Chapter 125: Party Time

Because of his flight speed, Adam was able to reach the third floor before the elevator, and as he did so, he found that there was no one watching the stairs.

As he landed and deactivated his anti-gravity drive, making his wings vanish, he saw that a group of half a dozen gang members were waiting a short distance away in front of the elevator with weapons raised.

As soon as the elevator dinged and the doors opened, the gang members all opened fire.

[Naruto_shippuden_6468 (Earth): Heh, they fell for it.]

[Ayato_Kanzaki (Earth): Yup, and now it's gonna cost them big time.]

Adam raised his automatic blaster and, after switching it to full auto mode, he opened fire with a hail of bullets towards the gang members who were still firing into the empty elevator.

Some of the gang members screamed in pain and collapsed to the floor, while others just straight up died.

Adam didn't let the survivors off and quickly finished them off before swapping out the energy cell since the energy indicator on the side of the automatic blaster showed that it only had a few shots left before the energy cell ran out of energy.

[[Kill Count: 36]]

[adg (Indigo Station): Shit, he just beat the bet I made.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Keep going, streamer, and I will win this.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): I doubt it, the betting chart shows you bet on something stupid like 100. I highly doubt there are another 64 gang members on this floor.]

As Adam turned to look further into the third floor, he was surprised to find that there was no corridor like he expected, just a large pair of double doors a few feet away, which he approached.

[Netononato (Earth): Those doors scream boss room.]

[Leonthemoneygiver (Earth): Where's the save point lol.]

Adam approached the door before trying to open it, only to find that it was locked. He held his hand out over the door lock, and a second later, it unlocked with a click, allowing him to open it.

As he did so, what appeared was another hallway that was carpeted and lined with pictures and decorations.

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): Did the streamer just break into someone's apartment?]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): It looks like it, I guess the boss of the Skull Rose gang lives above the nightclub.]

Adam walked down the hallway while keeping alert for any ambushes, but apart from what sounded like loud music, nothing else happened as Adam proceeded towards the noise.

As he entered the room where the loud music was coming from with his plasma scattergun raised, he was surprised to find a man with a skull tattoo on his face lounging against a large couch as his unfocused eyes stared at the ceiling.

[DobbyL (Darah 5): What the fuck is this?]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Ah, he's high on something.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): I was expecting an epic face off, but instead we find a guy stoned out of his face.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Guess he wasn't expecting visitors. Kekeke.]

Adam edged closer and, upon closer inspection, found that the tattoo-faced guy didn't even register his presence.

Taking a look around, he found several lines of powder on the table before the guy, some of which had already been snorted with a blaster and a drink lying beside them.

"Guess this guy doesn't know the rule about not taking the drugs you sell."

[Healthylifebysniffingdugs (Deverinian 7): That's a lame rule.]

"How long is he gonna be like that?"

[[Scanning bio readings]]

[[Subject's bio readings indicate he is highly intoxicated with the drug known as 'Party Time'. It is estimated he will be like that for another twelve minutes.]]

"Party Time? Seriously?"

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Everyone loves a party. Kekeke.]

[Razzakel (Ravonar 4): Not when there are party crashes like now, though.]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): I thought it strange that the boss didn't come running when the streamer started his attack, but it makes sense the guy didn't react to all if he's high on Party Time]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Also, don't forget the door was locked, so maybe they couldn't get in.]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): True, he wouldn't want anyone taking advantage while he's defenceless to off him.]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): Is the stuff that strong?]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): It's a drug that puts you into a hyper-realistic dream-like state based on your deepest fantasies and desires while closing off all your external sensors.]

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Doesn't sound so bad.]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): Except for the fact that when the fantasy ends and you return to the real world, you realise how shit your life is compared to how it could be. Many people have died from starvation because they just kept taking hit after hit of Party Time because they never wanted it to end.]

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Ok, that is so bad.]

Adam ignored the guy for the moment as he moved over to where a console was before laying his hand over it.

"Anything on our boy Max?"

[[Nothing regarding the attempted kidnapping of Stacey, however there are records showing that Max Parks has been purchasing drugs from the Skull Roses for the last six years.]]

[OrangeeyedStace (Trillion): Six years? That's longer than he's been streaming from Becky's.]

"Well, I guess we're going to have to question the boss himself then," Adam said as he looked at the tattoo-faced boss, who was still on his party time trip, before he walked towards the kitchen.

[Vinnaka (Felinia 6): Is he planning to make himself some food?]

[Werewolf1987 (Caniniar 4): Well, I guess he does have time to kill.]

However, unlike that chat we're expecting, Adam only grabbed himself a couple of the knives used for cutting food before he headed back towards the gang leader, where he placed the knives down on the table before he moved the gang leader's hands so that they rested on his knees.

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): I got a bad feeling about this.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): I got a good feeling about this, and it's the kind that gets me wet.]

Adam picked up the knives again before he brought them both down on the back of the gang leader's hands, causing them to pierce through before embedding themselves in his knees.

The gang leader didn't even flinch or utter a sound as the knives penetrated his body.

"That stuff really does block off all your sensors, doesn't it?"

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Well, hot as fuck, it's missing that painful scream that I desire.]

[Justiceistruth: (Earth): There is something seriously wrong with you.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): I know. 😊]

"I wonder what he will feel when his party time wears off," Adam asked as he went and sat down on the opposite couch and waited for the gang leader's party time to end.

Terrana 5, a large open park area that had the imperial palace as a backdrop, was packed to the brim with tens of thousands of Terrans and aliens as they all paid attention to a large stage where different artists were performing their songs.

A few hundred meters away from the stage on a raised platform, several individuals of different races sat around a table as cameras focused on them.

"Well, Terran's and alien friends alike, we have had an amazing concert so far; the Terran imperial family has certainly gone out of its way to put on the best show possible for us all." Sinead Quintana said as she sat at one end of the table hosting the live coverage of the celebration's signature attraction, a concert featuring artists from all over the known universe, or at least those who would accept the invite.

"I think we have all been eagerly waiting for the next and final artist of the night, Diva Lorelie. She is by far the most hotly anticipated artist performing at the Terran celebration; however, recent rumours have been circulating that she has been losing popularity and will soon be replaced as a Diva. Niktots Ucad, as a former Diva yourself, what's your take on this?" Sinead asked while turning to a male alien who was a guest on the show.

"Well, no one is capable of staying a Diva forever, I'm proof of that." Niktots said with a laugh before continuing, "I had indeed heard this rumour and it only seems to have been confirmed after we learned that the attack orchestrated by Drotas Entertainment was for this very reason."

"I see, Andrew Spencer." Sinead replied before turning to the other guest a Terran male and asking, "We have heard rumours circulating that Dive Lorelie has a surprise planned for tonight's performance, indeed when we managed to get a few words from her earlier this evening she said and I quote, 'I hope you everyone enjoys the surprise I have planned for them.' Do you have any insights regarding this as one of the concert organisers?"

"I'm afraid I'm as much in the dark as you are on this, Sinead, while I can tell you that Diva Rowena is scheduled to sing six songs tonight; however, she made a last-minute request to change her final song, which was authorised by the imperial family themselves. However, no one seems to know what this final song is."
