Chapter 525: Toys' reaction

"Councillor Aimi, might I assume this call is regarding the information that you owe us?"

Mr Mysterious' distorted voice said from the static-filled holographic screen in front of Aimi.

"It is and if you do indeed have people everywhere as you claim, then you know that I have bad news regarding the information you requested," Aimi replied.

"The explosion at the Research and Development Department Two space station. Are you implying that it involved the mech arm with the beam canceler tech?"

"That's exactly what I'm implying. It seems the arm had some sort of self-destruct feature programmed into it to prevent it from being scanned."

"That's both disappointing and interesting," Mr Mysterious replied before asking, "How did you learn of this?"

"I just got a rather irritating call with the," at this point, Aimi spat the word "Matriarch" as if it was something foul in her mouth before continuing. "She warned me that I should hurry and hand over any of the drones my faction has from that mech, since there is a chance they could explode if scanned."

Honestly, with the way she spoke, it was obvious that she was hoping I would be stupid enough to try."

"Oh, really? Where did she learn that from?"

"The pilot. Diva Lorelie's boyfriend."

"Interesting. And do you plan to return them?" Mr Mysterious asked before adding, "Of course, I'm only assuming that you do in fact have them."

“Assuming? Sure,” Aimi scoffed before saying, “My faction was able to quietly acquire the three drones he lost during the battle with the scorpo; unfortunately, we couldn’t get the ones from the sphere since that’s under the control of the UMB Cup committee.”

“So what do you plan to do with them then?” Mr Mysterious asked before adding in a tone that made his distorted voice sound as if he had just thought to ask. “Also, please remember that you still owe us for the information we acquired for you. I hope you have a suggestion on how you plan to pay us back.”

“If you want one of the drones, just say so,” Aimi replied while rolling her eyes before continuing. “I planned to pay you for the information by supplying you with all sensor information regarding the arm that we acquired, though I admit it doesn’t compare to an in-depth scan, so I wish to add the most intact of the drones into the payment.”

“I accept, though reluctantly,” Mr Mysterious replied before saying, “While it doesn’t compare to the beam-cancelling tech, since drone tech already exists. We can still use it to try and learn how his mech was able to control so many.”

“Don’t make it sound like you weren’t after this in the first place,” Aimi stated in annoyance.

“I have no idea what you mean, councillor.”

“Uh-huh, sure.”

“What do you plan to do with the other two then? Hand them over to Matriarch Maiya?”

“Not directly,” Aimi replied while shaking her head before continuing. “If we were to return them directly, questions could be asked about where the third drone is. I plan to discreetly pay someone another party to return them.”

“I see,” Mr Mysterious replied before asking with a smirk that Aimi couldn’t see, “How's your nephew holding up? Does he still have his dick?”

Somewhere in the universe, Astarte, the beautiful Succuba with long green hair and green eyes, sat behind her desk working when one of the staff members of Universal Pleasure burst into her office.

Astarte looked up with a frown before saying in an admonishing tone, "Did your parents never teach you to knock? We may be in the adult entertainment industry, but that doesn't mean we should forgo our manners."

"My apologies, Lady Astarte," The female staff member said while lowering her head.

"It's fine. Just remember in the future," Astarte replied with a polite smile before asking, "For what reason did you burst into my office then?"

"It's regarding the products Diva Aphrodite sent us."

"Oh!" Astarte replied with a raised eyebrow before asking, "They have only just arrived and some of the girls reluctantly agreed to test them, which should be happening as we speak. Is there a problem?"

"That.... Depends on how you define a problem," The staff member replied.

"Pardon?" Astarte asked.

"It might be better to show you," The staff member said before accessing her uniband and sending something to the console on Astarte's desk, which immediately caused a holographic screen to appear showing several beautiful women arguing.

"Mine, it's my turn to use it."

"You had your turn not long ago, didn't we agree to take turns?"

"Yeah, I haven't even had a chance to use them and you already want to go again."

“You're the ones that insisted I go first; it's not my fault you all forced me to try them out.”

“That doesn't mean you can hog them to yourself. We want to try.”

“That's rich. Previously, you had no interest in trying them and were complaining about how you were forced to test sex toys. Now you only want to try because you saw how quickly they made me climax.”

“I want a good climax too. Do you know how long it's been since any of the patrons have given me a good, hard climax?”

“Two months,” All the other women replied before one added, “You complain about it every day.”

“Don't you mean several times a day?” Another added.

“Maybe we should let her have a go just so that she shuts up about it already.”

Astarte stared at the holographic screen with an open mouth before realising that her appearance didn't fit her ladylike nature and so closed it before asking, “What exactly is going on?”

“It seems that none of the girls selected for the test of the product were keen to do it after learning that they were sex toys,” the staff member began to explain. “It was only after pressure from the others and learning that they were recommended by Diva Aphrodite that one of them agreed to try them.

It turns out that the first toy she tried out made her orgasm in less than five minutes.”

“Less than five minutes?” Astarte repeated while raising a delicate eyebrow in surprise.

“That's not all, with every additional toy she tried, her time to reach orgasm decreased,” the staff member reported before saying, “Now the others are arguing over who gets to go next while the first tester wants to go again.”

“Well, it would seem that Aphrodite’s judgement in matters of sex is as reliable as ever,” Astarte stated with a smile before adding, “I think we can definitely negotiate about bulk buying more of these toys on a regular basis.”

“Do we not need to speak with the owner regarding this?”

“I believe the owner will adhere to my judgment on this. These toys are obviously designed for women after all and he won’t be able to fully appreciate them.”

“As you say, Lady Astarte,” the staff member replied before asking, “Should I contact Diva Aphrodite regarding this?”

“No,” Astarte replied while shaking her head before saying, “I will handle this matter personally since it will be a long-term transaction.”

“Yes, Lady Astarte,” the staff member replied before bowing slightly while adding, “If you will excuse me then.”

After she rose from her bow, the staff member turned and left while carefully closing the door behind her.

Astarte glanced at the holographic screen one last time, where the girls were still arguing, before closing it and returning to her work.

The next couple of days, the group didn’t do much as they wanted to allow Lorelie time to rest before she started her tour within the Felidae Galaxy, since all of them knew that she would be swamped over the coming week.

Since Rowena had officially joined the harem, Adam had been alternating who he spent the night with between Stacey and Lorelie together, where they sometimes let Aphrodite come watch, and Rowena on her own, since they all wanted his attention.

However, since Lorelie's tour of the Felidae Galaxy was due to start in the next two days, Adam had spoken with Rowena and Stacey about spending the next two nights alone with her since she would be so busy once the tour started.

Both women had agreed and so for the next two nights, Adam made love to Lorelie alone and gave her his full attention, making sure to satisfy her each night until she was exhausted and curled up on his chest with a happy smile before falling asleep.

Several of their friends and acquaintances, however, didn't have the same luxury that allowed them to rest.

Revi was busy trying to complete as much work as possible before she left for her holiday, while her assistants continued to try and persuade her to change her mind.

Tessa and Becky were still travelling towards the Galamedees Galaxy and Solarian Prime in order to meet Princess Liluth Solar.

Kasumi had already informed Dynamic Entertainment that she would be taking a holiday and departed Zatotis in the Zeacury Galaxy for Aqua Primus in the Reef Galaxy.

Erkath was rushed off her feet since the morning after Erkath had her call with Rowena and Kasumi, Erkath Fashion had officially released the photos they selected from the photoshoot and the hype for Earth Fashion had reached its peak.
