Chapter 144: Gearing up Stacey*

"I guess the question is, do we tell them about this?" Lorelie said.

"Tell who about what?" Tessa asked as she and Stacey entered the room, causing the others to look at each other.

"They're going to find out about it sooner or later, so you might as well tell them," Malacoss advised.

"I guess you're right," Rowena replied before explaining the contents of the message she had just received from Stacey.

"Seriously, who fucking ordered them to try and apprehend the streamer?" Stacey cursed while Tessa sighed and shook her head with a sad look.

"Oh fuck yes, I love when you do me from behind," Stacey said in pleasure as she lay face down on the edge of the bed with her ass in the air while Adam fucked her wet pussy and occasionally spanked her ass.

"You filthy little slut." Adam said as he spanked her ass again.

"Mmmm, yes, baby, I'm your filthy slut, treat me like the slut I am," Stacey replied as she started to rock her hips slightly in a way she had learned Adam liked.

Indeed, it wasn't much longer after she started doing it that Adam let out a deep grunt as he unloaded his sperm deep inside her pussy again.

"MMMMMMMM SOOOOO GOOOODDDD." Stacey cried as she climaxed at the feeling of his sperm entering her pussy before she fully collapsed on the bed.

Adam rested his hands on her ass for a few minutes to steady himself before he removed his dick from her pussy and took around next to her face, where Stacey almost absentmindedly took it in her mouth and started to suck it clean.

“I love how you clean my cock after each session,” Adam said with a smirk as he looked down at the beautiful pair of orange-red eyes that stared back at him.

“I told you I love sucking cock, and I love sucking yours especially,” Stacey replied as she stopped sucking for a moment before she started again, only this time she sucked harder.

“We will arrive at Terrana Five in a few minutes.” Spector suddenly announced.

Stacey finished cleaning off all the cum before swallowing it all and saying, “Such a shame, it means we won’t be able to fuck as often from now on.”

“Perhaps not as much all over the ship as we have been doing, but we will definitely fuck each night in bed,” Adam replied as he bent down and kissed her cheek.

“Good answer,” Stacey replied before she rolled off the bed and walked towards the shower, shaking her ass just for Adam.

Before she passed through the door, however, she looked over her shoulder and said, “Going to join me? We still have time for some fun in the shower while we get cleaned up.”

Adam shook his head with a chuckle before following her inside while saying, “Engage condition yellow before we leave FTL”.

“Affirmative.”

Adam and Stacey arrived in the cockpit just after Spector had dropped out of FTL, and they saw a planet on the viewscreen.

"It looks similar to Earth," Adam commented.

"Affirmative, like Earth, approximately seventy-nine per cent of Terrana Five is water," Spector replied.

"So what's the plan?" Stacey asked.

"Spector will remain cloaked in orbit and use her sensors to keep an eye on things while we head down to the planet in the cloaked shuttle," Adam replied with a smirk.

"Wait, Spector has a shuttle that can also cloak," Stacey asked in surprise.

"Affirmative," Spector replied.

"Why am I not surprised?" Stacey replied in exasperation before asking, "But why not take Spector down to the planet if she is cloaked?"

"I don't want to take the risk of someone discovering her, even though she can remain cloaked on the planet; that doesn't prevent people and objects from impacting her; a shuttle makes for a much smaller target. Also, I get the feeling that the admiral from before was more interested in her than us, the way he spoke when he mentioned her made me suspicious."

"So do we leave straight away?"

"No, first we need to get you geared up."

"Huh?" Stacey said in surprise as Adam made a follow me gesture and led her towards the armoury while talking.

“As a member of the crew and more importantly as my women, we need to hear you out for protection.”

Stacey smiled happily when Adam said that she was his woman before asking, “Does that mean I get anti-gravity armour like yours?”

“Among other things.”

As they entered the armoury, Adam explained how Stacey should go about equipping the anti-gravity armour.

Following his instructions, Stacey stepped into one of the plain-looking armours waiting to the side before it closed up and started to morph around her.

The armour took on a form-fitting design that showed off Stacey’s curves and sexy figure, while it took on a black colour with red sections similar to her hair.

The eye pieces of the helmet took on an orange-red colour to match her own eyes, and for a moment, two large bat-like wings appeared behind her before they retracted into the armour.

“So how do I look?” Stacey asked as the change finished and a holographic projection of herself appeared before her.

“Sexy and menacing,” Adam answered honestly.

Stacey nodded and giggled in agreement as she turned herself, causing the holographic projection to mimic her actions and let her view herself from every angle.

“You're right, though I'm disappointed I didn't get wings and a tail like you did,” Stacey replied with a slight pout towards Adam as her helmet retracted.

“You're right about the tail; however, you did get wings, activate the anti-gravity drive,” Adam instructed.

“Oh?” Stacey said as she did as instructed, which caused the large bat-like wings to appear again.

They were much larger than her own and, in fact, resembled those possessed by her grandmother Rowena.

“Wow,” Stacey said as she was again turned on the spot, admiring them and making them flap slightly.

“You can actually move them?” Adam asked in surprise.

“Yeah, I just tried doing it the same way I do with my own and it worked.”

“I see,” Adam replied before moving over towards a weapons compartment that opened, showing a new blaster and several other gadgets.

“This is a Terran Munitions Knightstalker Mark Seven.” Spector said as it began to explain the blaster, “Like Adam’s Phalanx, it has the self-recharge facility; however, unlike the Phalanx, it only has three settings, stun, kill and disintegrate. It would be best not to mix them up.”

Adam looked at the blaster and thought it resembled a Glock pistol from back on Earth with a setting switch on the side, allowing Stacey to change the fire mode.

“Do I have to give back the other blaster you gave me before?” Stacey turned to Adam and asked after inspecting the Glock.

“Do you prefer the other one or something?”

“No, I just want to keep it since it’s the first gift you gave me,” Stacey replied while averting her eyes with a slight blush.

Adam chuckled before saying, "Sure, if that's what you want."

Stacey smiled happily at his response and gave him a quick kiss before Spector continued to introduce the other equipment she was being provided with.

A few minutes later, they arrived at the rear of the ship, where the shuttle, along with a few other craft, was parked.

The shuttle was shaped like one he had once seen in the Rogue One movie that the admiral Thrawn used, with the two wings on the side folded up, except its colour scheme was more reminiscent of Spector's own.

As they boarded the shuttle, they stowed the larger weapons they had brought with them, although they planned to leave them on the shuttle unless anything kicked off.

"I won't leave you alone too long, baby, and then we can have some fun again," Stacey said to the missile launcher she had used before.

Stacey had insisted that she be given the missile launcher when it came to equipping her with some larger weapons. She seemed to have taken a liking to it after she used it in the past.

"Just don't go all trigger-happy like Jessie if you need to use it," Adam said.

"No promises," Stacey replied with a smirk.

The two proceeded to the cockpit of the shuttle before sitting down at different consoles, which brought them online.

"Spector, are we clear for launch?" Adam asked.

“Affirmative, Spector unit five is clear for launch,” Spector replied through the shuttle’s internal comm as the rear hatch of the ship started to open, though a forcefield could be seen that prevented anything from being sucked into space.

“Activating cloak,” Adam said, causing the shuttle to shimmer before it disappeared. After which, he activated the shuttle's anti-gravity drive and flew it out through the rear hatch.

“Spector, remain in stealth and maintain orbit. Also, let us know if you detect anything noteworthy,” Adam instructed as he piloted the shuttle towards Terrana Five.
