Chapter 361: Sudden appearance

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Well, I guess that's one way to make an exit.]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): Yeah, I mean, the streamer is literally making himself an exit. 🤔]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): Is he going after the bounty hunters again?]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): He better be. 😏]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): Knowing the streamers' history with them, that is the most likely scenario.]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Do you think the UMB Cup will broadcast him killing bounty hunters? 🤔]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Unknown, but that would certainly be interesting.]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): He needs to cut the head off the snake that has been placing all these bounties, that bastard Drot.]

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): Agreed, but that's easier said than done. Especially since Drot operates Sector 17 of the bounty hunters guild from the Nagareen homeworld of Eccinda in the Saurian Galaxy.]

[LadyErkath (Deverinian Prime): You sure know a lot.]

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): My idiot husband is friends with the guild leader here on Palaxia.]

[MercheadAnderson (Palaxia): Babe. 😏]

As everyone watched, the drones continued to circle at an ever-increasing rate of speed as they cut through the sphere's hatchway until all of a sudden, the hatchway broke away from the main body of the sphere and floated out into space while the drones shut down and returned to Spector Unit Six, where they reattached themselves to it.

[HackerSu (Trillion): Oh shit, he cut through.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): I'm not sure the UMB Cup committee is going to like you damaging their property streamer. Kekeke.]

After the drones reattached themselves, Adam had Spector Unit Six shoot out of the sphere through the hole he had created and into space before heading back towards Felinia 7 while saying, "Plot a course for the bounty hunter guild hall on Felinia Seven."

[[Affirmative.]]

[[Course Ploted]]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Oh yeah, here we go, are we going to see him destroy another guild hall?]

[MertheadAnderson (Palaxia): Looks like it, but that's only going to increase the bounty they put on him, surely.]

[Phoenixexpress (Fenix Nest): As I said before, he needs to make a statement by killing Drot. Maybe I should have my goddaughter inform him.]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): I'm not an expert on Emperors and Empresses, but is it right for them to proactively suggest murder?]

[Phoenixexpress (Fenix Nest): Probably not for most, but I'm in the unique position of 'I don't care'.]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): Huh? 🤔👉]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): 😊👉 Allow me to explain since it appears Revi doesn't plan to.

As she has mentioned before in this chat, Phoenix Empress Revi is beloved by her people, not only because she helped defend her race against the Herpolisk race during the Phoenix Hunts and was there to fight alongside the White Dragon during the Siege of Fenix Nest, which has made her universally recognised as a war hero.

But because she has successfully and daily ruled the Phoenix race for 12 lifetimes or 2 millennia without taking a husband or even dating anyone.

This has led the Phoenix race to believe that she prioritises ruling them over everything else in her life, including her own happiness.

Because of this, the majority of the Phoenix race has absolute trust and loyalty towards her, their empress.]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): And they would be correct. Since the Siege of Fenix Nest I have worked to not only help my race rebuild and repopulate itself. But also to build ties with other races in the universe.]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): Wow.]

[Emojisonly (Earth): 🗣️]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): I wish our leaders were that dedicated.]

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Hold up, didn't Phoenixempress mention about her having been in love in the past?]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): Correct, I did.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Yes, she did; however, being in love with someone and actually having a boyfriend are two different things. For all we know, it could have been a one-sided love, and the person she was in love with might have turned her down. 🐱]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): 🍷 Fuck you, Raphilia, I have never been turned down.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): So you admit that you're too cowardly to tell this person that you love them. 🐱]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): Bitch. 😏]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Pardon the interruption, ladies, but the streamers mech is entering the asteroid field.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Don't interrupt them, dude, it was just getting good. Kekeke.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Yeah, I mean it's not like anything interesting is going to happen in the asteroid field, all that's in there is floating rocks and those weak ass lasers.]

Spector Unit 6 quickly passed through the asteroid field within a few minutes without any problem, and after clearing it, turned towards Felinia 7.

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): See, I told you nothing would happen. 😏]

Suddenly, Spector made an announcement that made Adam bring Spector Unit 6 to a dead stop.

[[WARNING, Spatial tear forming directly ahead]]

A space a short distance from Spector Unit 6's location started to flash with lightning before a large tear appeared.

Following the appearance of the large tear, something huge appeared directly in front of Adam, before the tear sealed itself and the lightning faded.

It was a ginormous creature that was almost as long as a medium-class ship; it was mostly different shades of black, though it had a strange orange design running down the centre of its head. It looked strangely like a whale to Adam, though it had two long whiskers that were the same length as its body and four tentacles instead of a normal tail fin.

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): What the fuck is that? It's huge?]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): It looks like a whale, but with tentacles.]

[SciFifanboy (Earth): Holy shit, is that a Space Whale?]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): Oh wow, it's a Levithen.]

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Levithen?]

[Justiceistruth (Earth): Do you mean Leviathan ?]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): What's a Leviathan? No, I mean Levithen. They are a race of benevolent creatures that travel the universe via subspace.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Seriously? I thought only Dragons could do that?]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): No one ever said that Dragons were the only race that could do that.]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): Superior4horns is correct. While there are not many, there are several other creatures that can travel through subspace without a ship, like the Levithen here.]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): It's strange to see a lone Levithen, though; they usually travel in groups, and this one seems quite young, judging by its small size.]

[Emojisonly (Earth): 🤔]

[CEOHopkins (Earth): That's small?]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Indeed, adult Levithen's can grow as large as capital-class ships.]

[CEOHopkins (Earth): How big are those?]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): The size of a small moon.]

[CEOHopkins (Earth): 🤔]

[Emojisonly (Earth): 🤔]

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Seriously? WTF?]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): It must have gotten separated from its parents and group somehow.]

Just as the chat was talking, Spector made another emergency announcement.

[[WARNING, Second spatial tear forming directly above.]]

"Another one?" Adam asked in shock as he looked up to see the space directly above the Levithen start to flash with lightning again, as another tear formed just before another creature suddenly emerged above the Levithen, after which the tear once again sealed and the lightning faded.

The creature looked like a ginormous scorpion, and at around 50 meters in length, it was even bigger than the Levithen. It had large pincers and a long, thin deadly deadly-looking tail. Instead of legs and feet, however, it had long tentacles like an octopus; however, instead of suckers, they had an uncountable number of spikes on them.

[MercheadAnderson (Palaxia): Oh shit, that's not good.]

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): Fuck a Scorpo, get out of there streamer.]

[HackerSu (Trillion): This is bad, very, very bad.]

“Fuck a Scorpo, why is one of those so close to Felinia Seven?” Lorelie cursed as she watched the stream with the others, catching the other VIP’s nearby by surprise since Diva Lorelie was always known to be very elegant.

“It must be hunting the Levithen,” Rowena remarked with a frown before saying, “Contact Matriarch Maiya immediately so the Catonians can deploy their military and defence force to kill it.”

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Scorpo’s you have mentioned those before, right?]

[Phoenixempres (Fenix Nest): Yes, they are an extremely dangerous space creature. However, it’s rare for them to come so close to a planet that is inhabited by humanoids since they have learnt most races will kill them on sight.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): It must be hunting the Levithen, which also explains how and why it got separated from its group. This Scorpo probably tried to attack it before, and being scared, it jumped into subspace, and the Scorpo followed it.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Kill it, streamer, save the Levithen.]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): Are you nuts? The streamer needs to get out of there. A Scorpo is powerful enough to destroy any ship up to cruiser-class, let alone a single mech.]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Prestigious3horns is right. The best thing the streamer can do is escape while the Scorpo is occupied with hunting the Levithen. After it makes its kill, it should jump back into subspace, or it will risk being attacked by the Catonian military.]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): You want him to run away and leave the benevolent creature to its demise?]

[HackerSu (Trillion): It's not that I want that, but that there is nothing the streamer can do. His mech is powerful, but I doubt it can handle a Scorpo.

You see those tentacles, the Scorpo hunts by wrapping them around its prey and latching on with the spikes before it either stings you with its tail or cuts you up with its pincers.

Basically, once those tentacles are latched on, you're not getting away.]

[Celebrityhunter69 (Earth): But he can't just leave it to die.]

[Beinglittleisnotadisadvantage (Strathorp 7): Unfortunately, that's the natural order of things, young Levithens are the natural prey of Scorpo's.]
