Chapter 194: Lorelie's firsts

"So that's the reason." Adam mused as he read the holographic screen that had appeared over Lorelie's uniband.

They were currently relaxing on a cliff of one of the small islands. Adam was leaning against a tree while Lorelie leaned against his chest as they both read the message Becky had sent.

[[Message received from Becky Starlover: The Ororis family is currently investigating the possibility that a traitor exists within the imperial family. That is why they wanted Adam to question Admiral Dexter.]]

[[Message received from Becky Starlover: P.S. Put a word in with Adam for me pleaaasseeeee.]]

"She's really desperate to make up with you," Lorelie said with a giggle before adding more seriously.

"I wonder why they think there is a traitor in the imperial family, and it's not all just this Admiral Dexter doing?"

"If you're that curious, ask her." Adam replied absentmindedly as he began stroking her arm again.

"I love it when you do that," Lorelie said happily.

"Do what?" Adam asked in confusion.

"When you stroke my arm like that."

Adam looked down at his hand in surprise as Lorelie's words made him realise what he had been doing.

"It's something I do automatically when cuddling, but my mind is thinking about something."

“We’ll feel free to do it whenever we cuddle.” Lorelie insisted.

“Haha, you certainly like cuddling, don’t you?”

“It’s a new experience for me, but I definitely do enjoy it.”

“Then we can cuddle anytime you want.”

“I’m going to hold you to that.”

“Please don’t, I would rather you didn’t ask for a cuddle when you’re in the middle of a performance.”

“Hehe, I will try to restrain my desire when I’m on stage,” Lorelie replied after giggling.

“What other new experiences do you want to try?” Adam asked with a slightly perverted smile.

“Pervert,” Lorelie replied as she blushed and pinched his leg.

“Haha.” Adam chuckled as he gently moved her long turquoise hair away from her neck before gently kissing it.

Lorelie shivered slightly as she felt Adam move her hair, and then started to squirm when his lips pressed against her neck before she let out a soft, pleasurable moan.

“You really do have a beautiful voice,” Adam whispered into her ear, making her smile even more before he went back to kissing her neck.

“Mmmm.” Lorelie continued to moan in pleasure as her body instinctively tried to lean deeper into Adam’s.

One of Adam's hands started to caress her slender arms while his other caressed her belly.

"Why do your hands feel so good?" Lorelie whispered as she enjoyed Adam's touch.

"Because it's me that's touching you," Adam whispered into her ear before taking it in his mouth and gently nibbling it, making her squirm even more and causing her to dig her nails into his thighs.

As she squirmed from his ear nibbling, Adam's hand that had been caressing her belly slowly moved up and started to fondle the underside of one of her ample breasts, making her moan even more.

As he nibbled her ear and massaged her breast, Lorelie's body squirmed in pleasure. Soon she started to feel something from between her legs that was completely foreign to her.

"What is this strange feeling?" Lorelie asked through her moans as her legs twitched even more until something burst for the first time in her life, and she experienced her very first orgasm."

"HHHHIIIIII." Her beautiful voice squealed in pleasure at the strange but wonderful feeling before her body collapsed weakly onto Adam's.

Adam stared at Lorelie in mild surprise at her reaction as a thought came to him, and he asked, "Was that your first orgasm?"

Lorelie nodded weakly as she took deep breaths in order to calm herself down.

"I knew you were a virgin and that you had never dated, but I figured you had at least satisfied yourself."

"Shut up," Lorelie said before burying her face in his chest in shame and embarrassment.

"Hey, I didn't mean any offence. I'm sorry." Adam said as he hugged her and gently stroked her hair while saying.

"I was just surprised, that's all."

Lorelie was quiet for a while, whether it was out of embarrassment or because she enjoyed the feeling of Adam hugging her while stroking her hair, only she knew. Eventually, she spoke quietly into Adam's chest.

"I have just never had the urge or desire to try and satisfy myself before. I was always busy with my career most of the time, and before you, I was never attracted to anyone romantically."

"It's nothing to be ashamed or embarrassed about; if anything, I find you more endearing for it."

"Really?" Lorelie asked in surprise as she looked up at him.

"Yes, even on Earth, it is very rare these days to find someone who has saved themselves for that special someone, even if that wasn't your plan, and it just happened, that's essentially what you have done."

"Someone's got a big head now, haven't they? Special someone indeed." Lorelie said while rolling her eyes.

"Oh? Are you saying I'm not special to you?" Adam asked as he cupped her chin and looked into her beautiful eyes.

"You're not," Lorelie replied; however, her eyes couldn't meet his as she replied.

"Not even a little?" Adam asked as he brought his lips closer to hers.

"Not even a little." She replied softly; however, her cheeks were starting to flush as his lips neared hers, and she felt his warm breath.

"Is that so?" Adam said before he pressed his lips against Lorelie's, making her eyes widen in surprise.

After a few seconds, though, she lost herself in the pleasure of the kiss and closed her eyes as she started to kiss him back.

Lorelie's technique was nothing compared to Jenny, Stacey or any other woman he had kissed before, since this was the first time she had ever kissed anyone.

However, the taste of her lips was almost addictive to Adam, and he found himself not wanting to stop.

As they continued to kiss, Lorelie's hands found Adam's hair and started to run through it.

While one of Adam's hands ran itself through Lorelie's long hair and the other one rested on her plump ass, which it started to squeeze.

Lorelie moaned in pleasure into their kiss as she felt Adam's hand massaging her ass cheek and found herself instinctively trying to deepen their kiss even more.

Feeling her desire to deepen the kiss, Adam didn't refuse and soon pushed his tongue inside Lorelie's mouth.

Lorelie's eyes opened in surprise at the sudden intruder in her mouth that was now attacking her own tongue. However, after a moment, she closed her eyes again as her own tongue started to fight back against Adam's.

The kiss lasted for quite a long time before they suddenly broke apart and panted slightly for air with red cheeks.

"You stole my first kiss." Lorelie said with a pout after getting her breath back before she added shyly, "You better take responsibility."

"How would you like me to take responsibility?" Adam asked with a smirk.

"You know," Lorelie complained shyly as she gently hit his chest.

“Perhaps, but I want you to tell me.”

“You're really going to make me say it?”

“Yes.”

“Tch.” Lorelie responded as she clicked her tongue and turned her head away before mumbling in a low voice, “By accepting me as your woman.”

“Pardon?” Adam asked with the same smirk.

“By accepting me as your woman.”

“I still didn't catch that, sorry, once more.”

“Damn you, just accept me as your woman already,” Lorelie complained as she gave him a glare that told him to stop bullying her.

“Aren't you already my woman?” Adam asked before he once again caught Lorelie's lips with his own and started another passionate kissing session.

Lorelie loved the feeling of kissing Adam and quickly learned how to reciprocate in a way that was no longer awkward.

She was nowhere near the level of Stacey; however, her skill was improving quickly, and it wouldn't be long until she was.

Adam's hands started to wander again, and one of them soon found her ample breast, which he started to squeeze and massage, causing her to once again moan into the kiss.

Emboldened by her lack of refusal and obvious enjoyment of his touch, Adam slid his hand under her t-shirt and into her bra, allowing him to play with her breast directly.

Lorelie quivered and moaned at the contact before her lower body started to squirm again, indicating that she was close to another orgasm.

Adam didn't stop his assault as he intensified their tongue battle and his fondling of her breast.

Lorelie continued to moan in pleasure into the kiss, and Adam used his other hand to reach up and gently grab her by the hair so that she understood she was not going to be able to escape from him even if she wanted to.

Lorelie understood his message and felt his desire for her over the way he grabbed her hair and played with her breasts.
