The Second Act 261

Chapter 261

Therefore, no one present had noticed the needle.

The needle flew out and was secretly stabbed into an acupoint on Ruth's body.

Ruth suddenly paused, and then her eyes seemed to light up a little.

Her breath became smooth, and her expression had also relaxed a little.

Oneida's needle would only let Ruth hold on a little longer so that she wouldn't die immediately. She just bought a little time.

If she really wanted to cure Ruth, she needed to invite the legendary doctor.

In other words, Oneida herself!

Meanwhile, other people had also noticed the change of Ruth.

Her face looked better, no longer that pale.

But this kind of change didn't make everyone happy.

On the contrary, they looked even more sullen.

They thought that Ruth was nearing her last breath, just like the last radiance of the setting sun.

"Jack," Ruth called Jackson smoothly and smiled. "I seem to have a little more strength."

Jackson looked at her with a serious look.

Seeing that, Lionel could only shake his head sadly.

Oneida clenched her fingers. She knew that Ruth didn't have much time left, so she said in front of everyone, "Guys, have you heard of a legendary doctor?"

Everyone's attention was instantly attracted by Oneida.

"A legendary doctor?" Hearing that, Lionel frowned. "I never pay attention to those things."

He only believed in hospitals. He always thought that those so-called legendary doctors were frauds.

He didn't believe them.

Others showed different expressions.

Claude felt Oneida was talking nonsense. He snorted in displeasure and ridiculed coldly, "What the hell are you talking about? Can that damn doctor bring the dead back to life? Look at Grandma. No doctor can save her!" "Claude!" Hearing these quite offensive words, Lionel got angry and couldn't help shouting at him.

Claude finally held himself, pursed his lips, and stopped talking

Jonas narrowed his eyes and stared at Oneida quietly.

He seemed to be thinking about what tricks this girl was gonna play.

Chapter 261

Bella glanced at Oneida and said unfriendly, "Look at the situation now. Stop making trouble. Just let her spend the last period of time comfortably!"

"Exactly. Look how sensible Bella is. Claude smiled and put his arm around Bella's shoulders, looking proud.

Jackson, who had been silent all the time, suddenly raised his eyes and glanced at them coldly.

Bella noticed his cold and indifferent gaze and couldn't help freezing for a second,

Claude clenched his fists, looking displeased.

Jackson didn't look at them for a long while. He soon turned to his wife and asked calmly, "Are you talking about Dr. Ryan?"

Oneida paused when she heard that.

She didn't expect that Jackson had heard of this name.

Oneida was both Sebastian and Rosie Ryan.

At the thought that Jackson knew another identity of hers, Oneida was a little delighted, but she still looked calm. "Yes, it's her. I heard that she can really bring the dead back to life. I know you don't believe it, and to be honest, I don't either. But in this situation, we should give it a shot as long as there's still a little hope."

Oneida's voice was clear and powerful, echoing in the room. "I just want Ruth to survive and live a long life. I have no other intentions."

Then she lowered her head slightly, looked at Ruth's face, and said softly, "Ruth, would you like to invite a legendary doctor to treat you?"

Oneida was very smart. She knew that other people present may not agree, so she directly asked Ruth.

If Ruth agreed, it wouldn't matter if others agreed or not.

Ruth listened to her in a daze.

She didn't expect that she would have a chance to survive.

She was already ready to die.

But now, she had a small chance to survive.

Everyone wanted to live.

Of course, Ruth wanted to stay alive. She wanted to see Jackson live a good life and wanted to watch the whole family.

Ruth took a deep breath and immediately nodded.

There seemed to be tears in her eyes. "I would be really grateful if there was a legendary doctor who could help me. But I'm afraid..." She was afraid that there was no such a person.

Hearing that, Lionel looked sorrowful.

Since Ruth had said so, his distrust toward the legendary doctor disappeared at once.

He turned to look at Oneida and hurriedly said, "Ida, where can we find this doctor?"

Oneida's eyes flickered. Then she explained, "I heard that this doctor has a weird temper. If you want her to save people, you must move her with sincerity.

Chapter 261

"You have to climb up Mount Esterwilde, the highest and steepest mountain in Jeahiron, hang a board on the pine tree at the top of the mountain, and write down your reason for inviting her. If Dr. Ryan considers it reasonable after reading it, she will come to treat you in person."

Oneida's eyes flickered and she felt a little guilty.

At that time, she suddenly came up with such a strange rule.

Now she could only force herself to say that since someone had asked.

But in this case, they didn't need to climb the mountain or write a board. The doctor would come herself.

Because she was Rosie Ryan.

Hearing what she said, everyone was a little stunned.

They didn't expect this doctor to have such a weird temper and so many rules.

"Well, let's send a servant to do it, then." Lionel frowned and sighed.

Although he knew there was not much hope, he could only have a try.

"No need," Bella suddenly said.

She looked at Oneida coldly with a faint sharpness in her eyes. "Let the one who came up with this idea do it.

"Right, Oneida?" Bella narrowed her eyes and asked.

Then she subconsciously glanced at Jackson.

The man sitting in the wheelchair looked calm and cold. He seemed to be close but also distant.

This feeling made Bella feel sadder.

"Bella is right. Since you trust that doctor so much, you should invite her to come here!" Claude immediately echoed. He stared at Oneida coldly and said with an aggressive tone.

"You brought it up. You should be the one who does it!" Claude shorted coldly and said confidently.

Jonas pursed his lips and didn't say anything. His expression showed that he was enjoying the show.

Chapter 262

Jonas looked a little expectant as if he wanted to see how Oneida was gonna handle it.

"Sure," Oneida pursed her lips and agreed casually.

In fact, even if those people didn't mention it, she still planned to do it alone.

After all, others might have to climb the mountain, but she only needed to get changed.

So easy.

Oneida could only do it by herself.

Because she was the doctor.

"I will get the doctor here. I'll move her with my sincerity." Oneida raised her eyebrows and glared at Claude and the others arrogantly with a meaningful smile.

"Bullshit!" Claude glanced at her disdainfully. He didn't believe her at all. "Have you ever been to Mount Esterwilde? It's really high and steep. It's even difficult for professional mountaineers to climb. Are you sure you can climb to the top of it? "You might give up at the foot of the mountain!"

Hearing that, Bella couldn't help smiling slightly as if she was gloating.

Oneida didn't take that seriously. She smiled confidently like a queen. Then she said to Claude and Bella arrogantly and indifferently, "Just wait and see, then."

After saying that, she turned around and was about to leave the room.

Suddenly, someone grabbed her wrist.

Oneida paused.

She turned her head subconsciously. It turned out to be Jackson who held her wrist.

Jackson raised his eyes slightly and stared at her. "Don't go."

His tone was firm as if he were commanding her.

"Jackson..." Oneida widened her eyes slightly. She didn't expect that Jackson would not allow her to do it.

Jackson's fingers were cold but strong. He held her wrist tightly and said in a domineering but gentle voice, "It's not as easy as you think. Let's just send a servant to do it."

Jackson didn't want Oneida to take risks.

Oneida was stunned and just stared at him.

She pursed her lips and showed a complicated look.

She had to do it, unless she directly told everyone that she was Rosie.

She thought, 'No way. That'll scare everyone.'

"Jackson, let me do it. It's fine," Oneida softened her voice and said with a trace of pleading.

Chapter 262

But Jackson still held her wrist tightly and refused to let go of her. He said stubbornly, "I'll send a servant to do it."

Hearing this, Oneida felt a little anxious.

11

"Jackson, trust me. I'll definitely do it faster than any servant. I can get the doctor here in the shortest time," Oneida replied seriously. "Besides, time is running out. Ruth doesn't have much time left. I'll be right back, okay?" Jackson stared at the girl in front of him. He could see determination, sincerity, and urgency in her eyes.

Then he couldn't help loosening his hand.

He slowly let go of her wrist as if he were reluctant to do so.

Oneida knew that Jackson had compromised.

She smiled at him and said, "Jackson, just wait for my good news"

Then she left the room without looking back.

Oneida drove directly to Mount Esterwilde.

Although she didn't have to follow the rules of inviting Dr. Ryan, she still had to pretend to do it.

Besides, when Rosie appeared, "Oneida" must disappear for a while.

She had to find a reasonable "excuse" for her disappearance.

Oneida arrived at the foot of Mount Esterwilde.

This mountain was famous for its height and steepness indeed. It stood straight in front of everyone like a stanchion of the world.

Oneida planned to climb up the mountain alone.

But she could feel that many people were following her in the dark.

There were several groups of people.

Oneida thought for a while and realized.

Jackson might have secretly sent people to protect her, and Claude and Jonas might have also sent people to follow her.

That was why there were so many people following her.

Oneida pursed her lips, looking serious.

She had to get rid of them as soon as possible.

Otherwise, her identity would be exposed.

Oneida's eyes darkened. Then she quickly climbed up the mountain.

However, she soon disappeared into the lush forest.

Oneida disappeared.

People who were following her all lost their target.

They began to search for Oneida anxiously, but there was still no sign of her. 08:22
Mon, Dec 2

Chapter 262

Oneida just disappeared at the foot of the mountain strangely without any sign.

In fact, Oneida had sneaked into a hut in the mountain.

The hut was so hidden that almost no one could find it.

It was in the forest at the foot of the mountain, and Oneida arrived there soon.

She wouldn't really climb up the top of the mountain.

She only needed to pretend to do so.

Now that "Oneida" had disappeared, "Rosie" was about to show up.

Oneida immediately took off her clothes and put on the clothes that belonged to Rosie.

Rosie liked to wear national costumes. She was wearing a navy blue robe with delicate embroidery on it. Her long black hair reached her waist, and her face was covered by a veil, so no one would know what she looked like. Later, Oneida changed her clothes and walked out of the hut leisurely.

Meanwhile, the news of Oneida's disappearance had already been reported to the people at the manor.

Lionel was angry and worried when he heard that.

"How could she suddenly disappear?!" Lionel frowned and shook his head irritably.

Jackson didn't act emotionally after hearing that.

He never showed his emotions.

However, when he heard the news, his fingers clenched at once.

His expression was still indifferent, but emotions were surging in his deep eyes.

Oneida was missing.

Jackson's heart throbbed when he thought of it.

Victor's face also darkened.

He knew Jackson well.

He knew that Jackson must have gone mad in his mind although he looked quite calm.

"Victor," Jackson suddenly looked up at him and said seriously. "You go there in person. Bring her back."

Jackson's eyes were sharp and his voice was full of pressure.

Victor immediately nodded and replied respectfully, "Yes, sir."

Then he turned around and left the room.

Bella saw that, feeling very uncomfortable. She couldn't help clenching her fists, and her expression became a little ferocious.

She was so jealous about how Jackson was so worried about Oneida.

08:22 Mon,

Chapter 262

She turned her head to hold back her emotions. Then she said coldly, "She pretended to be so brave but went missing at the foot of the mountain. How ridiculous. We should have sent a servant to do that."

Hearing that, Claude echoed with a smile, "Exactly. She was even so confident. Tsk, that's all she got. I doubt that she can't even climb the mountain at all. How could she get lost at the foot of the mountain? So funny!" Bella said coldly again, "See? Don't try to be brave if you can't do it. Otherwise, you will only embarrass yourself!"

Chapter 263

"Shut up!" Lionel was annoyed, and he couldn't help frowning angrily when hearing the sarcastic words of Claude and Bella.

Claude and Bella looked at each other. They did not continue with their words.

On the other side, Karen and Yvonne were very worried. Both of them frowned tightly, looking extremely worried.

"Well, I shouldn't have let her go..." Yvonne said with tears in her eyes. "She is a poor girl. I don't know what difficulties she has encountered."

After all, Oneida was the daughter-in-law that Yvonne selected in person. Now that such a thing had happened, of course, she would be worried and sad. Just then, a servant rushed in.

"Mr. Lionel Bane!" He looked at Lionel anxiously and excitedly. "Good news!"

Hearing this, everyone thought it was about Oneida.

"Have you

found Ida?" Lionel's

eyes

lit up

and he asked in a hurried tone.

Jackson also frowned subconsciously and fixed his eyes on the servant's face.

The servant shook his head. "No. It's Dr. Ryan! She's here!"

'Dr. Ryan? Oneida went missing in Mount Esterwilde. Why would Dr. Ryan suddenly come? Could it be that Oneida is not missing at all, and she has already climbed to the top of Mount Esterwilde?' they wondered. However, this was incredible...

It was impossible for Oneida to find Rosie in such a short time.

So, none of this made any sense...

For a moment, everyone in the house had different expressions.

Lionel was stunned and couldn't believe it.

Jackson's expression remained unchanged, but there was a complicated look in his eyes. There was no special emotion on his handsome face.

Claude and Bella darkened their faces in an instant.

They ridiculed Oneida would not succeed just now...

Unexpectedly, Rosie had already been invited!

How exactly did Oneida make it?

Could it be that she wasn't missing at all but did something big secretly?

Bella gritted her teeth, and there was a flash of resentment in her eyes.

She pressed her lips tightly and couldn't say a word at this time.

Claude on the side also looked gloomy.

Chapter 263

Just after the sarcasm, he was embarrassed. Anyone would be extremely angry in this situation.

Damn it! Oneida deliberately went missing!

Compared with Claude and Bella's gritted teeth and resentment, Jonas was obviously much calmer.

He just narrowed his eyes quietly, as if he were lost in thoughts.

"Mr. Lionel Bane, she is really Dr. Ryan! Shall I let her in?" the servant looked at Lionel excitedly and asked.

Although Lionel was worried about Oneida, he couldn't neglect Rosie.

Thinking of this, Lionel nodded and said, "Invite her in quickly

"Yes, sir." The servant nodded respectfully and then left the room.

J

"Is this a fake highly skilled doctor? Didn't Oneida disappear at the foot of the mountain?" As soon as the servant left, Claude couldn't help but complain suspiciously. "Will this highly skilled doctor come uninvited?" As he spoke, there was a sound of footsteps at the door.

Then the servant came in with a tall girl.

The girl was dressed in a black robe, and her whole body looked mysterious.

Most of her face was covered, leaving only a pair of dark and quiet eyes full of wisdom.

Her eyes were clear and bright as if they could filter all the dirt in the world.

Her long black hair hanging behind her head made the girl feel more aloof and proud.

This was a girl with a unique temperament.

Everyone felt it.

Originally, some people still had doubts and worries...

However, the moment they saw this girl, all their doubts disappeared.

This must be the highly skilled doctor, Rosie Ryan.

She had a pair of clear and merciful eyes, which made her look like a doctor.

There was even a faint scent of medicine on her body.

She was Rosie!

Everyone thought so.

"Are you Dr. Ryan?" Lionel stared at the girl in front of him for a long time and finally couldn't help asking.

Rosie didn't say anything but nodded slightly.

In fact, Rosie was Oneida.

She was looking at everyone in the room quietly.

"Saving people is more important. I'd better check on the patient as soon as possible," Oneida parted her lips and said slowly.

08:22 Mon, De

Chapter 263

She used a falsetto, and her tone became cold and graceful. It sounded like a clear spring.

"Wait." Claude took the lead to speak. He kept staring at Oneida as if he wanted to see through her. "You are really a highly skilled doctor? If so, how did you get here? It's said that you can only be invited after someone reaches the top of Mount Esterwilde, right?" Oneida knew that Claude would definitely pick a fight.

She sneered under the veil.

"I was touched by a girl named Oneida." Her cold and arrogant eyes fell on Claude. She was like looking down at an ant.

Hearing this, many people were surprised.

Oneida?

Was it really her?

It seemed that everyone's guess was right.

Oneida was not missing.

However, even if she wasn't missing and just reached the top of the mountain through a remote road, it was unlikely...

Because it was too fast!

An ordinary girl couldn't make it!

Oneida saw everyone's expressions, and she knew that they would be surprised.

But who would have thought that Oneida herself was Rosie?

It was a secret they could never guess.

"Are you lying? How could Oneida do that?" Claude still did not believe it. He argued, "I know... You and Oneida are on the same team, so you probably collude with each other to act!"

"Alright!" Lionel couldn't help but interrupt Claude. "Stop it!"

"Grandpa, I'm doing this for Grandma's good!" Claude refuted stubbornly with a gloomy face. "This highly skilled doctor is unknown. What if she is a quack? If she hurts Grandma, that's more hassle than it's worth!"

Oneida glanced coldly at Claude, and her eyes seemed to be dyed with a cold glint. "Whether I am a highly skilled doctor or a quack, you will have the answer soon.

"As long as you are willing to let me treat the patient and trust me, I will save her life," she said with an unquestionable tone of authority.

"Then you have a try."

At that moment, Jackson's deep and cold voice sounded..

Oneida was stunned.

Her face under the veil froze for a moment.

To be honest, Oneida had been subconsciously avoiding Jackson's eyes since she entered the room.

For some reason, she was a little worried.

The Second Act 264

She was worried that Jackson would recognize her.

Chapter 264

Oneida had been disguised and her face was covered.

However, Jackson's insight had always been exceptionally acute.

He had a pair of deep eyes that seemed to be able to see through everything. Being stared at by him, ordinary people would inevitably feel numb.

Although Oneida was not an ordinary person, she also tried to avoid looking at Jackson.

What if...

She might get caught by accident...

Although she put on eye makeup, Jackson was too familiar with her eyes.

She didn't want to get exposed in public.

If she didn't want to get exposed, Jackson would be the biggest hidden danger for her.

"I don't like to be watched when I cure people. Please go out first." Oneida quickly calmed down and said to everyone in the room.

"I know you can't trust me completely now," Oneida said calmly. "But many people have known that I came to the Bane manor today to cure Mrs. Ruth Bane. If I really hurt her and couldn't save her life, wouldn't it be ruining my reputation? "Since I want to be a highly skilled doctor, I must fight for my reputation. Therefore, please rest assured that I will try my best to cure her."

Oneida talked eloquently, which dispelled the doubts and worries of Lionel, Yvonne, and Karen.

They need to trust this highly skilled doctor.

Besides, they had no other choice.

Ruth was dying, and many famous doctors came to diagnose her. They used the best medicine and equipment, but it was of no help in the end.

Now, they could only rely on this highly skilled doctor, hoping that she could really save Ruth.

"Okay, doctor," Lionel replied sincerely with a kind look on his face. "I'm leaving my wife to you. I hope you can prolong her life."

Lionel said so, but he was a little pessimistic in his heart.

He thought, 'My wife is dying. Can she really be rescued?

'Now, I am just placing an unrealistic fantasy on this highly skilled doctor.

"Why should we leave? What if she messes up? Grandpa, do you want to kill Grandma?" Claude was not willing to leave. He shouted unreasonably, "She is a quack. She doesn't know how to save people! Don't let her get away with it!" Then, Jonas, who had been silent all the time, also said, "Grandpa, I think this matter is a little inappropriate."

His narrow eyes were shrewd and cold. "I can't trust this highly skilled doctor completely."

Hearing this, Lionel didn't know what to do.

Chapter 264

His three grandsons were quite interesting!

Claude and Jonas opposed Rosie saving Ruth, but Jackson was willing to let her have a try.

It could be seen that Jackson was the most sensible.

Lionel frowned and scolded Claude and Jonas loudly, "Time is precious. Don't delay Dr. Ryan to save your grandma! Even if she was a quack and a liar, would the situation be worse than it is now?" Yeah, it couldn't be any worse.

That was why they had to give it a shot.

Hearing this, Claude couldn't utter a word.

He had to turn around, clenched his fists, and expressed his dissatisfaction in silence.

Jonas was calm, but his eyes flashed with coldness.

He didn't want Ruth to live...

Suddenly, a trace of coldness flashed across Jonas's fair face.

Wasn't it good for Ruth to die early?

The sudden appearance of this highly skilled doctor was undoubtedly a variable.

It was a variable that would mess up his plans.

Jonas pursed his lips and rolled his dark eyes subconsciously.

"Since someone is worried, how about staying in the room to supervise?" At this time, Jackson raised his eyes and glanced at the crowd.

Oneida was the last person to let this happen.

She thought, 'Is he kidding?

'I wanted everyone out, but Jackson wanted to stay and watch me save Mrs. Ruth Bane?

'The stakes are too high.

'Although I am very good at disguise, I can't be absolutely sure that I will not be exposed in front of Jackson.

Oneida still looked calm and indifferent, but it stirred waves in her heart

Was Jackson really going to stay here?

Others didn't have a problem with it.

"Now, everyone is satisfied, right?" Lionel sighed and looked at the crowd helplessly.

"Jack will stay here and keep an eye on it. Let's go out quickly.

"You guys, stop questioning. If you delay the treatment, you will be the biggest sinner!"

Lionel said in an unfriendly tone. He squinted, and a trace of coldness flashed across his eyes.

This sent a chill down Claude's spine.

Chapter 264

Lionel's threat was very scary.

Indeed.

Claude and Jonas were suspicious and opposed just now. To some extent, they were delaying the treatment and their grandmother's life. Jackson was the only one who didn't do that.

He was the first to ask Oneida to give it a shot as soon as possible. He trusted Oneida and didn't want to waste the treatment time.

Who would have thought that, in such an urgent and sad moment, Lionel had a new understanding of his three grandsons and saw their true nature more clearly? Jackson was indeed his favorite.

"Alright. Let's leave as soon as possible. Just let Jack be here." Thinking of this, Lionel hurriedly urged in a loud voice.

They really couldn't waste any more time.

Therefore, everyone left the room one by one under the urging of Lionel.

All of a sudden, there were only Jackson, Oneida, and Ruth who was lying in the bed, in the room.

Oneida frowned subconsciously.

At that moment, Jackson was opposite her.

She could feel that Jackson was silently looking at her with deep eyes.

His

seemed to make her unable to hide.

"Miss, don't be too stressful..." Seeing her frown, Ruth couldn't help but say in a low voice, "Whether I can survive or not depends on my fate... I don't want to force you. Just do your best." Hearing Ruth's words, Oneida finally focused a little.

She tried to ignore Jackson's gaze and said with her head down, Mrs. Ruth Bane, I will do my best to help you live."

Then she took out her tools.

It was a very thin needle.

Oneida had long determined that Ruth's illness was not her own physical factor, but someone poisoned her." Therefore, the first thing she had to do was to find out what kind of poison Ruth was poisoned with. In this way, she could use the right medicine.

Jackson kept looking at the girl opposite him.

His deep and cold eyes were like an endless sea, wrapped in complex emotions.

When Oneida first stepped into the room and appeared in front of him for the first time, he felt a strong sense of familiarity.

Chapter 265

Her eyes, her manners, her features...

Jackson felt very familiar with them.

It was a pleasant familiarity.

This was also the biggest reason why he chose to trust her.

Feeling the opposite's burning eyes, Oneida kept calm on her face but felt a little uneasy in her heart.

Jackson looked at her like this...

It was hard for her not to notice.

Did Jackson recognize her?

No.

If he did, he would not be like that.

Oneida tried not to think about this, picked up the needle in her hand and carefully inserted it into Ruth's arm. The dark red blood beads were slowly led out and flowed into the container prepared by Oneida in advance.

A series of movements were gentle and smooth.

Ruth's expression didn't change at all, which showed that it did not hurt at all.

Oneida turned and looked at the blood in the container.

The color of the blood was not dark red, but black. It was indeed a sign of poisoning.

Ruth was indeed poisoned!

As for what kind of poison it was, it remained to be verified.

"What do you see?" Jackson's cold and pleasant voice suddenly sounded, like the deep tone of a cello.

Oneida paused and didn't speak for a moment.

Jackson parted his lips slightly and then he continued, "You knew it already, right?"

Oneida's eyes widened slightly when she heard this.

"My grandma is indeed poisoned," Jackson said indifferently.

There was a flash of maliciousness in his cold eyes.

Ruth, who had been kept in the dark for a long time, was shocked when she heard what Jackson said.

"Jack... what do you mean?" Ruth hurriedly looked at Jackson and frowned, "What poisoning? How could I be poisoned?"

Ruth always thought she was in poor health because of her old age. That was why she had these strange diseases...

She didn't expect that Jackson would tell her that she was actually poisoned!

08:22 Mon, Dec

Chapter 265

This was ridiculous...

Oneida was also surprised.

Jackson actually knew...

He had always known that Ruth was not sick but poisoned.

Then why didn't he tell Lionel?

Oneida turned her head slightly and looked straight at Jackson.

Jackson seemed to have guessed her inner thoughts and said in a gloomy voice, "Are you curious? Since I know it, why didn't I tell the rest of the Bane family? Why didn't I detoxify Grandma directly?" Oneida nodded silently.

She was really curious.

How did Jackson know that? Why didn't he say it until now?

Jackson turned his head and glanced at Ruth.

There was a complex and profound look on his face.

"I knew it when Grandma's health started to decline," Jackson said calmly. "Besides, I also know the poison in Grandma..."

"What poison?" Oneida's face darkened and asked hurriedly.

Jackson raised his eyes, glanced at her, and said faintly, "It's Red Death."

Red Death?

Oneida's expression changed dramatically at that moment.

She didn't expect Jackson to tell her the result before she had time for the test.

Red Death?!

Oneida was familiar with this kind of poison.

Because she had suffered this poison in her previous life.

In her previous life, Christopher tricked her into giving Jennifer a blood transfusion. At first, she did transfuse some blood to Jennifer.

However, Jennifer was like a bottomless pit. No matter how much blood was transfused, it could not satisfy her.

So Oneida was asked by Christopher to transfuse more blood to Jennifer.

At this time, she finally realized that something was wrong and refused to do so.

She asked Christopher why he kept asking her to give Jennifer a blood transfusion regardless of her health.

Was Jennifer more important to him?

Or maybe she was just a blood transfusion tool and would be thrown away after being used?

Christopher not only didn't care about her but also accused her of being indifferent and unwilling to save Jennifer.

08:22 Mon, Dec

Chapter 263

After a big fight, Oneida turned around and left.

Unexpectedly, Christopher didn't want her to leave.

But he couldn't stop Oneida at all.

Oneida was good at fighting, and Christopher was no match for her.

Finally, he came up with a vicious trick.

He poisoned Oneida!

Moreover, what he gave Oneida was the famous Red Death. It was one of the most terrible and vicious poisons in the world. It was colorless, odorless, and extremely difficult to distinguish. The victim might not even respond at first, but slowly he or she would lose mobility and become weak and thin.

Because Red Death would frantically plunder nutrients and make the victim look haggard, listless, unable to walk and exercise, and vulnerable. At last...

The victim would dry up and die.

What was more terrifying was that there was basically no medicine to cure Red Death except for the corresponding antidote.

No matter how much effort was spent, it was useless.

After being poisoned with Red Death, Oneida immediately lost all her strength, and her subordinates were not around.

Christopher took her away openly and locked her in a very tight, dark room.

She was destroyed like this and was locked up to become Jennifer's blood bank.

Not long after, Christopher detoxified her.

Because if she wasn't detoxified, the poison in her blood might affect Jennifer.

After all, Oneida's blood would be pumped into Jennifer's body.

So Oneida was saved because of Jennifer. Otherwise, how could Christopher be kind enough to detoxify her...

Although she was detoxified in the end, Oneida's health was greatly damaged.

Christopher was afraid that she would run away, so he kept injecting a lot of anesthetic into her body....

Massive blood transfusion, toxic sequela and anesthetic...

These were the reasons for Oneida's tragic death.

Those tragic and painful memories seemed to be right in front of her.

Now, there was another person who had been poisoned with Red Death like her.

Oneida knew the pain brought by Red Death.

Oneida couldn't help but glance at Ruth.

No wonder she looked so haggard.

08:22 Mon, Dec 2 w

Chapter 265

390%

This was what Red Death brought.

So, Ruth almost died today. Maybe the Red Death in her body had robbed her of the last nutrients.

Jackson noticed all the changes in Oneida's eyes. He looked at her silently and focused, with no expression on his face.

After a moment of silence, he said indifferently, "In the whole Bane family, only I know this matter. I didn't tell anyone, because it is Red Death. There is no cure except for a specific antidote. It is useless, to tell others and will cause unnecessary panic."

In fact, there was one more point that Jackson did not mention.

He knew who the poisoner was. That person was in the Bane family.

He had already known everything, but he couldn't alert the enemy because there was no cure for the Red Death.

He had no antidote, which was in the hands of the poisoner. In other words, Ruth's life was also in the hands of the poisoner.

Chapter 266

Jackson didn't expose it on the surface, but he secretly wanted to get the antidote from that person.

But that person was too vicious and cunning.

Jackson used many methods, but it ended up with nothing.

Therefore, Jackson could only endure it. Jackson hated the poisoner but couldn't kill him.

Because that was the only person in the world who could save Ruth.

He thought that if that person had any conscience and filial piety, he might give the antidote to Ruth...

It turned out that he overestimated that person's conscience.

He let Ruth grow weaker and weaker until today.

Ruth was on the verge of death.

Jackson suddenly felt that his forbearance over the years seemed to have become a joke.

For the sake of Ruth's health and the antidote to Red Death, he never exposed his true strength or did anything to them...

Now, he didn't want to bear it anymore.

Oneida looked at Jackson quietly.

Jackson's handsome face suddenly flashed across the coldness. He was like an ice-bound sculpture, full of chills.

Oneida knew that Jackson was angry.

Suddenly, Jackson cast a cold glance at her.

Their eyes met, and Oneida slightly widened her eyes.

"Please save her. If you succeed, I will give you everything you want," Jackson said firmly and coldly, with a faint pressure in his voice.

"If you can't..." Jackson lowered his eyes slightly, and there was a strong coldness between his eyes. "I won't vent my anger on you."

But he would let those people die with Ruth!

He would certainly do so.

And Oneida's whereabouts were still unknown...

If she got hurt because of this, he would avenge her a hundredfold.

Oneida felt that Jackson's expression was a little scary.

She unconsciously clenched her fingers.

Ruth, who was lying aside, saw the expression on Jackson's face and couldn't help shaking her head distressedly. "Jack, don't do this."

Chapter 266

She could feel Jackson's fierce and cold aura.

"Even if I die, I don't want... you to be painful and sad..." Ruth lowered her eyes with pity and pain.

"Grandma..." Jackson turned to look at her and shouted in a low voice. Then he didn't continue.

Oneida remained silent and wore a complicated expression.

The relationship between Jackson and Ruth was deeper than she thought.

So...

Not only for Ruth but also for Jackson, she must detoxify Ruth!

"I don't have the antidote to Red Death." Thinking of this, Oneida explained it to Jackson first.

"I know," Jackson answered faintly.

Except for the poisoner, no one else in this world really had an antidote.

Jackson didn't hold out his hopes. He just wanted this famous highly skilled doctor to give it a try.

What if she could detoxify Ruth?

"But I will try my best." Oneida clenched her fists as if she had made a promise.

Her eyes were sincere, bright, and clear.

For a moment, Jackson seemed to see Cece.

He was stunned for a moment.

Oneida turned and looked away from him.

Jackson narrowed his eyes and looked a little stiff.

Oneida took out all her tools, which were a row of thin needles.

At that moment, there was no antidote and she didn't have time to make it either.

The only thing she could do was to use her needles.

Oneida's acupuncture was the best in the world.

With the needles in her hand, she could cure all the disease!

Once Oneida made a move with her needles, she would never fail.

So, at that moment, she was still confident even in the face of Red Death.

She had suffered from Red Death in her previous life. In this life, she would definitely get Ruth out of her misery as soon as possible! Thinking of this, Oneida picked up the silver needle and carefully and gently inserted it into one of Ruth's acupoints.

Immediately after that, many needles were inserted.

Chapter 266

At that moment, Ruth was covered with needles.

Jackson had been watching by the bedside with a calm face.

He didn't say anything.

Now, he fully trusted Oneida.

He believed in her medical skills.

Ruth was lying on her back in bed. Even though she was covered with needles, she wasn't afraid at all.

This little girl looked very reliable.

She didn't know why she liked this doctor very much.

Moreover, these needles didn't cause her any pain.

She even felt comfortable now.

Oneida frowned and quietly observed these upright needles.

Suddenly...

The head of these needles overflowed with dark red, nearly black blood.

Blood kept flowing out from all directions.

It looked a little creepy.

Ruth seemed to have noticed it and raised her head slightly, trying to check.

"Mrs. Ruth Bane, don't panic!" Oneida said calmly, trying to stop Ruth from looking back, "I'm draining the toxins in your body. Don't move. Just lie down in the same position as before." Oneida had no antidote, so she could only try to guide the toxin out of Ruth.

Now, these toxins had been slowly excreted through the needles

But it was going to take some time.

When the blood returned to its normal color, it was a true detoxification success.

After a few more minutes, the blood finally returned to normal color.

At the tip of the needles, the blood slowly coagulated and no longer overflowed.

Oneida was slightly relieved.

She knew that the poison of Red Death had been discharged,

Her needles were different from ordinary ones. They had the effect of absorbing toxins, so they could detoxify easily.

Oneida waved her hand and pulled out the needles with great speed.

Then she took a bottle from her toolbox and out of it came a huge black pill.

This pill was really big.

It was about the size of an adult's fist.

"Mrs. Ruth Bane, take this quickly." Oneida handed the huge black pill to Ruth with a smile on her face.

"Huh? How to take it?" Ruth widened her eyes, looking a little embarrassed.

Jackson also frowned.

Oneida pursed her lips and smiled, "This is my exclusive homemade Tonic Pill. I didn't let you swallow it. You can just chew it. Your nutrition has been plunged by Red Death and just lost a lot of blood. Now you urgently need to replenish nutrition and energy. "So, take it as soon as possible."

Hearing this, Ruth supported herself up and took the huge pill with her trembling hands.

The pill was so big that it looked very nourishing.

Ruth opened her mouth and took a bit of the pill like biting an apple.

The bitter fragrance of the medicine suddenly overflowed her mouth. Ruth frowned. Although she was reluctant, she still did as Oneida said.

She felt the changes in her body as she took the pill.

The Second Act 267

Chapter 267

Ruth really didn't seem to be as weak as before.

Her breath seemed to be smoother.

"The pill... really works..." Ruth was slightly stunned and sighed sincerely.

Seeing this, Jackson felt somewhat relieved.

He knew that Ruth would not be in danger for the time being.

Jackson raised his eyes and looked at Oneida.

His deep eyebrows and eyes were full of faint light. "Thank you so much this time.

"Just tell me whatever you want," Jackson said in a light tone, polite and distant.

Oneida met Jackson's eyes.

She thought, 'What do I want...

What I really want...

"It is nothing more than you, Jackson.

'But I can't say it out loud...'

Thinking of this, Oneida pursed her lips under the veil.

She glanced at Jackson quietly and said in a low voice, "I never accept rewards from patients."

Jackson paused as if he hadn't expected her to say so.

This was the first time Jackson had met Rosie.

He had only heard of her name before.

It was said that Rosie had excellent medical skills and could even bring people back to life.

Previously, he just treated it as a non-committal chitchat.

Now that Jackson had witnessed Ruth come back from the dead, he appreciated this highly skilled doctor.

"You really don't want anything?" Jackson narrowed his eyes and asked abruptly.

"It's my habit and it's my rule. I won't accept any rewards from patients. Every time I treat the patient, I am willing to do it. Oneida slightly narrowed her eyes and explained. Jackson gave her a deep look and didn't say anything.

At that moment.

Someone knocked on the bedroom door.

Jack, what's going on inside?" Lionel's anxious and worried voice came from outside the door.

Hearing this, Oneida said to the door. "Mrs Ruth Bane is fine now. You guys can come in

In an instant...

The door of the bedroom was opened.,

Lionel was the first one to come in.

He was followed by a large group of people.

At that moment, Ruth had finished the black pill and looked at Lionel with bright eyes.

Looking at Ruth's radiant face, Lionel was shocked.

Ruth didn't look like she was just now,

"She's really fine." Lionel sighed with emotions, and he was inexplicably excited.

Tears welled up in his eyes, and he almost shed a tear.

Then he hurried to the bedside, sat down on the edge of the bed, and looked at his wife carefully.

"How do you feel?" His eyes were full of surprise, astonishment, and some inexplicable bitterness.

He was afraid it was just a dream.

"I feel much better..." Ruth smiled slightly. "Thanks to Dr. Ryan. She is really not an ordinary doctor. She's awesome."

Hearing this, Lionel immediately turned to look at Oneida.

He didn't expect that this highly skilled doctor was really so skillful.

She actually saved Ruth's life!

Lionel used to disdain this highly skilled doctor, but now he was in awe of her.

"Dr. Ryan, I was ignorant before." Lionel immediately got up and said to Oneida sincerely, "Now, I really appreciate your help."

"What reward do you want? If I can do it, I will bring it to you myself," Lionel said in a deep voice, which meant that he made a promise. Oneida pursed her lips slightly and didn't speak for a moment.

Lionel was indeed Jackson's grandpa. They both said the same thing and wanted to reward her.

She practiced medicine for the world, never taking money or benefits from others.

That was her principle.

"I really don't need it," Oneida replied helplessly.

At that moment, others rushed into the room.

Seeing that Ruth looked good, Yvonne and Karen finally felt relieved. Both of them were overjoyed.

But Roderick was still indifferent.

Although Ruth was his biological mother, whether she was alive or dead didn't seem to be so important to Roderick

He looked at all this indifferently

Chapter 267

Behind him, Claude and Jonas didn't look good.

Claude looked at this scene in disbelief.

Ruth, who was about to die, now looked radiant and normal.

She was really rescued!

This highly skilled doctor was really something!

Claude only felt like he was being executed in public and being mercilessly slapped twice.

Just now, he insisted on insulting Rosie as a quack and a liar. Now she was really cured by Ruth...

Claude didn't feel happy at all.

Ruth was so old that he didn't care if she was alive or dead.

It would be best if Ruth died!

After all, she always favored Jackson

Now, Claude was more concerned about...

He was smacked in the face

His yelling and questioning just now seemed to be as funny as a clown.

The corner of Claude's lip twitched a moment. He turned his face away with some displeasure.

Jonas didn't speak either. He looked a little gloomy, and his deep eyes were filled with unfathomable maliciousness and coldness.

His delicate and handsome face was tensed at that moment.

It was like a tight string.

Ruth recovered and was saved from the brink of death.

Jonas' heart sank.

This was not the situation he wanted to see.

Unexpectedly, this highly skilled doctor was really something

Originally, Jonas didn't take it to heart.

Because he knew that Ruth was poisoned by an incurable Red Death. Even if Rosie was invited, there would be no cure.

However, at that moment, Red Death was removed.

If he had known this, he should have killed this highly skilled doctor on the way.

All of a sudden....

A gaze fell on Jonas.

It was burning and cold.

It was Jackson.

Jackson sat in the wheelchair and looked straight at him.

Jackson didn't hide his cold and intimidating gaze, like a sharp blade wrapped in frost.

Their eyes met.

One was cold and the other was curious.

Being stared at by Jackson, Jonas was a little scared.

For a moment, he even felt...

Jackson probably knew everything.

But Jonas dismissed these ideas quickly.

It was impossible.

He did it so secretly. How could Jackson know it?

His loser brother should always be a loser.

Jonas narrowed his eyes and glared at Jackson fiercely.

But Jackson didn't seem to notice it and stared at Jonas coldly.

The Second Act 268

Chapter 268

There seemed to be a piercing storm in his eyes, which was enough to swallow everything.

No one noticed that there was an undercurrent between Jonas and Jackson.

In the end, Jonas couldn't stand it and took the lead in looking away.

'What does Jackson mean?' wondered Jonas.

On the other side.

Oneida saw that Ruth was fine, so she said goodbye to everyone, "Mrs. Ruth Bane is safe and sound attention to her nutrition in the future. I have something else to do. I'll leave first." Seeing that she was about to leave, everyone became polite.

now. You should pay

"Dr. Ryan, are you leaving now? I haven't entertained you yet," Lionel said gently with sincerity in his eyes.

Ruth also said in a low voice, "Dr. Ryan, you saved my life. Please stay here for a while and let everyone entertain you."

Oneida didn't want to stay.

The longer she stayed here, the greater the risk.

"Thank you for your hospitality, but I do have something to deal with, so I won't continue disturbing you." Oneida's tone was firm and decisive.

Since she said so, Lionel and Ruth didn't force her to stay anymore.

"In that case, I'll walk you out myself." Lionel planned to send Oneida to the door in person, which was his last insistence.

Oneida sighed in a low voice and no longer refused.

She turned and walked toward the door.

At that moment, the room was full of people.

She could feel that several eyes fell on her from all directions.

Some people stared at her coldly, while others looked at her disdainfully.

Oneida curled her lips slightly.

Without looking at them, she knew that it must be Claude and Jonas.

They always hated her.

She walked straight forward, unexpectedly...

She didn't pay attention to her feet and she tripped over something.

Oneida suddenly became unsteady and fell straight forward.

She wanted to keep her balance, so she could only move as far to the right as possible.

However, Jonas was standing on the right.

He was looking at her with a half-smile, and his eyes were terribly cold.

Oneida felt a chill in her heart.

She didn't want to touch Jonas!

It was better for her to fall down hard than touch this man.

Thinking of this, Oneida abandoned herself and let herself fall straight in the original direction.

All of a sudden, she felt herself spinning.

Oneida only felt that her wrist was grasped by a powerful force.

Immediately after, she fell over a person.

Oneida quietly looked at the person in front of her. It was Jackson..

She fell into Jackson's arms by accident.

At that moment, she was sitting firmly on Jackson's lap.

This was not the first time Oneida had sat on Jackson's lap.

But she was Oneida at that time, and now she was Rosie.

It was a complete stranger to Jackson.

All of a sudden, the whole bedroom was silent.

Everyone looked at Jackson and Oneida silently without saying anything.

Oneida was looking at the man in front of her.

Jackson stared at her with a deep look.

Oneida felt that she seemed to be indulging in his eyes.

Her heart raced inexplicably.

For a moment, her heart was beating like a drum.

They were too close.

Oneida thought that Jackson might have noticed it from such a close distance.

She stood up subconsciously, trying to distance herself from Jackson.

Unexpectedly, something more unexpected happened.

In a flurry, Oneida pulled her veil accidentally.

Without warning, her veil loosened and slid slowly from her cheeks.

In an instant, the veil had slipped over her nose...

Oneida's eyes suddenly widened, and she was frightened.

Perhaps she would be completely exposed herself in front of so many people!

At such a critical moment, Oneida focused her attention and a needle flew out of her fingertips.

The needle flew straight to the light switch.

Smack!

The lights were suddenly turned off.

The whole bedroom was suddenly plunged into darkness.

"What's going on?" Claude was the first to lose his temper and shout loudly, "Why does it suddenly bláack out?"

His voice sounded loud, but there was a faint fear in his tone.

"Maybe the light is broken. Don't panic!" After all, Lionel had seen the world and was not flustered at all. He calmly comforted everyone.

Oneida took advantage of the darkness and got up immediately from Jackson.

She reached out, tidied up her veil, and turned to leave.

Unexpectedly...

Her wrist was grasped again.

She could feel the coldness and incomparable strength of his fingertips.

Then, an indifferent and low voice sounded near her ear. The a voice that only the two of them could hear,

It was Jackson's voice.

He was questioning her.

Oneida pursed her lips and said nothing.

She was not sure what Jackson had sensed.

Did he know that she was Oneida?

Was he sounding her out, or was he really asking her?

Countless thoughts crossed Oneida's mind. She narrowed her eyes and decided to leave first!

"Of course not."

Oneida responded in a low voice, then shook off Jackson's wrist unexpectedly, and disappeared into the darkness at an extremely fast speed.

When the lights turned on again, everyone realized that Rosie had disappeared.

She seemed to have suddenly disappeared, and there was no sign of her in the whole room.

"Where is Dr. Ryan? Why is she gone?" Ruth frowned and asked in confusion.

Lionel was also confused about how Dr. Ryan left in such a dark situation...

No wonder she was an untraceable highly skilled doctor.

Thinking of this, he felt a little regretful. He had wanted to have a good talk with Rosie, but it seemed that there was no chance.

No one noticed that Jackson was staring at the door.

It seemed that he was looking at something.

He looked at it for a while and narrowed his eyes slightly.

Rosie...

He felt it was necessary for him to investigate Rosie.

Oneida quietly left the Bane manor and then returned to Mount Esterwilde without being noticed.

She put on the clothes she used to wear in the Bane manor.

And then...

After she walked for a while, a deep and cold voice sounded in her ear. There seemed to be some excitement in his tone, "Mrs. Bane?"

It was Victor's voice.

Oneida turned her head and was about to see in which direction Victor was.

Unexpectedly, Victor quickly approached her.

"Mrs. Bane, are you okay?" Victor looked at her worriedly with a frown.

The Second Act 269

Chapter 269

Before that, Victor had led his men to search the whole of Mount Esterwilde.

However, no trace of Oneida was found.

Unexpectedly, when he gloomily walked down the mountain, Oneida suddenly appeared in front of him.

It was really out of his expectations!

Seeing that Victor was so worried about her, Oneida smiled guiltily and said, "I'm fine."

"Mrs. Bane, where have you been these days?" Victor frowned and continued to ask.

"What's the matter? Of course, I went to the top of Mount Esterwilde..." Oneida said naturally.

She pretended to know nothing and looked calm.

Victor paused and didn't continue.

Oneida didn't know Jackson had sent someone to keep an eye on her.

She didn't know that she had become a "missing person" in the eyes of everyone either.

"Is that so? But I was at the top of the mountain just now. Why didn't I see you?" Victor felt a little strange and couldn't help but ask.

Oneida explained calmly and indifferently, "I just took a shortcut in the mountain. It didn't take me long to reach the top of the mountain. After putting up the sign to ask for help from Dr. Ryan, I left and wandered around the mountain. "Maybe we just missed each other."

She had come up with a perfect excuse.

That was what she would say if anyone asked.

"Is that so?" Oneida's excuse was perfect, but Victor felt something was wrong.

"Alright. Let's go back!" Oneida didn't want to waste her breath with him, so she said straightforwardly.

Victor nodded immediately.

That was right. If he could find Oneida, it meant that the mission had been completed!

The most important thing for him now was to bring Oneida back to Jackson safely.

"Mrs. Bane, I'm just here to pick you up. Follow me and watch your step, please," Victor said respectfully and then walked in front of Oneida to lead her the way. They soon drove back to the Bane manor.

As soon as she entered the villa, she found that everyone was gathering in the hall.

"Ida, you're back!" Seeing Oneida appear, Lionel relaxed his eyebrows and smiled kindly.

"Come here, Let me have a look." Then he waved to Oneida again, looking in a good mood. Oneida smiled politely, then walked over, and called out, "Grandpa Lionel."

After all, Rosie was invited by her.

In order to invite Rosie, Oneida climbed to the top of Mount Esterwilde alone and impressed Rosie with her sincerity.

To some extent, Oneida was also the savior of Ruth!

Without Oneida, how could Rosie come here to save Ruth?

Now, Ruth's condition had greatly improved. Lionel was only worried about Oneida...

So, as soon as he saw Oneida, he asked eagerly.

"Grandpa Lionel," Oneida smiled slightly and said calmly, "Don't worry. I'm fine. It went more smoothly than I thought. It's my fault that I didn't come back in time, which made worried." you

What Oneida said was reasonable, which made Lionel breathe a sigh of relief. He was more fond of Oneida in his heart.

"Ida, thank you so much There was a kind look in Lionel's eyes.

"How about this? I have a villa in Pinewood Bay. I'll give it to you today, okay?" Lionel asked with a smile as if it was just a simple gift.

However, the other people present were shocked.

Roderick's face suddenly darkened, and a trace of surprise flashed across his cold eyes.

He had been begging for this villa in Pinewood Bay from Lionel for a long time, but Lionel refused to let go and didn't mean to give it to him.

Now, Lionel was so kind that he directly gave the villa to this little girl.

This was ridiculous!

Roderick glanced at Oneida unhappily with a cold face.

His disgust for his daughter-in-law reached its peak at that moment.

Claude, Bella, and Jonas were all unhappy.

They were first surprised, then stared at Oneida gloomily.

They understood how valuable this villa in Pinewood Bay was.

This villa was located in a perfect position, and the construction and decoration were also very luxurious. It covered an area of incomparably large space.

Even if it was sold directly, it could sell for hundreds of millions of dollars!

Lionel was going to take this villa for his own vacation.

But he didn't have time to go there these years.

So the villa was still idle.

Now, Lionel was going to give it directly to Oneida!

Claude gritted his teeth, with some resentment on his face.

Damn it!

Oneida just married into the Bane family for such a short time. How did she coax Lionel?

Lionel was kind to her and sent her the villa generously.

Why was Lionel so nice to her?

The more Claude thought, the more angry he was. He was Lionel's biological grandson. Why was he not as good as Oneida, who suddenly came out of nowhere? Moreover, Oneida was Jackson's wife. If Lionel gave this villa to Oneida, it would be equivalent to giving it to Jackson!

At the thought of this, Claude could not help but clench his fist. His eyes are filled with hatred.

He hated Jackson in the first place. Now Jackson and Oneida didn't do anything and got a villa for nothing. It was really annoying!

Bella on the side also looked pale.

She didn't expect that Lionel would love Oneida so much and give Oneida the villa generously.

She had been in the Bane family for a long time, but she never received such an expensive gift.

It was impossible not to be jealous.

Oneida...

Bella was so angry that she bit her lower lip tightly. Why was Oneida so lucky?

Oneida had Jackson and the love of the elders. She even got this precious villa so easily.

Meanwhile, Jonas just stared straight at Oneida.

His deep eyes were surging with a complex and dark glint.

At this time, Oneida was surprised to hear what Lionel said.

Oneida didn't expect Lionel would give her the villa.

She didn't lack a house at all.

Yet, to take it or not, this was a question.

Oneida looked at Jackson subconsciously.

Jackson was sitting in a wheelchair with clear eyes and a cold face.

He was also looking at her.

Jackson's eyes were gentle and bright.

Suddenly, he nodded slightly to Oneida.

Oneida instantly understood what he meant.

He wanted her to take it.

Jackson didn't want her to refuse Lionel's kindness.

The Second Act 270-

Naturally, Oneida would not refuse. She nodded and replied cheerfully, "Since Grandpa Lionel said so, I won't refuse."

Hearing this, Claude and Bella darkened their faces even more.

Oneida was so bold.

How dare she accept the villa!

Lionel was also ridiculous. He met Oneida twice and gave her the priceless villa as a gift!

What were they who stayed in the Bane family for so long?

"Grandpa, are you really going to give her the villa in Pinewood Bay?" Finally, Claude couldn't hold back and asked with displeasure.

"What? Do you have a problem?" Lionel frowned and retorted directly.

Claude gritted his teeth. He was more dissatisfied in his heart. "Of course, I have a problem with it! Oneida is not a member of the Bane family. It was too impulsive for you to give her the villa."

Claude meant that if Lionel wanted to give this villa as a gift, it should also be given to someone within the Bane family.

Hearing this, Lionel couldn't help but snort coldly. He squinted and said with a sharp cold glint in his eyes, "So what? If I don't give this villa to Oneida, should I give it to you? Look at yourself. You are good for nothing. Have you made any contribution to the family?" A series of questions immediately made Claude shut up.

"I..." Claude felt like a bone was stuck in his throat, and it took him a long time to word.

"Shut up! Don't make a fool of yourself!" Lionel didn't bother to listen to his nonsense, so he directly retorted.

Claude felt that he was insulting himself!

He looked away angrily, feeling sad and annoyed.

Seeing this, Bella bit her lips and couldn't help clenching her fists.

The matter was thus settled.

The villa in Pinewood Bay would soon be transferred to Oneida

Oneida and Jackson were about to leave the Bane manor after saying goodbye to Ruth.

Oneida walked behind Jackson, pushing his wheelchair.

After a moment of silence, Jackson lowered his eyes and said, "Don't do this again.

13

Hearing this, Oneida deliberately played dumb and asked with a smile, "What do you mean?"

Hearing this, Jackson explained tirelessly, "Don't be impulsive and don't try to be brave. You insisted on going to Mount Esterwilde today. If you were unlucky....

"Grandina's health is very important, but..."

Jackson's clear and pleasant voice was full of calmness. "You are also important."

She was also important...

Oneida was moved.

She was slightly stunned.

Immediately, she looked slightly flustered.

But Jackson, who was sitting in a wheelchair, couldn't see it.

Oneida subconsciously clenched her fingers, still pushing the wheelchair.

She didn't dare to guess what Jackson meant.

Did she read too much into it?

Just then...

A servant trotted up to them.

He first greeted Oneida and then said to Jackson respectfully, "Mr. Jackson Bane, Mr. Lionel Bane wants you to go to the study."

Jackson slightly raised his eyes, and there was a cold glint in his eyes.

"Just let me go alone?" he asked in a faint voice.

The servant nodded. "Yes. Mr. Lionel Bane asked you to see him alone."

It meant that Oneida didn't have to go with him.

"Maybe he has some secrets to tell you..." Oneida smiled lightly and handed the back of the wheelchair to the servant. "Push him. Be careful." The servant smiled and nodded. "I will."

Jackson followed the servant away.

Oneida was wandering alone in the corridor.

Lionel must have suddenly remembered something urgent, so he called Jackson over when they were about to leave.

What could it be?

Oneida lowered her eyes and walked aimlessly forward.

Unexpectedly...

A black figure suddenly appeared in front of her.

Oneida almost ran into that person.

Fortunately, she reacted quickly and stopped in time.

Immediately, she raised her head to look at the man in front of her.

Hearing this, Jonas smiled meaningfully.

He said with a cold smile, "Are you in such a hurry to leave?"

Oneida glanced at him and said unhappily, "Of course."

Jonas raised his chin. He exuded a sense of inherent aristocratic elegance.

He narrowed his eyes slightly, just like looking at the prey. He sized Oneida up.

Such a gaze made Oneida feel uncomfortable.

Oneida parted her lips and was about to say something.

The man in front of her spoke first, "Has anyone told you that you are interesting?"

Interesting?

Oneida looked at Jonas coldly and said, "Should I thank you for your evaluation of me?"

Jonas smiled.

He was very interested in Oneida.

This girl was different from all the girls he had ever seen.

He observed her for a long time.

This girl...

She was wise, decisive, resolute, and fun.

Unfortunately, she was Jackson's woman.

If she didn't have anything to do with Jackson, Jonas would appreciate her very much.

Oneida felt Jonas's brazen eyes hovering over her face. She clenched her fingers and stopped talking, but ran straight forward...

She pushed away Jonas' shoulder and walked forward.

Unexpectedly.

"Bang!"

Something seemed to have fallen out of Oneida's pocket.

It landed on the floor of the corridor.

Oneida and Jonas both looked at the thing that fell on the floor.

Chapter 270

It was Oneida's swan brooch,

It was the brooch that was almost damaged and restored by Oneida.

Oneida paused first, then bent down nervously, and picked up the swan brooch in a hurry.

"Is this your thing?" Jonas fixed his eyes on the brooch. He looked a little strange as if he was thinking about something.

Oneida carefully checked the brooch and found that there was no damage. Then she breathed a sigh of relief.

She replied casually, "Or is it yours?"

Jonas smiled, "This is really mine."

Oneida was shocked.

She raised her eyes to look at Jonas, and a complex expression flashed across her eyes.

"What do you mean?" She looked very indifferent, and there was an inexplicable harshness on her face. "Don't joke with me."

Jonas looked down at her and said firmly, "I'm not kidding."
