

Sidekick 1171

Chapter 1171 The Joy of Reunion (2)

Luo Xiuen walked over to Jian Yiling and introduced her son: "Darling, this brat is my son. His name is Jian Dan and his nickname is Dandan. He's quite cheeky."

"Auntie! Pretty!" Jian Dan repeated as he planted another kiss on Jian Yiling's cheek. He ended up leaving a trail of saliva on Jian Yiling's face. When Luo Xiuen saw this, she wanted to smack his butt: "Hey, watch yourself! One kiss is enough! Don't get addicted to kissing your auntie! You're leaving saliva all over her face you little slob! Even your future uncle hasn't kissed her like this. Don't take advantage of the situation!"

However, Jian Dan did not understand his mother's nagging. Instead, he repeated once again: "Auntie! Pretty!"

Upon hearing this, Grandma Jian said: "Ahh, this little boy is unlike his father. He knows how to compliment and praise women. I wonder who he learned this from!"

When Jian Yumin heard this, he helplessly said: "Grandma, why are you attacking me like this?"

"Why can't I? Am I not saying the truth? Just look at yourself. If Luo Xiuen wasn't in love with you, how would you have a chance to get a wife?"

"Grandma, even if that's the case, I'm the only one who is married amongst your eight grandsons. You even have a great-grandson because of me! If you're saying that about me, how will the rest of them find a wife?" Jian Yumin replied.

How could she say that about him? He definitely knew how to compliment and praise women!

He just had to be compared against his brothers!

And thus, Jian Yuncheng, Jian Yunmo, Jian Yunnao, Jian Yujie, and Jian Yiheng became the center of attention. Why was this happening? Upon hearing this, Grandma Jian turned around to criticize them: "Why don't you guys go and find a wife as well? Your sister is getting married soon. Do you want to get married after her or something? Ahh, I want more granddaughters-in-law..."

Grandma Jian consistently spoke about this two years ago. However, ever since Jian Yiling went missing, over the past two years, she hadn't spoken about it again. However, now that Jian Yiling was back, Grandma Jian was back to mention it.

The Jian brothers hurriedly attempted to change the topic of conversation.

"Hehe!" Jian Dan giggled as he nestled in the arms of his aunt.

###

Anna and Elder George sat down in a room to discuss things.

Anna was rather confused as to how Zhai Yunsheng won today.

Wasn't Master Sheng meant to be sick? Why was he this strong?

Elder George also looked into the match. He told Anna: "The person next to Mu Ruohai is from the Hidden Blade Clan. The Hidden Blade Clan is known to be one of the strongest families. Therefore, before the match, Mu Ruohai was confident that he was going to win. He did not expect Zhai Yunsheng to be stronger."

However, this wasn't because Mu Ruohai was stupid. Rather, it was almost absurd to assume that his opponent would be that strong.

"Someone from the Hidden Blade Clan... If that's the case, why is he working for Mu Ruohai?" Anna asked in surprise.

Her eyebrows became slightly furrowed and there was a perplexed expression on her face. Even though the Hidden Blade Clan wasn't known by most, they were a very incredible family.

Even the Goodman family would not want to provoke members of the Hidden Blade Clan. Despite being around for eras, those clans were incredibly mysterious.

Chapter 1172 Saying Farewell to the Strange Old Man (1)

Elder George explained: "Furthermore, the Hidden Blade Clan is a special existence amongst the reclusive families. They do not generally appear and they're not motivated by money. Instead, they live their lives as ordinary individuals. The only thing different about them is that their martial arts are passed down through the generations."

By saying that, it was somewhat easy to understand why A Yong was willing to work for Mu Ruohai. After all, there were times when martial arts and fighting could not solve a problem.

However, it was incredibly difficult to understand Zhai Yunsheng's enormous change in this half a month.

Very few people could win against someone from the Hidden Blade Clan.

Anna asked Elder George: "Would this have something to do with the Xie family?"

Elder George did not have an immediate judgment on this question. Instead, he replied: "Honestly, I don't know that much about the Xie family. However, I don't think it's related to that. The Xie family isn't known for their martial arts."

"Then do you know who is capable of winning against the martial arts of the Hidden Blade Clan?" Anna asked out of curiosity.

Elder George thought about it for a moment before he replied: "Well, around thirty years ago, there was a man who was incredible at martial arts. He swept through all the powerful families and everyone was scared of him. Someone from our family who lived in the East would always mention this person at family meetings."

However, Elder George quickly added: "But that person has disappeared for more than thirty years. In fact, Zhai Yunsheng was not yet born at the time when that man disappeared."

And thus, it was unlikely that there was a relationship between the two people.

Upon hearing this, Anna said to Elder George: "It seems as though the Zhai family will become strong in the future. We should consider them as an ally."

Elder George: "That's not a bad thought. We've given you full control to manage the Eastern markets. You can do whatever you want."

###

Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling were leaving the Jinshui Village to return to Beijing.

Before leaving, Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling went over to the hut by the waterfall to thank Grandpa Sun for his teachings during this period of time.

However, when Grandpa Sun saw these two people, he was not happy. Instead, he started yelling at them: "What are you guys doing here? Who told you to come here? Shoo!"

As he said this, Grandpa Sun began to reach for his broom.

Despite getting along well in Jin Jin's house, if anyone came here, Grandpa Sun would immediately become mad at them.

After yelling at them for a while, Grandpa Sun looked at Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling again. A trace of worry appeared in his eyes. "Well... I didn't mean anything else. It's... Just not safe here," Grandpa Sun muttered. It was rare for him to explain anything.

Then, Grandpa Sun accompanied Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling as they walked away from the waterfall. They only stopped once they were quite some distance away from the waterfall.

Grandpa Sun reached out and patted Zhai Yunsheng on the shoulder: "Hey kiddo, don't tell anyone that you were my student. I don't have any students and I won't accept any students. I just made a deal with this little girl. Do you understand?"

It wasn't a good thing to be his student.

Grandpa Sun commented: "And well, even if I wasn't there, once your body fully recovered, you could reach great places. I just sped up the process."

Grandpa Sun was not intentionally being polite. Instead, he really believed this.

In the past, what limited Zhai Yunsheng was his body.

However, now that his body was completely better, that limit was easily broken through.

Chapter 1173 Saying Farewell to the Strange Old Man (2)

Then, Grandpa Sun looked toward Jian Yiling: "Little girl, your level of mastery in medicine is far above mine. If I have the chance, I would like to ask you questions."

In the area of medicine, Grandpa Sun admired

"You're welcome to ask me anytime," Jian Yiling replied.

Then, she took out the gift she prepared beforehand and handed it to Grandpa Sun. "Oh? What is this for? Are you giving me a parting gift? Tch, you don't need to do these mundane things!" Even though Grandpa Sun said these words, he already took the gift box from Jian Yiling's hands.

"Remember to take care of yourself. Eat and sleep at a regular time," Jian Yiling said. She did not know how to say caring words. This was everything she could think of.

"Hey, why are you learning to say those things? I like it when you're serious," Grandpa Sun complained. He refused to admit that he felt happy to hear these words from Jian Yiling.

"You guys must remember that when someone asks you who taught you your martial arts, you're not allowed to mention me. In fact, you're not allowed to mention anything that happened here. Do you understand?"

Grandpa Sun was very serious as he said this.

"Mhmm."

"I understand."

Jian Yiling and Zhai Yunsheng replied.

Then, Zhai Yunsheng said to Grandpa Sun: "Even though I'm not officially your student, I still see you as my teacher. Therefore, we will come back to visit you every year."

"Huh? Who asked you to visit me?" Grandpa Sun said in disdain. "I feel comfortable living by myself! During the past month, you guys caused my hair to grey a lot!"

As Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling had been scolded for a month already, they already knew about Grandpa Sun's temper.

And thus, they decided on visiting him every year regardless of what Grandpa Sun said. "We're leaving now, take care of yourself," Zhai Yunsheng said to Grandpa Sun.

"Okay, okay. Don't come to see me in the future. I don't want to see the two of you again," Grandpa Sun impatiently said as he shoed the two of them again.

He did not like dawdling around.

And thus, Grandpa Sun turned around and left. He did not look back again.

Despite this, as he walked away, Grandpa Sun looked at the gift box in his hands. There was a sliver of reluctance on his face.

Ahh, he was alone again.

Alone with a hut and a broom.

And not a single person to discuss things with him.

###

Today was going to be the last day Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling spent in Jinshui Village.

When Zhai Yunsheng returned to the room at night, he saw two little cuties lying on the bed.

The smaller one was wearing diapers. As it was summer, he only wore a thin cotton shirt that exposed his arms and legs.

The smaller one nestled in the arms of Jian Yiling and his face was full of satisfaction.

As he slept, his small paws grabbed onto Jian Yiling's clothes. It was as though he was afraid someone was going to steal his pretty auntie from him.

Meanwhile, Jian Yiling was also sound asleep. She was probably tired from playing with Jian Dan.

Jian Yumin's son loved Jian Yiling and had been clinging to her ever since they met. He insisted on even eating and sleeping with her. Regardless of what his parents said, Jian Dan kept clinging to his auntie.

Zhai Yunsheng sat down on the edge of the bed and quietly watched the two of them for a while.

Chapter 1174 Returning to Beijing (1)

As the two of them were sleeping soundly, they did not know Zhai Yunsheng had been watching them for a while.

As it was already quite late, Zhai Yunsheng reached out to pick up Jian Dan. He wanted to bring him back to Jian Yumin and Luo Xiuen.

However, as soon as he touched Jian Dan, the little boy instantly opened his eyes.

Jian Dan did not cry. Instead, he stared at Zhai Yunsheng.

After a moment, the little boy turned around and curled into Jian Yiling's arms.

His little butt was facing Zhai Yunsheng.

Upon seeing this, Zhai Yunsheng smiled. Then, he decided to lie down on the other side of Jian Yiling.

After that, Zhai Yunsheng opened his phone.

He hadn't touched his phone for two entire years.

Master Zhai and the Second Master of the Zhai family took his phone away over the past two years. They did not want him to hear any news that would negatively affect his emotions.

When he opened his phone, he saw a lot of unread messages.

Zhai Yunsheng wanted to slowly familiarize himself with his former work and pick up everything he used to do.

However, as he was afraid of disturbing Jian Yiling's sleep, he decided to use his phone and a tablet. By using these two devices, the sound of keyboard tapping would not disturb Jian Yiling's sleep. In the middle of the night, Jian Yiling turned around and noticed Zhai Yunsheng's phone was lit up. She saw a screen filled with work information.

He was serious and hardworking.

Was it because of her?

However, Jian Yiling did not say anything to interrupt Zhai Yunsheng. Instead, she continued to hug Jian Dan and closed her eyes.

###

After living in Jinshui Village for a month or so, Zhai Yunsheng and Jian Yiling finally left.

They brought along Jin Jin and Zhang Yun.

Previously, the two of them were reluctant to go to Beijing. However, Jian Yiling introduced the two of them to their dream jobs.

And thus, the two of them decided to follow Jian Yiling back to Beijing.

However, Beijing changed a lot during the two years Jian Yiling disappeared. Inside the Qin Residence, the Qin siblings were eating breakfast. However, a third person was there. It was someone Qin Yufan did not want to see.

Mo Shiyun.

This woman should have utterly disappeared a few years ago. However, one and a half years ago, her brother brought her back to Beijing from a village.

He not only let her live in the Qin Residence and gave her everything, but he also made it public that she was his girlfriend.

Qin Yufan could not understand her brother's actions. Qin Chuan clearly knew what she had done to Jian Yiling.

Therefore, it didn't make sense why Qin Chuan did these things for Mo Shiyun.

However, no matter how she tried to persuade him, Qin Chuan insisted on being with this woman. It was as though he was bewitched by her.

At the dining table, the three of them ate in silence.

Before Mo Shiyun appeared, Qin Yufan would occasionally speak to Qin Chuan. However, after Mo Shiyun's appearance, Qin Yufan almost never spoke to her brother. Their relationship and communication had gone backward.

Qin Chuan finished his breakfast in silence.

When Mo Shiyun saw this, she hurriedly got his bag and saw him out. She did the things a virtuous wife would do.

Qin Yufan watched all of this with cold eyes.

After Qin Chuan left, Qin Yufan said to Mo Shiyun: "Yiling's still alive. She's coming back soon. You better not come up with any other tricks!"

Mo Shiyun lowered her head and softly replied: “Yufan, I know what I did wrong. I won’t do those stupid things anymore. Jian Yiling is Jian Yiling. She has nothing to do with me. There is no need for me to be jealous of what she has. Your brother treats me incredibly well. I am content with what I have right now.”

“That better be the case!” Qin Yufan exclaimed as she turned around and left.

Qin Yufan picked up some things and then headed toward the airport. Jian Yiling was coming back today. She would be there to greet her at the airport.

Chapter 1175 Returning to Beijing (2)

The news of Jian Yiling’s return became a widely discussed topic on the Internet.

It was surprising for someone in a plane incident to return after two years.

A lot of netizens found this unbelievable. However, most of them were happy for her.

(Jian Yiling’s actually alive! Oh my goodness. This is amazing!)

(God Ling’s alive! She’s actually still alive!)

[I’m sending my prayers and blessings.]

Meanwhile, some people on the Internet began to do some research and speculation. [I believe the plane encountered a wormhole over the Pacific Ocean. That’s why it landed two years later.]

[That’s what I think as well. When they couldn’t find the plane wreckage two years ago, I made that guess. This seems even more likely now!] However, some people did not agree with this theory: (But if it’s a wormhole, where is the plane? Why is there no mention of the plane or the other crew members? Where did they go?)

[And why is there no media coverage on discovering the plane? What is being hidden?]

[Ahhh, I really want to know what happened. I hope someone can interview Jian Yiling!]

All of this was just speculation as Jian Yiling did not come out to make a clarification.

Everyone only knew that she came back alive.

**###

The day after her return, Jian Yiling appeared in Lahaisen Hospital’s Beijing branch.

During these two years, the construction of Lahaisen Hospital’s Beijing branch had been completed.

Unlike the main hospital, the Beijing branch was more akin to an ordinary private hospital.

Other than being more expensive and medical technology being a bit better, its day to day operations were similar to any other hospital

And thus, the recruitment here was completely different from the standards of Lahaisen Hospital’s main branch.

Over these two years, under the management of other core members of Lahaisen Hospital, a large number of doctors were stationed inside Beijing's branch.

And now, Zhang Yun got the opportunity to become a member of Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing Branch.

When she arrived at the entrance of the hospital, Zhang Yun was still dumbfounded.

She did not expect that the person she and Jin Jin saved was a member of Lahaisen Hospital who could help her achieve her dream job.

Zhang Yun never considered becoming a member of Lahaisen Hospital as it was said to be only for the top talents.

"Miss Jian, can I really come to work here?" Zhang Yun once again asked Jian Yiling.

Jian Yiling nodded and replied: "Mhmm, but you have to start as an intern."

"I understand, I understand," Zhang Yun nodded.

It didn't matter if she had to work as an intern. She was already satisfied to be able to work here.

After the two of them entered the hospital, Zhang Yun went to report to her section.

Meanwhile, Jian Yiling went to see the Director of Beijing's branch.

"Hey, isn't that Jian Yiling? Isn't she from the main branch?"

"Yeah, she's the one who disappeared two years ago."

"Why did she show up here? Is it because she disappeared two years ago and got demoted?" "I don't know. We haven't heard of her in ages. We don't know about her situation."

"Will our number one surgeon get replaced?"

"I wonder who is better between her and Dr.

Fei."

"I think Dr. Fei would be better. Other than the news of her joining Lahaisen Hospital, I haven't heard of any other amazing cases."

Chapter 1176 Who is Lahaisen Hospital's Best Surgeon (1)

Even though it was Jian Yiling's first day, she received a lot of attention from everyone.

This was because she disappeared for two entire years.

Furthermore, everyone was curious about who was Lahaisen Hospital's best surgeon.

This was because, during Jian Yiling's absence, an incredible surgeon named Fei Qing appeared in Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing Branch.

In these two years, Fei Qing completed several surgeries that many people thought were impossible. By doing this, she gained the unanimous recognition of the medical community and became one of the top surgeons in China.

However, whenever Fei Qing's name was mentioned, everyone would also think of Jian Yiling. She was also a young surgeon who came from Lahaisen Hospital that rose to fame two years ago.

It was hard not to compare the two of them due to their similarities. However, as Jian Yiling disappeared, people had no way to compare the two of them.

N

The hardest thing to do was to win against a dead person. No one could defeat someone who was dead.

And if they could not be defeated, they would become a legend. Some people in Lahaisen Hospital believed that Jian Yiling was better at performing surgeries. The reason for this was simple. Jian Yiling was a member recognized by the main branch of Lahaisen Hospital. On the other hand, Fei Qing was a member of the Beijing Branch. There was obviously going to be a clear gap between the two branches.

However, others believed that Fei Qing was better. Three points supported this: First of all, there were many successful surgical cases under Fei Qing's name.

Secondly, when Jian Yiling was recruited by Lahaisen Hospital's main branch, the Beijing branch hadn't yet been created. Even if Lahaisen Hospital wanted to delegate her here, it would not be possible.

And finally, Jian Yiling once was a professional e-sports player. If someone invested a lot of time into a game, they would not be able to focus their attention on their other jobs.

At this point in time, Fei Qing was in her office.

She was currently the chief physician of the surgery department in Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing branch. "Fei Qing, did you hear about the news? Jian Yiling has come to the Beijing branch!"

"Mhmm," Fei Qing replied. She did not look concerned.

Fei Qing's appearance was clean and sweet. Anyone who saw her would definitely call her a beauty.

Currently, she was wearing a white lab coat and seated in her chair. She looked mature and dignified.

Everyone was currently telling her the news about Jian Yiling's return.

"This morning, everyone was talking about Jian Yiling's return. They were all wondering what position she would be allocated by the main branch."

Only one person could be Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing branch's chief physician in the surgery department.

If Jian Yiling was here, what was going to happen to Fei Qing? Was Fei Qing meant to give up her position to Jian Yiling? But if she didn't Jian Yiling's situation would be quite awkward. After all, she was a member of the main branch who had been transferred over. If she had to work under Fei Qing, wasn't that essentially a demotion?

"I don't need to care about that. I will just listen to the orders from our headquarters," Fei Qing quietly replied.

When her colleague noticed that Fei Qing did not appear concerned, she also looked relieved: "Ahh, it's good that you don't care about this. If Jian Yiling replaces you, your efforts in these two years would all be in vain. However, please rest assured. In our minds, you will always be number one in our branch. No one can match the number of successful surgical cases under your name.”

Chapter 1177: Who is Lahaisen Hospital’s Best Surgeon (2)

Fei Qing merely smiled and did not say anything else.

After her colleague left, Fei Qing’s face darkened.

Then, she opened a webpage and searched for information about Jian Yiling.

Back when she applied for a job at Lahaisen Hospital’s Beijing branch, she heard of Jian Yiling’s name.

The comments that she heard the most was that Jian Yiling was the youngest doctor Lahaisen Hospital’s main branch ever expected. She was also the only surgeon the main branch ever made public.

However, when she saw people comparing her with Jian Yiling, Fei Qing couldn’t help but laugh.

Jian Yiling was more talented than her at surgery? Fei Qing could not agree with this.

Jian Yiling’s talent was definitely hyped up.

There was only news about Jian Yiling attending medical conferences with big shots in their field. However, the remaining news was all entertainment and gossip.

A surgeon should not be like this. Instead, a surgeon should be known for how many difficult operations she completed or how many people she saved.

As for Jian Yiling, weren’t all the things she was doing the usual things celebrities did?

Instead of focusing on producing good movies or dramas, celebrities would focus on attending and participating in variety shows.

And thus, instead of recognizing Jian Yiling as an excellent surgeon, it would be better to say she knew how to promote herself.

A professional e -sports player who was also a surgeon.

A multifaceted persona could attract a lot of fans.

And thus, Fei Qing was not interested in comparing herself with such a person.

She did not care about what everything thought.

After Jian Yiling left the director’s office, she went over to the surgery department.

As soon as she entered the office, everyone looked at her.

They all cast inquisitive and curious glances at her.

Jian Yiling was less than 1.6 meters tall. She had fair and delicate skin and exquisite doll-like facial features.

She wore a white lab coat and carried a black backpack. Her long hair was tied into a ponytail.

Where did this person disappear in the past two years?

And why was she in Lahaisen Hospital Beijing branch?

Jian Yiling walked over to a corner and sat down. She put down her backpack and took out her laptop to put on the desk.

Then, she began to work.

Jian Yiling ignored the curious looks of everyone around her. Instead, she was focused on the work she had to do.

She still had to monitor Zhai Yunsheng's data and do as many experiments as possible to improve things.

She wasn't satisfied with the current situation as she wanted to be 100% sure he could move around healthily without anything impairing or affecting him.

The members of Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing branch had a WeChat group. In addition, several doctors would create groups amongst themselves.

There was also a group for ordinary employees that excluded the directors.

Inside this group, a lot of people were talking about Jian Yiling: [Wow, Jian Yiling is so pretty! She's prettier than the photos!] [Her skin is so amazing. I'm so damn jealous.]

[Is anyone curious about where she went in the past two years?]

[Yeah me! I'm super duper curious. However, I feel somewhat bad for asking..

What if she doesn't want to talk about it?]

Chapter 1178 Who is Lahaisen Hospital's Best Surgeon (3)

(Oh right, who do you think will represent Lahaisen Hospital for the medical conference this year? Will it still be Dr. Fei?)

Someone suddenly mentioned the medical conference.

Last year, there was no doubt that their representative was going to be Fei Qing.

However, Jian Yiling miraculously came back this year. And thus, things could be subjected to change.

After all, Jian Yiling was technically someone from the Lahaisen Hospital headquarters.

Although Jian Yiling was not part of this chat group, Fei Qing was.

When she saw her colleagues gossiping, Fei Qing initially felt quite bored by these comments and messages.

However, when she read the message regarding the representative for the medical conference, her expression slightly changed.

Previously, she was undoubtedly the chosen representative for the medical conference.

Attending the conference was a symbol of recognition.

And thus, Fei Qing had to admit that she cared about this matter a little bit.

However, Lahaisen Hospital hadn't decided on who was going to be representing them. Therefore, she didn't want to go and ask the higher-ups about this. If she did, it would appear as though she cared a lot about this.

###

During lunchtime, everyone headed to the hospital's cafeteria to eat.

The cafeteria at Lahaisen Hospital was designed like a fine dining restaurant.

The staff at Lahaisen Hospital could enjoy all kinds of foods here for free. This was one of the many benefits the staff at Lahaisen Hospital got. When Zhang Yun walked into the cafeteria, she found Jian Yiling and sat down next to her with her meal tray.

Then, she told Jian Yiling about all the things she did during the morning.

After that, Zhang Yun mentioned the things she heard her colleagues discussing.

This was because she heard a lot of her colleagues talking about Jian Yiling. Some of the things were nice whilst the other comments weren't very nice.

Zhang Yun could understand the thoughts of some of her colleagues. After all, Jian Yiling went missing for two entire years. This would definitely make anyone curious. Furthermore, Jian Yiling became famous at such a young age. Even though she was only eighteen, she gained a lot of fame and fortune from her achievements. As Jian Yiling was also involved in more than one industry, there was naturally controversy surrounding her. However, when Jian Yiling heard these things, she merely smiled and did not make a comment. It seemed as though she did not care about these things.

Upon seeing this, Zhang Yun did not make any further comments.

Fei Qing and her colleagues also ended up in the cafeteria. When they saw Jian Yiling, Fei Qing's colleague quickly walked over.

"Dr. Jian, would you mind if we sat next to you?" the female doctor said with a smile on her face.

"Nope," Jian Yiling replied indifferently.

Upon hearing this answer, the female doctor pulled Fei Qing over and sat down in the seat next to Jian Yiling and Zhang Yun.

"Dr. Jian, before we joined Lahaisen Hospital, we had already heard of your name. You were well known in a reality show," the female doctor said sweetly to Jian Yiling.

"Mhmm," Jian Yiling responded softly as she kept eating.

"And thus, I'm quite curious as to how you became a member of the main Lahaisen Hospital branch. After all, you appear to spend most of your time on reality shows or participating in gaming tournaments," the female doctor added.

Fei Qing did not say anything. She also appeared to be focused on eating.

However, when Zhang Yun heard these words, she felt as though something didn't sound quite right.

Zhang Yun smiled as she helped Jian Yiling explain: "Dr. Jian is a well-rounded individual. Therefore, she has some involvement in the entertainment industry."

Even though she received this response from Zhang Yun, the female doctor continued: "Oh right, Dr. Jian, do you know of Dr. Fei? She's the best surgeon here. In the past two years, she has completed a number of difficult surgeries and thereby saved the lives of many individuals."

Chapter 1179 Who is Lahaisen Hospital's Best Surgeon (4)

Then, she pointed to somewhere in the cafeteria: "And do you see that carved jade piece? It was given to Dr. Fei after she treated a certain patient. As the jade piece could not fit in Dr. Fei's office, she decided to place the large jade piece in the hospital cafeteria."

"Mhmm," Jian Yiling said with a nod as she glanced at the jade piece mentioned by the female doctor. Then, she lowered her head again to continue eating.

When the female doctor noticed Jian Yiling's lack of response, she soon realized that regardless of what she said, Jian Yiling would not react. And thus, she lost the desire to keep speaking

###

A while later, the representatives for the conference were decided. The details regarding this were sent to everyone's work emails.

When everyone opened the email, they saw that Fei Qing's name was not on the list. Instead, her name was replaced by Jian Yiling's name.

When Fei Qing saw the list, a frown appeared on her face.

Why was Jian Yiling's name there?

"Dr. Fei, have you seen the email?" a colleague asked as they rushed over. "What is going on here? Why did our leaders make this decision? Why did they pick Jian Yiling over you?" This was not just a question of who was going to attend the conference.

Instead, this was essentially the higher-ups telling everyone that they believed that Jian Yiling was the best surgeon in their hospital.

Not only that, when the medical conference came around, people in the medical field would conclude that Jian Yiling was more outstanding as a surgeon than Fei Qing.

However, during the two years of Jian Yiling's absence, Fei Qing was always known to be the best surgeon in Lahaisen Hospital's Beijing branch. Furthermore, people in the medical field even saw her as one of the best surgeons in the younger generation.

And thus, Fei Qing did not believe that Jian Yiling had the ability to one-up her. She also refused to accept that the higher-ups made this decision without any assessment.

And she firmly believed that the higher-ups knew how much this opportunity meant.

“Dr. Fei, why don’t we go and ask our leaders?” a female colleague suggested.

She also felt as though this matter should not be decided this hastily.

After all, no one knew what Jian Yiling was capable of.

Even if Jian Yiling was very talented, she should still compete against Fei Qing for something. If Fei Qing was really worse than Jian Yiling, then everyone would accept Jian Yiling as their representative.

However, the decision right now was essentially silently slapping Fei Qing in the face.

When the female colleague noticed that Fei Qing was silent, she pulled Fei Qing towards the elevator.

“Well, why don’t we ask our leaders? If we have any doubts, we should ask for clarification.”

After all, Fei Qing was the representative for Lahaisen Hospital last year. However, her spot was given to Jian Yiling who had just returned. It was only natural for her to have doubts.

And thus, the female colleague and Fei Qing headed to the top level. Just as they were about to knock on the door, Fei Qing backtracked.

“Ahh, forget it,” Fei Qing said as she pulled her colleague away.

“Why not?” the female colleague responded. “Other than being a bit prettier than you, what other things is she capable of doing? We’re doctors and not celebrities. We shouldn’t be relying on our faces and visuals. Instead, we should be relying on our skills! Our leaders shouldn’t select her as our representative just because she has a lot of fans, no?!”

Upon hearing the words of her colleague, a flash of pain appeared on Fei Qing’s face.

She understood what her colleague was saying

She just didn’t want to get a definite answer from their leader.

This would make her feel like she was humiliated.

“There’s no point in asking,” Fei Qing explained

Chapter 1180 Compete Against One Another

“But then... Are you just going to give up this spot? If that’s the case, when the medical conference is held, everyone will assume Jian Yiling is a better surgeon than you...”

Her colleague’s words poked Fei Qing’s sore spot.

Why should she just give up what she had in the past two years?

After a moment of silence, Fei Qing replied: “Well, true gold isn’t afraid of the test of fire. If I’m capable and talented, I shouldn’t care about these superficial things.”

Jian Yiling was currently part of Lahaisen Hospital’s Beijing branch. If she wanted to compete against her, she would have the opportunity to do so.

If she proved herself, then no one would assume that there was any meaning or additional weight behind attending the medical conference.

“Mhmm, you’re right. You’re definitely talented. You should compete against her to prove that you’re the best surgeon in Lahaisen Hospital.”

“Compete?”

“Yeah, you should compete against her. Every month, our hospital gets some rather difficult cases. Some of which we don’t usually accept. If you want to show that you’re better than Jian Yiling, you should compete against her in one of these cases. Once you win against her, everyone inside our hospital and outside our hospital will know that in terms of medical skills, you’re definitely better than Jian Yiling.”

Upon hearing these words, Fei Qing was silent for a moment. She felt that this proposal was feasible.

If she won against Jian Yiling, everyone will learn that Jian Yiling was merely a pretty girl who was good for nothing.

And even if she lost, there was nothing to lose. Either way, their leaders had already decided that Jian Yiling was going to be representing their hospital at the medical conference. By then, everyone else would already assume that Jian Yiling was the better surgeon.

Furthermore, as Jian Yiling was working here, it was highly likely that they would eventually work on a case together.

“I vaguely remember our hospital refusing a cancer case last week?”

“You mean the old patient who was diagnosed with cancer? The one you persuaded his family to take back?”

“Mhmm, the one with lung cancer that had the lesion in between the intersection of his trachea and blood vessels. As the cells were wrapped around both, the surgery was deemed to be incredibly difficult.”

Everyone knew that if cancer cells grew on the lobe of the lung, it was not very difficult to remove them.

However, if it grew at the intersection of the trachea and blood vessels, the surgery would be incredibly difficult.

If the surgeon accidentally touched the trachea and blood vessels, the patient was likely to die on the operating table.

Furthermore, the patient was very old already. He was well into his seventies. And thus, Lahaisen Hospital did not recommend surgery as any small mistake would result in him losing his life. There was no need for the patient to suffer through this.

After returning to her office, Fei Qing pulled up the patient’s information.

As the chief physician, she had the power to accept or reject a patient.

Previously, she decided against accepting this patient because she cared about Lahaisen Hospital’s reputation and her own reputation.

However, she wanted to take a gamble.

And thus, she went back on her words and accepted this patient. Then, she sent a message to her colleagues that were responsible for contacting patients.

###

In the evening, Jian Yiling left work with Zhang Yun.

Zhang Yun pulled Jian Yiling over and hurriedly told her what she had just heard.

“Yiling, are you going to compete against Dr. Fei, the chief physician in the surgery department?”

Jian Yiling gave Zhang Yun a slightly puzzled look before she replied: “Surgeries that save lives should not be a competition.”

“I know they shouldn’t be a competition. However, I heard that Dr. Fei accept an incredibly difficult case. That’s why everyone’s saying that this will end up being a competition between you and Dr. Fei.”