

309 The Feathered Serpent

After a week when Lucas was able to make the 11 Elders pledge to him to be their master, he was now standing before a divine creature, staring at the feathers of its huge and long body. He was now inside the cave at the top of Ming Mountain, which houses the Feathered Serpent. And as his presence became stronger, the more the breath of the divine beast slammed into his face, the divine beast became bothered, feeling unwell, making her wake up. 1

'Red eyes... white feathers... this serpent is just too unique among all the serpents I have seen in the past. Snakes should not have feathers, instead, they should have thin scales... Truly divine...'

Nonchalantly standing before her, her eyes went down, looking at Lucas. She hissed, then moved back as she shot her killing intent at him. Lucas's reaction to it was simple; he raised his hands and gave her a calm look.

"I am not here to fight... or even have some argument with you, Feathered Serpent. I am just here to make a deal." Lucas stated in a static tone. His breath was as if creating thin mist, solemnly looking at her.

"Human... This is my first time seeing a human that has reached the Emperor Spirit Realm..."

The Feathered Serpent hissed, continuing to emit her killing intent smirked with her thin mouth.

"It might be due to the long years of your slumber... It must have been a thousand years."

Lucas calmly responded.

stronger. She was determined to kill Lucas, but Lucas nonchalantly swayed his hands at her, creating a barrier for him from the violent pressure that was directly shot at him.

The Feathered Serpent became angrier. She raised her killing intent so much that it could ground of the cave.

"Peace... But you have to use me to fight the Northern Continent."

Lucas smiled as he saw how the Feathered Serpent calmed down.

'Is she perhaps giving it a thought? I didn't know the personality the Feathered Serpent has, but I guess she is not that dumb that it's still...

destroy my barrier with mere killing intent. I guess my barrier that has no affinity was that weak. How about I put some darkness affinity to it?'

"Human, I want to ask again, why did you come here? Do you think that I will really believe in you and that you will make me your ally? That is absurd; no one has ever asked me that since the beginning of my existence."

Lucas scoffed, then created a barrier from his

"Shut up! Human, I guess that I have to fix your brain. You don't know the weight of your words. It is absurd that I will listen to you!"

A feather appeared out of the slender and jade arms of the Feathered Serpent. It was white and the size of an average book, but it was coated with hostile energy, similar to the chaotic Qi in the surroundings. And as it suddenly appeared in her hands, she threw it at Lucas, making a crack in the shadow barrier he created.

This piqued Lucas's interest. Indeed, that Feathered Serpent was strong for his shadow barrier to be easily cracked. However, it was not Lucas could only shake his head.

'I guess it is wrong to confuse her. I didn't think that the Feathered Serpent was stubborn and focused on her mindset, which makes the confusion useless... But now, I guess I should just defeat her here...? No... I just have to wait for more until she creates the sign that I have to clash with her.' He clenched his fist.

"You said you don't want to be used for another human affair, right? But, this case will be different since you will witness a creation of an ambassador."

"I am not interested!"
