Chapter 96 Yes , 1 Will Die That sentence had haunted Tilda all her life , and had become a tormenting nightmare . The next second ... What she'd been waiting for finally came . " No matter if I want to admit it or not , we're siblings by blood . " So , as your biological brother ... there's something I want to ask of you , " As he spoke , Dominic stepped forward . He stopped just a couple of steps away from Tilda . At 6'2 " , Dominic towered over her , and Tilda had to tilt her head up slightly to look at him .

Tilda met Dominic's calm , cold eyes , which seemed capable of tearing her soul apart . He parted his lips . He spoke in a cold , cutting voice , each word like a knife aimed to tear her apart . " Tilda , I hope ... you ... die . " Dominic was completely serious , there was no hesitation and pretense in his voice . It was a " genuine wish , " born from pure disgust and hate . It was also a side of the Jenson Group's CEO that no one had ever seen . Right in front of the sister he'd just found after she'd been missing for 19 years , he said he wanted her dead .

Tilda had already learned this in her past life . At the time , she was completely focused on getting on Dominic's good side . She secretly observed him and noticed that Kyla had learned to bake and often made him chocolate cakes . Dominic loved them and always praised her baking . So Tilda poured all of her effort into making a chocolate cake for him . But Dominic just glanced at it and , with an expressionless , incredibly cold , and ruthless tone , said ... As her older brother , her blood relative ... He had only one demand for her . He wanted her ... dead .

That was the only thing Dominic ever said to Tilda before she was burned alive in her past life . Then , just like that , Dominic shut the door . Tilda was left standing there , clutching the chocolate cake . She was chilled to the bone . Her mind went blank . Even breathing became a struggle . She felt like a fool , frozen in place . Ridiculous , childish , and pathetic . Tilda didn't know what words could describe her feelings at that time . Those words were just too weak .

She only remembered that her depression got much worse after that day . That's when the suicidal thoughts and self - hate began , too . The only change was ... In her previous life , Dominic was too disgusted to even say her name , as if it would give him bad breath . This life , he did . But it didn't make much of a difference . Tilda couldn't help but laugh . The smirk tugging at her mouth was nothing but ridicule . Dominic hadn't expected Tilda to smile like that . It was like ... She had been waiting for him to say that all along .

When his verbal attack failed to have the desired effect , a flood of thoughts rushed through his mind . " Yes , I will die . Everyone dies eventually . But I'll close my eyes peacefully , surrounded by the love , prayers , and protection of the people who are important to me . " I'll do everything a person should do in this life and fulfill all my dreams and happiness . " That way , I won't regret having lived . Many people will remember me . I'll be dead , but I'll still be alive in their hearts . " Una , Andy , DJ , even Jude ... In this life , Tilda would live a different life .

She wouldn't be submissive . She'd shine like the blazing sun , radiant and unshakable , carving her path one step at a time , living exactly as she pleased ! She knew she'd meet plenty more people along the way . She didn't need many friends , but she knew she would have a few more . Tilda's beautiful new life , lived on her own terms , had no room for the Jensons ! Just thinking about the chance to live it all over again made her heart race with joy . Dominic saw that Tilda was not affected at all and her eyes were shining .

70 Finished He spoke coldly , " Remember ? A bad woman like you , who betrays her family and turns against them - who would remember you ? Not a single person in the Jensons will ! " Everyone has seen your true colors and wants you to die ! What I just said is the only prayer your own blood relatives have for you ! " Tilda , you've lived such a despicable life . Do you really think you won't go to hell ?! " As Dominic said those words , his gaze remained fixed on Tilda . He didn't miss a single detail .

From what Dominic knew , Tilda had returned to the Jensons as a timid , people - pleasing type . Even with the Jenson Group's resources and his hacking skills honed from years on the dark web , he couldn't find any other background on Tilda . A ~~aw · aw~~ . He just thought she was a girl who had been missing for 19 years , had lived a hard life , and was just a little clever . A girl who desperately craved family affection , love , and everything Kyla had . But ever since that viral incident , Tilda seemed like a completely different person .
