your parents was caused by humans and was a case of intentional murder. I found a clue.”

North narrowed her eyes, asking: “Really?”

“Of course it's true, North. This time I came back to avenge your father. Now you and I must join forces to put the criminals of the Dominos family in prison and make them punished. We must destroy the Dominos family!”

This was the purpose of Jace's trip. He wanted North to join forces with him to overthrow the Dominos family. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North saw the raging fire of hatred in Jace's eyes. His hatred towards the Dominos family is real.

"Uncle Mitchell, what do you want me to do?"

"North, Old Master Dominos, Tobias and Zhuri are no longer scary anymore. The one who is truly scary is... Raven."

Raven...

North lowered her thick eyelashes.

"I saw Raven the night before I got back," Jace continued. "I didn't expect that such an outstanding person would appear among the descendants of the Dominos family. Raven is a person with a deep, scary mind, cunning and can turn everything upside down. As long as he is by their side, the Dominos family will enjoy endless wealth and glory. There is no way we can bring down the Dominos family."

North nodded in acknowledgment: "Yeah."

"So North, I will entrust Raven to you. The armor is the hardest and the heart is the softest. You are his only weakness in this life."

Huh?

North doesn't believe it. She always wanted to know if he loved her or not. Only later did she get the answer. He didn't love her. What he gave her was pampering.

He is always restrained, calm, rational and self controlled and never loses his temper.

"Uncle Mitchell. I'm afraid I can't complete this mission. You've overestimated my position in Raven's heart."

Jace smiled and shook his head, "North, whether I overestimate or you underestimate, we can wait and see when you peel away the fog, so we can see his heart."

North said nothing.

She stood in the night wind, her dress fluttering. She raised her seductive clear eyes to look at Jace, smiled and said: “Uncle Mitchell, how do you know my relationship with Raven?”

Chapter 955

Chapter 955 She must return home before 9 p.m

Jace was stunned, not expecting North to suddenly attack him with that sentence.

North’s eyes were clear and a smile appeared on her lips: “Uncle Mitchell, have you sent someone to investigate the relationship between me and Raven? Did you come back to his time to help me or take advantage of me?”

Jace looked at North, his expression returning to normal, “North, you are indeed the daughter of the Paulo family, but instead of me taking advantage of you, it’s better to say that we help each other. Our goals are the same. It’s right that I hate the Dominos family, and it’s also right to help the Paulo family take revenge. The only person who can join forces with you right now is me.”

North was silent for a while, then said: “I need to think.”

“Okay, North. I’ll wait to hear from you.”

At this moment, a clear and sweet voice rang out: “Dad, I’m home-”

North looked up and saw that Ella, Mitchell’s daughter and Amir’s sister, had returned.

Ella just turned 18 this year and just entered college. She is innocent, cheerful and has a very beautiful appearance.

People say that girls are little pets that their father takes care of. Jace immediately smiled lovingly and said: “Ella, it’s so cold, why are you wearing a dress?”

Ella ran over and grabbed his arm, pouted her red lips, and said coyly: “Dad, my clamates all dress like this. They look very beautiful in dresses. Every girl likes to be beautiful |

Jace smiled helplessly and affectionately.

North could see that Jace was a good father. He was very protective of his two children, Amir and Ella.

North’s gaze fell on Ella. She was suddenly jealous of Ella. If her father was still alive, she would probably be like Ella now.

At this moment, Ella saw North, her eyes lit up, “Oh my god, who am I seeing? North, are you really the big star North Paulo? I’m a fan of yours. North, can I take a photo with you? My clamates will definitely go crazy and be jealous of me.”

Ella jumped next to North, looking at her in surprise.

North had a good impression of this innocent, lovely sister, perhaps because she lived the way she wanted. She nodded: “Okay.”

Ella happily took pictures with North and asked for North’s autograph.

At this time Amir came out: “Dad, North, Ella, dinner is ready. Let’s go in and eat.”

North had dinner at Mitchell’s house. Ella is like a lovely sparrow, chatting with her, asking her about scandals in the entertainment industry with a curious look on her face. Amir didn’t have a chance to get close to North, just stared at her. Jace glanced at her several times. The atmosphere of this dinner was very harmonious, making North feel like she was at home after a long absence. After dinner, the servant brought up the fruit. Amir forked a round, transparent grape and gave it to North: “North, this grape is very sweet. Please try it.”

North was about to reach out to pick it up, but at this moment the villa door opened, and the servant outside said: “Mr. Dominos is here.”

Raven is here!

North raised her head and saw two bright car lights shining through the dark night outside. A Maybach luxury car drove up and slowly parked on the lawn outside the villa. The driver's door opened, Raven's tall body appeared in sight.

Tonight Raven is dressed in black, wearing a black jacket on the outside, a black turtle-neck sweater on the inside, a pair of gold-framed glasses on his face, and his handsome facial features are perfect in the cold fog, just like a man came out of a comic book, strongly attracting everyone's attention and making them scream.

Raven closed the car door and walked forward with his long, straight legs.

Jace immediately greeted and politely said: "Mr. Dominos, why are you here? You should have called me before coming so I could invite you over for a family meal."

Raven curled his thin lips, both polite and distant: "Mr. Mitchell, you're too polite. There's no need. I'll take North home."

As Raven spoke, he raised his head to look at the beautiful figure under the classic palace lantern in the hallway, saying. "North, come here. You've had enough fun. Let's go home."

North looked at Raven, then obediently walked next to him.

Raven had a coat in hand, slinging it over North's shoulders, his long, flexible fingers buttoning it for her.

Amir really didn't want to leave North, saying: "Uncle Dominos, it's still early. Why don't you stay for a while?"

Raven had no expression on his handsome face, just lowered his head to look at his steel clock and said: "It's nine o'clock, North has to be home before nine o'clock."

"Huh?" Amir was stunned for a moment.

Raven reached out his big hand to hold North's small, soft hand, "This is the Dominos family's rule. She must be home before 9 p.m. North's tutor is very strict."

Having finished speaking, Raven opened the passenger door and stuffed North in. Then he returned to the driver's seat and the Maybach drove away.

Raven took North away..

Amir was very unhappy. He has interacted with Raven twice, always feeling that Raven is too strict with North. His desire for control, unlike his brother's towards his sister, is quite pathological.

What is the Dominos family's rule? North isn't a child anymore. Only when children go out to play are adults reminded to return home before 9 p.m.

"Raven is too domineering. North is not his biological sister!" Amir said dissatisfiedly.

Jace looked in the direction the Maybach disappeared. Raven got here just in time. Nine o'clock was his bottom line and it couldn't be any later.

"No, you can't!" Jace refused.

"Why not? North is Uncle Paulo's daughter and also my fiancée. Dad, why don't you agree?" Amir was surprised and confused.

A cold light flashed in Jace's eyes. Now that North is no longer the daughter of the Paul family, and she and her brother in name have a shady relationship, how can she be worthy of the Mitchell family?

"Amir, don't ask why. I definitely have my reasons. You can choose young ladies from reputable families, but you can't choose North!" Jace said and went upstairs..

Amir looked at his father inexplicably. He didn't understand why his father was against him and North.

" At this moment, the corner of Amir's shirt was pulled out by two fingers. It was Ella. Amir looked towards Ella, asking: "Ella, what's wrong?"

“Oh, that’s North’s older brother. His name is Raven Dominos.” Amir replied.

Raven Dominos....

Ella thought this name silently. The man who had just stepped out of the world—noble and mighty emperor, making people’s hearts pound.

Ella is very proud of her beauty. Even though she’s not as beautiful as North, the guys pursuing her can all line up from here to France, but just now Raven didn’t even look at her, and didn’t even bother to say a word or make eye contact with her.

“Brother, you like North, and I like North too. No matter how old we are now, dad can’t st op our feelings. Brother, please chase North, and let her become my sister-in-law as soon as possible.” Ella cheered for her brother.

Amir nodded strongly: “I won’t listen to Daddy. If I miss out on a girl as good as North, I won’t be here anymore.”

In the luxury car Maybach.

Raven sat in the driver’s seat, his big hands on the steering wheel, driving without squin ting, turning and accelerating smoothly.

North nodded: “Yes.”

North tilted her head, her seductive dark eyes looking at his handsome face.

Raven drove attentively, his deep voice full of appeal, “Actually, I guessed it too. Does J ace want you to join forces with him to take revenge on the Dominos family?”

North Yujie shivered. She was mentally prepared. No matter what she did, she couldn’t escape his fierce eyes. But now that he said it, she was still scared.

Raven turned to look at her: "What do you think about Jace?"

North thought for a moment and replied: "He is a good father..."

"Haha," Raven laughed lightly.

North felt that her words were dry and without any value, his laughter was mocking her.

"I told you last night. Jace is a cunning old fox. I originally didn't intend to let you meet him, but I was afraid you would cause trouble with me, so I allowed you to meet him today."

"North, the Paulo and Mitchell families were indeed friends that year, but then they became distant, even strangers. Do you know why?"

"Did Jace tell you that it was because of the Dominos family? Yes, the Dominos family did have a role in inciting discord and stoking the fire. However, you underestimated Ezra, father.

"I must say that your father is the most outstanding political figure of the generation. He is very accurate in evaluating people. At first, Paulo and Mitchell's families were very close, but gradually Mitchell's entrepreneurial nature was exposed. They always want to take advantage of your father. He was very unhappy about taking shortcuts there."

Chapter 956 North The Red Rose

"After that, Jace's tax evasion and account falsification were exposed. The person who exposed it was my father, Tobias. Jace immediately went to your father for help. Your father just told him that he won't use his power to help him seek personal gain."

"In that case, Mitchell's financial chain was completely severed because he had to pay a huge amount of tax evasion. Although your father didn't seek personal gain, he used all the money he had saved to help Jace overcome difficulties, and also helped the Mitchell family. After the incident, a smooth move abroad will help the Mitchell family start over from scratch."

"But it's useless. Jace is just a strange white-eyed wolf to you. He has never been grateful to your father, but has resentment. Otherwise, when the Paulo family was destroyed, why didn't he even appear?"

"What Jace hated most during these years was the Dominos family. The failure he suffered when he was young was the biggest shame and reluctance in his life. Though he emigrated abroad, no matter how depressed he is, he will return in glory. The Dominos family owes him a debt and he will pay double. He came back and found you.”

“North, do you understand now?”

She listened quietly. She didn’t know the past of the Paulo, Mitchell and Dominos families, but just now at the Mitchell family, she had seen the calculation and coldness in Jacob’s eyes, so this past story was not surprising to her.

“North, you don’t believe me?” Seeing her silence, Raven asked.

North slowly shook her head, “Yes, I believe you. Whatever Uncle Mitchell said is right or wrong, it doesn’t matter...”

Raven turned his head to look at her, obviously waiting for her next words.

North calmly looked into his eyes, “Mr. Dominos, I should thank you. Thank you for helping me confirm the purpose of Uncle Mitchell’s trip. He really wanted to cooperate with me and bring down the Dominos family.”

Raven was silent for a few seconds, then reached out and pinched her soft little face, “Stop making trouble. You can’t fight me.” Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He spoke calmly and in a very casual tone, conveying the fact that he was arrogant man North had ever seen.

Amir began officially pursuing North. He wanted to give her a big surprise so he went to the mall to buy flowers.

Just then, a group of shopping center employees wearing blue badges approached. The one walking in front was a tall and handsome figure, Raven.

The shopping center was property owned by the Dominos family and Raven brought in the shopping center’s operators for inspection.

“Hello Uncle Dominos.” Amir greeted him.

Hearing the call “Uncle Dominos”, Raven knew it was Amir, the goofy sweet guy. He looked up and saw Amir at the flower shop, walked over and said, “Mr. Mitchell, are you here to buy flowers?”

“That’s right, Uncle Dominos. You came just in time. I want to buy flowers for North. What kind of flowers does she like?” Amir asked.

Raven raised his eyebrows, his eyes falling on the large rose blooming not far away. North likes red_____ roses. Only red roses are worthy of her.

“What?” Amir was stunned, “No way. North doesn’t like flowers?”

Raven nodded firmly: “North is also allergic to pollen.”

Amir immediately expressed disappointment: “So that’s it...”

Raven looked at Amir indifferently, feeling amused. Now this little hairy monkey appeared from any corner and dared to steal the woman in his arms.

“Okay. Since North doesn’t like flowers, I’ll prepare candles and heart-shaped balloons for her. Uncle Dominos, you’re old and definitely won’t understand. Girls these days like romantic things. I’ll go prepare them. Goodbye, Uncle Dominos.” Amir said and left.

Watching Amir’s figure disappear from sight, Raven used the tip of his tongue to touch his right cheek. The girl he had worked so hard to nurture wasn’t someone who could be deceived by romantic and sweet words.

This feeling made him quite uncomfortable.

Raven took his eyes off Amir’s back, raised his thin lips and said: “Tonight, book a presidential room at a seven-star hotel.”

The private secretary was stunned, not expecting the president to suddenly ask him to book a hotel room while he was at work.

“Yes, President.”

North was on set filming and she was filming a kissing scene.

“Floating Life” is a coming-of-age drama with a country female protagonist, the male protagonist is just a lackluster actor, and romantic scenes are few but there are.

Eloise became the number one socialite in New York and met Benjamin, the warlord at the time, and the two shared an ambiguous kiss scene. Search the findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

This time Benjamin is played by Samuel, a famous tough guy. Samuel is a young man in the entertainment industry who is both handsome, strong and famous. This time he deserves to play the role of Benjamin.

Director Ronald explained the play to North and Samuel: “Samuel, sit on the chair. North, you take the initiative to sit on Samuel’s lap, put your arms around his neck and kiss him. You have to create the feeling of a cold and lazy prostitute with a bossy and seductive military officer, understand?”

North nodded: “Okay. No problem.”

Samuel nodded too: “Okay.”

“Okay, lighting engineer, cameraman ready.”

Director Ronald retreated, looking through the camera at North and Samuel preparing for the scene. Samuel changed into an officer’s outfit, with a body as tall as a pine tree and a handsome face, while North wore a long satin dress, a delicate hairstyle and classic red lips that made her look as cool as a witch.

The producer nodded in praise: “North and Samuel’s designs are so exquisite. If the scenes match each other, I don’t know how many people will be stunned by this couple when the movie comes out.”

Director Ronald agreed with this point. Just as he was about to nod, he felt a chill on the back of his neck. What's going on?

Director Ronald turned his head and immediately saw Raven pushing the door in.

Raven is here!

"Ah," Director Ronald nervously patted his thigh. This man would have come sooner or later, but he came here now, when North was about to film the kiss scene!

Director Ronald has reason to suspect that Mr. Dominos did it on purpose.

Raven took off his coat and put on a handmade gray suit. Gray has always been a quiet and reserved color, but when worn on Raven's tall and noble body, it exudes even more quality. On his handsome face, he wears gold-rimmed glasses, showing the temperament of a successful and elegant businessman to the extreme.

Chapter 157 Watch her kiss see

Director Ronald quickly wanted to say hello: "Mr. Dominos..."

At this moment, Raven raised his hand to interrupt him.

Director Ronald immediately fell silent. The personal secretary brought the chair. Raven sat down quietly. He said nothing, his eyes looking at North in front of him.

Obviously he didn't want to bother anyone. He just wanted to quietly visit them and watch a play. Director Ronald felt so overwhelmed that he could only grit his teeth and say: "Ah!"

The kissing scene began. North and Samuel played their roles very professionally.

Samuel sat on the chair, North walked over wearing high heels, saying: "Mr. Mahone, if you are in my room, be careful I will call someone over."

Samuel glanced at North, "Scream. Everyone outside are my men anyway. Screaming and tearing your throat won't work."

"Mr. Mahone, what do you mean? A man and a woman in the same room. Do you want... to do.... something... with me. Do you want to make me yours?"

Having finished speaking. North twisted her slim waist to go to Samuel, then sat on his lap according to the script, raised her two small hands to hug his neck, raised her eyebrows and kissed him.

According to the script, Samuel should have received the kiss, but he wasn't in the right mood so he didn't receive the kiss.

Director Ronald quickly shouted, "Cut!"

North stood up from Samuel's lap. Director Ronald walked over and said: "Samuel, what's wrong with you? The scene just now was filmed very well."

Samuel's handsome face turned red, a little embarrassed: "1..."

At this time. Director Ronald's eyes were very sharp, immediately seeing the physiological changes in Samuel's pants.

Well...

Director Ronald's heart was pounding. He didn't dare look at Mr. Dominos outside the hall. He didn't know if Mr. Dominos could see it or not. Director Ronald quickly took over his assistant's work and immediately put his jacket on Samuel to cover him up, "Hmm... Samuel, please adjust your condition and continue filming later."

At this time, the producer who was very nervous came over and said: "Samuel, it's okay. Don't be shy. It's normal for actors your age to have physiological reactions when filming kissing and bed. scenes. Before that, don't say it was you. With North filming a kiss scene, there aren't many men who can act normally."

The producer laughed to himself "haha". When he finished laughing, he felt the air was quiet and there was a flock of crows flying in the sky...

The producer looked confused at Director Ronald. Director Ronald... was about to cry!

Director Ronald originally wanted to cover up this matter, but he didn't expect the producer to come. At this moment, he wanted to... cry for him!

The atmosphere was confusing. At this time, North came over and said: "Director Ronald, I'll go down and rest a bit."

Director Ronald quickly changed from a desperate expression to a smiling one, "Okay, North, go rest quickly. Be careful. By the way, Mr. Dominos is here. You and Mr. Dominos can have a nice chat."

North didn't know Raven was coming. She raised her eyes and saw him sitting in the dim light.

"I understand." North went down.

She walked to Raven's side, "Mr. Dominos, it's daytime, don't you have to go to work at the company?"

Raven's handsome face was calm. He even curled his thin lips: "I heard you were filming a kiss scene today, so I ran over to see."

North raised her hand to stroke the hair on her cheek, lazily saying: "Mr. Dominos, I didn't expect you to have this hobby. You like to watch your woman film kiss scenes with other men?"

Raven snorted faintly, "If I say I don't like it, can you stop filming the kiss scene?"

"No." North refused without thinking: "Mr. Dominos, I'm an actress, and kissing scenes are part of my job. Please respect me!"

"Haha." A needless laugh came from Raven's throat.

He gently raised his eyelids and looked forward, seeing in front of him Samuel, the famous young actor, looking at North, his eyes were probably... like those of a boy in his prime..

Raven reached out his large hand, grasping North's slender wrist. At the sudden surprise in her eyes, he pulled her down onto his strong lap.

North immediately frowned and said: "Raven, are you crazy? This is a film crew, full of people..."

"Kissing scenes are part of your job, so what's the point of flirting with an actor?"

Chapter 958

Chapter 958 Sitting on his lap

What?

North stopped.

Raven looked at her soft, seductive face. Sure enough, other men also liked what he liked. Today he doesn't need to do anything, just capturing this scene is enough.

He couldn't count how many men she could provoke. Recently, he saw with his own eyes the famous young actor's physical reaction.

However, this isn't the fault of those men. She walked in high heels, wriggled her water snake-like waist, and even took the initiative to sit on his lap. Even a mature man couldn't help it.

"What? Don't tell me you don't know." Raven smiled.

Although he was smiling, there was a cold, sinister layer in his eyes, quite dangerous.

North knows that. Just now she had physical contact with Samuel and she felt it.

In fact, actors are also human beings, and when filming intimate scenes, it is normal to have physical reactions. She didn't mind, but now Mr. Dominos emphasized the key point, so she had to handle it very carefully.

North raised her delicate eyebrows and said: "Mr. Dominos, that's so harsh. Are you jealous again?"

"I still say the same. Anyway, I haven't done anything to make you regret it. If you want to lose your temper, just come see me."

North looked like "Don't think I'm coaxing you. I've already calmly accepted my death."

Raven laughed angrily, his big hand placed on her waist, squeezing hard. "Acting in a movie is your job, isn't your job serving the sponsor? Why do you have such double standards? Why are you enthusiastic when filming but you treat the sponsor so perfunctorily that you don't even want to coax me?"

North looked at him and said reasonably: "One person is the one I love, the other person I don't love, so of course there will be double standards."

Okay, Raven felt that this reason was really difficult to refute.

North placed her small hands on his muscular chest, “Mr. Dominos, we are both human. Can you let me go?”

“No one is watching.”

North looked up and saw that the place where Raven was sitting had been cleaned up, the door slowly closed, and Director Ronald was outside the door waving with a satisfied expression to her, which meant she had worked hard.

“North really doesn’t understand. How can Director Ronald, who has always pursued the art of film and television, comfortably serve capitalism?”

As expected, no one outside is simple.

“It looks like the kiss scene just now will be filmed later. Anyway, I’m okay, so I’ll try the kiss scene with you. North, kiss me.”

What?

North wanted to refuse, but Raven grabbed her waist, easily lifted her up, and adjusted her position so that she sat on his lap.

His long fingers hugged the back of her head, pushing her soft, seductive face down, forcing her to kiss him.

This time he kissed her very gently, gently but strongly, twisting her red lips and toying with her.

When he let her go, he stroked her hair as a reward, “So good-”

Did he want to continue?

North quickly pretended to be stupid: "I don't know, it seems... after kissing, it ends..."

"Really?" Raven had a confusing script in his hand. He picked up the script and leisurely opened it.

North quickly wanted to crawl out of his lap, "Mr. Dominos, take your time and watch. I'll go first."

But Raven wouldn't let her leave. He held the script in one hand, the other held her soft waist, glanced at the script, slowly frowned and said: "Is this the end? This is a kissing scene, obviously followed by a bed scene."

North hastily explained: "The original book of Floating Life' had a bed scene, but Director Ronald deleted it."

Raven threw the script to her and said: "Read the next bed scene to me."

What?

North wished she could throw the script at his damn handsome face, "Mr. Dominos, you must be a pervert. I'm not a voice actor."

"Don't want to? Okay, how about we film the sex scene live?" Raven raised his heroic eyebrows. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North looked at him bewildered. Even though this place has been cleaned up, after all, it's a film crew, does he want to be a hooligan here?

"I will read!" North glanced at him, "You're so cruel," then picked up the script.

Opening the script, she began reading aloud: "Eloise sat on Benjamin's lap, and they kissed. passionately. Soon, Benjamin felt... burning desire. His large hand slid down her waist and fell on her... white thigh, then slowly... probed from the hem of her dress..."

North's gentle and charming face quickly turned red. The script she received was adapted by the screenwriter, while the one in Raven's hand was the original.

She stopped reading the next content because it contained a big sex scene.

"Why don't you continue? Is it like this down there? Raven's large hand rested on the hem of her dress.

When his calloused palm moved up, North immediately reached out her small hand to hold it, "Mr. Dominos, now is not appropriate. I have to film later. Don't ruin my dress."

He is predatory, impatient and somewhat rude, often ruining her clothes. Sleeping with him is quite a waste of clothes.

Raven's eyes darkened, looking at her pitiful look asking for forgiveness.

North took the initiative to please him, two small hands hugged his neck, using a soft, seductive voice said: "I know. I know. Tonight I will return to the room early. I will serve you as you wish."

Since the last time he forced her in the mansion, Raven hadn't touched her again, for fear of making her vomit or causing her to react deeply and with disgust.

Now hearing her proactively bring up this topic, he admitted that he was very happy. He retracted. his hand, his large palm once again placed on her soft waist, his deep and gentle voice carried a slight hoarseness, "I told the secretary to book a room tonight. Come to the hotel to find me."

"Huh? Could it be that this room here can no longer satisfy you, Mr. Dominos? Do you want to go to the hotel room to find something new?" North asked him.

Raven pulled out his big hand, squeezed her waist and hugged her, "If I tell you, you just do it. Why ask nonsense?"

What an authoritarian president!

North thought and struggled for a while. At this moment, Raven's hot breath blew into her ear, "Just now, how did you feel sitting in the arms of that famous guy?"

What?

North raised her eyes to look at him.

Raven slowly narrowed his dark eyes, a dark smile appeared on his thin lips, "Don't pretend. North, you know what I'm asking. What's in his pants was so obvious, didn't you recognize it?"

North narrowed her eyes, looking at him in surprise. How could he... have such thoughts? His mind. is filled with... unhealthy thoughts, isn't it?

"What are you looking at? Did I say something wrong? You didn't touch but... rub back and forth?" Raven spoke in a different way.

North quickly raised her small hand to cover his mouth, stopping him from talking dirty things. search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She is a professional actress, just now she sat on Samuel's lap without touching anything, she also heard the producer's words after getting down. That was normal and she didn't mind. But when the words passed through Raven's mouth, it was too bad.

Raven is really indecent.

He kissed her small, soft hand and then let her go. After all, he didn't like talking to her about other men. He said, "Get down. Remember to find me at the hotel tonight."

"I know." North used the fastest speed possible to crawl down and leave.

Raven watched North's beautiful figure disappear. Initially he agreed to let her enter the entertainment industry, but gradually he realized that this was the worst decision he had ever made. Now he is increasingly disgusted with her career.

Her beauty is too flashy, attracting too much desire. She is only suitable to be a golden bird in his cage.

She belongs to him.

At this time, a "ding" sound rang out signaling a Messenger notification.

Raven looked down and saw North leaving her phone here.

Her cell phone rang and there was a Messenger message.

Raven lifted her phone and opened it, but it had a paword.

What was her paword?

He thought for a moment and then entered the six-digit paword.

The paword was correct and the phone was turned on.

Her cell phone paword was... his birthday.

Like, all of his pawords over the years have been her birthdays.

This seemed to be a habit ingrained deep into his bones.

Habit is the scariest thing.

Raven slowly curled his thin lips, happily opening the Messenger, which was a message from Amir, "Sis, do you have time this evening?"

Raven used his long fingers to press the phone buttons and replied, "Yes. I'll wait for y ou outside the seven-star hotel XX."

After he threw the phone aside, his personal secretary came over and said: "President."

Raven pursed his thin lips and said: "Go invite Director Ronald here. I have something t o ask him."

North returned to the crew to continue filming. Samuel sat across from her. She looked politely nodded.

Samuel nodded in response, with some regret in his eyes.

As a famous transportation major, he has long heard about North, the beautiful red rose in the entertainment industry. Seeing North in place, a stunning beauty of a generation, couldn't help but make his heart flutter.

But just now Samuel saw with his own eyes Raven pulling North into his lap. Raven Dominos, the richest man in Los Angeles, a powerful person in the business world, a big boss of capital, the so-called financier.

Samuel understood the rules of the entertainment industry, but he didn't expect that North had a sponsor, too.

At this time, Director Ronald came over and said: "North, Samuel, I have something to tell you. This kiss scene has been canceled. There is no need to film it anymore."

North raised her head: "Why?"

Director Ronald thought: "...Why? Mr. Dominos just arrived!"

Samuel suddenly thought of Raven, raised his head and saw that his handsome and noble figure was no longer in the dim light over there. The chair was empty and he was gone.

North departed after filming and went to the seven star hotel to find Raven.

Miss Jones parked her car outside the hotel, North got out and walked back to the hotel.

What she didn't know was that across the street there was someone already waiting there, who was Amir.

Raven took out his cell phone and sent a text message to Amir. Amir arrived very early and waited here for two hours.

The night was very cold, Amir's hands were red from the cold, but this cold night didn't stop his passion at all. Just thinking about North's next date made him want to jump for joy.

At this moment, Amir turned around, saw North walking up the stairs, and happily wanted to run over. "Nor..."

Before he could say "North", a car horn suddenly rang in his ears. Amir stopped and saw a Maybach luxury car speeding towards him.

That's... Raven's car.

Raven is here.

Amir was a bit surprised, wondering why Uncle Dominos came here.

Amir doesn't like Uncle Dominos because Uncle Dominos has a perverted desire to control North, which makes him extremely dissatisfied.

At this moment, the driver's door of the Maybach opened, and Raven wearing a thin black wool coat appeared in sight.

Amir wanted to go over and say hello, but Raven had already gone out. He looked at North on the stairs and stretched out his arms: "North, come here and give me a hug."

Amir suddenly stiffened.

North was walking up the stairs still not knowing Amir's situation, she only saw Raven wanting to hug her.

She walked up the stairs in high heels, then jumped into his arms so he could catch his little fairy!

His thin lips brushed her fragrant hair, he held her tightly in his arms, smiled softly and said: "Good girl."

"Yeah. I'm serious about serving master-

"Then kiss me."

"Oh." North stood on tiptoe and kissed his handsome face hard.

Raven raised his eyebrows in a happy mood.

"Mr. Dominos, it's okay. Let's go in. I'm a big star. You probably don't want to cause trouble with me tomorrow." North playfully winked.

Raven hugged her slim waist, "Okay, let's go in."

They disappeared into the hotel.

Amir was stunned on the spot, looking in the direction the two people disappeared in surprise and confusion. He couldn't believe what he saw.

Just now North and Raven were kissing on the street.

At this time, they entered the hotel.

Amir's head went "boom". He shook his head continuously. How was that possible? Raven is North's nominal brother, how could they?

No.

This is not the truth.

Amir quickly ran into the hotel, his red eyes looking at the front desk. He asked, "Where were those two people just now? Did they come here to eat or...sleep?"

The receptionist politely said: "Hello, two distinguished guests have just booked the presidential suite here. They will stay here tonight."

Presidential room...

They went here to sleep...

Amir's hands hanging at his sides quickly clenched into fists. He never thought that North and Raven had such a shady relationship. He witnessed with his own eyes the girl he liked going to the hotel to sleep with another man!

"What is their room number? I want to find them!" Amir asked nervously.

After speaking, he turned and walked into the elevator.

"Sir!" The receptionist quickly called. After Amir left, she immediately picked up the phone and dialed a number.

Very quickly, the other end of the phone was connected, and a deep, magnetic voice rang out: "Hello."

It was Raven.

In the presidential suite.

Raven stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window, one hand in his pocket, his cell phone pressing to his ear. When he heard the report from the front desk, he gently lifted his thin lips and said, "I get it." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He hung up.

At this moment, the small, pure and gentle girl came from behind and looked up at him with her seductive black eyes: "Mr. Dominos, whose phone is that?"

Raven glanced at North and said: "The Third Wheel. Do you want to check it out?"

He gave her the phone.

In fact, North was a bit suspicious of him. Raven was behaving very strangely today, even inviting her to the hotel. Mysterious places must have monsters.

However, he still calmly took out the phone, dispelling her doubts. North raised her red lips and said: "Mr. Dominos, what are you talking about? Who is the third wheel?"

Raven bowed his head, his thin lips touching her gentle face. He loves her youthful beauty. He said, "You're here. If you don't call the outsider The Third Wheel, then what do you call her?"

North raised her delicate willow-leaf eyebrows, her appearance lazily resembling a charming little temptress. She said, "Mr. Dominos, are you mistaken? I am your official stamp and can't be your first wife. So The Third Wheel is me. No one can take it from me."

As he spoke, North pushed away his handsome face that was kissing her passionately, "The people outside should be called The Fourth Wheel and The Fifth Wheel. From now on, Mr. Dominos, you don't need to test me anymore. This is not my job. When you have The Fourth Wheel and The Fifth. Wheel, we will be sisters, and we will definitely cooperate to serve you well." North said generously.

Raven eve laughed loudly. She always remembers what happened last time so she can hold her hatred.

He reached out and squeezed her small chin, forcing her to raise her head to look at him, "North, do you really want to marry and be Mrs. Dominos?"

North met his eyes and said: "As your mistress, I can only wait for you to give me money. Maybe one day you will get bored of me and I'll be fired. If I were Mrs. Dominos, all your money would be mine, and I could spend as much as I wanted. Of course, I want a higher position."

Raven was silent for a few seconds, watching her speak, half joking, half serious. He has no intention of marrying her but he also has no intention of marrying someone else.

With her condition, he was worried that marrying her wouldn't be easy. She is so beautiful that people can c uckold him at any time. He still felt it would be better to lock her up.

Raven curled his thin lips into an evil curve, "North, please don't anger me. Mrs. Dominos really wants to serve her man, instead of using her hands or her body like you. I can be hypocritical for a few days, but I won't marry a useless stone girl."

"..." North had a headache. She felt there was an obstacle when communicating with this man.

"Bam", North slapped his big palm down, looked at him cutely and said: "Mr. Dominos, I'm going to take a bath first."

"Let's take a bath together." Raven quickly followed her.

But when he reached the bathroom door, North immediately slammed the door and locked it as if to guard against a p ervert.

Raven was rejected, "..

Did she still want him to marry her?

...

The sound of running water came from the bathroom. Raven sat on the edge of the bed, raised his hand to pull the tie around his neck with a wild and evil movement.

Very quickly, Amir's voice came from outside the door. "North! North, where are you? Come out quickly!"

Amir came looking. The presidential rooms in the hotel were all on the first floor, very easy to find. Amir knocked on the doors one by one outside and shouted loudly.

Raven snorted coldly, feeling extremely depressed. Amir should thank North. Otherwise, someone as silly and sweet as him wouldn't be worth his efforts.

Raven slowly dealt with the men following North.

Such as that old man Randy. The thing he cared about most was money, so he destroyed his company.

And Amir. A guy at this young age should be honest with North, so he invited him out and let him wait on the street with high expectations, and let him look at the girl he likes sharing the room with another man. It hurt him and made him crazy.

This is very interesting.

At this time, the noise outside became increasingly louder. Amir repeatedly knocked on the door, causing many guests to panic. Some guests called to complain, and the hotel's security staff were also mobilized.

"North! North, where are you?"

Raven quietly stood up, then walked over to open the door.

There were many security guards in the hallway outside. Amir stood at the door of the presidential suite looking inside: "North! North!"

"Ah!" The female guest inside shouted: "Who is this man? Quickly take him out!"

The security guard reached out and grabbed Amir, "Sir, please leave immediately. Otherwise, we will call the police!"

The restrained Amir was trying to escape like a trapped animal, his face red with excitement and very agitated: "Let me go! Let me go quickly. I want to find North!"

Now Amir is like an ant crawling on a fire. He can only think about finding North.

At this time, the security guard next to him suddenly said respectfully: "Mr. Dominos."

Mr. Dominos...

Amir suddenly raised his head and saw Raven's handsome and noble figure in front of him.

Raven had taken off his jacket, now wearing a white shirt, black pants, tie still hanging loosely around his neck, standing tall at the door. He took off his good, gentle and elegant looks during the day. At night, his every move has a dark, lazy and evil look, which is a charm that moves women. Now Raven stood quietly there, with his usual condescending attitude. It was unknown when he looked over there and quietly looked at the confused Amir who had nowhere to hide at this time. Amir felt extremely humiliated and gritted his teeth.

At this moment, Raven raised his hand and gently waved, "Go down."

"Yes, Mr. Dominos." The security officer stepped back.

Amir immediately rushed forward: "Raven, where is North?"

Raven reached over and closed the door behind him, "Mr. Mitchell, are you looking for North? She's taking a bath now."

Chapter 961

Chapter 961 I love Raven

North was taking a bath.

Raven's understatement conveyed the meaning quite clearly and was full of attack.

Amir looked at the closed door behind Raven, "I want to see North. Now I want to see North!"

Raven put one hand in his pocket, using his straight shoulders to block Amir's longing eyes. He said, "Mr. Mitchell, she doesn't want to see you, so please keep some dignity for yourself."

Amir's eyes were bloodshot. Raven is a fearsomely powerful opponent. He knows how to humiliate and torture people.

"Raven, North is your younger sister, and I also call you Uncle Dominos, but you've developed such a relationship with North. Don't you feel disgusted?"

Raven's cold black eyes looked at Amir's face. He smiled coldly, "Mr. Mitchell, so you finally know how much it disgusts me when you call me Uncle Dominos?"

Amir was so angry that he couldn't breathe.

Raven stepped forward, came next to Amir, leaned closer to him, and lowered his indifferent voice, "Compared to your cute love, North chose to come to my presidential room. I believe you know what she means. As her older brother, I raised her after all. I have never seen a guy like you. You can use a few sincere words to coax a girl, but no man can steal my girl."

"Mr. Mitchell, how old are you? Your lower hair probably hasn't grown yet. Stay away from North from now on. I don't like seeing men other than me around her. Usually then the people who appear to bother her will disappear..."

Amir's whole body trembled. He is the son of the Mitchell family and has always been carefully protected. The man in front of him seemed to reveal his dark nature to him for the first time.

"Raven, are you threatening me?"

Raven raised an eyebrow, "Isn't my threat clear enough?"

"You!"

"Want to fight me? Are you sure?" Raven raised his hand and patted Amir on the shoulder, "Let's go. to the gym first and get yourself stronger before coming back."

Having finished speaking, he turned and walked into the presidential room.

The presidential room door was closed again in Amir's face. He felt the burning pain on the shoulder that Raven had just patted. His pride and dignity were shattered tonight.

Amir walked to the door. He wanted to raise his hand to knock on the door, but immediately his hand stiffened in midair.

What did he bring to meet North?

In front of Raven, he was bullied and helpless.

Raven returned to the room, raised his hand to remove the towel from his neck and threw it on the sofa. His steps quickly stopped because North had just finished bathing and had gone out. Now she was looking at him with her seductive eyes. She asked, "Where have you been?"

Raven walked over with a normal expression, holding a towel to cover her long, wet hair, helping her wipe the drops of water from her hair. He replied, "I met someone."

"Who did you meet? Amir?"

Raven raised his head and looked at North.

North opened her cell phone and put the backup copy of Messenger in front of him, "Mr. Dominos, next time, remember to delete Messenger completely so there are no traces left."

Raven didn't feel worried or guilty when he was caught. He just raised his handsome eyebrows and said. "Are you angry? Why are you angry? Just because I used your phone to send a message to Amir? Why don't you just warn him to stay away from you? Are you so angry that you want to do something with him behind my back?"

North wanted to applaud the man in front of her. She watched with her own eyes how orderly and ruthless he was even when he was caught.

"Raven, you're messing with my phone. Can you give me some freedom and privacy? I'm going to suffocate!" North turned and left.

Raven quickly stretched out his large hand and grabbed her slender wrist, "Where are you going?" "Is Amir still outside? I'll go see him."

Raven immediately frowned. He just sent Amir away, and she wanted to go see him?

"You can't!" He refused.

Raven raised his foot and kicked the chair next to him, causing a loud noise in the presidential suite. With his hands on his hips, he walked back and forth in the room twice, the tip of his tongue touching his right cheek, both angry and surprised. Why would he raise such a disobedient little She just stood up to him and made him angry.

He told her not to come back after leaving this door, but she still left without looking back.

What should he do?

What else could he do?

Raven took his coat and went out to chase her. He was really afraid that she wouldn't come back!

Amir left the hotel in despair and went out onto the street. Tonight's blow is too strong. He felt crushed.

At this moment, a gentle voice suddenly rang out from behind: "Amir!"

Amir was stunned, quickly turned around and saw North chasing him.

She had just bathed and casually wore a sweater over her nightgown. The night wind blew her long, wet hair, and her small, soft and charming face looked especially bright and beautiful.

"North!" Amir immediately ran over. He looked at her with excitement and surprise, "North, I knew you were coming out. What happened between you and Raven? Tell me, did he force you?"

Amir thought, many years ago, North was accepted into the Dominos family. If Raven had those dirty thoughts, she couldn't escape either.

Amir only regrets that he didn't come back sooner. He said, "North, you don't need to be afraid. No one can hurt you now. I will protect you. Please leave Raven and the Dominos family as soon as possible. I will help you!"

North looked at the sincere boy in front of her and gently shook her head, "Amir, I love Raven."

She said she loved Raven.

Amir was stunned.

"Amir, I just want to tell you that I love Raven and I'm with him now. Whatever happens, it's between me and him. I don't want to involve you"

"Amir, I'm really happy to see you again this time. I consider you a friend, so don't like me. If you see me in trouble, just turn around and leave. Just pretend you never saw anything. You are the best part of my memory. Please keep it well."

Looking at North's clear eyes, Amir felt both pain and tenderness inside. He was thinking he was late after all.

A late step in love means being late in life.

Over the years, she grew up next to Raven. When she was most lonely and helpless, he was the only straw that saved her life. Raven provided her with warmth and companionship that no one else could. He also gave her love and unforgettable pain. Raven has been irreplaceable in her life.

Amir gave up and nodded: "Okay, North. I will listen to you."

North raised her red lips and waved her small hands: "Amir, I'm leaving. Goodbye."

North turned and left.

As soon as she turned around, she saw Raven chasing her. He was looking at her.

North walked over and placed her cold little hand in his palm, "Let's go back."

Raven put the coat in his hand on her shoulders, then held her small hand and walked into the hotel.

In the hotel hallway, Raven's face was not very good. He pursed his lips and asked: "What did you say to Amir just now?"

"I said... you forced me to stay with you." North said.

Raven still calmly said, "Oh, so you want Amir to be your hero and ride on colorful clouds of goodness to save you?"

North heard the contempt in his words. He doesn't like Amir at all. She said, "Mr. Dominos, don't bully poor young people. A few years from now, when Amir is your age, he may be no worse than you!"

Raven glanced at her faintly, said nothing, clearly too lazy to pay attention to her,

The two returned to the presidential suite. North asked curiously. "Mr. Dominos, who just told me to leave this door and not come back? Then why are you looking for me? It seems that President Dominos is very happy to slap himself in the face."

Raven looked at her proud face, like a little peacock spreading its tail. He stepped forward and said, "Be proud of yourself."

His big hand placed on her soft waist, holding her on his shoulder. "Come take a bath with me."

Take a bath with him?

"No! Raven, I'm clean. Let me down!" North struggled. She was in the air now, her soft belly aching against his strong shoulder.

Raven kicked open the bathroom door and placed her on the ground, saying, "Shower or bath together, choose one."

"None of them!" North refused.

"Okay, let's take a shower." Raven hugged her waist, pushed her against the frosted gla door, then raised his hand to turn on the shower.

Warm water poured down from the top of her head, and she immediately became a wet rat. She still wanted to run away.

But Raven grabbed her, turned her around, put her against the wall and slapped her on the butt.

“Ah

North’s pained eyes were filled with tears, her soft and charming face was red with humiliation. She exclaimed, “Raven, why do you like to spank me? I’m not a child. Are you a pervert or someone with a S.M. hobby?”

Every time she was intimate with Raven, she felt that he was scary. Now he spanked her ass, but he still made her stay in a very embarrassing position.

Raven hugged her from behind, put his thin lips on her long hair, and kissed her hard, “I let you be arrogant, let you go out and brag, what if those men like you? And then you come into my room, take off your clothes, kiss me, spend my money and sleep in my bed?

North knew he was unhappy so he lost his temper with her.

He is really very narrow minded and will take revenge. Every time he caught her with another man, he always went to deal with those men first, then came back and punished her severely.

At this moment, her skin was cool and her pajamas were also taken off by him.

North’s eyelashes trembled. At this time, she didn’t dare to be aggressive with him, afraid that it would be like last time. She twisted her small water snake like waist and said, “Mr. Dominos, please let me go first. I’ve already entered your room, and I will definitely listen to you. This time, no matter what method you want to use...”

Before she could finish speaking, Raven squeezed her waist to prevent her from moving. His heavy breath blew into her ear and he said hoarsely: “You don’t need to do anything. Just keep this position. and I’ll do it myself...”

North realized what he wanted to do and quickly pressed his big palm, “No, it hurts.”

“I can count.”

“Then you... prepare some contraceptive measures and don’t cum inside me!”

Raven laughed lightly. “Are you kidding me? You can’t get pregnant, so why should I use contraceptive measures?”

North hesitated for a few seconds, then struggled fiercely, “No, Raven. You must use contraceptive measures. If you don’t use it, then I will have to take a pill. Birth control pills are very harmful to the body.”

Raven frowned slightly, using his strong arms to restrain the woman who was restlessly struggling in his arms, “North, is there something wrong with your brain? North’s pupils constricted and dilated, unable to escape this man. She lowered her head and bit Raven’s arm hard.

Raven was in pain. She bit him so hard that he bled.

His handsome face was dark. In things like this he is always right. If you want to enjoy it, you must release yourself. But her appearance like this only makes him angry.

Raven used his large hand to squeeze her small face, forcing her to let go. He saw that on his arm there was a ring of deep, thin, bleeding teeth marks.

He was so angry. Although he didn’t like children and had no intention of having children, every time he saw her, she would scream about contraception and birth control pills, as if she was especially afraid of getting pregnant with his child. He felt a dark anger welling up from his chest.

“North, you asked for this. I want to see if I can plant my seed in your belly today!” Raven gritted his teeth and said.

The water in the bathroom was flowing, and soon a shady atmosphere filled the room. Raven’s throat rolled up and down. Waiting for the deadly feeling to pass, he reached out and hugged North, kissing her pale face, “Okay, don’t mess with me anymore. I’ll give you a bath.”

He is that kind of person. He is only willing to be gentle after feeling satisfied.

Raven applied shower gel to North's body. Looking down, he saw a lot of white liquid flowing down between her legs,

Raven raised his head to look at North, his eyes dark. Although he didn't say anything, he still thought this wasn't over and wanted to do it again.

At this moment, North raised her hand and slapped him hard on the face.

Raven was slapped so hard that his handsome face was turned to one side.

The space stagnated, leaving only the sound of running water,

At this time, North raised her hand to open the frosted glass door and went out.

Raven didn't move at all, just stood there, used the tip of his tongue to touch the right cheek that was slapped, then laughed loudly "haha". Damn, this little wildcat is so good!

She is the only one who dares to slap him!

Raven took a quick shower and then came out. He wore black silk pajamas, his short hair was wet, looking so young and handsome,

At this time, there was a "ding" sound, the doorbell rang, and there was someone outside the door.

North went to open the door. Outside was a hotel waiter, "Hello, this is what you ordered."

"Okay, thank you." North took the small bag and closed the door.

Raven looked at the small bag in her hand, asking. "What's in the bag?"

North's face turned pale. She sat on the sofa, opened the bag, took out what was inside, and replied: "Contraceptive pills."

Raven's handsome face turned completely dark. He walked over, picked up the medicine box and threw it straight into the trash: "Don't drink it"

"Give it back to me!" North quickly ran to the trash can, reaching out to search.

He frowned angrily, grabbed her slender wrist, "North, what are you doing? Can you put your hand in the trash can?"

He took one of her hands. North immediately put her other hand in the trash and picked up the box of contraceptive pills.

Raven let go.

North opened the box, took out two pills and put them in her mouth. She didn't drink the water but swallowed them.

Raven looked at her. He knows her. She is a little princess, afraid of pain and fear. It took her a whole day to not be able to swallow half a pill, but she took two contraceptive pills without blinking an eye.

Raven's cold black eyes were pitch black, dense and dangerous. He curled his thin lips into a mocking arc and said: "North, contraceptive pills are only for women who can get pregnant. Why do you like taking them? You take contraceptive pills so much that you can't conceive? Are you obsessed with contraceptive pills or something?"

North reached out to push him away: "Mr. Dominos, I know I can't get pregnant, so I don't need you to remind me again and again. I've done everything I need to do, and you're happy, so I'll take the medicine. What does it have to do with you? From the sponsor's point of view, is it safer for your mistress to take the pills? Is there a mistress who makes you feel more secure than me?"

Raven was so angry that he laughed coldly and said: "That's right, you're not the woman to marry anyway. You can take whatever medicine you like, but..."

Chapter 563 Baby! Baby! Baby!

Raven stretched out his fingers, squeezing her face hard, "Go look in the mirror and see if you look like a psychopath. I don't like toying with a psychopath."

Having finished speaking, he pushed her away, walked straight out of the presidential room, and slammed the door loudly.

Raven was gone.

He finally left.

North weakly fell onto the sofa, her eyes were empty, bewildered for a moment.

Immediately after that, she picked up the phone and dialed the number that was given by Mr. Randy last time.

She never gave up this phone number and called it every night but the call was never answered.

This time she called again, there was a beep on the other end but no one answered.

North looked disappointed and wanted to hang up the phone.

But as soon as her fingertips touched the button, the call on the other end suddenly connected...

Raven drove back to the company late at night and went to the CEO's office.

Throwing the coat in his hand onto the sofa, he put his hands on his hips and panted.

The private secretary rushed over, and as soon as he entered the door, he saw this scene. His chairman was still wearing pajamas and hotel slippers. He stood there alone and was very angry, really scary and a bit... cute... Like a husband who left home after the couple had an argument.

"President, why did you come back to the company so late? Did... Miss Paulo kick you out of the room...?

Before the private secretary finished speaking, Raven leaned to the side, his cold and uncomfortable eyes looking at him.

The personal secretary was so scared that he stiffened his neck and quickly fell silent.

Raven to the office chair and sat down. He casually raised his thin lips and said, "Call my psychologist. I have a problem that needs advice."

The private secretary was stunned, "President, do you want to dial...Mrs. Augustine's number? Now Mrs. Augustine is the top medical professor in the world, and you are acquaintances...

Mrs. Augustine? Olive? Aren't they acquaintances?

Raven thought for a moment, then took out his cell phone and dialed the number of his good' brother, Elvis,

The melodious ringtone of the cell phone on the other side rang once, then, Elvis's familiar deep voice slowly rang out: "Mr. Dominos, why did you call me so late?"

"What's wrong, Mr. Augustine? Did I disturb your couple's nightlife?"

"Tsk ts, you said sinister words, full of envy and jealousy towards me, a married man!"

Raven somehow felt that the word "married" in Elvis's mouth was full of pompousness. He lightly smirked: "Where is your wife?"

"Mr. Dominos, you've gone too far. You called me late at night to care about my wife?"

"Compared to caring for your wife, don't you think it's more dangerous for me to care for you late at night?"

Raven felt the word "baby" was heavy. "..."

At this moment, Olive's delicate voice rang out on the other end of the phone, "Honey, I'm here-

Olive answered the phone.

Raven tightened his grip on the phone, swallowing his saliva, “Mrs. Augustine, I have something to ask you about North.”

“North? Mr. Dominos, please tell me.”

“Do you know North can’t get pregnant?”

“Yes.” search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

As expected, this close friend Olive knows everything.

“Why can’t she be pregnant? Born or acquired?” Raven asked.

Olive on the other end was silent for a few seconds: “Mr. Dominos, why don’t you ask North about this?”

“Don’t you want to say? It’s okay. Let me ask another way. North can’t be pregnant, but she’s also very afraid of being pregnant. At first I didn’t notice anything unusual, but now I feel like something is wrong. Every time I touched her, she repeatedly emphasized using contraceptive pills. This is not a topic that someone born unable to conceive would be interested in, unless... this inability to conceive is acquired, which is, artificial.”

Olive wasn't surprised. Someone as smart and alert as Raven would have doubts sooner or later, although this day came a little earlier than expected.

"From a medical perspective, it is very likely that North had suffered some kind of trauma before and had not yet recovered from it, so she developed a post-traumatic stress response." Olive said.

Raven had no expression, his voice was indifferent without any emotion: "Then Mrs. Augustine, you will definitely not tell me this specific trauma, right?"

"Mr. Dominos, it's not that I won't tell you, it's that I have no right. If North wants to tell you, she will tell you." Having finished speaking, Olive hung up the phone.

Hearing the busy "beep" sound on the other end, Raven threw the phone on the table, a mist covering his handsome eyebrows.

The private secretary carefully said: "President... President..."

Raven didn't raise his head and said sadly: "Okay, you can go away."

"So are you going to sleep in... the office tonight?"

The private secretary immediately looked at Raven with eyes as if to say: "President, you still don't admit it. Miss Paulo kicked you out of the room."

Raven angrily picked up a file and threw it at his personal secretary, "If you don't want to go out, just stay and work overtime."

The private secretary quickly ran away.

The president's office was completely quiet. Raven was sitting in his office chair, feeling very confused for some reason, feeling extremely... insecure.

He didn't know where this uneasy feeling came from. With his current position of power, he has nothing to fear.

North is not normal, at least in his opinion. Every time he touched her, she was like a thorny little hedgehog. On one hand she wanted to pierce him. On the other hand, she wanted to carefully protect herself, as if... she was secretly licking some unknown wound.

Olive was hiding something from him, too.

Raven narrowed his beautiful eyes, a storm arose in his heart. Actually, he had a lot of speculation, such as...

Such as what?

In his mind. Raven pictured North leaving him at 18, with blood running down her legs...

Raven quickly closed his eyes, cutting off his speculation. He didn't dare to think further. It seemed like there was a giant abyss below, making him scared, panicked and insecure. He felt like he was about to be swallowed.

North returned to the crew. Except for being a little pale, she looked normal.

At this moment, a "ding" sounded, and the Messenger notification on her phone rang. North opened the message, it was from Olive, Raven is already suspicious."

What did he suspect? North knew that.

At this time, Olive's second text message came. "However, after one night. Raven still hasn't done anything at all. This is not his style. He should send someone to resolutely dig up all of your past. But instead. he remained silent. North, there's only one possibility. Raven is scared."

North quietly read the message. At this time, Miss Jones walked over and said in a low voice: "North, Liliana is here. She went to the studio to pack her things."

North hasn't heard the name Liliana for a long time. The last time something happened, Liltana was already a useless chess piece. Old Master Dominos had long ago abandoned her, leaving her to fend for herself.

The crew of "Floating Life" removed Liliana from the cast. Liliana avoided the spotlight for a while and went to the filming crew today to collect her belongings,

At this moment, North glanced at Liliana. Liliana looked at her with resentment and walked towards her.

North pretended not to notice, raised her eyes to look at Miss Jones, "Miss Jones, Raven is suspicious of my past, so you must keep it a secret."

Miss Jones was stunned, not understanding what North was saying. She asked, "North, what are you talking about?"

"That's because I got pregnant and had a miscarriage when I was 18, I couldn't conceive again."

Liliana refused to give in. When she saw North, she couldn't help but step forward and wanted to make a sarcastic comment, but just as she got behind North, she heard the news explode.

Lillana was stunned. She froze on the spot. What? What did she hear just now?

North got pregnant and had a miscarriage at age 18?

Liliana suddenly forgot to breathe. Afraid of being discovered, she turned around and ran away.

At this moment, Miss Jones happened to see Liliana running away, Miss Jones' expression changed, "Liliana! Sorry, North, Liliana heard what you just said! She will definitely run out and say bad things about you. No, I will let someone go and capture her. We must gag her!"

Miss Jones, let her go!" North grabbed Miss Jones and said.

Miss Jones asked confusedly: "North, are you stupid? Liliana knows about your pregnancy and miscarriage. You're a big star. If she tells the truth, it will cause a riot, and the consequences will be very serious!"

North nodded, "Miss Jones, I'm not stupid. I know it all."

"North, you... said that to Liliana on purpose, didn't you?" Miss Jones felt something suspicious..

North slightly raised her red lips and said: "Yes."

Miss Jones took a breath and looked at North in surprise, "North, you've gone too far this time!"

Liliana ran out, clutching her chest and panting.

Her heart was beating very strongly now because she knew North's terrible secret.

North actually got pregnant and had a miscarriage at the age of 18. If any female celebrity gets involved in this kind of news, her star status will be ruined.

What's more, this person is North, the red rose of the entertainment industry!

Liliana quickly took out her cell phone and said: "Hey, is this Entertainment Weekly? I have breaking news for you about North!"

Chapter 965

Chapter 965 North was injured by a small stone

North and Samuel were filming their second rivalry scene when a rather noisy commotion broke out outside the crew.

Director Ronald told them to stop urgently and scolded: "What's going on? Why is it so noisy outside? Where are the security guards? What happened?"

At this time, the aistant director opened the door and ran in saying: "Oh no, no, no, Director Ronald, something terrible happened!"

As the aistant director spoke, he secretly glanced at North.

"Tell me what's wrong!"

The aistant director stood on tiptoe, whispered something into Director Ronald's ear: "Director Ronald, I just received news that someone paed the news... North got pregnant and had a miscarriage at the age of 18!"

"Whate

Director Ronald asked in disbelief.

"Director Ronald, this news is absolutely true. Now it has been posted on Facebook, and in just a few minutes it has become a top hot topic. All media reporters rushed in, surrounding our entire film crew. There are also crazy fans who came here screaming to see North. Right now, the security team is almost overwhelmed. They rush in like crazy!"

This news was like a thunderclap. Director Ronald was stunned for a moment before realizing what he was doing. After all, he was used to seeing big scenes. Director Ronald immediately looked at North and said: "Today's filming is canceled. North, something happened outside. Let Miss Jones. take you away quickly. You need to stay away from the spotlight."

North calmly put down the script in her hand: "Okay, director Ronald, I'll go first."

Miss Jones was mentally prepared, but she didn't expect this to happen so quickly. North's popularity was too great. Miss Jones said, "North, the car is already waiting outside. Let's go." North nodded and left with Miss Jones.

But at this time, reporters and crazy fans outside had overcome all obstacles and rushed in. "Click, click, click", the bright lights focused on North and they took pictures continuously.

Countless microphones were transmitted one after another, all that was seen was a bunch of black heads, and the temporary filming location here was likely to be crushed and collapse at any time. "North, are the rumors true? Did you really have a miscarriage when you were 18 years old?" "North, who is that man? You're still single, are you pregnant out of wedlock?"

North felt the light was too bright so she raised her hand to block it.

Miss Jones quickly protected North from behind and blocked the camera, "Sorry everyone. We will temporarily not respond to this rumor. This is a filming location, so please pay attention to safety and quickly leave."

"North, you have parents, too. Oh, I forgot. You are an orphan. Your parents passed away a long time ago. You are truly a person born without education. If my daughter were as vile as you, I would probably beat her to death!"

A crazy fan picked up a rock and hit North on the forehead.

A “bam” sound rang out. North was hit, blood on her forehead immediately flowed down, blurring her vision

“Ah!” Miss Jones shouted, angrily saying: “Where is security? Security, come here quickly!”

The scene was chaotic, but hotel security was quickly mobilized, blending into the crowd and barely maintaining order. Miss Jones hugged the injured North and quickly left.

Miss Jones is a gold medal agent who has handled many emergencies. Even though the situation had just gotten out of control, she still successfully brought North back to the villa.

“North, stay here for a few days. It’s very safe here and the paparazzi won’t find you out.” Miss Jones said and used a warm towel to wipe the blood from North’s face.

North’s forehead was injured, a piece of flesh was crushed, and there was blood inside. It was very horrible to see.

Miss Jones took out the medical kit to help North treat the wound on her forehead. North took out her cell phone and opened Facebook. Recently, Facebook was paralyzed because of the news that she was pregnant and had a miscarriage at the age of 18. Programmers had to work overtime to fix it, but Facebook was still stuck. That’s enough to show the huge amount of traffic she generates.

Currently, the three hottest searches on Facebook are all about her: North’s pregnancy and miscarriage, North being 18 years old, and who North’s man is.

There were a lot of insults online. People who once praised her have now turned into anti fans, cursing North mercilessly. Some even classified North as a bad artist and asked to ban her.

Miss Jones snatched the cell phone from North’s hand and said: “North, stop reading. On the internet today, people are cursing you with all kinds of bad words. In addition to some unreasonable fans, of course there are also many opponents who take advantage of this opportunity to trample on you. Anyway, if you are suppressed, the endorsement contract you have will be enough for them to share. The fan who threw stones at you on the set today was sent by your opponent.”

That is the entertainment industry. There is no love but there is blood everywhere.

North showed no expression, raised her hand and tucked a strand of hair on her cheek behind her ear, saying, "Miss Jones, it's okay. Now this matter has been exposed. I'm mentally prepared."

Miss Jones stopped: "North, what should we do next?"

Miss Jones wasn't sure what she wanted to do.

North slowly raised her red lips and said: "Miss Jones, we don't need to worry. The person who should worry is someone else."

Someone else?

Who?

At this moment, the melodious cell phone ringing rang, and it was North's phone. Old Master Dominos was calling.

"North, it's Old Master Dominos."

This call was expected. North reached out and hung up the phone.

She didn't answer.

Soon, the phone rang again, and this time it was Zhuri calling.

North hung it up.

She became pregnant and had a miscarriage at age 18. Even if she didn't say whose child it was, the Dominos family could still guess.

There was a bit of coldness in North's eyes. She didn't pick up the phone but just watched them panic as if they were on a knife edge.

This is all what the Dominos family owes her. She wants to get them back little by little.

Then. "ding", the villa doorbell rang.

Miss Jones was surprised: "Who is it? This place is very mysterious. It will definitely not be discovered."

North stood up and said: "I'll go open the door. Sure enough... Someone is picking me up."

Who?

Miss Jones was even more confused.

North walked over and opened the villa door...

Chapter 966

Chapter 966 Is the child Raven's?

Outside the villa gate there were several strong bodyguards dressed in black, "Hello, Miss Paulo. The old master and madam want you to come to our villa immediately. Please come with us."

"North, don't go." Miss Jones didn't expect Old Master Dominos and Zhuri to come to the door so quickly. She was afraid they would hurt North so she quickly stopped them.

North looked at Miss Jones comfortingly, "Miss Jones, don't worry. I'll be back soon."

She followed the bodyguards dressed in black.

Miss Jones was restless, afraid something would happen. The only person she can think of right now is... Raven!

Raven!

Miss Jones immediately picked up the phone to contact Raven, but soon put it down. Does she still need to contact Raven at this time?

He must have known this news a long time ago, right?

Unexpectedly... North became pregnant and had a miscarriage at the age of 18. He had previously been a father. Anyway, that's what he heard from others. Miss Jones felt that this time North had done something cruel.

In the VIP meeting room of Dominos Group.

The sales director was preparing this quarterly sales report, and the company directors wearing blue badges around their necks were all listening attentively. Of course, from time to time they also secretly glanced at Raven sitting in the main chair, and discovered that their chairman wasn't in a very good mood today because during meetings, he often looked at his cell phone, as if there was something attractive on the phone that made his soul lose its way.

Today, Raven is wearing a well-fitting black suit, sitting in the main chair, his back straight and lazily leaning against the back of the chair, his eyelids drooping, fiddling with his cell phone in his hand.

He opened Messenger, closed it, then opened it again...

His inbox was empty and North hadn't contacted him.

Raven raised his thin lips mockingly. She really didn't want to contact him.

Last night, he slammed the door and left, so she stopped contacting him and let him go.

She clearly knew how good his job was on the outside, and that there were many temptresses jumping into his arms, but she didn't pay any attention.

Raven hated her, and hated himself even more, because he spoiled her.

Now he doesn't care at all about what was said in the meeting. All he can think about is going back to find her. Last night, he was afraid of hurting her in the bathroom, so he hesitated for a while, and finally entered her despite her protests. How could he know that she had slapped him in the face when he was still not satisfied?

Fortunately, she still considered herself the most considerate and thoughtful mistress. He thought that her skills as a professional lover were really poor.

Raven thought about her worries again when looking for contraceptive pills. He couldn't help but feel upset, turned off the phone, and his eyebrows furrowed tightly.

At this moment, a "bang" sounded, the hall door was suddenly pushed open, and the private secretary quickly appeared.

The sales manager's report was interrupted, and everyone's eyes looked at the personal secretary.

The hall was so quiet everyone could hear a pin drop.

The atmosphere was strange.

Raven who was sitting on the chair raised his head and looked coldly and dissatisfiedly at his personal secretary. This personal secretary has followed him for several years. This was the first time he was so reckless and didn't understand the rules.

The private secretary hurriedly came over and reported in a low voice: "President, it's not okay. Something happened... at Miss Paulo's place."

Raven pursed his thin lips: "What could happen to her?"

The private secretary lowered his voice and said: "President, I just found out... Miss Paulo was pregnant and had a miscarriage at the age of 18..."

The first time the private secretary heard the news, he felt scared. Now, as soon as he finished speaking, he felt the person sitting in the chair suddenly stiffen.

Raven raised his head, looked at his personal secretary, and asked. "What did you just say?"

The private secretary's scalp was numb. North followed Raven when she was 18 years old, then went abroad for a while, so they didn't need to guess but knew who this child belonged to.

The private secretary bravely said: "President, Miss Paulo..."

Before he finished speaking, Raven suddenly stood up, his handsome face was dark, and a cold light flashed in his cold black eyes, "Where is she?"

"She was just brought to the Dominos' villa by the old master."

Upon hearing that, Raven quickly disappeared from everyone's sight.

At the villa of the Dominos family.

Liliana.

Liliana was captured and interrogated by them. At this moment, she was shaking with fear and huddled in the corner.

"It's her! She said it herself. She said when she was 18 years old she had a miscarriage. Master, ma'am, believe me. I'm not lying. Everything I revealed is the truth!" Liliana saw North and immediately knelt down in front of Mr. Dominos and asked for forgiveness. Search the Find_novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Mr. Dominor is indeed a wise person. He raised his cloudy eyes to look at North, saying: "Did you Intentionally tell her? Did you want to borrow her hand?"

North glanced at Liliana kneeling on the ground. Unfortunately, at this moment, Liliana didn't know where she went wrong.

North nodded: "That's right. If this is the chess piece you sent me, if I don't use it, won't I be wasting your good intentions?"

Mr. Dominos was so angry that he raised his foot and kicked Lillana, shouting, "You're as stupid as a pig, and you're still complacent about being taken advantage of"

Liliana screamed and fell to the ground, and there was blood on the corner of her mouth,

Zhuri was sitting in a wheelchair. She fiercely grasped the handle of the wheelchair, gritted her teeth and asked: "North, let me ask you, whose child did you miscarry when you were 18?"

North looked at Zhuri, her delicate eyebrows confused and lazy. She asked, "Mrs. Dominos, whose do you think it belongs to?"

Zhuri knows her son slept with North when she was 18 years old, but both she and Mr. Dominos didn't expect her to be pregnant and have a miscarriage.

When they knew that, there was a storm outside the city, and the huge amount of traffic brought by North made it impossible for them to hide that.

None of them expected that North would play such a bad trick and kill everyone suddenly.

Zhuri smiled coldly and said: "North, are you talking that it was Raven's child? Haha, you're kidding me. The child is dead. What evidence do you have to prove the child is Raven's? You are a temptress and love to seduce men. Who knows who you slept with and got pregnant and then blamed Raven?"

North coldly looked at Zhuri. Although Zhuri was also a victim in this marriage, that was still not enough to be a reason to forgive.

"Whether this child is Raven's or not, it doesn't matter what you say. Raven's decision is the important one!" North said.

"You!"

At this moment, a “bang” sounded, and the door of the Dominos” villa was kicked open from the outside. Raven is back!

Chapter 967

Chapter 967 Why was the child gone?

Raven is back.

North raised her head. A stream of cold air suddenly rushed in from outside. Raven’s tall body entered her sight. He went in too hastily, without a coat, and a layer of fog covered his stiff shoulders. He was dressed in black, his whole body was immersed in darkness, and his face couldn’t be seen clearly.

Zhuri knew she couldn’t hide this news from her son, and North was so cruel that she didn’t hesitate to ruin her reputation by taking advantage of her child.

Zhuri immediately pushed the wheelchair out to greet him: “Raven, why are you back? The company is so busy. Don’t let other small matters distract you.”

Raven walked in, without looking at Zhuri, holding the car keys in his hand, his cold eyes looking straight at North’s face.

“Raven, you must have heard the rumors outside. North’s pregnancy and miscarriage at the age of 18 have nothing to do with you. Don’t listen to her nonsense. Who knows who she hooked up with abroad and had to suffer the consequences?” Zhuri said sarcastically.

Raven’s handsome face was covered by fog. He didn’t seem to see Zhuri but walked straight in front of North, curled his thin lips, and asked in his deep voice: “Is what they say outside true?”

North straightened her back. Meeting Raven’s eyes, she smiled and said: “Mr. Dominos, who are you asking? It’s so noisy outside...”

“I’m asking you if you got pregnant and had a miscarriage when you were eighteen? Raven interrupted her with a sinister voice.

North was silent for a few seconds, then nodded: “Yes, I did.”

Raven quickly narrowed his beautiful eyes. When he raised his eyes again, his narrow eyes showed a layer of bright red, his throat rolled up, and after a long time he let out a deep laugh.

“Why didn’t you tell me? Why didn’t you tell me?” Raven stretched out his large hands, pressing hard on her shiny shoulders, and blue veins appeared on his forehead. He tried his best to suppress his emotions, and he was about to lose control.

All the servants in the palace knew how terrifying their young master was at this moment and didn’t dare to say a word.

North wasn’t afraid at all. Her seductive eyes glanced at the faces of Old Master Dominos, Zhuri and Liliana one after another, then she looked at Raven’s handsome face, smiled and said: “Mr. Dominos, why are you so aroused? Did I say the baby was yours? Maybe the baby belongs to another man.”

Old Master Dominos and Zhuri were about to agree when Raven roared: “Don’t think of me as a fucking puppet! That child is mine. It’s my seed!”

Old Master Dominos and Zhuri, “...” These words sounded like scolding them!

Liliana lay on the carpet in panic, stiff. She shook her head in disbelief. What? The baby that North miscarried was... Raven’s?

Only then did Liliana realize what a stupid thing she had done!

Raven squeezed North’s shoulders and shook her twice. He gritted his teeth and moved his cheeks aggressively: “North, why didn’t you tell me sooner? Why didn’t you tell me over the phone when you were pregnant?”

“Oh, North, I really underestimated you. You’ve had many chances to tell me these past few-years-but you never mentioned a word. Now I know you were pregnant through other people. Moreover, the whole world knows, only I am the last one to know. I must be very stupid and easy to make fun of in your eyes, right?”

His voice was very loud. He almost roared, the roar like a wild beast echoed throughout the mansion, making everyone who heard it tremble.

Recently, North has become a lot thinner. She was like a kite whose string broke after being shaken twice by him. Actually, she also felt dizzy, but she kept her back straight, looking straight at Raven. She said, “Mr. Dominos, don’t be angry. Even if I called you at that time, what do you want to do with me and the child? Do you want to have a child?”

What?

Raven immediately stiffened.

A faint smile appeared at the corner of her mouth, "Mr. Dominos, if you don't have the memory of a goldfish, you probably still remember that you told me so many times that you didn't want to have children. If I give birth to a child, aren't you afraid that your grandpa and your mother will be angry to death?"

Master Dominos and Zhuri, who were suddenly mentioned, were speechless, "...". They were already angry to death!

Raven's face turned pale, and his thin lips pursed into a cold, white arc. A few minutes later, he let out a hoarse voice: "What I do with you and the baby is my business!"

After speaking, he grabbed her cold and soft little hand and pulled her away.

"Raven..." Zhuri stopped him.

Raven stopped for a moment, using his cold bloodshot eyes to glance at Zhuri and Old Master Dominos, "North is my woman. I don't like other people touching my woman, including you. This time you brought her here. Next time, it's best not to do this kind of thing again. Otherwise, things will end badly!"

Having said that, Raven and North quickly disappeared from sight.

Zhuri was so angry that her whole body trembled. Did Raven just... warn her?

Zhuri felt that the relationship between her and Raven was getting worse and worse. In his eyes, North seemed to have surpaed her.

Old Master Dominos had an unpleasant look on his face, too. Looking at North's beautiful figure, his cloudy eyes gradually filled with fierce murderous intent.

Raven drove North back to the mansion. The two of them didn't talk the whole way, and the atmosphere was dead silent.

The loss of the child brought the relationship between them to a freezing point.

North took a hot bath and then went to bed. She knew Raven was on the balcony. Since returning, he had been smoking there, one cigarette after another, wanting to use the smell of nicotine to numb his nerves.

Not knowing how long later, there was a noise from the balcony, then one side of her bed sank. He sat down, surrounded by the smell of cigarette smoke.

“You were conceived on your birthday?” he asked.

North cowered under the blanket, not opening her eyes. She replied: “Yes, at that time I didn’t understand anything. I didn’t know I was pregnant. By the time I found out, I had already had a Search the findηOvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

miscarriage.”

“Why can’t you have children?” Raven asked while smoking. In the hazy blue smoke, people could see him frowning tightly, “You’d better tell the truth. I’ll send someone to check. If I find out you’re lying, you will die.”

“Oh, I went abroad and had no place to live so I rented a small room. The landlord thought I was beautiful, so one night, he snuck into my room and tried to rape me. I resisted vehemently and got hit in the stomach. When I got to the bed, blood started to flow...”

Chapter 968 Raven, I don’t love you anymore.

Many years had paed, and North could tell the story in an extremely calm voice: “It was night time. I lay alone in bed, bleeding so much, and the bed sheet suddenly stained red. The homeowner was so scared that he ran away, I couldn’t move. My stomach hurt like it was not mine anymore. Wet blood flowed onto the bed sheets...”

North’s voice suddenly stopped.

Raven blew out a puff of smoke, looking down at her. Her face was pale and almost transparent, he could see the thin blue blood vessels inside. She closed her eyes, her thick eyelashes trembling.

Raven couldn’t breathe. It was like a huge hand was holding his heart tightly. He had never felt pain like this. It was really painful.

"If you don't want to say it, don't." His voice was hoarse.

North opened her eyes. There was nothing in her eyes. No pain, no tears, and very empty. She continued, "Late at night, the tenant next door returned. She was an enthusiastic aunt. Seeing blood flowing out the door, she quickly called the police so I was taken to the hospital; and the doctor said T had had a miscarriage."

North placed her cold hands on her flat stomach, "At that time I didn't know what pregnancy was. I also didn't know the baby was in my belly. By the time I knew it, it was gone."

Raven remembered that not long ago she complained of a stomach ache and asked him to rub her belly. At that time, he didn't understand that she had his child in her womb for a long time. He also didn't know that she and the baby had to endure such pain.

On her 18th birthday, he seemed possessed. She didn't know she would get pregnant, but he, an adult man, knew this, but he didn't use any contraception. He didn't expect that she was pregnant. As soon as she grew up, she had his seed in her belly.

For the past two days, he had guessed something, but didn't dare to think about it. He was uneasy. He constantly denied himself. This shouldn't be like this.

He never thought about becoming a father.

However, his first child arrived.

His little life was once formed in her belly. It was the legacy of his flesh and blood.

"Is it because of that miscarriage that you can't get pregnant again?" He asked.

North nodded, "Yeah. I was too young at that time, the miscarriage and heavy bleeding, combined with the curettage surgery left me seriously injured. The doctor said I would never be able to get pregnant again.

She couldn't get pregnant because of him.

Raven looked at her small face. This is the girl he held in his arms, loved and cared for for more than ten years. He never wanted her to suffer any wind or rain, but nonetheless he brought her a wound.

His fingertips ached, it turned out it was because he hadn't smoked for a while and the red flame burned his fingertips.

Raven threw half a cigarette into the ashtray, then reached out and touched her small face.

North didn't avoid it. She raised her small, wet face to look at him.

Time seemed to have gone back many years ago, when she was still a beautiful, innocent girl next to him.

Chapter 568 Raven, I don't love you anymore.

Raven caressed her small face, complimenting her skin as smooth as egg whites. He pursed his thin lips and said in his deep voice: "It's okay, North. We don't need children. From now on, it's just the two of us."

He said that from now on there will be the two of them.

North lowered her eyes, burying her small face deeply into his palm. She was like a small cat, constantly rubbing her head in her master's palm, acting both seductive and adorable. "But I want a child." She said softly.

Raven suddenly stiffened.

"You don't want to have children, but I think it is a woman's right and her choice."

"Olive has three children. Her pregnancy was painful but she was brave and strong because Elvis never let her go and gave her all his love."

"There are so many people around Olive. She has a mother who loves her, a strong father, friends, children and a family of her own. I think about when I got pregnant at 18, I had nothing. God, no one taught me girls should protect themselves. All I saw was sympathy, pity, ridicule and many unfriendly looks. I was not grown up yet but I had to become a mother. In just one night, my future and past changed. Half of my life was a big nightmare."

"I really like children. Olive's three genius children are so adorable. I think if I give birth to a baby, he'll be adorable too. If he's a boy, he'll be my little guy. If it's a girl, she will be my little cute doll. I will be the best mother in the world. In the future, my child will be the best mother like me and will live a happy life."

"But all of this is gone. I can't have children anymore. No one knows how much I regret it."

Raven felt his palms heat up. She was crying, her tears falling into his palm.

Before, Raven never thought that one day the girl he raised would bury her face in his palm, sobbing like a scarred animal, tears streaming down her face.

Raven finally learns that North hasn't changed all these years. She is still the pure and beautiful daughter of the noble Paulo family, with love in her heart, always living in warm sunlight.

However, he reached out and pulled her into hell.

He always thought that if the Paulo family owed him money, she would be the one to pay the debt.

But now, his palm was hot, the pain was so much that he could hardly bear it. It was so painful that he wanted to let go.

"Brother -" At this moment, North in his palm raised her eyes, looked at him with teary eyes, calling him "brother."

Raven was so stunned that he forgot to react. At this time, North raised the corner of her mouth and said with tears: "Bro, I love you. Do you know?"

She said, bro, I love you, do you know...

Raven forgot to breathe and looked at her bewildered.

"Bro, I love you. I love you so much. I have loved you for ten years. If you ask me what my biggest dream is in this life, I will say to marry you, to be Mrs. Dominos, and bear you a child."

"But you said status and children were beyond your imagination, so you see, you destroyed my dream with your own hands."

"For ten years, you have loved me, you have protected me from dangers, but you have also given me a lot of suffering."

Chapter 969

Chapter 969 North, let's get married!

Raven, I don't love you anymore.

These words rang in Raven's ears, his pupils suddenly shrank, and he was stunned.

Actually she loves him. He knows that.

However, he didn't expect that at this moment she would personally tell him that she no longer loved him.

Many years ago, when he saw her in a red dress bathing in warm water in front of the Paulo family's house, that scene became a ray of sunshine that he admired and wanted to keep in his heart.

She used to love him.

Now she has got all her love back.

Raven's heart felt like it was torn in half, immense pain accompanied by panic and confusion, and he finally understood that he had lost her in that revenge.

His bright red eyes gradually became wet, and he suddenly felt like an abandoned child.

He comes from the dirty and despicable Dominos family and has never received love in his entire life. When he got her, he didn't know whether he adopted her or she adopted him, a wanderer.

For more than ten years, she lived next to him, and he also had a family because of her.

Now, she declared that she no longer loved him, the things he tried to hold in his hands drifted away like fine sand.

He suddenly panicked, not knowing how he would live without her in the future.

Raven stretched out his large hand, gently stroking her hair. He squinted his beautiful eyes, rolled his throat a few times, and said after a long time: "North, it doesn't make any difference whether love me or not. Because from now on, I will still be by your side. No one else can separate us."

As he spoke, his thin lips touched her face, kissing her tears little by little. “North, let’s get married.”

When North opened her eyes, Raven was gone. Last night, he smoked a lot of cigarettes and hugged her in bed. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Last night, he hugged her so tightly that she couldn’t breathe. His strength seemed to press her into his bones and blood.

At this time, there was a knock on the door: “North! North!”

Miss Jones is here,

Miss Jones quickly walked over, knocked on the door and went straight in: “North, why are you still sleeping? Get up quickly, it’s about to be chaotic outside.”

North was pulled up by Miss Jones, a lilt lazy, her eyes were dreamy: “Miss Jones, I rarely get time off. Please let me sleep for a while “North, why are you still sleeping at this hour? Dominos Group released a statement on Facebook early this morning.” Miss Jones gave the phone to North.

North lowered her eyes and glanced. The official statement of Dominos Group has become a hot topic. The statement was very brief, with the following content: The child that North miscarried belonged to Raven of the Dominos corporation. Today, North stopped all work and settled down to get married. On the 15th of this month, Raven and North will get married.

Currently, the top three searches have been reshuffled, turning into Dominos and Paulo’s wedding, North the future wife, North and Raven. These news bombardments once again paralyzed the Facebook system, and the number of posted comments has reached more than one billion...

“North, Mr. Dominos was recently interviewed by the media. Let’s see.” Miss Jones said and clicked a short video.

The announcement of Dominos Group can be said to be a rock that stirs up thousands of waves, pushing public opinion to the forefront. With Raven’s usual strong and overwhelming manner, he should have wiped out the top searches and suppressed the news, but this time he did nothing. He just made a statement. At this moment, all the media’s attention was focused on him, and the entire Dominos family had been surrounded by people since early morning.

In the video, there are many reporters carrying cameras. However, as the most noble person in Los Angeles, Dominos’ security came first, and the security staff pulled the cord and controlled these reporters. At that time, an extended business luxury car rushed over and broke into everyone's line of sight.

The personal secretary respectfully opened the back door and Raven got out of the car.

Today, Raven is wearing a tight-fitting black suit. On his handsome face is a pair of elegant gold-rimmed glasses. His indifferent aura reveals a feeling of restraint and coldness that makes people want to scream.

The security guard walked over, the personal secretary opened the way, and Raven walked steadily towards the company lobby.

Wherever he went, the crowded reporters gave way to him, as if threatened by his arrogant and strong aura.

Right after that, a bold reporter couldn't help but ask: "Mr. Dominos, what's going on between you and North?"

Other reporters immediately took out their microphones and rushed in to ask questions.

"As we all know, North is your younger sister, Mr. Dominos, Why would you have a child with your own sister?"

"Mr. Dominos, do you really want to marry North? Is the marriage news true?"

"Mr. Dominos, what's going on between you and North?"

Raven's shiny black leather shoes suddenly stopped. He turned around, his cold dark eyes looking towards the lens.

The originally noisy scene suddenly became quiet. Raven gently walked around the place, then gently moved his thin lips, saying: "North is not my biological sister. If I said... from the beginning. I raised her as my bride, do you believe it?"

The reporters,

"I'm afraid you can't understand some of the black and white words on the paper. I don't know if it's because you failed the compulsory education or because you have eye problems. So I'll say it again. North's child is mine. So does North. We will be together soon. After the marriage is completed, she will become Mrs. Dominos,"

Having finished speaking, Raven turned and walked away.

This video went viral. North opened hot comments. They were like these,

"Oh my god, Mr. Dominos is so handsome, isn't he?"

“Rich people really know how to play hard. Let’s go. The beauty Paulo has become Mrs. Dominos”

17-11-

“I want to write a book for North. The title is ‘Entertainment Superstar: I Became the Bride of the Boss’. Look at how North went around the entertainment industry and successfully entered such a rich family. This book is sure to be a huge success.”

“Hmm...I’ve imagined many details in stories about authoritarian presidents...”

North didn’t continue to pull down. She put down the phone.

“North, what happened between you and Mr. Dominos? Does Mr. Dominos really want to... marry you?” Miss Jones asked uncertainly.

North looked indifferent, “Oh, it seems like he told me last night that we should get married, but I didn’t hear clearly.”

Miss Jones didn’t know what to say: “North, I really want to congratulate you, but I always feel like you’re so strange. Will you marry Mr. Dominos?”

North looked at Miss Jones and shook her head, “No.”

She asked him if he wanted to marry her, but she didn’t say she wanted to marry him.

Chapter 970 Raven got down on one knee

Okay, Miss Jones prepared to watch and to see how North and Raven would fight with each other. Either way, the Paulo family and the Dominos family would fight to the death.

“North, before the wedding, you should rest well. Mr. Dominos has suspended all your work. You can film other people’s scenes in ‘Floating Life’ first and wait until after the wedding. The Dominos Group’s statement was released this morning, all the brands that intended to terminate their contracts with us last night have stopped, there are even some brands that have increased your value and asked you to be their endorser. Leave all of this to me. I will arrange it properly. You don’t need to worry.”

North nodded, “Miss Jones, thank you for your hard work.”

Miss Jones stood up to leave, but before leaving, she suddenly asked: “North, do you really not love Mr. Dominos?”

North curled her red lips and said: “From the moment I tried to take advantage of my son, I no longer loved him.”

Miss Jones nodded: “North, I hope you really don’t love him anymore. Otherwise, if you hurt him, you will also hurt yourself, right?”

North stayed in the villa to rest for a day, bask in the sun and cut flowers. Her life was peaceful and comfortable.

She knew there was a huge commotion outside. Public opinion, the Dominos family... were probably all in an uproar, but this had nothing to do with her.

Sometimes she felt like Raven had endured all the storms for her, but he was her storm.

At 6 p.m. North was sitting on the sofa in the living room watching a TV series, holding potato chips in her hand, putting each piece into her mouth, and making a crunchy chewing sound.

Not long after, there were two bright car lights on the lawn. The maid quickly opened the villa door, and a tall man with a cold temperament walked in. Raven came back.

“Sir, dinner is ready. Do you want us to serve it?” The maid asked respectfully.

Raven changed his shoes at the entrance and went into the living room. He immediately saw North eating potato chips and watching a TV series, her eyes fell on the TV, not looking at him.

Raven took off his coat and handed it to the maid: “Has Miss Paulo eaten yet?”

“Sir, Miss Paulo hasn’t eaten very well today. She hasn’t had dinner yet. No matter how much I coax her, she shakes her head and only eats some French fries.” The maid said embarrassingly. Search the (f)indNOVEL.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He sat next to North, leaned over and kissed her cheek, “Why do you eat potato chips? These are unhealthy snacks.”

North watched TV without looking at him, “I like to eat potato chips. Miss Jones often controls me and doesn’t let me touch these things because she’s afraid I’ll gain weight. This is a rare vacation so I just want to eat a little.”

North has a naturally beautiful body, but she also keeps her weight in check. After all, weight control is also one of the ways of self-cultivation for women. Only by being natural and having control can a woman maintain her most delicate state.

Chapter 970 Raven got down on one knee

Raven didn’t say anything else, just opened his mouth, “Ah.”

It means wanting her to give him a piece.

North picked up a piece of potato chip and put it in his mouth.

Raven felt that the fries weren’t good. He chewed gracefully and casually, then lazily leaned back straight on the sofa, stretched out his right arm and placed it on the back of the sofa behind North. He raised his eyes to look at the TV series that was playing right now. For some reason, he felt that the male lead of this idol drama looked very familiar. Oh, he remembers, it’s the famous actor Samuel

What a coincidence.

Raven picked up the TV remote and changed the channel, and the idol movie channel switched to financial news.

North, seeing something strange and incomprehensible, turned around to look at him: “Why did you change my channel?”

Raven replied, “Don’t you think the No. 2 tycoon on the financial news is much more handsome than the authoritarian president in idol dramas?”

Raven wanted to say: “Don’t you think I’m much more handsome than Samuel?”

North was speechless. She didn’t want to pay attention to the man who ate the potato chips and stole her TV channel when he came back.

“Then you can watch the news alone. I’ll go upstairs.” North stood up.

But Raven hugged her shiny shoulders, pushing her back. The next second, North felt the ring finger of her right hand suddenly cold, something entering.

She looked down and saw it was a diamond ring.

Raven put a diamond ring on her.

North’s eyelids trembled and she said dissatisfiedly: “Mr. Dominos, what do you mean? Your proposal is so insincere. You don’t even get down on one knee!”

Raven looked at her, then stood up, slowly knelt down on one knee in front of her and said: “North, marry me.”

He was quite perfunctory, but if she wanted it, he would do it. Either way, the result is the same. She will be his wife.

North heard his dry proposal and replied dryly: “Oh, I don’t agree.”

The servant looked at this scene and couldn’t help but feel... funny. She had seen a proposal scene. before, but this was the first time she had seen such an arbitrary proposal scene.

Raven’s handsome face suddenly turned cold. He immediately stood up: “North, you don’t agree but you tricked me into getting down on one knee for you. Are you kidding me?”

The maid on the side opened her eyes wide in surprise. This was the first time she saw a man angry because the woman didn’t agree to his proposal.

North looked at Raven in front of her, faintly raising her red lips, “Mr. Dominos, if you don’t get down on one knee, how will I know if I want to agree with you or not?”

Does she mean when he kneels down, she won’t agree?

Raven was really angry, so angry that he couldn’t speak.

At this moment, North reached out to take off the diamond ring on her finger.

But after many tries, she still couldn’t remove the diamond ring stuck to her finger. Raven glanced at her contemptuously, smiled coldly and said: “Stop making trouble. If you put this ring on, you will never be able to take it off.”

What?

North didn't believe it. She squeezed hard a few times, her soft white finger quickly turned red, but the diamond ring remained motionless on her finger, as if it had merged into her bones and blood.

"Are you hungry? Come eat, with me." At this time, Raven held her hand and walked into the restaurant.

North shook her head, "I'm full. Eat alone."

Can she feel full after just eating a few chips?

Raven looked at her. During this time, she lost weight at a rate visible to the naked eye. Her whole body was lazy and lifeless. The feeling of insecurity appeared in him again. He felt... he was slowly losing her.

Raven suddenly softened. He reached out and hugged her, his thin lips slid across her long hair, kissing her hard, "Don't be like that, North. I'm actually very heartbroken..."

Chapter 971

Chapter 971 R loves N

Raven didn't know what he was talking about. There was a suppressed emotion in his heart. He could only hug her, rub her hair, and tell her in a low voice that he was really heartbroken...

The servant looked at this scene and was once again frightened. This man, who was fierce like a tiger and didn't understand love, suddenly became as soft as a child.

He was really sad when he was suddenly informed that she was pregnant and that he had become a father.

He needed comfort.

He needed a hug.

North's small hands hung limply at her sides, without any reaction. She couldn't even heal herself, so how could she still have the power to heal others?

Raven hugged her tightly, his handsome face buried in her hair, rubbing all over her face, like.... puppy. After rubbing for a while, he slowly let her go, "Is the food not to your taste? I'll cook noodles, for you, okay?"

"No." North turned around and wanted to leave.

But Raven grabbed her and led her straight into the kitchen, blocking her between the sink and his arms, demanding she cook with him.

Raven is the eldest son and grandson of the Dominos family. He has never touched the kitchen and rarely goes into places like the kitchen.

But before that, when North was young, he used to cook noodles for her, and his noodle cooking skills were quite good.

The sleeves of his white shirt were rolled up twice, revealing strong forearms and a precious steel watch on his wrist. He skillfully started cooking the noodles. With one hand he used chopsticks to stir the noodles, his other large hand was on... North's slim waist and then slowly moved down to her. flat stomach.

North noticed this action. Before, he liked to touch her waist, but now he likes to touch her belly even North slightly resisted this action, "Mr. Dominos, wake up. I don't have a child in my belly right now."

Raven's big hand stopped for a moment, then quickly returned to normal. He said, "I'll treat you like my child, okay?"

“...I asked you to touch my belly before but you refused, but now I don’t need it anymore. Late love is always worthless.”

Raven knew she was talking about the past. That night, he wanted her, but she squirmed under him and refused, even asking him to touch her belly. He didn’t have any patience, and said there were many women out there, some of whom wanted to have children for him.

He still remembered her looking at him with tears streaming down her face, choking, her red lips trembling. She weakly begged him, “Bro, don’t have children with another woman.’

Raven narrowed his beautiful eyes, placed his thin lips on her face, his voice was low, a bit hoarse: “North, I’m so sorry. I’m so sorry...”

She snorted coldly, “Do you think that after you say sorry, I will tell you that it’s okay? Stop dreaming.”

Raven kissed her cheek a few times and changed the subject: “North, please rest well these days. The wedding will be organized by me. You don’t need to worry. Regarding the design and decoration of our wedding room, I need to discuss them with you.”

Raven said as he took out a design drawing from his pants pocket and pointed to it: “This is the living room. Outside the living room is a large swimming pool. This is our room. Next to it... I want to have a baby room...”

North interrupted him: “Mr. Dominos, do you want me to prepare myself first? Will you have a baby with another woman in the future?”

“That’s not what I meant...”

“So what do you mean by showing me, an infertile woman, the children’s room? Can you explain to me, Mr. Dominos?”

Looking at her cold, lazy expression, Raven frowned slightly. The atmosphere between them- suddenly darkened.

At this moment, a melodious cell phone ringtone sounded. It was Raven’s phone ringing.

He had no intention of answering and didn’t even look at it.

“Mr. Dominos, why didn’t you answer the phone? You suddenly want to marry me, so your grandpa, your mother and your father must be in a hurry to call you, right?”

Raven didn’t deny that the call was indeed from the Dominos family, but he didn’t answer any of the calls, either.

“North, I know you hate the Dominos family. Don’t you want revenge on the Dominos family? Now is the best chance. Marry me and be Mrs. Dominos.”

North admitted that what he said was indeed very attractive. Zhuri once said that she was at most just a mistress kept by Raven on the outside, but he wanted to marry her.

The daughter of the Paulo family became the daughter-in-law of the Dominos family. Old Master Dominos, Tobias and Zhuri would be all very angry.

However, North slowly shook her head, looking up at Raven with her dark eyes, “Do you think my revenge is over? No, this is just the beginning.”

“Raven, I won’t marry you. Don’t dream. I won’t marry you. I want revenge, but not in this way. I won’t harm my own happiness because you don’t deserve it.”

“I hope one day the truth will be exposed and I can escape this dirty mire. I want to say goodbye to all the people and things of the past, face the sun and live a good life in the future.”

Raven knew her heart had gone very far. She wished she could turn him into a person from the or a thing from the past. He is no longer in her future.

past

Late at night, North was already sleeping. Raven lay next to her, still not sleepy. He looked at the soft, seductive face in his arms, then held her small hand.

She wore his diamond ring on her small hand. Without looking closely, she wanted to take it off. If she looks closely, she will discover that the diamond ring has small letters “R loves N” engraved on it.

Rand N are their initials. This is a deep love that he has never expressed.

She had asked him before, “Raven, do you love me?”

Chapter 971K loves N

Yes, he does.

How can he not love her?

His love came many years earlier than her, in a place she didn't know. It mixed with his bones and blood and grew passionately.

All the answers she wants are in this diamond ring.

Raven got up, went into the next room, turned on the wall light and started making little porcelain dolls.

He didn't know when she got pregnant, but he always felt it was a boy.

It's his and her son.

It's strange. He always felt like he didn't like children, but now his mind is filled with sketches of his son. He felt that his son might look like him, carved in the same mold as him, but his eyes would be like North's, a pair of dark and bright eyes, without the darkness and coldness of the Dominos family, but directed towards the sun.

After making a porcelain doll of his son, Raven made dolls of North and him. Just like that, the three of them were holding hands.

Chapter 972 You can't escape my hand

Raven returned to the bedroom. North was still sleeping soundly, her pale, soft face was slightly rosy

Raven placed the porcelain doll set of the family of three in her small hand, then lowered his eyes and kissed her forehead, "North, don't try to leave me. You're the one that the Paulo family made up for me. You will never be able to escape my hands."

North was sleeping soundly, so she definitely couldn't give him any response. Search the findNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At this moment, there was a "ding" sound and a text message came to his cell phone.

Raven clicked on the message, the content of the message was "Grayson Paulo's traces have been found."

When North opened her eyes, Raven was gone. These days, he was very busy preparing for the wedding and the new house.

He didn't take any action against online public opinion. When North went from a big star to a rich young woman, public opinion was very far from her.

Even though yesterday she clearly said she wouldn't marry him, he didn't seem to hear it, and the wedding was getting closer and closer.

North stared at the crystal chandelier above her head for a moment before sitting up. Suddenly, something fell from her hand onto the bed.

North lowered her eyes, seeing porcelain dolls.

This is Raven's first time making this type of craft with his own hands. A born young master, a domineering general manager, a person who enjoys a high cla and luxurious material life, doesn't know how to make porcelain. The dolls he made for her all looked ugly.

There was a very little child between the two of them, the child they lost...

North's eyelashes trembled, the softest part of her heart seemed to be hit hard. She raised her hand, her soft fingertips gently touching the small porcelain doll in the middle.

In the past few years, since losing her child, she hasn't even dared to think about her child.

That was the wound in her heart. Every time she touched it, it hurt. It hurt so much that she couldn't breathe.

But now, Raven has made a small porcelain statue that sat next to her.

Is this her child?

Oh, yes, this is her child.

North held the porcelain doll in her hand, her fingertips trembling, her eyes were very hot, and soon her large tears fell.

-At this moment, she was sitting on the bed, clutching the porcelain doll in her arms, crying.

When the wedding day came, all the upper cla aristocrats attended, everywhere was brightly lit, and the media kept taking pictures. Raven organized a grand wedding for North.

North didn't want to marry, but Raven clearly didn't give her the right to refuse. She was taken to the bridal dressing room, dressed in a holy wedding dress and delicate makeup.

At this time, there was a noise outside: "Sorry ma'am, you can't come in. Mr. Dominos has ordered you not to see the bride. You are making things hard for us."

"You insolent!" Zhuri's cold voice rang out, "I am Mr. Dominos' mother. Am I not allowed to see the wife my son is about to marry? I don't think anyone will dare to stop me today!"

Then, "bang", the bridal dressing room door was directly pushed open.

Zhuri pushed the wheelchair forward.

The staff behind looked at North awkwardly: "Mrs. Dominos..."

For the first time, North wasn't used to being called "Mrs. Dominos", her dark eyes looked over. She said: "It's okay, you can go down."

Raven's people handled the matter very carefully, so these employees didn't dare to come down, "Mrs. Dominos, we will stand outside the door. If you need anything, you can call us. Mr. Dorhinos is outside to greet guests."

These employees were out,

Now only North and Zhuri are left in the bridal dressing room. Zhuri can't hide her disgust and hatred towards North, "North, you're still so shameless. Your mother seduced my husband, and now you are marrying my son. I can't wait to tear off your wedding dress!"

North raised her hand to adjust the hem of her wedding dress, then stood up, walked to Zhuri's side, smiled and said: "Mrs. Dominos, I think you're wrong. This wedding dress is not what I want to wear. Your son forced me to wear it. I am happy to be his mistress, but he insists on giving me the title Mrs. Dominos. I'm just a weak woman, what can I do?"

Zhuri's face twisted. She remembers when North was very obedient as a child. Amidst her harsh words, North could only lock herself in her room, timidly not daring to go out.

Now she has grown up, her whole body is full of thorns, and her tongue has also become sharp.

"Mrs. Dominos, I actually sympathize with you. Do you know where you failed?"

"You always make the same mistake, Your husband cheated on you, but the only person you hate is my mother. Your son disobeyed you and wanted to marry me, but the only person you came to see was me. It seems like if I disappeared with my mother, you would be completely happy. Actually, one is your husband and one is your son, can't you teach them? A woman's happiness is never given by others, but must be held in her own hand."

"On the outside, you are domineering but on the inside, you are cowardly. You are miserable but don't dare to promptly prevent the loss. You're always complaining and hating others. The once wealthy daughter of the Taylor family has now become an old woman with a dark and twisted mentality. Who can you blame? I don't think you can blame anyone. Because it was you who brought your life into this miserable state."

Zhuri was stunned and looked at North in bewilderment. She didn't understand what North was saying at all.

She quickly reacted, clenched her hands into fists, and emotionally shouted: "North, who do you think you are? What right do you have to judge me?"

North looked at her indifferently, her red lips forming a lazy arc. She raised her eyebrows and said: "Mrs. Dominos, you are worried. What are you worried about?"

"I..."

"Shh!" North suddenly put her finger on her lips, pretended to be silent, and smiled softly: "Mrs. Dominos, listen. Do you hear any sound?"

Zhuri seemed fascinated, immediately held her breath and listened, but heard nothing.

1912.71

"Mrs. Dominos, did you hear that? That's... the sound of a broken dream. What you've been best at all these years is deceiving yourself and others. People all say that it is impossible to wake up someone who is pretending to sleep. So, today I will personally break the sound you have given me all these years. Zhuri, it is time for you to wake up from your dream!"

North suddenly shouted the last few words, especially the word “Zhuri”. Zhuri only felt a heavy rain. and wind heading towards her. At this moment, she felt cold. Ignorance and panic about the future made her shudder inexplicably.

Zhuri looked at North in surprise and confusion. What the hell is she planning on doing with this

North raised her eyebrows: “What do you think?”

Zhuri had a bad feeling that something would happen at the wedding.

At this moment, the respectful voice of the staff came from outside the door: “Mr. Dominos, the madam and the bride are all inside.”

The next second, the door was pushed open, and Raven’s tall, statuesque figure appeared in sight. An employee hurriedly reported the situation so Raven appeared.

Today Raven is wearing a well-fitting black suit. His appearance is no different from his usual noble appearance, but very different. Today, his eyebrows look very soft, his dark eyes are shining, and his whole body seems to be full of energy and energy and a little bit of joy.

Well, today he will be the groom.

“Raven, you came just in time. Please quickly cancel this wedding. North really doesn’t want to marry you. I doubt she will do something bad at the wedding!” Zhuri complained worriedly. Raven didn’t look at Zhuri. The moment he opened the door, his eyes looked at North and never left. North was wearing a wedding dress that he ordered tailor-made for her. The dress was encrusted- with luxurious, divine and bright diamonds, and the waist belt design perfectly showed off her youthful body.

Her long, curly hair was tied high, revealing a soft, pure face and dark, attractive eyes. Today she is so beautiful that people forgot to breathe at a glance.

Today she is his bride.

Raven, who had always considered himself unmarried, now tasted the real scent, his chest felt extremely tense. Suddenly, he got a feeling that... he belonged to her.

She made him feel like he belonged to her.

Raven walked up to her, smiled gently and said: "North, you are so beautiful today."

North raised her delicate willow leaves eyebrows, looking at him lovingly, which meant, "Aren't I beautiful normally?"

Raven smiled affectionately.

Seeing these two people flirting in front of her, Zhuri was so angry that she hit the wheelchair armrest hard, "Raven, you really don't listen to me. Sooner or later, you will die because of North!"

Raven was in a good mood today. He looked at Zhuri and said, "Mom, if you feel unwell, I will send someone to take you home."

"No! I don't want to go back!" Zhuri refused.

At this time, the staff outside walked in and said: "Mr. Dominos, the auspicious time has come. The wedding is about to start."

Raven stretched out his big hand, holding North's small, soft hand in his palm, "North, let's go. We're about to get married."

He took her hand and strode out.

North followed him and suddenly said in a low voice: "Raven, you should listen to your mom."

Raven didn't stop, calmly saying: "What?"

"You should call off the wedding. This is your last chance."

North lowered her thick eyelashes. Oh, forget it.

Today, at this grand wedding, there were many distinguished guests. Raven and North stepped on stage, immediately attracting everyone's attention.

"Oh my god, the bride is so beautiful."

"Everyone predicted who would pick the most beautiful red rose in the end. Unexpectedly, it is Mr. Dominos."

"Mr. Dominos is really married. My lover has become someone else's pillow, boohoo-

"Mr. Dominos and Miss Paulo are really matching when standing next to each other. They are a match made in heaven. We wish you both a happy wedding."

All the young ladies from famous families glanced at North enviously. Raven is the most noble person in Los Angeles and many girls dream of being his wife. Now North has officially entered a rich family and become a rich lady.

Of course, all the men looked at Raven with jealousy. As men, they have to admit that Raven knows how to play hard, and marrying the red rose North is truly a blessing-

At this time, the host came on stage and said: "Welcome to the wedding today. The auspicious hour has come. I'm inviting the bride and the groom..."

The host hadn't finished speaking when North suddenly said: "Wait a minute."

The bride suddenly spoke so the audience's eyes suddenly focused on her.

Raven lowered his eyes and looked at the woman next to him, saying, "North, if you have anything to say, we can wait until the wedding is over."

North raised her dark eyes to look at him, curling her red lips, "Don't be nervous. I just think today is our wedding, so everyone has to be here. Your mother and grandpa are both here, but your father hasn't arrived yet."

When she mentioned Tobias, Raven frowned slightly. Why do they have to mention such bad luck on their wedding day?

After the previous incident, Raven threw Tobias abroad. There was good food and drink abroad, but there were also his people guarding him. Tobias had no freedom, let alone returning to his country.

"I invited your father back," said North.

Tobias is back?

Zhuri's expression below changed. She didn't expect Tobias to be "invited" back by North.

Old Master Dominos' face was very gloomy but he still kept silent, his eyes dark and far away. It was unknown what he was thinking, but he was just quietly observing the situation.

At this moment, a "bang" sounded, the banquet room door was pushed open, and Tobias walked in.

Tobias is truly back.

Zhuri immediately turned the wheelchair, asking, "Tohla, why did you come back? Why did you..."

Tobias didn't come alone. There were several law enforcement officers around him, handcuffing.

him. Obviously, he had been arrested.

"You... Why are you arresting my husband? Let him go quickly!" Zhuri looked at the police in surprise, dumbfounded.

At this time, a policeman issued an arrest warrant, "Tobias was suspected of attempted rape and murder in a car accident twenty years ago. We arrested him according to the law and brought him in for investigation."

What?

The entire audience gasped. Everyone suspected that they were hallucinating.

Why did Tobias... was arrested?

Zhuri's face changed clearly. She asked, "What nonsense are you talking about? Attempted rape? Causing a car accident that killed someone? I don't understand what you're talking about."

Zhuri knew Tobias had many mistresses, but he wouldn't commit rape.

She didn't believe it.

She absolutely didn't believe it.

Raven frowned. At this moment, he felt the small hand in his palm quietly withdraw. North stepped forward and said: "Mrs. Dominos, don't you understand? So let me explain to you."

"Twenty years ago, Tobias asked his driver to buy drugs on the black market, drugged my mom, and forced her to go to a hotel with the intention of raping her."

Chapter 974

Chapter 974 Raven, are you scared?

Zhuri narrowed her eyes, looked at North in horror and said angrily: "North, what are you talking about? Do you dare to mention that year? Are you afraid that no one will know that your mum is a seductive temptress who seduces married men?"

The rape scene in the hotel was an obstacle that Zhuri could never overcome in her life. It was like someone stepped on her nerves, her whole body tensed up, and her face distorted.

Zhuri slapped her legs that had been disabled for many years, her eyes were red, "At that time, your mom persuaded my husband to take a hotel room. After going out, I had a car accident and became disabled. My current half-human, half-ghost appearance is all thanks to your mom. Now how dare you bite me?"

North wanted to step forward, but her slender wrist was grabbed tightly by a large hand with clear joints. Raven looked at her, his dark eyes filled with cold dissatisfaction: "North, that's enough!"

She stopped and raised her bright little face to look at him: "Raven, are you... scared?"

Scared?

These words caused Raven's handsome eyebrows to lower.

"Isn't that right?" North tilted her head and blinked, "Isn't this the reason you pushed me into hell? Once you find out... the sinner's daughter is actually innocent. From now on, what reason do you have to hold me?"

Raven's cold black eyes quickly turned a dark ink color, cold and dangerous.

At this moment, North withdrew her wrist from his palm little by little, resolutely and strongly.

This big show shocked all the distinguished guests, and everyone was talking about it.

“What’s going on? It seems like the Dominos family and the Paulo family have a lot going on.”

“Don’t you know? More than 20 years ago, the Paulo family was a high-ranking political family. North’s father, Ezra, and North’s brother, Grayson, are famous figures in the city. Then, the Paulo family was ruined overnight, and business upstarts the Dominos family adopted North.”

North walked off the stage, her dark eyes looking coldly at Tobias. She said sternly: “Tobias, do you have anything to say to your wife Zhuri, who has been crazy for many years?”

Tobias, who was named, quickly shouted that he had been wronged, “No. This is completely a conspiracy. Raven, you have to trust me. You must ask a lawyer to quickly bail me out. I don’t want to be in prison. That’s not where humans live!”

Tobias is an extremely selfish person. At this moment, he had no shame or remorse.

Zhuri looked at North resentfully: “North, my husband has been unjustly accused. This is slander and a personal attack. I want to invite a lawyer to sue you!”

Zhuri quickly bit her back.

North’s red lips curled faintly: “Mrs. Dominos, I knew you wouldn’t believe it, so I brought someone here.”

Who?

At this time, a man dressed in black came out and took off his hat, asking: “Madam, do you still remember me?”

Zhuri looked at the man in black, startled and said: “Are you... driver Finley?”

unapter 974 Haven, are you scartar

Driver Finley nodded: “Yes, ma’am.”

“Finley, where have you been all these years? I haven’t seen you since I broke my legs. You... Why did you lose an arm?” Zhuri asked, looking at Finley’s empty sleeve.

Finley was Tobias and Zhuri's exclusive driver. He was hardworking and practical. Zhuri always sat in his car every time she went out, which left a deep impression on her.

Finley was younger than Zhuri, but after not seeing each other for many years, Finley looked a lot older.

"Madam, I had a broken arm and was hunted by oppressors for so many years, all because of.... Tobias!" Finley angrily pointed at Tobias.

Tobias was very avoidant of Finley. In front of Finley's angry eyes, he seemed to feel guilty and avoided them.

At that time, those people were almost killed by Tobias. Juniper escaped and so did Finley.

Unexpectedly, Finley was found by North, so when the police came to the door, Tobias was a little. panicked.

Zhuri looked at Tobias and asked Finley: "Finley, why did Tobias hurt you? He... had no reason..."

"Because I went to the black market to buy very strong drugs. I was the one who made North's mother unconscious, and was also the one who took her to the hotel. I was the one who directly witnessed the rape scene that year and I was also his accomplice."

Zhuri was already stunned. She looked at Tobias, then looked at Finley: "Finley, what are you talking about? Were you bribed by North? How much money did she give you? You..."

Finley took out evidence: "Madam, this is a recording of Tobias telling me to buy drugs, and there is also a screenshot of me going to the black market to trade. Zhuri quickly reached out and grabbed them. When she saw the screenshot, her hands shook but she still didn't believe it so she turned on the recording.

Tobias's voice in the recording quickly rang out: "Finley, go to the black market to buy anesthetics.

Finley: "Sir, why are you buying drugs?"

"Ezra's wife, the lady of the Paulo family. I've been thinking about her for many years. Obviously I met her first, but she ignored me and became the wife of a high ranking official. I want you to buy some anesthetic to make her faint and take her to the hotel. I want to catch her, hehe." Tobias laughed evilly.

“Sir, how could you do this? If your wife knew...’

“Why do you mention Zhuri? If it weren’t for family marriage, would I marry her? I hate her. Every time I touch her, I imagine myself hugging Mrs. Paulo.”

“Bam”, the recording pen in Zhuri’s hand fell to the ground, her pupils kept shrinking and enlarging, and her head suddenly buzzed.

For many years, she always believed that North’s mother had seduced her husband. She blamed all her misfortunes on the Paulo family. She had become a habit of hating the Paulo family for so many years.

-But now everything has been exposed. It turns out that the rape scandal was an attempted rape directed and carried out by Tobias.

Tobias trampled his wife into the mud.

Zhuri’s eyes turned red. She raised her head and stared at Tobias, “Tobias, are these words true? You have caused me so much pain, why don’t you die?”

As she spoke, Zhuri pushed the wheelchair forward and crashed straight into Tobias.

But Tobias isn’t stupid. He dodged very quickly.

With a bang, the wheelchair hit the wall and Zhuri fell down.

Chapter 975

Chapter 975 I was seduced and raped by him.

Zhuri rolled out of the wheelchair, her forehead hit the wall, blood instantly blurred before her eyes. She fell into the most embarrassing moment of her life.

Zhuri looked at Tobias on the side, her eyes were red, her lips trembled, suddenly laughing

“hahaha“. She laughed and burst into tears, those tears kept flowing, falling down her face. She cried and laughed like an idiot.

Perhaps, she was laughing at her own life.

Soon, Zhuri couldn't breathe and fainted.

The scene was a bit chaotic, people talked a lot, the staff also shouted: “Quickly prepare the car. Take the lady to the hospital!”

Raven hugged his mother, slowly raised his head, and looked at Tobias with his cold eyes.

Tobias didn't care about Zhuri's life or death at all, but he cared very much about his son Raven because his prosperity and wealth depend on this son. Raven's black eyes were like two small, dangerous and terrifying abysses. They seemed to be swallowing him whole.

“Ah...Raven, it's not my fault. It was your mother who hit the wall, and...and North,” Tobias angrily pointed at North, “It's all her fault. She's the one who caused all of this. Raven, North doesn't want to marry you at all. She's just waiting to destroy our Dominos family in this wedding.”

The medical staff arrived, Raven handed the unconscious Zhuri to them, then stood up and walked towards North.

North had no expression throughout the whole process, only looking at Zhuri with her cold eyes. She is a pitiful but hateful woman. North has no sympathy and won't forgive her.

Raven walked up to North, his handsome face covered with a layer of gloom, “Is this driver Finley the person you found?”

North nodded, “That's right. That's the phone number Mr. Randy gave me. When Tobias tried to kill Finley, it was Mr. Randy who silently helped Finley.”

“Actually, there was another witness, Juniper of the Paulo family. But as soon as I recognized her, she was killed right before my eyes.”

Raven narrowed his beautiful eyes and asked in a low voice: “Is there anything else you want to tell me?

“No, it’s just that my parents had a car accident on the way home from the rape. I suspect the car accident was caused by humans. I reported the incident and want to reinvestigate the case. I want the Dominos family to return all our life and blood.”

Raven’s face was expressionless. It was hard to guess what he was thinking: “Is it done?”

North looked at him, saying nothing.

“Then let’s continue with the wedding. We’ll talk about everything after the wedding is over.”

He still wanted to continue with the wedding.

The entire audience gasped, looking at Raven in shock. Currently, North is causing such trouble for the Dominos family, but he still wants to get married. People who have never been married before have a deep obsession with marriage.

Raven stretched out his big hand to hold North’s small hand.

But North took two steps back, not letting him touch her.

The atmosphere between them was tense, and the entire audience watched them silently.

Raven pursed his thin lips, an unhappy expression appeared on his face: “North, come here.”

North stood still, her delicate, soft eyebrows cold. She looked at Raven indifferently, “Raven, I told you. I won’t marry you.”

As she spoke, she slowly raised her red lips into a slight and sarcastic arc, “Your Dominos family came to power thanks to the blood of our Paulo family. You, a cowardly child. What qualifications do you have to marry a daughter of the noble Paulo family?”

North was still wearing her wedding dress, her long wedding dress winding on the ground. She stood under the bright lights, so arrogant and bright that people didn’t dare to look directly at her.

Raven’s large hand still stretched out in the air. He looked at her, frowning slightly, “North, come here. Don’t make me say that a second time.”

North’s eyes stopped on his handsome face for a moment then turned back to look at the camera in the media reporter’s hand, her voice was hoarse like a bell: “As everyone knows, I was pregnant and had a miscarriage when I was 18 years old. That child was indeed Raven’s, but I was seduced and raped by him.”

As soon as she said these words, the entire audience gasped. What was North talking about? Search the findNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

After her pregnancy and miscarriage were revealed, Raven responded, but North didn’t. This was the first time she stood up to speak publicly. She said she was seduced and ... raped by Raven?

Today’s wedding is truly a grand performance. Everyone is stunned.

North looked at the camera without the slightest evasion, “I have authorized a lawyer to officially sue Raven. Not only did he seduce and rape me when I was 18 years old, but he also has been with me for the past few years. He and I have been together for a long time. I’m his shady mistress. I have all the records that we went to the hotel to book a room, and there is proof that we are together!”

After North finished speaking, a lawyer wearing a suit and leather shoes walked up to the stage and approached Raven, “Mr. Dominos, I am currently Ms. North’s lawyer. This is our prosecution letter. In addition to the above points, it is said that you have depraved interests in matters between men and women and likes to torture others. My client took pictures of all the large and small injuries she suffered. These will be handed in together.”

Raven reached out to take the file bag from the lawyer, opened the file bag and took out the evidence inside.

The evidence was quite complete, from the evidence that North had a miscarriage in the hospital when she was 18 years old, to the last time he came home from the bureau and forced her. It even included testing his semen. Evidence matched.

He was so strong that every time he touched her, he couldn't control his strength. Furthermore, her skin is very fragile, easily turning blue—black. North took pictures of her, from her waist to her thighs. The images were truly shocking to see.

Raven casually flipped over, the tip of his tongue pressed against his right cheek, and he let out a low, hoarse and dangerous laugh from his throat.

It turned out that she had already prepared.

Every time she lay next to him, every time she came close to him, she had a purpose.

Raven raised his head, his narrowed black eyes showing a bit of bright red, “North, is this the wedding gift you prepared for me? I'm really... surprised.”

Having finished speaking, he spread his long legs and walked towards North.

But the lawyer blocked his way, “Sorry, Mr. Dominos. Because of your bad habits, my client has applied for a protection order from the court. You are not allowed to come within ten steps of my client.”

Chapter 976

Chapter 976 Changing the calling name to Mrs. Dominos!

Every time he saw her from now on, he had to take ten steps back...

Raven's handsome face, which had always been calm, now had a clearly changed expression. He curled his lips and smiled, revealing his white teeth, like the cold fangs of a wild beast.

He stopped and nonchalantly raised his hand: “Okay. I won't step forward, okay?”

As he spoke, his eyes swept past the lawyer, stopping on North's hand-sized face. He raised his eyebrows heroically and smiled: "North, do you think this protection order can stop me? Then you really haven't gotten to know me."

His current appearance is lazy, evil and extremely dangerous. Sometimes North feels that his nature is a rebel, dark and cruel man.

Today's wedding is chaotic. If she doesn't take the opportunity to crush him, she doesn't know how crazy he will be against her in the future.

North raised her hand to tuck a strand of hair on her cheek behind her ear, "Mr. Domino, you should think about how to deal with the consequences. Your mother is in a coma in the hospital. Don't let your father think about it. As for your grandfather, I'm not done with him yet. As for you, the dignified CEO of the Dominos family has been involved in a scandal of seduction, rape and sexual perversion, and your image suddenly fell to the bottom. Public opinion outside was boiling. Moreover, I used your charm to add fuel to the fire. Do you think you can escape from it unharmed?" "Let's talk about that later. I'm looking forward to seeing how you will stand up, Mr. Dominos."

Raven looked into North's eyes. Her eyes were still clear and bright, but there was no affection for him in them. In her eyes, he had finally become... a member of the Dominos family, the family she hated.

He didn't know when she started plotting. He knows her very well. She is Olive's best friend, but in reality she is not good at scheming. The girl who grew up in his arms is a bit silly and sweet.

Only now did he know that she could also hold a knife, and her hands were so steady that she could kill someone with a knife.

Raven slowly raised his thin lips, his deep, monotone voice didn't waver at all, as if he was simply saying one thing: "North, I told you. You can't escape from my hand."

"You have to try to know whether I can escape or not. Let's go." North turned around and left with the lawyer.

She left in her wedding dress without hesitation or looking back.

In the hospital.

Zhuri was taken to the hospital room. She was still unconscious and was receiving fluids. Raven sat on the couch in the hallway. The light here was very dark, giving his handsome features a layer of darkness.

At this time, the private secretary walked over with a solemn face and reported: "President, today... Miss Paulo made a lot of noise at the wedding, causing chaos in the city. Now top searches on Facebook cannot be suppressed. There are a lot of comments outside. President, your personal image and the reputation of Dominos Group are facing a major crisis, the company's stock is constantly fluctuating, causing everyone to panic."

"President, Miss Paulo's actions are too cruel. She set a trap for you to fall into. First, she told everybody that she was pregnant and had a miscarriage to shape public opinion, then she said at the grand wedding that you seduced and raped her. Not to mention she's a superstar. Anyone involved in such news will be trapped for their lives. Right now everyone is saying that you, the president ... You're a psychopath..." The private secretary's voice became quieter and quieter. He didn't dare to continue speaking.

Raven frowned, then gently glanced at his personal secretary, "What? Miss Paulo? Haven't you changed your way of calling her yet?"

"..." The private secretary looked at him in confusion. What does he mean?

"Now she's Mrs. Dominos." Raven said.

"...President...President, have you forgotten that the wedding never took place...?"

"It's okay. She'll be Mrs. Dominos soon."

The private secretary looked at his president, not knowing what the president was thinking right now.

"President, where is your father?"

"Don't worry about him. Let him stay while he does his thing."

“What about outside public opinion?”

“Don’t worry about that.”

The private secretary said, “...okay.”

Initially, Dominos’ gold medal crisis public relations team was ready and prepared to stay up all night for several nights, but the CEO said that they should all leave.

“President...”

“You should go home too.”

“...Yes, President.” The private secretary said goodbye.

The hospital hallway at night was extremely quiet. Raven lazily leaned back against the back seat, put his hands in his pockets, and didn’t move for a long time.

At this moment, a series of footsteps rang out, heading towards him.

Raven curled his lips, “Grandpa, you’re here.”

In front of him was Old Master Dominos.

Old Master Dominos looked at Raven with cloudy but sharp eyes, “Raven, did you know I was coming?”

Raven raised his head, his hands stuffed in his pockets, his long legs lazily stretching forward: “Tell me, were you the cause of North’s parents’ car accident?”

Old Master Dominos nodded, “Yes.”

“Oh.” Raven wasn’t surprised at all. He laughed and said: “So that’s it. It’s really you who caused the destruction of the Paulo family... So funny. I’ve hated the Paulo family for so many years. Damn it. I thought... North was what the Paulo family compensated me, but it turned out that I took her.”

Mr. Dominos looked at him, “Raven, what are you going to do?”

1950.7

Raven took out a pack of cigarettes from his pocket, took one out and placed it on his thin lips, then nodded slightly and used a lighter to light it.

The red flame jumped up, making his handsome face flash. He slowly took a drag of his cigarette, then slowly exhaled the smoke: "We're in the same boat now, right?"

Mr. Dominos nodded, knowing that this grandson wouldn't disappoint him.

In fact, Mr. Dominos had no intention of hiding the Paulo family's matter from Raven. Once Raven knows about it, he will be the support and strongest force to protect the Dominos family.

"Raven..." Mr. Dominos wanted to say.

"I know what to do. Just leave. I don't want to see you guys anymore."

North returned to her mansion. Miss Jones was next to her and said, "North, Tobias' intention to rape is undeniable. The case of being caught in adultery that year was overturned, but the car accident involving your father and your mother doesn't have strong evidence. I'm afraid Tobias won't be convicted."

North knew this. She hadn't found any clues about the car accident that year, but Jace had. She would have it if she cooperated with Jace.

Regarding cooperation, North hasn't thought about it yet.

Chapter 977

Chapter 977 I won't love him anymore, but not now

"North, Jace found clues about your father and mother's car accident. Why don't you cooperate with him to get revenge?" Miss Jones asked.

North bowed her head, remained silent for a few seconds, then gently said: "But they came here because of Raven..."

Miss Jones was stunned.

North went on to say: "I could fight him, but others couldn't, because I knew the importance of my actions. The scandal may make me get rid of him, but it can't physically hurt him. For someone as powerful as him, he won't be overwhelmed by scandal, but others might... want him dead. Who said he was arrogant and had so many enemies?"

North didn't know what she was thinking. She slowly raised the corners of her lips, her gesture was very soft.

Miss Jones knew that North still didn't want to break up with him after all.

Miss Jones reached out and touched North's head, "North, do you still love him?"

North rested her head on Miss Jones' shoulder, "I said I won't love him anymore, but not now."

"I still don't know how to get rid of the man I loved for so many years."

"Miss Jones, at least for now, I still love him."

Miss Jones felt miserable. North was just a girl in her twenties but had endured too much. Because she loved Raven deeply, she felt sorry for her deceased relatives.

"North, this isn't your fault. In love, there is no right or wrong."

North nodded slightly, "I don't want to marry him, but actually I don't dare either. He never said he loved me. I don't know when his slightest interest in me will disappear."

"Because by his side, I didn't feel loved, so I became the first to leave."

Miss Jones didn't know how to comfort this girl. She's not Raven, after all.

Miss Jones let North quietly lean on her for a moment and then said: "North, today you came forward to denounce Mr. Dominos, and this has caused a wave of uproar in public opinion. Do you really have no intention of entering the entertainment industry again?"

North nodded, "Miss Jones, I want to get out of there."

"Why?" Miss Jones was stunned. She never thought that North would want to withdraw from the entertainment industry.

Because her memory is now getting worse and she is starting to not be able to remember her lines. So she wanted to speed up, afraid that she would forget the hatred in her heart, her father, her mother and her brother.

"There's no reason. I'm just... too tired. I'll contact director Ronald. Tomorrow I'll start working again. I want to finish filming 'Floating Life' as soon as possible. After that, I want to leave here and go to a place where no one knows me and start again."

Miss Jones is a gold medal agent. North is the money printing machine she holds in her hand. Technically, she should brainwash North, but she saw the tiredness in North at this moment, and she softened.

Miss Jones smiled and nodded, “North, I can’t promise you, but I can give you a long vacation. This vacation is unlimited, and you can go wherever you want. When you feel like it’s enough, go back. Wouldn’t it be a great time for us to step into the entertainment industry together and make North nod: “Okay.”

money?

Miss Jones left the villa and called director Ronald to confirm that North would secretly continue work tomorrow.

After hanging up the phone, Miss Jones went downstairs. Soon, she saw a figure in the dark hallway, it was... Raven. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

There was no light here, it was very dark, Miss Jones walked over and confirmed again that it was indeed Raven.

Raven is here.

He was wearing a well-fitting black suit, standing quietly in the corner of the hallway, one hand in his pocket, his body lazily leaning against the wall, his other hand holding half a cigarette to smoke.

A layer of cigarette butts fell at his feet. When did he come here and smoke?

She couldn’t see Raven’s face clearly. She could only see the red flames dancing in his hand. He slowly exhaled a puff of smoke and said in a low voice: “Is North asleep?”

“Ah, she just went to sleep.”

Raven didn’t say anything anymore and the atmosphere was dead silent.

Miss Jones was the first who couldn’t stand it anymore. This man’s aura makes it difficult to breathe. Furthermore, Miss Jones believes that she is now North’s person and can’t break her trust and betray her master. So she said: “Mr. Dominos, if there’s nothing else, I’ll go first.”

Miss Jones quickly left.

When she reached the corner, she turned to look at Raven. The man still maintained th at position, smoking, not moving, nor intending to enter the villa, seemingly just there to look.

North secretly continued her work. The entire film crew took very good security and priv acy measures.

She nodded: “Yes, Jam.”

This scene was the scene between North and Samuel. Director Ronald officially declare d: “Action!”

Samuel reached out and grabbed North’s shoulder: “Eloise, I received news that the wa r is about to start. Follow me. I will take you out of this place!”

North shook her head, “No, I... I...”

She suddenly forgot her lines.

Director Ronald quickly pressed the button: “Cut.”

Samuel let go of North. Director Ronald stepped forward and asked: “North, what’s wron g with you? The line wasn’t long, why did you forget it?”

She apologized: “I’m really sorry director Ronald I’ll re— read the script. We will film again.”

North read the script but they still couldn’t film it because she kept forgetting her lines an d director Ronald shouted “Cut!” many times.

The crew’s progress was clearly slowed, and the scene kept repeating itself throughout the morning.

“North, I think you’re not so good. Rest first. Let’s film someone else’s scene.” Director Ronald said.

Miss Jones put her coat on North’s shoulders and asked suspiciously: “North, what’s goi ng on? You’ve never made a mistake as minor as forgetting your lines. You’ve been so t ired lately, right?”

North learns that her illness is getting worse and her memory is rapidly deteriorating.

“Maybe I’m tired. Miss Jones, please go get me a cup of hot water.”

“Okay.”

After Miss

Jones left, North sat on the chair, picked up the script, tried to remember the lines, and then used a pen to copy them down.

At this moment, she heard a whisper coming from behind.

“Look what happened to North. She filmed a scene for a long time and everyone following her was almost exhausted. She has been on leave for many days, and is currently not in a good mood, almost dragging down the pace of the entire filming crew. She is killing us.”

“Right, ‘Floating Life’ is a big production. We had to try our best to participate.”

“Oh, North entered a rich family and almost became Mrs. Dominos. Please be quiet. We can’t offend her!”

Chapter 978

Chapter 978 Go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get a marriage certificate and Raven’s shocking wedding of the century has already made female stars in the entertainment industry jealous. Anyway, the ultimate goal of a female celebrity is to marry into a rich family. They have been jealous of North for a long time.

North

Now that North and Raven have officially broken up, these people are now talking sarcastically.

North stopped writing. She read this morning’s news. Dominos Group’s stock price quickly stabilized after a period of fluctuations. Raven, a business tycoon, once again demonstrated his iron-blooded skills and powerful strength to change the situation.

As for news from outside about his seduction and sexual debauchery, he ignored it all. It was obvious that he didn’t care, and it was just a source of conversation and joking for the others after dinner.

North had no expression. She continued to copy the lines, hoping to engrave them in her memory. Otherwise, it will be difficult for her to continue filming “Floating Life”.

Acting is her passion and she wants to do well with it.

At this moment, a low, magnetic voice suddenly sounded above her head, carrying a faint smile: "What are you writing?"

The pen in North's hand stopped for a moment, stiffening. This voice was too familiar. She couldn't have heard wrong. It was... Raven!

Raven is here.

He actually came to the studio.

North raised her head, and Raven's handsome face entered her sight. Today he wore a thin black turtleneck sweater and a dark blue jacket. His simple fashion style had a bit of the elegance of a famous man. His aura made him look especially youthful and handsome.

North raised her hand-sized face to look at him and stopped.

At this moment, Miss Jones ran over with a cup of hot water, "Mr. Dominos...Mr. Dominos..."

Several bodyguards dressed in black walked over and surrounded the actresses, whispering and saying: "Who said bad things about Mrs. Dominos just now?"

There were several actresses who had never witnessed this type of being caught in the act. They were all frightened and said: "It's her! It's her!"

"Bam!"

"Bam!"

The black bodyguard slapped the actress, who bad-mouthed North, in the face twice.

At this moment, Director Ronald heard the sound and ran over, "Mr. Dominos...Mr. Dominos, why are you here?"

The personal secretary looked at director Ronald and said: "Director Ronald, how could the 'Floating Life' film crew use people who talk nonsense? For the sake of harmony in the film crew, our president thinks those people should be removed."

Director Ronald broke into a cold sweat and immediately nodded: "Okay, Mr. Dominos is right. He has a point. We'll listen to him."

The facial expressions of those female stars all changed. They rushed in, waiting for "Floating Life" to explode and collect the prize money, but Raven really wanted to eliminate them.

The reason is that they just said bad things about North?

“Mr. Dominos...Mr. Dominos...” The actresses cried out in fear and wanted to beg for mercy but were pushed away and carried out by several bodyguards dressed in black.

Director Ronald witnessed this entire scene. This was indeed Raven’s behavior, strong and rough.

“Director Ronald, our president’s wife has been a bit tired lately. Maybe we need some time to adjust. You guys have been working very hard recently. It’s time for dinner. Our president will treat everyone to dinner.”

As soon as the secretary finished speaking, everyone lined up to go in and bring delicious food. The entire film crew watched that scene. Several gossiping actresses were taken away before their eyes. It is estimated that in the future there will be no trace of these people in the entertainment industry. At first, everyone thought that the wedding would be noisy and that North wouldn’t be lucky enough to join a rich family. Who would have thought that today Mr. Dominos came to her aid again and called her “Mrs. Dominos”?

The people in this film crew are all good people. It seems that Mr. Dominos is so pleased with North, so they will never dare to insult her again.

“We don’t find it difficult.”

“Thank you, Mr. Dominos. Thank you, Mrs. Dominos.”

“Well, this is a meal in the royal dining room. If you book in advance, you won’t always be able to line up. It looks delicious.”

The atmosphere quickly became hot, “Mrs. Dominos” was even more praised.

North put down the pen in her hand, looked at Raven and frowned slightly.

Raven had nothing to do with what just happened, his eyebrows didn’t move, his fixed on North’s hand-sized soft face, “Read the lines later, eat first.”

“North, you can cause me trouble, but you have to eat food. Otherwise, do you want me to feed you?” Raven interrupted her.

Causing trouble?

It turns out that what she did at the wedding was just “causing trouble” in his eyes.

North was really afraid that he would feed her, so she held her chopsticks and ate quietly.

The private secretary brought a chair. Raven sat down, his long legs elegantly stacked on top of each other, and began reading the financial newspaper.

He wore elegant gold-rimmed glasses, his mature masculinity and elite temperament radiated from his bones, especially his sense of indifferent abstinence. The female stars in the crew secretly glanced at him. People say that he is some kind of pervert, which really makes people scared and blush.

North was eating, Raven was sitting next to her reading the newspaper.

North’s taste was really not very good. Just finished eating half a bowl of rice, she immediately put down her chopsticks, looked at the man next to her and said: “Mr. Dominos, I’m done eating.”

Raven looked away from the financial newspaper and glanced at her food. She ate too little, making him frown in discomfort. He quickly put down the financial newspaper in his hand and stood up,

“You’re done eating. Let’s go.”

“Go? Where are we going?”

“During the wedding, you made a fuss, so we will temporarily not have the wedding, but I will make up for it later. First go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get a marriage certificate.”

Go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get a marriage certificate?

North laughed. She looked at him with a cold smile and dark eyes, “Mr. Dominos, you can’t casually enter the Civil Affairs Bureau. If you take me there, do you believe I will tell the staff there to arrest you?”

Raven raised his beautiful eyes and said, “Are you really not going?”

“No.” North refused.

She looked over. Seeing this scene, her breathing became rapid and her pupils constricted violently. “Give me the phone!” North reached out and took the phone.

But Raven raised his hand again, his thin lips curved into a faint curve, “You should think about whether to go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get the certificate or not.”

After speaking, he turned and left.

“Raven!” North quickly stood up. She slammed the table, and the script on the table fell on the floor. She chased after and grabbed his sleeve, “I’ll go! Isn’t it just to get the certificate? I’ll go. I promise you everything!”

Chapter 979

Chapter 979 Go take a bath

This answer was within Raven’s prediction. He didn’t stop but reached out his big hand to hold North’s soft, slightly cold hand, pulling her away.

“I brought your household registration book. Do you have your ID card with you?” He asked.

North nodded forcefully: “Yes.”

“Can you ask your lawyer to withdraw the lawsuit? When you were 18 years old, you did it voluntarily. I can’t stay ten steps away from my wife, right?”

“Yes, I will call the lawyer.”

They walked out of the studio. There was a long official car waiting outside. The personal secretary respectfully opened the back door.

Raven didn’t show any emotion, saying, “The new house is ready. After we get married, we’ll move there. North, I don’t like your job. After ‘Floating Life’ ends, you can leave the industry and become Mrs. Dominos...”

The small hand in his palm suddenly slipped away. Raven stopped walking and turned to look at the girl behind him.

North stood there in despair. The cold wind outside blew against her thin body. Her eyes were red. She looked at him, her voice trembling: "Raven, where... where is my brother? Where is my brother...?"

Raven looked at the tears in her eyes, a little unhappy. He doesn't like her crying because of other men, even her brother.

"I'll tell you when we get married." He raised his thin lips and said.

North slowly stretched out her small hand, "Then give me your phone. I want to see... my brother..."

Raven took out his cell phone and gave it to her.

North clicked on the phone screen and enlarged the photo. It was indeed her brother.

It was just that her brother was lying in an intensive care bed with multiple tubes in his body and an oxygen mask on his face, looking terrible.

Her brother must have been seriously injured. Otherwise, he would definitely come back to look for her.

It's been so many years. If her brother could come back, he would definitely come back.

Her eyes were very hot, big tears kept falling. North gripped the phone tightly, her delicate white knuckles turning white. She slowly squatted down, squatting alone on the street, holding the phone, hugging herself tightly, crying.

Her brother is still alive!

She always felt that her brother wasn't dead, but her guess was far worse than the current scene. It turns out she isn't an orphan. She has relatives in this world. Her brother is actually still alive.

That's the brother who loves her the most.

Raven looked at North. She squatted there alone like a weak little ball of cotton, crying until she could hardly breathe.

Raven walked over, knelt down on one knee, stretched out his big hand to touch her head, treating her as his most beloved little pet.

"Don't touch me!" North's eyes were red. She pushed him away, looking at him with tears in her eyes, "It's all because of you. It's all because of you. You killed my parents, making me an orphan!" "Your mother always liked to scold me. When she saw me, she scolded me. She scolded me for years. Your father is truly shameless, having such bad intentions towards me. The worst are your grandfather and you. You hurt me the most."

many

"You lifted me into the clouds and threw me to the ground. You also took away my rights to be a mother. I don't know if executioners like you are awakened by your own nightmares in the middle of the night. Do you smell blood on your hands?"

"My father and mother are both good people. My brother... My brother was born a proud child of heaven, the brightest star in Los Angeles. But now he is lying in bed sick, can't breathe and has to breathe oxygen... He's a proud person. He must be very sad..."

"Raven, I've always wanted to ask you, what did I do wrong? What did I do wrong? Why do you want to destroy me like this? If I knew the pain of today, even if I had been abandoned and alone all my life, I didn't want to step into the door of the Dominos family and come to your side!"

North squatted in the street, roaring at Raven. She clenched her fist, her bloodshot eyes staring at him. For the first time, Raven saw in her eyes... unforgettable pain and hatred.

For some reason, he always had the feeling that North was clearly in her prime in her twenties, but it seemed like she was gradually withering away.

Raven's narrow eyes had a hint of bright red. He reached out again to hug her trembling shoulders, "North, don't be emotional. Your brother is having a very hard time right now. He needs you. Let's go. You will save him, right?"

North's sore spot was touched and she really hated it. How could she not hate? The Paulo family was devastated, but the man in front of her always seemed so distant, strongly controlling everything. Search the Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"North, it's late now. Wipe your tears. We should go to the Civil Affairs Bureau."

"Raven, why do you have the nerve to marry me now? My brother will be back soon. He will take me away. You will never see me again!"

Raven used his fingertips to wipe the tears from her face, his movements gentle and full of love, "North, what are you talking about

? Maybe Grayson back then could compete with me, but now, can he take you with him ?”

“But as long as you can rest assured to be my wife, your brother will be my brother, and I can listen to him.”

“So do you understand? North, how you treat your brother depends entirely on your attitude toward me.”

“If you treat me well, I will treat your brother well, too. If you’re not nice to me, don’t blame me for being... rude to your brother.”

North tried every way to escape this sinister and despicable man, but she didn’t expect to be captured so easily.

Now that her brother is being oppressed by him, what can she do?

Besides being Mrs. Dominos, what else can she do?

“Raven, you better make sure my brother returns safely. Otherwise... I can’t do anything, but I could make you lose Mrs. Dominos forever.”

Raven took North to the Civil Affairs Bureau, and the two of them successfully got two red books.

North officially became Mrs. Dominos, a wife who was protected by the law.

Raven didn’t return to the company but took her to their new home.

Everything in the new house was designed by Raven himself, and was both warm and luxurious.

A little while after finishing dinner, North put down her chopsticks. The maid quickly said : “Lady, please eat more. You only ate a little.”

North shook her head, “I’m full.”

Raven looked at her from the opposite side and said: “If you don’t want to eat, forget it. Go take a bath.”

Go up and take a bath.

North knew the wedding night was coming.

Chapter 980 Call me honey~

North sat without moving.

Raven raised his eyebrows, revealing a bit of his mature masculine aura, "What? Do you want to take a bath together?"

She stood up and left.

In the master bedroom, the maid mixed rose bath water, then placed a set of pajamas in the bamboo basket, "Madam, you can take a bath and change clothes."

North looked over and saw a beautiful set of classic red silk pajamas with gold trim.

"Okay."

The maid retreated.

North undressed and stepped into the bathtub, letting the pleasant warm water envelop her, looked around for a moment, then stood up.

After wiping away the drops of water on her body, she put on silk pajamas and went out.

When she entered the room, she stood in front of the dressing table, using a hair dryer to dry her long, damp hair.

Just then, the maid's respectful voice rang out from outside: "Sir."

Raven is here.

The next second, there was a "click" sound, the door was pushed open, and Raven's tall body appeared in sight.

He had just showered in the next room. At this time, he was wearing a black silk pajamas. The sleeves of the pajamas had classic red and gold trim, clearly the style of a newlywed groom. The pajama shirt had a V-neck, revealing the protruding Adam's apple and delicate collarbones of a man so young and handsome that it made people blush.

The hair dryer in North's hand stopped. She turned to look at him.

Raven's eyes looked at her, too, red flames dancing in his eyes. He walked in and closed the door.

He moved forward.

North stepped back.

Not long after, he came closer, used his big hand to take her hair dryer, and carried her to the wedding bed.

North closed her eyes, knowing she couldn't escape this. He said he married her not for decoration, but for enjoyment.

But how could she lie under him?

The cause of her parents' death was still unclear and her brother was still in the intensive care bed. She actually married him and now has to sleep with him. Whenever this happens, North especially hates herself.

Walking to the bed, Raven reached out his hand and dropped her beautiful soft body onto the big bed.

Feeling a bit dizzy, North got up and wanted to get out of bed.

But Raven bullied her, using his big hands to tightly hug her soft waist, hugging her forcefully, pressing her under him.

He lowered his eyes and kissed her.

North tried her best to avoid him, "Raven, you can touch me if you want, but take me to see my brother first."

"Stop talking nonsense. Give me a kiss before talking." Raven's voice was hoarse. He found her red lips and kissed her.

"Hmm..." Search the findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North's breath was instantly taken away. He kissed her like a hurricane, not gentle at all, gnawing on her red lips like a beast, then forcefully pried her teeth open, frantically attacking inside.

North's two small hands pressed against his muscular chest, and soon she couldn't breathe.

When she was about to run out of oxygen, Raven let her go.

"Cough."

"Cough cough."

Suddenly inhaling fresh air, she coughed uncomfortably.

Raven

pursed his thin lips and laughed in a low voice, "Sorry. It's been a long time since I was healed, so I couldn't control it."

He said "sorry", but his actions were not apologetic. He pressed her down and kissed her hard, then started unbuttoning her nightgown, saying, "Next, cooperate. I will be gentle."

North frowned, pressed his big hand, "I want to see my brother. I want to see him..."

"Mrs. Dominos, are you sure you want to call another man to our bed on our wedding night?"

North paused for a moment, then clenched her fist, hit him hard twice, and scolded him softly: "Raven, that's my brother. Are you a pervert?"

Raven let her hit him, not hiding at all, and raised his eyebrows viciously: "I'm your brother too. Tell me, who do you love more? Me or Grayson?"

"..." North really thinks he is a pervert, a psychopath!

Seeing that she didn't answer, Raven frowned and said: "I heard that you and your brother used to have a very good relationship. Won't anything happen when he returns?"

North was angry because every word he said was harsh. She said, "Raven, you are not allowed to use such dirty thoughts to speculate on my brother!"

Her brother, her brother. Raven feels that the only brother in her heart right now is Grayson, so who is he?

Raven will never let himself be disgraced, even though he is feeling a crisis right now.

“Okay okay, your brother is a good guy, and I’m a bad guy who likes to bully you, okay?” For the first time, Raven felt the buttons of her nightgown getting in the way. So he rudely reached out and tore off North’s pajamas.

The girl’s delicate white skin immediately appeared before his eyes. Raven’s eyes turned red with excitement. He bent down, buried his head in her rosy neck, and said in a low voice: “Hmm, I don’t care who your brother is. Mrs. Dominos, please change your calling and call me honey~”

That day when he and Elvis talked on the phone, Olive sweetly called Elvis “Honey”. At that time, he thought to himself that sooner or later North would call him that.

“No! I don’t want to call! Raven, let me go. You’re too heavy. You’re hurting me. I’ll sue you for... marital violence!”

The girl below kept squirming, their clothes were all thin. Raven was young, healthy, physically strong, and full of lust at that age. Now he just felt the boiling blood running through his body.

His kisses covered her neck. He kissed straight down, “Mrs. Dominos, don’t take out your anger on the Dominos family.”

North’s eyelashes trembled, quickly raising her red lips, she retorted: “So why did you in still hatred for the Paulo family in me in the first place?”

Raven was stunned.

North looked at the ceiling above her head, the smile on her lips grew bigger and bigger, “What happened to me before? Now you say I’m naive, but when I was 18 years old, I was more naive. You were not merciful to me back then, so what right do you have to tell me to be merciful now?”

Raven placed his hands on her sides, lifting him up and looking down at her.

North suddenly reached out with her small hands to hug his neck and said intimately: “Raven, there were times when I really doubted whether you loved me. Now tell me, do you love me?”

“If you love me, can you take me to see my brother now? My brother is still lying in the hospital bed. I’m really worried about him. Even if you don’t love me, you should compensate our family, right?”

“Also, my parents’ car accident was caused by your Dominos family. You know better than anyone, right? If you love me, you will help me put the murderers in prison to avenge my father and mother, right?”

Chapter 981

Chapter 981 North, I can't let myself have nothing.

"Raven, these two requests of mine aren't too much, right?"

Raven knew that these two requests weren't excessive, but...

He looked at her with his dark eyes and said nothing.

North was silent for a long time waiting, from disappointment to despair, just like the way she loved him, from waiting to despair.

"Haha."

North smiled softly, then slowly closed her eyes. She suddenly realized that it no longer mattered whether Raven loved her or not.

If he loves her, then his love is no better than this.

Seeing her smile, the hole in Raven's heart grew bigger and bigger. He lowered his head and gently touched her red lips.

This time he kissed her very gently, as if afraid of hurting her.

"Raven, let me go. Our marriage is already an agreement. Now let's talk about the deal. You let me see my brother first, then I'll let you touch me!"

"No," Raven refused, "You are not in a position to negotiate this deal. I will let you meet your brother, but I need to... check the goods first."

The word "check" made North's small face both red and white. She began to struggle, her small hand touched the pocket of his nightgown, and something fell out of it.

She looked over and saw that it was a small bottle used for lubrication.

He brought this.

North raised her hand to throw away the small bottle.

But Raven was faster, using his long fingers to grab her wrists, locking them above her head, then lifting her clothes up... Search the Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North's whole body trembled in pain. When he let her go, she bit his shoulder.

"Ah."

Raven groaned. He quickly reached out and hugged her, "North, be good. This is a husband and wife duty. I've wanted you for a long time..."

North's head hit the headboard next to her. When her body was about to escape his control, he pulled her back. She felt like a small boat on the sea, the whole world was shaking.

She was in pain and discomfort, but was imprisoned by his iron-hard arms. This feeling made her want to cry.

In the end, she really cried. Raven licked every tear on her face, then kissed her, swallowing her sobs...

It was unknown how much time passed, Raven turned over, closed his bright red eyes, his throat rolled up a few times to suppress the deadly feeling.

Now the room was dimly lit, filled with warmth. He raised his hand to cover his red eyes, suddenly feeling like a gentle hero's grave.

He stood up and looked towards North. She moved, her soft and beautiful body tilted to the side. She raised her slender arms to hug herself, her black tea-colored curly hair scattered seductively across the bed sheets. By the way, her clothes didn't cover her body. Her lively appearance made people feel like she had just been raped.

Raven put on his pants and went into the bathroom. He didn't bother taking a shower and used a towel to wipe his body.

North closed her eyes, breathing weakly. She was so bullied by him that she didn't even have the strength to move her fingers.

Raven wiped the sweat from her forehead and suddenly smiled, "If you sue me now for abusing you, I think you can win."

North's skin was covered with marks that he had pressed out. He feels he did nothing unfair. Maybe he really does have violent sexual tendencies in his bones.

North's eyelids trembled and she opened her eyes. She had just cried, her eyes were watery, lonely. She looked like a poor kitten, nothing can compare to her in the eyes of men. She asked, "Is that enough? Can you take me to see my brother?"

Her voice was hoarse.

Raven was unmoved, "Stay with me tonight. Tomorrow, I will take you to see him."

"You..."

"Do you want to see your brother in this look now? Go look in the mirror. It's written all over your face that you just slept with a man."

"..." North closed her eyes.

She was really tired and had no strength left. Soon, she fell asleep.

Raven cleaned her up, went to the bathroom to wash up, then returned to the bed and hugged her.

At this moment, there was a "ding" sound. There was a text message on his phone.

He opened the message, the content inside was very simple: "Grayson hasn't been found yet."

Raven put the phone down. Just now, North kept asking to see Grayson. It's not that he didn't take her to see him, it's that he couldn't find Grayson.

He was vile and shameless because he used a photo from the past to trick North into marrying him and becoming Mrs. Dominos.

Grayson has been missing for many years, and the photo on his phone is from a long time ago. Grayson was seriously injured and paralyzed in bed for several years. At that time, the doctor said that he had a chance to survive. The recovery was fragile but one day, Grayson suddenly disappeared in the hospital and his whereabouts have been unknown since then.

Grayson is Ezra's son. He has been an arrogant person since childhood, joining the military as a teenager and becoming the top executive of Blood Wings.

Blood Wings is a special force. It is said that they all have three black slashes on their faces and look like ghosts. During those years, this special force repeatedly destroyed human trafficking groups, organ selling groups, drug groups and wiped out almost all criminal bosses. Hearing that made people shudder.

No one had ever seen this Blood Wings army. It is said that everyone who saw this army died.

The senior commander of this Blood Wings force, i.e. Grayson, is both good and bad. Everywhere in the military, political and judicial circles there are legends about him.

When something happened to the Paulo family, Grayson secretly returned to the country, but Old Master Dominos and Tobias betrayed Grayson, causing him to be attacked by dark forces along the way.

Everyone said Grayson was dead, his death certificate was also published. With his disappearance, Blood Wings disappeared from everyone's sight, too.

The gangster world fell into silence.

It has been silent for many years.

Raven wanted to smoke a cigarette, but remembered that North didn't like the smell of cigarettes on him, so he held back and lowered his head to look at the small face in his arms.

Her brother Grayson is a man of extraordinary talent. He assumed Grayson was still alive. However, as the highest executive of Blood Wings, he can't return to North because his appearance would cause chaos in the world that has been peaceful for many years, and would also bring unpredictable dangers for North.

However, Raven could already smell Grayson's aura.

He felt that Grayson was on his way back.

North's second request was to bring her parents' murderers to justice, but he couldn't.

"Causing a car accident and betraying the supreme leader isn't enough for the Dominos family."

Raven's fingertips caressed North's face with lust and love. He whispered softly, "North, I can't let myself have nothing. Because if I have nothing, what else can I use to keep you?"

Chapter 982

Chapter 982 North cooked love soup

When North woke up, Raven had already left and went to the company.

She sat up, her body was still aching, but he had given her medicine, which relieved some of the discomfort and pain.

North felt something leaking heavily between her legs. After all, her body was damaged and she couldn't get pregnant, so Raven had nothing to worry about or restrain.

She picked up the phone and called him.

The melodious cell phone ringing rang for a while, someone picked up the phone, but it wasn't Raven. It was his personal secretary, "Hello, ma'am, are you looking for the president?"

"Yeah, where is he?"

"Madam, the president has a very important meeting today. He's a bit busy..."

"So he doesn't have time to answer my call?"

"Well..."

North hung up the phone.

At Dominos group.

In the president's office, Raven was sitting in an office chair, looking up at his personal secretary. The embarrassed private secretary pointed to the "beep" busy signal, and said in a low voice: "President, your wife seems to be angry."

"I heard it." Raven curled his thin lips.

"President, now we..."

"Let's go to the meeting." Raven strode towards the damn meeting room.

The private secretary quickly followed.

In the conference room, Raven was sitting in the main chair. At this moment, a soft voice entered his ear, "President, here are the meeting documents."

Raven raised his head and glanced. In front of him was an extremely beautiful woman, wearing a black business suit, a white shirt underneath that covered her round breasts, and a very beautiful butt. She wore high heels and... black stockings.

"President, this is June, the newly appointed public relations director." At this time, the personal secretary spoke in a low voice.

June raised her red lips and looked at Raven with electricity in her eyes, "Hello, president. Please give me advice in the future."

Raven didn't show any signs. He calmly withdrew his gaze, his expression cold and reserved.

June returned to her seat, her bright eyes looking at Raven as if looking at her prey.

She investigated everything and discovered that the cold and abstinent man in the main position actually had some depraved sexual preferences.

Having worked in public relations for many years, June interacts with men the most. She saw too many men, some of whom were like Raven, neatly dressed on the outside but looking like beasts when he took off his clothes.

She can definitely win over this man!

The meeting ended at noon, and Raven returned to the president's office.

At this time, there was a knock at the door, and June's delicate voice came from outside the door: "President, I have a document for you to sign."

"Come in." Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

June pushed the door in, twisted her water snake-like waist and walked towards Raven: "President, this is the document."

Raven reached out and picked it up.

But the next second, June loosened her grip and the document fell to the carpet.

"I'm sorry, president. I will pick it up immediately." June knelt down and picked up the document.

Three buttons of her white shirt were undone before she entered. With such a squatting position, her plump curves were ready to appear.

It was a naked seduction.

June was picking up the document when a shiny black leather shoe caught her eye and stepped on the document she was about to pick up.

June immediately raised her head, looking at his shiny leather shoes, his black pants, his strong waist tied with a black belt, his white shirt, and at his handsome face.

She didn't know when he turned his chair to face her.

"President, you stepped on my file~" June winked.

Raven looked at her condescendingly, glanced at her plump breasts, his thin lips curled up into an arc that looked like he was smiling: "Stop beating around the bush. Tell me what you want."

Stop beating around the bush...

June was delighted when he said these words so lazily and cruelly. He really understood.

"President, I don't want to do anything. I just... feel a little itchy. So... will you whip me twice with your belt?" June gracefully stood up.

Raven raised his eyebrows and said, "I've met a lot of lustful women but this is the first time I've seen someone like you come to my door for sex."

"President, it's just the two of us here, so you don't need to pretend. Don't you like playing strange games? I'll play with you~" June said as she sat on Raven's lap.

He didn't immediately push her away. He was still interested and asked: "Who told you that I like to play strange games?"

"It's been spread around the world. Do you only like to play with Paulo the superstar and not with me?" June raised her hand to caress Raven's handsome face.

Raven turned and avoided it.

The next second, the office door was pushed open, and the private secretary's worried voice rang out: "Madam, the president is busy. I will go in first to announce..."

Raven raised his head and immediately saw the beautiful figure next to the door. North is here.

The private secretary was stunned. He looked at June who was sitting on the president's lap, then at North, then scratched his head in embarrassment: "Haha, haha, well... Madam, don't misunderstand..."

North stood at the door, her seductive dark eyes looking at Raven's handsome face, "It seems Mr. Dominos is really a busy man, busy talking about work with his female subordinate in the office. Looks like I came at the wrong time. Mr. Dominos, I bothered you."

Raven quickly stood up, but June was still sitting on his lap. As soon as he stood up, she immediately fell onto the carpet.

Her butt touched the ground, she smiled painfully, looking extremely embarrassed.

Raven stretched out his long legs, striding in front of North. He looked at her with submissive eyes, curled his lips and smiled: "North, why did you come here?"

The personal secretary somehow saw a bit of flattery on his CEO's face.

North raised the thermos in her hand, "I made you soup myself, I was going to give it to you, but it seems you don't need it anymore, Mr. Dominos. How can soup at home be as fresh and delicious as soup outside?"

North gently glanced at June inside.

Raven glanced at his personal secretary, "Take her away. I don't want to see her again after this."

"Yes, President."

The private secretary quickly took June away. He thought, "Miss, you really want to die. You can seduce men outside as you please. Why did you think of seducing the president? He is now married!"

The office was clean. Raven held the thermos, grabbed North's small hand, and invited her to sit in his office chair.

"North, I didn't expect you to come to the company to find me."

"Mr. Dominos, you had fun last night. This morning you pulled out your dick and left. You didn't answer my phone call. It was so cruel. I'm afraid you won't admit it after you put on your pants, so I'm excited to make love soup and come visit you~" North said, looking at him angrily.

Chapter 983

Chapter 983 Do you want me to be alone in an empty room on the second day of the wedding?

North was sitting in the president's office chair, Raven standing next to her. Hearing that, he held the table with one hand, bent his tall body down and kissed her forehead, "Mrs. Dominos, you really know how to joke."

North curled the corners of her mouth, "What I said is all true. Men are all the same. Once they have something, they no longer value it. You're bored after sleeping soundly, of course you find women outside attractive, let alone you really like to sneak around."

Does he like to sneak around?

Raven chuckled, "Mrs. Dominos, you really like to slander dirty things on me. Let me ask you, when did I sneak?"

"Didn't you look at that beautiful female subordinate's breasts and butt just now?"

Well...

Raven couldn't argue because he really looked at her.

He just took a look, not so flustered that he didn't dare admit it. He reached out and pincched North's small chin, "Mrs. Dominos, I'm not blind. If she lets me look at them, I'll look. If I don't look, I'll feel guilty. Looking at her, I feel she is not as beautiful as you, Mrs. Dominos. Be good. I don't mean to cheat in marriage."

"Bam", North forcefully pushed his large palm away, "It's okay if you cheat, Mr. Dominos, as long as you're happy."

"Mrs. Dominos, I think you're jealous. This is you causing trouble for me. If you don't falsely accuse me of having perverted hobbies, how can I provoke those crazy women? You cause trouble, so don't be angry."

North blinked, her seductive black eyes showing a hint of tenderness, "Mr. Dominos, did I really set you up? Do you want me to show you the wounds on my body?"

Raven looked at her. Today, she wore a short black dress, with a small fragrant silk scarf around her neck to cover the kiss marks, but he could still vaguely see the kiss marks he left behind.

Last night's scene suddenly appeared in Raven's mind, she was crying in his arms...

His eyes were unusual, becoming dark and intense. North didn't need to guess to know that he was thinking about something unhealthy again. She immediately pushed the thermos over and said, "Do you want to drink the soup I cooked?"

"Yes." Raven opened the thermos and started drinking soup.

"Is it good?"

"Yes, it is."

"After drinking, can you take me to see my brother?"

Raven's expression remained unchanged, only responding with one word: "Okay."

Raven took North to the hospital. She staggered in and tried to open the door to the intensive care room.

But the doctor stopped her: "I'm so sorry, Mrs. Dominos. The seriously injured patient has not regained consciousness yet. He needs sterile care and can't be visited, so you can only stand at the window and take a look."

North's eyes

turned red, she nodded and said: "Okay, I won't go in. I'll stay here and take a look." Before the doctor left, he glanced at Raven and nodded respectfully.

Raven put his hands in his pockets and looked towards North. She was leaning against the small window, tearfully looking at the patient inside, covering her mouth with her small hands, choking several times.

"Brother."

She thought it was her brother in the hospital room.

At this moment, the cell phone in Raven's pocket rang, it was Zhuri calling.

Zhuri was seriously injured at the wedding and was in a coma for a long time. She just woke up two days ago and is still in the hospital.

Raven pressed the button to receive the call, Zhuri's old voice rang out: "Raven, I heard that you and North got the marriage certificate. I couldn't stop you so I accepted. I accepted North as my daughter-in-law. Come on, bring North here. I want to see you guys."

Raven hung up the phone, put it back in his pocket, walked to North's side, raised his hand to touch her head: "Stop crying. Is your brother dead?"

"..." North's eyes looked inward. Her brother was lying in a hospital bed with tubes all over his body. She hadn't seen him for many years. She couldn't bear to turn away when she finally saw him. She sobbed: "Do you know how to talk? My brother is the strongest, he won't die."

Raven snorted softly, a hint of contempt on his handsome eyebrows. Their brother and sister really have a close relationship. Her brother is strong. Her brother is a god. Every one in Los Angeles knows that Grayson is a crazy person who pampers his sister. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Raven took out a square towel and helped her wipe the tears from her face, "Wipe them. I see you're about to turn into a little cat..."

North snatched the scarf and threw it at him, disgustingly reproaching him: "You're too noisy. Go away. I don't want to see you now."

Raven, "..."

He knew that once Grayson returned, North would no longer care about him.

North lay in the small window watching all afternoon, Raven could only stay with her.

At night, she moved and quickly said "Urg".

Raven quickly walked up, his deep voice revealing a bit of urgency, "What's wrong?" North's eyes were swollen from crying, but she was a little happier: "My legs are numb." Raven reached out, picked her up, and took her out of the hospital.

"I don't want to leave. I want to stay here with my brother!" North quickly struggled.

Raven curled his lips and smiled, but his smile was dangerous, "Mrs. Dominos, are you conscious of being a wife? The second day after the wedding, you wanted to leave your husband alone in an empty bedroom?"

"I want to be with my brother!"

“So who will stay with me? Mrs. Dominos, you are mine now!”

“My brother...”

“If you say something about your brother again, do you believe I will pull the tube out of his body and throw him out on the street?”

.” North took a breath and looked at him in horror. He... he’s not human at all!

Raven stuffed her into the passenger seat of the Maybach, buckled her seatbelt, and drove away.

Today North is both happy and sad, and a little tired. Now that she and her brother are reunited, she doesn’t dare offend Raven.

But very quickly she realized that this road wasn’t the way home. She turned and asked: “Where are you taking me?”

“Go to another hospital. My mom wants to see you.”

His mother?

Zhuri?

North’s delicate eyebrows turned cold: “Can I refuse?”

“No.”

“Oh.” North obediently closed her mouth and didn’t speak anymore.

In the hospital.

Zhuri lay on the hospital bed, her face pale as paper. The grudge and the world she had believed in for so long suddenly collapsed, her whole body collapsed, and she looked twenty years older.

North’s small hand was always held by Raven. She obediently stood behind him, coordinating the acting for Zhuri to see.

Zhuri looked at his son, then looked at North: “If you are married, I have nothing to say, but I have a request. I want a grandson!”

Chapter 984

Chapter 984 Raven's surrogate

In fact, North knows Zhuri. Zhuri is a hateful and pitiful woman. When the truth is revealed, she may be tired, but she will never learn to be kind.

So when Zhuri said she accepted her marriage to Raven, North was waiting for her next move. As expected, Zhuri didn't disappoint her. Zhuri said she wanted a grandson.

Raven was emotionless, calmly looked at his mother and said, "Mom, I don't like children. North and I have no intention of having children."

Zhuri patted her thigh vigorously and began to get aroused again: "No. Absolutely no. Raven, how can you cut off your bloodline?"

"I don't ask for anything now. I let you get married, I will also accept North as my daughter-in-law, what else do you want from me?"

"I only have one request for you. I want to hug my grandson. Before I die, I must hug my grandson!"

Looking at Zhuri who was causing trouble, North slightly curled her red lips and sad. M

Dominos, you keep saying that you recognize me as your daughter-in-law, but I heard that you have a big grievance, so I won't bother you... Even if you acknowledge me, I won't acknowledge you. I will always be North, and you will always be a member of the Dominos family."

Zhuri was stunned: "You!"

"Did I say something wrong? It's probably not your fault that your husband misses some one else's wife, Mrs. Dominos, but you took out all your resentment and hatred on an innocent girl, letting her grow up under your shadow. The truth has been revealed. You didn't apologize at all but accepted me with an extremely painful attitude. You forced us to give you a grandson even though you knew I couldn't get pregnant. Mrs. Dominos, do you want me to say thank you?"

North always knew that there would never be a day of reconciliation between her and the Dominos family.

Because they constantly hurt her.

Because they kept adding salt to her bloody wounds.

Obviously, these wounds were cut little by little with knives.

Zhuri was angry. She pointed at North and said: "Raven, look. See for yourself. This is the woman you definitely want to marry. Just entering the house on the second day, she, as the daughter-in-law, dare to disobey the mother-in-law. I'm not dead yet!"

Raven held North's small hand tightly in his palm and said, "Mom, you're done. We're going home." "Raven!" Zhuri angrily beat her chest, "You can't leave. If you don't agree today, I will die now!"

"My life is miserable. The husband I have been married to for so many years is a dark beast. I hope my child grows up but he doesn't listen to his mother and only protects his wife. So what hope do I have in life? Why don't I just die?"

Zhuri lifted the blanket. Her legs have been disabled for a long time. She struggled hard and fell off the bed.

"Bang!"

"Mrs. Dominos!" Medical staff quickly approached. The hospital room was in chaos.

At this moment, North felt the large hand holding her loosen. Raven stepped forward, helped Zhuri stand up, and said in a deep voice: "Mom, that's enough!"

"Raven," Zhuri pulled Raven tightly, "Give me a grandson. North can't give birth to a child on her own. I think if she really loves you, she will definitely agree."

"This won't affect your marriage. I have already made arrangements. I have found a surrogate."

At this moment, there was a "click" sound, the hospital room door was pushed open, and a young girl walked in.

That girl is 20 years old, has long black hair, wears a white dress, and is young. Zhuri personally chose her, her butt is very beautiful, and it looks like she will give birth to a boy.

"Mrs. Dominos, what's wrong with you?" The surrogate girl quickly stepped forward and obediently helped Zhuri. Search the findηOvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At this moment, her small hand accidentally touched Raven's large palm. The surrogate girl raised her head and glanced at him, then retracted her small hand as quickly as lightning, her beautiful little face turning red.

That girl was clearly attracted to Raven in just a blink of an eye.

North stood there without moving forward, indifferently looking at this scene, feeling like she was superfluous.

Zhuri grabbed the surrogate girl's small hand and said, "Reagan, that's North. Later, you will return with my son and North, and can rest assured to serve him. From now on, you can call her North. You two sisters should treat each other well. Get along with him and try to give birth to a cute son for our Dominos family as soon as possible."

North felt disgusted with Zhuri, a mother who wanted her son to enjoy the blessings of others. Reagan looked up at North with her big eyes. Compared to her shyness and timidity just now, she now looked at North with fear, as if North was a bad woman bullying her, "Sis... Sis...."

North's slender back was always straight, she curled her lips coldly, "I agree to the surrogacy." Zhuri was delighted.

Raven's gaze fell on her face.

"Actually, it doesn't matter whether I agree or not. You decide for yourself. I can't provide sperm anyway."

"But next time, there's no need to call me if anything happens. Although I know that informing me is the greatest respect you can show me."

"Also," North glanced at Reagan, "You don't need to call me sister, that's quite disgusting."

Having finished speaking, she left.

After North left the hospital, she stood on the street, took a deep breath of fresh air and then reached out to hail a taxi.

The driver asked: "Girl, where are you going? Are you home so late?"

Go home?

She has never had a home.

No.

She has a family.

She found her brother.

“Take me to the hospital.”

“Okay.”

North arrived at the hospital more than half an hour later. It was very late at night, there was basically no one in the hallway, and only sparse and cold lights illuminated.

She leaned against the small window and looked at Grayson inside. His body was covered by a thick layer of white cloth, making his face basically invisible.

She stretched out her fingers, little by little following her brother's face on the small window.

Her brother is the most handsome man.

Compared to Raven's elegant and handsome appearance, her brother is really a tough guy.

8-pack abs are his standard!

North felt her entire heart calm down. Gradually, her eyes turned red again. She whispered: “Brother, you must quickly heal your wounds. There are too many bad people outside and I can't fight them. Brother, please wake up so you can protect me...”

No one answered her.

There was only silence and loneliness..

North sat on the ground, bent her legs, hugged her with her long arms, and closed her eyes.

Raven saw this when he arrived.

She fell asleep in front of her brother's room.

Chapter 985 Raven, don't bite me

Raven's heart suddenly ached. He stepped forward, knelt down on one knee, then slowly raised his hand to touch North's face.

North seemed to feel his presence in her sleep. She quickly squinted her beautiful eyebrows, her whole body seemed to shrink. She avoided his touch and pressed her body against the door of the hospital room, as if this hospital room could give her a feeling of complete safety.

"Bro..." She blurted out this word in her sleep.

She called Raven brother too before, but this time, he knew she was calling Grayson.

His fingers froze in midair. He looked at the closed door of the hospital room in front of him. She had absolutely no idea that the person inside wasn't Grayson.

At this time, the doctor quickly ran over and said in a low voice: "Mr. Dominos, Mrs. Dominos can only sit here and look at the window without going in. We are very careful. She didn't suspect that the person inside was fake."

Raven nodded, moving his thin lips, "If she suspects, you doctors won't need to exist anymore, you know what I mean?"

The doctor broke out in a cold sweat: "Yes, of course I understand!"

Raven reached out, picked up North and left the hospital.

He felt like

North was like a treasure he was holding tightly in the palm of his hand, and the only person left who could hold her was Grayson.

Once she knows that Grayson is fake and he used the photo to trick her into getting married, she will truly be out of his grasp.

He couldn't let this happen.

Raven hugged North and left. The doctor stood there trembling, looking at them leaving. At this moment, in the darkness, a figure appeared. That person took out his cell phone and dialed a number, "Hey, old master..."

O

When North opened her eyes, she was back in the master bedroom of the mansion, it was early morning and the sun was shining brightly and warmly.

She moved and then realized she was lying in a large and warm chest.

North raised her head, Raven's handsome face appeared in her sight.

He hadn't woken up yet, holding her while she slept. It's probably past eight o'clock now. This was the first time he woke up so late.

North reached out to push him, wanting to leave his arms.

At this moment, the strong arms holding her waist suddenly tightened, and above her he heard the hoarse voice of a man who had just woken up, "Are you awake? Don't move. Sleep with me for a while."

North raised her eyes to look at him. He hasn't even been lazy and hasn't opened his eyes yet. She said, "Mr. Dominos, the sunlight is shining on your ass. Didn't you say you would work hard and make money for me?"

Only then did Raven open his eyes. He stared at her with his bright black eyes, "Mrs. Dominos, you only remember half of what I said. Besides supporting you and making money, I remember I also said I would... sleep with you twice as much."

After speaking, he turned over and pressed her underneath him.

Her long dark brown seaweed hair scattered lazily on the pillow. North, who had just woken up, had a more elegant and seductive appearance. She frowned and said: "Mr. Dominos, stop messing around..."

"Who's messing around?" Raven pulled her hand down, straightening his strong waist, "It has been clamoring all night here. Did you forget that today is our third day of wedding?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North avoided his hot and aggressive breath, "Mr. Dominos, it's daytime. Don't make a mess."

Raven unbuttoned her pajamas with his one hand and put his other hand on the pillow.

www

North saw him quickly take out the bottle of medicine, knowing she couldn't avoid it. She trembled, closed her eyes and stopped struggling.

Raven's fingers caressed her beautiful skin. The way she lay underneath him was truly seductive.

At this moment, she realized that something was wrong with her body. She immediately opened her eyes and placed her two small hands on his chest, "Mr. Dominos, I have bad news to tell you..."

Raven was in high spirits, raised his bright red eyelashes and glanced at her, "You better not say anything to ruin the fun."

North looked at him with regret and announced: "Mr. Dominos, I'm having my period."

"..." Raven was stunned, his handsome face darkened, "What?"

Looking at his darkened face, North felt happy and said: "Yes, you heard right."

Raven didn't move, his handsome eyebrows furrowed, and he pursed his lips uncomfortably: "Really?"

"I didn't lie to you." North wanted to push him down, "Quickly let me go~"

Raven remained motionless, watching her cunning eyes. He grabbed her slender wrist and pressed on her head, "You're lying. You like to deceive men. How do I know if what you say is true or false? Now let me check."

Check...?

North's handsome face quickly turned red. She gritted her teeth and cursed: "Mr. Dominos, you're such a pervert. Don't touch me!"

Raven used force to squeeze her wrists, not letting her move. He raised his eyebrows, glanced at her warily, then lifted her skirt up...

North felt extremely embarrassed. She used her teeth to bite her red lips, pressing her red face tightly against the pillow. What a pervert!

Raven is a super pervert!

"Have you seen enough? Let me go!" She kicked him.

Raven fell on top of her, burying his handsome face in her rosy neck, inhaling the scent of her body. Then, he grabbed her earlobe and bit it, not knowing whether it was because he was dissatisfied or angry or because he wanted to hurt her.

It's hurt.

“Ah.”

North gasped in pain: “Raven, don’t bite me!”

He let go and said three words into her ear with a low, hoarse voice, “I... want... you...”

North quickly pushed him away, then stood up and went to the bathroom.

She was in the bathroom adjusting herself, her earlobes were still red. Her one ear was bitten by him, and her other ear heard dirty words from him.

He has no limits and can say anything.

When North opened the bathroom door, Raven was still lying in bed, not getting up. His eyelids were scarlet, his trousers were unbearable to look at, and his face was red.

She took the blanket and threw it into his pants to cover them, avoiding hurting her eyes: “Mr. Dominos, there’s no game to play. Why don’t you get up?”

Raven didn’t respond. Obviously he was unhappy and didn’t want to pay attention to her .

At this time, there was a knock on the door, and a timid voice rang out outside the door: “Sir, ma’am, breakfast is ready.”

North somehow felt that this voice was familiar. Oh, she remembered now, that was the girl Reagan that Zhuri sent to give birth to Raven’s child.

North looked at Raven on the bed, then raised her red lips with interest, “Mr. Dominos, let me help you open the door and let Reagan in to serve you

Chapter 986

Chapter 986 North, don’t you want to have children?

Raven reached out and pulled her into his arms, “Even though I can’t do anything to you , you’re itchy, right?”

North raised her delicate willow-leaf eyebrows and said: "Mr. Dominos, it seems you won't accept Reagan. So what about your mother? If your mother really wants a grandchild urgently, then you will become an ungrateful son."

Raven kissed her small cheek, "You don't need to worry about my mother and Reagan. In two days I will deal with her. Instead of spending so much time caring for other women, you should pay more attention to your husband."

North said nothing, then the knock on the door rang again. Reagan said: "Sir, ma'am, are you awake?"

North reached out and pushed Raven away, "I'm hungry. I'll go downstairs for breakfast."

She went to open the door. Outside the door was Reagan wearing a maid uniform, with a pure and beautiful figure. Seeing that the door was still not open, she was a little worried and raised her hand, wanting to continue knocking.

When North opened the door, Reagan was stunned, quickly smiling angrily, "Madam... ma'am, are you awake?"

As he spoke, Reagan looked past North into the master bedroom.

North raised her red lips and asked, "Do you really want to go inside?"

Reagan timidly looked at North: "Madam, I... came here to complete my mission. You can't have children. If your husband and I get together soon, I can give you a healthy son."

North raised her hand to brush the hair from her cheek and said lazily: "Do you have to stay with him? You can also take my eggs and be a surrogate."

Reagan was stunned.

North calmly looked at her, "A surrogate wants to climb into the owner's bed, wants to sleep with him and wants to give birth. So after the child is born, the next thing is that the mother will be more valuable, and there are many things for you to think about."

North's words were gentle, but full of irony. The female star's temperament is absolutely not something Reagan can tolerate. Reagan's face turned pale, she said: "Madam, I..."

"I was just joking," North interrupted her, took two steps forward, leaned into her ear and whispered: "Don't worry. I will never put my child in the belly of someone like you."

Having finished speaking, North left.

North went downstairs, just as the maid handed over the express box: "Madam, this is the package I received for you this morning."

North received the box, then a melodious cell phone ringtone rang out, signaling a call.

That was a call from her best friend, Olive.

During this time, Olive was studying medicine. It is said that she even went to the sea to find a valuable medicine. They haven't contacted each other for a long time.

North pressed the call button: "Hello, Olive."

"North, did you receive the express delivery?"

North looked at the express delivery box in her lap, "Yes, I just received it. What's in it?"

"My latest medical achievement. It's for you."

"I'm not sick, what medicine should I take?"

"North, don't you want to get pregnant again?" Olive asked back.

North's eyelids trembled, and suddenly understood that Olive's journey to find herbal medicine for medical research was all to treat her infertility.

Only her best friend knows the deepest pain in her heart.

"Olive, don't worry about me. The doctor said it was difficult for me to get pregnant again..."

"North, are you talking about the word doctor in front of me? Having difficulty conceiving doesn't mean you are 100% unable to conceive. I have examined you and know your physical condition very well. The medicine in the box is one pill a day. It can work miracles."

North lowered her beautiful thick eyelids, didn't say whether she wanted to drink or not.

Olive didn't force her. A good friend can offer her a choice, not choose for her. She said, "North, I can't make it back recently. You and Raven are married. Do you need any help?"

North shook her head: "No, I don't."

“Really?”

North hugged the box, raised her head to look at the bright sunlight outside the floor-to-ceiling window, “Really not. Olive, it’s not that I can’t fight them, it’s that I still have some thing to care about... If this care disappears, then I won’t be able to defeat them.”

After North left, Reagan couldn’t wait to get into the master bedroom. She saw Raven’s tall, handsome figure.

He stood up, his black silk pajamas loose on him. The man who just woke up handsome.

looked incredibly

Reagan’s face turned red and she stepped forward: “Sir, do you need me to help you get dressed?”

Raven didn’t look at her. He went straight to the bathroom and started taking a cold shower.

Reagan was stunned on the spot. Anyway, men’s indifference is the biggest denial and humiliation for women. She was considered non-existent, her face turned pale.

Reagan pulled up the hem of her shirt, then walked over to make the bed.

She quickly stopped because she saw blood on the bed sheet.

North got her period today.

Reagan was overjoyed, North got her period, then... her good opportunity would come!

There are actually two ways for her to become a surrogate. The first way is to sleep with Raven and give birth to her and Raven’s child. The second way is to take North’s eggs and put them in her belly to give birth. She doesn’t want to give birth to someone else’s child so of course, she chooses the first option.

Furthermore, Zhuri was still silently hinting that she would choose the first option. Zhuri supported search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

her so she wouldn’t be afraid.

Now that North was on her period, Reagan felt she had to act quickly. Thinking of Raven’s young and strong body, still in his prime, Reagan felt hot inside.

In the bathroom.

Raven took a cold shower then came out, wiped away the drops of water on his body and put on clothes. At this moment, his cell phone rang and there was an incoming call.

It was Zhuri calling.

Raven pressed the button to connect, "Hi mom."

"Raven, you promised to bring Reagan home, but have you touched her yet?" Zhuri asked very worriedly.

He said expressionlessly: "No."

"Why not yet? Raven, then you can take North to the hospital so the doctor can take her eggs. This way, the child born by Reagan the surrogate will be yours and North's. You shouldn't object to this method, right?"

Raven frowned slightly, "This method doesn't work."

"Why not?" Zhuri said, "Raven, doesn't North agree? What does she mean? She can't give birth herself but won't accept a surrogate?"

"After the egg is taken out, it is her child, too. If she doesn't agree with this method, does she want to push you to Reagan's bed, so that you can have a child with Reagan?"

Chapter 987

Chapter 987 She was crazy jealous

"So if North thinks so, what are you waiting for? Hurry and give me a healthy grandson!" Zhuri urged.

Raven didn't have the patience to hear these words, "Mom, I still have things to do. I'll hang up first."

He hung up the phone.

Raven went downstairs. He saw North standing at the floor-to-ceiling window, holding a box in her hands. It was unknown what she was thinking.

Raven walked over and hugged her from behind, "What's in the box?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North hugged her box tightly: "Do you want to check the things Olive gave me?"

"I guess you guys are not best friends but lesbians," Raven said.

Based on what?

Did he really suspect that she was in a relationship with Olive?

North finds his possessiveness terrifying. Furthermore, he is also a very jealous person. He will be jealous of people regardless of gender. Last time, he said dirty things about her and her brother, this time, it was Olive. She can't have anyone but him by her side.

"Did your mother just call you?" North raised her eyebrows and asked.

"Yeah."

"What did she say?" She asked with great interest.

"She didn't say anything. She just said I don't need to touch Reagan. They will take your eggs and let Reagan carry our child."

North tilted her head to look at him, seeing his dark eyes staring at her.

"Mr. Dominos, do you want to use this method?"

Raven didn't say his opinion, but his voice was more gentle: "North, it depends on you, too, Do you want to be a mother?"

"We had a child before, but that child had an accident and abandoned us. Now we can bring that child back."

Raven's big hand placed on her flat stomach, gently rubbing it back and forth.

North looked at him for a few seconds and then said: "Mr. Dominos, are you serious? Raising children is not raising animals. Of course you don't have much affection for animals, let alone children. I remember you never wanted to have children before. Are you ready to be a father?"

Raven

looked at her beautiful black eyes, nodded and said: "North, I'm ready. I'm also not young anymore, Let's have a child and settle down. I will definitely like the baby you give birth to. I will be a good father. Maybe the first time I couldn't do a good job as a father, but I will try my best. In the future, I will be a good father and a good husband."

North seriously listened to his words, suddenly curled the corners of her mouth and laughed, "Hahahaha".

She was actually laughing, shaking with laughter in his arms.

Raven frowned.

At this moment, North stopped, raised her eyebrows at him, "Mr. Dominos, what you just said touched me very much, but what should I do? I want to have a baby, but I can't."

North pointed to her stomach: "Isn't it ironic? When I was pregnant, you didn't want me to get pregnant, but you told me you would be a good father when I couldn't conceive."

As she spoke, she reached out to push him away. She coldly straightened her skirt: "Okay, Mr. Dominos, I heard your joke. Let's go have breakfast."

North turned and walked into the restaurant.

Raven was stunned on the spot, watching her beautiful figure leave. It turned out that what he just said was just a joke to her.

Raven put his hands in his pockets, thinking he was being ridiculous. In fact, this child hasn't even been born yet. How can he know whether he likes this child or not, is patient and loving with it, and can be a good father? He was actually joking just now. He's just ...

He really wants a child. He just longs to have a child.

He wants a child for him and her.

Because he knows she will be a good mother.

Once she has a child, she will never leave the child without a father, so that she can be by his side forever. He could use this child to tie her down.

The child has nothing to do with him but just because it is hers.

However, she doesn't want to have children.

She won't even lend him an egg.

Because she no longer wants to have children with him.

Reagan received a phone call from Zhuri. She told Zhuri the good news: "Madam, the lady got her period today."

"Really? That's amazing!" Zhuri was extremely surprised, "Raven and North just got married and she is on her period. What a God-given opportunity! Reagan, you must seize it. Take this opportunity and give me a child as soon as possible."

"Yes, ma'am. I will definitely try my best."

Now Zhuri has returned to the Dominos family. In fact, even though she gave Raven two options, she didn't want North's child at all.

Her grandson being half of the Paulo family is the greatest irony for her.

Zhuri hung up the phone and looked at Old Master Dominos on the sofa: "Dad, everything will go smoothly today."

Old Master Dominos took a sip of tea, "I don't want to, but... yes."

"Dad, what do you mean?"

Old Master Dominos' opaque eyes flashed with wise and sharp calculations.

North didn't go out today. She still planned to go to the hospital with her brother. Now her brother is her biggest motivation.

It's about preparation before pregnancy and education during pregnancy. The baby here is so lovely. Lady, do you like boys or girls? Although the madam prefers boys, I think girls are good, too." "By the way, the madam also sent over a lot of body conditioning medicine. She said there was a secret. After taking it, it was easy to give birth to twins. Lady, can I give you twins?"

Reagan's smile was as bright as a flower, as if she had twins in her belly.

North curled her red lips and said: "Wake up. Stop dreaming."

Reagan, "..."

North looked at the book. Sure enough, it was a book about pregnancy and childbirth, and there were even pictures of adorable babies on the cover.

She withdrew her gaze, then turned around and went upstairs to get her bag.

In the master bedroom, North's hand holding the bag suddenly touched something, it was the medicine Olive brought.

North's delicate white fingers paused, the little children in that pregnancy and childbirth book suddenly appeared in her mind, her eyelids slowly lowered. Maybe she should admit that she's jealous.

She is crazily jealous.

Because other women have healthy bodies and can give birth.

But she can't.

She can't be a mother anymore.

Silent for a few seconds, North picked up the small pill bottle, opened the lid, poured out a pill, put it in her mouth and swallowed.

Putting the small bottle of medicine back, she planned to go to the hospital to visit her brother, but then her cell phone rang and a call came in.

The call from Old Master Dominos.

Chapter 988

Chapter 988 Her world collapsed

Since Tobias arrived, Old Master Dominos has been much quieter, but North knows that all the trouble Zhuri caused was secretly suggested and directed by him. It wasn't good at all.

North pressed the button to receive the call: "Hello, old master."

"North, I'm calling because I want to tell you something." Old Master Dominos got straight to the point.

"What's up?"

"About your brother."

North's heart suddenly tightened, a cold and wary light flashed in her eyes.

Mr. Dominos smiled and said, "North, don't worry. The hospital is full of Raven's people. He's doing everything well. Even if I wanted to hurt your brother, I wouldn't have a chance."

North laughed coldly: "So what do you mean by calling me?"

"I mean... Do you think the person in that room is really your brother?"

North's heart was pounding, her soft white fingers tightened on the phone: "What do you mean? Say it clearly! Isn't the person in the room my brother?"

"Whether it's your brother or not is none of my business. Can you go see for yourself?" He said and hung up the phone.

North's small face turned cold when she heard the busy "beep beep" sound. She never suspected that the person in the hospital room wasn't her brother, but the doctors always prevented her from letting her come in.

Now that she thought carefully, she realized there was something unusual. Could it be that the person in the hospital room really wasn't her brother and did Raven lie to her?

North put her cell phone in her bag and went straight to the hospital.

In the hospital.

North leaned against the small glass window in the hospital room door and looked. The person inside was still lying on the hospital bed, everything was still the same.

At this time, the doctor came over and said: "Mrs. Dominos, you are here."

North didn't reveal anything. She asked, "Doctor, how is my brother's condition? When can I visit him?"

The doctor quickly said: "The patient's condition is still not very optimistic. You can't visit him for the time being. Mrs. Dominos, if you can visit, I will let you know as soon as possible."

North carefully observed the doctor's face. When she said "visit him", the doctor seemed a bit alert and urgent. North didn't alarm him at all and just nodded obediently, "Okay, okay, doctor. Thank you."

"Mrs. Dominos, you're welcome." The doctor left with relief.

Next North did nothing. Because as Old Master Dominos said, this hospital belongs to Raven. If he didn't want her to see her brother, he wouldn't let her see him. If she did something, it would easily make people suspicious.

North leaned against the small glass window and watched quietly. It was already dark, the cellphone in her bag rang, it was Raven calling

North answered the phone and said in her usual voice: "Hello, Mr. Dominos."

Raven's deep magnetic voice slowly spoke: "Mrs. Dominos, you've been at the hospital with brother for a day, Can you go home? The rest of your time will be mine."

your

North looked at the clock and said: "Mr. Dominos, it's only six p.m. Are your house rules too strict? Do I have to go home at six p.m.?"

"To set an example, I also go home at six p.m."

"Yeah, not many good men come home at exactly six p.m. Mr. Dominos, you are definitely a good husband."

"I will pick you up."

"No, I already called the car. The car has arrived, Well, let's not talk about that anymore. Goodbye." North hung up the phone.

Hanging up the phone, her eyes turned cold, she turned and left.

"Mrs. Dominos, are you coming home?" The doctor in the hallway saw her and asked.

She nodded and smiled: "Yes,"

The doctors and nurses looked relieved, as if they had finally lifted a burden, "Mrs. Dominos, see you tomorrow."

"See you tomorrow."

North disappeared at the end of the hallway with a normal expression, but she didn't leave but quickly opened the office door and entered.

The nurse's uniform that the nurse had just taken off was hung on a hanger in the office. North took off her coat, put on a white nurse's uniform, put on a hat and mask, then took a notebook and went out

The journey went smoothly, because North calmed everyone down, making them relax t heir guard. She placed her small hands on the door of the intensive care room and pushed the door open with a “click”,

North walked step by step to the hospital bed. She was very close to the person lying on the bed.

“Thump!”

“Thump!”

Her heart was beating wildly.

She didn’t know what she was worried about.

Her small face under the mask was as white as a sheet of paper, her arms, legs and bones all over her body were cold, cold as ice.

She’s here to reveal the secret.

She wanted to see with her own eyes whether the man on the hospital bed was her brother or not.

Raven...

North’s mind suddenly flashed the name Raven. Please, be nice to her, okay?

Don’t lie to her anymore. Don’t disappoint her anymore, okay?

Without her brother, she doesn’t know what she will do next.

North stopped and looked at the patient full of tubes lying on the hospital bed. His face was covered so it couldn’t be seen clearly. Search the findnOvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North slowly raised her hand and lifted the white bandage from the patient’s face.

She saw clearly.

A very unfamiliar face entered her sight.

It wasn’t her brother.

Oh, turns out he was really not her brother!

Even if her brother changed his face and turned into ash, she could still recognize him at a glance. This person is not her brother!

Raven.

He ended up lying to her!

North trembled. She felt her eyes burning, as if burned by some fireball. Something stung in her eyes but nothing fell out.

She should cry.

But she couldn't cry.

North doesn't know how she got out of the hospital. She took a taxi, sat numbly in the back seat, leaned her head against the window, bewilderedly looking at the city scene passing by, completely lost.

At this moment, her phone rang again, and a text message came in.

It was sent by Old Master Dominos.

North clicked, Old Master Dominos texted, "North, what are you thinking? Your brother Grayson is long dead. He died in an explosion, without a single bone left."

"I witnessed it with my own eyes. There was a lot of blood, all from your brother. Oh, by the way, I also saw something, a doll left in a pool of blood."

Old Master Dominos sent a photo of North's favorite doll.

But the doll was covered in dust and a lot of blood, and was left on the ground.

Her mother and father died in a car accident, and her brother secretly returned to the country and brought her her favorite doll.

North slowly knelt down, burying her small face in her knees. She has nothing left. Her world has now collapsed.

Chapter 989

Chapter 989 The bedroom door was locked

The taxi stopped outside the villa. North got out of the car. She felt very cold, like there were cold raindrops falling on her body.

North raised her head, not expecting it to start raining.

The heavy rain made her body cold and sore. A moment later, her clothes were soaked.

She absentmindedly raised her hand to catch the raindrops.

At this moment, a big hand suddenly reached out and grabbed her small hand, an angry voice rang in her ear: "North, what are you doing? How old are you? What's so fun standing in the rain?"

North raised her head. Raven came out.

He was holding a black umbrella. At this moment, the black umbrella was covering her head. He grabbed her small hand and pulled her over, a layer of gloom and discomfort appeared on his handsome eyebrows, "Quickly come in. Don't make me angry."

North was stunned for two seconds, "But I haven't paid the fare yet. I forgot to bring money."

North patted her empty bag.

Raven laughed angrily and paid for her ticket.

When he turned around, the person next to him had disappeared. North left behind his black umbrella and walked alone into the rainy night, slowly walking step by step towards the villa.

Raven froze, his thin lips pursed into an arc.

In the villa.

North went into the master bedroom to take a hot shower. Raven felt a little uncomfortable and searched the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

irritated for no reason. This kind of feeling has been haunting him lately.

Raven took out his cell phone to call the hospital doctor, "Did my wife do anything unusual at the hospital today?"

"No, Mr. Dominos. Today Mrs. Dominos is doing everything as usual at the hospital."

"Got it."

Raven hung up the phone when he heard footsteps on the stairs and North went downstairs.

She had finished showering, put on a sweater, her long, lazy hair was loose, and her skin was no different from usual, just a little pale.

Raven walked over and grabbed her small hand, "Why is your hand so cold? Do you have a cold? I'll get you some cold medicine."

North raised her eyes and glanced at him, "Mr. Dominos, have you noticed that you've become more talkative?"

Raven pinched her cheek then went into the living room to prepare medicine.

North looked at him busy because of her, there was no warmth in her eyes. She turned around and poured herself a glass of water.

At this moment, a voice rang out in the kitchen. It was the servant and Reagan.

The servant said in panic: "Reagan, what did you put in his stew? If he finds out, the consequences will be very serious."

Reagan said: "This is the madam's intention, to improve the master's health. Why do you care so much as a servant? Just pretend you haven't seen anything."

Having finished speaking, Reagan twisted her waist, carried the stew and went out.

As soon as she walked out, she bumped into North and they looked at each other.

Reagan didn't expect North to be outside, so when she put it in the stew, North heard it. Would she tell Raven, ruining her good deeds?

Reagan looked at North worriedly: "Mrs...Mrs..."

North looked at Reagan coldly, then drank water from the cup.

At this time, Raven walked over, took the glass of water in her hand, and gave her cold medicine, "Drink the cold medicine quickly."

"Okay." North didn't say anything about the stew, just obediently took the cold medicine and drank it.

Reagan fidgeted, silently staring at North, afraid she would complain, but strangely enough, she didn't say anything.

She added drugs to Raven's soup but doesn't North care?

Raven is her husband.

North pushed the empty cup to Raven. She raised her hand and lazily brushed her hair from her cheek, "Let's have dinner. I'm hungry."

In the restaurant.

Raven and North began to have dinner. Reagan brought up the stew, giving each person a bowl.

"Miss, this is the soup the madam brought for you. Drink it while it's hot." Reagan said.

Raven looked at North. Recently her appetite hasn't been good. Although she is hungry, she only eats a little white rice.

At this moment, North looked over and curled her red lips, "Mr. Dominos, why are you looking at me? Hurry up and drink soup."

As she spoke, she picked up a small spoon and took a sip of soup. She glanced and praised: "Mr. Dominos, your mother's soup is so good."

Raven picked up the small spoon and took a bite too.

North asked: "Is it good?"

Raven nodded, "Yeah, it is."

After dinner, North went upstairs and said: "Mr. Dominos, you still have to go to the office to work. I will go to bed first."

Raven stretched his strong arms around her slim waist, his thin lips pressed against her face, "I'll go with you."

North raised her delicate willow leaves eyebrows and looked at him seriously: "Mr. Dominos, I'm on my period. I can't sleep with you. Otherwise, it's easy to get gynecological diseases. If you need to, find someone else to sleep with you."

North glanced at Reagan with her seductive dark eyes.

Raven pinched her waist punitively.

North frowned painfully.

The slender, soft girl in his arms cried out. This sound directly made Raven's strong waist tremble. He always felt that North had the potential to become a voice actress but she refused. Once she screams, she can kill a man.

Raven's eyes were dark and intense as he held her in his arms.

"Mr. Dominos, you're so rude and annoying. Please let me go. You're hurting me!" North twisted her water snake-like waist and slipped out of his arms.

Raven wanted to hug her.

But North quickly entered the master bedroom and closed the door.

Raven was rejected, "..."

Was she just trying to provoke him and run away?

Raven placed his hands on his hips, using the tip of his tongue to lick his thin, dry lips. This time, she took the initiative to light the fire first. She knew he was a wolf and couldn't give him any sweetness.

If she took the initiative to flirt with him, she must have punished him.

In the master bedroom.

North knew he was still out there. Her thick eyelashes drooped, the smile on her face became colder and colder.

She reached out and locked the door.

Raven stood outside the door for a moment then went into the study room. He had a bunch of documents to process.

Recently, he worked at 2 p.m and left early, spending a lot of time working at home.

Actually, he wanted to move the documents to the master bedroom so that she could lie on his lap and look at the documents. He always felt that it was a happy married life.

He felt really clingy.

Raven didn't know if he was thinking too much or not, but he felt his throat burn, his body temperature rise. He reached out to pull the tie around his neck.

Chapter 990

Chapter 990 You are not worthy, understand?

Raven sat in his office chair and began reviewing documents.

However, he found himself unfocused.

All that came to his mind was the scene of North flirting with him just now.

Throwing the pen aside, Raven took out a cigarette, held it between his thin lips, used the lighter to light the red flame, and began to exhale smoke, hoping the taste of nicotine would numb him.

At this time, there was a knock on the door and Reagan's voice rang out: "Sir, your coffee is ready."

"Come in."

Reagan pushed the door open and entered. At a glance, she saw the man sitting in an office chair. Blue smoke obscured his handsome face. She couldn't see his expression clearly, but she could vaguely see his frowning eyebrows behind the smoke...

He smoked very quickly, red sparks kept falling. He held a cigarette between his bony fingers, brushing ash in the ashtray. Looking like that, he was so masculine.

Reagan's face turned red, she walked over with coffee in her hands: "Sir, your coffee."

Raven didn't raise his head but coldly curled his thin lips, "Put it down and go out."

Reagan hesitates. She won't leave. Now is a good opportunity.

"Sir, you're tired. Can I pat your back and squeeze your shoulders? I've learned this before." Reagan stretched out her arms.

At this moment, Raven gently lifted his eyelids, glanced at Reagan, and said in a deep, cold voice: "You don't know the rules? Who told you to touch me?"

Reagan's hands stiffened.

Raven smoked a cigarette and gently looked at her, "What good girl will learn to pat a man's back and squeeze his shoulders if she won't do anything? Has my mother had your health checked yet? You're not dirty and you're not sick, right?"

Reagan's face turned pale and she looked at Raven in surprise.

She entered with many expectations and wanted to show off her skills today, but it was clear that this trick was useless against Raven. His humiliation came so suddenly and fiercely, Reagan felt like she had been slapped several times in the face.

Reagan was stunned.

Raven slowly exhaled smoke from his thin lips, his face cold: "Do you know why I brought you home?"

"Because... because of... ma'am..." Reagan stammered.

"I know it's because of the madam. How do you want to handle the matter of having children?" Raven took the time to smoke and look at her leisurely.

Reagan always felt that Raven considered her nothing. Because he didn't look at her, he actually insulted her.

Reagan swore inside that sooner or later she would draw his eyes to her and let him look at her. Now that her wish had come true, he glanced at her several times, but his eyes were cold and contemptuous, as if he was looking at a piece of trash at his feet.

Reagan's throat was dry and she grabbed her maid's uniform, "Sir, I... I... of course will listen to the madam's words. I want to give you a son..."

"Haha." Raven suddenly laughed lightly.

Reagan immediately fell silent, her pretty face turning red. She really didn't know what he said wrong that made him laugh.

In front of this man with money, power and status, Reagan was very tense and self-conscious.

"Are you really that naive? You really didn't think I would want your child, did you?"

“Sir...”

“I don’t dare to have the child you will give birth to. If you give birth to a daughter, she will be just like you. She likes to pat men’s backs and squeeze their shoulders. I’m afraid I won’t be able to hold back and beat her to death. ”

Raven lazily leaned his back against the back of the chair and continued: “It seems like you’re not very smart. I told you everything clearly just now, but it seems you still don’t understand. So now I’ll tell you. Listen carefully. I’ll only say it once. I like good girls. My child can only be born to a good girl. You don’t deserve it, do you understand?”

North is a good girl.

The apple in the eyes of the Paulo family. Raven worships the sun very much. People like him like beautiful things and are always attracted to beautiful women.

Reagan’s body began to tremble. She stood trembling next to Raven, listening to him humiliate her over and over again.

These humiliations were self-inflicted.

“So here’s the problem, how should I resolve it with my mother?” Raven tilted his head and thought for a moment, “The child will definitely be born...”

Reagan’s eyes suddenly lit up. She felt like the whole world suddenly lit up.

The man who said he didn’t want her to have children suddenly changed his mind and wanted her to have children. This was a big surprise.

“Sir...”

“Of course, this child is absolutely not mine. I sent my secretary to find a man...” Raven stopped speaking, looking at her with his cold, deep black eyes.

Reagan’s head was pounding. She felt like she was thrown from heaven to hell again. What was he talking about?

He asked her to give birth to another man’s child?

No.

She doesn't want it! Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

She can only give birth to the little prince of the Dominos family!

She doesn't want to give birth to children for those lowly and poor men. She wants to enjoy glory and wealth, and she, as the mother, is as precious as her child.

"Sir, no. If the madam knew about this..."

"Will you tell her?" Raven asked quietly.

Reagan was silent. She felt terrible things.

Reagan was really scared, her teeth were shaking.

"I'm done talking. From now on, reduce your presence. If you make my wife uncomfortable, my mother won't mind changing people. After all, hens can lay eggs anywhere."

Reagan opened her mouth, wanting to speak, but couldn't say a word. She thought about it, broke out in a cold sweat and left, as if running away.

However, when she walked to the door, his deep voice suddenly rang out from behind her: "What did you add to my soup?"

Reagan stopped and turned to look at him.

He threw half of the cigarette in his hand into the ashtray, shaking his head as if thinking: "This isn't right. You definitely messed with my soup. Tell me, what did you add?"

Raven was very aware of the changes in his body. At this moment, his throat felt like embers, and his whole body was boiling with blood.

The corners of his narrow eyes were tinged bright red. He raised his eyes and looked at Reagan silently and cruelly.

Encountering such eyes, Reagan was so scared that she almost knelt down: "Sir... Sir, this is not my intention. This is the madam's order. I just followed it. She really wants a grandson. So... so I added some drugs to the soup..."

Raven's eyes darkened. A few seconds later, he stood up, left the study, and went straight to the master bedroom...

Chapter 991 She doesn't need you anymore! She doesn't want you anymore!

Raven walked to the master bedroom door, raised his hand to knock, "North! North, open the door!"

Inside there was no sound.

No one answered him.

Raven's handsome face looked as if it was about to drop water, the corners of his eyes were still bloodshot and scary. It's not that he's never used those dirty tricks, but no one has dared to use them on him yet.

Now he felt that his body temperature was constantly increasing, and there seemed to be small bugs crawling in his bones and blood. He felt uncomfortable, so uncomfortable.

He only had one thought. He wanted to meet North!

His well-articulated fingers tapped on the door panel, emitting a sharp, rhythmic sound. He said in a low voice: "North, I know you're inside. Quickly open the door. I want to see you now. Come on!"

Inside was still silent.

Raven waited for a moment, then placed his big hand on the door handle, wanting to open it.

Soon, he discovered that the door was locked from the inside.

Raven is smart. He realized something. North hasn't locked the door in a long time, but now she locks it again. Unless...

"Come here!" At this time, the black-clad bodyguard picked Reagan up and threw her directly onto the carpet.

Reagan knew something was wrong. She knelt on the carpet and begged for mercy, even reaching out to grab Raven's trouser leg, "Sir, sir... please forgive me. This is really the madam's intention. It has nothing to do with me..."

Raven lowered his beautiful but gloomy eyelids and looked at Reagan, "Does my wife know now that you put drugs in there?"

Reagan nodded like an idiot: "Yes, the lady who was drinking water in the living room downstairs. knew about this, but she didn't tell you..."

Speaking of this, Reagan timidly looked at the closed door in front of her. She suddenly realized something: "Sir, didn't your wife open the door for you? I know. She did it on purpose."

"The lady coldly watched you drink the bowl of drugged soup and locked the door. Sir, she really doesn't love you anymore. She abandoned you... Ah!"

Before Reagan could finish her words, she screamed, because Raven raised his foot and kicked her straight in the heart.

"Bam!"

Reagan fell to the ground, spitting out a mouthful of blood.

She struggled twice to move, but her body fell limp. She looked at the man in front of her with frightened eyes. All these years of gentle and elegant disguise haven't yet washed away the dark and sinister things in his flesh and blood. It was so scary.

"What are you waiting for? I don't want to see her anymore!" Raven said coldly.

"Yes, sir." The black bodyguards quickly pulled Reagan away.

Raven placed a hand on his waist and panted, soon he curled his lips into a smile. It turns out she knew all along.

No wonder she flirted with him on the stairs just now. Surely she thought he was a fool!

"North, open the door!" This time Raven didn't even bother raising his hand to knock on the door. He used the tip of his tongue to lick his thin dry lips, smiling faintly and saying: "This shabby door can't stop me. If you take the initiative to open the door now, then I won't argue with you and let this matter pass today!"

Raven's voice wasn't loud, but it was enough to scare people. All the servants in the villa came out, too scared to say a word.

The master has a very bad temper. If he is really angry, the consequences will be very serious.

Inside was still silent.

North didn't respond to him.

Raven raised his hand to touch his short hair, a huge mist and anger filled his chest, making him about to lose control.

She is really a good wife, calmly pushing her husband into another woman's bed like that.

Even though she said she agreed to let him have a child with another woman and would let Reagan take care of him, he didn't take it seriously, thinking she was jealous so she said something angry.

Now he knew what she said was true.

"North, I give you one last chance to open the door. Otherwise you will die tonight, understand?"

"Now I give you three seconds. I'm counting down. Three...two...one..."

Raven slowed down time in "One", but there was no sound inside and he received no response.

Raven's handsome face twitched violently twice, then he raised his foot and kicked the door.

"Bang!"

The loud and deafening sound made the maids so scared that they held their breath.

Oh god.

The angry man standing outside the door was simply scarier than Satan from hell.

After his kick, the door was still not loose. Anyway its quality is still good.

Raven continued to give the door the second kick, the third, and the fourth....

Each of these kicks hit the door with extremely strong force, as if he wouldn't give up until the door was opened.

Just then there was a “click” and the door opened.

Even this door couldn’t withstand the strength of this man.

The door opened, Raven walked in without expression: “North!”

Those maids were scared. With their master’s erratic temperaments, they had to try their best.

Raven indeed intended to teach North a lesson. She was really too stubborn and reckless, but she only relied on his favor.

His chest heaved, his bright red eyes glanced around the room, then quickly stopped because North wasn’t there.

Wherever he looked, she was nowhere to be seen.

Raven was stunned.

The hostility and anger in his heart instantly disappeared without a trace. His heart trembled. He called out, “North! North, where are you? Have you shut up? If you hear me, say it.”

Still no one responded to him.

Raven went to open the bathroom, but there was no one in there...

North was gone.

She disappeared from his sight.

The surrounding area was very quiet, scary quiet. Raven looked everywhere but no one was there.

Reagan’s words just now suddenly echoed in his ears: “She really doesn’t love you anymore!”

“She abandoned you!”

“She doesn’t need you anymore!”

Raven felt like the world was spinning before his eyes. Panic and anxiety rose like a tide, engulfing him.

Several bodyguards dressed in black quickly entered, waiting for orders.

“Go find her! Go find her! Even if the whole city is turned upside down, you must find her!” Raven spat sinister words from his throat, the veins on his forehead bulging.

He discovered something unusual. There was something wrong. Something was really wrong. He was panicking just now, he had to calm down first.

He saw North enter this room with his own eyes. She didn’t leave this room, which meant... she was still in this room.

The bodyguards dressed in black immediately obediently went out and closed the door.

Raven’s dark and sharp eyes scanned every place in the room where she could hide. He tried his best to control his emotions, his voice was deep and hoarse with a bit of coaxing: “North, where are you?”

Chapter 992 The biggest punishment for you is to make you lose me

Raven gently walked on the soft carpet in the room, hesitantly reached out to open the curtains, checking every corner: “North, I know you’re here. You heard me, right?”

“I admit I’m still very angry now. Get out quickly. If you can calm me down, maybe I’ll forgive you easily.”

No one answered him.

The room was always quiet, the only thing echoing was his own voice.

Raven felt inexplicably confused. He was so confused that he searched every corner of the room but couldn't find her.

Where has she gone?

Where is she?

The nerves in his head felt like they could snap at any moment. At this moment, his eyes fell on the wardrobe and he walked over.

Raven reached out to open the wardrobe.

It was filled with neatly ironed clothes, shirts and suits, and at first glance there was no one there.

But Raven's tall and handsome body suddenly stiffened because he found North.

She hid in the closet, cowering into a small ball in the corner. Before he opened the door, the closet was dark without any light, so she quietly hid in there.

Raven's tense mind finally relaxed the moment he saw her. The panic in his heart gradually calmed down. He pursed his lips and said: "North."

North still maintained this position, bending her legs, her arms embracing her knees, closing her eyes as if she were fast asleep.

Raven was angry. His place was chaotic but she slept here.

"North, wake up. Don't sleep anymore!" He reached out to shake her.

The headphones vibrated in her ears and fell off. Her eyelids trembled and she woke up.

She wore headphones when sleeping. It was unknown if she really wanted to listen to music or... she didn't want to hear anything about him.

North opened her eyes, a hint of sleepiness appearing in her eyes. She raised her head and used her hand—sized face to look at him, smiling innocently and saying: "Mr. Dominos, you found me. It seems I'm not good at playing hide and seek."

Raven frowned, "Why are you hiding?"

"I'm afraid your animalistic nature will show. You don't care about my little life and you want to fight with blood and fire~"

"Then why didn't you tell me while I was drinking soup?"

"Oh," North looked cold and lazy, "I just thought it was fun. Mr. Dominos, are you angry?"

She said and laughed. Her laughter giggled like a bell, her eyelashes trembled, "Mr. Dominos, why are you trying to keep yourself here? You enjoyed it so much when Liliana gave you a blowjob. Ah, I almost thought that you are a pure man, and except for me, you have never touched any woman." "I'm dirty. What's wrong with me touching another woman?"

Raven's cold eyes were fixed on her small face. He wanted to see on her face even a little bit of jealousy and sadness, just a trace would be enough, but no, her eyes were cold, only indifferent mockery. search the Find_novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He no longer remembers who Liliana is. When she mentioned her, he had the impression that she was the person most similar to her...

The past can't be reversed. Raven reached out with a slender finger to pinch her small chin, "You didn't care about these things before, why do you care now?"

As he spoke, he stretched out his long arms and carried her beautiful soft body out of the closet, "Take a shower with me."

He urgently needed a cold shower. The drug in his body became stronger and stronger. He felt like his whole body was on fire.

He needed to put out the fire.

"Let me go. If you don't like Reagan, I'll help you call other girls."

"I know a lot of beautiful girls in the entertainment industry. Mr. Dominos, you can't stop them. I think they will line up and wait for you to choose."

Raven stopped, suddenly changed direction, went to the bed and threw North in, pressing on her, "North, you must provoke me like this, right?"

His fingers reached her collar. He didn't have the patience to unbutton her shirt, so he used a rough movement, directly tearing her collar.

Her delicate white skin was exposed to the air. North's eyebrows were cold as ice, her mood wasn't intense at all, she just looked at him calmly, gently saying: "Let me go. I warn you. You better not touch me with your dirty hands!"

She used the word "warn". Raven curled his lips, feeling that he was truly helpless. Tonight he must teach her a lesson.

"North, you are my legal wife, Mrs. Dominos. If I want you, you can't refuse. This is husband and wife duty, do you understand?"

He leaned down, buried himself in her rosy neck and started kissing her.

North glanced at the crystal chandelier above her head, then reached out with her small hand to hold the lamp on the bed table, raised her hand and slammed the lamp on Raven's head.

With a "bang" sound, the lamp broke.

Raven felt his head ache. Very quickly, thick red blood flowed down his handsome cheek.

He lifted himself up, touched his face and felt the blood on his hands.

His handsome face became cold, as if covered with a layer of cold frost. He looked at the girl below him: "North, what the hell are you doing?"

North looked at him and smiled brightly. "I forgot to tell you. When the fat homeowner pressed down on me and wanted to rape me, I used a lamp to hit him on the head, too."

Raven was stunned.

"But it's a pity," North suddenly felt a bit regretful. "Unfortunately, I didn't have a knife in my hand at that time. If not, I would..."

She suddenly raised her hand. It was unknown when she had a sharp knife in her hand. The tip of the knife stabbed hard into Raven's chest.

Raven only felt a cold light flash before his eyes. He moved so fast that when North stabbed him. He grabbed the knife.

Although the knife didn't pierce his heart, the sharp blade immediately opened a deep bloody hole in his palm, large drops of blood dripping down.

Raven looked at her, "North, do you really... want me dead?"

"Yes. You and your Dominos family are not innocent. You all deserve to die!" North's eyes burned with hatred.

Raven narrowed his beautiful eyes. A few seconds later, he curled his lips and smiled, revealing his white teeth, "So you really are a weak avenger. Do you think you can use a knife to hurt me?"

North met his eyes, smiled and said: "Raven, don't let me know you love me. Otherwise, this knife will stab hard into my heart. One day, I want you to look at me weakly dying by your side day after day... This is the biggest punishment for you and makes you lose me."

Chapter 993

Chapter 993 I am waiting for you in hell

Raven's black pupils suddenly shrank. He didn't expect her to say such words.

She said that if one day she found out that he loved her, this knife would pierce her heart very badly, and the biggest punishment for him would be to lose her!

Raven stared at her. His narrow eyes were filled with bloodshot blood. After a while, he said hoarsely: "Then you will never wait for that day, because I don't love you."

He said he didn't love her.

There were no more ups and downs in North's heart. She has loved him for ten years. She used to love him before, but now she only hates him.

At this moment, Raven forcefully snatched the knife from her hand.

"Bang", the bloody knife was thrown on the carpet.

Raven stood up, sat on the edge of the bed, took out some tissues, and applied them to his wound. "Raven, let's divorce." North spoke softly.

Raven's tall body suddenly stiffened, then he turned back to look at her, his throat choked and said: "Today is the third day after the wedding, will we discuss divorce? Do you think it's appropriate, Mrs. Dominos? Your decision has nothing to do with our marriage."

Even if one day we divorce, the person who makes that choice can only be me, not you. Do you understand?"

North lay on the bed looking at him, raised her red lips and said: "Raven, are you continuing to lie to me? Are you going to tell me the truth?"

Raven quickly frowned. He was aware of something. North was very unusual tonight. Logically, she wouldn't dare do that when her brother Grayson was in the palm of his hand.

Unless she already knows the truth...

"Raven, today I snuck into the intensive care room. You know how much I miss my brother. I thought my brother was still alive. As long as my brother is alive, I'm not alone, I still have a family, and I have the determination and courage to live a good life, but... when I reached out and removed the gauze from that person's face, guess what I saw. That wasn't my brother. That's not my brother at all, hahaha. It is so funny..."

Raven's heart was pounding. At this moment, his guesses were all confirmed. She knows. She already knows.

Sure enough, after learning that he wasn't her brother, she immediately filed for divorce.

"Who told you this?" Raven asked in a low voice.

"Your grandpa. It was your kind grandpa who told me!" North gave him the message on the phone to read: "See for yourself. This time I really want to thank your grandpa. If it weren't for him, how would I know you are a vile, despicable and shameless bastard? You're a big liar. You used my brother's photo to trick me into marrying you. Raven, I hate you. I hate everyone in your Dominos family!"

Raven lowered his eyes, glanced at the message, his thin lips pursed into a cold, white arc.

The atmosphere was silent for a few seconds. He put his hand around her shoulders: "North, I..."

"Don't touch me!" North shrank her body, avoiding his touch. Her eyes were filled with disgust, her bloodshot eyes looked at him. She said word by word: "Raven, in my life, there will never be a day of reconciliation between me and your Dominos family. I will wait for you in hell!"

She said she would wait for him in hell!

Raven stiffened. He knew she wasn't joking. Grayson became the last lifeline for her, she was already in hell.

They had finally reached this point.

Raven narrowed his beautiful eyes for a long time before saying: "Enough of trouble tonight. Go to bed early, North. Nothing will change. You're still Mrs. Dominos. Don't mention things like divorce in the future."

Raven stood up, and shouted fiercely: "Where are you guys? Are you dead?"

The door was immediately pushed open, and the servants ran in panic.

"Sir...sir, what are your orders?"

"Where did the knife in my wife's hand come from? From today onwards, all knives and sharp weapons in the house will be confiscated. Next time if my wife encounters these dangerous things, you will have to bear the consequences!"

The maids were so scared that they broke out in a cold sweat: "Yes, sir."

"My wife has been in a bad mood recently. Don't let her go out. Don't let visitors bother her. There will be bodyguards guarding the villa inside and out. If my wife runs away, you will know the consequences!"

Was he asking for his wife to be placed under house arrest?

These servants didn't dare to think too much and quickly nodded: "Yes, sir."

"Clean up the room. The rest of you get out!" With that, Raven kicked open the bathroom door and went in to take a cold shower.

All the bedsheets and carpets in the bedroom had been replaced, the air purifier had been reinstalled, and there was no mess left, as if nothing had just happened.

North was lying on the bed. Her cell phone was confiscated.

Raven locked her in this villa and cut off all contact with the outside world.

Raven is a sensible man. He can make quick decisions, resolutely take all precautions and control everything.

At this moment, there was a "click" sound and the bathroom door opened. He finished taking a cold shower and came out.

North was sleeping on her side. She felt the bed next to her sink and he was lying on it.

Very quickly, her soft waist was tightened, Raven's strong arms wrapped around her, hugging her from behind, his thin lips brushing against her face and hair.

North looked over and saw that the wound on his hand was very deep, but he didn't treat it and only loosely bandaged it with white bandage.

Just now, he took a cold shower, his body temperature was still very warm, enough to show that Zhuri really spent a lot of money this time to have a grandson, giving her son the best tonic.

Raven pressed her down and kissed her for a while then reached out and opened her shirt...

North moved slightly, wanting to struggle.

At this moment, his hoarse and dark voice entered her ears: "Do you want me to tie you up?"

North stopped moving, gently closed her eyes, and let him do it.

In the middle of the night, Raven suddenly woke up because his arms were empty and there was no one left.

North disappeared.

Raven instantly sat up, a thin layer of sweat on his forehead. He lifted the blanket off the bed. Without even having time to put on his shoes, he ran out barefoot.

He wanted to call someone.

But soon, he stopped because his sharp eyes discovered that the closet door had been opened.

Raven walked over and opened the closet door. Inside was pitch dark. Still in that small corner, he found North.

She curled up into a small ball, leaned against the corner of the closet and fell asleep.

She got out of bed in the middle of the night and fell asleep here again.

Now she can no longer sleep peacefully in his arms.

Chapter 994

Chapter 994 Raven shows the style of the husband

Raven's two large hands on his sides quickly formed fists. After a while, he slowly let go, reached out and picked North up, carrying her to the soft bed.

North was imprisoned in the mansion and disappeared from everyone's sight for a week. Raven suppressed outside rumors and public opinion but remained calm.

At The Dominos Corporation, in the president's office, Raven was sitting in an office chair reviewing documents. His cell phone rang, it was Zhuri's call.

The phone rang continuously, but Raven had no intention of answering.

The personal secretary stood aside, not daring to make a sound. These past few days, his president has been in a haze, and even the atmosphere has become gloomy.

The madam's phone calls come every day but he doesn't answer the calls.

Reagan had been dealt with, the madam's dream of having a grandson was completely shattered, Raven refused to answer the phone even more, the Dominos family became even more worried as if on a knife edge. Something seems to have happened to the president. He didn't do anything, but he was in a cold war.

"President, Madam is still calling. Why don't you... listen to it? The men we sent must have arrived..." The private secretary said hesitantly.

The pen in Raven's hand stopped, then he dropped it, picked up the phone, and pressed the connect button.

Zhuri's agitated voice immediately rang out, "Hey, Raven, what do you mean? What are the people you sent here for? They said they would send me and your grandfather abroad on your orders. What do you mean we are not allowed to come back again?"

Raven's face was expressionless, his black eyes were as cold as two dangerous abysses, "If you've heard what I mean, why are you still asking?"

"You!" Zhuri was frightened. She didn't expect that one day her son would talk to her in such a cold and distant tone, "Raven, your father is currently in the bureau and will soon be sentenced. You left him alone. Now you want to send me and your grandfather abroad. You are driving away all your relatives. Do you want to become an orphan yourself? You are really a rebel. You're a traitor!"

Zhuri was so angry that her voice trembled.

Raven's eyes fell on the documents, his voice was cold and indifferent, "Sometimes... I really think that if I wasn't the child of the Dominos family, if I were an orphan... then no problem."

The private secretary was scared when he heard that and quickly raised his eyes to look at his CEO.

The leaves fall back to their roots and everyone has their own destiny. He didn't know what made his president have such... terrible thoughts.

Zhuri on the other end took a breath and angrily fell down on the wheelchair.

"Madam! Madam, are you okay?" The Dominos family mansion was in chaos.

"I'm OK!" Zhuri angrily shouted: "Raven, how can you... say such things? Since North was around, you are no longer yourself. What did she do to you? What kind of charm was stuck to you to make you like this? Is it wrong for me to want a grandson? You handled Reagan and I didn't say anything, but you really wanted to drive us away and even said you didn't want to become a descendant of the Dominos family!"

"I know, I know, you don't want me to be your mother now, so I'll die now!"

Zhuri started crying, causing trouble, and hanged herself again.

"Madam, you can't do anything stupid!" The maids over there pulled her back.

Raven still had no emotions, even his voice was calm, without any fluctuations, "There's no need to tell me if you'll die later or not. You're about to die. What can I do?"

The Dominos' villa over there suddenly fell silent, as sad and ghostly silent.

"If you don't die, then go abroad. I've arranged everything there. If you die, I will come back and organize a grand funeral for you." Having finished speaking, Raven hung up the phone.

The private secretary looked at his president in fear. He indifferently put down his cellphone and continued to look at the documents in his hand.

Zhuri didn't call back. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"President... President, I'll go out first." The private secretary said.

Raven snorted softly, "Go."

The private secretary walked out, at that moment a loud noise rang out outside: "Sir, you don't have an appointment so you can't meet my president. Please leave immediately, otherwise we will call security!"

"Where is Raven? I want to see Raven today. No one can stop me!"

The next second, the office door was pushed open with a bang and someone rushed in.

Raven gently lifted his eyelids to look. Next to the door was Amir.

It was Amir who broke in here.

"President, this..."

Raven's eyebrows twitched, "It's okay. You guys can go out."

"Yes." The personal secretary greeted everyone and then closed the office door.

Amir strode forward, looking angrily at Raven, "Raven, where is North? I haven't been able to contact her in the past few days. Besides you, I really can't think of anyone else who could hide her." Raven put down his pen, lazily leaned his solid back against the back of the chair, curled his thin lips and said calmly: "Mr. Mitchell, I really can't think of any obligation to answer your question. And I also want to ask you, what are you doing with my...Mrs. Dominos?"

Mrs. Dominos...

This word quickly exploded in Amir's ears. Because news of Raven and North's marriage certificate was not public, Amir didn't know about this.

Now suddenly hearing these words, Amir was stunned.

"Raven, what... what are you talking about? When did North become your Mrs. Dominos?" Amir shook his head in disbelief.

The gloom that had lingered on Raven's eyebrows for the past few days had disappeared at this moment. He actually smiled, revealing a happy smile he hadn't seen in a long time. He admitted that marriage is just a benefit like this. When these....men....came, he was able to calmly show off the husband's style and beat them to pieces.

"Mr. Mitchell, North and I have a marriage certificate. She is now my legal wife. Therefore, L sincerely advise you to stay away from her in the future. If anyone wants to cuckold me, I will kill his whole family!"

"..." Amir was so angry that he immediately clenched his fist: "Raven, North is definitely not willing to marry you. You must have used some despicable trick to force her. Where is North? Let her go!"

Amir stepped forward and hit Raven's handsome face with his powerful fist.

Raven felt he was too arrogant so he didn't dodge in time and took the punch.

Chapter 995

Chapter 995 You need to be taught a lesson!

Raven's right face immediately became bright.

Amir was still annoyed. He rushed up and grabbed Raven's collar. "Raven I'll say it again, hand over North to me!"

Raven reached out and wiped the corner of his lips with the back of his palm. He was actually bleeding.

He slowly raised his head and looked at Amir with a smile, "Mr. Mitchell, I think you don't even know who your elder is! You need to be taught a lesson!"

As soon as he said that, Raven stood up and a fist landed on Amir's face.

The two men immediately scuffled together.

The private secretary did not dare to leave at all. He had been waiting outside. Soon, he heard them fighting.

"Shall we go in and take a look? What if... what if the CEO is injured?" the security guard inquired. The private secretary stood still and looked calm. He said, "Don't worry, the CEO has never lost. We will definitely win."

The security guard nodded calmly.

A few minutes later, the office door was opened and the winner stepped out. It was Raven!

The private secretary quickly stepped forward and handed him a clean handkerchief. "CEO, are you alright?" he inquired.

Raven was punched in the face, and his clothes were wrinkled, but he was very calm.

Raven took the handkerchief and wiped his hands elegantly. There was a muffled groan from the office. It turned out that it was from Amir, who laid on the ground and rolled in pain.

However, Amir did not admit defeat. He struggled to stand up and staggered over. He still wanted to fight with Raven, "Raven, don't leave..."

Raven turned around, and his cold black eyes fell on Amir's body, suddenly, a contemptuous smile appeared on his lips, "Sorry, Amir, I practiced with you today, but I can't play with you anymore. My wife is still waiting for me at home. We are still newlyweds. I ought to spend the night with her."

With that, Raven turned around and left.

Amir was agitated by Raven's last sentence. He felt that Raven was indirectly mocking him. "Raven, come fight me!" Amir charged angrily. And with a bang, he fell to the ground.

Raven returned to the villa and the maid opened the door. "Welcome, sir," the maid greeted.

"Where's my wife?" Raven looked up in search of North.

"She's in the room, sir. She's already asleep."

"Did she think about running away?" Raven probed.

The maid shook her head. "No, ma'am is very well behaved. She probably knows that even if she wanted to run away, she would not be able to get out."

The villa was heavily guarded, making it difficult for North to escape.

"Got it." Raven went straight upstairs.

He pushed open the door of the master bedroom and walked in. At a glance, Raven saw North on the big bed. North's densely combed eyelashes were tightly closed.

North was fond of obediently sleeping in the bed every night, but when he woke up at night, she was no longer in his arms.

She would hide in the dark closet and sleep alone. He had once thought of asking the maid to remove the closet, but he did not dare. Search The Find_novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

He was afraid that if he removed the wardrobe, she would hide in a place where he could not find her.

She had been very obedient the past few days, she ate and slept when she should, but she had stopped talking to him.

Raven sat on the bed. He reached out and his slender fingers touched her soft and charming little face.

North was wearing a black nightdress. Because she was sleeping on her side, the thin shoulder strap on her right shoulder fell off. Her two beautiful white legs were curled up together. The unintentional sleeping position was more shocking and tempting than the limited pictures that Raven had seen when she was young.

Raven lowered his head and fiercely covered her red lips.

North found it difficult to breathe, it was as if some big stone was pressed on her. She frowned and opened her eyes. Raven's handsome was before her.

Her hands quickly touched his chest and she pushed him away, "Raven, don't touch me!"

"Are you awake?" Raven forcefully imprisoned her in his arms, his hot breath gushing onto her delicate face.

"Are you okay? I've been waiting for you for a few days. I can't wait any longer."

While watching him speak, North saw the marks on his face. It was as if he had been beaten up. "You fought with someone?"

"Yeah, your lover, Amir, rushed into my office and punched me."

"You deserve it." North replied.

With that, she tried to push him away again, "Raven, don't be too lowly. You got beaten up outside, so now you're going to take your anger out on a woman?!"

Raven let out a low, hoarse laugh, "I'll take out my anger on you. Your lover attacked me because of you!"

Lover?

Was there something wrong with him?

“Raven let me go. Do you find some fun in rape?”

Raven used three fingers to press her two wrists above of her head, and then, he pulled the belt from his waist, “Shh, Mrs. Domino, don’t resist, I’ve already tolerated you for a long time.”

North’s forehead suddenly bumped against the head of the bed.

Soon, he wrapped her head with his big palm and dragged her back. North looked at the crystal -chandelier above her head, as he did to her what he pleased.

After an unknown amount of time, North was pushed into his warm and sturdy chest again. Raven was already asleep.

North moved gently and withdrew from his embrace, then, she reached out to pick up the phone he had placed on the bed table.

She sent Jace a text message, “I promise to cooperate with you.” The text read.

After the message was successfully sent, North deleted the message and kept the phone back.

She got out of bed and went to the dresser. She took out the book that Joyce had given her from the drawer.

One of the pages of the Cheat book was very interesting. It was about how to punish a man.

Chapter 996

Chapter 996 Divorce Agreement

The book had a detailed description of how to deal with a man.

North had been locked in the villa for the past few days. She could not get out, and had no way to contact the outside world. So when she was bored, she started reading the book. She had contemplated on using one of the method on him, if he dared to force her again.

North took out a pair of scissors from the drawer. She had secretly taken out the scissors from the kitchen. She remembered that when Alpha and Annabelle were young, Annabelle had also used scissors to hurt Alpha. It was a formidable weapon.

North took the scissors and slowly approached Raven.

Raven had really fallen asleep. After being satisfied, it was the easiest time for a man to fall asleep. In addition, he barely had enough sleep in the past few days, as he was watching over her.

While in a daze, he felt a sharp pain. Out of his alertness, he suddenly opened his eyes. North stood by the bed, and there was a pair of scissors in her hands. The scissors blade were already stained with blood.

Raven's gaze at the blood—stained scissors, and then, he slowly looked at his pants. He saw that his blood was dripping from the sheets.

A thin layer of sweat broke out on Raven's forehead. His handsome face was pale with pain.

"North, are you... crazy?" He forced out the question from his throat.

It was the first time that North had hurt someone, her hands shook violently. She looked at Raven and she slowly said,

"Raven, I took the revenge for that child. You made me unable to conceive for the rest of my life. In the future, we'll both be unable to have children!"

Beads of sweat rolled down from her forehead. Raven swiftly reached out and wrapped his hands around her neck.

He narrowed his eyes, and when he was about to lose control of himself and hurt her, he suddenly pushed her away. He lifted the blanket and got out of bed, then he opened the door and walked out.

"Someone! Come on!"

There was a roar of soldiers outside, and the bodyguards and maids rushed over.

"What's the matter with you, sir? Boss?!"

North, who was still in the room, heard a loud, dull noise. Outside, Raven had already collapsed and fell unconscious.

Raven was rushed to the hospital.

North was still in the room. She picked up a pen and wrote the divorce agreement.

She calmly wrote a divorce agreement, and then signed her name, North, at the bottom.

After doing all this, she opened the room door and walked out.

Raven was seriously injured and was admitted to the hospital. The entire villa panicked.

Now that the maid saw North walking out, she quickly stopped her, "Ma'am, you can only stay in the villa, you're not allowed to go out." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

North's face was extremely pale, but she was calm. She said indifferently, "I'm leaving, I won't be back."

At this moment, about three luxurious cars stopped outside the villa. A group of bodyguards came down. While Jace and Amir came down from the third car.

Amir rushed over and draped a coat over North's shoulder. "North, are you alright? I saw your car going straight to the hospital just now. I thought you were injured..."

"It's not me, it's Raven..." North interrupted Amir indifferently.

Amir froze for a moment. At this moment, he felt that North was very cold. She was cold like an ice cube. He quickly unbuttoned his suit and draped it over North's shoulders.

"It's okay, it's over now. He won't be in your life from now on."

North did not utter a word. She was in a trance for a few seconds. Yes, it was over.

She and Raven had become past tense.

At this moment, Jace walked forward and said, "North, let's go."

North nodded, "Alright."

"Ma'am, you can't leave. You don't know what's going on in the hospital. Why are you leaving?" The maid wanted to stop her.

However, Jace's bodyguards quickly stepped forward and ordered the maid to retreat.

Raven was seriously injured, and it was the perfect time for the Mitchell family to take her away.

The bodyguard opened the back door and North stood on the grass. Finally, she turned around and glanced at the villa. She whispered goodbye in her heart....

North was taken back to the Mitchell family house, and Jace said, “North, Raven originally wanted to send old Mr. Domino and Zhuri abroad, but Raven was suddenly seriously injured and admitted to the hospital. As it stands, Mr. Domino and Zhuri didn’t go on their supposed trip, and they’re now at the hospital.”

Jace handed over a cup of coffee to North. North held the cup and allowed the temperature pass to her hands. She could probably guess that Raven wanted to send old Mr. Domino and Zhuri away for her sake. But she did not care at all. She was not impressed.

As the son of the Domino family, he knew that old Mr. Domino had the blood of the Paulo’s family on his hands, but he still chose to save his family. As the daughter of the Paulo family, how could she let these people run away one after another?

North looked at Jace, “You said earlier that you already have clues about my dad and mum’s car accident, can these clues send old Mr. Domino to prison?”

Jace handed a sealed portfolio to North, and shook his head regretfully, “North, it’s been so many years, and the evidence and clues aren’t enough to send old Mr. Domino to prison.”

North suddenly felt her head ache. She quickly closed her eyes and stroked her forehead.

Jace immediately noticed North’s strangeness and quickly and nervously asked, “North, what’s the matter with you?”

North opened her eyes and was a little confused. “What did you just say?” she asked.

“North, we can’t send old Mr. Domino to prison with this evidence. What’s the matter with you? Did you forget what we just talked about?” Jace questioned worriedly.

In the past few days, North had been experiencing headaches. She knew that her brother’s death had accelerated her condition.

She ran out of time.

She couldn’t wait for another moment.

“Uncle Jace, tomorrow, you’ll have someone spread the word, saying that I have a piece of strong evidence in my hands that can successfully overturn the case of my father and mother’s car accident. At the same time, have a lawyer to formally sue that old man.” North said.

North didn’t utter another word.

“Okay, it’s getting late. If you have anything else, let’s talk about it tomorrow. Dad, let’s go. North is tired. Let’s allow her get some rest.” Amir was most concerned about North’s body.

Chapter 997

Chapter 997 North Went To Hospital.

“Okay, North, have some rest,” Jace walked out.

North hugged her knees and sat on the carpet in front of the floor-to-ceiling window. It was already late at night, but she did not feel sleepy.

North lightly hooked her red lips, and then collected the hot milk, “Thank you, Amir.”

“North, if you want to take revenge, we will all help you, but I hope you can be happier. I believe this is what your dad, mum and brother are looking forward to,” Amir handed the doll in his hand into North’s arms.

It was her favorite doll.

North held the doll tightly. She wished that she was still the happy and carefree girl she used to be. Unfortunately, everything had changed. She had lost everything.

“Okay,” North nodded.

North had stayed at the Mitchell family house for two days. She knew that old Mr. Domino and Zhuri could not sit still. She was waiting for an opportunity to present itself.

At this moment, North’s phone rang out.

North went on to answer the call, and the voice of Raven's personal secretary quickly came from the other end, "Ma'am, where are you now? Come to the hospital to see the CEO. The CEO was seriously injured and he's in coma."

There was a cold expression on North's delicate and soft eyebrows.

"He's still in coma? Then he should go to the doctor. I'm not a doctor."

"Ma'am!" The private secretary became anxious, "Ma'am, please, come and see the CEO. I know that the person the CEO wants to see the most is you. If you come to see the CEO, I'm certain that he'll definitely wake up."

North lowered her head, and after a few seconds, she said "Okay, I'll come over immediately."

After she finished speaking, she ended the call, stood up, and walked out of the room.

North took the sealed portfolio that Jace had given her, as she headed out.

Jace noticed her presence. He stared hesitantly at her, "North, it's quite dangerous for you to go out with this portfolio. What about the strong evidence in your hands? Besides, as far as I know, old Mr. Domino already wanted to kill you. Going to the hospital now is equivalent to taking the initiative to send yourself to him."

"That's perfect. I've been waiting for this opportunity for a long time," North replied, and continued in her track.

Jace suddenly understood what North wanted to do.

"North, Amir left early in the morning. He went to get you your favorite pastries." Jace informed.

North paused and turned to look at Jace.

Jace added frankly, "North, we all know what Amir wants from you. However, I don't want you two to be together. I hope that Amir can find a girl from a clean family background."

Jace wanted a girl who was innocent and clean for his son, Amir. Originally, North fit the description. But in recent times, it was a pity that she did not anymore.

Jace was very kind to her. But he was also frank and sincere. Amir was a good sunny boy. In the future, he would definitely love his girlfriend very much.

At this moment, North's phone rang out again.

It was a call from Amir.

“Hello?” North answered the call.

“North, are you up yet? I’ve already bought your favorite breakfast. Wait for me...” SEARCH THE Findnøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

“Amir,” North interrupted his excited voice, “Thank you, but I won’t stay for breakfast. I’m going to the hospital to see Raven.”

Amir, who was on the other end of the call, was left speechless by North’s last sentence .

North silently hung up the call. She looked at Jace, “Uncle Jace, I’m leaving,” she said to him.

Then, she turned around and left.

Jace stood by the door for a long time, as he watched North’s disappearing pretty figure .

North was wearing a black coat and stilettos on her feet. Her slender and beautiful back was always straight and elegant.

In the hospital.

Zhuri sat absentmindedly in the hallway. The doctor walked up to her, and Zhuri asked emotionally, “Doctor, why is my son still not awake?”

“Mrs. Domino, Mr. Domino’s injuries are very serious. He is still in a coma. He needs continuous observation...” the doctor explained.

“Enough! I don’t want to listen to these nonsense! I want to know, doctor, what exactly is wrong with my son, will I still be able to have grandkids?”

“Uhm, well...”

“My son is an only child. The task of extending the family lineage had been bestowed on him. He must have children. Doctor, you have to cure him, otherwise I won’t spare you!” Zhuri emotionally grabbed the doctor’s collar, and threatened him fiercely.

Seeing that the scene was getting out of control, the private secretary quickly walked over and interceded, “Ma’am, this is the hospital. Please calm down. We have informed President Augustine, and he’s on his way with his wife.”

Elvis and Oliye were on their way.

Zhuri seemed to be crazy. She mumbled absentmindedly, “It’s all North’s fault! It’s all because of that bitch. She’s too cruel. But Raven doesn’t believe me!”

Zhuri was still cursing when the private secretary said, “Ma’am, you’re here...”

Zhuri stiffened and quickly turned around. She saw North standing in front of her. The woman was wearing wide sunglasses on her face.

At this moment, North raised her hand and took off her sunglasses. She stepped on her high heels and walked over. Her soft eyes looked down at Zhuri, who was on the wheelchair. Her red lips were hooked into a frivolous smile.

“Don’t stop cursing. I have heard words that are a hundred times more vicious than this, this is nothing.”

Zhuri did not expect that North would dare to come. She immediately gritted her teeth angrily, and asked furiously, “North, you are the culprit, how did you have the courage to come?”

North stopped in front of Zhuri’s wheelchair. She lowered her body with a smile and propped her hands on the handle of Zhuri’s wheelchair.

She smiled casually, “I just came to have a look at you. I really didn’t know how to make you hurt. But I know you’ve always wanted grandchildren, right? How does it feel knowing that that might never happen? The pain is so heartbreaking and painful, isn’t it?”

However, this time, it didn’t happen.

Because, North had dodged in time.

Due to the vigour that Zhuri exerted, she fell from the wheelchair onto North’s feet.

Chapter 998

Chapter 998 Her Face Was Damaged.

Zhuri did not expect North to suddenly avoid her. She had always known North to be a humble girl. She thought that even after North learned the truth, it wouldn't change her cognition.

At this moment, she fell to the ground in an embarrassing manner. She immediately struggled to get up. But suddenly, a faint laughter came from above her head, "Mrs. Domino, why did you kneel down for me so suddenly?"

Zhuri stiffened. She raised her head and saw North standing in front of her.

Zhuri was too stunned to utter a word.

"However," North's eyes suddenly turned cold, "The members of the Domino family have the blood of the Paulo's family on their hands. It's hard to write or even speak about it. You kneeling before me can't offset your sins at all, so it's better to save your worries and get up!"

Zhuri was already trembling with anger, "You...you, no matter what, you were raised by our family. Have you forgotten our kindness to you?"

North laughed. She didn't know how Zhuri could look her in the face and mention their kindness to her.

North raised her head and looked at the closed ward door in front of her. "I've already paid all that I owed the Domino family to your son, Raven."

Zhuri wanted to speak, but she was speechless.

At this moment, the private secretary stepped forward and said softly, "Ma'am, go in and see the CEO. The person the CEO wants to see the most right now is you."

North stood still. "Who said I came to the hospital to see him?"

The private secretary stiffened. "Ma'am, what do you mean?"

"I just stopped by to see Mrs. Domino.

Since I've already seen who I came to visit, I'll take my leave now," North turned around and left.

"Ma'am!" The private secretary was shocked. "Madam, are you really going to be so heartless? Don't you care how this will make the CEO feel?"

North halted. Her face was pale and devoid of emotions. "Tell him that I left something for him on the bed table in the bedroom. Let him look at it when he wakes up."

With that, North raised her legs and left.

At this moment, a figure appeared in the hallway. It was old Mr. Domino.

The old man's expression was extremely dark. He was hidden in the darkness and looked extremely gloomy. His turbid eyes were staring at North like a poisonous scorpion.

North did not stop, she calmly met old Mr. Domino's gaze, then, she raised her hand and defiantly gave Mr. Domino a thumbs up. After some seconds, she slowly lowered her thumb.

North's pretty figure quickly disappeared from everyone's sight.

After North left. Old Mr. Domino and Zhuri stood at the entrance of the hallway. "We have no chance at all. Now that she drove to the police station, the evidence that the Mitchell family gave her is in her hands," Zhuri expressed her worries.

Old Mr. Domino's eyes were fierce. "Then what are you waiting for? It should be easy for North to get into a car accident."

"Yes, boss." His subordinates quickly went to execute his wish.

Zhuri looked at old Mr.

Domino in shock. "Father, are you going to cause a car accident and kill North?"

Although Zhuri was mean, her hands were not stained with blood. Now that she heard old Mr. Domino's plan to kill North, she was shocked.

"That's right, today's timing is perfect. I want North and that piece of evidence to disappear in the car accident, just like her father and mother back then. " Old Mr. Domino replied with a cold smile.

Zhuri's pupils shrank. "Father, do you mean that North's father and mother's car accident was also... your plan?"

"That's right. But, Ezra didn't have to die. But the problem was that he was too smart. He had already discovered that our hands and feet were dirty, and that we had secretly manipulated the stock market to cash out. For the sake of the family's future, I had to plan the car accident that year." Zhuri suddenly forgot how to breathe, and her hands and feet trembled. "Father, are you... crazy? This is murder. Murder is against the law, and you should go to jail!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Shut up!" Old Mr. Domino immediately scolded Zhuri.

Zhuri shrank in fright.

"Don't forget that you are also part of the Domino family, we are on the same boat!" Old Mr. Domino threatened.

Zhuri sat dumbfoundedly. She didn't dare to utter another word.

North drove away, and the sealed portfolio was placed in the passenger seat.

At this moment, her phone rang out. It was a call from Amir.

North answered the call, and Amir's anxious and nervous voice quickly passed over,

"North, did you take the sealed portfolio away? I really don't understand you. The reason you have been releasing fake news these past few days is actually because you want that old man to focus his firepower on you, right? But you still went to the hospital now. You have given that old man a chance to attack you!"

"North, don't be impulsive. Where are you now? Just wait for me, I'm on my way. I'll look for you now."

Amir's anxious voice kept sounding in her ears. North looked up. She had seen a truck heading violently towards her through the windshield.

North raised her red lips. She slowly raised her hand and released the steering wheel. Then she said softly, "Amir, I'm fine. Forget about me."

Almost immediately, and with a loud bang, the truck smashed into her car.

North felt the pain. Her ears rumbled, and her body fell out of the smashed car.

North felt her face ache. Her face was warm, as if something was gushing out of it.

"Oh my God, there's been a car accident!" Someone screamed.

In no time, Amir rushed over. The car accident attracted his attention. He pushed aside the crowd and ran over.

Soon, he saw North lying on the ground, and there was blood all over her body.

“North!” Amir rushed over and hugged North.

North’s eyes wandered. She raised her head and looked at Amir with difficulty, then she handed over the thing she had been holding in her hand to Amir.

Amir glanced at it. It was a voice recorder.

When North went to the hospital to provoke Zhuri a while ago, she took the opportunity to install a recorder in Zhuri’s hair.

The conversation between Zhuri and old Mr. Domino was recorded on this recorder.

Old Mr. Domind couldn’t escape justice now.

North had finally avenged her father and mother.

Amir’s eyes were scarlet as he pulled the recorder.

The right side of North’s face was destroyed.

Chapter 999 She Called Raven...

“North, it’s alright. Don’t be afraid. I’ll send you to the hospital right now.” Amir gently held North’s injured right face.

However, the blood from the wound kept flowing out.

North handed the recorder to Amir, and then clenched Amir’s hand.

Amir held back the tears in his scarlet eyes and nodded, “North, you’re great.”

Old Mr. Domino admitted all the sins the Domino family had committed in this voice recorder, and even planned this car accident. This was enough. She did a great job and it was perfect.

North pulled her red lips with difficulty. Her eyelashes, which were stained with blood, shimmered. "North, please hang on..." Amir muttered sadly.

"My face hurts... My face hurts..." North said as she raised her hand and placed it on her flat abdomen, "My stomach hurts too."

"North, hold on for a moment. It will be alright. Everything will be alright." Amir hugged her tightly. North had no strength anymore. All her strength was dissipating. She closed her lips as if she was saying something.

"North, what are you talking about?" Amir brought his ear closer to her mouth.

"Brother...Brother..." North mumbled.

Soon, Amir froze. He knew that North was calling out to Raven.

North had a very long dream. She dreamt of her father, mother, and brother. They had all returned. North, come here and give me a hug." Her mum extended her arms to her.

She ran over and jumped directly into her mother's soft and fragrant embrace.

"Daddy, mum, bro, you all used to protect me. Now that you're gone, I can protect you too, right?" she proudly showed off her determination.

Her dad stretched out his big hand and caressed her little head. "North, we know that you have worked hard..."

North stiffened. The people in front of her were obviously the people she missed the most, it was her dad, mum and brother. She should have been joyous, but her eyes were moist, and tears fell.

At this moment, a light and pleasant voice sounded in her ears, "North... North..."

North's eyelashes trembled, and she opened her eyes.

Her vision was blurry because not only did she cry in her dream, but she also cried in reality. The pillow was wet from her tears.

North closed her eyes and opened them again. She was now in the hospital ward. The smell of disinfectant lingered inside. A beautiful and stunning figure stood beside her bed. Olive had

At this moment, Olive was wearing a clean white coat. The growth of time had given her more intelligence, calmness and firmness. Her clear eyes were on North's tearful face.

"North, give me a hug."

Olive reached out and tightly hugged North.

This long-awaited warm embrace made North feel a little dazed. At this moment, she heard Olive say to her in an extremely gentle voice, "North, it's alright. If you want to cry, just cry." North's stiff body slowly softened. She buried her face in Olive's embrace and cried bitterly.

Amir arrived, he brought North some fruit and food.

"North, you are really lucky this time. This car accident must have used up all your luck. You escaped from the car accident. In addition, Doctor Hart's timely arrival and superb medical skills have successfully pulled you back from the gates of hell, allowing you to return to earth."

"Next time, you can't be this wayward again, because you may not have such luck."

"By the way, North, I have good news for you. Old Mr. Domino was arrested. He and Tobias will never be able to get out. I saw Zhuri yesterday. It was as if she had lost her soul."

North listened quietly without uttering a word. These were originally the Domino family's final destination, but she had delayed to send them home.

North raised her hand, wanting to caress the right side of her face.

"Hey, North, don't touch it!" Amir's expression suddenly changed. He stood up and grabbed North's small hand.

North looked at him, "What's wrong with you? Why are you reacting so fiercely?"

Amir laughed slyly, his eyes dodging a little, "North, your face... suffered a little, and it's still stuck to the emery cloth. Don't touch it with your hands. It'll get infected by bacteria..."

"Really?" North hooked her lips. "Then show me a mirror. I don't think I can find a mirror in the ward."

She definitely couldn't find it, because everything that could reflect light in the ward had been taken away.

"Haha North, let's take care of it first. With Dr. Hart here, what are you afraid of?" Amir replied with a laugh.

At this moment, the ward door was pushed open and Olive walked in.

Amir breathed a sigh of relief. "Doctor Hart, you're here. North asked about the injury on her face just now."

Olive walked over and checked North's body. "North, during the car accident, the right side of your face was scratched by shards of glass. This wound is deep and may take some time to repair."

"But North, don't worry. Medicine is so advanced now. Even if you have a scar on the right side of your face, I will find a way to heal you. Leave your beauty to me."

With that, Olive opened the food flask cover and handed North a small spoon, "But before that, you have to get your body healed up first. Come, drink some soup."

North nodded obediently. She took the small spoon, and started to drink the soup.

However, when the chicken soup was brought to her lips, North suddenly frowned, because she could smell the greasy smell of the chicken soup, which made her feel sick to her stomach.

North put down her spoon.

"North, what's wrong with you?" Olive asked softly.

"Well, I want to have some light millet porridge, okay?"

"Yes! Of course! I'll go back and let the maid prepare it now. Wait for me, North!" Amir quickly headed home.

Olive put away the flask, "North, I think Amir has been very kind to you."

"I can only be friends with him. For the rest, I can't give him hope." North expressed her stance.

Olive nodded, "Mr. Domino should be awake soon. North, are you going to see him?"

North lowered her head.

“I went to see Mr. Domino’s injury. North, you’re very cruel. I’m not sure that I can heal him back for the rest of his life.”

Chapter 1000 You Like To Bully Only Me

North didn’t say anything. She just said indifferently, “Olive, I’m sleepy. I want to sleep for a while.”

“Okay.” Olive reached out and covered North with the blanket before leaving.

The room was quiet, North closed her eyes, but could not sleep.

Her body was very tired and she had no energy at all. Her flat stomach was even aching.

She placed her small hand on her stomach, then slowly sat up. She got up and got out of bed.

The air in the hospital was so depressing that she wanted to go out and get some fresh air.

After heading downstairs, North came to a glass window and looked at herself in the mirror. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

At this moment, she was wearing a blue and white hospital gown. The hospital gown was very wide, lining her shoulders. Her well-maintained black curly hair was casually draped over her shoulders.

North’s gaze fell on her small face. Her facial features were still surprisingly beautiful, but a thick layer of gauze was attached to her right face.

North paused for a few seconds, then slowly raised her hand and removed the gauze from her face.

Her pupils shrank violently.

A large wound was on her right face. The wound had just been stitched up, like an ugly caterpillar, which ruined the beauty of her entire face.

North raised her hand and wanted to touch her injured face, but her fingertips trembled, and she could no longer move forward.

All women loved beauty. Her face was God's special care and love for her. However, this face was still ruined.

At this moment, a scream came from beside her. It turned out that two children were playing close to her. When they saw North, they screamed in horror, "Ugly! Who is this ugly girl! Her face is really ugly!"

The screams of the two children quickly attracted the attention of passers-by, and everyone gathered around. "What happened? Hey, isn't this North who hasn't been seen for a long time?"

As a superstar in the entertainment industry, North was easily recognized by passers-by. Everyone gasped and stared at her injured right face.

"My God, look at North's right face. What's wrong with her face?"

"Is she disfigured? She looks really ugly!"

"Hurry up and take out your phone. The most beautiful lady in the entertainment industry has lost her beauty!"

Passers-by rushed to take out their phones.

North had faced countless scenes and walked many red carpets. She was always calm and elegant in front of the camera, but now, this scene made her feel afraid.

She wanted to get out of here.

She wanted to run away.

North reached out to block the camera, then turned around and ran.

But she ran too fast. She didn't know what she had stumbled on. As soon as her foot was twisted, she fell directly to the ground.

At this time, more and more passers-by were watching, and everyone was talking about her.

North felt that it was very noisy. Her ears were filled with voices. She wanted to hide, but she couldn't. She could only reach out and cover her ears.

She thought that she had passed the saddest moment in her life, but now she realized that there was even more sadness to come.

North's new life would be this way... timid and embarrassing.

At this moment, there was a pair of shoes in her lowered line of sight. These shoes were familiar. They were not shiny leather shoes, but hospital slippers of the same style as hers.

North froze.

At this moment, there was a casual chuckle from above her head, "Why did you make yourself look like this after I was gone for a few days?"

This voice was very familiar, she would not have heard it wrong.

It was indeed Raven's.

North slowly let go of the hands that covered her ears, and then raised her head. Raven's familiar face was now before her.

He was also wearing a blue and white hospital gown, but he had a black coat over it. He had obviously come out of the hospital. Compared with her embarrassment, he was no different from his usual self. His posture was aloof, and his appearance was cold.

The passers—by had already let him come over, and they were all afraid of the powerful deterrent on him.

Raven looked down at North, who had fallen to the ground, and soon his eyes fell on her right face.

His black pupils shrank. A few seconds later, he asked, "What's wrong with your face?"

He reached out and touched her little face.

North shrank back in fright and avoided his touch.

She struggled to get up, but there was a bone-piercing pain in her ankle.

At this moment, Raven lowered his waist, stretched out his strong arms, and directly hugged her.

“Let me go.” She reached out and pushed him.

Raven carried her into the hospital with steady steps. His thin lips drew a gentle arc. He laughed softly, “Mrs. Domino, it’s okay for me to let you go. Next time, don’t let me go. You made yourself look pitifully injured, you should treat yourself better than you treat me.”

North’s nose suddenly turned red. She moved and buried her face in his coat.

His chest was still so large and warm, everything was still the way she was obsessed with.

She was very tired, so she allowed herself to be soft at this moment.

Raven carried her back to the ward. North sat on the bed and returned to her cold expression. “Mr. Domino, thank you, you can leave now.”

Raven scoffed. He stretched out his big hand to grab her face.

North avoided his touch.

However, Raven grabbed her little face and forced her to look up. Then, his eyes fell on the scar on her right face, and he looked at it carefully.

Soon, his fingertips reached up and gently stroked the scar.

North felt her heart ache, but she soon heard his mocking voice, “It’s ugly.”

North stiffened for a moment, then quickly kicked his sturdy thigh.

Raven did not avoid her kick, instead, he brought his handsome face closer to her, and scolded with a low smile, “You clown, how fierce are you?!”

“You’re the ugly one, and your entire family is the ugly!” North replied.

Raven’s smile did not disappear. “You are fierce here with me. A while ago, why were you timid like a turtle with a shrinking head? Mrs. Domino, you still like to bully only me.”

Raven sounded like he was accusing her.

North looked at his gentle and indulgent expression and curled up her fingers, “Raven, don’t be like this, we shouldn’t be like this...”

“Then what do you think?”

“I...”

Raven leaned over and lowered his head to kiss her red lips.
