

100 Modeling [1]

Lucas was standing just outside the manor of the Xiao family. For some reason, he was just standing there, holding the medallion and waiting for Ruby Sun's call. 1

Well, he could contact her through the medallion, but he wasn't sure if he should. It was a debt, though, and he had to comply.

He sighed then stared at the medallion he was holding. He then pressed it, and after a few seconds, he injected his spiritual energy. It lit up, and some characters appeared, floating like holographic images.

Lucas smirked and as he looked at the characters that were floating, he read all the contents. As he realized what the characters meant, he hovered his index finger on it.

He swiped it, and with a few touches, the characters were as if they were now organized after being disorganized. Then, the medallion clicked, and a flashing light emerged then disappeared.

"So that was the call? I guess contacting Ruby through this was the only possible method."

Lucas just dazed at the medallion and in the next few seconds, Ruby appeared before him.

There was a slight wind that was brought by her sudden movement, thus making Lucas notice her presence.

Lucas sighed as he saw Ruby, who was wearing a revealing dress in red. Meanwhile, Ruby just smirked and slowly approached Lucas.

"Hey, Lucas... Were you excited?" she asked.

"I did forget the time, so I was the one who contacted you first." Lucas said and just ignored Ruby's seductive movements.

When Ruby noticed that Lucas was being too oblivious to her purpose, she rolled her eyes. "Whatever."

"The modeling I am telling you about is different from what you thought. You have such a handsome face, Lucas, so I am thinking of using it to attract other wealthy cultivators." Ruby said.

Lucas only nodded after that, held her hands, and said, "Let's go. I am a bit impatient."

Ruby just snorted, then dragged him, floating in the sky.

"Where should we go?" he asked.

"To the center region." Ruby answered.

Lucas remained silent and didn't make any sound of it. He then started looking at Ruby with uncertain eyes, and as he did it, Ruby looked at him as well.

"Why? Are you falling in love with me? You're still too young for me, though." Ruby said, and that immediately made Lucas grumble.

"Say who?" Then, Lucas just ignored her, as, for some reason, he just didn't like Ruby's presence this time.

A few hours later, Lucas and Ruby continued the journey, and as they finally arrived, Ruby spoke, "You are already a great model. You know it, Lucas? With just your face-!"

Then she was cut off as Lucas retorted.

"Yes, yes. Please carry on, Lady Ruby. I just want to finish this one," he said.

"Why are you being so moody, Lucas?" Ruby asked.

"I don't think I have any reason for that. I pay my debts, even if I am not interested in them."

"Hey... Don't you think you are unable to handle your nasty personality? I don't really like it."

Lucas glared at her. "Then please, stop with those gestures. I don't particularly like having women seduce me. I don't like it."

Ruby raised her eyebrow as her curiosity was piqued by Lucas's irritated words.

"Why does this bother you? Was it that disrespectful?" Ruby asked.

He just remained silent as he breathed, recalling some of his memories that he had buried in the past.

"Father, father! Look! I captured a fish!" A joyful call came from a child that was running towards Lucas.

Lucas appeared to be just in his 30's. He had a thin beard and a mustache on his face, with slight wrinkles too. And as he looked at his smiling 6-year-old boy, he couldn't help but smile at every corner of his lips.

The boy ran toward him, but stumbled after a few steps. He rushed to him and was worried about what had happened to the kid, having breathless words in his sentence.

"My son, were you okay? Did something hurt you?"

They were by the side of a river, playing in a grassfield next to it.

"I am okay, father. But the fish, look at it."

Lucas's eyes slowly followed where the boy was looking, worriedly looking, and he sighed.

"It is okay, my son." Lucas smiled at the teary eyes of the boy and picked up the fish.

He breathed out, then started chanting some words that couldn't be understood by normal people.

The boy only mesmerizedly looked at his father, who was chanting some spells, and in the next few seconds, a light breeze and water splashed on the fish.

The dirt on the fish disappeared as if magic had just happened.

"Father! Teach me what happened there!" the boy said to him in an excited tone.

Lucas couldn't help but chuckle as he responded. "I will when you do your chores diligently." Then he tapped the face of the youthful boy.

The boy only pouted at him.

"Ehhh... I don't want to do the chores. Why me?!"

Lucas just snickered, but when he was about to reply to his son, a familiar presence suddenly appeared nearby that he abruptly notice.

"Uhm..." Reluctantly, he turned to his son and said, "Can you go home without me? I just need to do something."

The kid raised his eyebrow and replied, "What was it, father?"

Lucas shook his head, "Don't worry about it, my son. Just go," then he smiled.

The boy had no choice and obeyed his father's request. And before he left, he made a request to his father.

"Please don't look at other ladies' butts, father. I noticed what you did yesterday!"

Lucas's eyes widened and just awkwardly scratched his nape.

"I didn't! Forget about it, just go."

The kid made a cunning smile before leaving him, and as Lucas was sure that the kid was leaving the place, he then called out the presence he was sensing.

"Why are you still doing this? I told you that I was not interested in you." Lucas mumbled, then faced a certain location.

After a few seconds, a female appeared.

It was a fine lady who had seductive gazes of purple. Her hair was wavy and reached her waist, accompanied by straight bangs.

What was more noticeable about her face was the slim shape of it and the red lips that were being emphasized by her fair skin.

The body proportion was superb, although the butt and breast were the most eye-catching of them all.

Lucas didn't look at her when she appeared and just shifted his eyes to something else.

"But you are attracted to it, Lucas..." A soft voice resounded from the female's soft lips.

Lucas turned his back to her as he faced the bushes behind him earlier.

"I love my family. This will be the last."

Lucas started walking away from her, but unexpectedly, he heard her chuckling, as if something funny had just happened.

Being curious, Lucas shifted his attention to her and looked at her with a perplexed expression.

"Why are you laughing?" he asked.

The female only shook her head, as slowly, her face turned into a vicious one, and she smiled like there was no tomorrow.

"You don't really want to? Well, it's no help. But, you are really useless, Lucas."

Lucas remained dumbfounded as he looked at the female's eyes. He slowly opened his mouth in disbelief as he got a bad feeling about it.

"What do you mean?"

As he asked it, the lady scoffed and answered him in snickering words, "I don't need to waste your time anymore since we've already found what we want. Thank you for being useful during this time, Lucas. You also won't be on time. Your family would probably be dead by this time for protecting what we were looking for.

Descendant of the First Mage Genius, 8th Generation, Lucas White."

Lucas's eyes widened as he heard those words coming from the female. And, while he wished he could ask the female more questions about everything, he couldn't because it would be too late. He needs to go to his family!

Ruby was just speechless as he looked at Lucas, who was preoccupied at the moment.

She swayed her hands in front of him, but still no reply was made. And as she was waiting for Lucas for almost 30 seconds, she clapped her hands with her feet stomping to call out for Lucas.

Lucas flinched when his attention was taken by Ruby. Lucas then noticed it and just raised his eyebrows.

"Uh! I just don't like it." Lucas merely said, and just continued moving in the sky.

"Lucas, we are descending..."

Lucas paused as he remembered what had just snapped back into his mind.

"Ah. Yeah, we were." Then he followed Ruby, descending on the land.

It was only an open field of flat cemented ground. There were no people, and it was just quiet, as if it were not an important place to guard.

Lucas noticed the surroundings were a bit different as there were no nearby buildings, but only one standing at the very end of the cemented ground.

Meanwhile, Ruby just pondered how Lucas acted earlier.

'Must be something that bothers him,' she thought.
