

Shadows 79

Chapter 79 What a Coincidence Before , Andy had only seen them as ridiculous , like clowns performing . Now ? He just felt sorry for them . They'd thought they were untouchable , in control of everything . But they had no idea what kind of opponent they'd stirred up . The real threat was hiding in the person they looked down on the most . It almost sounded like a scene from a TV show . " Forget about them . Don't let them ruin the vibe . Let's just keep drinking and talking . " Tilda handled her emotions well . She'd already seen through the Jensons ' act .

Not a shred of sadness crossed her . Everything was going smoothly now . " Come on , cheers , Tilda . Here's to your new life . " Tilda paused for a moment . Andy had just said " new life ," and she nearly slipped up . " Cheers . " Wade and Clive had been gone for about 20 minutes . Then , three new people walked in . The moment they appeared , everyone's jaws dropped . Were those guys even real ? Could people like them exist ? They had their own vibe , and all three stood out . Especially the one in front . He had one hand in his pocket , his icy eyes radiating an unapproachable chill .

Yet , his face was breathtakingly handsome . He looked so striking that even the two men flanking him , normally admired by everyone , looked plain in comparison . Tilda noticed them as well . Jude ? Maurice ? Alfie ? It reminded her of the scene from Sky Dining . Jude walked right up to her , stopped , and greeted her coolly and casually . " What a coincidence . " Pfft ! Maurice and Alfie were barely holding back laughter . The truth was that Jude had seen photos of Tilda and Andy at Nightingale Bar and rushed over .

But now , he acted like it was some random encounter . It wasn't exactly the style they would expect from a bossy CEO. For a cold - blooded and ruthless guy like Jude , he should just scoop Tilda away and warn Andy to back off when he set his sights on her . The two of them were just watching the drama unfold . " Yeah , real coincidence , " Tilda said . She knew Jude was a regular here . Nightingale Bar belonged to Maurice , and Maurice and Jude were tight . She'd bumped into Jude here before , so running into him wasn't shocking . Tilda hadn't thought much of it .

Still , something about it felt off . She couldn't quite explain it - just a weird vibe . Then , Jude's eyes met Andy's . Andy was sizing him up with those green eyes , clearly interested . " It has been a while , Mr. Saville . " " Hello , Mr. Bell . I've heard a lot about you . " They greeted each other politely . Everyone nearby gasped . Mr. Bell ? That's Jude ? With that kind of presence , there was no doubt he was the one . And Andy ? Those green eyes confirmed him as Cetherland's top lawyer . Most people here were just rich scions looking for fun . But those two ?

Their names had been drilled into people's heads by their parents . Some quietly paid their tabs and left . Some women couldn't stop staring at the insanely attractive , obviously wealthy men . They even plotted how to " accidentally " spill a drink to see which one would respond . If they succeeded , they'd be set for life . Friends with sense dragged them away . Seriously ? Trying to flirt with those guys ? They had countless options . Pulling a stunt like that would only get someone hurt .

If one pissed them off , she'd be blacklisted in Slosa for good . Within minutes , all the irrelevant people on the second floor left . Jude picked a table near Tilda and Andy and sat down . Alfie and Maurice joined , trying not to laugh . Tilda glanced at Andy and asked , " How do you know Jude ? " " Him ? I met him on the dark web . " Since you know him , I guess I can explain . He was the one who asked me to find Omega - types on the dark web . " For people with Omega - type , once they met , they could immediately sense each other's scent and mark it .

It meant if someone was Omega - type and met another with the same blood type , there was no hiding . Seeing how Tilda had greeted Jude , Andy figured they'd already met . " Oh ... " Tilda sipped her wine . " I guess Jude is pursuing you . Tilda , did you turn me down because of him ? " Andy sounded a little jealous . If she had rejected him because of Jude , Andy could accept it . He'd dealt with Jude a few times , and he was unreadable . Even Andy couldn't figure Jude out and felt outmatched .