Chapter 161 Two Beauties In Embrace[2]

“Ahhnnngghh~”

Belen also moaned loudly and ejaculated, their love juices mixing together and overflowing out of her pussy.

“Hah... ha... hah...”

Belen breathed heavily and fell down on the flower bed powerlessly. Lying on her chest, she had an intoxicated expression on her face while her pussy kept leaking their love juices.

Seeing her lying there with an ecstatic expression, Max smiled and said “Don’t waste time and digest the energy.”

Belen nodded and sat up. Just as she was going to the corner of the bed to cultivate when she noticed Max looking at her with a meaningful expression while caressing Leticia boobs. She understood what he wanted and crawled over to him on her fours.

She looked at his ‘Little brother’ which was still standing hard and was stained with the juices. It made her naughty little pussy twitch as if saying that it wanted it to enter her again. If Leticia wasn’t here and Max hadn’t told her to cultivate, she would have continued having sex with him even though she was exhausted now. This made her a bit disgruntled.

Max noticed this and smiled “Don’t worry, you’ll be completely satisfied when I’m done with you. Now hurry and do what you have to and then go cultivate and wait for your turn.”

Belen nodded happily after hearing this and opened her mouth and started licking his balls before continuing upwards. She licked his shaft and glans clean in just a few seconds. However, she didn’t stop after cleaning it and greedily took his cock inside her mouth and started sucking it while moving her head, giving him an amazing blowjob.

“Ohh...!”

Max groaned in pleasure, feeling her slippery tongue constantly moving around his cock, licking and sucking on it while applying pressure with her tongue, cheeks and throat.

Watching go on like that, Leticia felt left out even though Max was constantly kissing and caressing her body and taken off her clothes. Moreover, she realized that Max seemed to like Belen more than her which frustrated her.

'It's okay. She is enjoying the benefits of being with him while I was still hesitating.' She consoled herself and her gaze became firm and determined. While glaring at Belen 'I'll put my utmost efforts to make him like me. I won't lose out to anyone.'

Feeling that Leticia was becoming anxious, Belen stopped sucking and teasingly said "Don't get angry okay. Here, he is all yours now."

Saying this, she used her mana to make the flower bed larger and sat down away from them.

"What does-" Leticia's face became red like tomato in embarrassment after hearing her what Belen said. She made it sound as if she was desperate to have him. Although it was true, she didn't want Max to think of her as lewd girl or something. Therefore, she wanted to quibble but Max had sealed her lips with his and made her lay on the bed.

He then moved down and sucked her breasts while caressing her lower lips which were already wet. Therefore, he spread her legs which exposed her bare pussy in front of him.

'Thump! Thump!'

Her heartbeat became faster and louder in anticipation, anxiety and fear of not being able to satisfy him as well as Belen.

Without any idea of what she was thinking, Max proceeded to rub his cock on her labia and slowly pushed it inside.

"Ngh~" As the tip slid inside her small pussy, her body trembled slightly as if a current was coursing through her and a moan escaped her lips.

Thrust!

Seeing her shivering like a cat, Max was excited and thrust his waist forward and entirety of his cock slid inside her.

"Ahn~"

She moaned loudly as a mixture of pain and pleasure hit her nerves while her soft yet tight insides gripped on his rod which made Max stop for a second to enjoy it thoroughly before he slowly started thrusting in and out.

"Ahn~ Ngh~ Oh~"

With every thrust a moan filled with pleasure escaped her mouth. She wrapped her legs around him and enjoy his thick cock scraping and massaging every nook and cranny of vagina which made her want to moan with even more fervor.

Max also enjoying her pussy which gave entirely different pleasure than what he felt from Belen's. Belen's pussy was masterful and squeezed his cock with great timings and as if it knew where and how much pressure it should apply to give him maximum pleasure while Leticia's was inexperienced and gripped hard as it could without timing and always tried to swallow his cock. Both were different but provided him with immense pleasure.

'Amazing. Every pussy taste different. I wonder how would Haory's would taste like? What should I do to make her mine?' Max thought while the pace at which his cock thrust in and out became harder and faster that almost made Leticia lose her mind.

Although Rima had an amazingly seductive and curvy body which he really wanted to enjoy, he wasn't in a hurry to make a move on her since he knew that it was only a matter of time before she approached him on her own.

He was so sure about it because every time he interacted with her, her eyes, her body movements and the how she would present herself in front of him would highlight her amazing assets, conveyed her inner feelings.

Therefore, he already considered her his woman and that's why when he saw her on death's door, he became so enraged and tortured Bilaz without a shred of humanity.

However, for some unknown reason, he was more interested in Haory. Maybe because she didn't show any interest in him which made him want to make her his woman even more.

Schlick! Schlick!

"Ahhn~ Mmm~ Ngh~"

In the quiet valley, the sound of his cock thrusting in her wet pussy and Leticia moans reverberated.

"Ahhnnggg~"

After a while both of them climaxed and the valley became quiet and peaceful as before. However it didn't last because Max once again, had started pounding her pussy while Belen was going to finish digest the energy soon.

This night was destined to be wild night.

Chapter 162 Troublesome Quillrats

Six hours after they had started their 'Intense training'...

"Ugghhhh!"

Max groaned in pleasure with his eyes closed and let out another load inside Belen's pussy while she also came. Her body jerked up and her pupils upturned due to the wave of intense pleasure coursing through her body before flopping down on the bed motionlessly. She didn't have any energy to move or even moan.

"Phew... you both are amazing. I can never get enough of you." Max smiled and took out his cock from her swollen pussy.

Hearing him say this, Leticia, who was also lying beside Belen on her chest, her pussy was puffing out due to swelling which made it look even more delicious, looked at Belen who also looked at her and both smiled, while sighing in relief inwardly.

In these six hours, he fucked them one after another like a machine. Initially, they could cultivate around half an hour, which was barely enough to digest the nascent energy inside them.

However, as their stamina and energy depleted, this time wasn't even enough to rest let alone cultivate. So, they didn't bother sitting cross legged and would stay in the position he fucked and meditated.

This also made them grateful for the fact that they weren't alone or they would have passed out by now given how rough he was being in the later half. However, this also made them realize that their previous worries that he would stop having sex with them because he now had two girls to fuck, were unnecessary since one wasn't going to be enough for him.

After doing it so many times, Max's stamina also decreased rapidly. His breathing had become rough and he had started sweating while his little brother also seemed a little limp due to hard work.

Seeing that the ladies weren't in the situation to continue going further and it would be dusk in a few hours, and since he was also completely satisfied, he decided to stop his 'cultivation.'

After that, he also laid down and proceeded to open his status screen to see how many LPs he had gained after 'working hard' all night.

[Lust Points: 32500]

'32500... I'm quite hardworking eh.' He chuckled inwardly.

‘Currently I have 4800 mana points and if I put all of these LPs in the mana, I’ll be in the peak stage of two-star realm and can use my [Calidus Brachium] at least four times in a row which should be enough to destroy that Bartan and his group.’ Thinking this, he clenched his fist tightly in excitement.

He then increased his mana a hundred point a time so that it wouldn’t cause much disturbance and attract the resting beauties’ attention. After a while, he was done.

[Mana: 8050]

Phew...!

He breathed out while trying to hold back his excitement. At this moment, he felt a pair of eyes staring at him in disbelief.

He smiled wryly and looked towards Belen. Even though there wasn’t much disturbance caused by mana, she still felt a lot of mana entering his body since she was more perceptive of it due to being a plant elemental mage and was shocked.

Although she knew that Max had some secret since he was even able to help them improve by having sex and knew that it is impolite to pry into someone’s secrets, she couldn’t hold herself back and opened her mouth to ask. However,

Squeak~

Just at that moment, they heard some squeaking sounds and immediately became alert and looked around and saw many football sized, rat-like creatures come out of the holes which were previously empty. They had dark brown skin and had countless sharp looking quills protruding out of their backs.

“Poisonous Quillrats!” Belen shouted in alarm and put her hands on the flower bed as her mana swirled vigorously.

Sou—

The flower stem started becoming thicker and taller and the bed moved higher. After they were twenty meters above the ground, the flower petals which were forming bed also became thick and sturdy. Only then did she stopped pouring her mana and sighed in relief.

“Didn’t we check those holes, how can there be these rats still inside them?” Leticia asked anxiously while looking at more than hundred rats whose size was comparable to a football and their backs had black quills which were poisonous.

“These poison quillrats would dug deep while making their holes look empty and go in hibernation when there is a predator in vicinity. Because Max had killed that Dark Demon Snake which was threatening them, a-and the commotion we caused in past few hours must have woken them up.” Belen explained and her face couldn’t help but redden when stating the last sentence.

Leticia also blushed and sneaked at glance at Max and sighed in relief seeing that he was looking down at the rats with a frown.

Belen also noticed this and asked “What is it Max?”

Max looked pointed down and said “I’m thinking why these rats one-star beasts are here?”

Hearing this, Belen’s expression changed and she looked down. After seeing that they were indeed one-star beasts, she cursed “Damn it!”

Leticia was confused seeing her reaction and asked “Belen, Isn’t it a good thing that these are only one-star beasts? We can easily kill them.”

Phew!

Belen breathed heavily and explained “It’s because when there is a group of one-star beast in two-star beasts’ territory, it can only mean that they have at least a middle stage two-star beast as their leader. If it was only that, it wouldn’t be a problem but the special trait of these quillrats is that they always have a partner of equal strength with them. Look down, you’ll find that the number of these rats are even with fifty percent males.”

Leticia took a few seconds counting the number and indeed, there was the even number of them. Immediately after she also wore an anxious expression “D-Does that mean there will be two beasts in the middle stage of two-star realm too?” She asked in trembling voice, hoping that she would say no, even though she already knew what her answer would be.

Belen nodded silently. Leticia immediately said in slightly raised voice “How can it be? If there are 2 two-star beasts, then why would they have to hide from the Dark Demon Snake that was only a middle stage two-star beast.”

“That’s because these quillrats’ most powerful attacks weren’t able to do anything to the Dark Demon Snake since their sharp and poisonous quills couldn’t penetrate its hard scales and even if they could, the Dark Demon Snake had high poison resistance because it was also poisonous creature.” Max explained this time.

Leticia became nervous after hearing this. She knew that with Max’s strength and their assistance, they could kill a middle stage two-star beast. However, if they had to fight two middle stage two-star beasts, then they might get seriously injured or even die. Moreover, apart from Haory who was sleeping in the cave and Belen, none of them had defensive capabilities to protect themselves from their sharp and poisonous quills, which these beasts would shoot out.

Max smiled seeing Leticia nervous and pulled her small body in his embrace and said "Don't worry I'll handle them when they come out. For now, you guys kill these one-star ones okay!"

All of her worries vanished the instant he pulled her in his embrace and a childlike smile appeared on her face. This was the first time he hugged her which made her very happy and she snuggled deeper in his arms.

Seeing this, Belen became envious and bit her delicate lips as she cursed herself inwardly for not being worried like Leticia. Although she wanted him to hug her too, she couldn't just go and ask him to, since she was ultimately his slave even though he treated her like his woman.

Max noticed this and smiled wryly before extending his right hand towards her while hugging Leticia with his left. Belen's face instantly blossomed with a radiant smile and she also threw herself in his embrace. They were behaving as if there was no danger to care about.

Feeling their boobs pressing on his chest, his dragon which was resting until now once again woke up and poked Leticia's belly. Leticia opened her eyes and looked at him with a teasing expression while her hand moved and started caressing his little yet vigorous dragon. vlxt.com

Tremble~

Suddenly, the flower bed started swaying slightly which caused them regain their senses. Max gently pushed them away and looked down to see that all of the quillrats had gathered around the flower stem. Some were trying to climb while some were trying to cut the flower stem, which was more than one foot thick, with their sharp claws and teeth.

"Okay, you guys start killing them before they completely cut the flower down or climb up." Max said while he started to cast his [Calidus Brachium] because the leading rats would come out the moment they started killing their minions.

Both Leticia and Belen obediently nodded and laid down on the edges of the bed while stimulating their mana, ready to start attacking the beasts below.

"Cough! Excuse me ladies. How about to guys wear some clothes first?"

Chapter 163 Troublesome Quillrats[2]

Without caring for the fact that both them were still naked, they laid down on the edges to start killing the quillrats while their naked ass and pink pussies laid bare in front of him.

Seeing this enticing scene, his little brother had become excited once again but Max knew that it wasn't time to continue doing this. Therefore, controlling his surging desires, he lightly coughed.

"Excuse me ladies. How about you guys wear some clothes first?"

"Mm?"

Both Leticia and Belen were confused for a second before realizing what he meant and couldn't help but blush a little before putting on their clothes.

Shua!

Mana surged around them as they started casting their spells. Belen used her vines as spears and pierced the rats' body, instantly killing them while Leticia used her wind blades. Every time her wind blades was shot out, at least two or three rats would be cut into pieces.

Crack! Thud!o17xt.com

Just two minutes after they started killing the beasts below, they heard the earth collapse and saw two rat like head emerge from the collapsed ground in the middle of the numerous holes.

Squeak~

These two quillrats were almost triple the size of one-star ones. Just as they came out, all other rats squeaked as if greeting their king.

"There really are two two-star beasts here!" Leticia exclaimed and stopped throwing out her wind blades as if in shock.

"Move!"

Belen shouted to warn her. However, before Leticia could react

Sou!

A sharp quill shot out from one of the two-star beasts and pierced towards dazed Leticia. Although one-star rats also shot out their quills towards them, they would slow down before reaching them and could be countered easily. However, the quill this rat shot out didn't slow down and was in front of her and she could only stare at it helplessly.

Shua!

Just at that moment, a fire arrow appeared and crashed into the half a foot quill and burned it to ashes in front of Leticia.

Hah...

Leticia backed away from the edge with a pale face. She turned to look at Max who had saved her from death however, he was already gone and only his voice sounded in the air "You guys did well. Now try not to die while I deal with these rats."

Belen and Leticia looked at each other and nodded before casting their best spells in order to assist Max. However, before they could do anything,

BANG!!!

Squeakkkk...

A loud bang resounded followed by the cry of the rat.

Belen and Leticia looked towards the source of commotion and their eyes opened wide. Max was floating in air upside down. His right fist was burning with crimson fire and was on the neck of one two-star beast which was crushed into a bloody pulp while the ground under it had sunken down and cracked.

After that, the fire stopped burning on his fist and slowly landed beside the dead body of the rat. Although it was a simple movement, in Belen and Leticia's eyes he looked heroic right now.

"Is this his new spell which he used on that Bilaz guy yesterday? What grade is that? It's too powerful." Leticia said in astonishment.

"Mhm... It's the same." Belen nodded while she was also in awe of it. 'I'm sure he didn't get it from the academy. The longer I'm with him, the more mysterious he becomes.' She thought before a proud smile appeared on her face.

Similarly, Leticia also had a proud and beautiful smile on her face. They were his women. So, the more outstanding he was, the prouder they became.

"Mm?" Inside the cave, Haory was woken up because of the commotion outside. She sat up and looked around and saw that there was only Rima who was lying on her bed.

'Those guys still haven't returned yet.' She thought and walked out of the cave to check what was the commotion about.

...

Squeakk!

Due to the shockwave created by the impact, the other two-star quillrat was thrown a few meters back. It let out an angry cry watching its companion being crushed to death.

Sou! Sou! Sou!

In the next moment, all of the quills on its body became erect and pointed towards Max before shooting out at him.

Shua!

Using his agility, he quickly dodged all of the quills and jumped a few meters to the side.

Sou! Sou! Sou!

Just as he landed, countless more quills shot towards him from the two-star rat and the one-star ones who were scattered across the area. Because the quills were coming at him from every direction, he didn't have any place to dodge without getting hit by them.

Crack!

Pak! Pak! Pak!

Suddenly, vine walls emerged around him and blocked all of the quills. He looked towards Belen and nodded which caused her face to bloom with a smile.

Squeak!!

However, the two-star beast seemed to have gone insane. It let out a cry which made all of the one-star rats to converge around the vine walls and started attacking it in a frenzy using their claws. The vine walls which were comparable to steel in toughness were being destroyed inch by inch.

Seeing this, Leticia and Belen panicked and started to kill the one-star rats once again while Belen also continued to pour her mana into the vine walls to delay their destruction.

Meanwhile inside the protection of the walls, Max started casting the [Caladius Brachium] once again. However, the speed at which the walls were being destroyed was very fast and he wouldn't have enough time before he was exposed in front of the rats. This was the case when many one-star beasts were getting killed each second by the two ladies on top the flower bed.

Sou! Sou! Sou!

Suddenly, many sand spikes started raining down on the rats around the vine walls killing many of them and some even hitting the two-star leader.

Seeing that Haory had come out, Belen and Leticia sighed in relief and continued killings the rats with everything they had.

Crash!

However even after that, the vine walls still collapsed after less than one minute which caused their faces to turn pale because Max was now vulnerable to their quills.

Chapter 164 Do You Want To Become Strong...?

Sou! Sou!

Just as the vine walls crumbled, the two-star quillrat's eyes shined dangerously as it attacked him with its quills. In an instant, countless half a foot long, dark gray quills shot out towards Max, giving no time to react.

"Nooo!!" Belen and Leticia shouted in horror while, their faces became deathly pale. They knew that even if one of these quills struck him, there were very high chances of him dying due to poison.

While Leticia felt helpless, the mana around Belen swirled chaotically as she forcefully squeezed more than thousand units of mana in an instant and formed a shield in front of him.

Pak! Pak! Pak!

The quills were stopped by the shield before they could pierce Max's body.

"Ugh!"

A smile appeared on her face seeing that she blocked all the quills successfully. However suddenly blood burst out of mouth due to the backlash of her reckless action and she fainted on the spot.

...

Max was stunned seeing her spitting out blood in order to save him and his heart was overflowed with emotions for a second before his eyes became cold and the last bit of required mana was injected into the spell and his fist once again lit up with faint crimson fire.

Swoosh!

He moved at his fastest speed towards the leading quillrat who just realized that its attack had been blocked and the rest of the quills on its back trembled, readying to attack again.

BANG!!!

However, before it could do anything, Max appeared beside it and swung his fist with his full power and struck its neck. A loud bang resounded as the power of the spell blasted the rat's neck along with a few of the one-star beasts around it into smithereens.

"Huu..."

He took a deep breath while beads of sweat appeared on his forehead due to exhaustion. This spell although was very powerful, it also consumed a lot of stamina. But he had already exhausted half of his total stamina while working out all night.

However, ever after this, he didn't stop and casted [Death Rain] and spammed a few 300 MP fireballs and killed all of the one-star rats which were gathered in one place.

Seeing this, Leticia and Haory also started killing the scattered ones. In just a few seconds, hundreds of dead bodies of quillrats were strewn across the battlefield.

After a while, Max and others were inside the cave resting. They had given Belen a healing pill after which she had woken up and now was meditating to heal her the injuries her mana core sustained. Fortunately they were only minor and nothing to worry about.

After recovering the mana and seeing that there were a few hours until morning, Max decided to sleep for a while to give his body the needed rest and replenish his stamina.

Haory looked at him sleeping, deep in thought. She was once more shocked by his insane progress and the fact that he had such an overpowered spell which was obviously not from the academy since he had chosen the [Death Rain] from academy.

After thinking for a while, she shook her head and decided that he was an anomaly who she shouldn't gauge with the normal standards.

“Yawn...!”

Max woke up and yawned. All of his exhaustion had disappeared however, he was still feeling a bit stiff.

“Good morning Max.” Leticia’s enthusiastic voice attracted his attention. He looked around and saw that everyone had woken up including Rima.

“Good morning.” He smiled and then asked Rima “How are you feeling now?”

“I’m completely fine thanks to Belen’s life potion.” She then smiled beautifully and said “Thank you Max for saving us.”

Max shook his head “It’s fine. As your teammate that’s what I should do.” He then looked at Belen who was grilling meat with Hoary and asked in a concerned tone “Are you alright now?”

Belen nodded as a smile appeared on her beautiful face seeing that he was concerned about her. Max sighed in relief seeing this. He didn’t want her to have permanent injuries like his father which would hinder her from improving further because of him.

In the afternoon, all of them were sitting on the bank of the water stream with their legs in the water, relaxing.

When they came out of the cave after having breakfast, there were a few one-star snake type beasts eating the dead bodies of the quillrats. Fortunately, the valley was enclosed from three sides and the scent of dead bodies didn’t spread or there wouldn’t be only a few one-star beasts. Therefore, after killing them, Belen gathered all the dead bodies and Max burnt them to ashes.

“Max now that we have six beast cores and all of are in our peak conditions, how about we find some beasts in the initial stage of two-star realm to collect more cores!” Leticia suggested. Hoary also nodded at this. She was also going to suggest this.

Max shook his head and pointed at the burning corpses in a corner of the valley and said as his lips curled up “We don’t need to look for any beast since some beasts as well as that Bartan guys and his group would be here soon after seeing the smoke and I’m sure after killing them, we will have more than enough cores.”

“Oh?”

Haory and Rima frowned hearing this. Haory looked at him and said “But it would be too dangerous for I, Rima and Leticia since we are only in the initial stage unlike you and Belen.”

Before Max could say anything, Leticia said proudly “I’ve broken through to the middle stage so I’ll be alright.”
o17lxt.com

Haory and Rima, both looked at Leticia in shock because although she was more talented than Belen and Rima as she had broken through to the two-star realm at the age of 19, her cultivation speed was lower than Haory who still hadn’t broken through to the middle stage two-star realm.

Suddenly both realized something and looked at Max who smiled bitterly while thinking ‘So they have already noticed? Oh well, it’s not too difficult to guess when they have been with us all this while.’

He then looked at Haory and Rima and slowly said “I’m sure you have some guess about their rapid progress right.” His eyes flashed as he continued “Do you guys also want to improve like them?”

Chapter 165 Bartan Shivering In Terror[1]

Haory and Rima’s eyes glittered with interest upon hearing this. They always had suspicion that it was Max who somehow helped Belen and Leticia improve so much.

Meanwhile, Belén and Leticia looked at him in surprise before shifting their gazes to Haory and then Rima.

Their eyes slightly dulled after seeing Rima whose body was so sensual that even a saint can’t resist the temptation of let alone Max.

Hearing his words, Haory went into deep thought. She had a guess that she might have to pay him with her body like Leticia and Haory in exchange for the help he would provide her.

While she was thinking this, Rima smiled seductively and opened her mouth to speak. Needless to say, she also wanted the treatment Max gave Belen and Leticia.

However, before she could say anything, Max stood up and spoke in a solemn tone. “We will talk about it later.”

He then turned around to look into the direction of the valley entrance “They are already here. You guys get ready to fight and defend yourself.” Saying this, he started casting his [Calidus Brachium] since it takes almost one minute to completely cast.

Belen and others became alert and stood behind Max while looking at the valley entrance where four figures coming towards them could be seen.

“Oh! This guy has high perception.” The lean man commented nonchalantly. While the electric woman and the other man stared at Max with slight caution.

As they came into two hundred metres range, Bartan stopped and stared at Max with an expressionless face “You know why I’m trying to kill you right?”

Max also stared back at him and mockingly said “Because your master is a retard and you have to obey his order. Am I right?”

Bartan’s mouth twitched at this but he didn’t say anything. He also knew that his master, Dalton was really a retard and didn’t put anything in his eyes just because his family was very influential.

“I’ve no personal enmity with you but have to kill you. I hope you won’t mind.” Bartan said with a serious face and released his murderous aura.

Everyone, including Bartan’s group looked at him as if he was a joker. How can someone not mind when you are trying to kill him?

However, Max’s expression became solemn feeling his aura. He took a few step forward while signalling his teammates to step back and asked “So you must also be prepared to die here right?”

Bartan was taken aback. He hadn’t expected him to walk out from his teammates protection and even ask this question.

He looked at him up and down and noticed mana swirling around his right fist which made a mocking smile appear on his face.

“If you can kill me, I’m ready to pay with my life for trying to kill you.” He then continued “However, that won’t be possible since I’ll be the one killing you.”

Just as he said this, the lean man and electric moved to surround Max while the other man moved towards Belén and others.

He seemed to have wind element and his speed was faster than Leticia. Max didn’t try to stop him from going past him since Belén and others could handle him and focused on pouring his mana into the spell while paying attention to the people in front of him.

Peng~

The electric woman unsheathed her sword and electric sparks flickered on it. She then followed by slashing at his waist with lightening fast speed.

The lean man circulated his mana and his eyes and skin colour changed to green and faint wisps of greenish energy covered his hand as he clawed at Max’s neck.

Shua!

When their attacks were only half a foot away from him, Max moved and dodged their attacks.

Whoosh!

He appeared behind the lean man and raised his right hand to punch. His fist was burning with fire as he had finished casting the spell.

“Fuck!”

The lean man cursed, turned around in an instant and took out a small metal shield and blocked in front of him.

Max was surprised by his extraordinary reflexes and put more force in his punch.

BANG!!!

His punch collided with the shield producing a loud explosive sound and the lean man was thrown into the rocks as a shooting star.

Crack! Thud!

The rock he crashed into cracked and he fell on the ground powerlessly.

“What?” The electric woman exclaimed in fright upon seeing this. She guessed that unless it was someone who had very high defence, everyone else would suffer serious injuries which would leave them half dead at the very least.

Bartan who was about to attack Max and the other man who was running towards Belén and others, stopped in their tracks and looked at Max in disbelief and horror. vext.com

Seeing their astonished expressions, Max laughed “What? Didn’t expect me to be this strong? Did you?”

Bartan’s expression became very ugly. He guessed him to be at the peak of middle stage two-star realm at the very least. This made him look at Max in new light.

He then took a deep breath and spoke grimly “Indeed, I didn’t expect you to improve so much in just over a month. However, you’ll still die here.”

Echo~

While Bartan and others were stunned due to Max's sudden show of power. Belen and others didn't remain still. Rima used her sonic spell on the man who was only fifty meters away from them.

Bang!

He was hit with her spell without resistance which made his expression turn severe.

Sou! Sou!

Haory and Leticia followed up by attacking him with their sand spikes and wind blades.

Hah!

The man shouted to regain his senses and jumped to the side successfully dodging their attacks.

Shua!

However just then, half a foot thick vines shot out from behind him and pierced his chest.

Pfff....!

He instantly spat out a mouthful of blood and looked down his chest which now had a dark green coloured vine coming out of it.

"Ahhhh... You damnable whores!"

He let out a piercing cry and cursed in pain and anger before his expression became savage. His mana surged out and formed three five-feet long and one foot wide swords.

"Die with me." He shouted with all his remaining strength and three swords shot towards Belén and others at very high speed.

Because they didn't expect him to attack even his last moments and the speed of the wind swords was very fast, Haory and others didn't have time to dodge.

Swoosh!

However, Belen reacted the moment he conjured up the swords. She put her hands on the ground and channelled mana into it. Instantly, many vines came out from the ground and formed a three meter high and half a meter thick wall In front of them.

After injuring herself previous time when she had to instantly conjure up a vine wall to save Max, she understood that she always, had to be prepared for the worst case scenario.

Therefore, she had started casting her vine spell the moment Bartan and others appeared inside the valley, with the effective range of 200 meters.

When needed, she only needed to channel her mana into the ground and vines would sprout out instantly to be used as she liked.

This tactic couldn't be used previously because to maintain it, at least 10 units of mana was consumed per second. However, now she was nearing high stage of two-star realm, she had enough mana to maintain it for a few minutes.

Boom!

All three swords crashed into the wall with great momentum. Vine splinters flew around and the wall was pierced after some resistance and the swords continued to fly towards them.

Leticia and Rima almost cried out and even Haory showed traces of fear on her face seeing this.

Seeing this, Belen also panicked a bit before forcing herself to calm down and quickly controlled the vine that was piercing the man's chest and crushed his heart in a Swift movement.

"Ugh!" The man coughed up blood last time before the last sparks of his life faded away. Wind swords also dispersed After losing their caster to maintain it.

Phew!

Belen let out a cold breath. However, Her heart was still thumping loudly and she felt her legs go soft.

The situation was really dangerous just now. If she was just a micro second late in crushing his heart, the wind swords would have cut them into pieces.

"Wah! We are safe." Leticia and Rima let out a breath of relief. They hadn't expected him to use such a powerful attack in his last moment.

Haory also visibly relaxed. She looked at Belen in surprise. 'Her improvements are also amazing.'

...

Seeing one of their companion getting killed in just a few moments after Max had attacked, the expressions of Bartan and the electric woman became even uglier.

“It seems I underestimated you guys very much. However don’t–”

Bang!

Bartan spoke through clenched teeth but was punched in the gut before he could finish his words and was thrown back.

“Stop your bullshit and fight.”

Chapter 166 Bartan Shivering In Terror[2]

Due to his sudden attack and coupled with the fact that he wasn’t on guard, Bartan was sent flying tens of meters back and blood started flowing out from the corner of his lips due to the internal injuries he received.

Peng~

Just as he was about to crash into the rock behind him, a thin water barrier appeared behind him and caught him.

“Peh! You’ve got amazing speed and physical strength despite being a fire elemental mage. It seems you’ve improved a lot since the recruitment. It’s very surprising.” Bartan spat out the remaining blood in his mouth and praised as if he was an elder appraising his junior.

“However, as I said before, you will still die today.” Suddenly, his tone changed and face became cold. The mana around him started to swirl intensely.

“Mm?”

Max frowned upon seeing this while the electric woman couldn’t help but exclaim in astonishment “You’re already a high stage two-star mage?”

When below five-star realm, you can’t tell the cultivation of a person just by seeing them unlike most beasts who normally has distinct characteristics according to their cultivation.

Therefore, there are a few established ways by which one can identify someone’s cultivation. The most prominent among them is by sensing their aura.

Like when Adrienne, the second envoy, released her aura in the recruitment, everyone who knew how to gauge aura to some extent could tell that she was above the initial stage three-star realm.

However, for the mages in the two-star realm or below this trick doesn't work because one's aura don't mature until three-star realm. That's why when Bartan released his aura, Max only felt that he was strong but couldn't guess the approximate level of his cultivation.

However, there is another way to roughly guess a person's cultivation which is by checking the intensity of the mana swirl.

Right now the mana intensity around Bartan had surpassed the middle stage and reached the high stage two-star realm.

Max looked at the electric woman's surprised expression and understood that not even his teammates knew about his actual strength even though they also should have fought together many times. This showed how cautious he was in doing everything.

'Thankfully tomorrow I had Leticia was too or Belen alone wouldn't have been able to give me enough LPs to raise my mana to the peak stage and I would have really died today in their hands.' Max thought while letting out a sigh of relief.

He then suddenly looked at the electric woman and said in an emotionless voice "Is it worth it to risk your life just for some resources? I'm giving you a last chance to safely escape."

Hearing this, the electric woman who was getting ready to attack him along with Bartan hesitated. Although Bartan turned out to be a high stage two-star mage, Max wasn't alone and two of their teammates had already been killed. She also started feeling that this deal wasn't worth risking her life for.

Bartan's complexion became gloomy noticing her hesitant expression. He knew that if she went away, his chances of killing Max would be almost negligible since there wasn't much difference between the different stages of two-star realm.

He took a deep breath and hurriedly said "I'll give you double the promised amount if you help me kill him."

Previously, he had promised them 100 mana stones each upon the completion of the task. Now that three members were already dead, he didn't mind doubling her reward as long as she help him kill Max.

The electric woman's eyes flashed upon hearing this. Her grip on the sword became tighter. Max noticed this couldn't help but sighed in pity. He didn't want to kill a woman but her choice has now forced him to do so.

Weng~

His expression became cold and suddenly, the mana around him started to swirl furiously. In just a few seconds, its intensity surpassed the level of high stage two-star mage and reached peak stage.

“What?” Seeing this the electric woman became dumbfounded and she instantly regretted her choice just now. However, she still gritted her teeth, ready to risk her life.

Bartar shivered in terror upon seeing this. Even in his wildest imaginations, he didn’t expect him to be in the peak stage. One should know that in this world of magic, although others things such physical strength, magic weapons etc gave people an edge over others, the ultimate thing was still mana.

Even if you have strong magic weapons, high grade magic spells but have small amount of mana, you’ll die since you won’t be able to utilize these things properly. However if you have enough mana then even if you only a basic spell, you would be the last winner, of course, some other things were also important.

Standing around a hundred meters away, Haory and others were also shocked by this revelation. Although, they knew that he had become very strong and with his new spell, he could easily kill middle stage two star beasts, they hadn’t expected him to have broken through to the peak stage of two-star realm.

Max didn’t say anything or wasted any more time. He waved his hand and two 300 MP fireballs appeared in front of him which then shot out towards both Bartan and the woman each. Immediately after his figure became blurry as he moved.

Boom!

Seeing him attack them, both Bartan and the electric woman regained their composure. A water snake materialized in front of Bartan before it lunged at the incoming fireball. Both the water snake and fireball exploded into nothingness.

Swish!

The electric woman also channelled her mana into the sword and covered it with the electric sparks before slashing the fireball in two.

Surprisingly, after being sliced, the fireball simply dissipated without exploding which wasn’t normal since it had properties to explode upon contact unless Max was actively controlling it and preventing it from exploding.

However, Max didn’t pay much attention to this since these fireballs had done their jobs. He had successfully appeared beside the electric woman whose defense had become lax for a moment.

Whoosh!

With an expressionless face, Max struck towards her back. The electric woman's hair stood on ends seeing this since his simple punches were enough to injure someone who didn't have any guard up, like he did to Bartan. Moreover, he seemed to have strengthened his punch by mana which would cause serious injuries to her delicate body if struck.

In the nick of time, she used her sword to defend to her back. www.17xt.com

Clang!

His fist collided with her sword which was flashing with electricity, producing clanging sound. He jolted back and his hand became numb for a few moments.

Bang!

Although she had successfully blocked his punch, she was thrown back into the rocks due to the power it contained.

Sou! Sou!

Just then, five water snakes shot towards him from different angles which made it difficult for him to dodge. Therefore, he didn't even try to move and conjured up five 100 MP fireballs which shot out to meet the water snakes in mid-air and exploded along with them.

Following this, Bartan started spamming water snakes and the electric woman came back and started attacking with her sword which immediately put Max in a disadvantageous position. He would dodge the electric woman's sword attacks while countering Bartan's water snakes with his fireballs.

'No, I can't fight passively like this.' Max thought and got ready to cast [Death Rain] on the electric woman which would give him chance to move back and start casting his strongest spell.

Sou! Sou! Sou!

Just then, three wind bullets and sand spikes shot towards Bartan while snake like vines shot towards the electric woman. Belen and others had come forward to help him after killing one man.

Tong! Tong! Tong!

The electric woman brandished her sword as fast as lightening and cut down all the vines in half while Bartan used his water barrier to defend against Leticia's wind bullets and Haory's sand spikes. His water barrier seemed at least two times stronger than the time he used it against Flavia.

“Fuck!”

Seeing them join the fight, Max cursed and hurriedly shouted “Focus on defense!”

Belen and others were confused by this. However, they obeyed his instructions. Belen erected two three feet thick walls while Haory used her sand to make it sturdier.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Just as their defense walls were constructed, a few attacks struck the first wall and it was almost destroyed. They finally understood why Max said to focus on defense. It seemed they hadn’t been attacking with their full power until now.

Bartan smiled wickedly and conjured a few water bullets which then shot towards the walls and completely destroyed the first wall while the second wall was also damaged.

His water bullets had high destructive and penetrative power but their speed wasn’t fast enough. That’s why he hadn’t used them until now since Max would’ve dodged them easily and that would have been a total waste of mana.

Seeing Belen and others come forward and join the battle, he was very happy. Previously, they were more 300 meters away from him and he couldn’t afford to attack them because Max wouldn’t have let that opportunity go by to catch him off guard to deal a serious blow.

However, now that they were in range, he could attack them and force Max to expend more of his mana since he was sure that he would try to save them as their relationship seemed very good and he didn’t seem like someone who would sacrifice his teammates to kill his enemies.

Chapter 167 Devil’s Voice

“Have you gone mad? I told you guys to stay put and only fight when someone is attacking you. Why would you join the fight?” Max angrily said while looking at Belen and Leticia who were leading them.

Leticia and Belen’s face fell seeing him chide them but they didn’t say anything and hung their heads down like little kids who had done something wrong.

Haory saw this and said in an irritated tone “They came because they saw you in a disadvantageous situation even though they knew that they might not be of much help and might die instead. Learn to be grateful a little.

Hearing this Max frowned as he stared at her. After a moment he took a deep breath looked towards Belen and Leticia who were on the verge of crying and sighed.

He understood how they must be feeling right now. It really feel like shit when you do something selflessly for the sake of a person and he doesn't appreciate and instead behave like he just did.

Taking a step forward, he embraced both of them and said softly "I'm sorry for reacting like that."

Rima and Haory looked at him with slight surprise. Haory nodded to herself 'At least he knows how to be compassionate.'

Hearing him apologising even when he was angry for their sake, they wanted to say that they were sorry but before they could, Max let them go and his expression became stern once more.

He took a deep breath and asked while looking at Belen and Haory "Can you defend for 50 seconds?"

"We can only try." Haory nodded and circulated her mana. The sand particles supporting the second wall became tougher and the wall was now sturdier than before.

Belen also regained her composure and used her mana to repair the damaged parts of the walls. After which the colour of the vines forming the walls became darker and thicker. However, her face became slightly pale as she had used more than half of her slightly more than four thousand plus mana units. overtxt.com

Meanwhile, Leticia and Rima moved to intercept the electric woman who had come near the vine wall.

Echo!

Just as the electric woman was 50 meters away from the wall, a sound wave hit head on which almost caused her eardrums to rupture and she staggered.

Swoosh! Swoosh!

Just then seven to eight wind blades shot towards her.

"Shit...!" The electric woman gritted her teeth and hastily tried to dodge the wind blades but she still received a deep gash on her waist and her white robes started to turn red due to the blood.

She quickly took out a healing pill and ate it before dodging another wave of wind blades shot by Leticia.

She then brandished her sword and covered it with electrical sparks and started attacking Leticia and Rima. Rima tried using her sonic spell a few more times but it was dodged every time.

Because Leticia's speed was higher than the electric woman, she could easily evade her attacks while trying to hit her with wind blades. However, the electric woman has beastly reflexes and was very proficient in fighting unlike them.

She would dodge or destroy her attacks with her sword while simultaneously inflicting injuries on Rima who was didn't have any means to save herself since her sonic spell weren't of any use.

Leticia had the ability to dodge her attacks thanks to her speed but she had to save Rima time and time again or she would have died in the first ten seconds, and because of this, she got struck by the electric woman's sword which not only injure her but also gave the numbing effect which caused a steep drop in her speed and immediately put them in perilous situation.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

For the third time, Bartan cast his water bullets spell. Five water bullets double the size of a baseball shot out and crashed heavily into the wall. Sand and wood splinters flew around as the water bullets blew up five half meter wide holes.

"Mm? It didn't crumble?" Bartan was a bit surprised and then sneered seeing Haory and Belen standing behind the walls using their mana to repair and strengthen it.

"How long can you keep it-" Bartan scoffed and got ready to cast his water bullets once more as if it doesn't consume much of his mana.

However, he suddenly froze and his expression became grim because from the holes he created in the wall, he saw Max casting his spell and he seemed to be half done as the flame sparks were starting to burn on his fist.

Swoosh!

Seeing the electric woman entangle with Leticia and Rima, Bartan cursed and ran towards Max to stop him from casting the spell.

Although he had his water barrier spell which was his strongest spell and was capable of blocking a full-fledged attack from most of the peak two-star mages without breaking, he was sure that if Max attacked him with this spell, his barrier would shatter like glass and he would be severely injured. Maybe after that, he won't even be able to use the escaping talisman.

Seeing him stop casting his most powerful spell and came running towards them, Belen and Haory immediately understood what he wanted to do.

They both took mana recovering pills and stop supplying mana to the wall which instantly crumbled.

“Hah...!”

Giving a hoarse shout to gather every last bit of the remaining mana inside their mana cores, Both of them put their hands on the ground and poured all of it into it.

Swoosh! Swoosh!

Three half foot thick, pointy vines shot out from the ground at fast speed and pierced towards Bartan who was a hundred meters away from them.

A large quantity of sand also gathered and formed a giant hand in front of Haory which then slowly floated a few meters above the ground. Then suddenly, it turned into countless one-meter-long sand spikes that rained down on him like hailstorm.

Seeing this, Bartan became very angry because to defend against these attacks, he had to cast his water barrier which would consume more of his mana and delay him in stopping Max from completing his cast.

But he gritted his teeth and cast the water barrier around him.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Sand spikes and vines crashed into the barrier and crumbled into dust or were rebounded off the barrier.

He then shouted while waving his hand to conjure up a few water snakes that shot towards both ladies “Get out of the way bitches!”

However, suddenly a low voice sounded by his ears like a devil’s whisper and it made his blood run cold.

“You dare disrespect my woman?”

Chapter 168 Depressed Rima

Swish!

Two fireball containing 200 MP each flew one meter in front of Belen and Haory and the water snakes heading towards them were vaporized. After destroying the snakes, the fireballs gradually disappeared under Max’s control.

Belen and Haory sighed in relief and turned to look at Max. He was standing there a few meters in the back, looking at Bartan with a cold expression and his fist was burning with crimson fire more intensely than the previous time he cast his spell. 0171xt.c0m

Recalling the words he just spoke, Belen blushed a little while a sweet feeling surged in her heart. On the other hand, Haory felt a bit bitter hearing him say 'woman' and not 'women'.

However, immediately after her face also reddened 'What am I thinking? Of course. he would say this since I'm not his woman...'

"Damn it!"

Bartan cursed and hurriedly injected more of his mana in the water barrier to make it stronger while his hand moved towards his spatial bag.

Shua!

Max suddenly moved like wind and appeared in front of him in the next instant. Using his complete physical strength, he punched at his barrier.

Sizzle~

As his fist came into the contact with the barrier, a sizzling sound was produced as the water barrier started to evaporate and the fire around his fist also started to dim a bit. This was to be expected since both fire and water were incompatible with each other.

Seeing this, Bartan's hand stopped moving towards his spatial bag and he was about to start conjured his water snakes to attack him. Max saw this and a mocking glint flashed in his eyes.

BANG!!!

Half a second after coming into the contact with the barrier, the [Caladis Brachium] worked and the barrier was shattered which made Bartan freeze. Right after that, Max's fist became bigger and bigger in sight and his breathing almost stopped due to the pressure and fear before he was hit squarely in the face.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Thud!

He flew through the air, crashing and shattering the rocks before finally colliding with the valley's hill and flopped down on the ground.

Shit!

The electric woman cursed under her breath and attacked Rima ferociously which made Leticia retreat with Rima. This time the electric woman didn't chase after them and took out the escaping talisman crushed it.

Swoosh!

An energy rippled from it and enveloped her figure. Seeing this, she sighed in relief as she was afraid that Bartan had given them defective talisman. Before she disappeared, she couldn't help but glance at Max.

Even though she tried to kill him in order to earn some resources, her eyes now held respect apart fear as she looked at him. 'It seems he is among the most talented new disciples this year.'

Leticia and Rima watched on helplessly as she disappeared.

"Tch, we couldn't even injure her again." Leticia said in frustration.

Rima didn't say anything and sat powerlessly on the ground before taking a few healing pills to heal her injuries. Her figure was riddled with wounds even though Leticia tried to help her to the best of her abilities.

Leticia glanced at her and knew that she must be feeling very useless right now but she didn't know what to say to comfort her as she was also feeling the same. She sat beside her to rest and looked towards Max.

Max was standing there looking at his fist with a frown. Before he suddenly moved towards Bartan who was lying there like a dead person.

This made Leticia and others think that maybe he wanted to torture him like he did to Bilaz and this made them cringe. Belen and Haory looked at each other before opening their mouth to stop him from doing such fiendish things. However, before they could say anything a weird chuckle resounded in their ears.

"Hahaa..."

The source of this laughter was Bartan whose hand suddenly moved before Max could reach him and took out and crushed the escaping talisman.

The teleportation energy enveloped him and his figure started to fade away. He raised his head to look at Max who was coming towards him at his fastest speed.

His face was all bloody and disfigured with his nose and teeth broken. He was completely unrecognizable right now. He laughed recklessly showing his bloody teeth "Don't think you can kill me. Next time we meet, you'll definitely die."

Max suddenly conjured a 300 MP fireball and threw it towards him. He didn't want to let him escape as he will trouble in the future if left alive.

BOOM!

Fireball exploded and created a crater in the place, Bartan was lying until now but there was no sign of him right now which meant that he had been teleported away successfully before the fireball struck him.

"Fuck!"

Max cursed in anger and frustration. However, nothing could be done now. 'Next time, no matter what, I'll kill everyone who tries to kill me.' He swore.

However, realized that only increasing his mana reserves wasn't going to be enough when encountering other humans who weren't like beasts that acted on instinct.

Sigh!

He sighed and turn around to walk towards the ladies who were completely exhausted.

He noticed Rima whose white robes were dyed red and she had countless sword wounds all over her body including her breasts and face which made him angry once again.

He calmed down and asked "Are you alright?"

"Yes. I'm fine. Sorry I wasn't of any help." Rima said gloomily and then stood up and walked towards the cave.

Leticia looked at her departing figure and sighed.

If she had awakened any other element and not sound element, her strength right now should have been on par with Haory or Belen considering her talent which was even better than her and Belén.

However, now that she had a element although even rarer than sand or other elements and can be very deadly, but it didn't have much possibilities of helping her become strong because of the lack of suitable spells.

She joined the academy in the hopes of finding a sound element spell but there was none.

The spell she usually used was something she created herself just as Max created his Fireball spell.

Therefore, she couldn't improve even though she was desperate to do so.

Max also sighed seeing this. However, he suddenly remembered seeing a sound elemental spell in the system shop.

Chapter 169 L'm Willing...

He quickly opened the system shop to check and indeed, there were two sound elemental spell. One was of grade three like his Caladis Brachium and other one was grade five.

Finding the solution to her problem, Max's mood, that wasn't good due Bartan's escape, improved quite a bit.

'If she is willing to be my woman, I can give these spells to her.' Max thought. After all, they weren't of any use to him and if she became his woman than it was his responsibility to take care of her which naturally included giving her what she needed.

After that, he asked others if they were alright. Apart from Rima and Leticia, others were fine and had only exhausted their mana and stamina.

They then searched the two dead bodies of Bartan's teammates. The lean man's spatial bag had thirty mana stones and different types of pills which included 20 grade two healing pills, 30 grade two mana recovering pills and a few dozen poison enhancing pills which were beneficial for poison elemental mages.

As for the shield which he used to defend Max's attack, it turned out to be a grade two magic artefact but because he couldn't activate it properly before getting hit, it had a few cracks which made it useless. Even so, it still could fetch some mana stones after selling. Therefore he stored it in his inventory.

The man killed by Belen was turned out to be poor, he didn't even have a spatial and was using a normal pouch. However he had 40 mana stones, ten more than the lean man and a few healing and mana recovering pills.

After burning their bodies, everyone went inside the cave where Rima was sitting in meditation. They rested until she was finished before Max distributed the spoils of war among them. 017xt.c0m

"Maybe we should rob more people. It's very easy to earn mana stones this way." Leticia said in excitement after receiving her share.

Everyone looked at her laughed, which made her blush and laugh in embarrassment "I-I was only joking. Hehe."

...

Night time...

After they had dinner, everyone was cultivating with the exception of Rima who was standing outside the cave, staring at the stars.

Sigh!

'Maybe this is my destiny to not be able to become strong.' She thought and sighed, depressed.

Step! Step!

Just then, she heard footsteps behind her and turned around to see Max coming towards her. She put on her usual smiling face and asked "Done cultivating so soon?"

Max shook his head "No. I just came out for some fresh air." He then asked "What about you? Why aren't you cultivating?"

Rima smiled bitterly before looking at the stars twinkling in the sky "What's the point of cultivating? Only my realm can improve but my strength will stay the same and I'll continue to be a burden to everyone around me. There is no hope left anymore. Sigh!"

Max stood beside her and also looked up into the sky. Watching the twinkling stars, he slowly said "There is always hope as long as you don't give up."

Rima only laughed lightly but didn't say anything. Max then looked at her and saw that her eyes had become misty and she was barely able to hold her tears back.

"Do you remember what I asked you in the morning?" Max suddenly asked.

"Huh? Yes, I remember." Rima nodded and a tinge of shyness appeared on her face and before Max could say anything, she continued in a calm voice

"You know, the reason I joined your group was because I liked you and I know that you've got some way to help us become strong like you are helping Belen and Leticia. However, I'm not interested in that since I know that without some spells, I won't be strong enough and would be looked down upon by everyone."

Then her face became a bit red as she looked into his eyes and said "But I still want to become your woman because I like you."

"Oh!" Max exclaimed. He was taken aback by her words. Since he didn't expect her interest in him to be genuine and not driven by the benefits he could provide.

A smile appeared on his face and he suddenly hugged her tightly.

“Ahh...” Rima was surprised but didn’t resist and hugged him back.

“If you really want to be my woman even after knowing that I’ve other women, I’ll not only help you improve like others but also help you find a spell of your element. However, you’ll forever be my woman from the moment you agree.” He whispered in her ear.

“Whaattt?” Rima exclaimed loudly and came out of his hug and looked at him in utter shock. She suddenly grabbed his hand with both of her hands and asked in a trembling voice “A-Are you telling t-truth?”

However, after a few seconds, her shock subsided and she released his hand while shaking her head “You don’t need to lie to make me feel better.”

Max smiled bitterly. She had really lost all hopes of finding a spell suitable to her.

He cupped her face between his hands and made her look into his eyes “I’m not lying. You’ve seen my new spell, right? Tell me, will the academy give a new disciple like me such spell assuming that they even have it to begin with?”

“N-No. They won’t.” Rima said. She has seen how powerful his new spell is and know that it was even more powerful. The academy definitely won’t give this kind of spell to a disciple, especially not to a new disciple.

“But I still have it. So, believe me when I say that I can find a sound spell for you too.” Max said, caressing her soft cheeks.

Rima didn’t say anything immediately. After thinking for a while she nodded lightly “Un. I’ll believe you and I’m willing to be your w-woman.”

Hearing this, Max smiled and gently put his lips on her seductive red lips and kissed.

Rima hadn’t expected him to kiss her the moment she agreed. However, how could she know, how much Max waited for this moment. Since the day he saw her and noticed that she was interested in him, he had decided her to make her his.

Chapter 170 Another Wild Night[1]

The moment their lips touched, Rima felt a new and wonderful feeling that she never felt before and felt herself losing in the sensation of her first kiss.

All the strength in her body seemingly vanished and she couldn’t anything apart from letting him kiss her however he wanted. But it didn’t mean that she disliked this.

Max gently kissed her upper lip and then the lower lip. The taste of her lips was sweet and fragrance and different from other ladies' which aroused him a lot. Therefore, he went for a deep kiss to properly savor them.

He put his tongue out slightly and licked and sucked her lips before it slipped inside her mouth and licked her tongue that was even more sweet and fragrant.

In just a few seconds, his gentle movements became forceful. He was sucking her tongue and lips like a ravenous beast and almost seemed as if he wanted to devour her. Meanwhile, his hands moved across her body feeling her amazing curves.

Even after doing it for more than five minutes straight, he didn't seem to get satisfied anytime soon.

However, he had regained some clarity and noticed that she was almost gasping for breath. Therefore, he reluctantly stopped kissing her.

"Hah... Hah..."

Max simply held her by her waist while she caught her breath. Her body leaned on him powerlessly as she deeply gasped for air and it was only after around one minute that her breathing rate returned to normal.

She then raised her head to look at him with a red face which looked even more beautiful and enchanting now.

"It felt amazing. No wonder, Belen always seemed so desperate to be alone with you." She said in amazement. While he was kissing her, she felt as if her body was melting and all her worries seemed to have disappeared.

Max was turned on by this. Cupping her face in his hands, he squeezed her cheeks which made her cheeks and lips puff out and looked very adorable. He gave her a smacker and said with a smile "It's only the tip of iceberg. I'll soon let you experience the real pleasure."

"Oh, then I'm waiting for it." She said smiling. Her wish to do it was about to soon become reality which made her expectant and her heart to thump. 071xt.cOm

Seeing her say it so boldly made a smile appear on his face. He then suggested "How about I ask Belen to make us flower bed here?"

"No!" She hurriedly grabbed his hand and shook her head. Her face became redder thinking about Belen knowing what they were going to use the bed for.

'Hehe. You aren't so bold now.' He chuckled inwardly seeing her become anxious. Then he said in teasing tone "Okay then, we will do it on the ground then." Saying this, he started to take out a bedsheet However, Rima once again stopped him.

She then took out a bed large enough for one person to sleep comfortably which had a soft and fluffy mattress on it. "We w-will use it."

Max looked at her weirdly and asked "When you had a bed, why did you sleep on the flower bed?"

"It's because, I thought you guys would also have brought your beds but you didn't and it wouldn't be good of me if only a sleep on a comfortable bed while you guys slept on flower bed." She said while looking at the bed with longing expression.

Although the beds made by Belen were also comfortable to sleep on, that still couldn't compare to the soft and comfortable mattress.

Max looked at her in surprise. He didn't expect her to be so considerate of them. Following which, his gaze became gentler when looking at her.

He then smiled "Then let's start." Saying this, he lifted her in his arms and gently laid on the bed and then climbed onto it.

A few miles away from the valley...

"Ahh... That bastard really disfigured my face." A man in his mid-twenties cried hysterically while looking in mirror.

He was Bartan who used a high grade escaping talisman which instantly brought him a few miles away where he healed his injuries and recovered his mana and stamina.

However, even though his nose, jaw bones and teeth had recovered after using some precious medicine, his face still had burn and cut marks which made him look hideous.

"Fuck!" He cursed and threw the mirror away, shattering it.

'I've wasted so many resources in preparation to kill him and this was the result. Moreover, I would have to face that good for nothing young master's wrath if he came to know this.' He gritted his teeth in frustration.

After coming to the cloud academy, he reported to Dalton that Max had become very strong and he had become very close with Flavia and that they would spend most of their time together.

He did this to anger Dalton and he got the results. After which he asked for a lot of resources as an excuse to improve himself and hire some people to kill Max during the outing and Dalton sent them without thinking much. He just wanted Max dead no matter the price.

Before joining the academy, Bartan's cultivation was in middle grade two-star realm which he had hidden from everyone and after using most of the precious resources such as mana stones, mana refining pills and mana expansion pills which even some core disciples wouldn't be able to get easily, his cultivation improved from middle stage to higher stage two-star realm.

Therefore, he was confident of killing him and leave a good impression on Dalton so that his and his family's lives would be better. But he didn't expect to fail this pathetically.

If he didn't kill him quickly, Dalton would snap and he would be tortured brutally by him. Although he could escape to somewhere else, his family was living under Dalton family's watch and they would be killed if he did so.

"No matter what, I've to kill him." He looked in the direction of the valley and then walked away.

...

While Bartan was reeking his brain to think of some way to kill him, Max had climbed the bed of a beauty.

He grabbed her robes and quickly helped Rima take them off. In a few seconds, the most seductive woman he had seen till now was laying under him completely naked, shyly looking at him.
