

THE HEIRESS' RETURN: SIX BROTHERS AT HER BECK AND CALL

Chapter 581 Wendy and Naomi Are Done For

"Mr. Quinnell, it'll be better for you to come back. After all, you know what the Yarwood family's bodyguards can do."

Shane's eyes were red with anger. "Are you threatening me? This.. the Quinnell family's banquet!"

Dalton looked

"You're right, and I'm the Quinnell family's son-in-law. I've already consulted toward the second floor where Fabian was leaning on a cane. "Grandpa said you should stay and pay attention."

Although it felt satisfying to see Shane being dealt with, wasn't Dalton calling Fabian "Grandpa" a bit too soon?

Tobias turned his head, wanting to find some solidarity from his brothers. But to his surprise, no one looked at him; they were all looking at Fabian. Well, Fabian really hid himself well.

He always loved Wynter dearly, so how could he tolerate all these things? He seemed calm despite the chaos earlier, but it turned out he was just waiting for the right moment to combine forces with Dalton and unleash his ultimate move!

Fabian had spoken, so how could Shane leave?

Shane flung his hand angrily while gritting his teeth. "I want to see what tricks you're playing! Dalton, you should also think about the reputation of the Yarwood family before you act."

"You don't need to bother about the matters of the Yarwood family, Mr. Quinnell." Dalton flicked the nonexistent ash off his suit and raised his voice. "Wolf, restore the surveillance footage and let everyone see the truth."

Suddenly, someone tapped on the microphone, and the entire venue could hear it.

Dalton understood the meaning behind it. "I'll add another 100 thousand dollars. Play it."

As soon as he finished his sentence, the big screen lit up again!

This time the video changed, and there was a timestamp.

It looked like footage from the banquet, but it was too dark to see clearly, and there was only a faint light around.

This was...

"Last night!"

Indeed, it was last night.

The venue had just been set up.

A figure cautiously walked forward as if afraid of being noticed.

But when she approached Myles William, she smiled sweetly. "Mr. William, I have a video I want to give to Wynter tomorrow. Please watch my actions tomorrow. I want to give Wynter a surprise."

Originally, the camera didn't capture the person's face.

But Myles' words revealed her identity. "Ms. Naomi, you're so kind-hearted.

You've been bringing us snacks and afternoon tea every day for the past few days, and we've even received generous rewards."

"All of you have been working hard to set up the venue for Wynter. I can't help much, so it's just a token of my appreciation. As long as you don't mind." The lady smiled gently. "But please don't tell anyone about this surprise. It's between us. You know, my position in the Quinnell family is very sensitive. I might make

In the end, Myles had an extra USB flash drive in his hand.

When the video played to this point, those who were clever already knew what was going on.

As soon as the video appeared, Naomi's face turned pale. She tried to contact Myles, but there was no response!

Instead, it was Dalton who spoke again. "Wolf, restore the original video from the USB flash drive."

Original video? What did that mean?

Soon, people understood what it meant!

It was the footage from before, where someone claimed that the "The young lady of the Quinnell family spread a rumor by saying that Mr. Yarwood was pursuing her."!

The difference this time was that the footage was vertical!
And the identity of the person talking was revealed!
It was Wendy!

Chapter 583 It's Over

Ryan, with his chubby hands, dragged a middle-aged man over, followed by the Yarwood family's bodyguards.

He grinned and said. "You wanted to confront someone, right? I brought him here."

Bang!

Ryan threw the man at Naomi's feet.

As soon as the middle-aged man raised his head, he shouted, "Ms. Naomi, save me! Mr. Lloyd said I leaked the video and didn't follow the rules. I told him the USB flash drive was given to me by you, they don't believe me. Miss Naomi-"

"Shut up!" Naomi was no longer gentle and weak like before. At this moment, she seemed to have completely exposed her true nature and had a poisonous glint in her eyes. "The video I gave you was clearly my father missing Wynter!" "Who exactly instructed you to frame me?"

but

The middle-aged man was stunned. He did not expect that Naomi, who had always been considerate to them, would say such things. "I didn't! Ms. Naomi, don't you remember? You personally delivered this USB flash drive. It's because it was you that we didn't check the content of the video."

"Enough!" Naomi clenched her fists. "He's full of lies! Take him away!"

At this moment, her anger was no longer concealed.

People were already astonished, and they couldn't believe that this was Naomi's true nature. After all, she always spoke softly, so how could she be like this now, seemingly a bit mentally unstable?

Shane also realized that this matter was most likely true.

Naomi intentionally gave the video to Myles, and even if something happened, Wendy would be the one who took the fall in the end as long as Myles wasn't found out.

The people present could also guess what Shane guessed.

They looked at Naomi differently now.

Even though there might be some special magnetic field influencing them, people's aversion to her was real at that moment. Only Shane was thinking about how to stabilize the situation.

Naomi was his lucky star.

Only if Naomi was fine could he continue to rise..

He would always recall the divination he received on the mountain.

And it had been proven true too. When Naomi was around, nothing happened.

As soon as Wynter returned, he lost everything!

Chapter 583 It's Over

Naomi couldn't be ruined! She was the cornerstone of his comeback!

"Ryan, you are in charge of the banquet. How could your subordinates release the video so casually without your consent?"

At this point, Shane took on his CEO demeanor. "Every process at the Quinnell Corporation requires approval. Do you dare to say that you didn't watch this video?"

Shane's goal was simple-to shift the blame onto Ryan.

When Dalton heard this, he instinctively pursed his lips. "Mr. Lloyd did watch it. It was because he, Mr. Quinnell Senior, and I watched it together that we decided to release it to let you see. Mr. Quinnell Senior wants to know how you would handle it in such a situation.

"Now it seems that you'll distort right and wrong and disregard your dignity for the sake of protecting a sponsee."

"Ethan, take them away and send them to the police station. We'll let the professionals investigate; there will definitely be results."

Dalton wanted to send them to the police station?

For the Winston family, this was indeed a huge humiliation. Arianna couldn't imagine how angry Clyde uld be when he heard this news.

It was too embarrassing! Wendy was taken to the police station because of jealousy!

Moreover, it happened at such a banquet.

Wendy's life was over as a young lady in the socialite circle. No one would introduce her to any good marriage candidates again.

Chapter 584 Announcing the Quinnell Corporation's Successor
Disregarding those families with similar backgrounds, even those a level lower wouldn't curry favor with the Winston family.

Arianna's mind was racing with thoughts on what to do.

Wendy was struggling, and Naomi was struggling too. However, the bodyguards of the Yarwood family were different from those of ordinary aristocratic families; they were loyal servants who obeyed the orders of their masters.

Shane couldn't stop them, and he was forcefully pinned to the ground.

Red wine spilled on his white suit, making him look extremely disheveled.

Shane couldn't bear it. He yelled at Marie, "She's also our daughter. Even if there's no blood relation between us, she's been by your side for so many years. How can you bear to do this?"

"No, I've never acknowledged it. Shane, you just took advantage of the fact that my mind wasn't clear back then!" Marie's eyes were burning with fire.

"People can scold me for being heartless today, but I will never have a person who has always been plotting against Wynter and always trying to replace her by my side!

"I'd already held myself back by not slapping her earlier!"

What Marie hated the most was being kept in the dark for so many years. Not only did it make Wynter suffer outside, but it also broke Tobias' heart. This was all because Shane wanted to adopt someone like How could Marie not resent Shane as a mother?

Naomi was still crying. "Mom, save me. I was framed. You understand me, right? Before Wynter came back, we were always talking about her."

"Mom..."

When Marie heard Naomi's voice, she was momentarily dazed, and even her gaze changed.

At that moment, Wynter held Marie's hand, and the color of her eyes was deep as she whispered something softly to Marie.

Others couldn't hear her clearly, but Leo and the twins understood.

Wynter said, "You aren't welcome here, and you don't belong here... Be gone!"

The nine-character mantra!

In that instant, all the anomalies disappeared.

Marie's eyes no longer wandered, and her gaze focused on Wynter.

Suddenly, she reached out and touched Wynter's face, as if to confirm that her beloved daughter was still there.

"Sevie, I just heard you calling for help."

Wynter smiled gently at Marie. "Mom, that wasn't me. I wouldn't address you like that; it's not like me."

Shane, watching this scene, blurted out, "Sevie, are you unable to tolerate Naomi to the point that you even used your mother?"

Anyone would deny it in a normal situation.

However, Wynter's eyes narrowed slightly. "Why should I tolerate her?"

"Adopting bitches is your hobby, not mine."

"It's good that she'll be imprisoned. The world will be peaceful."

Shane wanted to argue further.

Chapter 585 Noticing Something Strange

When Fabian finished his sentence, everyone's movements stopped!

This was the last thing Shane heard before being dragged away.

Surprisingly, no one opposed it on the scene!

This was Fabian's strategy!

Shane finally understood why it took so long for Wynter to be found, and why Fabian only arranged for a family reunion banquet now.

Was this really a family reunion?

This was clearly a trap set for him!

If this news had been announced a month ago, at least half of the shareholders would have stood up in opposition!

After all, many directors wanted him to succeed, and he had always maintained good relations with them.

But today, even if they didn't care about the Whitman family, they had to take the Yarwood family into consideration. Since Dalton had acted like this, no one would dare to oppose it!

Fabian hid his trump card extremely well and used it against Shane!

Had Fabian not taken Shane as his son?

Don't Fabian hand over the company to him? Fabian had second thoughts about him and did not step down even though he was unwell.

And as soon as Wynter came back, Fabian delegated authority to her!

As a father, Fabian looked down on Shane!

Even knowing that the event today would completely sever his chance of inheriting the Quinnell Corporation, Fabian still did it! What kind of father would do something like this?

Shane's resentment spread through his body.

He had thought more than once that it would have been better if his biological father was Declan.

Fabian was just a heartless machine!

Since it had already reached this point, Fabian didn't want to bother about what Shane thought anymore.

The reason why the Quinnell family had become so chaotic, with his grandsons not coming home and his granddaughter being bullied by an outside was all because Shane was incompetent and had overestimated himself.

Fabian only expelled Shane because he was Shane's father.

As soon as the news of Fabian's succession was announced, people's gazes toward Wynter changed.

Originally, they thought that they were here to meet Wynter, who was brought back from the backwoods. They didn't expect the Quinnell family to not only reunite with her but also hand over the authority to her.

In other words, the entire Quinnell Corporation would be at Wynter's command from now on!

Fabian's move was too bold; after all, Wynter was still too young.

Someone raised this question, and Fabian smiled and said, "In my opinion, the Quinnell family is just too conservative and some of our ideas are old-fashioned. There will be more chances to prosper now that the younger generations are taking over."

With that, he directly shifted the topic to Dalton. "I remember when Dalton was quite young when he took over the Yarwood family."

"I was 17." Dalton treated Fabian with great respect, his eyes very affectionate as he glanced at Wynter. "Wynter has more talent in business than me, so I believe she will handle it very well."

"But she doesn't have to work too hard. If she's too busy, she still has me."

S

The weight of Dalton's words was known to everyone in the business world. He had worked in venture capital on Winnow Street and always made a profit. He could casually cause the life and death of a company.

Wynter's position had completely changed.

Naomi was indeed very strange, not only because of the smell on her but also because of something else...

Chapter 586

Chapter 586

It was necessary for her to have a chat with Winnie. That was Wynter's only thought.

As soon as she moved, everyone on that side raised their glasses.
"Let us congratulate the Quinnell Corporation's new leader, Wynter!"
The host applauded, and countless cameras were focused on Wynter.
At this moment, she was undoubtedly the most dazzling figure in the whole venue!

Even the news about the Quinnell Corporation's leader had surged to the top of the trending news.

Although no photos were released, news about the Quinnell Corporation dominated the business section on this day!

Many people looked down on Wynter initially upon hearing that she was brought back from the countryside. In their hearts, Wynter was just a bumpkin, definitely not stylish, and definitely not a spender. In front of pampered young ladies like them, she was nothing.

She would embarrass herself even at the family reunion banquet, and Dalton wouldn't even spare her a glance.

They had also prepared some pranks privately to tease Wynter and teach her the rules of their circle.

But who would have thought that as soon as she arrived, not only did three of the Quinnell brothers come back for her, but even Dalton, who was high and mighty, would show such a gentle smile?

Most importantly, Fabian actually handed the Quinnell Corporation over to her!

Throughout Kingbourne, there had never been a young lady from any family who had

The family reunion banquet had not only caused a sensation in the upper-class society but also among business elites.

The Quinnell Group finally had a new leader.

Among them, the happiest were Ryan and Alexis.

If leading troops into battle were used as a metaphor, no one would willingly submit to an incompetent king.

If a boss acknowledged talents, it would be the employee's good fortune.

Many people had talents, but few could be recognized.

They were excited and impressed from the bottom of their hearts when they witnessed Fabian personally handing over the Quinnell Corporation to Wynter. They believed that the Quinnell Corporation would only get better in the future, and they also believed that Wynter would not misuse her powers by firing talented individuals for the sake of the company's factions like Shane.

Employees would opt to stay in a company where those who were competent could take charge.

If a company only engaged in deception, it was not far from collapsing.

There were already many problems within the Quinnell Corporation.

With Wynter at the helm, the Quinnell Corporation would definitely be rejuvenated!

Ryan raised his glass excitedly, and Alexis, who was usually calm, also pushed up his glasses.

No one dared to step forward to stop it. Wynter had truly become the CEO of Quinnell Corporation!

However, there were still two people sighing in the venue.

"How about it, old friend? You lost the bet."

"You're really something. How could you tell that Wynter was extraordinary?"

"I just observed her. Don't try to back out now. Pay up!"

Indeed, some people also thought that Wynter might not be able to manage a listed company.

Chapter 587

After all, this wasn't a game. Generally, those attending such events were either involved in family businesses from a young age or graduates from business schools.

Even the young ladies of the upper class in Kingbourne might not necessarily have experience in business management.

But no matter how one looked at it, with Fabian publicly delegating authority, the others would also acknowledge their new leader.

The banquet was lively.

Many people crowded around Wynter, wanting to chat with her. After all, she also brought Dalton along.

"Ms. Quinnell, do you feel confident about managing the company?"

"What suggestions do you have for the recent overseas markets and investments?"

There were also questions about recent conflicts and their impact on the economy.

In general, business people would usually discuss such topics at these kinds of events.

Upon hearing this, Wynter directly pulled Dalton over and said politely, "My fiance will answer your questions. Please talk to him."

With that, she was about to leave, but Dalton reached out and pulled her into his arms. He chuckled softly, his voice magnetic and pleasant to hear. "Do you want me to handle the situations you don't want to deal with?"

He was too close to her. The difference between before the official announcement and after it was obvious.

His elegant voice, mixed with warmth, hit her earlobes gently. He looked down at her, and his dark eyes seemed to possess a bewitching power that could easily ensnare anyone.

Wynter could feel his breath on her, especially when he drew closer, and his nose was almost touching her forehead.

In that instant, Wynter once again sensed his unusual tension, as if all sorts of creatures were entangled around him, with a looming black mist that seemed to want to engulf her whole.

Wynter suddenly raised her head.

Leo had begun to tremble, and even the twins didn't dare release a breath.

What was going on here?

Leo was a bit puzzled. Could it be that Dalton's affection for Wynter was fake? Wynter didn't doubt it. She only had one feeling-the inexplicably deathly aura emanating from him made her furrow her brows. Wynter put her lucky coin on his hand without saying a word. "Be a good househusband."

It seemed that once this matter was resolved, she had to make a trip to Mt. Dragon.

It wasn't about who was behind the scenes but about someone's fate, She wanted to find another glimmer of hope!

After hearing her words, Dalton smiled, coughed lightly, and said, "I mustn't shirk my responsibilities then. Come back early. Grandpa and the whole family are waiting for you to go to the Yarwoods' manor."

"You know, they all want to see you, but not all of them can come. If they really came, the headlines wouldn't be about you taking over Quinnell Corporation but about the Yarwood family."

Considering this situation, the Yarwoods didn't show up,

This included those documents. Not a single detail wasn't enough to chill her heart.

Shane could deny it, but he allowed such a person to stay by his side. Since before Wynter was born, Fiona had been plotting to make Marie have a miscarriage.

Chapter 588

But as Marie's husband, Shane still felt that she had been too sensitive after becoming pregnant.

At that time, all she could feel was the discomfort emanating from the other party.

Marie couldn't quite put her finger on it. After all, Fiona had been working for the Quinnell family for quite some time. She was diligent in her work, and she listened to what Marie said.

However, Fiona would still cause trouble behind the scenes. She was definitely going to further investigate Fiona!

When Matie married Shane, her family didn't agree to it. It was only because her in-laws were magnanimous that they allowed the marriage. Later, she was indeed very happy after marriage.

Until Wynter was kidnapped... That was when she noticed the issue. At that time, Taylor warned her to be more vigilant. This matter was possibly related to Shane.

She really couldn't control herself, just like when she was lost in thought just now.

Marie understood her family's disappointment in her, but she still felt some regret and discomfort today since she didn't see Noah and Taylor.

After all, today was the day Wynter regained her identity.

If only Noah and Taylor were here... They had loved Wynter the most.

Marie remembered that Taylor sent her all sorts of supplements to help her recover quickly after giving birth, and she even teased Wynter. "When you grow up, I will give you a big estate!"

"Marie, remember to take Sevie there with you!"

Now... Marie glanced at the entrance again before swallowing the bitterness in her throat with a sip of red wine.

Sensing Marie's emotional change, Tobias approached her, choosing his words carefully. "Mom, Dad deserves it. Don't think about him too much. Look at us more, especially Dalton. Don't you think he's too good at manipulating Wynter?"

"I don't think so." Marie felt more and more positive about Dalton. Such a capable son-in-law, who even gave her a lot of information to make things easier for her to get a divorce, naturally won her approval.

"A nearly 30-year-old man like you doesn't understand anything. This is called fashion." Tobias squinted. Sebastian, you can talk about my looks, but you can't say that I resemble Dad. You're humiliating me!"

The way the brothers chatted was hilarious yet full of love.

Marie had been sick for so long, but it was the first time she had seen her sons interact like this.

It was easy to imagine how many good times she had missed out on.

Some said that it was because of Naomi that Marie didn't completely lose her mind.

But no one thought about why she needed an outsider when she had her biological children.

Originally, they thought Elliot was the most ruthless as he spent years at the border.

Who would have thought that Sebastian would directly feed Tobias some hot sauce to shut him up?

"We were not good sons either." Tobias cursed himself. "Mom, do you think I've inherited Dad's genes? Why didn't you take a closer look at yourself at the time even though you were obviously uncomfortable? I actually let Naomi, that cunning woman, stay, and I even pitied her just now. I'm done for! I have bad genes!"

Just as he was speaking, a voice suddenly came from the side.

"You pitied her?" It was Wynter. Dalton had attracted the attention of the businessmen present, and she was now raising her eyebrows while looking at Tobias.

Tobias immediately explained, "Wynter, you have to believe me. I'm absolutely on your side!"

"Why did you pity her?" Wynter didn't care which side he was on; after all, she knew Tobias well.

Tobias sighed. Indeed, he looked like a celebrity. "It's just that even though I felt disgusted, there was this inexplicable voice in my head saying that I couldn't let her suffer like this and that I must help her since she's so pitiful. I couldn't control myself."

"She looks like Wynter when Wynter was younger." Sebastian suddenly spoke up. "But we shouldn't pity someone just because of their appearance.

Elliot raised his eyes at this moment. "I had those emotions when Naomi first arrived, but not anymore."

Wynter had only thought about these things before but now, she was very sure about it.

Eliciting feelings of pity had nothing to do with the fragrance on Naomi's body. It was more like... she was the protagonist of a book. It naturally made everyone like and pity her.

Wynter played with the lucky coin. When Atwater taught her about Arcane Way, she didn't pay much attention.

What was going on? She needed to go back and look it up in the books.

"Wynter, is there something wrong with Naomi?" Sebastian, being a lawyer, was quick-witted.

Wynter nodded and said, "You guys stay here. I'll go investigate."

She was worried that Naomi was playing with some underworld stuff that her brothers couldn't handle.

She was different. Atwater had said that she had a special constitution, and anything too sinister would retreat in front of her.

However, even so, Wynter still found Winnie according to her earlier thoughts. Wynter had always felt uneasy because she couldn't find the other voice in her dream.

Winnie didn't expect that Marie would still be willing to see her again. Tears filled her eyes. "Marie, I've been hoping you would recover all these years." "I'll be the same as before in the future." Marie also valued this sisterhood, but Winnie's actions reminded her of Shane, and she didn't understand why. Chapter 590

The accessory wasn't conspicuous.

It was a very small wooden lotus.

What was strange about it was the material it was made out of. It was made of wood, and not just any wood, but locust wood.

It was so subtle on the necklace that most people wouldn't notice it.

Wynter wouldn't have thought much about it if it weren't for Winnie's identity.

After all, artistic people generally wouldn't mix and match like this, especially since she was into the Frenda style.

"Wait a moment." Wynter suddenly spoke up.

Winnie immediately turned back, her eyes filled with joy!

As long as Wynter stopped her from leaving, there was still hope!

However, Marie was somewhat puzzled. After all, she knew Wynter's behavior very well.

Wynter wouldn't just stop Winnie for no reason.

"What's wrong, Wynter?" Marie asked first as she wanted to make it easier for Wynter to ask questions later.

As the saying went, a mother knew her daughter best. Wynter smiled. "I want to take a look at Ms. Yeaton's accessory. It looks very nice and has an ancient charm to it, which will be helpful for my future designs."

If Abel were here, he would surely know that Wynter was speaking nonsense again. When had she ever needed help with designing jewelry?

Marie also realized that this was just an excuse.

There must be something wrong with Winnie's accessory.

It was just like before, where she had been affected by things that couldn't be seen.

For a moment, Marie felt somewhat nervous. After all, she and Winnie were friends.

If Winnie's actions were also involuntary... Marie reached out and grabbed Wynter's hand. "Help Winnie take a look at the accessory."

Wynter understood Marie's underlying meaning. "Don't worry."

Winnie only felt that if Wynter was willing to look at her accessory, her relationship with Marie could still be repaired!

She immediately removed the accessory hanging from her clothes and handed it to Wynter. "Sevie, take your time to look at it. I'm not in a hurry."

The way Marie addressed Winnie made Winnie's emotions surge.

"Okay." Wynter took the item and felt a slight warmth on her fingertips. Wisps of black mist seemed to be trying to escape as if they wanted to enter her body.

Just then, Wolf suddenly arrived behind Wynter, and he subconsciously wanted to speak.

Because he was too fast, all people could see was a small, faint shadow. He still looked like a child, with his round eyes shining brightly!

Marie was about to ask why Wolf had just arrived, but she saw Wynter grab his collar with one hand, push his chin up with the other, and pinch his face while shaking her head slightly with lowered eyes. "No."

Her movements were decisive and cool. It was as if it wasn't the first time she had done this.

Meanwhile, Dalton, who was talking, looked in Wynter's direction.

She signaled to him that everything was fine and to continue doing his own thing.

He smiled silently, and his dark eyes looked captivating.

Wolf puffed his cheeks and pointed at the necklace Wynter was holding.
