Chapter 83: The MMM Show

"On tonight's MMM show our special guests are..."

"Rising show cast star Poe Oxyntes."

"Streaming superstar Prime."

"And finally, Diva model and movie star... Rowena Nosferatu."

"And here's your host... Malgath Morthil Mirawenys."

Applause sounded as a studio audience clapped and cheered to the appearance of an extremely handsome male Solarian who appeared in front of them all with a large smile.

"Hahaha thank you thank you." Malgath said happily as he waved at the audience and waited for them to calm down.

"Thank you for that enthusiastic entrance my friends and welcome to tonight's packed episode of the MMM show."

"So why don't we get started with our first guest, he's a rising star in show casts and has just been announced as the lead male in the hotly anticipated new show called, 'The Force.'"

"Please help me welcome Poe Oxyntes." Malgath said before he proceeded to sit on a chair behind a large impressive desk inlaid with a console.

The audience clapped and cheered as a young male with four eyes approached the stage while smiling and waving at the crowd before he shook hands with Malgath and sat on the large comfy chair that was closest off three to Malgath's desk.

"Welcome Poe."

"Thank you Malgath, I'm happy to be here."

"Well you have just been appointed the lead male in the hotly anticipated new show cast 'The Force', tell us your reaction when you heard the news."

"Well Malgath I was of course honoured to be..."

The interview went on for around 15 minutes before Malgath started introducing his next guest.

"Well ladies and gentlemen next up we have a streamer who has been taking the subnet by storm lately, I'm sure most of you have heard of him, let's welcome 'Prime.'" Malgath said with clearly less interest than when he introduced Poe Oxyntes.

Prime walked out onto stage to a much more subdued applause than Poe Oxyntes had received as most Solarian's in the audience refused to applaud the streamer.

Prime showed no reaction to this however as he walked onto the stage while waving and smiling towards the crowd and giving the occasional flex of his muscles before he sat in the closest seat to the desk since Poe Oxyntes had moved across to the next one.

"Prime welcome to the show." Malgath said.

"Thanks Malgath, it's a pleasure to be here." Prime said happily as he basked in the spotlight.

"I'm sure it is after all your one of the very few streamers we have invited onto the show." Malgath said as several Solarian's in the audience showed annoyed expressions.

"Understandable after what that idiot Terran did in the past, I hope I can give the Solarian race a better impression of streamers." Prime said righteously.

"Very noble of you Prime, however let's be honest here. If it wasn't for what you have coming up that caught mine and my producers' attention you would have never been invited." Malgath replied, causing Prime to fidget in his seat uncontrollably before he continued.

"You and your team have somehow managed to persuade the Catonian military to let you join one of their ships on patrol duties around their sector of space. Tell us what you will be doing aboard and more importantly how you managed to persuade them."

"Well Malgath, I obviously can't go into too many details regarding the negotiations that took place with the Catonian military because of the non disclosure agreement, however what I can say is that both parties hope this will show and demonstrate the benefits of serving in your race and species military and defence forces." Prime answered.

"So what you are saying is that your stream is going to be a glorified recruitment ad for the Catonian military?" Malgath replied with a smirk as many in the audience laughed.

"Not at all." Prime responded politely before continuing, "It is our hope that it will encourage members of every race and species to sign up for their military in order to help protect their homes as well as those they love and care for."

"And you're not doing this to gain any extra publicity for yourself, or to help yourself grow more popular?" Malgath asked.

"Absolutely not, this is purely to help show why it's of such importance that people sign up for military service as well as how it benefits them personally."

"Uh huh." Malgath responded obviously not believing Prime's response before he asked his next question.

"And how long will it take before your show broadcasts you firing the ships weapons for ratings?"

"It won't, without proper training no one is permitted to fire a military ship's cannons, I will be there purely as an observer while interviewing different members of the crew."

"So you're planning to change careers from streamer to journalist in the future?" Malgath asked, causing another round of laughter from the audience.

Prime's interview continued with Malgath asking questions that became increasingly awkward for Prime to answer until finally his allotted 15 mins were up and just as the camera panned away from him he visibly sighed in relief causing some of the audience who saw it to laugh.

Malgath also laughed before saying, "Don't think we're done with you yet Prime, we will have some more questions for you later, but first we have to welcome our final guest."

As Malgath mentioned the final guest the entire audience including Poe Oxyntes and Prime straightened in their seats and had looks of excitement.

"Hahahaha it seems you're all eager to welcome her so I should probably hurry it up lest you all attack me for dragging this out too long."

"My final guest of this evening really needs no introduction being the Diva that she is, only someone from outside the universe could have possibly never heard of her."

"It is my distinct honour and privilege to welcome the blood model queen ... Diva Rowena Nosferatu."

As he announced her name the entire audience stood up with rapturous applause and excited cheers as a beautiful woman with blood red hair and eyes along with large bat-like wings that were folded elegantly behind her walked onto the stage in a confident, controlled and rhythmic manner before stopping and giving the audience her signature smirk that showed her two canines making the audience cheer even louder.

Afterwards she approached the large desk and sat in the chair closest to it while the three men rose to their feet and allowed her to sit first before they all sat back down themselves.

Rowena continued to wave and smile at the audience as their cheering continued for several minutes before Malgath was forced to calm them down.

"Ok ok ladies and gentlemen I think Diva Rowena understands how happy you all are to see her, however if you keep this up we will never get the interview started."

The crowd finally settled down allowing Malgath to turn to Rowana with a large smile and say, "Diva Rowana it is a true pleasure to have you on the show again, it's been too long."

"Oh please Malgath, you say that every time a Diva comes on the show." Rowana replied with her signature smirk causing the audience to laugh.

"Hahaha of course, it is always an honour anytime a Diva agrees to appear on the show." Malgath replied with a chuckle.

"Especially since we give your viewer ratings a spike."

"Hahaha you know me so well."

"Well we have known each other for many years, though I have never heard of this blood model queen you speak off." Rowana asked with a slightly raised beautiful eyebrow.

"Oh you didn't know?" Malgath asked in slight surprise. "That's a new name that someone on Xer-verse came up with for you and it stuck."

"Is it? Well I can't deny it's appropriate though I'm no queen."

"You're the top Diva when it comes to modelling, if that doesn't make you a queen I don't know what does." Malgath replied as the audience cheered in agreement.

"Well it's already out there so nothing I can do about it now." Rowana replied with a casual shrug.

"Hahaha this is one of the aspects about you that your fans appreciate Diva Rowana, your ability to speak your mind regardless of the situation."

"I'm just more open and direct, pretending to be perfect got old after a couple of centuries and so I decided to just be myself, who would have thought that the people liked it."

"Well they do like it and since we are talking about your honest and direct nature, why don't you tell us your opinion on the recent attack your close friend Diva Lorelie faced?" Malgath asked before turning to the audience and saying, "This is the main reason we invited Diva Rowana on tonight's show. After the startling revelation made by Royal Entertainment regarding Diva Lorelie and Drotas Entertainment people have been asking what is the truth."

"We would have ideally invited Diva Lorelie herself to appear on the show, however because of rumours spreading that the Terran's are holding her captive we couldn't for obvious reasons."
