Chapter 181

Jane frowned.

However, before she could say anything, the assistant's face instantly changed.

"Oh, reporter Dave Jones!" The assistant rushed out of the front desk to greet him with a smile on his face. "What good wind brings you here? Hahaha..."

The sharp laughter made Jane extremely uncomfortable.

The assistant almost trotted all the way to meet the reporter. Jane glanced at him. He was a well-known senior in the industry and had close relationships with many celebrities.

"Come in, please!" The assistant laughed. When he passed by Jane's side, she didn't know if it was intentional or not, but he slammed his shoulder into her.

"Reporter Dave Jones you are finally here. You don't know there are always some tabloid reporters who are out of control and make trouble! Fortunately, Mr. Tom Cruise is free today. We'll be waiting for your exclusive interview!"

"Your writing is so brilliant. How could your script not be a hit? Haha..."

The two of them went in. Jane stood outside, her hands clenched into fists.

Dominic stepped forward to hold her hand and smiled gently, "Let's go."

Jane followed him out.

She was in a bad mood, her head hanging down. When he walked to the milk tea shop, Dominic asked her, "Which one do you prefer?"

"Huh?"

Jane raised his eyes and smiled gently at the man.

When they were in Cardiff, on the first day after their wedding, she had asked him the same question when buying milk tea.

She laughed and pointed to the mashed taro on the brand, especially emphasizing that it was made into ice.

She really needed a cup of ice-cold food to suppress the fire in her heart!

Dominic nodded and went to buy milk tea with an indifferent expression. However, after he brought it back, Jane realized that the milk tea was actually hot...

"You?"

"You are not allowed to drink cold water." Dominic looked at her.

Jane was stunned.

"No matter what time it is, you are not allowed to drink cold drinks." He held her small hand.

"Josh Green said that you have weak constitution and you need to keep warm, so you are not allowed to drink cold drinks in the future, did you hear?"

"But..." Jane pouted.

But she knew that it was useless to act cute and foolish. Once this man became serious, he would not be swayed by her tricks.

She sighed and slumped down on the table.

Dominic rubbed her hair, a doting expression on his angular face.

Chapter 181

"Now you know how fierce his assistants are, don't you?" Jane softly said, "I heard that Tom Cruise is very good, and he is very fond of fans, but there are actually such a group of people behind him! It's worrying..."

Her tone was obviously emotional, but when it reached Dominic's ears, it was another meaning.

His eyes darkened and his voice was low, "Are you worried about him?"

Jane bit the straw and was stunned. "No!"

tan

He let out a muffled "Mmm". It seemed that there was no reason to be jealous...

Dominic looked down at his phone and did not say anything. Not long after, a middle-aged man came in from the door and respectfully stood at the table, nodding his head and chuckling.

"Mr. Campbell!"

Jane was a little surprised.

Dominic smiled and said, "This is Manager Howard from Fortress Media. He is currently in charge of the company's business."

"Oh." Jane nodded.

Dominic looked at her, his deep eyes revealing a touch of warmth, and he pinched her small hand in his palm.

"He'll bring you in in a while. Your interview outline for staying up late won't be in vain."

"What?" Jane's eyes widened.

The middle-aged uncle in front of her looked simple and honest. He did not look like someone from the entertainment industry at all.

"Don't worry." Dominic smiled softly, "Manager Howard is very experienced.

After drinking the milk tea, Jane stood in front of Tom Cruise's studio again.

She took a deep breath and walked in, continuing to meet the assistant's rolling eyes.

"Hey," the assistant sneered as he nibbled on the seeds. "Some people are like flies. They can't get rid of them!"

"I've told you that Tom Cruise doesn't have any availability today. Why don't you leave?!"

"But I just saw a reporter go in." Jane's attitude was neither humble nor arrogant. "Besides, I just want to make an appointment. I hope Mr. Cruise can give me a chance to interview

"Can you compare with others?" The assistant stared at him with mockery.

Yes, there was no comparison. They were journalists.

Jane pursed his lips and said softly, "Excuse me, does Mr. Tom Cruise know that there is such an assistant in his studio who watches people serve dishes?"

"What do you mean?"

"If he knows, it means that his character is not very good. I won't do this interview! But if he does know, I'm very worried about his future.

"You..."

The assistant was about to have a seizure when she heard a voice not too far away,

"Manager Howard!"

Jane was stunned for a moment. The man rushed over and went towards the middle-aged uncle beside her. The uncle also smiled amiably, but he rejected the man's warm embrace and only shook hands with him.

Chapter 181

That person seemed to have some status; otherwise, the little assistant would not look timid when she looked at him.

"I don't know that Manager Howard is here. I don't know how to welcome you! I don't know why Manager Howard is here this time..."

"It's for the interview." Manager Howard took a step back and stood beside Jane respectfully. "Miss Fallon, this is the person in charge of the studio and Tom Cruise's manager, Leo Evan."

Leo Evan pushed on his glasses and looked at Jane with complicated eyes.

"Miss Fallon, just wanted to have a chance to do an exclusive interview with the best actor, but she is being stopped by your assistant. I saw it all just now!"

Manager Howard smiled, but his words were thrown at them like a stone.

"Mr. Evan, it doesn't matter if you don't want to arrange this exclusive interview with Tom. However, Fortress Media is affiliated to the Campbell Corporation. Every year, the Campbell Corporation allocates tens of billions of dollars to us for film and television development."

"I guess movie Emperor Tom Cruise's team doesn't care about such a small production, and they don't care about such a small investment."

"Then, for the next few new movies developed by Fortress, I won't consider cooperating with Cruise!"

Leo Evan became anxious when he heard this. He saw that Manager Howard was about to leave, and he respectfully extended his hand to let Jane walk in front...

He glared at the assistant and hurriedly chased after him.

"Manager Howard, stay!" Leo Evan smiled apologetically. "I'm really sorry, it's my fault! Did I offend Miss Fallon just now? Please don't remember the villain!"

"Miss Fallon," Manager Howard turned to Jane and bowed, "What do you think?"

Jane replied softly, "I just want to make an exclusive interview."

"This is no problem." Leo Evan said quickly, "I'll arrange it for you immediately!"

"That wouldn't do." Manager Howard laughed, "Some people say that this young lady is not worthy of interviewing Tom Cruise, and they even say that my lady needs to take a look at herself in the mirror and likened her to a fly that can't shake it off... You can't even say these words!"

Chapter 182

Leo Evan's expression changed. Beads of sweat appeared from his forehead.

The assistant was so frightened that she suddenly heard Leo Evan roar, "Come here!" Immediately, her legs went weak, and she could not even stand on the table, let alone walk in front of them.

"Leo... Director Leo... The little assistant looked pale as she stared at Jane in a daze. She would never have thought that the person who was mocking and being sarcastic to just now would have such a big background.

Even Manager Howard had to treat her with respect!

"What nonsense did you just say?" Leo Evan scolded.

"I, I didn't..."

"How dare you argue? Leo Evan glared at her fiercely. "What did Tom Cruise rely on to get to this point from nowhere? Even duo he became one of the best actor, he would never put on airs! He would never look down on people!"

"I didn't expect that there would be someone like you by his side! This is too dangerous..."

"Yeah." Manager Howard chuckled. "This is because we met Miss Fallon. If it were another reporter, I don't know what it would look like!"

Leo Evan broke out in a cold sweat.

Having worked with Tom Cruise in the entertainment industry for many years, he knew the power of the media.

These reporters can lift a person to the sky or throw a person into hell!

power

"Miss Fallon, I'm so sorry!" The arrogant and domineering assistant suddenly became humbler and walked up to Jane and bowed non-stop.

"It's me who's blind and sees people lowly! Miss Fallon, give me a chance to change over!"

"Even if I'm willing to give you a chance, I'm afraid Tom Cruise won't." Jane looked at her helplessly, "I'm really sorry, I'm not a saint, and I'm a little careful. I just want to finish my work well, and your words hurt people, it makes me very uncomfortable."

"So what should I do?" Jane turned to Leo Evan. "This is an internal matter of your studio. I don't want to interfere."

"Yes, yes!" Leo Evan wiped her sweat, "Miss Fallon, busy with your work first, you can leave these matters to me!"

"From now on, you don't have to go to work!" Leo Evan looked at the assistant in disgust.

"Wait a minute." Manager Howard stood up and said calmly, "Not yet, because a reporter has already entered, so the assistant still needs to invite that reporter out."

"This..." Leo Evan thought for a while, then immediately flipped through the information on the computer, and then his face became even more ugly.

"That reporter didn't make an appointment at all!" He pointed at his assistant and scolded.

"You actually arranged an interview for Tom Cruise without even having an interview outline! Do you want to ruin him and ruin our studio?"

The little assistant cried out of breath, begging for mercy.

"We can't have room for you here!" Leo Evan gave her a white look. "You can go in now and get that reporter out for me, and you can find a way for me to not leak a single word of today's interview! Otherwise! Just wait for the lawsuit!"

Jane successfully interviewed Tom Cruise.

Due to the adequate preparations in advance and her unique interview angle, this exclusive interview took place in a pleasant atmosphere, and before she knew it, an afternoon passed. After the interview, Jane put away the recording equipment and promised to hand it over to his manager after he finished writing the interview.

Tom Cruise politely sent her to the studio door and smiled as she watched her leave.

Jane was able to remain restrained at first, but when she confirmed that she was out of Tom Cruise's line of sight and walked into an alley where no one was around; she couldn't help but jump and dance with excitement!

This is the first time I've interviewed a big shot!

Her heart was pounding with excitement, and she pretended to be indifferent. In fact, her palms were sweating during the interview,

At this moment, she just wanted to shout a few times to express her excitement.

Before she could get too excited, she plunged into that familiar embrace.

Jane returned to her senses, and when she met his deep eyes, she couldn't help but smile.

Just now, she was still thinking that this interview was so successful. When the interview draft was released, it might cause a small stir, and she might have the opportunity to get a promotion and a raise.

And Mr. Campbell was the reason for her way to promotion!

She had big eyes and a bright smile. She tiptoed around his neck and kissed his face!

Dominic had originally come to "invite his teachers".

However, she was overwhelmed by the sudden enthusiasm and looked at her blankly.

"What's wrong with you?"

"What's the matter?" Jane's eyes widened, "Can't I kiss you?"

Dominic: "..."

"Why are you so serious?" She held his face in her hands and looked around. She smiled charmingly, "Are you here on pose to wait for me? Hehe.. But I want to go back to the company and work overtime to strike while the iron is hot. Organize the interview draft and show it to your manager before you publish it!"

"When I get the fee, I'll definitely thank you." She blushed slightly, and her voice gradually lowered, "However you want the thank you, I'll thank you. Everything is up to you."

Dominic was so fascinated by her shyness that he almost forgot why he was here to block her.

But then he came back to his senses, coughed twice, smiled, and became serious again.

"Don't be too busy to thank you." He said solemnly, "I have something to ask you."

"Huh? What's the matter?"

"I heard that Tom Cruise asked about the relationship between you and me?"

www.

Chapter 15

Jane rolled her eyes and recalled the interview process.

In order to lighten up the atmosphere, the reporters usually chatted with their interviewees.

It was when she was chatting with Tom Cruise that he asked this question.

Dominic said unsmilingly, "How did you answer?"

Jane stuck out her tongue, a smile on the corner of her mouth as she lowered her head and remained silent.

"You..."

Dominic said that he was suffering.

It wasn't too much of a stretch to think that his request was too much. Now that Tom Cruise had taken the initiative to ask, this girl did not say anything!

It was obvious that she did not want to admit it to him?

But even so, he could only stare at him. He was reluctant to fight and curse.

"You don't want others to know about my relationship with you?" When he asked this, his voice was low and a little lost.

Jane's heart tightened, and she softly pressed her hand towards his waist. She gently rested her head on his chest.

At that moment, he really wanted to have the guts to push her away!

However, his hands were on her shoulders, and in the next second, he held her even tighter.

His tone was even more aggrieved: "Someone said one night that we exchanged rings!"

Jane raised her eyes and saw his dark face and angry expression. She couldn't help but laugh out loud.

"You're still laughing?!" Dominic glared at her.

Chapter 183

Really, how could he be so fierce?

Jane looked at his black face that could squeeze out the ink and couldn't help but secretly complain.

Didn't this man have a good temper in the past, but recently, he has become more and more uncertain.

Jane pursed her lips, and her honeless body softly pressed against him, and bursts of sweet fragrance penetrated his nose.

Dominic's will gradually disintegrated, and his temper was gone.

She said softly, "Tom Cruise did ask about my relationship with you, because after all, it was Manager Howard who brought me in, and Manager Howard was your person.

Dominic muffled..

He was the one who asked Manager Howard to say that.

As a result, saying this could elevate Jane's identity and make the group of people in the studio dare not look down on her.

Secondly, it was also a hint of his relationship with Jane.

Tom Cruise had already become a celebrity. Of course, he would understand the advantages and disadvantages of this, so he would ask her questions during the interview.

But what did this little woman say?

"When he asked me, I didn't say anything..." Jane smiled embarrassedly, and then defended herself, "Although I didn't admit it, I didn't deny it either!"

"Oh," Dominic looked at her thoughtfully, "You didn't admit it or deny it?"

"Mmm!" Jane nodded, "I'll leave room for him to imagine!"

"You..."

Dominic's eyes widened again.

How could she have such a high sounding rhetoric! Leave room, imagine?

When Jane saw that something was wrong, she immediately acted coquettishly and hugged his arm and leaned beside him.

"I admit that I am a little vain. I don't want others to think that I relied on your face to invite Tom. Cruise for an exclusive interview."

She lowered her head and lowered her eyelids. She looked timid. From this angle, her delicate little face was particularly charming and charming.

Coupled with her soft and sweet voice...

Dominic's heart had already melted.

Then, a smile appeared on his cold face, and his big hand gently stroked her hair.

"However, I think it's not good for you to let Tom cruise know too much, so I won't say it!"

Dominic paused, and the corner of his mouth fell down again. He frowned slightly, "What do you mean?"

Jane showed a sly and playful look, and said softly, "You are very low-key in London. You can't be seen in the media. If you let Tom Cruise take this opportunity to get close to you, you can't keep a lowprofile even if you want to keep a low profile."

"..." Dominic could not refute.

For a long while, he squinted at her with a smile on his face.

"So, is it for my own good?"

"Mmm!" Jane nodded.

"But I'm not being recognized, and I still feel uncomfortable!" The man's face was serious again. Jane carefully observing his words and expressions, "Then how do I make you feel comfortable?"

Such a gentle question, paired with those big clear and innocent eyes, made Dominic's charming thoughts come alive again...

How can I be comfortable?

Of course, it was...the sauce was stuffed with....

The corner of Dominic's lips twitched, and there was a hint of tenderness in his deep eyes. He coughed lightly and whispered, "Buy me something."

Jane nodded and laughed. "Okay!" Anyway, she had promised to buy him a pair of leather shoes. "Let's buy the shoes later," he smirked. "I've set my eyes on a tie at DreamLand."

"Ah?" Jane's brain seemed to have been hit by something.

Dreamland or DL, is the premier shopping mall in Central City.

Not only was it magnificent and luxurious, but the decoration was dreamy, and the prices of the things inside were even more dreamy.

have the

In short, Jane passed by there several times, but she did not have the courage to go in and take a look.

"What's the matter?" Dominic raised his eyebrows. "You said that you would support me for the rest of their lives, but now you won't even buy a tie?"

"You..." How can you say that with a straight face!

Jane bit her lip. There was nothing she could do.

But did this man really have a vision, how could he be able to pinpoint her to pay her every time? She smiled and took out her salary card. The numbers inside were about to be warmed up...

"Well, it's not too bad." Dominic reached out to get it.

Jane suddenly tightened her fingertips, desperately holding onto the thin salary card, reluctant to let go.

Dominic couldn't hold back anymore. Before he could laugh, he pulled out his salary card with all his strength!

"Bring it!" He looked at her proudly and smiled, "You said you wanted to support me!"

"Dominic, can you be reasonable!" Jane felt wronged. "You're so rich, yet you still want me to support you?"

"Ugh..." Dominic suddenly covered his stomach and bent down, his expression a little painful. Jane was stunned and hurriedly asked him, "What's the matter with you?"

"I didn't tell you, I have a stomach problem?"

"No.

"It hurts a little now."

Jane's heart ached when she saw him in pain.

"How do you feel?" She nervously held his arm. "I'll call Henry and let him send you to the hospital!"

"No, I went to the hospital to see it."

"What did the doctor say?"

"The doctor said, I have to nourish my stomach." He looked at her and showed a smile that was not easy to detect.

Jane nodded seriously. This situation had to be taken care of.

"But there is a way to cure it."

Her eyes lit up. "What can I do?"

He laughed wickedly. "If you have a bad stomach, you have to eat soft rice!"

"Dominic!"

She knew that she had been fooled by him again, jumping to grab her salary card, but she could not match the man's height.

No matter how high she jumped, she was like a child in front of him. He held up her salary card with one hand and gently pressed her head with the other.

In the end, Jane jumped with all her strength-

"Mmm"

Dominic took the opportunity to hug her, bent over, and deeply kissed her lips.

Jane's heart was pounding for a while. When he let go of her, she stared at his deep eyes.

"Mmm, it's very soft." He laughed happily, "It's still very fragrant..."

Jane blushed, and glared at him fiercely.

"Soft rice is really delicious. I need to eat more!"

Henry waited outside the alley for a long time.

The company's phone calls to Dominic came one after another, but he could only be anxious, not daring to disturb the boss's good deeds.

Finally, the two of them come out. However, when he looked at them, one smiled contentedly and the other lowered her head with red cheeks... Henry coughed twice and looked away.

Anyone could tell what had just happened.

"Uh, Master." Henry handed him the phone. "It's basically from the company, but there are two international calls, it should be from Manchester..."

"My mother?" Dominic frowned.

This was not a regular time for him to contact his mother, so why would he call at this time?

Chapter 184

Dominic calmed down and instructed Henry to send Jane back to the company first.

After returning to his Condominium, he dialed the number in England.

It was early in the morning and the phone was a little noisy. Deinie McLore must have started a busy day.

"Mom." Dominic called out respectfully, "Are you looking for me?"

"Well, I'm at the airport now." Deinie said indifferently, "In ten hours, you can send someone to pick me up.

"What?" He was startled.

"What's the matter, am i not welcome?"

"Of course not." Dominic quickly calmed down.

Since his parents divorced, her mother seldom came to London. This was not where she had grown up, and she also had bad memories of her ex-husband's family. Although she had relatives here, with Deinie's temperament, she would never compromise because of her son. Therefore, from childhood to adulthood, Dominic went to the UK more often.

Perhaps there was only one reason why his mother suddenly came to London.

Dominic narrowed his eyes, took a deep breath, and asked straight to the point, "Mom, are you here for my business?"

"oh, so you know all about it?" Deinie laughed twice, "That old Edward said, if I don't come, I wouldn't even know if I have a grandson!"

Dominic sneered, "I knew that Second Uncle was stirring things in front of you!"

"Mom, you don't know who second Uncle is? How can you listen to him?"

"But you do have a woman, don't you?"

Deinie's voice was calm and unhurried. Every word was sound.

Dominic tightened his fingers on the phone.

"Mom, I didn't plan to hide this from you." He said solemnly, "I do love her very much, but there was a bit of a misunderstanding between us some time ago. She went to see you in the UK, but she didn't expect Second Uncle to be so rude, so he'll let you know so quickly."

"Dominic," Deinie was silent for a moment, and then said earnestly, "Although I don't get along with people from the Campbell family, and I'm no longer the daughter-in-law of the Campbell family, but on your marriage issue, my views and your grandfather agree..."

"You guys need to be the right match!"

"Mom! Dominic growled.

"Don't forget, your marriage is not only related to the Campbell family, but also to our McLore family! Deinie raised her voice.

"It's time for me to get on the plane. If I have anything else to say, I'll wait until I get to London. And...." She paused. "The most important thing for me to go to London is to meet this Miss Fallon. Dominic, make arrangements, the sooner the better!"

With that, she hung up the phone.

Chapter 181

Dominic frowned, a haze flashed across his eyes.

15

Kate and Aaron officially settled in London. Jane was very happy now.

Their new home was also on the outskirts of London, very close to the Campbell Family Manor. On the first day after settling in, the two invited Jane and Dominic to their new home.

They set up an oven rack in the backyard. Jane marinated the meat and slowly skewered it. Aaron and Dominic were in charge of grilling, and Kate was in charge of preparing beer and drinks.

They had not seen each other for a long time, chatting and laughing until the sun went down.

"Stop for a moment! I have an important announcement to announce!" Aaron raised his wine glass and was beaming.

"We are getting married!"

Jane looked at her with wide eyes.

Kate's face turned red as she smiled gently.

Dominic looked at the two of them. "Aaron, you've just established a firm foothold in London. You still have a lot of relationships to manage. You must be very busy now. ?"

"No, I can't wait!" Aaron laughed. "If we wait any longer, we'll even do it together with the child's full month celebration together!"

"What?" Jane and Dominic were even more surprised.

Kate personally confirmed: "I am indeed pregnant, it's just two months."

Jane was excited and thrilled as she watched around her.

Her figure had not changed at all. She was still tall and slender. Who would have known that she already had a baby in her womb!

"Kate, why didn't you tell me earlier!"

"They said that the first three months were unstable, so you can't publicize it!" Kate smiled.

"But it's not too late for you to know now. Anyway, you're my child's godmother. You can't run away!"

"Who's running away? I still have to prepare a big gift for my godson!"

"How do you know it's a son? I want a daughter!"

The two women laughed together as they ate and looked forward to the baby's future.

Dominic's eyes dimmed for a while. He walked not far away and opened another can of beer. "Hey," someone suddenly patted him on the shoulder, "What's wrong? Are you unhappy about having a godson?"

He turned around and saw that Aaron was slightly drunk as he smiled stupidly at him.

"Of course I'm happy." Dominic said in a low voice, "Congratulations! You and Kate have finally reached this point."

Aaron also opened a can of beer, touched him, and drank most of it.

"If you're close to me in London, it's like being against Kevin." Dominic looked at him, "Be careful yourself. After all, you're going to be a father.

"Yeah, I know." Aaron chuckled, "Kevin has a lot of tricks, but brother, I was trained by tricks! So don't worry."

Me Husband In A Se

"Just say anything if you need my help."

"Well...it really exists!" Aaron frowned.

His career was basically on the right track, and now he was in the entertainment industry. Abbey Entertainment was born in London had quickly signed many top-tier actors and actresses, as well as popular idols...

It was rumored to have connections in both the legitimate and illegitimate business realms, with a formidable background. As a result, everyone in the industry who had a bit of status crowded their heads and wanted to sign with Abbey Entertainment.

There was only one exception, Tom Cruise.

Aaron saw the commercial value in signing Tom Cruise and had tried to negotiate with him several times. His agent had been very accommodating, but Tom Cruise remained adamant, refusing to make a decision.

"The company is going to hold a banquet. This is my first time appearing in London." Aaron whispered, "Tom Cruise has a certain position in the entertainment industry after all. If he can come, my company's stock price will definitely rise!"

Dominic frowned, why was it Tom Cruise again!

The last time Jane interviewed Tom Cruise, he still had pus in his heart.

"Can't you choose someone?" He glanced at Aaron, "Didn't you sign so many top actors?"

"But who has Tom Cruise's outstanding achievements?"

Dominic's face was calm and he did not say anything.

After a while, Aaron suddenly reacted. He leaned over and asked him with a smile, "Do you seem to have a problem with him?"

"Heh..." He looked back at Jane and continued to laugh. "Could it be that your little rabbit has caught the attention of the actor?"

Chapter 185

Dominic glared at him and said coldly, "Shut up if you don't know what to say!"

Aaron opened his mouth and laughed, but he couldn't close it at all.

For some reason, Dominic had a natural antagonistic relationship with that Tom Cruise. In fact, he couldn't say that.

"Alright, alright!" Aaron patted him on the shoulder. "Jane only interviewed him once. It's just work. You don't want to be so petty, right?"

"I don't." He stubbornly took a swig of beer.

"It's written all over your face, and you said no!" Aaron chuckled. "Can you help me get Tom Cruise over? I'll let him make a fool of himself at the banquet!"

This time, Dominic's expression looked a little better. The two men looked at each other and smiled, slightly.

"Am I that petty?" Dominic dropped these words, turned around and took out his phone, and called ' Manager Howard.

"Find a way to invite Tom Cruise and invite him to President Lu's banquet. Be polite!"

Aaron: "..."

"His a famous actor anyway, don't let him embarrass himself in public."

Dominic looked at him with a smile and said. "You might as well take this opportunity to have a good chat with him, it's best to sign it!"

"Huh, after signing it, I will slowly torture him in the future?"

Dominic glanced at him. "I don't have any grudges against him. Why should I torture him? I'm thinking of you and let Tom Cruise play hard to make money for you in the future! Your company will grow and grow!"

Aaron pouted and laughed.

Make Tom Cruise make money with all his effort? Does he still have a chance to be interviewed?

Without the interview schedule, Jane would not be able to see him.

In the end, Dominic's power was still much greater!

The banquet held by Abbey Entertainment Company was huge. In addition to the majority of the entertainment industry, there were many well-known figures from the business and political circles.

And Tom Cruise's appearance surprised many people.

"Tom Cruise is actually here? It's unbelievable!"

"Didn't

they say that Aaron Wilson invited him several times, but Tom Cruise didn't give him face?"

"Heh, no matter how good Tom Cruise is, he's still just an actor! Who is Aaron Wilson? He used to be an underworld boss, but can Tom Cruise compete with him?"

As everyone was chatting, Aaron and Tom Cruise shook hands and took a group photo.

Both of them had polite smiles on their faces. Although they looked alienated, this scene was still talked about by many people.

The media even started to write a draft on the spot, saying that the next step was to sign with Abbey→

Jane entered the banquet hall as a reporter, but when she saw that the editor-in-chief was also following the trends he could not help frowning and gently tugging at him.

"What?" The editor-in-chief kept his eyes on the computer screen, his two fat hands flying over the keyboard as if he had been charmed.

"There's no basis for it. It's not good to write it like this!" Jane said bluntly.

"What do you know!" The editor-in-chief snorted, "Everyone writes like this, but our company doesn't write it. At that time, there will be no clicks and no traffic. Will you take responsible for that?"

"But," Jane was embarrassed. "What if Tom Cruise doesn't sign with Abbey Entertainment?"

"How is that possible!" The editor-in-chief looked at her with disdain. "Jane, you have interviewed Tom Cruise. Do you think this actor is the kind of person who doesn't understand current affairs?"

Jane thought for a while, and then shook her head gently.

"That's right!" The chief editor said, "Tom Cruise has come this far because he has a good eye for discerning the situation! Aaron Wilson has connections in both the legitimate and illegitimate world. If Tom Cruise doesn't try to curry favor with him, does he want to be destroyed by Aaron Wilson

"Jane was speechless. She sighed and turned to sit in the side hall.

She remembered that Dominic had said that he would come today too.

But because there were too many media here, and Dominic didn't like to appear in front of the media, he came a little later.

Jane found a comfortable sofa to lean on. She wanted to rest here for a while, but she saw a person sitting at the table not far away, playing cards.

She calmed down and saw clearly that that person was....

Tom Cruise?

Why was he here!

Just as she was stunned, Tom Cruise also noticed her and smiled at her, then walked over and sat down beside her.

"Hello!" Jane sat up straight, feeling a little cramped.

Tom Cruise had a pleasant fragrance on his body, and with his delicate and distinct facial features, it even further highlighted his temperament.

"Hello." Tom Cruise greeted her with a smile. "I didn't expect to meet you here. Are you here for an interview today?"

"Mmm." Ja

nodded.

The two of them were speechless. Tom Cruise smiled and continued to focus on the cards, playing directly on the coffee table in front of her.

Jane was stunned when he saw the pattern on the back of the deck of cards.

"You...you know how to play this?"

Tom Cruise looked at her. "What, you can too?"

"This kind of card is called the Silo, right?" Jane chuckled, "I can't play it, but my mother can!"

Tom Cruise's expression changed and she paused.

"My mother is very good at this kind of card. No one is her opponent! But I saw that she was playing with others..."

Chapter 185

"Silo can be played by multiple people or alone." Tom Cruise became interested. "Your mother actually knows how to play this kind of card. I wonder where she is from?"

Jane was startled. Ever since she was young, she didn't seem to know where her mother's hometown was.

Tom Cruise misunderstood her silence as another meaning. He quickly apologized, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to inquire about your privacy. I was just curious..."

"There aren't many people who can play Silo cards. This kind of card came from Germany, and I'm from Manchester."

Tom Cruise chuckled, "The port city is very close to Germany, and its culture is also influenced by Germany, so I have been playing this since I was a child."

Jane nodded and smiled. "Then you're very smart. I've been learning it since I was a child, but I've never been able to learn it. The way this card is played is so unique, and there are so many rules, I can't remember it!"

"There are many rules, but there are rules to follow."

Tom Cruise looked at her and drew a few cards into her hand.

Jane wanted to refuse.

However, when Tom Cruise gave her the card, he gently shook her hand. She was stunned and looked up to meet his gentle eyes.

The corner of his mouth rose just right, charming.

Jane was a little flustered. He quickly pulled out his hand and looked away.

"Anyway, if you're idle, you're idle," Tom Cruise said softly. "Otherwise, I'll teach you how to play cards."

"Mr. Cruise." Jane looked at him. "Aren't you going to the banquet hall? You're one of the protagonists today!"

"It's enough to have Mr. Wilson over there." Tom Cruise smiled, looked at the card in her hand, and drew a card. "You play this first, and then I'll tell you what to do next!"

Jane did as he said, step by step.

His explanation was different from his mother's, but after explaining it in simple terms, she was actually a little enlightened.

"So, should this be released now?" Jane tentatively put it down.

"Correct!" Tom Cruise nodded approvingly.

Jane became more and more brave, thinking hard about how to take the next step.

But at this moment, the door of the side hall suddenly opened...

My Husband Is A Secret Billionaire

Chapter 186

Dominic slowly paced in under the gaze of several celebrities,

The stars were just resting here for a while, but they didn't expect to see Tom Cruise playing cards with a woman

A few people were whispering at the door. It was not until Dominic appeared that they felt that the place was enveloped by a strong low pressure, and the stuffy people couldn't breathe.

Dominic's expression was cold, and the smile did not reach his eyes.

"Jane, there's something wrong with this card." With a low voice, he walked over to Jane and pulled out another card from her hand. "This should be out!"

Jane was stunned for a moment, then laughed, and changed back to the little woman whose eyes were filled of him.

Dominic patted her hair.

The scene of intimacy fell in the eyes of others, making people speculate about their relationship. Tom Cruise frowned. The celebrities at the door also looked at each other and remained silent. Aaron rushed over. When he saw the situation, he instantly understood everything.

"The Third Young Master is here." He stepped forward and patted Dominic, "If you don't like the fun, I will let the Third Master arrange a private room alone!*

"And you, Mr. Cruise, I have been looking for you everywhere. It's not good for you to be absent from the front. Next, I want to talk to Mr. Cruise about the specific cooperation!"

With that. Aaron wanted to go out.

No matter what happened here, he couldn't be allowed Dominic to stay with Tom anymore. However, before he could act, something big happened.

"Film Emperor Tom is very good at playing cards, and he's very good at being a teacher."

Dothinic half-smiled, "Actually, I can play this kind of poker too. I wonder if Film Emperor Tom would like to come play with me?"

"Hey, Dominic!" Aaron frowned, winking desperately.

Today is a good day for Abbey Entertainment. Does this vinegar vat want to ruin him?

"I'm just going to discuss with the actor, why are you nervous?" Dominic squinted at him.

"...Aaron tugged on his tie, speechless.

"It's my honor to be able to learn from Third Master Campbell. Tom did his part and sat at the table with a smile, He shuffled the cards and made a gesture of invitation.

Dominic's expression darkened as he strode over.

At a longtable, the two of them sat face to face, and the atmosphere was extremely stiff.

"I heard that the Silo card was originally played by gamblers in Germany." Dominic scoffed, "Does Movie Emperor Tom wants to gamble?"

Tom paused and smiled. "Of course. What are you betting on?"

"Let's bet on a role." Dominic calmly said, "Fortress Media has two big productions recently. If you win, these two leading roles will be given to you!"

The few celebrities who were watching couldn't help but let out a low cry.

15:54

Fortress's two big productions had spread throughout the entertainment industry as early as half a year ago.

But Dominic was now a gamble, and he had decided on the male lead....

"I don't think that female reporter is easy!" Someone whispered, "It's just seeing her playing cards with Tom Cruise that Dominic Wilson is so out of control!"

The others followed suit.

Everyone had been in the entertainment industry before, and they understood the relationship between people. They could see through it at a glance.

"Cough!" Aaron reminded them to shut up, then a sharp look.

Jane was afraid that things would get bigger, so she walked to Dominic's side and quietly tugged at his sleeve.

"Play your cards." Dominic smiled.

Tom sorted out the cards in front of her and played the first card.

The air seemed to freeze, and the room was silent, only the sound of his heartbeat could be heard.

Minute by minute, Dominic was calm, and Tom's face was expressionless.

However, under the calm surface, the fighting at the poker table was extremely fierce.

In the end, everyone had only three cards left.

Dominic smiled lightly. He had already calculated the number of his opponent's cards.

However, she did not expect Tom to take a dangerous move!

"Emperor Tom," Dominic looked up at him, "This step is very risky. I advise you to be cautious."

"It doesn't matter." Tom smiled. "Rich and noble are at risk. In order to get the role, I am willing to take this risk."

"Heh," Dominic pursed his lips, "Wealth is at risk? You're right, but you can score points. Not all wealth can be obtained from risk!"

Just when Tom thought he was in a position to win, Dominic showed him the card that made him dumbfounded...

Then two more and finally one.

All of Dominic's cards were shown, and he also won the points.

Tom Cruise frowned.

ww

"Mr. Tom is very talented," Dominic chuckled and lowered his voice, "But if you use your talent in the wrong place, it will become a ticking time bomb. It would be a pity that it would disappear one day!"

"What do you mean?" Tom narrowed her eyes.

Dominic pushed all the cards on the table in front of him. The Silo cards were scattered like a huge fan.

Dominic's strong aura made everyone dare not act rashly in front of him.

He wrapped his arms around Jane and looked at Tom with a sneer.

"It means, don't take the dangerous tricks you shouldn't take, and don't covet the dangers you shouldn't take."

"Don't think about people who shouldn't be coveted!"

Tom's eyes darkened. just as he was about to say something. Dominic had already hugged Jane and left.

Aaron followed and instructed his men to take care of him.

It took a while before a few celebrities dared to discuss, "Dominic Campbell is so strong aura...I didn't even dare to move just now!"

"That's right! But what's wrong with that female reporter?"

"Dominic Campbell is angry at Tom Cruise, it must be his confidante!"

"Did he just warn Tom Cruise not to touch his woman?"

Tom took a deep breath and stared in a daze as Dominic and Jane left. He froze in place for a long time.

Dominic was speechless from the moment he walked out of the hotel

Although he had been holding her hand, she could still feel the warmth from his palm, yet her heart was still beating wildly

Jane couldn't help but wonder why he acted the way he did just now.

Why did he have to gamble with Tom Cruise? Why would you say those words?

Also, why...he seemed to be angry?

Of course, the last question was the most important.

Jane suddenly stopped. Dominic was startled and looked back at her.

She walked forward and cupped his face with her two little hands. Her voice was soft and tender, "Are you.... angry?"

Dominic looked at her quietly, his eyes deep.

He was really angry. He heard the celebrities talking at the entrance of the side hall. Then he saw that she was playing cards with Tom Cruise and laughing.

Of course, he believed that she could not have anything with Tom Cruise.

But he was just uncomfortable!

But when he heard her soft voice...

He turned around and smiled at her. He said warmly, "Don't think nonsense. I'm not angry,"

"But I don't think you look good."

"Well, it's just a little..." He thought for a while, "Stomach pain."

Jane was startled, and then laughed. He smiled too, hugged her, and kissed her forehead and nose.

"You don't have to go home so early, do you?" he asked in her ear, "Now is there anything you want to do the most?"

000

Chapter 187

"Is there anything you want to do most?" His warm lips pressed against her ear, and he said these very tempting words in a low, hoarse voice.

Jane's heart seemed to skip a beat, and his cheeks suddenly turned red.

She leaned softly in front of him.

"What I want to do the most right now is to hold you like this."

Dominic was stunned, and his heart burst into joy.

He knew that women were prone to shyness, so that matter had to be taken slowly

So he gradually enlightened: "After hugging, what else do you want to do?"

"Huh?" Jane raised his eyes. There was a hint of confusion in his big, simple eyes.

"Think about what we used to do." He gently touched her small face and smiled. "In our home... where did you hug me?"

Jane obviously ignored him and deliberately said, "Oh, before, didn't we often hug you on the balcony? After I've finished hugging you like this, we can watch the stars together!

"By the way, Dominic," she laughed. "I really want to watch the stars now. Can you accompany me?"

Although the man was extremely reluctant, he still tried to hook the corner of his lips.

"Okay, look at the stars." His voice was dozing.

Jane secretly smiled, revealing the cunning of a little fox.

However, she looked up and saw that the weather tonight was not very good. It was foggy and a little cold.

I probably won't be able to see it...

Jane looked at him in disappointment and forced a smile. "Last time, you were in London and I was in Cardiff. You sent me a video. I saw that the starry sky here is very beautiful."

"Don't worry." His eyes were gentle. The starry sky tonight will also be beautiful"

"But..."

"Come with me." He held her hand. "I'll let you see the stars!"

Jane was stunned, then he pulled him into the car. He followed the road by the sea to the east until he arrived at the Campbell family's private sea.

Jane followed him down, stepping on the soft sand.

Dominic took off his coat and put it on her, letting her look at the sky in the distance.

"There's nothing..." She opened her eyes and saw nothing but pitch darkness.

Dominic smiled lightly, "Look carefully."

"You're not kidding me, are you?"

"Who's kidding you?" He smiled and said endlessly.

Jane looked at it again. Suddenly, many bright spots appeared in the sky. She was stunned, only to see the spots of light quickly moving towards them.

"This is..."

When he got closer, she saw that it was actually hundreds of drones!

The drone lit up the night sky with light, really like the bright stars inlaid in the dark blue dome. Jane lost her mind for a moment, held her breath, and stared at the sky.

Dominic looked at her and laughed lightly.

Then hundreds of drones displayed a huge heart in the night sky. It didn't take long for the love to become LOVE again....

This scene was like a dream, making Jane feel extremely unreal.

"Dominic," she whispered to him, "This..."

"I said, I will definitely let you see the stars."

She was both excited and moved. Suddenly, she did not know what to say. A pair of clear and bright eyes looked at him quietly, and there was a mist of water inside.

"Dominic..." She only called out his name and did not say more. She was afraid that she would cry too much.

"Don't be too busy to be touched yet." He smiled and whispered in her ear, "Close your eyes."

Jane did so.

She felt him turn her small hand over, palm up, as if something had fallen in her hand, When she opened her eyes, she suddenly found a necklace in her palm.

Precious Kashmir sapphires were carved into the shapes of stars and moons and hung on a platinum chain.

"Jane," his voice was low and gentle, "I took off the stars and the moon and gave them to you." "What about you? Will you marry me? We'll never be separated, okay?"

Jane pursed his lips and tears welled up in his eyes. Dominic held her in his arms and gently stroked her hair.

"You don't have to answer me now," he said thoughtfully. "I'll give you time. Just remember that I'll always be here waiting for you."

Jane nodded and leaned against his chest, crying like a little fool.

"Dominic."

"Huh?"

"Actually, I can answer you right now..."

Dominic's heart suddenly swayed as he listened quietly.

"I do need a little time to prepare my dowry."

She looked up at him and smiled sincerely.

"I also need some time to look at the world. I hope that when I marry you in the future, I can stand by your side and be as good as you."

"So...stand where you are and don't move, okay? I'll come over one day!"

"Yes!" He looked into her eyes and solemnly agreed.

The two of them looked at each other and smiled. The drone in the night sky changed with colorful lights, illuminating the sea and the sky.

Even if there was a lot of fog ahead, he could still pluck the stars out of the sky for her. And she would stand by his side proudly and let the world know that she was worthy.

As soon as Deinie arrived in London, butler Sebastian picked her up all the way to Condominium. She came back this time with mixed feelings. She did not want to enter the Campbell family's manor. Even if the residence was far away from the old mansion, but she couldn't be sure when she might run into Alex Campbell and Sarah Hastings Campbell.

If she met them, it would be awkward and better to avoid such situations.

But if she didn't come to Condominium, she really couldn't be assured about Dominic.

And that woman surnamed Jane... What kind of person was she who had tempted her son to give up the Campbell family?

Deinie took a deep breath and lowered the car window to blow in the wind outside.

Soon the car stopped at the entrance of Condominium.

"Ms. McLore," Sebastian said respectfully. "The room on Third Young Master's side has been cleaned several times, and it has been changed into a style that you like. I'll help you carry the suitcase up."

"Let the servants do these things." Deinie took off her sunglasses and said indifferently.

"Butler Sebastian, you have always been kind to him since he was a child. I thank you very much."

"Whatever Ms. McLore said, this is what I should do."

"It's just that I don't understand this child." She paused. "No one can persuade him to do anything!" Butler Sebastian frowned, "What is Mrs. McLore referring to?"

Deinie did not say anything. She looked around and suddenly saw an ordinary car parked in the garden.

She was puzzled, "Sebastian, that car..."

"Oh, the car Third Young Master came back from Cardiff."

"Cardiff?" Deinie guessed a few points and smiled coldly.

In the Campbell family, even the lowest-level long-term workers were unwilling to take a second look at this kind of car!

But this car would definitely attract attention when it was placed in Condominium. If Edward and Kevin saw it, who knew how they would mock him!

"Butler Sebastian," Deinie thought for a while, then smiled, "How are your Second Master Campbell and Eldest Young Master?"

Chapter 188

Butler Sebastian spoke and acted in a measured manner. He did not hide anything from her, but he did not say too much.

Deinie thought about her son's situation in the Campbell family, and decided not to go to court first, but to beat Kevin.

"Butler Sebastian," she chuckled. "I'm here very rarely. I have a gift for Eldest Young Master. Please, Butler Sebastian, take me to Blue Haven Estates first!"

At this time, in Blue Haven Estates, Kevin was leaning on the sofa and cursing Dominic because of his father's dismissal.

Fiona picked up the clothes on the ground one by one and secretly looked in the mirror. She knew that in Kevin's eyes, she was someone who could just come and go, but she did not dare to mess with Kevin.

First, she was intimidated by the Campbell family's power. Second, she still fantasized about being able to enter the Campbell family's door openly one day. Even if Kevin was not a good husband, as long as she had the title of Mrs. Campbell, it would be enough.

So she obediently walked over and knelt beside him, lifting his leg and gently rubbing it.

"Eldest Young Master, didn't it make you happy just now?" She deliberately twisted.

Kevin glanced at her, a little impatient.

He glanced at her, feeling impatient. He initially got involved with her out of curiosity, and later, he found her to be obedient and decent in bed, so he decided to keep her around.

However, she now refused to leave!

Who would have thought that this woman would be so reluctant to leave!

Not only did she not leave, she also repeatedly made excessive demands... The last time she was in the mood, she suddenly asked, "When will you marry me?" Kevin was over.

After that time, he seemed to have an obstacle.

Kevin angrily punched the sofa, his already thin face looking pale and cold.

Fiona was frightened and could not understand his temper, but she could clearly see the evil in his eyes.

"Eldest Young Master." She asked with a trembling voice, "What happened?"

Kevin looked at her coldly, and suddenly stood up and kicked her over. All the anger was poured on her!

"How the hell do you dare to ask what happened to me?" He gritted his teeth, "If you hadn't pretended to be Jane and got into my bed, I would have stepped on Dominic's head now!"

Fiona was afraid and retreated again and again, looking terrified.

"You bastard, Dominic!" he scolded.

"Master..."

"Get out of here!"

Fiona was trembling, but she was unwilling and left.

Chipre Lis

"Eldest Young Master, listen to me!" Her heart was pounding. "It's not difficult for you to deal with Jane. It's not difficult for Dominic to make a fool of himself! I have a way!"

"You?" Kevin raised his eyebrows.

Fiona nodded vigorously and said each word, "Isn't that Dan Murphy's stin your hands?"

"In the past, the Jiang family and the Murphy family had a marriage contract. Jane was originally married to Dan Murphy!"

"Campbell!" Kevin scoffed, "Is Jane marrying, or are you marrying?"

"This..." Fiona stuttered, "Anyway, Dan Murphy's wife is Jane!"

"Really?"

Kevin bit his lip, and put his hands in his trousers pockets, looking down at her, "I heard that Dominic found the person who registered their marriage back then. That person said that he received David Fallon's money and did not dare do anything. But he didn't dare to break the law, so he made two fake marriage certificates!"

"So Jane has nothing to do with Dan Murphy!" He squinted at her, "You bitch doesn't have any good ideas!"

"Even if it doesn't matter, only we know about this!" Fiona shouted.

Kevin was stunned. "What do you mean?"

"The people outside don't know that Jane and Dan Murphy have nothing to do with them. Young Master, let's spread this out and say that your family is entangled with a married woman. How would you react?"

"Well..."

Kevin was still a little hesitant. Dominic's reputation was ruined, and if his grandfather lost his temper, he would definitely implicate others. What if the time came to find out about him again!

"Master," Fiona pursed her lips, "Your old man can control the Campbell family, but can he control everyone online? He has no choice but to say what people on the Internet want to say!!

"And I understand Jane's temperament. She cherishes her reputation." Fiona smiled sinisterly. "She definitely can't stand it!"

"Mmm," Kevin thought for a while, and the corner of his lips ticked, "Maybe this is a good idea!"

A lie told a thousand times before it became true.

Could it be that Jane and Dominic had to explain to each other on the Internet?
Heh, even if he couldn't defeat Dominic, it would still be good for him to suffer!
"I didn't expect that!" He pinched Flona's chin and slapped her twice with his other hand.
"You're not just thinking about water, there's something else on your mind!"

Γα

was in pain from being pinched by him, but she still had to laugh.

"Take this money first." Dominic threw a card over, "It's not enough, then tell me."

"Thank you, Master!"

"And this." He took out another necklace and squinted at her for a while. "Fiona, if you do well, it's not impossible to replace this chain with a ring!"

Fiona was overjoyed, and when she was so excited, she almost knelt down for him.

15:59

"In short, our goals are the same!" Kevin smiled, "It's just to make it difficult for that b astard Dominic!TM

"Yes, Eldest Young Master!"

"Then make a good plan and let that kid know how good I am!"

At this moment, there was a commotion outside the living room. Deinie 's high heels stepped on the ground with a sonorous voice, and she walked in as if the wind was blowing under her feet!

The bodyguards wanted to stop them, but they did not dare to stop them, so they could only watch. her break in.

However, the moment she broke in, she heard Kevin scolding Dominic like a b astard, and wanted to make him feel bad?!

oh.

do

you really think Dominic has no mother?

Deinke took off her suit jacket and rolled up her shirt sleeves as if she wanted to work hard!

Kevin was dumbfounded and shouted at the bodyguard, "Are you guys dead? How did you let her in!"

"I'm here to see my nephew. I've brought some gifts!" Deinie's smile made people shudder. Fiona had never seen such an aura of a woman before. She froze in place and did not dare to breathe.

The corner of Deinie's lips curled into a smile. As she walked in, she picked up the golf club beside her.

"I overheard the conversation between my nephew and this young lady at the door just now." She said bluntly, "I don't know how you two are planning to let my son know how good you are?"

Kevin signaled for the bodyguards to get her out.

However, as soon as the bodyguards gathered around, they were forced back by Deenie's gaze. This was no ordinary woman. The McLoire family had a very high status, and they controlled the British consortium. If Deenie was hurt, things would get worse...

"Oh, Auntie," Kevin deliberately said, "Oh, no, it's my ex-aunt!

Isn't my son going to be bullied by you?"

"I'm not that good. Isn't my

Kevin snorted coldly and casually sat on the sofa. "You know, it's your son who bullies me in the boardroom! I wanted to take revenge and sleep with his woman, but instead..."

"What did you say?" Deenie was startled and raised her voice.

She then turned to Fiona.

Fiona was so frightened that she did not dare to move.

"You..." Deenie bit every word. "Could it be that your surname is Jane? Are you that Miss Fallon?"

(0)

Chapter 189

Fiona could not move, her mind went blank.

In front of Deenie, she looked like a mouse and a cat. She nodded blankly, not knowing what she had said, "1...my name is Jane, I."

"Huh, Miss Fallon?" Deenie sneered, "You're really good enough to confuse my son while looking up with Kevin!"

"What?" Kevin raised his eyebrows and laughed dryly. "Auntie, are you mistaken? This bitch has been following me; don't even think about your son!"

"Shut up!"

Deenie was so angry that she picked up her golf club and smashed it at Kevin!

Kevin didn't expect her to be serious. He didn't have time to dodge.

"Damn it! You old woman dare to hit me..."

"Ah!"

In the end, she got hit on the head again!

Deenie was a master of taekwondo when she was young. Even if she was old, it would be easy to deal with Kevin.

She remembered what the two of them had planned on Dominic just now, and her heart was furious. Not only did they hit Kevin, but they also swung at Fiona. Fiona was dumbfounded, and the golf club was heavily slapped on her shoulder. He knelt on the ground and grinned.

"Shameless bastards! How dare you plot against my son behind his back!"

"Don't even look at who this old lady is!"

Deinie's blood boiled and she was full of aura.

The bodyguards were usually angry with Kevin and complained about him. They stood guard at the door, pretending that they could not hear what was going on inside.

Kevin's scolding, Fiona's crying, and the smashing of various precious ornaments could be heard from the living room.

The bodyguards looked at each other and continued to guard the door.

It was not until Delnie was finished that the bodyguards symbolically ran in to stop her, and then they respectfully invited her out, and some people held her handbag and coat.

Delnie straightened her clothes and looked at the two of them with a bruised nose and a swollen face.

She threw her golf club to the ground and mocked, "Kevin, don't think I don't know what you're doing in London! Although I've already divorced Alex, if you dare to mess with my son, I'll hit you once I see you, until you die!"

Kevin covered his swollen face and lost a tooth. He pointed at Deinie and mumbled something.

Fiona hid under the table and shivered, her body covered with bruises.

Deinie glanced at her and gritted her teeth: "I really did not expect that you would dare to betray Dominic! A woman like you is not worth his sacrifice. From now on, you will never want to appear in front of him!"

After she finished speaking, she strode out of Blue Haven Estates.

The bodyguard escorted her all the way outside the gate.

The living room was a mess.

Fiona was even more confused. She did not know when she had offended this female Hades!

"Fuck me!" Kevin finally shouted out a clearer sentence, "Fuck, since I met you, I haven't had a good day!"

After Deinie's venting her anger, she felt a lot more comfortable. Butler Sebastian hurriedly approached her. She smiled and told him directly, "I beat up Kevin."

Butler Sebastian was startled.

"If Mr. Campbell asks, tell the truth. 1, Delnie, did it! Don't implicate others!" Butler Sebastian didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

The third young master's temperament was 100% inherited from the Fu family.

"Mr. Fu," Butler Sebastian said respectfully, "Do you know how to do it now?" "Go back."

"Mrs. and Miss Linda are also here..."

Deinie's eyebrows tightened, but she quickly returned to her indifferent expression.

It's been a long time since it happened. Let it go.

She smiled lightly, nodded at Butler Sebastian, and got into the car neatly.

When they returned to Condominium, the moment they entered the living room, they saw two people sitting on the sofa.

Linda hurriedly stood up, stunned for a moment, and timidly called her, "Hello, Auntie..."

Deinie was indifferent, and her eyes turned to Sarah.

Sarah put down the teacup and smiled as she stood up to greet her, "Sister Deinie, long time no see!" "It's been a long time." Deinie looked at her up and down. "The last time we met was when I divorced Alex, right?"

Sarali's smile froze, and after a long while, she forced herself to tug at the corner of her mouth and said, "Sister Deinic, what happened back then was actually...Oh, when I met Alex, I didn't know that he was arguing for a divorce with you."

"I'm straight. What are you talking about?" Sarah coughed lightly. "If I knew that he was not divorced at that time, I would definitely not have dated him! But Alex didn't say anything to me, causing me to bear the blame. It's been so many years!"

"Yes." Deinde gritted her teeth and whispered, "So... Whoever marries him will be unlucky!"

"Oh, Sister Deinie," Sarah was excited. "We finally have a consensus on this!"

Linda smiled awkwardly and winked at his mother.

"Oh, that's right... Sarah immediately dialed the channel back. "I'm here to find you today. Um... Dominic has a sweetheart. Her name is..."

"Isn't that Miss Fallon? Deinie said solemnly, "I've already met!"

"What?" Sarah's eyes widened.

"Oli, that woman is pretentious and has no shame!" Deinie was very angry when she mentioned it

15:59

"What kind of sin is wrong with Dominic? To be dazzled by this kind of woman!"

Sarah was speechless for a while, but now it was her turn to feel dizzy.

"Sister Deinic," she asked tentatively, "You you met Jane? Are you sure?"

it's Jane!" Deinie glanced at her. "Sarah, do you think I'm too old to even recognize people?"

"Oh, you didn't know people well when you were young. Otherwise, you wouldn't be able to marry

Alex!"

"You..." Deinie was actually deflated in front of her.

"Hey, now is not the time to discuss our grievances! Have you really met Jane?"

"Do you think there are a few others surnamed Jane in the Campbell family?"

Sarah frowned and exchanged glances with Linda.

The two of them didn't know that there was another Fiona in Kevin's place, so they thought it was very strange.

"To be honest, sister Deinie." Sarah looked at her. "I've seen that Miss Fallon too. I like her very much! I believe that if you see her, you will like her too!"

"I'm afraid you've been deceived by her too, aren't you?" Deinie sneered, "Also, you even dare to marry Alex, but who else can you recognize?"

"You..." Saral pointed at her and bit her lip.

Deinie stretched her waist, smiled at her, and slowly paced upstairs to make up for her sleep.

Sarah walked out of the villa and immediately took out her phone:

"Hello, Dominic... Your mother said that she had already met Miss Fallon. She didn't like it very much, and she even said a lot of ugly things. Was there any misunderstanding in the middle?"

My Husband Is A Secret lillimar

Chapter 190

Dominic was in the private room on the top floor of the Bright Radiance family, and it was strange to hear her say that.

He put down the caviar in his hand, frowned slightly, and whispered, "I did not arrange for them to meet."

"Then what happened to her?"

Dominic was silent for a while. After hanging up, he still looked cold and worried.

Hector and Tristan were beside them. They looked at each other and silently put down their chopsticks.

Tristan was anxious about what he was worried about: "Third brother, I think even if Aunty doesn't like Lane, she definitely won't hate her too much. There must be something wrong with this!"

Hector's eyes were fixed on the delicious food in front of him.

"Hector, what are you talking about?"

"Ah?" Hector was stunned. "Well...I think maybe Aunty has never seen her at all! Aunty said this on purpose to break up you and Jane!"

Dominic shook his head. "My mother is not such a person."

Before he could finish his sentence, he suddenly noticed a small figure at the door.

Jane walked in slowly, her expression dimmed for a moment.

Dominic's heart sank. Did she listen to what she said just now?

"Jane," he carefully held her hand and smiled, "Didn't you say you work overtime at noon?"

"Well, I was supposed to work overtime, but the director said that the draft can be submitted later, so I'm here."

Tristan smiled and changed the subject: "You haven't eaten yet, have you? Um..you third brother. Hector and I will withdraw first!

"No!" Hector protested, "I'm still hungry!"

Tristan glared at him.

Jane bit his lip, looked up at Dominic, and asked him softly. "Your mother is here Why didn't you tell me?"

"I'm looking for an opportunity to arrange for you to meet."

"That's right!" Hector, hungry, had lost his rationality and started speaking without thinking, "Heh, Jane, don't be nervous. The ugly daughter in law will eventually have to meet her in-laws!"

It was too late for Tristan to cover his mouth.

Jane's voice was getting lower and lower. "I heard you guys talking just now at the door...I haven't seen Aunty before. Maybe Young Master Hector is right. Aunty is just dissatisfied with me."

"No, no!" Hector tried to speak again, this time looking at Dominic, "But third brother, you have to solve Miranda's problem first. Back then, your mother also agreed that the two of you would date, right?"

"Mmmm!"

This time, Tristan's eyes were quick and his hands were quick.

Chapter 150

"Mmm!"

"Let's go!"

Before Dominic's face turned dark, Tristan quickly grabbed Hector by the collar and got him out. The room was quiet again, but it was a little scary.

Dominic looked at Jane quietly. She lowered her head slightly, her beautiful and delicate features covered with a layer of melancholy and loss.

This was the worst thing he could ever see....

Dominic hugged her and said calmly, "I swear, I've never dated her before!"

Jane pushed him away and stared at him with big eyes.

Jane pushed him away, her eyes, like cold stars, fixed on him as she asked, "The person who has known you since you were a child is Miranda, right?"

"It's not accurate to say that we grew up together." The man ined patiently, "Because since 1 was a child, I hardly ever said a few words to her. It was her who was pestering me!"

"Oh.."

Jane tilted his head and said thoughtfully, "So you want to tell me that you are very attractive?"

Dominic was dumbfounded, and cold sweat broke out on his head and back.

How could she not be angry with him?

Waiting online... I'm afraid it's too late.

Dominic licked his dry lips and said in a deep voice, "I didn't mean that!"

Jane went a step further and said, "I also heard that you used to have many girlfriends?"

Dominic was stunned, and instantly lost control and shouted, "Who said this nonsense in front of you!"

"What did my mother say?"

The painting style suddenly changed to a happy feeling.

Jane was small but imposing. Dominic was a head taller than her, but he lowered his head in front of her, like a primary school student who had made a mistake.

"My mother said that with your background, marriage is related to the family's interests. There's no way the family can't make arrangements for you!"

Dominic laughed and gently supported her shoulder, "...my mother is really amazing, she understands everything!"

Jane glanced at him. Just now, her heart was indeed unhappy because of Miranda, but Dominic's smile made her unhappy face disappear.

Originally, it was none of her business. She could still trust his integrity my mother is right." He looked at her, "But I have never accepted the arrangement at home."

Dominic took her little hand and placed it in his heart.

Jane was startled and touched his hot chest. Beneath this strong chest was a fiery beating heart.

Her face was slightly red, and her eyes were clear.

"Jane" he said with a warm smile In his low voice, "Before I met you, I was a robot with no heart"

Chapter 193

"After I met you, I became a person with flesh and blood, and my heart was beating."

"Dominic..." Her voice was a little choked.

"Jane," his fingers brushed past her fair face. You have magic."

"But this magic might not work in front of your mother.

"I can solve this problem." He gently hugged her, "You just do what you like."

Dominic smiled. She did not know that she had become the female CEO of two listed companies. She did not know that she was in charge of the project in the western suburbs of Central City.

She didn't know, but the things she saved had become a fetter for her, preventing her from flying.

But when she was tired, these things were her strongest backing, enough to stop everyone in the Campbell family from talking.

"Oh!" Jane suddenly thought of something. "I can't accompany you to lunch anymore. I'm going to the calligraphy and painting exhibition this afternoon, and I have to write a press release!"

"What calligraphy and painting exhibition?"

"It's a lot of famous calligraphy and painting. They are held in the central exhibition hall. These famous artists are from Manchester City and Germany!"

"Oh." Dominic nodded and let go of her reluctantly..

"I'm leaving now," Jane smiled at him. "Eat obediently, don't have a stomachache anymore!"

This reminded him, why didn't he just pretend to have a stomachache!

Jane hurriedly walked out of the Bright Radiance family when Deinie's car just stopped downstairs.

"Ms. Deinic," Butler Sebastian laughed lightly. "I asked just now that the third young master is on the top floor."

"Forget it." Deinie had other plans. He might be socializing. I'll just walk around and talk to him in detail when I go back in the evening."

"Alright." Butler Sebastian thought for a while. "Ms. Deinie there is an exhibition of calligraphy and painting by famous artists in the central exhibition hall today. Why don't you..."

"Yes, yes!" Deinie had always been interested in painting and calligraphy. "Let's go there!"
