

Sect Master's Immortal Journey #Chapter 741: Curse - Read Sect Master's Immortal Journey Chapter 741: Curse

Chapter 741: Curse

Meng Zhang remembered that Daoist Master Luo Ye had told him before. This bead is a Soul Bead commonly used by the Dark Alliance, capable of absorbing a cultivator's soul aura and using it to control them.

Members of the Dark Alliance come from diverse backgrounds, and their conduct varies. To ensure control over their subordinates, they resorted to this tactic.

Due to its ability to control members within the organization, the Soul Bead cannot be used recklessly. Typically, Soul Beads are kept in the Dark Alliance's secret treasury. Even the higher-ups in the organization do not have the authority to use them privately.

This particular Soul Bead was left in the black market's treasury due to the unexpected invasion by the extraterritorial Barbarian Clan years ago.

Over the years, many within the Dark Alliance might have forgotten about the existence of this Soul Bead. However, judging from Book Mountain's True Monarch's reaction, it was evident that his soul aura was trapped within the bead.

Their subsequent conversation confirmed Meng Zhang's suspicions.

"Brother from Book Mountain, if I remember correctly, this Soul Bead contains the soul aura you left behind back then."

"Who would have thought that when you left that trace of soul aura, you were just an ordinary Gold Core cultivator? Today, you have become a Divine Ability-wielding Primordial Spirit True Monarch."

"Of course, with your current Cultivation Base, we cannot do anything to you just with that trace of soul aura within this Soul Bead."

"But don't forget, within the Dali Dynasty, there are experts proficient in curse techniques."

"If we were to deliver this Soul Bead to such a master, Brother from Book Mountain, can you guess what would happen?"

"I've heard that curse techniques are always mysterious and unpredictable. Even a Primordial Spirit True Monarch might meet a miserable end if they accidentally fall under its influence."

"Brother from Book Mountain, would you like to experience it firsthand?"

True Monarch White Crow wore a smug expression, thinking he had caught True Monarch Book Mountain in a desperate situation.

"What are you saying? We are fellow disciples with Brother from Book Mountain. How can we use such methods to threaten him?"

Dong Qiang, True Monarch, pretended to scold True Monarch White Crow and then spoke sincerely, "Brother from Book Mountain, rest assured, White Crow is always reckless with his words. He is just bluffing and will definitely not go that far."

"We are brothers; we won't resort to such despicable means against you."

"Those experts from the Dali Dynasty and their curse techniques, just forget about them. Don't take it too seriously."

Listening to Dong Qiang's reassurance, Book Mountain True Monarch remained silent for a while before speaking slowly.

"Dong Qiang, there's no need for you to say more. I understand your intentions; you just want to force me into submission, right?"

"Don't pretend to be a good person either. This Soul Bead has been in your possession for quite some time."

"You've been keeping this secret and haven't returned the Soul Bead to the organization, all for this moment, right?"

"I've always cherished the brotherhood among us, thinking that you would have some principles in your actions. Unexpectedly, you've been scheming against me all along, truly cunning."

After listening to Book Mountain True Monarch's accusations, True Monarch White Crow looked disdainful. A hint of embarrassment flashed across Dong Qiang True Monarch's face, followed by a look of cruelty.

"Brother from Book Mountain, since you refuse to give us face and insist on exposing everything, I won't say much either."

"In short, do you want to join us or not?"

"Oh, by the way, let me remind you, even though I'm not very proficient in curse techniques, I know a bit of it. With just this bit, along with this Soul Bead, I can still take away half of your life."

Book Mountain True Monarch's expression remained calm but with a touch of indignation as he spoke, "Dong Qiang, you don't need to be modest. Your proficiency in curse techniques is no longer a secret. Show me whatever means you have and let's see if I can withstand it."

This made Dong Qiang True Monarch fall silent, and True Monarch White Crow wanted to say something but was stopped by a gesture from Dong Qiang. Their goal was to bring Book Mountain True Monarch under their control and have his faction join theirs. They didn't want to escalate the situation unless absolutely necessary.

Book Mountain True Monarch was like a stubborn stone in a dung heap, difficult to deal with, leaving them with few options. In this situation, they planned to deal with third-party forces before engaging in a war with Red Pig True Monarch's group.

Without needing Dong Qiang True Monarch to say anything, True Monarch White Crow understood his intention and threw the Soul Bead toward him. Dong Qiang True Monarch held the Soul Bead firmly in his hand, feeling confident that he could control Book Mountain True Monarch.

Among the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs in the Jiuqu League's Dark Alliance branch, Book Mountain True Monarch was the youngest and achieved Primordial Spirit the latest. He always appeared indifferent to worldly disputes and rarely got involved in conflicts. Many people had hardly seen him take action, knowing his interest in reading was greater than anything else.

Dong Qiang True Monarch had known Book Mountain True Monarch for a long time and had some knowledge of his background. He knew that he was not someone easily swayed, which was why he had persistently tried to persuade him to join their side. Since Book Mountain True Monarch didn't listen to good advice, Dong Qiang decided to make him suffer a bit before considering other options.

True Monarch White Crow took a few steps forward, keeping a close eye on Book Mountain True Monarch to prevent any sudden moves. Dong Qiang True Monarch held the Soul Bead in his left hand and formed a hand seal with his right hand, rapidly chanting an incantation.

Inside the Soul Bead, there was not only Book Mountain True Monarch's soul aura but also the soul auras of the other cultivators who were affected by the spell when they were with him. Relying on his familiarity with Book Mountain True Monarch, Dong Qiang quickly identified his soul aura and began casting the curse using his proficiency in the art.

During this process, Dong Qiang felt uneasy as Book Mountain True Monarch remained motionless, seemingly allowing him to proceed without resistance. This attitude and response were completely unexpected.

True Monarch White Crow stared at Book Mountain True Monarch with a mocking expression. He had long disliked this bookish fellow, finding him always pretending. Now that he was facing imminent death, he still acted calm and composed, but White Crow wondered who he was trying to impress.

Since Dong Qiang True Monarch had already taken action, he couldn't stop midway. He suppressed his doubts and continued casting the curse. In his view, no matter how strong Book Mountain True Monarch was, now that his vulnerability had been exposed, he couldn't resist the curse. Once affected by the curse, Book Mountain True Monarch would undoubtedly be severely wounded. Whether they captured or killed him afterward depended on their own choice.

Dong Qiang's Primordial Spirit power extended along the soul aura like a venomous snake, about to strike Book Mountain True Monarch's soul with the sinister curse.

Chapter 742: Beginning

The Primordial Spirit of True Monarch is deeply hidden within his Primordial Spirit, making it difficult to directly attack him. Dong Qiang, the True Monarch, borrowed a trace of his Soul's aura to unleash a curse that could bypass Book Mountain True Monarch's Primordial Spirit defense and directly inflict serious damage to his Soul.

However, True Monarch's Primordial Spirit's resilience is unparalleled, and even if he takes such a hit, he won't completely collapse, at most, he will be wounded. After the Soul is injured, he may still retain some strength, making it hard to predict.

Dong Qiang's curse techniques are derived from a profound heritage, and he is quite proud of it in his daily life. This time, he only made a small attempt, but he is very confident of its success.

Dong Qiang's Primordial Spirit power transforms into an intangible python, fiercely colliding with Book Mountain True Monarch's Soul. What seemed like a certain hit actually missed, as his Primordial Spirit's power seemingly entered an invisible void.

Dong Qiang's expression changed, and before he could react, he faced Book Mountain True Monarch's counterattack. The force of Book Mountain True Monarch's Primordial Spirit struck him like a thunderbolt, shaking him, and he staggered backward, feeling immensely suffocated in his chest.

And it didn't end there; Book Mountain True Monarch shouted, "Attack!"

Meng Zhang and the others had been hiding nearby, waiting for this opportunity. Red Pig True Monarch acted first, and with a wave of his hand, the barrier that concealed everyone vanished. Including Meng Zhang, five Primordial Spirit True Monarchs rushed out and attacked Dong Qiang.

True Monarch White Crow, who had been observing Book Mountain True Monarch's actions, was about to make his move when scrolls and books rained down from the sky, surrounding his body.

Furious, True Monarch White Crow had no choice but to engage in battle with Book Mountain True Monarch.

Dong Qiang's curse failed, and instead, he suffered a backlash. Now facing five prepared Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, he immediately fell into dire straits. If it weren't for the traps set beforehand, even if 2-3 Primordial Spirit True Monarchs surrounded him in a direct confrontation, they might not be able to defeat him. But now, trapped as he was, it was difficult for him to escape.

The group of Gold Core Daoist Masters following him was loyal enough. Faced with the enemy's sudden attack, they threw themselves into the fray like moths to a flame, hoping to buy him some time.

However, the vast difference between Gold Core Daoist Masters and Primordial Spirit True Monarchs couldn't be compensated solely with bravery and fearlessness. The five Primordial Spirit True Monarchs had been waiting for this moment. They had accumulated their strength and unleashed their killing moves.

The broken bodies of these Gold Core Daoist Masters were tossed aside, showing that they were not even a match for a single blow.

Meng Zhang's old friend, Daoist Master Black Fox, was a cunning individual and did not rush to fight like the others. Instead, he turned around to escape. Since they were old friends, Meng Zhang kindly gave him a parting gift.

With a single step, Meng Zhang appeared behind him. With a pointed finger, black and white Qi flew out, directly cutting his body into two halves.

This figure, who had once claimed seniority in front of Meng Zhang and made him cautious, was now so vulnerable that he was easily dispatched.

The Primordial Spirit True Monarch with the codename "Old Blade" sneered contemptuously, as if mocking Meng Zhang for only going after soft targets.

Ignoring him, Meng Zhang was about to join in the siege against True Monarch Dong Qiang. The sacrifices made by the group of Gold Core Daoist Masters were not in vain; they managed to delay the enemy's advance and gave Dong Qiang True Monarch some reaction time.

Facing five prepared Primordial Spirit True Monarchs in a siege, even in a direct confrontation, Dong Qiang True Monarch's chances were slim. And now, he was clearly caught in an ambush.

Knowing that he had no chance unless he gave it his all, Dong Qiang True Monarch decided to use his last resort. His Primordial Spirit burned fiercely, unleashing power far greater than usual.

The ground began to shake violently, and stones and earth flew as the underground passage collapsed. Dong Qiang True Monarch employed the power of the Earth Grand Dao, completely demolishing this secret base.

He didn't expect the collapse to bury the enemy entirely; he just hoped to create enough disturbance to buy himself a chance to escape. The endless stream of stones and earth tilted down from above, enveloping everyone.

Even Meng Zhang, the one with the least experience, remained undisturbed and didn't waste any energy on these distractions. The massive flow of falling earth and stones was easily pushed away before reaching them.

Fiery flames erupted from the ground, surrounding Dong Qiang True Monarch's body. Cold moonlight descended from the sky, firmly enveloping him, leaving him with no place to hide.

Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch were equally powerful compared to Dong Qiang True Monarch. Even in a one-on-one battle, they might not lose to this old man. With a tacit understanding, they temporarily suppressed him.

At this time, the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs with the codenames "Old Blade" and "Wood" simultaneously displayed their Grand Dao powers, trying to seize the opportunity to trap Dong Qiang True Monarch completely.

Cyan-colored streams of Qi hovered above the earth, transforming into vines and gigantic trees. Countless vines intertwined and twisted, rushing forward. ~~ánβES~~

Gigantic trees rolled in the sky, threatening to crush everything below.

Although Meng Zhang had the intention to take it easy, since he had already promised to lend a hand, he couldn't show any signs of slacking. When it was time to exert effort, he had to do so.

Moreover, the enemy was in an obvious disadvantage, and the chance to strike a dog while it's down could not be missed.

Meng Zhang's figure flickered to another location, already preparing to unleash his killing move.

Meng Zhang had recently achieved the Primordial Spirit realm, and his experience in battles between Primordial Spirit True Monarchs was limited. Apart from paying attention to Dong Qiang True Monarch, he also observed the battle between Book Mountain True Monarch and True Monarch White Crow on the other side.

Experience in battles between Primordial Spirit True Monarchs was precious, and even while involved in the situation himself, Meng Zhang couldn't help but carefully observe, hoping to gain something from it.

Although there were many records about such battles in the heritage left by the Taiyi Sect predecessors, paper knowledge can only take one so far, real understanding comes from practice. Without actual participation, the gains from mere speculation were limited.

Knowing that significant changes were about to happen in the Jiuqu League, Meng Zhang had to seize every opportunity to strengthen himself.

Several Primordial Spirit True Monarchs on the scene had already made their moves, and Meng Zhang was now comparing the techniques they employed with what he had learned from the heritage.

As a result, Meng Zhang's actions were half a beat slower, placing him behind the others.

As for that guy "Old Blade," he indeed had the confidence to back up his talk. He made an extraordinary move as an almost infinite amount of killing intent gathered around him, and beams of golden light fell from the sky.

The golden light converged the killing intent, forming a gigantic golden blade that stood arrogantly above his head.

Chapter 743: Accidental/Surprised

This guy called Old Blade was a bit arrogant, but he had the skills to back it up. Just by displaying this move of his, he showed extraordinary power. Dong Qiang True Monarch was already at a significant disadvantage, and Meng Zhang focused more on the battle happening elsewhere.

Book Mountain True Monarch remained unruffled and composed, always appearing calm and collected. His seemingly casual and carefree moves firmly entangled True Monarch White Crow, making it impossible for him to easily help Dong Qiang True Monarch despite trying various methods.

In today's ambush, the key figure was Book Mountain True Monarch. The Soul Bead was taken by Meng Zhang from the black market's treasure vault back in the day, then later taken by Luo Ye Daoist Master, and finally passed on to Daoist Master Black Fox after some processing.

This happened many years ago when the Dark Alliance was not yet divided and didn't face the pressure from the Dali Dynasty. It was during that time that Daoist Master Black Fox spared no expense to hire a Gold Core Daoist Master to retrieve the Soul Bead. If they had not been concerned about alarming the Barbarian King and triggering a Primordial Spirit-level war, even a Primordial Spirit True Monarch might have been dispatched.

The faction to which Luo Ye Daoist Master belonged, whether it was Red Pig True Monarch or Jade Rabbit True Monarch, saw the opportunity and took advantage of it, plotting against their opponent.

Meng Zhang was amazed by the cunning and skill of these old foxes. He was relatively new to being a Primordial Spirit and hadn't fully adapted to his changed identity. Setting up a plan spanning hundreds of years as a Primordial Spirit True Monarch wasn't too difficult.

Maybe when Luo Ye Daoist Master's backer tampered with the Soul Bead all those years ago, they didn't expect it would play such a significant role today. It was merely a casual move that ended up having a massive impact many years later.

Dong Qiang True Monarch and his group thought they had Book Mountain True Monarch at their mercy by holding the Soul Bead, but they never imagined it had been tampered with. Red Pig True Monarch and his allies took advantage of this and conspired with Book Mountain True Monarch beforehand.

For Book Mountain True Monarch, even if he genuinely wanted to remain neutral and maintain the overall situation without seeking personal gains, once Dong Qiang True Monarch threatened him with the Soul Bead, he had to make a choice. Even if he had a good temperament, he wouldn't let anyone threaten him and control his life and death.

As for any agreements between him and Red Pig True Monarch, Meng Zhang couldn't be sure.

While Meng Zhang was lost in his thoughts, Old Blade completed his casting. He controlled the massive golden blade above his head and swung it heavily at Dong Qiang True Monarch in front of him.

Already completely suppressed by Jade Rabbit True Monarch and Red Pig True Monarch, and with Primordial Spirit True Monarch codenamed "Wood" restricting his movements, Dong Qiang True Monarch had no chance to dodge.

Meng Zhang also activated his True Essence, ready to follow up with his attack. Even if Dong Qiang True Monarch managed to barely withstand Old Blade's strike, he would immediately face Meng Zhang's attack.

Just when everyone thought the situation was settled, Meng Zhang felt a sudden sense of danger from his Diviner's Spiritual Awareness.

After reaching the Primordial Spirit stage, the Heavenly Calculation Art had not been able to keep up with Meng Zhang's Cultivation Base. It was challenging to use it in battles involving Primordial Spirit True Monarchs. But at this moment, this long-unused ability suddenly activated.

Meng Zhang didn't hesitate and trusted his Spiritual Awareness. With his profound understanding of the Space Grand Dao, he unleashed its power, allowing his body to quickly escape the current space and enter a spatial crevice.

At the same time, the unexpected change occurred. The massive golden blade, which was about to strike Dong Qiang True Monarch, suddenly changed direction without any warning, heavily striking "Wood," who was restraining Dong Qiang True Monarch. Even though "Wood," codenamed Primordial Spirit True Monarch, was vigilant and had not let his guard down, he couldn't react in time to the attack from his ally.

Caught off guard, he instinctively tried to defend himself by commanding massive azure wood to block the blade, but it was futile. The unstoppable strike sliced through everything that dared to obstruct its path.

The Primordial Spirit True Monarch known as "Wood" let out a miserable scream as his body was cleaved in two. Old Blade had unexpectedly turned against his comrades, leaving Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch utterly astonished.

Red Pig True Monarch's face was filled with disbelief, and he couldn't even be bothered to hide his ally's identity, directly shouting his true name. True Monarch Crossing Blade, who often operated in the vicinity of Jiuqu League, was a well-known Primordial Spirit True Monarch, and he was none other than Old Blade.

Red Pig True Monarch and True Monarch Crossing Blade had a complicated relationship. They had known each other and started cooperating even before achieving the Primordial Spirit stage. They had worked together for many years, and while they might not be deeply connected on a personal level, they had mutual interests and trust.

True Monarch Crossing Blade's betrayal dealt a severe blow to Red Pig True Monarch, a cunning old fox who found it difficult to accept this emotionally. The sudden turn of events and True Monarch Crossing Blade's action left him in disbelief.

Old Blade, or rather, True Monarch Crossing Blade, didn't pay any attention to Red Pig True Monarch and instead called out to "Changchun, old man, sorry about this, we each must act in our own interest."

This revealed "Wood's" true identity. He was Changchun True Monarch, the leader of Changchun Outlook, a Gold Core sect that had risen to prominence after he achieved the Primordial Spirit stage. The unexpected attack from True Monarch Crossing Blade dealt a heavy blow to Changchun True Monarch, leaving his life hanging by a thread, and his sect's fate uncertain.

If Meng Zhang hadn't been alerted by a sudden impulse and promptly used the power of space to escape, he would likely have fallen victim to the surprise attack. By that time, he might have suffered a fate similar to Changchun True Monarch.

Meng Zhang reappeared not far from Red Pig True Monarch, seeking to regroup with his allies instinctively, trying to stay close together for safety.

The Primordial Spirit True Monarch who had been hidden in the shadows could no longer conceal himself after launching the attack on Meng Zhang. The long-missing Dali Dynasty envoy, Wen Dong, slowly manifested himself in the distance.

"So you used such a righteous Great Divine Ability for a surprise attack. You do your ancestors proud," Meng Zhang said with gritted teeth.

Wen Dong looked a bit surprised as he glanced at Meng Zhang. He hadn't expected this unknown Primordial Spirit True Monarch to be so vigilant, enabling him to evade the premeditated surprise attack.

"Wen Dong, why are you here?" Jade Rabbit True Monarch's countenance changed, filled with astonishment.

"If you hadn't sent someone to distract me, I might not have noticed something amiss. You guys are indeed clever, but you ended up outsmarting yourselves," Wen Dong laughed smugly.

The situation in the field changed drastically, and Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch could no longer focus on suppressing Dong Qiang True Monarch. Instead, they drew closer to each other, preparing to adapt.

On the other side, Book Mountain True Monarch saw the sudden shift in the situation and realized that continuing to restrain True Monarch White Crow was futile. He allowed him to break free.

Now, Changchun True Monarch was gone, and the field became four against four, seemingly balanced in numbers.

"Wen Dong, do you really want to interfere in our Dark Alliance's internal affairs? Is your Dali Dynasty truly going to be our enemy?" Jade Rabbit True Monarch yelled.

"With just a few of you, you dare to represent the Dark Alliance? Take a look at yourselves before acting so self-righteous," True Monarch White Crow retorted.

Red Pig True Monarch stopped Jade Rabbit True Monarch from continuing his insults. "Crossing Blade, what did they use to bribe you? Is there something they offered that I couldn't give you?"

Clearly, Red Pig True Monarch still couldn't accept Crossing Blade's betrayal.

"Crossing Blade, no, now it should be General Crossing Blade. Don't waste time with these people. The four of us together can take them down, and the fate of the Dark Alliance will be completely decided," Wen Dong shouted confidently.

Although True Monarch Crossing Blade was arrogant and reckless, he still felt somewhat uneasy facing Red Pig True Monarch.

"Brother Red Pig, everyone follows their own path, I have no choice," he said.

"To be honest, I have always been a part of the Dali Dynasty."

"In a war, deception is fair play. I had no choice," he added.

Hearing these words from True Monarch Crossing Blade, Red Pig True Monarch's face changed dramatically, and then a determined expression appeared on his face.

Meng Zhang, who was listening nearby, was also shocked. True Monarch Crossing Blade had been famous for many years, roaming the surrounding regions. He appeared in Jiuqu League when the Dali Dynasty had not yet invaded the Crossing Severing Mountain Range, and the Three Sects Alliance was still its dominant power. This showed that the Dali Dynasty's plan against Jiuqu League had been deeply laid long ago. This increased Meng Zhang's wariness of the Dali Dynasty even further.

Book Mountain True Monarch interjected, "At this point, all talk is meaningless. Only through actions can today's events be resolved."

Due to True Monarch Crossing Blade's betrayal and Wen Dong's sudden appearance, the morale of Red Pig True Monarch's group dropped, appearing quite despondent. However, in reality, the situation was not as dire as it seemed.

True Monarch Crossing Blade had come here without knowing Red Pig True Monarch's target, which was to eliminate the faction of Dong Qiang True Monarch. Dong Qiang True Monarch and his group had already fully sided with the Dali Dynasty and played a significant role in the Dali Dynasty's future plans.

As a hidden pawn of the Dali Dynasty, True Monarch Crossing Blade naturally couldn't just stand by and watch Dong Qiang True Monarch's group perish entirely. He secretly used a special technique to inform Wen Dong, guiding him to this location. Then, at a crucial moment in the battle, he betrayed Changchun True Monarch with a lethal blow.

He hadn't chosen to attack Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch not out of consideration for their friendship, but because of his own calculations. Both Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch were cultivators in the mid-Primordial Spirit stage, experienced and with many tricks up their sleeves. If he had attacked them, he could at most severely wound them, not deliver a fatal blow. His goal was to cut off the weakest link among the enemy and reduce their overall strength. When the balance of power became clear, victory would naturally be on their side. This was the overall situation and the art of war.

He certainly didn't expect that Meng Zhang, who had been hiding his identity, would be so vigilant and avoid his surprise attack. With Meng Zhang still in the field, their side would not gain the upper hand in numbers.

Book Mountain True Monarch, although unaware of the details, urged everyone to act promptly and not let the enemy overpower them in momentum.

Chapter 744: Tangled warfare

Book Mountain True Monarch's actions caught the essence of the situation. Even if Changchun True Monarch's life or death was uncertain, their remaining strength might not be weaker than the enemy's. As long as they weren't intimidated by the enemy and truly took action, there was hope in this battle, and it hadn't reached the point of defeat yet.

Among the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs present, there were no fools. Figures like Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch, who held prominent positions in organizations like the Dark Alliance, were skilled in strategy and tactics. The chaos earlier was only due to an unexpected event.

Now, with the reminder from Book Mountain True Monarch, Red Pig True Monarch secretly communicated with Meng Zhang, offering incentives for him to continue fighting. At this moment, Meng Zhang, who was once distrusted and underestimated, became the key to their ability to keep fighting. If Meng Zhang was frightened by the recent events or cowered before the might of the Dali Dynasty and attempted to escape, Red Pig True Monarch's side would be at a numerical disadvantage, and they might only manage to defend themselves.

Meng Zhang didn't disappoint Red Pig True Monarch and readily agreed to stay and fight. Even if Red Pig True Monarch didn't offer any rewards, Meng Zhang had no intention of fleeing. Wen Dong's sneak attack earlier was a clear attempt to put him in a life-threatening situation. Moreover, the contemptuous treatment he received from Wen Dong fueled his anger.

Having dealt with their own affairs, Red Pig True Monarch resumed the battle, heading towards True Monarch Crossing Blade to settle their differences. Book Mountain True Monarch sought out True Monarch White Crow again to continue their earlier fight.

Meng Zhang initially intended to confront Wen Dong, but Jade Rabbit True Monarch took the initiative to challenge Wen Dong True Monarch as she was worried about Meng Zhang's recent advancement to Primordial Spirit, fearing he might not be able to handle Wen Dong's strength. Wen Dong True Monarch, with a Cultivation Base at the mid-stage of Primordial Spirit and a background in the powerful Dali Dynasty, possessed numerous Divine Abilities and secrets. Jade Rabbit True Monarch decided to take him on as her opponent to free Meng Zhang from this burden.

Now, the only remaining opponent left for Meng Zhang was Dong Qiang True Monarch. Dong Qiang True Monarch also had a Primordial Spirit mid-stage Cultivation Base and was a renowned expert in the Dark Alliance. Normally, even Red Pig True Monarch and Jade Rabbit True Monarch might not be a match for him. However, he had suffered a curse that backfired due to Book Mountain True Monarch's preparedness and then faced attacks from several Primordial Spirit True Monarchs. Before, True Monarch Crossing Blade had been concealing his identity, but now, with reinforcements, he burnt his Primordial Spirit, preparing for a desperate strike. Unfortunately, he injured himself before he could harm his enemies, leaving him severely wounded with even his Cultivation Base shaken. If not addressed promptly, the consequences could be disastrous.

Jade Rabbit True Monarch and Red Pig True Monarch were worried about Meng Zhang's combat strength, so they left this wounded cat for him to deal with. Since they meant well, Meng Zhang accepted the challenge with pleasure. Beating up a weak opponent had its own amusement.

Meng Zhang was the last one to take action, and his attack was no less potent. Although he knew that his true identity would eventually be revealed, and he feared retaliation from the Dali Dynasty, he still tried to conceal his identity for as long as possible. He reserved some of his power, not immediately using his ultimate techniques.

Witnessing Meng Zhang raise both hands, one holding the moon and the other holding the sun, with shimmering light spheres in each palm.

After reaching the Primordial Spirit stage, Meng Zhang chose Yin Yang Grand Dao as his main cultivation path. However, his years of arduous practice in the "Sun-Moon Wheel Turning Sutra" also made him exceptionally proficient in Sun-Moon Avenue.

This place was originally a deep underground cave, but the earthquake caused by Dong QiangTrue Monarch's power of the earth Grand Dao had collapsed most of it. Nevertheless, the upper part still had an enormous amount of soil and rocks that were continuously tilting downward.

Suddenly, in the pitch-black underground, it seemed as if a rising sun and a crescent moon appeared at the same time, with endless rays of sunlight and moonlight pouring down like a deluge towards Dong QiangTrue Monarch. Meng Zhang's powerful attack was a massive surprise to everyone present.

As Dong QiangTrue Monarch was Meng Zhang's target, he had to once again exert the power of his Grand Dao to block Meng Zhang's attack. Among the Five Elements Grand Dao, the earth Grand Dao was particularly skilled at defense, making Dong QiangTrue Monarch, who had been through numerous battles, not only able to withstand Meng Zhang's assault but also subtly counterattacking.

The other three battlefields also instantly intensified as everyone unleashed their most potent abilities without reservation. The different factions within the Dark Alliance had torn their faces apart today. Since blood had been drawn, there was no going back.

Red Pig True Monarch and the others could no longer be concerned about their previous ties with the Dali Dynasty. The Dali Dynasty's blatant interference in the internal affairs of the Dark Alliance, taking a side against them, had turned them into deadly enemies.

Ignoring their previous plans, today was all about fighting for survival. In the aftermath of the battle, the underground space collapsed entirely. The location where a great mountain once stood was now replaced by a massive pit. Countless rocks and soil were violently thrown out by the strong winds, creating a tumultuous scene with howling winds and flying dust.

The four pairs of opponents flew out of the pit, engaging in intense aerial battles. What started as one-on-one clashes soon escalated into chaotic group fights. Among the eight combatants, Meng Zhang might have had the lowest Cultivation Base, but when Primordial SpiritTrue Monarchs fought, the main comparison was their Grand Dao power. Meng Zhang's comprehension of the Heaven and Earth Grand Dao was profound, and his displayed Grand Dao power was formidable enough to pose a lethal threat to even mid-stage Primordial Spirit cultivators. After a few exchanges, no one dared to underestimate him anymore.

His Sun-Moon Avenue and Space Grand Dao powers alternated as Meng Zhang's figure flashed in the air continuously. Each appearance brought forth endless rays of sunlight and moonlight. He remained highly active on the battlefield, firmly suppressing Dong QiangTrue Monarch, an experienced Primordial SpiritTrue Monarch, leaving him only able to defend himself but unable to counterattack.

Before even employing his proficient Yin Yang Grand Dao power, Meng Zhang had gained an absolute advantage. Wen Dong True Monarch and the others had to intervene from time to time to assist Dong Qiang True Monarch in withstanding Meng Zhang's assaults.

As the eight combatants descended into a melee, Dong Qiang True Monarch's performance deteriorated, heavily relying on the cover and support from others. Primordial Spirit True Monarchs' attacks were inherently grand and had a wide range, causing an earth-shattering sensation when all eight of them engaged in an all-out brawl.

Chapter 745: Proliferation

The battles of the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs often caused tremendous destruction to the surrounding environment. In the mortal world, they were known as "catastrophes of the heavens." It was quite rare to witness eight Primordial Spirit True Monarchs engaging in such unrestrained warfare, especially in the usually peaceful territory of the Jiuqu League, where such events hadn't occurred in many years.

The Dark Alliance's secret base was located in a remote area, far away from civilization and any significant structures. However, as the scope of the battle expanded, reaching tens to hundreds of miles in all directions, nearby Cultivators in the region began to be alarmed.

The Primordial Spirit True Monarchs clashed, wielding the power of the Grand Dao, causing various phenomena to emerge both in the heavens and on the earth. The spiritual energy in the world fluctuated violently, and surging waves of spiritual qi swept through the land.

The sky roared with thunder-like explosions, and the earth trembled intensely, with little respite.

Initially, some low-level Cultivators who were ignorant of the danger tried to approach the scene to watch the excitement and see if they could gain any benefits. However, before they could get close, they were drawn into the storm and met an unknown fate, leaving behind only their remains.

As time passed, more and more Cultivators gathered around. Some perceptive ones recognized the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs engaged in the battle and immediately fled as far as they could.

For unrelated individuals, fleeing was an option, but the Cultivation forces with sects nearby had no choice but to intervene. On one hand, the higher-ups of these Cultivation forces quickly organized their members to evacuate to avoid being affected by the battle's aftermath. On the other hand, being on Jiuqu League's territory, they couldn't simply turn a blind eye to the situation. Those Cultivators who had some connections spread the news and hoped that the high-level members of the Jiuqu League would intervene promptly.

The fierce battle between the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs showed no signs of stopping; instead, it grew more intense.

A group of Gold Core Daoist Masters gathered at the edge of the battlefield, feeling helpless and uncertain about what to do.

The response from the Jiuqu League was not slow, considering that it was their territory and they couldn't allow a group of Primordial Spirit True Monarchs to run rampant there.

Not long after, He Luo True Monarch and True Monarch Profound Wind, who were closest to the location, arrived one after the other.

They reached the edge of the battlefield but hesitated to advance further. Even with their strength, they were unwilling to rashly get involved in the battle between the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs.

The Dark Alliance's Primordial Spirit True Monarchs were known for their secrecy, and most Cultivators within the Jiuqu League didn't recognize them. Meng Zhang, who had entered the Primordial Spirit stage, only got to know the Dark Alliance's Red Pig True Monarch through Luo Ye Daoist Master's recommendation.

If it were other Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, they might not have been able to identify the people in the battlefield.

However, He Luo True Monarch and True Monarch Profound Wind were both loose cultivators, with extensive networks and access to various intelligence within the Jiuqu League after joining it. As they observed from the outside of the battlefield, they recognized the identities of the Dark Alliance's Primordial Spirit True Monarchs.

"Is this an internal conflict within the Dark Alliance? Why are they turning against each other?" He Luo True Monarch casually remarked.

"Oh, isn't that Hengdao, the rough one? How did he get involved in the battle? When did he become associated with the Dark Alliance?" True Monarch Profound Wind's expression remained unchanged, but inside, a wave of emotions stirred.

Wen Dong True Monarch's secret infiltration into the Jiuqu League was not only for negotiating with the Dark Alliance but also to represent the Dali Dynasty and recruit influential Cultivators secretly. He aimed to convince them to betray the Jiuqu League and join the Dali Dynasty. As a loose cultivator, True Monarch Profound Wind, in the middle stage of the Primordial Spirit realm, was one of the key figures Wen Dong True Monarch had contacted.

Although True Monarch Profound Wind did not immediately agree to join the Dali Dynasty, he did not firmly reject the proposal, leaving himself an escape route. Recognizing Wen Dong True Monarch, True Monarch Profound Wind had a general idea of what had transpired.

Wen Dong True Monarch, the envoy of the Dali Dynasty, had undoubtedly caused an internal conflict within the Dark Alliance while recruiting its members, leading to the current large-scale battle. As a high-ranking member of the Jiuqu League, True Monarch Profound Wind had a responsibility to help Red Pig True Monarch and the others capture Wen Dong True Monarch. However, he was reluctant to offend the Dali Dynasty too much, so he feigned ignorance and pretended not to know what was happening.

He Luo True Monarch wanted to stop the battle, but with just the two of them, they couldn't possibly persuade eight formidable Primordial Spirit True Monarchs to cease fighting. Without understanding the full situation, they couldn't take sides.

Thus, the two Primordial Spirit True Monarchs stood at the edge of the battlefield, silently observing. The group of Gold Core Daoist Masters in the distance dared not say anything and could only order their disciples to evacuate quickly.

The battle continued, with the eight Primordial Spirit True Monarchs splitting into two groups, fiercely fighting each other, making it difficult to determine a winner in a short time.

Meng Zhang had kept some tricks up his sleeve, but he was genuinely exerting his strength. His performance now was not inferior to that of an ordinary early-stage Primordial Spirit cultivator, fully justifying the price set by Red Pig True Monarch. Meng Zhang thoroughly enjoyed this battle, experiencing an exhilarating pleasure.

Entering the Primordial Spirit stage for the first time, he had never fought so freely before. He witnessed the techniques of other Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, experienced various Grand Dao powers, and constantly absorbed battle experience to rapidly enhance himself.

However, not everyone among the combatants enjoyed the battle like Meng Zhang did. At this point, both sides realized that it was impossible to defeat the other temporarily. Without external intervention, such a battle could last for three to five years easily.

Among the group, Wen Dong True Monarch was the first to consider retreating. As an envoy of the Dali Dynasty, launching such a high-profile attack went against his original intentions.

At this moment, two more Primordial Spirit True Monarchs flew over from a distance. Book Mountain True Monarch also felt that continuing the battle was pointless, and a cunning smile appeared on his face as he shouted loudly.

"Wen Dong, the Dali Dynasty's spy, infiltrated the Jiuqu League and conspired with Hengdao! Fellow daoists, let's work together to capture them and hand them over to the seniors of the alliance."

True Monarch Profound Wind and He Luo True Monarch, who had been observing from the sidelines, couldn't sit still anymore. Especially He Luo True Monarch, who was fiercely loyal to the Jiuqu League and had a deep-seated resentment towards the Dali Dynasty.

Hearing that a spy of the Dali Dynasty was acting so arrogantly, He Luo True Monarch signaled to True Monarch Profound Wind and prepared to join the attack on Wen Dong True Monarch.

True Monarch Profound Wind had no choice but to follow He Luo True Monarch into the battlefield.

The other two Primordial Spirit True Monarchs were also members of the Jiuqu League. Upon hearing Book Mountain True Monarch's call, they immediately accelerated and flew towards the scene, apparently intending to join the fight as well.

Chapter 746: Complementary Waves

Wen Dong True Monarch, who had originally lost interest in the battle, immediately signaled his fellow cultivators to retreat when he saw the enemy's reinforcements arriving.

Wen Dong True Monarch's side wasn't at a disadvantage, and leaving the battlefield was not difficult. Normally, to keep them behind, it would take around ten or so Primordial Spirit True Monarchs coordinating together with a reasonable chance of success.

Wen Dong True Monarch and his group cooperated, covered for each other, fought and retreated, gradually withdrawing from the battle.

The arriving Primordial Spirit True Monarchs were of average strength, and some like True Monarch Profound Wind were half-hearted, only putting up a show without going all out.

Red Pig True Monarch and the others wanted to keep their enemies behind but were unable to do so effectively.

Thus, Wen Dong True Monarch and his group managed to successfully escape, flying away to an unknown destination.

Meng Zhang didn't want to expose his connection to the Dark Alliance branch in front of others, so he took the opportunity of pursuing Wen Dong True Monarch's group to secretly slip away alone.

As for dealing with True Monarch Profound Wind and explaining the recent battle, that became Red Pig True Monarch's problem.

Meng Zhang didn't linger outside and directly returned to Taiyi Sect.

The four Primordial Spirit True Monarchs of Wen Dong True Monarch's group were powerful enough to wipe out a significant portion of the Jiuqu League's cultivation forces. Especially with Wen Dong True Monarch's identity exposed, even if the higher-ups of the Jiuqu League were slow to react, they should make some sort of response.

Shortly after Meng Zhang returned to Taiyi Sect, he received a message talisman from Red Pig True Monarch.

Wen Dong True Monarch and his group had already escaped, and Red Pig True Monarch had given up on continuing the pursuit.

Dong Qiang True Monarch was seriously injured this time and would need some time to recover.

Wen Dong True Monarch and True Monarch Crossing Blade had exposed their identities, so it was likely that they could no longer stay in the Jiuqu League.

Changchun True Monarch's physical body was destroyed by True Monarch Crossing Blade's ambush, but fortunately, his Primordial Spirit was mostly intact.

Jade Rabbit True Monarch had escorted his Primordial Spirit back to Changchun Outlook.

As for compensating Changchun True Monarch, Red Pig True Monarch didn't specify.

The rewards that were due to Meng Zhang would be sent by someone Red Pig True Monarch appointed.

Red Pig True Monarch was probably busy, dealing with the split in the Dark Alliance branch, which must have given him a headache.

If the plan had gone smoothly and they had first eliminated Dong Qiang True Monarch, the leader of the group, dealing with the remaining cultivators from his faction or recruiting them would have been much easier.

However, now that unexpected incidents had occurred, the plan had failed, and Dong Qiang True Monarch and True Monarch White Crow were still around. The Dark Alliance branch would undoubtedly face a significant internal upheaval.

But all of this had little to do with Meng Zhang. After returning to the sect, he integrated the experiences from the recent battle, confirming what he had learned.

Meng Zhang didn't have much time to relax, as he received a summons from Jade Sword Sect, interrupting his cultivation.

After that day's battle, Red Pig True Monarch knew that they had completely broken ties with the Dali Dynasty. Especially True Monarch Crossing Blade's betrayal had infuriated him.

In order to turn the situation around quickly, he quickly made a decision to completely support the Jiuqu League.

He publicly announced that the Dali Dynasty had dispatched a spy named Wen Dong, who infiltrated the Jiuqu League to cause havoc.

Wen Dong colluded with the traitors in the Dark Alliance branch and incited rebellion within it, attempting to overthrow the Dark Alliance branch.

The existence of the black market was not a big secret, and the cultivators with some status in the Cultivation World knew about the Dark Alliance behind it to some extent.

Of course, for the vast majority of lower-level cultivators in the Cultivation World, the Dark Alliance remained deliberately hidden.

Now, Red Pig True Monarch openly standing against them shattered the tradition of the Dark Alliance.

But he had no other choice.

With Dali Dynasty's assistance, Dong Qiang True Monarch's group was no longer inferior to Red Pig True Monarch's Book Mountain True Monarch faction. Since Dong Qiang and his group had help, Red Pig True Monarch also needed reinforcements.

Since the Jiuqu League and the Dali Dynasty were enemies, he had no choice but to openly support the Jiuqu League.

Originally neutral and even slightly favoring the Dali Dynasty's Dark Alliance branch now actively sought alignment with the Jiuqu League, which was exactly what the Jiuqu League higher-ups desired.

Furthermore, with Wen Dong True Monarch infiltrating the Jiuqu League openly causing trouble, the Jiuqu League higher-ups could not ignore the situation and allow him to act freely.

Though Azure Origin Sect and Jade Sword Sect were on the verge of breaking off relations, they quickly reached a consensus on this matter.

True Monarch Azure Mist and True Monarch Azure Gem of Azure Origin Sect personally took the lead in gathering their Primordial Spirit True Monarchs to prepare for an encirclement against Wen Dong True Monarch and his group.

On the other hand, Fei Guo True Monarch of Jade Sword Sect gathered a group of Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, also preparing to take action.

Upon receiving the summons from Jade Sword Sect, Meng Zhang didn't dare to delay and immediately rushed to the designated meeting point.

The meeting point was not unfamiliar to Meng Zhang; it was where You Hongzhi True Monarch had organized the gathering of Primordial Spirit True Monarchs last time.

After Meng Zhang arrived there, the Primordial Spirit True Monarchs from the northern region of the Jiuqu League gradually assembled.

Fei Guo True Monarch was the indisputable leader, followed by You Hongzhi True Monarch, Elder Beast Fury, True Monarch Profound Wind, and others...

He Luo True Monarch, although belonging to Azure Origin Sect, still accepted the summons from Jade Sword Sect during this time.

Despite the internal strife in Yellow Lotus Sect, True Monarch Mountain Peak had arrived here.

Regardless of the secret calculations going on in everyone's minds and whether they were secretly colluding with the Dali Dynasty, at least on the surface, everyone had to obey Fei Guo True Monarch's orders and chase down the Dali Dynasty's spies with all their might.

Around ten Primordial Spirit True Monarchs gathered here, which should be sufficient to surround and kill Wen Dong True Monarch's group.

Fei Guo True Monarch led everyone and began a grand search in the surrounding area.

On the side of the Dark Alliance branch, after Dong Qiang True Monarch and the others fled the battlefield, they quickly assembled their own faction's cultivators.

Originally, they had the intention to fight against Red Pig True Monarch and the others. Unfortunately, Red Pig True Monarch wholeheartedly sided with the Jiuqu League and attracted the Jiuqu League's reinforcements.

Dong Qiang True Monarch and his followers took the opportunity to quickly escape.

Red Pig True Monarch personally conducted a purge of the Dark Alliance branch, completely eliminating Dong Qiang True Monarch's faction.

However, he was helpless against Dong Qiang True Monarch and his group, who had escaped.

Both Jade Sword Sect and Azure Origin Sect organized large-scale searches, turning the entire Jiuqu League upside down.

Cultivators of Primordial Spirit True Monarch level, with the intention of hiding, couldn't be easily found using conventional means.

Moreover, according to the Jiuqu League's high-level judgment, Wen Dong True Monarch and his group had likely already escaped the Jiuqu League's territory.

The Primordial Spirit True Monarchs participating in the search also knew that they were wasting their efforts. Their grand search was just for show.

Jade Sword Sect and Azure Origin Sect had their own purposes in doing so. Dali Dynasty's spy had caused such a commotion within the Jiuqu League, and they had to do something.

First, they needed to account for their actions, and secondly, they had to appease people's minds.

A bunch of Primordial Spirit True Monarchs flying around Jiuqu League's territory, back and forth, busied themselves for quite some time.

Finally, with no news of the Dali Dynasty spy, Jade Sword Sect and Azure Origin Sect had no choice but to disperse these Primordial Spirit True Monarchs.

During this time, Meng Zhang joined everyone in action and made some friends among his fellow cultivators, becoming somewhat familiar to them.

After the operation ended, Jade Sword Sect and Azure Origin Sect fell into conflict again.

Jade Sword Sect believed that Dali Dynasty's secret infiltration into the Jiuqu League amounted to a declaration of war.

If the Jiuqu League didn't respond appropriately, its reputation and dignity would be lost. How could it make the major cultivation factions in the league believe in it?

Jade Sword Sect proposed that the Jiuqu League should immediately concentrate its forces and launch a retaliatory strike against Dali Dynasty.

As expected, Azure Origin Sect flatly refused Jade Sword Sect's proposal.

Azure Origin Sect feared that such action would trigger a full-scale war between the Jiuqu League and Dali Dynasty, leading to serious consequences.

With many supporters within the Jiuqu League, there was no way for Jade Sword Sect to smoothly pass anything that Azure Origin Sect opposed.

The proposal being rejected and unable to take action against Dali Dynasty made everyone in Jade Sword Sect angry.

To Jade Sword Sect, this was merely appeasing the enemy and would only allow Dali Dynasty to gain more advantages step by step.

After this incident, Jade Sword Sect lost all hope in Azure Origin Sect. They no longer had any attachment to the Jiuqu League as an organization.

Jade Sword Sect no longer harbored any illusions and began to fully prepare to leave the Jiuqu League.

After becoming a Primordial Spirit, Meng Zhang automatically became a Senator of the Jiuqu League.

Even though he didn't actively pursue power and had no real authority, his status was there, and he had channels to learn about the winds and rains among the high-ranking members of the Jiuqu League, as well as various news.

As someone who had been clinging to Jade Sword Sect, Meng Zhang also lost respect for the Jiuqu League as an organization and no longer bothered to put on an act.

As a Senator of the Jiuqu League, after achieving Primordial Spirit, he never visited the league's headquarters, Jiuqu City.

Furthermore, Meng Zhang began to gradually withdraw Taiyi Sect's branch organizations and personnel from the Jiuqu League.

Originally, Taiyi Sect had sent a Gold Core cultivator to Jiuqu City as an Elder representing the Jiuqu League.

But with Meng Zhang's orders, this Gold Core cultivator began preparations to withdraw as well.

In the south of the Jiuqu League, aside from a few necessary commercial organizations, Taiyi Sect had completely withdrawn, concentrating all its strength in the north.

Although Meng Zhang didn't have much confidence in Azure Origin Sect and Jade Sword Sect, and believed that even if the Jiuqu League didn't split, they would likely not be able to withstand Dali Dynasty, after experiencing these events, he also abandoned the idea of secretly contacting the Dali Dynasty. Instead, he began to actively prepare Taiyi Sect to deal with Dali Dynasty's potential invasion.

Taiyi Sect's proactive attitude towards preparation pleased Jade Sword Sect's leaders and indirectly earned Meng Zhang some credit in their eyes.

In reality, all the factions within the Jade Sword Sect's camp had given up unrealistic illusions and were preparing to face the upcoming war.

After the events in the Dark Alliance branch, Red Pig True Monarch didn't go back on his words. When the situation stabilized a bit, he sent Meng Zhang's old friend, Luo Ye Daoist Master, with the promised benefits, to Taiyi Sect's mountain gate, Hundred Grass Slope.

Sect Master's Immortal Journey #Chapter 747: Just Before the End - Read Sect Master's Immortal Journey Chapter 747: Just Before the End

Chapter 747: Just Before the End

Initially, Meng Zhang had promised to lend a hand to Red Pig True Monarch and his faction, not only because of the face of his old friend, Luo Ye Daoist Master, but also to gain friendship with their sect. However, after True Monarch Crossing Blade betrayed them, Meng Zhang could have left without hesitation. Facing an unfavorable situation and the powerful Dali Dynasty, it was only natural for him to retreat.

In order to persuade Meng Zhang to stay and help, Red Pig True Monarch offered him attractive conditions. While Meng Zhang didn't stay solely for these benefits, he couldn't refuse since Red Pig True Monarch had such intentions.

Luo Ye Daoist Master brought many valuable items this time: ten bottles of Nine Heavens Refined Essence, thirty strands of pure jade inspiration, and Fourth Rank spiritual objects like Chi Yang Sand, Yin Ming Stone, Tai Yin Sand Dust, and Slaughter Stone. If Meng Zhang and Taiyi Sect were to collect these items on their own, it would likely take decades, and they might not even succeed.

Seeing Red Pig True Monarch produce so much, it demonstrated Dark Alliance's wealth and his sincerity in the cooperation. After a pleasant collaboration and witnessing Meng Zhang's strength, Red Pig True Monarch was eager to befriend this promising newcomer.

With the imminent upheaval in the Jiuqu League, the weakened Dark Alliance faction and Taiyi Sect needed each other, so forming an alliance made sense. Although Taiyi Sect was currently aligned with Jade Sword Sect, it didn't prevent Meng Zhang from gaining allies and forming small groups.

Now that Meng Zhang and Red Pig True Monarch had an agreement, they could be considered friends who could face the changing circumstances together.

Before Meng Zhang, Luo Ye Daoist Master had achieved the Gold Core stage, but reaching the Primordial Spirit stage was still a distant goal. Until then, she was just a minor figure unable to decide significant matters. However, now that Taiyi Sect and Dark Alliance were on the same side, it alleviated many of her previous worries.

Around this time, a momentous conversation took place at the Yellow Lotus Sect Main Altar, located in the heart of the Jiuqu League, near the border between the north and south.

Yellow Lotus Sect held a prominent position both geographically and in terms of power, making it the third major force in the Jiuqu League, besides Azure Origin Sect and Jade Sword Sect. During its heyday, Yellow Lotus Sect maintained neutrality and acted as a buffer and mediator between the two giants.

However, after Yellow Lotus Sect's decline, no other faction within the Jiuqu League could assume its former role. Direct conflicts erupted repeatedly between Jade Sword Sect and Azure Origin Sect, sowing the seeds of a complete rupture in the future.

As the Jiuqu League was on the verge of splitting, the Dali Dynasty could launch a massive attack at any moment, making it an unprecedented period of change. Unfortunately, Yellow Lotus Sect was facing internal conflicts and constant infighting at this critical juncture, disappointing those with insight among their cultivators.

At this pivotal moment, Xu Haohai, the most senior figure in Yellow Lotus Sect, and a Primordial Spirit True Monarch, called for the presence of Saintess Xu Mengying and personally tried to persuade her. Xu Haohai had suffered severe injuries in the past and had never fully recovered. Now, in his old age, his lifespan was nearing its end.

Normally, he would remain in seclusion, striving to extend his life. If he were in better condition, Yellow Lotus Sect wouldn't have experienced such severe division. Firstly, Xu Haoran True Monarch's abilities were average, making it difficult for him to suppress the entire sect. Secondly, many forces within the Jiuqu League were pleased to see Yellow

Lotus Sect divided, and both overtly and covertly, many individuals interfered in their internal affairs, preventing the sect from reuniting.

If not for the changes in the Jiuqu League situation over the years, True Monarch Mountain Peak might not have had the opportunity to try and unify Yellow Lotus Sect.

Of course, it was also due to the fear of Xu Haoran True Monarch. The various sub-altars and the Main Altar of Yellow Lotus Sect appeared united on the surface, but they were constantly in conflict with each other. However, at least outwardly, no sub-altar dared to officially break away from Yellow Lotus Sect and stand on their own.

After achieving the Primordial Spirit stage at True Monarch Mountain Peak, Saintess Xu Mengying could barely contend with him, largely relying on the support of Xu Haohai True Monarch. If not for Xu Haohai True Monarch's presence, True Monarch Mountain Peak might have already unified the entire Yellow Lotus Sect.

After Xu Mengying achieved the Primordial Spirit stage, she had the strength to rival True Monarch Mountain Peak. According to her plan, by uniting with Xu Haoran True Monarch, she should be able to overpower True Monarch Mountain Peak.

However, people's thoughts can change, especially Xu Haoran True Monarch, who was approaching his end. He began considering the situation of Yellow Lotus Sect after his death and what he would leave behind for the sect. He felt some self-hatred for his incompetence, as he had helplessly watched Yellow Lotus Sect split over the years without being able to stop it.

He was not blind or deaf, and he was well aware of the current situation in the Jiuqu League. He didn't want to leave behind a divided Yellow Lotus Sect to face the impending challenges after he was gone. Therefore, he let go of his previous animosity towards True Monarch Mountain Peak and his aversion to them. He hoped Xu Mengying and True Monarch Mountain Peak could become friends and unite the entire Yellow Lotus Sect to face various challenges.

As death approached, Xu Haoran True Monarch believed that his persuasive words before his demise would convince Xu Mengying to accept the idea. Once Xu Mengying was on board, convincing True Monarch Mountain Peak wouldn't be a problem either.

Previously, Xu Haoran True Monarch had already been in contact with True Monarch Mountain Peak and reached a consensus on many issues. Looking at Xu Haoran True Monarch's declining appearance, Xu Mengying felt deep sorrow. This senior who had always taken care of her, protected her, and acted as her greatest support, was soon to pass away.

Even more heartbreaking was the fact that she would have to go against Xu Haoran True Monarch's dying wish and continue to fight against True Monarch Mountain Peak. The enmity between her and True Monarch Mountain Peak was not something that could be easily resolved. Even if it meant staking the entire Yellow Lotus Sect, she would not compromise in the slightest.

Xu Mengying didn't want to deceive a dying person, nor did she want to make false promises. Faced with Xu Haoran True Monarch's hopeful gaze, she could only remain silent. With Xu Haoran True Monarch approaching the end, his remaining days could be counted in terms of days, and he couldn't force Xu Mengying to do anything.

His final words before his death didn't make Xu Mengying give up on the grudge between her and True Monarch Mountain Peak. Instead, it strengthened her determination to cut ties completely with them. Relying solely on her own strength, she couldn't defeat True Monarch Mountain Peak. Within Yellow Lotus Sect, besides Xu Haoran True Monarch, who was nearing death, there were no other Primordial Spirit True Monarchs.

Originally, she wanted to take her time and challenge True Monarch Mountain Peak personally, but since she decided to sever all ties, she would no longer hesitate to seek help from outside. Even though Xu Mengying achieved the Primordial Spirit stage after Meng Zhang, she still had some connections with other Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, thanks to the legacy of Yellow Lotus Sect. However, it was unlikely that she could get them to help her in besieging True Monarch Mountain Peak.

Thus, Xu Mengying True Monarch thought of Meng Zhang, an old friend she had collaborated with before.

Sect Master's Immortal Journey #Chapter 748: Friends - Read Sect Master's Immortal Journey Chapter 748: Friends Chapter 748: Friends

When Xu Mengying thought of her old friend, Meng Zhang, he was busy cultivating after bidding farewell to Luo YeDaoist Master. Taiyi Sect had developed significantly, boasting a considerable number of Gold Core cultivators and a vast amount of Foundation Building cultivators.

At this level of cultivation, these cultivators were qualified to travel around and explore the mysteries of the world. Some fortunate individuals stumbled upon precious spiritual treasures during their journeys. Besides using these treasures for themselves, they would exchange them for valuable techniques and enrich the sect's treasury.

Taiyi Sect managed this aspect quite well. The higher-ups in the sect did not secretly covet their disciples' gains, nor did they engage in underhanded actions. Even if they admired what their disciples obtained, they would approach them fairly and trade with mutual benefit.

The current sect rules of Taiyi Sect were personally established by Sect Master Meng Zhang. In terms of enforcement, they were strict. As the former head of the Law Enforcement Hall, Meng Zhang was responsible for overseeing the implementation of these rules. Acts such as being greedy for wealth or harming fellow disciples were absolutely forbidden.

Taiyi Sect's lower-level disciples would not dare to openly snatch even the grandest of treasures they found, thanks to the strict adherence to a righteous atmosphere and rigorous rules. Among the numerous sects in the Jiuqu League, Taiyi Sect was considered one of the most disciplined.

Taiyi Sect would never covet their disciples' external gains; instead, they encouraged disciples to exchange surplus spiritual treasures with the sect through various systems. The path of opportunity was unpredictable, and even a Refining Qi stage cultivator could, through sheer luck, obtain spiritual treasures required by True Monarchs of the Primordial Spirit realm.

Moreover, Taiyi Sect was already a powerful Primordial Spirit sect, and all cultivators in the sect would try to collect various spiritual treasures.

By chance, Meng Zhang checked the sect's treasury and unexpectedly found several Heaven and Earth Spiritual Objects that would be very useful for his magic tools. Although he was only a Third Rank tool refiner, he had many means to maintain and help his Third Rank magic tools evolve.

The Yin Yang Spirit Gourd was Meng Zhang's natal magic tool, and he valued it the most, investing the most effort into it. However, precisely because this magic tool had immense potential and profound mysteries, advancing it was also the most challenging.

The Spiritsnake Spear was a lethal spiritual weapon passed down from Taiyi Sect's ancestors. It possessed tremendous power and terrifying killing potential, proving its worth in numerous battles. The previously damaged Spiritsnake Spear had been repaired long ago, and now, Meng Zhang had invested considerable resources in it, hoping it would evolve into a Fourth Rank magic tool.

As for the Sun Moon Treasure Pearl, Meng Zhang had not given it enough attention before. Originally, it was a magic tool he refined to assist in using the Sun and Moon Divine Light Divine Ability while practicing the "Sun-Moon Wheel Turning Sutra." However, after Meng Zhang advanced to the Primordial Spirit stage and cultivated the Yin Yang Grand Dao, his proficiency in the Sun-Moon Avenue was also significant. He quickly elevated the Sun and Moon Divine Light to a Great Divine Ability.

Due to his past experiences, Meng Zhang had acquired some high-level sun and moon-type spiritual treasures. Gradually, he integrated these treasures into the Sun Moon Treasure Pearl, causing it to undergo a mutation. It was no longer just a simple aid for the Sun and Moon Divine Light; it acquired several new functions. Meng Zhang speculated that this magic tool, initially the least valued, might be the first to advance to a Fourth Rank.

As for his original Third Rank flying sword, Meng Zhang had already eliminated it from his battle magic tool sequence and used it primarily as a communication flying sword. He was quite talented in the way of the sword and had diligently cultivated superior sword techniques. He tried using the Great Divine Ability, Twin Forms Towards Heaven Sword, to perform several sword moves and discovered that the results were unexpectedly impressive. With his current mastery of the Yin Yang Grand Dao, the power of the sword energy from Twin Forms Towards Heaven Sword surpassed that of an ordinary Fourth Rank flying sword.

As for various auxiliary storage magic tools, Meng Zhang carried quite a few of them. However, he knew that having too many combat magic tools wasn't necessarily better. Each additional magic tool required more mental effort to control. Meng Zhang's plan was to have three to five frequently used magic tools and at most 2-3 backup magic tools.

Unfortunately, Fourth Rank magic tools were scarce, and Taiyi Sect's accumulation was insufficient. Up to this point, Meng Zhang didn't even possess a single Fourth Rank magic tool. In the Cultivation World, even Primordial Spirit True Monarchs often lacked usable magic tools, and many had to make do with Third Rank magic tools during battles.

Just as Meng Zhang was striving for his Fourth Rank magic tools, Yellow Lotus Sect's Saintess, Xu Mengying, secretly came to visit him. Upon hearing the report of Xu Mengying's visit from a trusted disciple, Meng Zhang met her in secret as she requested.

When they met, both of them couldn't help but feel emotional. Back when they fought side by side in the Grand Crossing Cultivation Circle, they were only Gold Core cultivators. Now, they had both become Primordial Spirit True Monarchs. They both knew that the other must have encountered great opportunities to make such progress.

After some brief greetings, Xu Mengying got straight to the point. She asked Meng Zhang to help her secretly ambush True Monarch Mountain Peak. Meng Zhang had already speculated about Xu Mengying's intention, but hearing it directly from her still surprised him. Considering the current tense situation in the Jiuqu League, covertly attacking a Primordial Spirit True Monarch was a daring move.

Given the delicate situation, Meng Zhang was not eager to take action. Despite his animosity towards True Monarch Mountain Peak and his desire to eliminate it as soon as possible, he didn't want to act at this particular moment. However, he didn't immediately refuse Xu Mengying's request; he wanted to hear what conditions she would offer.

Xu Mengying explained her well-prepared plan for ambushing True Monarch Mountain Peak, assuring Meng Zhang that the chances of success were high, and their operation would remain secret. However, she found it challenging to offer a reward that would entice Meng Zhang to assist her. Yellow Lotus Sect did have several Fourth Rank magic tools passed down by previous Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, but she was unwilling to let them leave the sect.

Knowing she couldn't offer enough enticement, Xu Mengying employed her expertise in negotiation. She first provided Meng Zhang with a detailed explanation of the current situation in the Jiuqu League. Then she stressed the importance of maintaining their friendship and alliance, given their history of fighting side by side.

Xu Mengying proposed that once she gained control of the entire Yellow Lotus Sect, she would form an alliance with Taiyi Sect to face various challenges together. She was prepared to persuade Meng Zhang with a lengthy discourse, but to her surprise, as soon as she finished speaking, Meng Zhang readily agreed to her request.

Meng Zhang was willing to become her ally and assist her in ambushing True Monarch Mountain Peak. This unexpected ease of acceptance raised doubts in Xu Mengying's mind, making her wonder if Meng Zhang had ulterior motives.

Sect Master's Immortal Journey #Chapter 749: Forming an Alliance - Read Sect Master's Immortal Journey Chapter 749: Forming an Alliance

Chapter 749: Forming an Alliance

Meng Zhang didn't have any malicious intentions; he was just thinking about some things. Currently, the Taiyi Sect has joined forces with the Dark Alliance branch, and having Xu Mengying as a friend is a great advantage. With the impending upheaval, having more friends is better, especially someone like Xu Mengying, a Primordial Spirit True Monarch, not to mention the backing of the Yellow Lotus Sect.

Helping each other among friends is only natural. Of course, before Meng Zhang aids Xu Mengying in killing the True Monarch Mountain Peak, Xu Mengying can help him with a small favor. To the west of the Demon Wind Gobi, large areas are still occupied by the Sea Clan.

The Sea Clan suffered a defeat in their last major battle, stopping just outside the Red Rock Valley. Afterward, they constantly eyed the Demon Wind Gobi, seeking vulnerabilities in the Taiyi Sect. When Taiyi Sect was in a weak position, the Sea Clan repeatedly provoked them. If it weren't for Meng Zhang's timely intervention to deter them, who knows what they might have done.

If the Dali Dynasty launches a large invasion of the Jiuqu League and Taiyi Sect engages in the war, they won't be able to continue focusing on the Sea Clan. At that time, the Sea Clan might take advantage of the situation and strike. They pose a significant threat.

Facing such a formidable enemy like the Dali Dynasty, they should clean up their own backyard and eliminate potential dangers. Taiyi Sect's current strength is not afraid of direct confrontation with the Sea Clan's army. However, Meng Zhang alone cannot defeat two Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts.

Initially, he was planning to seek help from the Dark Alliance branch, but now that Xu Mengying has come forward on her own, he won't miss this opportunity for assistance. After listening to Meng Zhang's request for help against the Sea Clan, she agreed to it before he would assist her in dealing with the True Monarch Mountain Peak.

In the past, during the Grand Crossing Cultivation Circle, it was Meng Zhang who helped with matters first, and Xu Mengying paid later. This time, it was Xu Mengying's turn to act first.

Her visit to Meng Zhang this time wasn't just to deal with the True Monarch Mountain Peak; she was also aware of the ambitious plans of the Dali Dynasty toward the Jiuqu League. The internal division of the Jiuqu League between the Azure Origin Sect and the Jade Sword Sect had yet to be finally decided.

Apart from keeping her options open, she was genuinely unsure of where to go. Joining the Dali Dynasty would be a last resort and only in dire circumstances. If sects like the Yellow Lotus Sect were to align with the Dali Dynasty without special consideration, their future wouldn't be promising.

Regardless of what happens in the future, forming an alliance with Taiyi Sect now would ensure mutual support. Whether it's facing the Sea Clan's army or killing the True Monarch Mountain Peak, it serves as a sincere gesture of alliance.

While Xu Mengying has personal grievances with the True Monarch Mountain Peak, she still holds affection for the Yellow Lotus Sect, the sect that raised her. Whenever she has the opportunity, she will try to find a better path for her sect.

After discussing, Meng Zhang and Xu Mengying agreed on the general terms of the alliance. They took this alliance seriously and made a solemn commitment. As two Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, they vowed to support each other in the future. Even if they are on different sides, they cannot treat each other as enemies but rather help each other as much as possible.

A Grand Dao oath is the most reliable pledge, witnessed by the will of heaven. Violating such an oath would incur the backlash of the Grand Dao's power. No Primordial Spirit True Monarch dares to easily break a Grand Dao oath. The binding power of a Grand Dao oath far surpasses that of ghostly and demonic pledges.

After making the Grand Dao oath, Meng Zhang and Xu Mengying became trustworthy allies. As for the specific details of their alliance, they would delegate negotiations to their subordinates in the future.

Xu Mengying is not yet the leader of the Yellow Lotus Sect, and her power within the sect is still not on par with the True Monarch Mountain Peak. Until she deals with the True Monarch Mountain Peak, she won't be able to mobilize the entire strength of the Yellow Lotus Sect.

Their first action after forming the alliance was to drive out the Sea Clan occupying the western part of the Demon Wind Gobi. True Monarch Azure Mist and Jin Li True Monarch of the Azure Origin Sect had established a non-aggression agreement with two Fourth Rank experts from the Sea Clan, leading to a long period of peace. However, that agreement had no involvement with Meng Zhang since he was just a Gold Core cultivator at the time.

Meng Zhang planned to swiftly defeat the Sea Clan in their upcoming operation rather than completely exterminating them. His goal was to expel them from the Demon Wind Gobi and prevent future incursions.

Meng Zhang decided to employ a decapitation strategy, targeting the Fourth Rank experts on the Sea Clan's side first. He recalled that during the standoff with True Monarch Azure Mist and Jin Li True Monarch, there were two Fourth Rank experts from the Sea Clan, namely Hai Duomou of the Merfolk Clan and Meng Dali of the Sea Patrolling Yaksha.

While True Dragon Ying Gaofei was strong, being a Third Rank expert, he wouldn't have much influence in a battle between Fourth Rank experts. To ensure success, Meng Zhang sought other allies.

His first choice was Jin Li True Monarch, but she had been in seclusion and unreachable. All attempts to contact her had failed, and Meng Zhang was unsure of her current activities.

Considering the risks involved in forcefully interrupting Jin Li True Monarch during her critical cultivation phase, Meng Zhang decided against it, fearing it might turn a friend into an enemy.

Furthermore, even if he managed to convince Elder Beast Fury's group, they were currently preoccupied and unlikely to lend their aid. However, the Dark Alliance branch was responsive to his request for assistance and sent Book Mountain True Monarch, despite their need for combat power.

Book Mountain True Monarch may have only been in the early stages of Primordial Spirit cultivation, but he possessed formidable abilities, well-versed in various Divine Ability secrets, making even the mid-stage Red Pig True Monarch value him greatly.

Upon receiving Meng Zhang's call for help, Book Mountain True Monarch left the Dark Alliance and joined Meng Zhang at the Taiyi Sect's Hundred Grass Slope.

After the trio gathered, they didn't rush to leave but spent time exchanging information and even sparingly practiced and familiarized themselves with each other's combat styles.

Over the years, Taiyi Sect had been closely monitoring their neighbor, the Sea Clan, and invested significant effort in gathering intelligence. Their scouts were almost always active, gathering information about the Sea Clan.

After reviewing this intelligence, the three of them devised a simple operational plan before setting out on their mission.

Next Chap=> #750: Gets the Gate

Chapter 750: Gets the Gate

Before taking action, Meng Zhang had already considered the situation. With just the three of them, it would be difficult to detain the two Fourth Rank experts from the Sea Clan. Therefore, from the beginning, his plan was not to kill them but to drive them away, ideally inflicting serious injuries in the process.

Over the years, Taiyi Sect had dispatched numerous Gold Core Daoist Masters to secretly infiltrate the western seas, gathering intelligence on the Sea Clan. The sect was abundant with experts at the Gold Core level, especially since they provided better conditions for disciples to advance to that stage, resulting in a steady increase in the number of Gold Core disciples.

In this context, although Meng Zhang felt reluctant, he understood that for some purpose, even losing a few Gold Core disciples wouldn't affect the overall situation. The Taiyi Sect was actively preparing for potential attacks from the Dali Dynasty but had never relaxed its guard against the Sea Clan, which could be a hindrance.

The Taiyi Sect disciples who ventured deep into the western seas risked their lives to bring back valuable information. The Sea Clan was massive and formidable, but it was not a united force; it consisted of various tribes and factions engaged in internal conflicts.

The invading army of the Sea Clan that had infiltrated the Demon Wind Gobi was just a joint force of the Merfolk Clan and the Sea Patrolling Yaksha Clan. Their ability to dispatch two Fourth Rank experts to invade the mainland was already pushing their limits. If they continued to draw power from the sea, it would leave their homeland vulnerable to attacks from rival tribes.

Thanks to accurate intelligence, Meng Zhang had devised his current plan and dared to take the initiative. Accompanied by Xu Mengying and Book Mountain True Monarch, he flew westward at high speed, ignoring the various Sea Clan strongholds below and heading straight for the headquarters of the Sea Clan army.

Powerful beings like a Primordial Spirit True Monarch were easily detectable by fellow cultivators if they didn't intentionally hide their traces. Such experts could establish their territories in the Cultivation World. Whether it was a Human Clan Primordial Spirit True Monarch or others, they would leave behind their unique aura in their territories, like a beast marking its territory.

If foreign peers sensed these auras from afar, they would know it was the territory of a Fourth Rank expert and wouldn't rashly invade.

As Meng Zhang and his companions entered the occupied area of the Sea Clan army, they immediately sensed the auras left by the two Fourth Rank experts of the Sea Clan. Each Fourth Rank expert had a distinct aura that couldn't be imitated by others.

Following these auras, they flew directly towards the source. Hai Duomou of the Merfolk Clan and Meng Dali of the Sea Patrolling Yaksha Clan were not hiding their presence when they stayed within the army. They released their unique aura without reservation, proclaiming their existence to the outside world.

The aura of Fourth Rank experts was like rising smoke signals, particularly eye-catching in the world, instilling confidence in their subordinates.

Meng Zhang and his companions flew at an extremely fast speed, occasionally spotted by some Sea Clan experts below. However, by the time the experts tried to get a closer look, the figures had already disappeared without a trace.

The Sea Clan army had established numerous bases in the area, and patrol teams were constantly on the move, maintaining tight defenses. Yet, even the most stringent defense was futile against the three Human Clan Primordial Spirit True Monarchs, who effortlessly broke through all obstacles and arrived outside a large camp.

At this moment, the three Human Clan Primordial Spirit True Monarchs were equally unabashed, releasing their auras without restraint. The aura of peers was as conspicuous as a lighthouse in the dark, immediately alarming the two Fourth Rank experts from the Sea Clan.

Hai Duomou was quite vigilant. As soon as he sensed the rapid approach of fellow experts, he flew out from the camp and looked ahead warily. Behind them, Ying Gaoferi of the True Dragon Clan led a group of Sea Clan Third Rank experts, also flying into the sky, focusing on the front.

They didn't have to wait long before Meng Zhang and his companions arrived.

Meng Zhang looked at the two Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts without wasting any words and went straight to the point.

"If you immediately lead the Sea Clan army back to the sea, we will turn around and leave. But if you stay here, don't blame us for taking advantage of the numbers."

The two Sea Clan experts valued their reputation. If they were forced to retreat by Meng Zhang's words, how could they establish a foothold on the sea and face other Sea Clan experts?

Hai Duomou hadn't spoken yet when the irritable Meng Dali angrily shouted and took the initiative to attack.

"Young Human Clan brat, don't talk big. If you want us to retreat, show us what you're capable of."

Seeing Meng Dali already making a move, Hai Duomou no longer delayed and immediately joined the fight.

Both Sea Clan experts had fought in the seas for many years, experienced countless battles, and had encountered various situations. Even if they were at a numerical disadvantage, they would still fight; retreat was not an option.

The side with more numbers didn't always guarantee victory. The outcome of the battle depended on their respective abilities.

By conventional standards, Meng Zhang and Xu Mengying had only recently achieved Primordial Spirit, and they seemed relatively inexperienced. Even with Book Mountain True Monarch's help, they might not be able to defeat two Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts.

However, since Meng Zhang dared to come, he must have had confidence in his abilities.

He had fought alongside Book Mountain True Monarch and knew that this low-key senior was exceptionally powerful, capable of overpowering any of the Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts.

Xu Mengying, though weaker, should be able to play a restraining role. Meanwhile, Meng Zhang would seek an opportunity to seriously injure the opponents.

The Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts could also utilize the power of Grand Dao and use it as their trump card. Hai Duomou manipulated the power of the Water Grand Dao, creating visible waves and dancing water dragons in the sky.

Due to their cultivation techniques and living environment, most Sea Clan Fourth Rank experts excelled in the Water Grand Dao.

As for the usually brave and combative Meng Dali, he was particularly proficient in the relatively rare Strength Grand Dao.

By using strength to break cleverness, he displayed an unrivaled brute force in the sky, dispersing the enemy's Grand Dao power.

Meanwhile, Book Mountain True Monarch stood with folded arms, and scrolls of books descended from the sky, emanating a strong aura of enlightenment.

This was the Innate Sacred Virtue Grand Dao, one of the top Grand Daos among the three thousand, exceedingly difficult to cultivate.

Xu Mengying let out a tender shout, and a myriad of butterflies fluttered through the sky, causing her figure to disappear.

Empowered by the Illusion Grand Dao, her illusionary divine ability was not only hard to see through but also had a potent killing effect.