Chapter 121: THAT BITCH IS INSANE

Adam entered Becky's through the main entrance and quickly proceeded towards the main room, where, upon nearing the door, he had to quickly dodge to the side because of a random blaster bolt that came flying through the doorway towards him.

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): Damn, that was close.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Stream almost got friendly fire.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Did you forget to turn off the friendly fire streamer? Kekeke.]

"Fuck." Adam sighed in relief as he hid behind the door frame and used it for cover as random blaster bolts came through now and again.

Not wanting to take the chance of looking around the corner, he accessed his uniband and took control of one of the minicams.

The chat view switched to the minicam as Adam controlled it to fly inside the main room where the firefight was taking place before it flew up to the ceiling to give an overview of the situation.

Everyone saw that the invaders, who were all dressed in black, were hiding behind furniture for cover just beyond the doorway, while the eighty sixers and patrons who hadn't managed to escape were hiding behind cover further in.

Adam spotted Stacey and Susan behind the couch he had left her on earlier, along with Joe, as they occasionally returned fire with their own weapons.

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): What's that big gun that seems to shoot out a cone of energy bolts?]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): It looks kinda like a shotgun the way she pumps it before each firing.]

[Banguela007 (Vinox 3): It's a scattergun. She doesn't have to pump it before each use; however, doing so increases the energy discharged each time.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Doesn't that use up its energy faster?]

[Banguela007 (Vinox 3): Yup, which is why most use it sparingly in this sort of situation; however, she doesn't seem to understand that.]

[Banguela007 (Vinox 3): Oh, she just ran out of energy.]

As they watched, they saw Susan pump the scattergun again before aiming and pulling the trigger, only for nothing to happen, which caused Susan to show a confused look.

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Hahaha, she's totally a noob.]

"EAT ENERGY BOLTS FUCKERS! HAHAHAHA" They all suddenly heard as they saw a woman with two automatic blasters stand up from behind the bar and start firing them wildly while laughing like crazy.

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): I like this bitch.]

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): You would.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): She does seem a bit unhinged.]

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): Takes one to know one.]

[Naruto_shippuden_6468 (Earth): Talk about spray and pray, she's not hitting anything.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Well, almost the streamer. Kekeke.]

Adam had to hug the wall even tighter around the doorframe as Jessie sprayed her automatic blasters' energy bolts like a madwoman.

"How the fuck am I supposed to help when she is firing off rounds like that?"

[Wikkr (Earth): I vote for grenades.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Ohhh, I like this idea, show us a Sci-Fi grenade.]

[SciFifanboy (Earth): Oh hell yes, that would be so Sci-Fi.]

[Beinglittleisnotadisadvantage (Strathorp 7): Does he even have any? The closest he's used is the shock pellet.]

[Devil_Prince_Asura (Deverinian 9): Can't he just send that woman he's been working with a message?]

"That would be a great idea if I had her contact info," Adam replied sheepishly.

[Devil_Prince_Asura (Deverinian 9): ...]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): It's official, the streamers a moron.]

[DobbyL (Darah 5): Agreed, a hot piece of quarter Brood like that and he didn't get her contact info, what's wrong with you, man?]

"Spector, can you send Stacey a message?"

[[Affirmative]]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Once again, the streamer's AI assistant comes in clutch, MVP.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): What's MVP?]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): It stands for most valuable player.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): Oh then MVP +1]

[NewManagment (Strathorp 6): MVP + 2]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): MVP + 3]

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): MVP + 4]

[MerceadAnderson (Palaxia): MVP + 5]

[Vinnaka (Felinia 6): MVP + 37]

"Do other streamers have the piss taken out of them by their own chat?"

[Razzakel (Ravonar 4): Yes.]

[Werewolf1987 (Caniniar 4): Yup.]

[Razzakel (Ravonar 4): It's a sign of love and endearment.]

[[Standing By to send message.]]

As Stacey was firing off her blaster towards the invaders, her uniband sounded, notifying her of a message.

As she quickly ducked behind the couch again and checked the message, she smiled before shouting towards Jessie.

"JESSIE."

"WHAT?" Jessie replied as she was once again swapping out her energy cells.

"FOCUS FIRE THE TARGETS TO THE RIGHT OF THE MAIN ENTRY DOOR."

"WHY?"

"JUST DO IT."

"TCH FINE," Jessie grumbled before rising up again and spraying her twin salt blasters towards the invaders to the right of the door.

"You two as well," Stacey said as she started to assist Jessie while Joe copied her.

"I can't, I'm empty," Susan said in a sad tone.

[Vinnaka (Felinia 6): Awww, look at the woman with the scattergun, she looks so sad.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): I would be the same if I ran out of ammo.]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): She's hot though.]

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): That's true.]

As Adam and the chat watched the eighty sixers focus fire to the right off the door, the blaster bolts stopped coming through it, so Adam took his chance.

With his blaster in one hand and force staff in the other, he swung himself around the door and aimed both weapons at two different targets before firing them.

Energy of slightly different types erupted from both weapons before impacting the backs of two of the individuals wearing black.

As they collapsed to the floor, Adam aimed at two more and fired again.

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Is it me, or does the energy from his force staff look different?]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): You mean fake staff. Kekeke]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Whatever.]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): You're right, it's still red in colour, but it has a different size and brightness to it.]

[Beinglittleisnotadisadvantage (Strathorp 7): It's not surprising, different weapons discharge different types of energy depending on their internals.]

By the time Adam took down six of the invaders, the others had taken notice of the lack of firepower coming from their side of the firefight.

Turning to ask what their teammates were doing, they saw their unmoving bodies on the ground before one of them spotted Adam and yelled, "SHIT AMBUSH."

"The remaining invaders quickly swung their weapons towards Adam and fired just as he dove back through the doorway, avoiding their attack.

[NewManagment (Strathorp 6): Oh, close one.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Almost got him. Kekeke.]

Jessie noticed that the invaders were no longer firing in their direction, and as she peeked over the top of the bar, she saw that they had all turned to fire towards the main entry door.

With an evil smirk, she reached under the counter for another weapon, which she pulled out before standing up and aiming it in their direction.

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Holy shit, is that what I think it is? 🤩]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): I think it is. Get out of there, streamer.]

Adam looked at the stream feed after seeing what the chat said and noticed the weapon Jessie held was large with six barrels and looked suspiciously like a grenade launcher they had back on Earth.

"Fuck." Adam said as he dashed back down the hallway.

"No, Jessie, don't." Joe cried in panic as he saw what Jessie was holding.

"Too late, EAT THIS," Jessie replied before she pulled the trigger and launched a spherical object that soared over all of them before hitting the far wall and rebounding onto the floor next to the invaders.

As the invaders heard the sound of something landing at their feet, they looked down and, upon seeing what it was, fear filled their eyes as they tried to run, but it was too late.

"KABOOOOOMMMMB"

An explosion took place that shook the entire building along with those nearby, as all the defenders ducked down low, covering their heads.

"THAT BITCH IS INSANE," Susan yelled in anger as Jessie roared with laughter happily.

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): That was... EPIC. The streamer is officially my new number one.]

[SciFifanboy (Earth): That was so Sci-Fi, I never thought I would get to see a live firefight on a stream, let alone with energy weapons.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): Gotta admit it was awesome.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): I bet the people running the streamer platforms here on Earth are pulling their hair out. kekeke.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Meh fuck 'em, they should charge us so much money to watch without ads.]

[Celebrityhunter69 (Earth): Actually, now that you mention it, I have never seen an ad on the streamer's channel, I mean, I am subbed, but it's not a paid sub for ad-free viewing.]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Agreed.]

It took a while for everyone's ears to stop ringing from the noise and the dust to settle before people carefully peeked their heads out from behind cover to find that the main room of Becky's now had a crater in it filled with a few body parts.

"Ah, so satisfying," Jessie said with a large grin as she rested the launcher on her shoulder.
