Chapter 543: Is it an alien?

After Rowena jumped out of the shuttle, the stream automatically switched to a split-screen format for those on Earth, while those out in the known universe had a second holographic screen appear next to the first so that the chat could continue to watch everything.

[Whostolemyduck (Earth): Well, this is new.]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): Indeed, you normally only see split-screen action in competition streams.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Split-screen? That's what you Earthlings get? Eww.]

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): What do you lot have then if not split-screen?]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): The stream automatically opened a second holographic window for us.]

[RealOtaku (Earth): WTF, that sucks. I have three monitors, why do I get stuck with split-screen?]

Rowena dove towards the van that was directly below her and just as she was about to land on it, she flared her wings, causing her to slow her descent and rotate in the air.

Just as she dropped in front of the stationary van, she aimed her force staff through the windscreen and, with a beautiful smile, launched an energy bolt from it.

The last thing the driver of the van saw was a ridiculously beautiful woman with blood-red hair and eyes, as well as wings, pointing something at him before a flash of red light caused the windscreen to shatter and a hole to appear in his chest.

As soon as team Tephe jumped out of the shuttle, the split-screen split into three sections for the Earth viewers, while those in the known universe had a third holographic screen appear next to the first two.

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Fuck, I hate split-screens. This is why I don't watch tournament streams. The screens become too small to see anything.]

[Handsome3horns (Vinox 2): Sucks to be you.]

As the group of five women landed on Emma's back lawn, Tephe ordered in excitement, "Lieutenant Aphrodite, lead team Tephe to surround the invaders while I fly ahead and block their advance to the house."

"Copy that, Captain Tephe," Aphrodite said with a smile as she watched Tephe's wings appear before she flew off towards the two invaders that had almost reached Emma's residence.

"You heard the captain, ladies, move out," Aphrodite said before rushing towards the house.

"Copy that, Lieutenant Aphrodite," Lorelie said in amusement as she, Stacey and Eri followed after her.

Tephe flew through the air and as she did, she withdrew her force staff before extending it.

As she passed over the heads of the two intruders, who had just reached the patio behind Emma's residence, she spun in the air before dropping down in front of them while slamming the end of her force staff into the paving stones.

"What the fuck," One of the intruders said as both stared in shock at the stunningly beautiful white-haired woman with wings who had just landed in front of them.

"This here be private property and you pair be trespassing," Tephe declared as she retracted her wings.

[HackerSu (Trillion): Hahaha, look how shocked they are.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Well, it's not every day a beautiful girl drops out of the sky.]

[Animefangirl (Earth): Especially one with wings. That was so Anime]

“She had wings, right? Tell me I’m not the only one who saw them,” One of the intruders asked.

“You're not the only one,” The other replied before asking, “What the hell is going on?”

“So what do we do about her?” The first one asked.

“I could think of a thing or two,” The second replied as he looked Tephe over in a lecherous manner.

[Lizziethetruepower (Palaxia): That's one disgusting look.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Agreed, I don't think she's going to like that.]

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): No, she isn't.]

“There's only one man I want looking at me in that way and you ain't him,” Tephe said angrily as she saw the lecherous look the man was giving her before she suddenly started to take a deep breath.

[OfficialKasumi (Aqua Primus): Oh, please tell me she's not doing what I think she's doing.]

[OfficialMuriel (Aqua Primus): I think she is.]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): What was even the point of asking for a force staff if she's just going to do that?]

“Oh shit,” Aphrodite remarked as she saw what Tephe was planning before she suddenly ordered, “Scatter!”

As the two men were curious as to why the white-haired beauty before them was suddenly taking a deep breath, they saw her open her luscious lips before a white inferno erupted from between them and quickly engulfed the pair.

The two invaders didn't even have a chance to scream before Tephe's breath attack engulfed both of them and the lawn that was directly behind them.

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Holy fuck.]

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): 😳]

[AlamoMatador4thewin (Earth): Isn't that overkill?]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): There's no such thing.]

[OracleRomy (Elysium): Well, one thing's for certain, you don't want to take Tephe on a stealth operation.]

The rest of team Tephe watched on as the white dragon's breath engulfed a part of Emma's garden and lit up the night's sky for a few moments.

"This girl," Stacey said with a sigh.

Team one continued their stealthy approach towards the front of Emma Hopkins' residence until all of a sudden, something made them freeze in their tracks.

A short distance away from them, a white light had suddenly materialised in the air and shortly after, most of the white light was blocked by a figure they couldn't identify.

As the three invaders tried to figure out what was happening, they saw the figure drop from the sky onto the ground a few feet in front of them before the white light suddenly vanished.

“Is it a fucking alien?” One of them asked as he blinked his eyes in order to try and get them to focus again.

[StealthAssassin9 (Earth): Is he technically correct there? I mean, the stream did jump out of a spaceship.]

[Celebrityhunter69 (Earth): The streamer’s still a human from Earth, though, idiot, so no, they’re not correct.]

“There’s no such thing, idiot,” Another replied while also blinking their eyes.

“I beg to differ,” Adam replied calmly.

“Fuck,” The third suddenly said as he recognised who was standing in front of them since her eyes had regained their focus quicker.

“What?” The second asked.

“It’s Adam Spencer,” The third stated as she began to reach for her gun.

“Seriously? Fuck,” The first replied as the other two also reached for their guns.

Suddenly, a bright white light came from behind the house, momentarily distracting the three intruders, which Adam took advantage of as he quickly raised his force staff before firing off three blaster bolts in quick succession.

The three intruders didn't even have time to process what he had done before their corpses collapsed to the ground.

Adam turned and looked at the white light, which was now starting to fade, while asking, “What are they doing?”

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): Tephe's having fun.]

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): Don't you mean she's going overkill?]

[HackerSu (Trillion): Either way, the distraction helped Adam finish his three off quicker.]

As the light faded away, Adam returned his attention to the three dead intruders before he started to search them for their phones.

"What the fuck was that? What happened?" A voice called from inside the van as the driver's dead body slumped in the driver's seat.

[MertheadAnderson (Palaxia): Dying while seeing that beautiful smile and face, what a way to go.]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): Woman was like an angel of death or something.]

[LadyErkath (Alastor): What's an angel?]

"Apologies, but the person you're addressing can't answer you right now due to the fact that he had a big hole in his chest and is dead," Rowena replied sweetly.

"What the fuck?" The leader of the kidnapers from inside the van cursed before asking, "Who the fuck are you?"

"Adam Spencer's fiance," Rowena replied with a happy smile.

[Phoenixempress (Fenix Nest): Fiance? What the fuck!]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Seriously Rowena?]

[OfficialKasumi (Aqua Primus): I just knew they were dating, when did they get engaged?]

[Beczontop (Imperial Down): No fair. I'm so fucking jealous.]

[Gunlovergirl (Earth): Damn straight.]

[Tessisdabest (Imperial Down): ...]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): Are they really engaged?]

[LadyErkath (Alastor): No, she's just playing around.... I think.]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): You think?]

"Adam Spencer? Fuck!" The leader cursed before going quiet.

"If you're trying to call your teammates for back-up, don't bother. My fiancé, along with his other fiancés, is dealing with them right now," Rowena stated before noticing the bright glow coming from behind Emma's residence.

"Correction, they've already dealt with them," Rowena said happily.

"What the fuck do you want? Why are you all protecting Emma Hopkins?" Them man asked.

"She's a friend, that's why," Rowena replied before adding, "As for what we want, we want to know who hired you to kidnap her."

"What do I get for telling you?" The leader asked back.

“A less painful death,” Rowena replied simply as she inspected one of her nails that grew slightly longer.

[Superhearofangirl (Earth): Wait, did her nail just grow longer?]

[Whitehorn (Darah 5): It’s a thing all brood can do since their nails or claws used to be their primary weapon in ancient times.]
