Chapter 195: How Merminians do it

“MMMMMMMMMM.” Lorelie moaned into the kiss as her body quivered from her second orgasm before she collapsed onto Adam’s body again, breaking the kiss.

“I... I ... I never knew... it could feel... so good.” Lorelie said breathlessly.

“Actual sex feels even better,” Adam replied.

“ Really?” Lorelie asked doubtfully.

“I won’t deny that foreplay is enjoyable and to some it is better than sex, but to many people, sex is the best part; there’s a reason it’s called foreplay,” Adam explained.

“I see,” Lorelie replied slightly nervously.

“Don’t worry, I’m not going to force you into anything you’re not ready for.”

“Are you sure?” Lorelie asked as she searched Adam’s face for any hint that he was lying.

“Of course,” Adam replied softly while stroking her cheek gently. “I’m not going anywhere, and we can take as long as you need.”

“But...” Lorelie trailed off.

“But what?”

“I don’t want to lose out to Stacey; you and her are already having sex after all.”

“Don’t be silly.” Adam replied while kissing her on the forehead, “You and Stacey have no reason to compete, and you're not going to lose out to her. Stacey was having sex before we even met, which is why she is already comfortable with it.

You, on the other hand, are still new to all of this, and it’s best not to rush it.”

“Why?” Lorelie asked, confused.

“Because apparently, it means more if you wait till the right time,” Adam replied.

“Apparently? Don’t you know?”

“No.” Adam said with a sigh before continuing, “I was foolish and tried to lose my virginity too quickly; in the end, the whole thing was a letdown.

Take it from me, wait until you're ready. If you don’t trust me in this because I’m a guy, try speaking to Rowena about it.”

“It’s not that I don’t trust you, but it might be a good idea to get a woman's perspective on this,” Lorelie replied.

“Good idea,” Adam said in agreement as he kissed her forehead again, making her smile.

“I do know two things, though,” Lorelie said happily.

“Oh, what’s that?”

“First, I want my first time with you, and second, I want it in the ocean in my true form.”

Adam frowned for a moment before saying, “I’m fine with that, but I don’t know how Merinmians have intercourse in their true form. Do you even have the same equipment as you have now?”

Lorelie giggled at how awkward Adam looked when he asked such a question.

“Yes, we do, it is only my legs that change into a tail and vice versa on my lower body.”

“Then why didn’t I see your... You know, when we were swimming before? I mean, you weren't wearing anything on your tail.”

“Because I used my power over water to obscure my private part, all Merinmians do this in their true form, even the males.”

“So you still have sex in the same way?” Adam asked while scratching his cheek and looking away slightly.

“Yes,” Lorelie replied before giggling at how cute she found Adam when he was embarrassed.

“Is it really that difficult to talk about?” Lorelie asked.

“It’s not difficult, it’s just awkward. I honestly hadn’t considered us having sex in the future when you're in your true form. I’m just so used to seeing you in your human form.” Adam answered.

“Well, I want to take the opportunity to experience it in my true form while we are still here in the Oasis Galaxy, once we leave, I won't be able to until we return again in the future,” Lorelie explained.

“I understand, but don’t feel like you have to rush just so that we can do it before we leave the Oasis Galaxy. Nothing is stopping us from coming back here anytime we feel like it.”

“But you want to explore the universe.”

“Yes, but what's the point of exploring the universe with the ones I care about if they're not happy? Originally, it was only me.”

“Now there is you and Stacey, and maybe even Rowena and Tephe will travel with us for a while. It won't be as fun if we're not all happy and having fun.”

“You know I just keep falling for you more and more,” Lorelie said as she looked Adam in the eyes with a sweet smile.

“Feel free to, after all, I don't want anyone stealing you from me in the future,” Adam replied.

“No fear of that,” Lorelie replied as she wrapped her arms around his neck and, for the first time, took the initiative to kiss him.

They kissed for a few minutes before Lorelie said, “We should head back. It will be getting dark soon, and you need to have your meeting with Jacques and Lady Erkath tomorrow.”

“Good point,” Adam replied as they both stood and walked hand in hand towards The Meteor, which had been parked a short distance away.

“Do you seriously plan to offer Lady Erkath the concept for women's clothing from Earth?” Lorelie asked.

“If she agrees to my conditions, why?”

“You know you could make a lot of credits if you produced them yourself?”

“I know, but as I've said before, I have no interest in starting a business; what I want is to explore the universe with you and Stacey while helping you both with your goals. Plus, I will make more than enough credits from the deal with Lady Erkath if they sell well.”

“So you plan to ask for a percentage of the sales?”

“That's one of the conditions, yes.”

“What are the others?”

“That's a secret. It's the present I promised Rowena, and I don't want to risk ruining the surprise.”

“You don't trust me to keep a secret?” Lorelie pouted.

“Of course I trust you, I just don't know if you're any good at keeping secrets,” Adam replied as he reassuringly squeezed her hand.

“Fine.” Lorelie pouted before adding, “But so that you know, I can keep secrets.”

“I'm sure you can.”

“So what do you want to do about this, Admiral Dexter?”

“While I would like to go deal with him myself, right now being your bodyguard is my first priority, so I will let the Terrans handle it.”

“We can always take a quick trip back to Galaminer Galaxy?”

“No need, we are already here, and you need to focus on your upcoming shows. You can't disappoint your fans.”

“You sacrificing your revenge for my well-being?” Lorelie asked with slight sadness.

“Don't look so sad, it's not like you're getting in the way of my revenge. This is my decision, plus I get the feeling that there will be plenty of chances for revenge against plenty of different people in the future.”

“Isn't that what the viewers from Earth called raising a flag?”

"I guess it is."

"Do you want me to let Becky know?"

"Please, also ask her to pass on my gratitude to the imperial family for giving me the choice."

"Ok," Lorelie said as she sent Becky a quick message on her uniband before they both climbed onto The Meteor and set off back to Lorelie's little island.

"So he turned down the offer," Victoria said as she once again appeared on a holographic screen in Tessa and Becky's cabin.

"That's right, though he does send his thanks for informing him of this and giving him the chance to get revenge," Becky replied.

"Well, that's something at least. It appears your plan to repair our damaged relationship with him worked." Victoria said proudly.

"Yes," Tessa said happily.

"I will contact grandfather and tell him to send some people after Admiral Dexter then," Victoria said before ending the holocall.

"Hello, Sakura." The same Catonian who had been speaking to Director Drot said to a female Catonian from a holographic screen.

“Ichiro, what the fuck do you want?” Sakura responded with annoyance.

“Is that any way to greet someone who is here to give you important information?”

“Important information? More like you want to try and trick me into doing a job. I told the family that I am too busy for that right now.”

“You are not seriously still considering the black hiest, are you?”

“So what if I am?”

“No one has ever managed to pull that off, not even your mother, and you think you can? You're not even a rank one yet, Sakura.”

“I wan't out of this fucking family.”

“Why do you hate it so much?”

“Mind your own god damn business and get to the point already.”

“Fine, Judo is dead.”

“And?”

“You don't care?”

“No, if that's all you have to say, I'm hanging up”

“Wait, wait. The target is a ship with cloaking tech.”

“Go on,” Sakura said with interest.

“I know you have been looking at getting your hands on cloaking tech for the black hiest, well, the target ship that needs stealing has it.”

“Send me the info,” Sakura said before ending the holocall.
