

Shadow 1481

Chapter 1481 And Now....

Hikigaya could see the way those two look at him and he smiles.

'Yang Xuan the Butcher of Henan' Hikigaya said.

He did read the briefing about members of the Red Table and members of the Crime Alliance.

Yang Xuan is a butcher who killed tens of thousands of people he flayed his victims and torture them.

What he did to people shows that he is more beast than he is a human. His bloodlust and the resentment around him are even higher than Martinez.

There is no shred of remorse in him. Hikigaya found this out when their eyes locked with each other

In that moment Hikigaya trapped him into a prison. This prison of the mind is generated by one remorse.

But the prison is empty and it was at this moment that Hikigaya knows that he had no remorse.

So, the prison is changed into a torture room.

All the torture, all the pain he inflicted upon his victims is inflicted back on him. It is an illusion. But the mind believes it is true.

You would be surprised to know how the mind controls parts of your body.

Yang Xuan has minimal defense against the mental magic.

He is not like Death Monarch whose divine sense is so powerful that trying to pry into his mind is like trying to throw an egg into a titanium door.

Yang Xuan mind is easily invaded and the torture of the mind affect his body and thus happened the scene of him blowing himself up

This kind of monsters should not live in the world even a second longer.

Hikigaya was never the kind of righteous person like Raymond or someone who hated criminals like Katarina and Death Monarch

But that does not mean he is all generous and benevolent

He is a world and he sees some terrible shit in the world, trying to survive

He knows there is darkness in people and there is also light.

And because of the baptism of hardship and cruelty of the world, even though he also changed, he did not change too much.

But, when he sees such a monster standing in front of him and he has the power to kill such monsters, how could he not do it.

All he did was put him under an illusion, making him think his energy reverses and the moment that Yang Xuan believes this, he is dead.

Thus, he exploded into pieces of meat.

He kills a person without even moving. He then looks at the three people in front of him, smiles and then he laughed

'And now.... there is three'

The sound of the thunder seems dimmer and the sea waves seems to have calmed down. Right now, the area of the city of Arturia is mostly empty.

The common people have been evacuated a long time ago and the soldiers are fighting near the shore.

Death Monarch and Kaiju on the other hand has gone too far that it did not affect the island anymore

It is only around the platform there is some action.

The people on the execution platform shouted for their leader but the three people did not have time to acknowledge them.

Instead, they are looking at Hikigaya.

One of them has died.

Just like that

They could not help but think of how easy it was for Hikigaya to kill Yang Xuan and shudder a bit.

Even though the blame is on Yang Xuan for forgetting the warning that Amaterasu had given him, this is the first time a Disk Formation leveler could see the true power of a Divine Comprehension leveler.

One gaze is all it takes.

Hikigaya smiles looking at the cautious expression of these three people.

He could not explain to them that there are many factors on why he is able to do such a thing

He could see that Yang Xuan has deep hidden injury that is patched up all over his body.

This hidden injury is not like wounds of internal damage but energy of people seeping deep into his core of energy.

With the right stimulation it is like he detonates a bomb inside Yang Xuan body

He could also see that he has suicidal thoughts in his mind.

Hikigaya saw this in that brief moment when he looks at him.

Of course, for someone who lacks any empathy and remorse like Yang Xuan, how is it that he would have such suicidal thought?

It is nothing more than the accumulated resentment trying to confuse him. And Hikigaya could tell that the people who tried to kill Yang Xuan in the past tries to use hexes and cruses and these hexes and curses, even though it failed it leaves a mark.

Negative thoughts are the lingering of these curses. Given enough time, or meeting a powerful priest class or healer this kind of lingering danger could easily be solved.

But Yang Xuan probably did not even notice these lingering traces of the curses and hexes and that is another backdoor that Hikigaya had uses.

He uses all of these factors to confuse his mind and made him blows himself up. To the world, it looks like one gaze is all it takes for him to blow up a Disk Formation leveler.

only the one involved know how hard it is to replicate what he did.

Disk Formation levelers are not cabbage on the street

Even in the Universe, they are a big figure of power and could be a lord of any planet.

Look at Death Monarch.

Even when he is in Disk Formation, he could fight against Divine Comprehension leveler.

Even Hikigaya even though he does not think he would be able to kill a Divine Comprehension leveler, he would still have the ability to at least survive.

Maybe, he would be battered and beaten, but he could still run away. Disk Formation levelers means of surviving is many.

If Yang Xuan is even a tad bit careful...he would not have such a pathetic end.

Right now, the whole world misunderstood and thought that Hikigaya kills Yang Xuan with a single gaze.

However, how could Hikigaya smash down his own prestige. HE would not explain the twist and turns of him killing Yang Xuan.

That would be an idiotic move

The more they think that Hikigaya kills such a person that easily would only make him stronger in this confrontation

The wind blows and the dust around the platform rises up

they all stare at each other and the moment passes and Hikigaya laughed

'Will none of you make the move?'

They did not move forward but they did not retreat either. It seems they know that Hikigaya could not move from the area right now

And they also seem to know that unless they let their guard down like Yang Xuan, they would not end the same way

Martinez and Amaterasu look at him with a cautious expression. But it was Mister Moscow that Hikigaya look at.

Because this person wears a mask, it is hard to know what he is thinking.

Even his eyes could not see through that mask.

And that is something. It shielded his mind from him.

Hikigaya might not be Hirate but he does also have the ability to peer through one mind. Or it might be more accurate to say he peers through the emotions of people.

And then create an illusion in the mind using what he sees

Hikigaya face is very calm but only he knows how stormy his emotions are right now

'They must have known something' he thought to himself.

Hikigaya is the protector of this platform and the energy he is pouring out for his body to maintain this formation is very taxing.

But it is not something impossible for him.

But once he does it, he connects himself with the ground, with the island and if he got up from his chair or moves away from this platform, the defense would slowly be destroyed.

He designated himself as the focal point of the formation.

Because any other formation will always have the weak spot.

No matter how perfect a formation is, there is always that key spot where you could break it

Death Monarch wanted to win a perfect victory.

So, Arturia needs to stand. When the battle ends, this island continent must still be there

The battle between Divine Comprehension leveler could even wipe out an entire planet

It is unreasonable to think that Arturia would remain unscathed in a battle this large.

Even during the Multiversal Convergence, the fighting was everywhere and is not concentrated in one place.

Now, Arturia is a fighting place for many people.

Even right now, as these three people are facing Hikigaya, all over the island Disk Formation levelers are using their powers and abilities wantonly, creating all kinds of mystical phenomenon all over Heaven and Earth.

Unless, there is a powerful protection formation on it.

And so, this task falls onto Hikigaya.

He is now not only protecting the platform, he is also dividing his concentration to make sure that this island did not crumble because of so many people fighting on it, in it and above it.

If not for his invisible protection this island continent would have crumbled the moment the dark forces of the world and the world powers army clashed with each other.

These three people knows this.

But how did they know this? Death Monarch and Jean also knows this but they have no reason to sabotage him but then suddenly he chuckles

Because he remembers someone who also knows him and knows a lot about other people secrets

'I thought he would not participate. But judging from the fact you know I could not move from my throne...is it the Trickster?'

Chapter 1482 Divine Class

Hikigaya look at their face and he sighed.

'Like always, lurking in the background' he thought to himself. He closes his eyes for a second and his mind could not help but thought of that cheeky Trickster

They did not say anything but Hikigaya laughed

Just because they did not talk doesn't mean that their body language and face expression did not talk.

He could guess that it was Loki that told him about this matter

And if Loki is the one that told them about this matter, then what is his plans? Is he trying to destroy the plans of his brother? Hikigaya knows the hidden story of Loki.

He knows the one responsible for the Multiversal Convergence is not Loki but Death Monarch and that Speedster.

Loki takes the blame and Hirate helps him. So, he knows that Loki would never do something that would hurt his brother... hurt Death Monarch plan.

Because essentially, Loki is like an infiltrator to the Crime Alliance. This is not official but something understood tacitly by the people involved.

If not for this, Hirate would not believe Loki so much that he would send Raymond to take the trident.

Hirate, Hikigaya, Death Monarch, and Jean met a few days ago and talk about everything.

Some secrets that have ben buried before is brought up so that they all could stand on the same side.

However, he reminded himself of something. Loki.....is not someone that is easy to predict.

Before, Hikigaya wanted to take it easy but once Loki is involved, he become a little bit anxious.

'It seems that I have to move after all'

He sighed and then he waves his hand and a scepter appears in his hand.

It looks a lot like a scepter that mages would use in some fantasy stories.

The moment he did this Martinez, Amaterasu and Mister Moscow suddenly become alert.

They wanted to attack Hikigaya but they are not ready. That is why they did not move forward. But they also did not retreat because they know Hikigaya could not move from the area.

'Three people with Disk Formation realm. If I could mobilize all my powers, they are not much of a threat. But I could not and they are not normal Disk Formation levelers'

'Let see whether you could survive this'

Hikigaya throw the scepter to the ground but just before it falls into the ground, it turns into a person. And this person has the same face like Hikigaya

But if there is a difference it is that he did not wear robes like Hikigaya but instead wear tight fitting armor and there is a sword on his hand

He looks more like a warrior then a mage.

Hikigaya on the throne closes his eyes.

'Warrior class!' Amaterasu said. Amaterasu is the one that is most adaptable to Hikigaya methods because she once fights him before.

'He has perfected it' she thought. Amaterasu quickly said

'That is Hikigaya with the class of a Warrior. I don't know how he does it but I know he could summon an avatar just like him but have different classes and proficiency'

This warrior has the same face but his aura is nothing like the Hikigaya on the throne. And the cultivation of this avatar is between Disk Formation and Divine Comprehension realm.

Amaterasu narrowed her eyes and she believe this is because Hikigaya could not mobilize all of his power.

If he could, it would not be like this

Then this avatar of Hikigaya began jumping down from the third platform to the second.

Then he jumps to the first platform. His hand wielding a sword as he walks toward those three people

Mister Moscow look at this and then ask

'What should we do now?'

Martinez then added

'There is no order to engage'

Amaterasu clicked her tongue and spoke

'Even though there is no order to engage, how could we not engage if Hikigaya attack us' the other nodded and they are ready to fight.

Mister Moscow raise his hand and his entire body floated a bit above the ground and he slowly floats o the back. Martinez took to the front; his hand seems to crackles with white black aura.

There is something like a circle of energy around his hand. A circle that is black on the inside rings and the white on the outer ring.

Amaterasu on the other hand suddenly stimulated her power and her energy surges toward the sky.

A laser like beam pierces the clouds below and the energy of the world and beyond seems to be stimulated.

The spiral of energy gathering around her pushes everything around her.

'Today, I will pay back what you have given me!' Amaterasu shouted and her shout echoes all over the city

Her body slowly glowed and then

BOOOM!

A powerful force exploded from her and it was like a Sun suddenly appeared on the island.

The force washed the entire island continent.

The sound of laughter could be heard. People does not know whether the laughter belongs to Hikigaya or Amaterasu but the laughter lingers as the light illuminated everything around the island continent

This scene shocked everyone all over the world

'What the hell!'

'What's that?'

In the battlefield all over the island continent, everyone could hear the sound of the explosion. It felt like the blast sweeps all over the entire island.

The impact of this power seems powerful enough that it could even shook the entire island continent to crumble.

Those who watched this from their screen also could not help but stumble back.

Some who are using VR-like technology even fall down before realizing that they are not in that battle scene.

There is a tavern in a village. This village is far from any of the world powers influence. They are also distant enough from any other forces.

The area they live in is also dangerous enough that no pirates would sail here willingly.

This place is not in any of the Ten Seas or any of the continents. It is a piece of land that moves.

Sometimes, it moves on the ground and sometimes it swims the ocean.

The Storm Tide is a tortoise-like beast where it is the place where the high-ranking members of the League of Freedom lives

And this place is above a giant beast that have the head of a dragon but a body of a large turtle.

And on this place, there is many villages. And in one of these villages, they are also people looking at the screen watching this battle

These people in these taverns are all Disk Formation levelers. If they went out from this place and goes to the world, they could establish a city or even a country.

But they all gathered here and watch the screen with rapt attention.

They shook their head as they look at Hikigaya fighting the three villains of the dark force.

'I never knew that the Crime Alliance have such a powerful person'

Many people nodded

One of them said

'If this war did not happen, the Crime Alliance probably would keep this a secret and quietly grow and expand and when the time is right, they would once again reemerge in the world'

This person scoffed and spoke

'What a plan! What a scheme! A pity that sometimes circumstances does not always agree with the plan'

'Hahaha!' one of them laughed

'Why do we have to care so much about whether there is a scheme or plot. The fight is exciting enough. Don't you think!'

He laughed again while drinking a mouthful of beer and then he said

'Whether they go to war and tear each other to pieces it has nothing to do with us.'

The other people in the tavern all chuckles and nodded.

Even though the battle is shocking and the result of this battle would determine the status quo of the world, to these people who live in the back of this dragon turtle, they did not care much about the world or what happens to it

Anyway, even if the whole world exploded or destroyed, they could easily just fly out of the planet and goes to another planet.

If that planet is not habitable, they would use their abilities to make it habitable.

While the people in this tavern are laughing and enjoying watching the battle, there is someone who sat on the back of the tavern. His face is covered with a nondescript mask, showing only his eyes.

He is tall and his body is full of muscle. There is a large saber behind his back and he looks like a person with a story.

This person is none other than Fir Her Waz.

'Humans.... are powerful' he thought to himself as he looks at the battle on the screen. He closes his eyes and shake his head.

Even though the battle is exciting, it did not attract his attention that much. But he does note that the humans in this world are very powerful

'And it is all because of the All Source'

Fir Her Waz landed on Earth for months now. And his objective since then is to find the All Source.

But he found no clue until he found this dragon turtle.

He closes his eyes and the memory of her daughter, and her wife come into his mind and for a moment there is a smile on his face

...

Outside the tavern, there is an old man. One of his eyes is hollow and shriveled. He walked with a hunch and he wield a staff for support.

On his shoulders are two ravens

There is a smile on his face and he face his left and spoke

'Fly and make sure that this place is shielded'

The raven on his left scheduler fly to the sky and circle over the dragon turtle.

He turns to his right and spoke

'Fly and see the world' the raven on his right shoulder fly toward the sky and in just a few second this raven has disappeared

But the eye of this old man could see his raven sailing through the clouds with speed that is close to light. This One-eyed old man laughed

'The Trickster of Midgard. The disciple of my sworn rother. I could not make it easy for you when you are trying to make it hard for me, could I?' and he chuckles a bit, a trace of mischievousness in his eyes

And as he laughed, he enters the tavern

Chapter 1483 Eight Hundred Gods Appear

And light exploded out of her, blinding everyone.

Like a Sun is about to descend. And at this moment her entire attire changes. She is now dressed in what look like a traditional attire of Japan.

On her neck there is a necklace of jewel, each of the jewels emanated powerful fluctuation of energy.

And a vision suddenly appeared all over the sky of Arturia. This vision also seems to be competing with the Heavenly Will.

Hikigaya frowned a bit

'Divine class, huh. If this war did not happen, how could we draw you people out?' he thought to himself. Death Monarch had his reason for initiating this war. And Hikigaya has his reason.

Japan might seem powerful right now under his protection. But there is still a lot of enemies.

The enemy in the open is easy to guard against.

But not those enemies in the dark.

And he always wanted to bring them out into the open

Hikigaya always wanted to destroy Yomi.

Not because they are a criminal organization.

But because almost all of the high-ranking member of Yomi is people with divine class.

There is a reason why Hikigaya and Oreki could become the two undisputed warlords of Japan without anyone manage to contend with them

It is a history many people had forgotten.

That Oreki and Hikigaya joined hands with Yomi in the past

And they rise together.

Yomi rules the darkness and Oreki and Hikigaya rules the light.

One on the surface, in the open and one in the dark, hidden

This cooperation benefited each other.

Yomi kept the monsters, the criminals so vile that they could not even be called humans in check and Oreki and Hikigaya keep the peace

But monsters do what monsters does.

And even though they might hope that it would last, probably from the moment they ally with each other, they could feel that there is an expiration date to their alliance

The alliance broke, Yomi was broken and they had to flee and hide.

And then with Death Monarch declaring war on them, these criminal organization banded together to fight the world powers.

And now.... there is today scene.

Amaterasu is not his target. His target has always been Izanagi and Izanami.

But he clearly underestimated Amaterasu

'Pain is really the best stimulant drug' he mutters

The energy that Amaterasu is now emanating is almost reaching Divine Comprehension leveler.

Above her, there is an image, a projection of sorts, coming from the light she emanated

Hikigaya tries to send his Divine Sense to disrupt it but it felt like his divine sense collided with air, passing through nothing.

There is a titanic being bestowing necklace of jewel to Amaterasu.

And she sits high on the High Celestial Plain.

It then shows her entering a cave and darkness seems to fell upon the world. And it is the same darkness that is now enveloping the entire island continent

This is like a divine projection. Eight hundred myriads of gods appear above the sky, all of them have their unique appearance

The scenes show these eight hundred myriads gods collected cocks, whose crowing preceded the dawn

'Is that....' In the battlefield, fighting, Oreki could also see that projection.

This projection seems to be projected everywhere and seems to appear in their vision like they are looking at a story being unfolded

Oreki and his soldiers, Hikigaya and his devotes, people from Japan that fight in this battle all saw this and knows what this story is about

Amaterasu hides herself inside a cave, the world lost the light of the Sun and the gods crafted plot to bring Amaterasu out

In the projections, the gods then hung a mirror

They also hung jewels on a sakaki tree in front of the cave

The Goddess Amenouzume dances and Amaterasu came out of the cave to know why the gods could make merry while the world was plunged into darkness.

She went out, the cave is closed and Amaterasu is once again in the world, the light of the Sun shines again and the world regain life

This vision to any other person would seem a little bit weird but to people of Japan and to people who knows the mythology of Amaterasu, they did not find this weird.

Instead, it is very familiar to them

The vision ends and a mirror was formed from these visions, a minor that then falls into Amaterasu hand

Hikigaya could not fully understand what Amaterasu had done but he could understand that this must be some kind of ritual.

The light around Amaterasu had faded

'It's now!' Hikigaya thought in his mind and he moves his finger.

Below the platform, like it was responding to his finger movement, Hikigaya warrior avatar did not wait as he rushes toward Amaterasu.

Amaterasu saw the attack that is coming towards her and she smiles

'I will not be confident to attack you if you could use your whole power. But a slightly stronger Disk Formation avatar of yours? I am confident!' she shouted the words and light exploded out of her.

Only this time the light is like laser beams. Everywhere around these thousands of beams of light is heat. It pierces space and leaves it crack.

Hikigaya eyes narrowed.

'Warrior, fight!'

Hikigaya give title to his avatar. This kind of avatar is unlike his any other avatar. Some of his avatar has his own thoughts and could act independently.

And some are like this avatar.

They are more like a robot with a certain program.

When they finished their objective, they would disappear. Hikigaya did not show his frustration but only he knows that he is infinitely feel frustrated right now.

He had used a lot of power to create the Hyakki Yakou. That was sent to contend with the sea monsters. Even now as he is sitting here, on his throne, his mind is now filled with images of his illusion demons fighting the sea monsters

He could divide his consciousness but there is also a limit.

That is why this Warrior avatar did not have much thought. Hikigaya is thinking a lot of things but Amaterasu did not have so much thought.

Her thought is simply to make sure some things and paved the way for the next step of the plan.

The beams of light are still coming toward the platform. And the only thing standing between this sharp light is the Warrior.

The Warrior raised his sword.

It is a samurai sword, a katana. The moment his power was stimulated, the force exploded from that sword. Above, the clouds gathered.

But this cloud is not the cloud of nature. But it is an illusion. An illusion that become real, the energy of the world was sucked into these clouds, turning unreal into real, illusion into reality

These clouds gather like soldier lining up.

The clouds were white like an unstained canvas, covering the darkness and then it turns dark. And then it brings down rain.

Droplets of water fall down from the sky and then boom!

The thunder roars and shook the heaven and earth.

Lightning flashed and illuminated the darkness.

All of this happens in a few second and it shock those who seen the drastic change of weather.

Before, it shines with golden light, showing the image of eight hundred gods, a story projected into the sky.

Even though it is the enemy method, the method feels like a method of good, showing the skies with golden light

But now, when it is Hikigaya turns to show his method, the method seems like an evil spell. The Warrior stimulated his power, clouds gather and turns dark, thunder roars and lightning criss crossed all over the skyscape like thunder dragons

What a drastic change!

The light beams come closer to the Warrior. The Warrior smiles and the sord on his hand is wing forward.

'Cut!'

Thunder from the clouds fall down from the sky and those tens of thousands of light beams was dispelled.

'Attack!' Hikigaya ordered and the Warrior kicks the ground. The ground beneath his fete exploded, leaving a five feet deep crater.

But the Warrior has dashed forward toward Amaterasu.

'Be careful!' Mister Moscow shouted.

The dust rises around his feet and swirls into a mini tornado, the sword pointed straight toward Amaterasu

The speed is like lightning but Amaterasu smiles and laughs

She uses her left hand and make a pinching movement. A second passed and the sword that pointed toward her heart has been stopped

All over the world, the people that choose to watch this battle gulped. The screen could not even process the speed that these two are moving.

The battle itself was fought in such a swift manner that they could only see afterimage or a blur.

They see Hikigaya avatar brought out his sword, swings it, the light beams that is akin to spears was dispelled in one swing of the sword

The warrior then kicks the ground, the ground exploded, the sword pointed toward Amaterasu.

It seems like in that moment, Amaterasu death is sealed and the sword would pierce her.

But in that span of one moment, the sword thrustted froward, and two finger pinched the sword tip.

Two fingers pinched the tip of that sword and the energy that should explode out of that sword stuck at the tip.

Chapter 1484 Three Against One

The scene shocked everyone.

The sword that seems unstoppable was stopped.

And the moment that tip was caught between her fingers the clouds above them dissipated, the roars of thunder disappeared and the lightning could no longer be seen

The sword stimulated heavenly phenomenon. Block the sword, block the heavenly phenomenon.

The Warrior look at Amaterasu.

Even though it has the same face as Hikigaya, it lacks emotion and soul.

So, Amaterasu just look at it with a cold eye but there is no hatred. Because this is not the real Hikigaya.

But destroying this avatar.... surely would weaken Hikigaya a bit. And as long as she could weaken him bit by bit....it would help

The warrior did not panic. His sure-fire killing method was blocked. Any other person might feel angry and frustrated at this failure

But the Warrior simply twist the sword.

Clang!

The sword broke.

It shocked everyone watching

The warrior did not hesitate to break his sword at all.

The tip of the sword falls down to the ground, the warrior kicks the ground and he retreated backward like someone attached a string behind his back and pulls him back.

Mister Moscow flick his fingers and a wind arrow shot toward the Warrior.

But the Warrior throws a hidden weapon, the wind arrow dissipates and returns back as wind.

'Stab!' he shouted.

But how could he stab? There is no weapon. This is the same question in everyone mind that is watching the battle

But then to everyone surprise, a sword appears in the Warrior hand.... like an illusion. And this sword is ethereal at first, translucent like it is made using mist

But then this ethereal, translucent sword slowly become solid. Unreal become real. Illusion become reality.

This is the kind of mystical abilities that Hikigaya is most adept at.

And a stabbing motion was executed. The space around the handle and top of the sword spirals and the space break.

Sonic boom erupted; a powerful force exploded out from the sword rushing toward Amaterasu.

Amaterasu laugh and she waves her hand to the left.

The force that is rushing toward Amaterasu changes shape, looking like a large handle of a sword that is able to pierce everything in the world

The trail of the sword distorts space and time around it but as the sword is about to stab Amaterasu, her waves of the hand deflect it to the side.

The powerful sword move was deflected, half of the force of that sword dissipated and the other half falls toward the sea.

BOOOM!

The sea area exploded and the water vaporized into gas before turning into atom particles that could not be seen by the naked eye.

'Attack him right now!' Mister Moscow yelled from behind. The Warrior seems to be drained but there is no panic at all in the eyes of that Warrior.

This is the opportune moment to strike.

And Amaterasu would not let go of such chance

Amaterasu held up her mirror and the brightness of the sun exploded out from the mirror

Hikigaya frown when he saw the mirror. In his eyes, there is circles and symbols and lines.

And these circles, symbols and lines is helping him analyzing the mirror and the more he analyzes the more he frowned

'Is it a replica or the real thing born anew? Divine class...is really an interesting kind of class'

Hikigaya muttered to himself.

BOOOM!

The shockwave blast exploded everything in ten-kilometer radius from her. The only unaffected places are the area of the platform and the streets behind the platform.

But other than that, almost all of the standing building around the execution platform was vaporized.

Hikigaya avatar was thrown a hundred meters away.

The dust rises up and the entire space around the battle scene distorted.

Even with the high ability of the White Owl recordings devices, it is hard to see anything on the screen right now

Even those who watches this battle in the island also find it hard to see what had happened.

They were shocked that Amaterasu had such power.

Whoosh!

A gust of wind suddenly swept all the dust and the waves of power that distort space calmed down

And then they see the effect of that attack

The destruction was so though that it looks like the entire area of the battle is clean.

'I never thought that the Crime Alliance has such a fighter. It is clear they hide very deeply' all over the world, such word is uttered by people looking at this battle

However, there in the battlefield, the Warrior is still standing

it is not that easy to destroy an avatar of a Divine Comprehension leveler...even when they are weakened.

Even a weak tiger is still a tiger.

Amaterasu eyes landed on Hikigaya who is sitting on the third level of the platform.

The fighting intent in her yes is obvious to all. She looks at how composed Hikigaya is, sitting on his throne

It felt like he is looking down on her. Even after her attack, the true body is still calm.

'I will pull you down from your throne and brought you down to my level.' She hated that gaze of Hikigaya. That lazy-looking-down-on-all-creation kind of gaze.

Like he is better than everyone else. Maybe, this is just her feeling. But that is enough for her.

Even if Hikigaya did not look down on the world and od not look down on other people, she is sure and convinced that he looked down on her

And this is the truth.

Hikigaya smiles. And her smiles only seem to irritate her more so he laughed.

The more irritated she is, the better, he thought

'This will be interesting'

The Warrior is bleeding in many places but he waves his hand and another sword appears.

This time, there is not only sword that accompany him. Behind him a spear appears. And there is a saber on his right waist.

All of them looks ethereal and translucent before becoming solid in a matter of a few second.

Amaterasu focused her eyes on the warrior and then as the wind of the sea blows, they kicked the air

BOOM!

The battle between Amaterasu and Hikigaya commenced completely.

A sword intent rises toward the sky, piercing everything above. Light beams exploded and vaporized everything in its path.

The power of the elements was stimulated and sharp gales of wind appears and cut down everything.

Flames appeared out of nowhere, blown by the wind, the flames become bigger and bigger before exploding

All manners of destruction could be seen

A large explosion sounded from the city square and the sky above seems to be scorched and, almost a second later in the sky, there is a scene of Amaterasu fighting Hikigaya avatar.

There is a blur of images, an afterimage of these two. First, they fought around the platform

Then they attacked each other and as they fight, they rise up toward the sky.

However, this fight was so swift and so fast, that the moment you hear the explosion, you suddenly see them in the sky.

That is how fast their movement are.

And even now, the attack that they inflicted against each other could only be seen in blurry images as one could not see where the fist strikes, where the feet kicks and where the attack comes from and where it is going.

Only those who are on their same level could see the moves that they are doing against each other. Seed Forming levelers at least could see glimpses of the attack. But anyone below that could only see blurs.

The sword swings so swiftly it creates afterimages and cut the clouds and everything in between into pieces.

Amaterasu uses the mirror to deflect Hikigaya attack and sometimes attack her on her own

Amaterasu has an advantage and that advantage is that she does not fight alone.

From afar, Mister Moscow rain down element toward the platform.

Flames, sharp gales of wind, water that tries to restrain, thunder and lightning as an attacking strike, all of the elements that are present around the platform attack this avatar of Hikigaya.

Then there is also Martinez.

Unlike Mister Moscow, he flew up and he also began to engage in a fight with the Warrior, his battle ability finally revealed.

The fact that he could keep up with the Warrior speed is amazing enough but he could also sneak few strikes in.

BOOM!

BOOOM!

Each strike of these fighter, whether it be from Amaterasu or Hikigaya created aftershocks and shockwaves that spread out

The longer they fight, the more its spread out.

Amaterasu each attack is filled with mystical abilities, like the Sun heat on her fist, or the ability to void attack using the mirror, elegant and artful but Martinez fought like a bull.

His physical ability is revealed and each time he punches and the strike hit the Warriors, a part of the Warrior flesh dissolve

It dissolved like it is being poured by hot acid

There is a reason his title is the Dissolver.

But Hikigaya avatar could handle himself well.

Even though, he is beaten and his flesh is being eroded by the acid-like attack by Martinez, he is still there in the sky, fighting three people at once.

Mister Moscow element attack, sing the worldly laws and the worldly elements to restrain, to avoid, to attack.

The thunder that come down is deflected by him. The sharp gales that rush toward him is destroyed by punches and kicks.

Then there is Amaterasu who uses her abilities to the fullest. She attacks when there is space to attack and when the Warrior attacks, she uses the mirror to void the attack.

But even amidst this, the Warrior could still evade most of Amaterasu attack

The world right now could not help but think that they misunderstand a bit about Hikigaya.

It turns out, he is such a good fighter.

The image of Hikigaya has always been a mysterious Archmage that uses illusion to confuse the mind of his enemies.

But this is the first time people see Hikigaya fight like a warrior. Of course, even though this is just his avatar, it is also a part of him.

Amaterasu attacks him from the front Martinez attack him from behind but wherever they attacked from, the Warrior manage to deflect, counter and defend every attack

Their battle creates a stir and those who watched it could not help but see a heroic side of Hikigaya.

His avatar is like an immortal warrior.

Even though he is burned in his chest, and his back is full of meat that is dissolving by each second, he swings his sword without hesitation, showing no signs of pain at all

Each time he swings his sword, there is a trail in the sky.

It is the sword intent that cut off space and time. But the effect is not as powerful as Jean method

Considering that the avatar is only in the Disk Formation realm, it is understandable why his power is not that overwhelming

But even with all that, it is still a very intimidating power for Amaterasu, Mister Moscow and Martinez

Chapter 1485 A Fist Strike

The battle around the area of the platform attracts many people.

Some soldiers and fighters that have finished fighting in their area wanted to aid Hikigaya but there are orders from the top to maintain their position.

The battle in the island continent rages without stop. And all kinds of heavenly phenomenon could be seen in the sky and on the ground.

Those people who watched these battles effect from a nearby island could not help but mutter

'It is an apocalypse' that is the most apt way to describe what is happening on the island continent.

There are thunders, lighting, fire, storms, and all kinds of disaster. If you could think of any disaster, it is there

And far away from them is two titans fighting each other, ripping apart the Heavens above and obliterating the Earth below.

Those who saw it knows that this kind of battle is rare.

All over the world, some people watch the battle of the generals, some watched the battle between the top Disk Formation levelers, some watches individuals that they admire and hated, watching them fighting and killing

Some hope to learn something from watching this battle. Some watch to know the result of this war.

There are many people who are watching these battles and they all have their own reason for watching.

But, if there is a rating of views, then the battle between Kaiju and Death Monarch had the highest rating.

And those who watched their battle are the top fighters in the world, people who are in Disk Formation or people who wanted to break through to Disk Formation.

This kind of expert did not like watching battles between the generals because that is not the kind of power they pursue and they did not watch those Seed Forming officers since to them it looks like kids fighting.

They do not even watch those Disk Formation levelers battle other generals

They also did not seem to want to watch those powerful figures of the enemy camp fighting the powerful figures of the world power

Because these kinds of people are all prideful people that believe that they could also become a large figure in the world.

And since this is their confidence, how could they not watch the battle between the strongest man in the world and the strongest monster in the world

In the few days since Kaiju wins the trident, the title that was given to him was the strongest monster in the world.

Kaiju itself means giant monsters

Everyone knows that Kaiju is not really his name. the eyes of the people were fixed on this battle, above the sea, among the clouds, two titanic giants are duking it out

'Who do you think would win?'

'Death Monarch'

'Kaiju'

'All kinds of answer are uttered all over the world'

There are people watching this battle from the screen, far away from the Turbulent Sea, far away from the conflict.

Some watched it at their local tavern, some watched this battle at open square of the city, and they all watched but and while they're anxious, they are at a safe place

Some even drink while watching the battle and some are even feasting with their friends and family as they watched this battle.

Does this people view this kind of scene as entertainment? No, they are as anxious and as nervous as the people fighting in this battle

But they also know that they could not do anything.

They are the common people of the world.

They are like mortals and those people fighting in that island, whether it be the soldiers, or the generals and the warriors with high status are all gods

And when gods are fighting, could mortal interfere? The answer is no.

So, they could only watch and since they could not change it, why bother to worry too much about it? Win or lose, when the war ended, then they will find a method to survive. For now, they could only watch the battle

But if even those people that watched the battle from these screens is nervous and anxious, it is even more so for people who watched this battle on the Turbulent Sea.

The soldiers fight the opiates and the criminals of the Crime Alliance in the island. The generals of the world powers fought the pirate lords and crime lords, fighting all over the sky and the ground and below the earth and under the sea.

It almost seems like the Turbulent Sea is now a forbidden land, full of fighting and killing.

Every few second, one could see heavenly phenomena. And loud shout and scream that signify the fallen enemy.

But the turbulent Sea is very vast. It could even fit all the seven seas of the world before the expansion of the world.

With such vast sea, there is always islands and small patch of lands that is unaffected by the war.

It is in these islands, that people who wanted to watch the battle between the world powers and the dark force of the world choose to camp and watch. They look at the screen and they also look at the sky and the sea and the ground.

They could see golden skies, red skies, blue skies and all kind of skies. These sky of heaven seems to be affected by the mystical powers of these fighter.

The sea trembles and the wave went crazy, attacking the shores of many island

The islands all over the Turbulent Sea shakes like it is about to collapse.

The battlefield is far from their area but the aftereffect and the aftershock of such battle reverberates across all the ocean.

If this kind of battle was fought before the expansion of the world, right now, the power of each punch of Death Monarch and Kaiju probably would circle the world a few dozen times.

And then there are people on a ship. two people are looking from a lone ship. And then they are people who watched from hidden dimension pockets all over the Turbulent Sea.

Many people watched this battle. And everyone has their own educated guess about how this world turn out.

Loki look at Yewa Hafar.

They have been standing on the same spot for half an hour.

They move around the ship but they did not make any moves. And now as the battle started, they both became even more vigilant

Loki then asks

'You're not going to make any moves?'

There is silence that followed this question. The sound of the wind mixed with the sound of thunder and lightning echoes all over, filling the silence.

Yewa Hafar shakes his head and spoke

'How about you? You will not be making any move? You are confident that he would win?'

He paused for a second and then said

'Kaiju has the trident. Poseidon is not some weak being in the Universe. That is one of the Olympians. Sovereign-level existence'

Loki smiles

He looks in the distance.

Even though the distance between this ship and the battle area is far away, who could not see such a gigantic titanic titan in the sky, whose aura seem to suppress the world and oppresses the Heavens?

He chuckles

He looks at those two figures above the sea, his eyes seem to be analyzing both of them and his answer is simply

'He can win.'

His word is concise and to the point.

There is no hesitation and his voice is full of confidence

The world number one, the strongest person in the world, Death Monarch!

This kind of title and honor is not something so easily obtainable.

And Loki believe in Death Monarch.

And this belief is pervasive.

Yewa Hafar only snorted at this but he still did not make any moves.

He continues looking. Was he looking at the battle or was he looking for an opportunity to get out of Loki range of surveillance?

Who knows? But at least right now, it truly seems like he is watching the battle.

Almost all of the people in the world that watch this battle, regardless of how much power the trident that Kaiju wielded, the people were used to the invincibility of Death Monarch

And even with all the advantage that Kaiju seems to possess, the people of the world still believe that the one that will be coming on top on this conflict is none other than Death Monarch

Those who watched this battle all watching it without blinking, for fear of missing any details

BOOOM!

A sound so loud that it seems that it would split the sky and everything above it echoes all over the Turbulent Sea.

It created a shockwave so powerful that it rattles the sea waves and the gust of wind spread out to the city of Arturia in the far distance.

Under the gaze of countless eyes, Azief punched through the air.

This time, his movement could be seen by people.

Before these two people fight with such swift movement that all they could see was the blur and the effect of each clash.

This time however, they seem to float in place and began duking it out

And the world could see a powerful punch that seems to be able to tear apart the Heavens and crack the Earth

And everyone could not help but once again remembered why Death Monarch is called the strongest person in the world

Chapter 1486 A Breeze

In the eyes of everyone the power of this punch is immeasurable.

This punch is fierce and impeccable.

There is no flaw in it and it mobilizes the power of the world and the rules of the world.

Overbearing to the extreme and wherever the force of this punch went, the space would break, creating rifts and the wind was pushed out of the way or spirals into a gale of wind that fizzles out almost immediately.

'What a punch!'

'Truly the strongest person in the world!' Everyone had their own thought but most of the time, their thought is the same

When he punched out, everyone that saw it felt like it is a battering ram hitting the city fiercely.

On the opposite side of Death Monarch is Kaiju.

He is no longer in his dragon form. Those who could catch up on the battle before knows why.

Kaiju was beaten by Death Monarch and suffer so many injuries that he had to revert back to his human form.

Usually when Kaiju weakened, he would return back to his original form which is the dragon. But it is weird that this time after being beaten by Death Monarch, instead of weakening and turning into dragon permanently to save energy, he turns himself into a human form

Only Kaiju could know his own thinking and even Death Monarch doesn't know the reason. Kaiju is now thirty feet high, still a large figure but compared to the force of the fist that seems as big as a mountain rushing toward him, he looks infinitely small.

He is beaten. There is blood all over his body. Bruises could be seen bulging from every part of his skin.

He is half naked and the world could see how badly he was beaten. One of his horns is broken.

However, no one dares to laugh at him

'Even with all that....'

'Haish'

All over the world, people lament looking at Kaiju.

They sighed because they look at Kaiju and look at Death Monarch and wonder....

Death Monarch...does he really have a limit?

Because for those who watched this battle from the beginning saw how Kaiju break Death Monarch sword.

And even after all that, Kaiju is still reduced to this state.

And everyone could see how powerful that sword was. And some people recognize the sword because Death Monarch uses it before in the past

And any information about Death Monarch is long spread out among the powerful people of the world

There was nine sword and everyone that is around the Turbulent Sea could feel nine Laws reacted to those nine swords.

It is the Nine Sword created from the Seed that Death Monarch possess when he is in Seed Forming realm

Usually, Death Monarch would use it when he separated his Cosmic Law Avatar. But this time he uses that sword when he is in his main body.

These nine sword merges into one and Death Monarch swings this sword toward Kaiju.

The moment he swings it, the Sun seems to dim and the sky above seems to crack and falling down.

The clouds move backwards, like time is reversing and the entire sea water below their feet vaporized, showing the bottom of the sea, annihilating every life in the sea bed around them.

Such destructive power, it created ripples all across the ocean of the world. The entire Turbulent Sea seems to boil.

If not for the fact that the Turbulent Sea is so vast, it is not out of the realm of possibility that the entire Turbulent Sea would boil and turns into gas in the air.

And this powerful sword, this powerful force of destruction that renders the heaven and earth apart...was split apart by the trident as easy as one cut a leave with a sharp sword.

But the moment that trident clashes with that sword, the trident dimmed.

And the power of that trident seems to decrease.

And everyone that watches also understand that in that moment, there is a weakness to the trident.

In the hands of Poseidon, it is a divine weapon of unlimited energy.

The weapon is powerful because it is washed by Poseidon energy.

If Kaiju has full power of that trident, he could mobilize probably all the energy in this part of the galaxy.

But he did not and so, there is a limit to the ability of the trident that he could accomplish. And that limit was revealed.

However even after all of that, the trident still has a bit of power and he could still survive using that bit of energy.

No one should underestimate the power of a Sovereign-like existence that washes over an object for thousands of years with his energy

This trident that on Kaiju hands was wielded by Poseidon for thousand of years, being by his side, covered in all kinds of energies.

If not for the fact that Kaiju level is too low, with this trident alone he could be the undisputed strongman over many galaxies

WHOOSH!

The sound of the wind approaching him is deafening. Even though he has many thoughts swirling in his mind, right now, he also focused on the punch that is coming toward him

Full of fist intent, intent on destroying him to ashes.

This is the feeling he felt from that fist

Kaiju look at that punch, closes his eyes for half a second, opens it and swing the trident forward.

This move has no name, but there is a move in his mind and from that such attack was unleashed

Sword has moves and technique. And the trident also has a way of fighting.

It is not practical to fight people with trident. Because there are many methods that are more effective especially if it's a cold weapon

But the weapon that he is holding is not some normal cold weapon but a divine trident.

So, even a simple move that has no name, has many changes.

Kaiju trident is made in a motion of slashing like he is slashing a sword. And it felt like the breeze of the wind.

A calmness in the sea of chaos.

That is how it looks like to the people watching. All around these two being of power, space rifts, storms, thunder and lightning gathered.

But only in the space between the two of them there is an empty space of calm and in that empty space of calm, the fist is rushing forward, and the trident imitate the sword falling like a breeze.

The wind is gentle, but when it blows fiercely, it could become an unstoppable storm

Azief frowned the moment he saw this wind-like energy coming out from that strike.

This all happened in a blink of an eye.

Azief fist seems to symbolize a fierce and domineering fist intent and that wind seems to have some kind of power to restrain and nullify this fierce and domineering fist

'My feeling is not wrong' the moment he thought this, Azief fist met the force of Kaiju slash

In the eyes of the people watching, it is like two different concepts about to meet each other

The fist seems to be like a rushing bull and the slash by Kaiju seems like a wind that would break.

But then the gentle wind blows and at the moment of collision, the fist continued to erupt with more power.

The curtain of the sky opens up, revealing the starry sky above.

The radiation from space seems to fall down directly to earth.

It was almost like the entire ozone layer around this area of their fight was utterly and completely vaporized

But something shocking happened.

The breeze from the trident slash turns into a storm in almost an instant. And instead of the fist breaking through that storm, the two forces stagnated

The fist intent continued to rise as if it wanted to completely shatter the storm

Those looking at this scene could not help but shows different kind of emotion

Kaiju could still fight!

Every move from the beginning to the present, all of their attack and strikes happens in the time it takes for a lightning bolt to flash.

It is swift and fat and if you move your gaze, you would miss hundred of moves.

BOOOM!

BOOOOM!

The two forces collided but both did not break.

Instead, the longer this stalemate become, the more powerful each of this force became.

The sea boils and the area where it is affected by these two forces become even more spread out.

The hole in the sky become bigger and bigger

There are no longer any clouds and there is no thunder or lightning that accompanies Kaiju.

The clouds were all destroyed, and the heaven have a rift.

There is only barrenness.

The sea creatures, the sea giant, all the sea creatures below the feet of these two beings were all turns into ashes.

Vaporized like they were attacked by some kind of anti-matter weapon

The sea water below them were all turns into gas before turning into nothingness.

Azief eyes shines and then he makes a move. His titanic body punches again. The storms breaks but Kaiju also did not simple stood there on the sky

He made his move

ROAR!

He roars to the sky and mystical clouds appears. It is not the natural clouds but clouds that is formed from some kind of law.

These clouds form, gathers and from it, it spews thunder and lightning bolts.

The trident that glows brightly like the sun before now becomes dimmer.

But there is still a lot of shine to this trident.

BOOOM!

Another powerful explosion erupted.

This time it took out hundreds of islands in all directions.

The waves of the sea scattered everywhere, creating tsunami all across this area.

The turbulent space and time become even more turbulent., Some of the tsunami become so big but was swallowed by a space rift.

Fortunately, the area around this battlefield is mostly uninhabited.

The area of the sea where they are fighting all turns into a land void of water.

It is like they are the devourer of life.

Wherever they go, beneath their feet, the water would vaporize into gas because of the heat that they both seems to emanate

And this time, as the storm break the force of this storm swept everything away.

Even though they are even further away from Arturia right now, the force of this storm reaches the shore of Arturia and even meddle with one of the armies fighting on the shore.

On the battle site between these two, as the storm breaks, the fist intent also dissipated almost immediately.

Those who are looking could not help but gasp in admiration, fear and awe

Chapter 1487 The Battle I

All over the world, those who look at these two battling could not help but be silent.

They narrowed their eyes and their face expression was solemn

Who would have thought things would end like this.

That powerful fist intent was dissipated with such an attack.

Some sighed.

They could not have expected that with a trident, Kaiju who is in Disk Formation could fight against someone of the Divine Comprehension level.

And not just an ordinary Divine Comprehension leveler but Death Monarch who is already at the peak stage of Divine Comprehension leveler.

They have all kinds of complicated thoughts and feeling.

Some even thought that with such weapon, if they have it, they could probably divide the world between the powers under the influence of Death Monarch and them.

Some of them sighed because they did not have this trident. And some sighed because they know that if it were them that got this trident, dividing the world is not easy.

Probably only those who occupied the right time and the right circumstances could have the ability to divide the world that was already unified under the control of the Seven World powers.

They have all of these thought as they watched the battle. Each time these two traded strikes, everyone thought the battle would end.

Battle between powerful people did not last this long especially when these two people have different realm.

But with one weapon, Kaiju manages to do the impossible.

In the battlefield, Kaiju has turned back into his titanic form and his body injury is quickly healing, regenerating the parts of him that was injured or lost

The sea water from below flew towards him, spirals and wherever its spiral, it heals that area of the body.

It is almost like as long as there is water in the world, he would be healed infinitely.

This kind of healing ability is almost close to the healing ability of a Divine Comprehension leveler

All of this is long to describe but the moment that passed is only two second.

Two second from Azief punching his fist, to Kaiju slashing with his trident, to Azief once again punching through

The after waves blows on both sides.

Azief felt the force of the storm trying to push him back but his body resisted the force and break through.

Kaiju was the same.

The force of the fist dissipated but the resulting explosion of the two-force colliding also hits him. And just like Azief, he pushes through

The sky quakes and the entire Turbulent Sea could hear it.

ROAR!

The roar of a dragon echoes and they clashed.

The wind exploded, the space cracked and the whole Ten Seas could feel the shaking of the ocean bed.

Azief and Kaiju is now duking it out like two fighters trapped in a ring.

However, since they are not mortal, when they clashed with each other, it creates all manners of destruction.

There were deafening bangs each time their fist clash.

They use punches and sword method with their weapons.

Whether it is a fist technique, palm technique, fingers of leg, both of them displayed dazzling countless kind of moves.

Each of them destroys the sea below and the heavens above.

It almost felt like these are the only two people in the world right now.

Everyone thought that the advantage lies on Death Monarch.

But as the battle is clear now, with no dust to cover their eyes they could see that it was Death Monarch that is being overwhelmed.

Right now, the trident is no longer on Kaiju hands.

Probably it is hidden in one of his scales.

This frees him up to punch, to kick, to use palm attack.

And each time he uses any one of these technique, shocking power erupted from him.

When he uses his fist, water dragons appear from the sea attacking Death Monarch.

When he uses his palm, the entire sea seems to support him and a gigantic palm will appear, formed by the sea water, slamming down toward Death Monarch.

When he uses his kicks, water dragon forms at the tip of his feet and roars toward Death Monarch before attacking him.

Death Monarch could nullify this attack, deflect it, break it but that almost overwhelms him when tens of thousands of strikes attacking him every second

And when it is Death Monarch turns to attack, even though his attack is powerful and destructive, using all kinds of skill. Kaiju is healing extremely fast probably it is because of the spirals of water that surrounded his hand, his feet and his body.

As long as the trident is around him, the sea would protect him and the Earth would accept him

Each time he is attacked, each time he lost a chunk of his body, the water seems to occupy the wound or the lost skin and replaces it, healing it almost instantly.

While Death Monarch takes the energy of the world, the sun, the moon and the stars.

The Universal energy was deployed and the energy even from space poured down from the holes in the sky, all rushing toward Death Monarch

These two people seem to be absorbing the energy of the whole world to fight against each other

It is amazing that Kaiju could force Death Monarch till this point. Those countless attacks, like a violent storm poured toward Death Monarch continuously, unceasingly.

Azief is using all of his concentration not only to deflect all of Kaiju's attack but also break every move that he makes.

Every once in a while, there is trapping formation that flies toward him.

Even in this battle, even when Kaiju uses all kinds of attacking method, he still has the time to throw a few trapping formations towards him in an effort to restrain him.

Everyone could only see a few hundred moves in the flurry of movement between him and Kaiju.

But only he and Kaiju know how many strikes that they have traded with each other. Even in this situation, Azief did not think of splitting himself and creating an avatar.

He knows that he needs all of his power to confront Kaiju. He could not separate his energy and do other things.

'I never thought this trident has such power' he thought to himself.

Even though he was prepared for a hard fight, he never expected it to be this hard.

Azief waves his hand and a sword appears. The sword contained one of the thirteen laws he had mastered.

His entire being now has endless sword intent and endless sword energy

He waves the sword and one after another sword light swayed all over.

The entire being of existence became majestic

And the sky was turned upside down.

These two people fight each other using all kinds of moves.

It looks like a simple move but under their hands, simple moves become divine moves, there is profoundness in every strikes.

Kaiju is laughing, even with his wounds and injuries, fierce and domineering, looking down upon the heroes of the world

And Death Monarch, even though he is overwhelmed, his face expression did not change a bit, a coldness that seems to fill the world, remaining like a mountain that could not be climbed, like a wall that could not be scaled.

In just a few minutes since the battle between them began, both of them no longer counts how much they attack each other

And their speed become faster and faster.

The sea water around them were all vaporized so there is a shocking sight.

One part of the Turbulent Sea has no seawater. The sea water that rushes to fill this void were also vaporized.

It is like someone put a container in the middle of a bowl of water, preventing water from coming in

And as they become faster and faster, only a few people that watched the screen could even keep up with the changes.

As for the others, they could only saw two figures flashing back and forth above the sea.

Above them, holes in the sky appears each time they clash.

The space and time around their battle site created time storms and space rifts that sometime pull people and sometimes pushes people away.

Even those who were following those two to watch them battle against each other could only do it from hundred of miles away

This is the only way to not get caught up in those two fighting

As the fiercer the battle became, even those who are brave to watch this from their pocket dimension near the Turbulent Sea knows that the must not get caught up in the battle because once they get caught up, there is a high chance that they will be a collateral damage that no one would ever remember.

It is not out of the realm of possibility for them to be grinded into nothingness if they were in the middle of that fight

Just the emanation of energy alone shook them to their core.

BOOM!

BOOM!

Those who could see the battle could see that Kaiju is like a rushing thunder, like a wind gale, his momentums become even more powerful as time passes.

The Turbulent Sea also seems to follow Kaiju mood.

His momentum as so powerful that it made one scalp tingle.

'Death Monarch.... he is...' some people that watched the battle notices something.

Chapter 1488 The Battle II

Right now, Kaiju seems to be hurling barrages of attack and is momentum seems to become more and more powerful

But under this circumstances, Azief movement become more elegant

Some people narrow their eyes and said to themselves

'Before, when he was overwhelmed, there is a sense that it took him a hard time to break the attack and deflect the attack. But now.... he is...'

Many people find words in their minds to describe what they are seeing and they rested on one word

'Carefree'

That is what it looks like in their eyes

Death Monarch movement to deflect the attack by Kaiju seems carefree.

Death Monarch style as he become more and more overwhelmed, his moves become more and more carefree

Some people of great comprehension then laughed and spoke

'He imitates and he imitates with great accuracy'

And many people all over the world also realizes this.

What does Death Monarch imitate?

He imitates the attack that Kaiju had used against him before, that breeze that came from that one strike of the trident

The same breeze that breaks his punch.

He is imitating that strike of the breeze

so now, his move is like the wind, moving and flowing with naturalness and the more attacks feels on him, the easier it seems for him to deflect all of this attack.

He uses one move to dispel one hundred moves, one style to defeat hundreds of styles, he is natural and in line with the surroundings laws, appearing to transcend human boundaries and beyond that

Of course, to some people all they could see was two of them clashing hand and feet, but they could not see the higher battle between these two.

IN each strike, Death Monarch uses the understanding of the laws that he had cultivated. Sometimes, there is the Worldly Laws embedded in each of his deflection, having the power of the elements.

So, there were times when he deflects the wind aids him, thunder and lightning sparked, fire and water coexisted to push away any attack

Then there is also the Universal Las embedded, the power of the moon and the stars above the skies of Earth supply him with energy, the shine of the star that could not be seen supply him with energy to repel and pushes away the attack

At ties, runes would flash in some parts of his body defending against the strike and at other time, his punches are embedded with runes, the runes latched on the attack and destroys it before it could reach him.

Protection runes, destructive runes are all deployed in each of his strike. Celestial energy also sometimes leaks out from his energy.

And there is also some unknown energy that seems to synthesize the energy of the other to fill up the energy that is lacking.

Some people could see this and some people could not. Everyone has their own understanding looking at the battle

Those high-level people find a new way of fighting.

But they thought to themselves and wonder whether they could apply such fighting methods.

It is not like Death Monarch is revolutionizing the way of fighting. After all, what he could think of, other people could also think of it. Does no one ever think of combining the laws when using their fist strike or kick strike?

Could it be all people are stupid and never thought of such possibility?

Of course, they have thought such of possibility. But there is a difference between thinking of it and doing it.

It is not easy to focus on your attack while at the same time channeling the laws of the world with your attack

It is because it is hard that sot people usually would only use two or three laws in each attack and could not do it continually like Death Monarch is doing.

The two of them keep fighting each other, like the ultimate warrior in the world

And everyone thought that the battle could not get more intense.

But they were wrong. Death Monarch seems to have broken the methods of Kaiju of trying to overwhelm him and from that moment on his counterattack begun

And the battle only gets more intense from then on everyone looked at this battle without daring to take a breath

Under the fighting of these two people, the waves of the Turbulent Sea became even more and more Turbulent, there is more and more stores and the waves surges to the sky.

The entire Turbulent Sea seems to be affected, under the great between these two. One had the feeling that the Turbulent Sea would be turned upside down.

BOOOM!

They punch each other in the face, creating another shockwave that vaporized the sea beneath their feet.

Kaiju teeth broke and a few of them fall to the dry seabed while Death Monarch was ushered back, fifty feet away energy leaks out from his wound but quickly healed itself and the swirling of energy around him slows down a bit.

Divine Comprehension leveler uses energy to heal their wounds and that is exactly what Azief is doing

The wounds on their body are both terrible and terrifying-

But both of these people did not utter even one whimper of pain.

Separated by a distance of fifty feet, they floated in the sky and look at each other. They both have some wounds but these wounds are quickly healed.

They both take a breath

Right now, even when their battle shaken the entire Turbulent Sea, their subordinate and their forces did not yet stop fighting.

They probably would only stop fighting when the victor between these two people is decided

They look around and they realize that they are now far away from Arturia. They could not even see the sight of Arturia anymore.

As they were fighting before they move hundreds of miles with each step and by the time they realize it, they are now so far away from Arturia.

But they do not care that much that they are far away from the main battlefield.

For Azief this is even better. He never wanted to affect Arturia too much because just the aftershock of his strikes against Kaiju is enough to level an entire city.

As for Kaiju, he did not care that much but he is also quite happy about it.

Arturia is Death Monarch turf.

When he was fighting Death Monarch around Arturia, he always felt like he is being watched and he could not feel at ease, fearing that Death Monarch set up a few traps around Arturia to capture him.

Not to mention Arturia is full of Death Monarch people

Now, that they are far away, they could fight without worrying all of this thing. Right now, Kaiju also feel pain but he is not on the verge of losing.

He looks at Death Monarch.

And Death Monarch look at him. And the world looks at these two. Amazingly enough, the footage of their battle is still being screened all over the world.

Who knows how the White Owl does this that he could even make his recording device withstand all those aftershocks and even followed these two deeps into their battlefield?

No wonder, White Owl is always a trusted major source of information in the world.

If even this, they could broadcast, one wonders the intelligence that this White Owl organization is sitting on.

Right now, they are silence between these two.

The holes above the sky around their battle site is slowly recovering like a wound being closed up.

The Heavenly Will is weakening. These two people fight so fiercely that it weakens the Heavenly Will.

Those who could see it, could see that the Heavenly Will avatar is looking at these two. But he did not attack. He is weakened. Why would the Heavenly Will attack these two and unite them against him?

The current Heavenly Will is no longer the empty Heavenly Will. It had its own ideas and its own will

But, to say he is not displeased would be an understatement. The silence and the non-action dragged on.

Kaiju and Azief both have recovered from their wounds. But the swirling of energy around Azief body has decreased considerably

As for Kaiju, the trident is now almost entirely lost all of its golden luster. It is dimming and not shining as brightly as before.

'Death Monarch!' he suddenly shouted

'Why are you holding back!' His hair is fluttering and his voice is heroic. Kaiju might be a bad guy but he has his own charms.

And then a more vigorous and majestic aura burst out in an instant from him. Azief eyes shined.

He closes his eyes and, in that moment, nine powerful aura rises up from his body and then Nine Sword appears.

He opens his eyes and then spoke

'Merge!'

The sword merged in an instant, creating a sword with nine streaks of colors all over it, swirling with Nine concepts and nine laws of the rules of the world

Kaiju laughed and Azief smiles, the Heavenly Will retreated and the whole world watched in awe!

Chapter 1489 Battle III

There are now clouds on top of the heads of these two figures

The clouds gather almost in an instant and the sky was covered with it

BOOM!

BOOM!

Thunder erupted again. And lightning strikes the heavens and the earth.

The sky that was cloudless just now is now full of lightning. The entire sky quake because of the roar of the thunder.

Streak of colorful lightning bolt continued to shuttle and cruise in the thick clouds.

In just a few second large clouds had gathered and fill the sky and shrouded the entire Turbulent Sea

The rain falls down, thunder and lightning appeared again.

The thunder roars like never before, the lightning flashes with great heat, searing space like a hot sword cutting through butter.

Azief sword called upon the elements of the world, clouds gather and the sky had to give way.

People that watched this battle could not help but be stunned

Those that watched the Kaiju and Death Monarch battle all have their own confidence.

They watched this battle to find a way forward, to ascertain the level of the people at the top of the world, to see the difference between them and the one person standing on the peak.

But now that they watched the confrontation between these two people, it just made them frowned and sighed.

It made everyone feel that the mountains are too high to be reached

They already thought that Death Monarch had showed all of his means. It turns out all of those world ending moves are only the top of the iceberg of Death Monarch true power.

'He really knows how to make people feel despair'

These are the thought of some people in the world.

Seeing such an unscalable mountain, how could one not fill with despair?

Kaiju then punch forward. This time the punch seems different.

And it is not in the direction of Death Monarch. Instead, he punches toward the surface of the sea.

BANG!

A huge jet of water rise up, a titanic dragon the size of a small mountain rises from the sea, formed by the sea water

And it is rushing toward Azief, like a titanic being going berserk

Azief look at this and then he swings his sword. Nine concepts and laws seem to be stimulated and merge into one sword light.

And this sword light rushes toward the water dragon, the thunder above shot down toward the sword light, the sword intent and thunder merge together, creating mystical ad beautiful scene

One could see a straight streak of line, swirling with an arc of electricity.

Straight and shiny, sharp and cold.

One had to squint their eyes to see this small straight line because compared to the size of the water dragon conjured up by Kaiju fist, it looks like a dust flying in a straight line.

Several thunderbolts follow that one straight line heading toward that water dragon

BOOM!

The sword light and the mountain-size water dragon collided and the resulting impact created a shockwave that exploded the Heaven and Earth.

The clouds that had just gathered was blown apart, the sea water below all exploded into the air

And the people of the world gasped.

And the water dragon that was formed by the condensation of the seawater instantly turned into mist and gas and spread out all over the sky.

The only safe zone that was not affected by the aftershock, and the shockwave of their attack was the middle between these two people, the space where they hurl attack against each other.

Both of them was pushed away again from each other. Kaiju has a wound on his shoulders, but Azief had no injuries at all but only retreated ten steps on the sky

Each step he retreated, crack the space beneath his feet.

As for Kaiju he is soaked wet and the water that falls from his hair falls into his wound but the water instead of making the wound become even more painful heals him. The trident dimmed even more.

'What a sharp sword intent!' this is Kaiju thought.

He looks at the sky above and see that the clouds gather back at almost insane speed. It was just blown apart because of the shockwave but almost a second later the clouds gather back, thunder and lightning once again could be seen and heard all over the skies of the Turbulent Sea

Even Kaiju secretly marveled at Death Monarch methods. These clouds are not the clouds of this world and it is not the clouds of the Heavenly Will.

Instead, if one look closely at the clouds, they could see the difference. Most clouds are white.

But the clouds that Death Monarch conjured up has all kinds of colors and have that extraterrestrial aura on it.

These clouds are more like cosmic clouds.

It is a cloud formed by celestial energy and cosmic energy. Since it is an energy that belongs to Death Monarch, Kaiju could not manipulate it.

Kaiju is a type of dragon race that control the clouds, the element of thunder and water.

So, even without the trident, he could control any clouds and any body of water if he wanted to. The trident only enhances that ability a thousand-fold.

If not, how could he fight equally with someone who is just one step away from Essence Creation level and someone who walk the Perfection Path

It must be remembered that Death Monarch even at his current strength could fight against an Essence Creation leveler and survive such encounter.

Leapfrogging fight is basically the specialty of anyone who walk the Perfection path.

If the trident did not boost Kaiju strength to the current level, how could Kaiju accept the challenge.

It is because he saw that there is a possibility of winning, no matter how slim, that he accepted the invitation of the Crime Alliance, the Pirates and the other criminal forces to duke it out with Death Monarch and subverts the current world order

They look at each other and for a second, they stare at each other eyes and Kaiju smiles

'Impressive but not enough!' he shouted. Kaiju charisma is off the roof right now.

He seems to be the one who is defeated by his fighting intent did not falter one bit.

Was it because he is arrogant?

Is it because he is confident of his own victory? Or is this the kind of person he is?

All kinds of people all over the world try to understand the mindset of Kaiju.

Any other people faced with Death Monarch ability, constant improvement, giving you hope and then killing that hope, a seemingly unlimited war machine that could not be stopped, would have lost any hope by now.

Even if such person did not lose hope, they would at least feel despondent and each moment that passes would increase the despair.

But Kaiju is still there.

Even with all the shocks that Death Monarch power seems to bring to the world, refreshing their cognition again and again, Kaiju is still the same Kaiju.

παῖδα-ῥοῦνέ|·κόΜ Eager to fight, unafraid and fearless of anything.

One moment of glance, distance of a hundred feet, traversed in an instant. This time it is Kaiju that initiated the attack.

It only took three second since that lats attack for Kaiju to attack again. All over his body is new wounds as he traverses the distorted space and time between them.

Right now, because of their attack, the time and space around them was distorted so heavily that travelling through space, whether traveling forward or backward, there is restriction of space, uneven gravity and all kinds of rift that could hurt one body.

If Seed Forming levelers is at this area right now, there is a high chance for them to be severely injured by the spiraling rift of space all over.

But kaiju ignored all of that and kicks the air, and almost in an instant, he appeared only three feet away from Death Monarch.

Azief widened his eyes

'Hoh! I didn't think you attack' he thought but then Kaiju shouted again, this time his voice is more like a roar, covering the sound of the thunder

'It is not enough! Show me more! Azief, the strongest person in the world! Show your power!!!' he shouted

BOOOM!

BOOOM!

BOOOM!

Kaiju attacked and he strike without hesitation.

A continual attack, series of huge fist energy forms in the sky.

Each one is the size of a mountain, bombarding the small figure of Death Monarch

Sea water all over the Turbulent Sea was affected because of the two people dueling with each other.

Because each place they fight, a lot of water is vaporized and the absence of water around this area has to be filled with the nearest water.

If people could measure the sea water level in the Turbulent Sea, they would notice that a few inches of the sea water level had decreased.

This alone is something that is shocking.

Because the Turbulent Sea is a vast ocean surpassing all of the oceans in the world before the expansion of the world.

But Death Monarch and Kaiju did not care about all of these in this moment. Their minds do not even have the time to think of the effect of their battle

They focused on each other and everything around them seems to fade away except the enemy in front of them

Kaiju is exhausting all of the energy in the trident. Other people might not be able to sense this but how could Azief not see this.

Chapter 1490 The People On The Lone Ship

To the people of the world, they were shocked at how much energy that Kaiju seems to possess. It is beyond the imagination of all the people that are watching.

The sound of the sky quake, the sound of sonic booms, the sound of the earth cracking, the waves crashing, the thunder roaring, all of these noise echoes and mixed together amidst the intense battle

The punches that Kaiju blasted off from his fist is like small mountain flying and charging toward Azief.

And there are thousands of such mountains.

If they fight like this in Arturia, even though there are all kinds of protection formation over there, a few punches and the defense probably would crack.

The fist felt like Kaiju lifted all kinds of mountains and keep dropping them on him

Azief is still there on the sky, and his body become bigger and bigger and now that he fifty feet large, he swings his sword

One swing.

Two swings

Three swings

A few swings and the sword move become waving the sword.

Again and again, he swings and sword light filled the sky and the space in between

Thunder followed the sword trail, merge with the sword light. The sky constantly roars toward the Earth.

BOOM!

πανδα-řnovê | ·cóm BOOM!

Mountain-size fist energy that seems to cast a shadow upon the world collides with tens of thousands of sword light

And in only a few second, those countless fist were all swept by the sword light followed by billowing thunder bolts that wrapped itself around these sword light

There is silence for a while. And those who looks at this battle felt like the whole world went silent. The fist energy was swept away just like that.

With a swing of a sword, covered with lightning, accompanied with the roars of thunders

But then the roars of thunders sounded again and everyone shakes their head and focused. The battle does not end yet.

Above the sky, hundreds of lightning bolts seems to descend upon the Turbulent Sea. All of this lightning bolts and the sound of thunders come from those mysterious clouds that is slowly expanding all over the sky of the Turbulent Sea

Azief entire body seems to have turned into a vortex that attracts lightning

BOOOOM!

BOOOOM!

The heaven rendering sound echoes all over that it spreads out far to the distance, covering the entire Turbulent Sea and beyond.

And then a sound of laughter echoes all over the Ten Seas

Those who watched the battle could not help but be stunned.

Kaiju is laughing!

And he is laughing so carefreely.

The entire space between him and Death Monarch is covered with lightning, his fist was swept away by that sword light, defeat seems so close but he still has the mood to laugh and smile

'I want to believe in myself. I will not bow. And I will not kneel. Even if I die!' he shouted and it seems Kaiju attracted something.

A force of Will that is present in all Universe seems to descended upon him. His own Grand Path.

And then to the shock of everyone he takes a step forward. He crashed into that lightning vortex; his body bathed in lightning

BOOOM!

BOOOM!

Each time the lightning bolt strikes Kaiju body, it created all kinds of shockwave that shakes the space around him.

The space and time around him are severely distorted.

Those who sees this could not help but think that if anyone else do what Kaiju is doing right now, their body would probably be scorched or turns into dust

'He is a dragon!' some people shouted, watching the screen. And some people understood the meaning of that.

Kaiju is a dragon. And so, he has a domineering physique.

In Earth, after the system came and everyone have the same system, the also knows that the only time when they could refine their physical bodies is during the earlier stage from Body Refining realm to Energy Dispersing realm

After that, they would deal with energy and laws and concepts of the world, ethereal concepts that has something to do with the more mystical part of the realm.

Because of that, there is a rarity of someone who focuses on body refining and more focused on acquiring more firepower in using the laws of the world

So, if they tried to do what Kaiju did, with how their body is trained they would probably turn to ashes.

But Kaiju.... Kaiju turns his body to a tank.

Those thunder that roars and those lightning that strikes him are no ordinary thunder and no ordinary lightning

But his body could withstand the destructive laws that are present in the lightning bolts.

The thunder roars are also no ordinary roars.

The sound of thunder itself have power.

Combined that with a vibrational frequency that destroys thing, the roars of thunders that echoes from the clouds that Death Monarch has conjured, it is like being roared at by some kind of soundwave cannon.

But neither the lightning bolt or the thunder could break that body.

Even Azief was shocked at this.

'There is such physique' he thought to himself.

Of course, his shock is not that there is such a physique. It is that Kaiju physique exceeded his expectation.

He knows that out in the Universe there is all kinds of being and some trained their body to the peak that even if they died, their body would sail the stars like some kind of immortal object that could not be destroyed.

And those who see it was even more shocked.

For those experts that watches close to the battle, who is on the Turbulent Sea right now, watching this battle from nearby islands or inside the pocket dimension close to the battle site, they could also feel the strength of that lightning vortex.

The vortex itself has become a pool full of lightning bolts that descended from the Heavens

It protected Death Monarch and dispel any kinds of attacks.

It is because of this that they are even more shocked. These people that dares come close to Death Monarch fight are all in Disk Formation realm.

But even they know that, as long as they dare to step into that pool of lightning, they would probably be wiped out in an instant and turned into dust

Even though they are far away, they can still feel the aura of death surrounding that blighting pool.

Kaiju...when facing such a terrifying lightning pool, he relied on his physical body

Everyone wanted to watch what Kaiju did next. He appeared in the domain of that lightning pool and punches out.

Hundreds of lightning bolts disperses.

'What a dragon race!' some people exclaimed.

'These two pare really too strong!'

'Like gods and demons!'

Kaiju, using his physical strength just entered that domain of destruction and directly hit the lightning vortex with his fist.

Cracks appears all over the vortex and hundreds of lightning bolts dispersed with one strike.

On a lone ship, Loki look at this battle. It is the same for Yewa Hafar.

They both did not move from their position.

Loki did not know what Yewa Hafar is trying to do in Arturia.

Before, he could predict what Yewa Hafar would do. That is because thing follows the destiny and follow the script that he is familiar with.

So, there is little variables.

And those variables that pop out every once in a while, is always calculated by him.

But with Azief continuous improvement and entangling his destiny and fate with more people and more beings.... his destiny also veered off path.

But that is not a bad thing.

Not a bad thing at all.

The grand destiny is still there but how it reach there.... now that is the important thing.

There are some wise words in the world and one of them is that sometimes, the journey is more important than the destination.

While this wisdom could not apply to everything in this world, these words of wisdom apply very aptly for Azief.

The Grand Destiny probably could not be changed.

But Loki knows how important it is the journey to get there and how he will get there. That is why he is here.

He also wanted to join. Whether he joins the Crime Alliance or the world powers, no one would be surprised.

And Loki admit, he had some plans that he wanted to do when the war started. But that plan had to be scrapped off

Because he had to stand here in this lone ship.

Because Yewa Hafar comes to the Turbulent Sea. And since he is here.... he must be planning something.

Yewa Hafar look at the battle and he sighed

'He has become stronger.... too fast' he added at the end

Loki smiles bitterly.

'Things did not go according to plan, did it?'

Yewa Hafar chuckles and then said

'Is it only my plans that was disrupted? How about your plan Trickster?' he asks. Loki chuckles, look at the sky in the distance and spoke

'Kaiju is an anomaly. And Azief is a surprise' his tone is full of emotion.

Even though the Azief that he is seeing now is not that God of Life and Death, the First Sovereign, there is that shadow of that unfathomable being.

From the moment that Loki cross path with Azief all those years ago, the wheel of destiny deviated little by little.

The chains that hold down this wheel could no longer support the deviation and the chains break off completely and so, the wheel is turning to wherever it wanted to go.

It is what he wants.

But not this fast.

Not in this way.

Someone.....is also playing chess right now.

He knows there is a hidden player and that is Erika.

But...he also began feeling that there are more hidden players now....and they hid very deeply and the trident is one of the chess move.

Is it Odin? He is quite sure Odin will try to contact Azief. But, is this move his or someone else?

Poseidon? His mood is always unstable but this did not mean he is not brilliant. And the trident is his....so it seems logical to think this is him announcing his participation

Hades? This is a being that always has a way to survive

Could he find a way to survive the next Purge event? And so, he enter the game?

Or Zeus himself?

Did Zeus pretend he forgets? Or did he forget and regain his memory?

Or maybe, it is the Jade Emperor. He gives the Celestial character to Death Monarch.... he must want something.

There are too many candidates and too many possibilities.

And that is not good
