Chapter 145: Arriving at Terrana Five

“So have you heard back from your grandmother?” Adam asked as he piloted the shuttle towards Teraana Five.

“Oh, we were so busy I forgot to check,” Stacey replied before accessing her uniband.

“It wasn’t like we were fucking the entire time the last few days.”

“If only, but I can only take so much.”

“That makes it sound like I’m some sort of sex starved beast who can’t get enough.”

“You said it, not me,” Stacey replied as she stuck out her cute tongue at Adam before focusing back on her uniband, where several messages from her grandmother waited.

“Oops.” She said,

“What?” Adam inquired.

“Well, because I forgot to reply, grandmother got rather antsy and sent me half a dozen text messages over the last few days.”

“You'd better get back to her then.”

“Yup.” Stacey replied as she quickly read through the messages before saying, “Hmm, it seems the imperial family learnt about your plan to just pick up Diva Lorelie and my grandmother and leave.”

“How? Did your grandmother tell them?”

“Not on purpose, it seems that Tessisdabest and that slut Beczontop entered the room just as my grandmother and Diva Lorelie were discussing it, and they overheard, and well, since that slut is the niece of the empress, you can guess what happened.”

“Damn, Adam cursed.”

“Why are you so against meeting them?”

“I’m not a fan of rich and powerful families; they tend to be full of elitist snobs who think they just have to wave their credit around to buy anything they want, but as soon as something or someone turns up that they can’t buy, they use connections or force to get what they want.

Just look at what happened with Max Parks, or worse, my former girlfriend.”

“Your former girlfriend? What happened?” Stacey asked cautiously.

“Let’s just say she’s no longer around because of a spoiled brat and leave it at that,” Adam said in a hurt tone that Stacey had never heard him use before.

The shuttle was quiet for a while as it entered the atmosphere before Stacey finally asked, “So what do you want to do?”

“Are you ok going on your own to meet them and escort them back to the shuttle?”

“Yeah, but what about you?”

“ I have a few errands I have not had a chance to complete, so I can complete them here before meeting back up with you, and we can all head back to Spector.”

“What sort of errands?”

“Nothing major, I still have some outstanding bounties I took back on Palaxia for some of the pirates I eliminated, but forgot to hand in with everything that happened.”

“What do you want me to tell them when they ask why you didn’t come with me to meet them?”

“Whatever you like, the truth, a lie, I don’t care.”

“If you're sure that’s how you want to play this.”

“Yeah, I just want to avoid any rich and powerful people for a while, if possible, it brings up bad memories.”

“I understand, but you know Diva Lorelie is rich considering she’s a Diva, and my grandmother is both rich and powerful, yet you're ok bringing them back to Spector.”

“Diva Lorelie left a good impression on me when we met in the past. She doesn’t seem like the type to flaunt her wealth in the way I hate. As for your grandmother, that’s because you need to speak to her about the whole you feeding on me thing.”

“You know if they insist on following us back to where we park the shuttle, I won’t be able to stop them, they are the imperial family after all, and this is their world.”

“I don’t expect you to try and stop them. If they do insist on doing that, however, it just proves that they don’t take other people’s feelings into consideration.” Adam replied before changing the subject and saying.

“Spector, find us someplace to land that's out of the way and gets little traffic.”

“Affirmative, scanning for suitable location.”

“Suitable location found three miles out at twelve degrees,” Spector said as the location appeared on the shuttle's console before Adam altered course in that direction.

“Admiral, we believe the ship has arrived at the home world.”

“Explain.”

“One of the ships doing planetary security of the home world just registered something entering the atmosphere because of the atmospheric disturbance it caused; however, they were unable to detect what could have been causing the disturbance.”

“You believe the ship entered the atmosphere while cloaked?”

“That’s what I believe, admiral.”

“Tell the ships doing planetary security to keep their sensors on full so that we can tell if the ship attempts to leave and intercept it, and also alert the Bounty Hunters Guild that the targets are planetside.”

“Yes, Admiral.”

“I can’t believe Tessa didn’t use your position as empress to get her out of work,” Becky said as she and Victoria travelled to the arranged meeting spot that Stacey and Rowena had decided upon.

The reason they travelled separately from the others was that they came from the palace, where they had duties to attend to, while the others had already been out having fun in the city.

“That’s because, unlike you and most of her siblings, Tessa isn’t one for using her position to get ahead in life and is adamant about doing everything herself,” Victoria replied.

“Hey, I have never used it to get ahead in life or my career, unlike them, I only use it for special occasions like this.”

“You mean when you want to have your pussy filled with cock and cum.”

“Not always that, sometimes it's if I want to play with another pussy. Tessa still refuses to let me touch hers after all. Also, it's not like you're any different.”

“Tessa is like that because she doesn't have the same sexual urges as the other women of the Ororis family; her father's genes seemed to have somehow overwritten it. Also, it's different for me since it's 'my' authority.”

“How is that even possible? Succaba genes should be superior to Terran genes since they are a much older race?”

“I am unsure of this myself; however, it is not like she doesn't get sexual urges, she just has them like other Terran women, so it's nothing really to be concerned about.”

“I can't wait to finally meet my baby.”

“Lieutenant, why exactly are we being sent to the Bounty Hunters Guild?” A Terran male in the back seat of a hovercar asked as it proceeded down the road.

“We have been ordered to collect some vital and sensitive intelligence from the guild leader,” Tessa replied as she sat in the front seat of the hovercar next to the driver.

“Can't they just transmit it? Why do we have to collect it?” The same male grumbled.

“Didn’t you hear the lieutenant say it’s sensitive, you idiot?” Another Terran male who sat in the back beside the first retorted as his eyes kept shifting to Tessa’s visible neckline.

“Oh, please, how valuable can it be if it’s coming from some bounty hunters?”

“Valuable enough for them to send a four-person squad in plain clothes to recover it.” The female Terran driver replied as she had the hovercar turn a corner.

“Aww man, I finally got some vacation time where I was going to try and meet the two Divas and get their autographs; however, I got ordered into doing this instead.”

“All you do is complain whenever you are given something to do. Why did you even join the TISF?” The driver asked.

“The easy career, since all we ever have to deal with is pirates and smugglers, as we haven’t been in a war in hundreds of years, the free food, the good pay and the female officers in uniform, of course.”

“Oh, of course.” The driver replied sarcastically.

“When are you going to let me finally take you out for a good time by the way?”

“Never.”

“Tch boring.”

“No, I’m just not into men who are fine with sticking their cock in any pussy.”

“Focus, people, we’re about to arrive,” Tessa ordered as the driver pulled the hovercar up near the entrance of the bounty hunter guild, and they all got out before walking around towards the main entrance.

Just as Tessa, who was leading them, reached the automatic door and was about to enter, she almost collided with another individual who was trying to enter from the opposite direction, causing them both to stop suddenly.

“My apologies, after you.” The individual said as he made a gesture for Tessa and her group to go first.

“Thank you,” Tessa said politely and gave the man a quick look of thanks.

She was surprised to see how plain-looking he was for a Terran, but soon shook the thought off as she led her team inside.

“You see, that's how a true gentleman acts.” The driver said.

“Oh, please, did you see how plain he was? I have never seen such a plain Terran in all my life; the only way he could get any woman is with his manors.” The first Terran male retorted with a huff.

“Plain looking,” Tessa mumbled to herself quietly as she thought about what Lorelie had said about the streamer.

However, she quickly shook the thought away because she knew that the streamers' meeting location wasn't here, and so focused on the task that was assigned to her as she led her team inside.
