"Arrogant human... Do you think that just because you defeated me, I will now listen to your demands and orders? You are a fool, indeed. You will kill me first before you can get anything from me." 1

Lucas smiled as he watched how the Feathered Serpent still got a hard head on to him. He moved closer to her and said, "Lucas, the name is Lucas. Stop calling me "human." I am not human anymore. I am already an immortal."

"What?" As the Feathered Serpent heard it, she couldn't hide her surprise.

'Immortal...? Impossible. How could an immortal descend into the Mortal Heaven without restrictions? His cultivation: was it really real? Now that I think about it, it is impossible for a human, especially with an Emperor Stage cultivation base, to defeat a divine beast like me who was already in the Immortal Realm of cultivation. It is just impossible.'

The Feathered Serpent thought of it more, and as soon as she realized something, she lowered her gaze and sighed.

"I am Fiona, Lucas," she timidly said. "But is it really true that you are an immortal?"

Lucas nodded. "Yes, I am an immortal, but not from the Immortal Heaven. You might not know amusement, but even though she was acting like that, he was still fixated on his plan on how he would make her his ally.

"Do you think that the only way to make you my

"What do you mean? Even if you have any means to make me your ally, I won't listen to you. I am confident that I won't listen to you."

"Yeah, yeah... You won't listen to me, but what could a dead divine beast do when she was already dead? How about you, Fiona, will you be if I want to but only to a small number. It is an overpowered ability and beyond logic."

"See...? You are the one who is taking back your words. You are saying that you can control humans, even if they are dead and in small numbers, but the question is, can you control me, who is a divine beast?"

'Look at her, satisfied with the response she whole body. Furthermore, she kowtowed at him with teary eyes and shouted with the pure force of her throat.

"Please... stop this!"

She was kowtowing to Lucas while her hands were swinging by her sides. They were still out of her control and the thought of it just ate her mind.

"Stop! I will listen to you! Just stop violating my body! I will listen to you and I will be your ally!"

"Good choice... Then, today, we are now allies. Don't worry, I won't 'violate' your body by controlling it against your will. That is just an example, so don't worry. Furthermore, I want you to be my real ally. No betrayal, equal rights, and a healthy relationship. Even though I am the authority on the legacy I am part of, and you are my ally in that, you will still listen to me to finish this immediately. That is because we are allies, and I am in charge. After that, after all of this, you can enjoy your life. And the hatred you have for humans, I hope you forget about it."

Fiona's tears fell as she was still thinking of smiled with a calm face as he soon discovered that Lucas had succeeded in his plan.

"I was right in believing in you, Senior Master Lucas."
