Chapter 371: Drot's location

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): He's errrr, ripping the roof of the guild building. 😳]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Yes, he is. 😳]

[MertheadAnderson (Palaxia): Has anyone ever done something like that before?]

[OfficialMuriel (Aqua Primus): Not that I'm aware of. The streamer must be seriously pissed.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Forget calling a demolition crew, just call the streamer. Kekeke.]

[Justiceistruth (Earth): Need your building demolished? Contact Spector Demolition.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Worried you can't afford it? Don't worry, just take advantage of Spector Demolition's exclusive offer. Piss off the owner and get your building demolished for free.]

[Puntanghunter69Ver2 (International Space Station): Spector Demolition is not liable for any deaths that may occur from property demolition or for the wrong property being demolished.]

Spector Unit 6 ripped the roof of the guild master's office and tossed it aside, causing it to crash through another part of the guild's building's roof, which collapsed.

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): The streamer really is a demolition man. 🤖]

[LadyErkath (Deverinian Prime): He's literally just causing it to collapse one part at a time. 🤖]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Somebody make sure to clip this and post it on Xer-verse later, this is gold content. 🤖]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Already on it.]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Fuck, I wish I had access to my computers right now. I could make some great content from this.]

“HAHAHAHAHAHA, this is brilliant, he truly doesn’t give a fuck about the Bounty Hunter Guild, does he?” Aphrodite asked after cracking up from laughter.

The other VIP’s looked over at her, wondering what she was laughing about since the charity match had gotten boring since Spector Unit 6 had killed the pilot of Excess Surplus.

“Well, they fucked up when they accepted the bounty contract on him, even though he was part of the guild, didn’t they?” Stacey said with a smirk as she watched Adam destroy part of the guild building.

“They accepted a bounty on him when he was part of their guild?” Tessa asked in surprise.

“It’s the guild policy,” Becky replied, causing the other women to look at her before she continued. “The guild does not protect its members from having contracts placed on them unless they are SS rank or above.”

“Seriously?” Tessa asked in surprise.

“How does an organisation like that survive or even work?” Mika asked.

“They’re well paid for completing the bounty contracts, so they’re willing to take the risk as it’s better pay than most other jobs,” Stacey replied as Becky nodded in agreement.

“How do you know so much about the guild?” Rowena asked curiously.

“As a former smuggler, I occasionally worked with bounty hunters, and they told me a little about how the guild worked. Also, Adam once explained the whole situation to me after I asked about it,” Stacey replied.

“I see,” Rowena replied as she gave Stacey a sad smile before she continued, “Still, you would have thought they would have learned not to easily mess with Adam or those he cares about after what happened to the guild building on Terrana Five.”

“What’s your opinion on what happened to the guild building on Terrana Five Princess?” Aphrodite asked as she turned to Tessa.

“The Bounty Hunter Guild hall is on sovereign territory with no other buildings in the immediate vicinity, and so not the responsibility of the Terran Empire. Only if the attacks had hit our land or citizens would we have intervened; however, since they didn’t, we see this incident as a private dispute between Mr Spencer and the Bounty Hunter Guild,” Tessa replied.

“How diplomatic,” Aphrodite replied with a smirk before saying, “I’m interested to see what he does to the Bounty Hunter Guild this time.”

“As am I,” Rowena replied with her signature smirk.

“Wha wha wha wha wha wha wha,” The female Catonian who had been in Kuxau’s office stammered in shock as she fell onto her ass and looked up at the black and orange mech that was towering above them.

“Deploy a drone and access their system, find out where Drot is,” Adam said before a drone detached and flew over to one of the consoles in the room.

“Hey, stop, what’s that thing doing?” The Catonian who had run into the room to alert the guild master said before he ran towards the drone.

“STOP!” Kuxau yelled too late as the drone turned and fired an energy bolt at the Catonian, vaporising him instantly.

[Krutonium (Synthetic Prime): Hold fuck, it vaporised him. That was awesome.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Oh god, I’m getting wet again. Why do your weapons always turn me on so much, babe? 🤔]

[Justiceistruth (Earth): TMI 😏👉]

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): Yeah, baby, that was such a turn on. 🤔]

[MercheadAnderson (Palaxia): 😏]

[Justiceistruth (Earth): Oh gods, now there's two of them.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): At least you're not a cuckold husband like a certain someone. Kekeke.]

[MercheadAnderson (Palaxia): 😏😏😏]

“I advise you not to try that yourself, unless of course you're happy to end up like your friend, just now,” Adam said.

“We understand,” Kuxau said nervously as he raised his hands in surrender.

“Now, where can I find Drot?” Adam asked.

“Director Drot?” Kuxau asked before continuing, “The last report I received said he was heading here for some reason.”

“Here? As in Felinia Seven?” Adam asked in surprise.

[RealOtaku (Earth): Oh shit. 🤪 The big bad is coming, is it time for the hero to kill the big bad?]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Adam, fuck that bastard up for putting a bounty on you and Stace.]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): I never expected Director Drot to show up; he must be after the streamers' ship.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): You think he hired Excess Surplus to eliminate the streamer so he could come and claim the ship easily?]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): Most likely, though we know he wanted to get rid of Adam regardless.]

[LadyErkath (Deverinian Prime): So now he plans to try and steal the ship, did he even see what happened to the Noir family?]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): I think much of the universe saw that; he probably thinks he can do a better job.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): A bounty hunter director who probably hasn't done a bounty in years, thinks he's better at stealing than the Noir family? Yeah, right.]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): You big up the Noir family, but so far, they seem pretty shit to me.]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): Same.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Don't knock the Noir family's accomplishments. You only know them from their attempts at stealing the streamers' ship, which, let's face it, has crazy automated defences.

They are actually a very successful and renowned organisation when it comes to thievery and one of the top in the universe.]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Handsome3horns said they were the best in the universe.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): They are.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): That's because that idiot is a huge fan of them and has the hots for Umeko, their family head.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): WTF! 🤔]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): She's not wrong.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): WTF bro? 🤔]

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): You like, have her poster plastered all over your bedroom.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): See, even your 'bro' agrees. 🤔]

"Yes, though I don't know his reason for coming here since he seems to have hired Krumzaxl, the pilot of Excess Surpluss, to kill you," Kuxau replied.

"I'm pretty sure I can guess what he's after," Adam replied before asking. "When is he due to arrive?"

"I don't know, the notice only said he was heading here," Kuxau replied nervously.

"Spector?" Adam asked.

[[I can confirm that Director Drot of the Bounty Hunter Guild is indeed heading for the Felidae Galaxy and will arrive at the jumpgate within the hour.

However, a new notice was posted a few minutes ago stating that he has been summoned to the Bounty Hunter Guild Headquarters by Vice Guild Master Rolvarud.

In order to head there, he will need to arrive at the Felidae Galaxy jumpgate before dialling the necessary address and re-entering the jumpgate.]]

{So he's not going to remain in the galaxy for long, shit.}

[[Affirmative, he will be here for a few minutes tops, depending on traffic using the jumpgate.]]

"I got what I came for," Adam said as the drone flew back to Spector Unit 6 and, attached to it, before it started to fly up into the air.

Just as Kuxau was about to sigh with relief, he heard, "You have ten seconds to evacuate if you don't want to die."

"SHIT!" Kuxau cursed before rushing to the female Catonian and pulling her up, after which he dragged her towards the exit while shouting, "EVACUATE, IF YOU CAN HEAR ME EVACUATE NOW."

The individuals who had approached the guild hall after seeing the mech that had crashed into it and had now flown off started to flee again as they saw Kuxau running out of the ruined building while shouting.

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Oh, here we go.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Damn you, babe, why do you edge me so badly, just blow that shit up already.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): And just when I thought he was going to let them go.]

[Phoenixexpress (Fenix Nest): He's not that kind-hearted.]

Ten seconds later, Adam turned Spector Unit 6 in the air and aimed the four shoulder cannons at the building below before pulling the trigger.
