Chapter 516: Kasumi's spam

"Nothing, don't worry about it," Rowena said as she looked away from Adam and up at Kasumi before asking, "So we have a deal?"

"Yes," Kasumi replied.

"Great. I will send you the credits after we end the call. However, wait until I tell you to cancel your contract and then we will join Spector Entertainment at the same time, along with Lorelie and Aphrodite."

"Sure," Kasumi said while nodding in understanding.

[[Second, I want you to go through your tail merging process while on board me.]] Spector suddenly stated.

"Why?" Rowena asked curiously.

Kasumi, however, looked shocked and froze for a moment before asking in a trembling voice, "The only reason you would ask me to do that is if you know. But how can you know?"

"Know? Know what?" Rowena asked in confusion, as she had never seen Kasumi act this way; it was almost as if she was scared.

[[I have access to the entire universal subspace network and anything connected with it, including the Nogitsune race's historical records. While I was not certain before and just making a hypothesis, your reaction tells me that my deduction is correct.]]

"What are you two talking about?" Rowena asked again as her curiosity built.

"Sorry, but I can't tell you, at least not now," Kasumi said apologetically.

“Why now?”

“Every race has secrets it doesn’t reveal to the other races, and the universal subspace network is not completely secure after all,” Kasumi explained.

[[Any communication that I monitor is so secure that even the creators of the universal subspace network cannot access it.]]

“Seriously?” Kasumi asked in surprise.

“You can prevent the creators of the universal subspace network from accessing their own creation?” Rowena asked.

[[Only those parts that I am connected to and actively monitoring, such as all communication going in and out of the suite.]]

“Well, there you have it, the holocall is secure, so tell me,” Rowena said.

“You really expect me to believe that? This involves the biggest secret of my race. If you want to know that, then you will have to tell me the biggest secret of the brood,” Kasumi replied with a serious look.

Rowena thought for a moment and concluded that if her plan worked and Kasumi joined the harem, then she was going to learn that secret regardless, so she said, “Fine. However, like you, I’m only willing to speak about it in person, so where are you right now?”

“Sector fifteen, the Zeacury Galaxy. I’m on the planet Zatotis,” Kasumi replied before adding, “I just wrapped up a project, though I’m not expecting much from it considering how bad the director was.”

“Sector fifteen? How convenient,” Rowena replied before adding, “Ask for leave and head for Aqua Primus in the Reef Galaxy. Not that it matters if you ask or not since going to permanently leave them, anyway.”

“The next destination for Diva Lorelie’s New Genre Tour? You want me to meet you there?” Kasumi asked before asking with a frown, “How long do you plan to make me wait since she still has to do her tour in the Felidae Galaxy and then travel here?”

“Not as long as you think,” Rowena replied mysteriously.

“What do you mean?”

Instead of answering, Rowena asked, “Spector, is Kasumi allowed access to the stream?”

[[She already has it, she just hasn’t clicked the link that takes her to it.]] Spector replied, causing Rowena to look at Kasumi in disbelief.

“What?” Kasumi asked.

“How long has she had it?” Rowena asked.

[[Ever since she appeared on The MMM Show.]]

“That long?” Rowena asked in shock before looking at Kasumi again and asking, “Why haven’t you clicked the link yet?”

“You mean the spam link I keep getting for some stream? I thought it was spam and I was too busy to watch any stream,” Kasumi replied.

Rowena slapped her head with the hand that was still stroking Adam’s hair and said in an exasperated tone, “That’s the link to watch Adam’s stream.”

“Really?” Kasumi replied before accessing her uniband and clicking the link that had once again appeared before saying, “He’s offline.”

“Of course, he’s offline; he’s sleeping on my lap right now. Do you think we streamed me sucking his cock or something?” Rowena asked in an annoyed tone.

“My bad, my bad,” Kasumi said while raising her hands in a surrendering gesture.

“Progenitor, save me from this girl,” Rowena said with a sigh before asking, “How can you be so knowledgeable about some things and so clueless about others?”

“You know I have trouble remembering things that I don’t find interesting. It’s like my brain just filters them out,” Kasumi replied with a shrug.

“Fine, fine,” Rowena replied before asking, “Does that mean I’m okay to tell her what just happened with me and Adam, Spector?”

[[Affirmative.]]

“You mean you blowjob feeding? I already heard about that,” Kasumi replied with a smirk.

“I told you we didn’t stream that,” Rowena snapped back.

“I know. I was just messing with you,” Kasumi replied with a playful smirk.

“Damn it,” Rowena cursed, since she was the one who normally messed with others.

“So, are you going to tell me what happened?” Kasumi asked with interest.

“Fine,” Rowena replied before telling Kasumi everything that happened when she and Adam went back in time, with the exception of Adam’s pureblood, since she planned to tell her that in person next time she saw her.

During the entire story, Kasumi didn't say a word. It wasn't that she didn't want to; it was just that she was incapable since her mouth was constantly open in shock.

"Time travel?" Kasumi finally asked as Rowena completed her tale and she managed to stop gaping like an idiot.

"Yeah, sounds crazy, I know, but it actually happened," Rowena replied.

"And because of it, you managed to find out who attacked Stacey back then?"

"Yes, and in the future, they will pay for what they did. Adam has already promised to kill them."

"It's a good thing that Stacey's body accepted Adam's blood and that it healed her."

"Yeah," Rowena replied, since she had made it sound like Adam's blood was normal and had just healed Stacey enough so that her life was no longer in danger.

"I can't believe it was you two who actually saved Princess Liluth Solar back then."

"Neither can I," Rowena replied with a smirk before saying in a serious tone, "Don't reveal this to anyone. We are trying to keep the whole time travel thing under wraps for as long as possible for obvious reasons."

"Sure, but everything was streamed. You know that's impossible, right?"

"We do. But for now, we have decided to feign ignorance and let people believe it's just something a troll on the subnet made up."

"Gotcha," Kasumi replied before asking, "So what's this got to do with the Felidae Galaxy?"

“Oh, that,” Rowena replied before then explaining about Revi wanting a vacation and their plan to go pick her up on Fenix Nest before travelling to Aqua Primus.

“Instantaneous travel anywhere in the universe?” Kasumi asked in shock after she once again got control of her mouth, which had been gaping in shock again.

“That’s the plan, though it will be our first time properly testing it.”

“You can’t let Adam stream that,” Kasumi said seriously before continuing, “Even if you feign it off like with the time travel, people will start to get suspicious as all of them involve Adam’s ship.”

“Fair point, but it seems that Spector is in charge of the streaming and sometimes activates it without Adam’s consent.”

“Spector?” Kasumi said in surprise before asking, “Why does it do that?”

Both women waited for Spector to respond; however, no response came.

“Guess it doesn’t want to explain,” Rowena replied with a shrug.

“Is that common?”

“It happens occasionally,” Rowena replied before adding, “It’s almost as if it has free will.”

“But wouldn’t that mean it’s sentient?” Kasumi asked before both women fell into thought on that topic for a moment.

“Well, anyway, head over to Aqua Primus like I said and relax for a while until we get there. Then you can join us and attend the celebration and Lorelie’s shows.”

“Sounds like fun,” Kasumi said happily.

“Oh, I guess we should also get you a bikini,” Rowena suddenly said with a smile.

“Bikini?” Kasumi asked in confusion.

Rowena only smiled in response before she began to play with her uniband, and a few moments later, another holographic screen featuring Erkath appeared as a holocall connected.

“Rowena, about tim....” Erkath began only to stop mid-sentence and look at her friend in shock before asking, “Why are you calling me while your tits are out on full display?”

“I asked the same thing,” Kasumi said with a sigh.

“Kasumi? Has she been like that the entire time you two have been talking?” Erkath asked.

“Yup,” Kasumi replied.

“How long?” Erkath asked.

“Umm, half hour, maybe a bit more,” Kasumi asked.

“Why in the progenitors’ name didn’t you put a top on, or at least put a bra? Have you no decency, women?” Erkath asked Rowena in exasperation.

“I didn’t want to wake my new lover up since he’s currently sleeping on my lap,” Rowena replied happily.

“New lover?” Erkath asked in surprise before adding, “Who?”

“Adam,” Rowena said happily and with a beaming smile.

“ADAM!” Erkath screamed in shock as her eyes shot wide open.

“Wow, her reaction is even better than yours,” Rowena said to Kasumi as she flashed her signature smirk.

“Hasn’t she already met Adam before? That’s probably why,” Kasumi remarked.

“How in the progenitors’ name did you end up becoming Adam’s lover?” Erkath asked before adding, “I figured there was no way that would happen since he was already with Stacey.”

“Well, you know Lorelie is trying to expand his harem with more powerful and influential people and Stacey’s only condition was that the two of us never engage in anything sexual together,” Rowena replied with a shrug.

“Bitch, that doesn’t tell me why she accepted it,” Erkath retorted.

“You’re going to have to ask her for the exact reason. But I guess it’s because of how Adam and I saved her life,” Rowena retorted.

“Oh shit, I didn’t realise it at the time, but you tasted Adam’s blood, didn’t you?” Erkath said as she just realised something before asking, “Does that mean you....”

“Yes, I am, and we can’t really talk about that right now,” Rowena said pointedly before putting extra emphasis on the words, “can we?”

“No, we can’t,” Erkath replied as she remembered who else was on the call before saying, “Sorry, I lost control for a second because of my shock.”

“It’s fine. We can talk about it later,” Rowena replied.

“Are you two hiding something from me?” Kasumi asked suspiciously.

“No,” Erkath lied.

“Yes,” Rowena said truthfully.
