Chapter 616: Holographic dodecahedron

“Captain, six fighters and one mech approaching from the rear.”

“Fuck, can’t those bastards do anything? Launch one squad of mechs to intercept.”

“Aye, captain.”

“We’re approaching the main fleet, prepare to dive under them,” Adam instructed.

“Copy,” Aphrodite replied before noticing something on her sensor readout and saying, “Four mechs launching from the capital ship.”

“I see them, prepare for combat. We’ll take two each,” Adam replied.

“These idiots don’t stand a chance,” Aphrodite said while splitting her six Micro-fighters into two groups of three.

“We’re diving now,” Adam instructed before Spector Unit 6 entered a dive and the 6 Micro-fighters followed behind in order to drop below the one capital, two cruiser and three large class ships

As the squad of enemy mechs saw what they were doing, they also entered a dive in order to intercept them.

“Let’s deal with them quickly, use your numbers to quickly overwhelm them,” Adam advised.

“That was already my plan,” Aphrodite replied.

[Justiceistruth (Earth): Why did they only send 4 mechs when the streamers team has 1 mech and 6 Micro-fighters?]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): Because of the natural advantage that mechs have over fighters. They probably believe that only the streamers mech will be a challenge and the Micro-fighters are just like standard fighters.]

[Justiceistruth (Earth): Natural advantage?]

[Beinglittleisnotadisadvantage (Strathorp 7): Mechs have a natural advantage over fighters because everything about them is superior and more advanced. However, this also leads to them being far more expensive to produce.]

As the enemy mechs got within firing range, Aphrodite sent the two groups of Micro-fighters towards two of the mechs while having them open fire.

Adam, on the other hand, had two of the shoulder cannons and one mini triple repeater target each of the other two mechs before opening fire on them.

The enemy mechs' original plan was to have three of them target Spector Unit 6, while the last took care of the fighters. However, as the attacks came in, they were forced to reevaluate their plan and split them into two groups.

"Fuck. Let's deal with these damn unmanned fighters first," The pilot of the mech that was forced to engage the Micro-fighters cursed.

"They must be crazy thinking they can deal with it with only one mech and these shitty unmanned fighters," The other mech replied.

As the mechs spun in the air and exchanged fire with each other, everyone suddenly heard Lorelie say, "Babe, we're ready on our end."

[Superior4horns (Vinox 3): Huh? Is Diva Lorelie going to get involved?]

[MertheadAnderson (Palaxia): How's that possible? They left her back on Fenix Nest.]

“Ready? Ready for what?” Rowena asked curiously.

“Understood,” Adam replied before saying, “Spector, begin the stream.”

Affirmative,” Spector replied.

[Prestigious3horns (Vinox 2): Begin the stream? The stream is already running.]

[1000yearsofdeath (Earth): Maybe the streamer is losing it. Kekeke.]

[Celebrityhunter69 (Earth): Maybe he’s still ill.]

[OfficialKasumi (Aqua Primus): I guess the stress of combat could be making his condition worse if he’s not fully recovered.]

Tephe lifted the paw that Lorelie was now standing on up next to her head, allowing Lorelie to move from her claw to stand atop her head.

Everyone stared up in shock as they witnessed Diva Lorelie standing atop White Dragon Tephe's head.

"The White Dragon actually allowed someone to stand atop her head?"

"Has something like this ever happened before?"

"Not that I'm aware."

"Dragons never allow other races to stand atop their heads, as to do so is a sign of submissiveness on their part."

"Why would White Dragon Tephe allow this?"

"Does this mean that Diva Lorelie is White Dragon Tephe's master?"

"No way, she's probably just allowing it since they're friends."

"When have you ever heard of a dragon allowing a friend to stand on their head? They're back, sure, but not their head."

"Does your goddaughter even understand what she just did by allowing Diva Lorelie to stand atop her head?" Emelance asked in disbelief while staring up at the pair in shock.

"Even I'm not sure about that," Revi replied.

"Is there something wrong with what Tephe just did?" Emma asked in confusion.

“That’s difficult to answer,” Elemence replied before saying, “Because of how dragons tend to tower above all others due to their size, after all. So for them to look up to another is seen as a sign of respect in their race.”

“I see,” Emma replied.

“So what do you think they have planned?” Eri asked as she looked up.

“At this point, I have no idea,” Revi replied and as she finished speaking, they heard Spector announce on the stream.

[[Synching microcams.]]

After Spector finished speaking, everyone who was looking up at Tephe and Diva Lorelie saw twenty objects suddenly appear around Adam, while Revi, Elemence, Eri and Emma were shocked as four more appeared around them.

“Are these microcams?” Elemence asked in surprise as she studied the microcams closely before adding, “Where did they come from?”

“They have always been here, they just cloaked,” Eri replied before adding, “I had no idea there were so many of them, though.”

[[Deploying microcams to predetermined coordinates.]]

Spector suddenly announced before the twenty microcams all shot off in different directions, causing Revi to ask, “What are they doing?”

The stream suddenly entered split-screen mode for those on Earth, while another holographic screen entered for all those watching in the known universe that showed the view from one of the microcams flying across the capital city.

As everyone watched, the microcam reached the edge of the city before the stream switched to the perspective of one of the microcams. Each time one of the microcams reached the edge of the city or stopped in midair, the stream switched to another until all of them floated either just above the ground or in the sky while covering the whole city.

[[Deployment complete.]]

[[Activating holographic dodecahedron.]]

As everyone watched, white beams of energy shot out of the microcams and shot across the ground and sky, or up into the air, or down towards the earth, until the energy beams connected with another microcam, creating a giant dodecahedron that covered the entire capital.

[[Activation successful.]]

“What on Fenix Nest is going on?” Elemence asked in confusion.

[[Transmitting stream data to microcams.]]

[[Activating holographic stream projection.]]

As everyone stared at the dodecahedron in confusion, they suddenly noticed that the space within started to shimmer strangely, causing people to cry out in alarm.

As the shimmering continued, an image began to form within the dodecahedron and as Revi, Elemence, Eri and Emma realised what it was, their mouths dropped open in shock as they stared at Spector Unit 6 battling against two unknown mechs.

As all the citizens watching realised what they were witnessing, someone who was quicker than the rest couldn't help but shout out in joy, “IT'S THE BLACK KNIGHT!”

A roar erupted from the crowd that was so loud that Emma almost thought the ground had started to shake.

The crowd's cheers were even greater than what they had given to Tephe upon her transformation into her true form.

As countless jets of fire shot up into the sky and the battle continued around them, giving everyone the impression that they were standing in the middle of the battle, they suddenly heard music begin to play over the crowd's continued roaring before Lorelie began to sing.

As Lorelie sang, Tephe flew across the sky while Spector Unit 6 continued to do battle against the mechs, making it look like Tephe and Lorelie were actually giving their support to Spector Unit 6 as it continued to battle.

[SciFifanboy (Earth): This is so fucking Scifi.]

[Animefangirl (Earth): This is so fucking Anime.]

[Noobkiller9000 (Earth): This is so fucking cool.]

[NonpareilRaphilia (Aaru): How are they even creating such a large holographic projection?]

[DeverinianLordMalacoss (Deverinian 9): I honestly have no idea. While it's not as big as the Sphere we saw during the UMB Cup, it's far more convenient since it seems to only need the twenty microcams to form that strange energy dodecahedron.]

[OfficialMuriel (Aqua Primus): Look at how all the phoenixies are going nuts.]

[OfficialKasumi (Aqua Primus): You can't really blame them. I mean, they're witnessing a mech that looks like the black knight in action during a ceremony honouring the white dragon that saved them.]

[HackerSu (Trillion): They will go out of their minds if Adam deployed the planetary annihilation beam; it's just a shame he seems to have decided against it.]

Energy beams seemed shot across the sky as the mechs fired them off, causing Revi to smile brightly while saying, "So this is what she meant by a surprise."

"This is incredible, I've never seen such an impressive projection," Elemence marvelled before she turned to Revi and said seriously, "We need to think of a way to thank Adam properly for giving our citizens such an amazing gift."

"Am I not prize enough?" Revi asked as she shot a sideways glance at Elemence and smirked.

"Wasn't he already getting you as a prize for his actions during the Siege of Fenix Nest?" Elemence shot back before adding, "Not that he knows that yet."

"Very true, maybe he should get you as well then," Revi joked as she stared lovingly at the man who sat with his eyes closed on the ground nearby.
