Chapter 1051: Huang Lele Was in Trouble

Zhao Ying bowed her head, embarrassed and whispered, "Yanyan, you have to be careful. This guy, Yang Ming, always goes and pretends to be people's boyfriends and then makes it true..."

"Really?" Wang Xiaoyan said so, but she felt guilty deep down in her heart. What Zhao Ying said seems to be right. Yang Ming and I... However, she still smiled and said, "Sister Ying? Are you talking about yourself? I remember that you went home a while ago during the holidays. You let Yang Ming pretend to be your boyfriend and call you, right?"

Zhao Ying's face was red. Wang Xiaoyan had spoken the words from the bottom of her heart. She asked quickly, "How did you know?"

"During the holidays, Yang Ming came to pick up the things. You gave him the keys and scared me. I only learned of it when I asked," said Wang Xiaoyan.

"I am different..." Zhao Ying explained, "I liked him first. After pretending as boyfriend and girlfriend... I am talking about another girl and Yang Ming..."

"Hehe, you know quite a lot!" Wang Xiaoyan laughed.

"How would I...?" With a red face, Zhao Ying waved her hands and denied it.

Finally, the matter was dealt with. Wang Xiaoyan was relieved, but she must really be careful when she was with Yang Ming next time. She couldn't be traced by Zhao Ying anymore. If not, it would be hard to explain.

"Now, can we eat?" Wang Xiaoyan asked with a smile.

"Yanyan, you are making fun of me..." Zhao Ying suddenly shouted shyly.

Wang Xiaoyan smiled and held Zhao Ying's hand. "Do you still want to eat hot pot?"

"We can just eat whatever is in your house." Since they had gone home, Zhao Ying did not want to go out again.

These days, Yang Ming and Wang Xiaoyan stayed at home, and they were not willing to go out to eat. Yang Ming had sent Zhang Zhishen to the supermarket to buy some frozen food.

Zhang Zhishen was now a part-time follower of Yang Ming. In fact, there was really no need for him to take any action. Instead of being an idler, he was willing to be Yang Ming's errand boy. At least, there was something to do.

"There's some frozen food. Go to the kitchen freezer and take a look." Wang Xiaoyan brought Zhao Ying to the kitchen.

Zhang Zhishen was a straightforward man. Yang Ming gave him five hundred yuan. As a result, he bought things that were worth five hundred yuan. Five hundred yuan of frozen food was enough to fill a whole freezer. Even though Yang Ming could eat a lot, two people couldn't eat too much, so there was still a lot left.

"Yanyan, why are there so many frozen foods here?" Opening the freezer, Zhao Ying was a little surprised. She did not expect Wang Xiaoyan to keep so many things.

Wang Xiaoyan had to smile bitterly. Before Yang Ming came, the freezer wasn't even plugged in, and there was nothing in it. When Yang Ming came, he bought so many things. If she alone ate it, when would she be able to finish it?

Two of them found some instant fried dumplings and some small microwavable snacks. Soon they served a delicious meal. It was fine for this kind of food to be eaten occasionally, but if it were eaten too much, they would feel bored.

Zhao Ying had eaten these quick-frozen foods for the first time and felt that they were not bad. However, Wang Xiaoyan had been eating it for several days. She thought that she would take Zhao Ying out to have a change of pace today, but she didn't expect to eat these things in the end.

The two of them seemed to have gone back in time to those days when they rented a house together. Every day, after Wang Xiaoyan left school and Zhao Ying got off work, they sat around the table and ate some simple meals. In retrospect, it was extraordinarily warm.

Although Wang Xiaoyan didn't think it was delicious, she still ate a lot when she was together with Zhao Ying. Both of them ate a lot, sat on the sofa, and talked about previous things.

"Yanyan, I still remember when Yang Ming came to our house for the first time. This guy didn't care, and he rushed into the bathroom while you were still taking a shower. It scared me a lot!" Zhao Ying recalled the past and suddenly felt a little funny.

"You still dare to say it. I thought it was you. As a result, I opened the door of the shower and saw an unfamiliar man peeing there, scaring me!" Wang Xiaoyan remembered the previous matter and felt that it was a little fun. She didn't know Yang Ming then, but she already had the desire to kill him. However, thinking about it now, she felt that it was nothing.

"You are stupid. Bathing at home but not knowing to lock the door of the bathroom, this gave Yang Ming a chance!" Zhao Ying laughed and said.

"How would I know that a man would suddenly come into our house?" Wang Xiaoyan said with a grievance, "Sister Ying, you brought the man home, but you still nag me?"

"Fine. Consider it to be my fault at that time!" Zhao Ying said, "But the second time, when you wore a small singlet to open the door, you can't blame me, right? You were not careful, so you exposed yourself to Yang Ming!"

Wang Xiaoyan heard and thought, Yes, exposed. I have been exposed to him every day lately. However, she couldn't say it. "I fell asleep at that time. When you came back, I opened the door in a daze. How would I know that Yang Ming followed you?"

"Right, just when you mentioned the bath, I just remembered. I just moved here, and the weather hasn't gotten better yet, so I can't take a hot bath. I haven't taken a shower for a few days so I will take a shower here," said Zhao Ying.

"Alright, there is a tub in the bathroom upstairs. You can go up and take a bath." Wang Xiaoyan pointed upstairs and said, "There are new towels and pajamas in the cupboard. Sister Ying, you can take it yourself."

"Okay." Zhao Ying nodded. She was not overpolite with Wang Xiaoyan. When the two people shared a house together, they shared a bathroom, so no one would dislike anyone.

Zhao Ying went upstairs. Wang Xiaoyan turned on the TV, then took out her cell phone and sent a message to Yang Ming. "Sister Ying seems to have figured out something. She saw that you entered my house when we went out together that day. However, I lied to her and said that I asked you to pretend to be my boyfriend to piss off my family. Don't go and expose it."

When Yang Ming was on the way back home, his cell phone text message notification sounded. As he was waiting for the signal light to change, he picked up the cell phone and looked at it. He was shocked. No wonder Zhao Ying was weird. It turns out to be like this!

But fortunately, Little Girl Wang is smarter, and she deceived Zhao Ying. However, this business as a professional fake boyfriend is a bit too frequent, one after another.

Yang Ming was afraid that the message would be seen by others, so he immediately pressed the delete button after reading it. He was about to turn off the cell phone but realized that there was a drafted text message in the message box. It was a message that had failed to be sent before, so he opened it. It was the message that he sent Zhao Ying during Valentine's day. Yang Ming suddenly felt very bad. D*mn, this wonderful text message wasn't sent out!

However, too many people were sending messages on Valentine's Day, and some stations must have had an overload. It was not rare for SMS messages to fail to be delivered. However, even if Yang Ming found out, it couldn't be sent anymore. Valentine's Day had passed for half a month, so it could only be deleted together.

Just as the signal light turned green, Yang Ming shifted the gear to Drive. Just as he stepped on the gas pedal, the phone rang again. Yang Ming glanced at the number on it; it was actually a +0019065 number. Yang Ming was somewhat inexplicable. This was obviously not a typical number.

Yang Ming had received similar calls before, but after picking up, they were some scammers who informed him that he won a prize, so Yang Ming didn't care. He just pressed the hang up button and continued to drive.

However, it didn't take long for this call to come again. Yang Ming couldn't help but admire the patience of the liar. In general, the liar would change their target once they noticed that the phone call was not answered. However, this person did not give up.

Yang Ming couldn't help it. He had to drive the car to the side, slowed down, and then picked up the phone, "Hello, who are you looking for?"

Since Yang Ming had already guessed that the other party might be a liar, his tone was not very polite.

"Is it Yang Ming?" The other party asked tentatively.

"It's me. You are...?" Yang Ming heard that the other person actually knew his name, which was a bit strange, so his tone became much more mellow.

"Yang Ming, I am Huang Rongjin!" On the other side of the phone, the familiar voice replied.

"Second brother?" Yang Ming was surprised. I couldn't find Huang Lele a few days ago. Logically, I have returned to Song Jiang for so many days. No matter what, Huang Lele should have flown on the Donghai route at least once, right? However, Huang Lele had not contacted me!

When Yang Ming called Huang Lele's cell phone, Huang Lele's cell phone was still turned off. Yang Ming was anxious, but there was no way. When Huang Rongjin called, Yang Ming suddenly remembered that Huang Lele still had an elder brother. If I want to know her movements, I can just ask Huang Rongjin!

"Yang Ming, where are you?" Huang Rongjin asked a little anxiously.

"I am in Song Jiang. What's wrong, Brother Huang? Is there anything?" Yang Ming wondered why Huang Rongjin suddenly called him, and he seemed to be anxious.

"Lele is locked up by her eldest brother and father!" Huang Rongjin said on the phone hurriedly.

"What?" Yang Ming was surprised. He asked, somewhat aghast, "Second brother, what did you say? Huang Lele is locked up? And it is by her big brother and father?"

"Yeah..." Huang Rongjin said, "I just got to know this news, so I quickly called you to think about the countermeasures!"

"What the hell is going on? Why do they want to lock up Lele?" Yang Ming was distraught now and was in no mood to drive. He parked the car to the side and asked carefully.

"A while ago, after you left Macau, I also went to Hong Kong to participate in a collectibles exhibition. When I returned to Macau, I discovered that Lele was not in Macau!" Huang Rongjin said, "I was anxious about Lele's whereabouts, and then I got a call from my older brother. He said that something went wrong at home and told me to return immediately. After I got back, I realized that Lele had already returned, and was under house arrest by my father and brother!"

Chapter 1052: Evidence in the Cabinet

"Second brother, tell me more about the specifics. Why did they put Lele under house arrest?" Yang Ming frowned. Although it was Huang Lele's family's affair, given that the person placing Huang Lele under house arrest were her relatives, and Huang Lele was Yang Ming's woman, Yang Ming was naturally very angry with such unreasonable treatment. If Lele were really treated unfairly, Yang Ming wouldn't care who they were, and he would teach them a lesson.

"Things are like this. After I got home, I learned that the company's capital chain had broken. I don't understand the business matter. In short, the family business is in a difficult spot. If we can't overcome this, it is possible to go bankrupt!" Huang Rongjin explained, "The specifics are most probably about a project in Africa. Since the local provisional government had a problem, it was overthrown. Now that the new regime is established, they didn't recognize the previous contract signed with the former provisional government.

"Moreover, our family's first installment had already been invested. Right now, we are in a dilemma. If we continue with it, we must re-sign the contract with the new regime and repay some related expenses. If we don't, the previous investments are forfeit.

However, this project cost too much money previously. There is really no extra money in the family to repay the contract fees for the new government..."

"What does this have to do with Lele?" Yang Ming found it inexplicable after hearing it. The boss of the Huang Family is really daring. Is Africa a place where businessmen can operate? With no background, he still dares to go there for profit. Those who can stand firm in the small country over there are usually some armed groups. No matter how the provisional government is replaced, these people can't be easily offended. If they want to continue their operation, they need support for a group like this. However, pure businessmen like the Huang Family will only be the target of these provisional governments.

"Father wants to connect with others through Lele's marriage so that he can gain financial support," said Huang Rongjin. "However, Lele is not willing. Big Brother and father suggested that Lele be put under house arrest to work on that slowly..."

"F*ck your mother!" Yang Ming cursed after hearing it. It was no wonder that he was rude. Whoever encountered this thing would be very rude. However, after Yang Ming finished cursing, he felt that something was wrong, so he explained, "I'm sorry, Second Brother Huang. I'm scolding your elder brother, not you..."

However, after Yang Ming explained it, he found that it would be better if he didn't explain. It seemed that the explanation was even more inappropriate. What was the difference between the elder brother's mother and Second Brother Huang's mother?

"It's okay... Just curse as you like..." Huang Rongjin didn't feel anything wrong. He said something quite shocking. "I do not have the same mother as my elder brother. I'm from the same mother as Lele..."

"Ah !?" Yang Ming was surprised. He thought, *It seems I cursed the right person. Luckily, I didn't say something like f*ck your grandmother, or else, I would really have scolded Huang Rongjin along as well.*

"Yang Ming, I know that Lele likes you, so I called you. You have to find some way to save Lele. Otherwise, if Lele really becomes a victim of a marriage of interest, she would not be happy for a lifetime," said Huang Rongjin.

"Even the Huang Family didn't have any solutions. I am thousands of miles away. Is there anything I can do?" Yang Ming couldn't help but smile bitterly. I didn't expect to encounter this legendary TV drama. In terms of the Huang Family's business scale, the Huang Family had at least a billion in capital or even ten billion!

Since the Huang Family had experienced an economic crisis, the funds that were lacking would definitely not be a small amount. Yang Ming was really unwilling to get involved with such a thing. Although it was not difficult for Yang Ming to take out the money to fill the deficit in the Huang Family, Yang Ming did not have a good impression of people in the Huang Family, aside from Huang Lele and Huang Rongjin. He even hated the boss of the Huang Family in particular.

Let him give money to these people? Yang Ming was really not willing. However, if there were no other way, Yang Ming would do it for Huang Lele.

"Yang Ming... I have a good impression of you. I know that you are a very powerful person. I will entrust Lele to you." Huang Rongjin said with a smile, "As a person of the Huang Family, I can't do things that hurt the interests of the Huang Family. If I really did it, how would I face my father and my elder brother in the future? But again, as Lele's Second brother, I don't want to see her unhappy! I hope she will never participate in family disputes and live happily..."

"So, you also know that I am really in a dilemma. In my position, I don't know what to do! I am calling you this time because I hope you can help me solve this problem... In short, I don't want to make Lele unhappy..."

Although Huang Rongjin said that he was a member of the Huang Family, he did not want to do anything detrimental to the interests of the Huang Family. In fact, he was simply deceiving himself. As he confessed to Yang Ming, he had already damaged the interests of the family, because Yang Ming would absolutely not sit back and watch.

However, Yang Ming also understood Huang Rongjin's difficulty. By calling Yang Ming, he had already proved that he was still on Huang Lele's side. It was just that he couldn't do certain things in person. Moreover, even if he really wanted to do it, the Huang Family boss would not let him intervene.

"Is the marriage thing progressing?" Yang Ming sighed and asked helplessly.

"Not yet, but it's almost there." Huang Rongjin said, "Father has contacted a big family. Originally, the other party was not very interested in marriage. However, after his son saw Lele's photo, they became interested and asked my father to promise it. However, you also know that marriage is actually just a means. After the marriage, they will support our investment in Africa. After all, this is not a trivial matter. We must carefully examine and discuss before a decision is made, so you still have time."

Yang Ming breathed a sigh of relief. As long as there was time, it would be fine. On Yang Ming's side, classes start tomorrow. It was impossible to leave just after lectures began. It would be too unreasonable. As long as it could be stalled for a while, he would find some ways.

"I got it. I will rush over as soon as possible, but if you have any news on your side, be sure to inform me as soon as possible!" Yang Ming informed Huang Rongjin.

"Do not worry. I will not be negligent toward my sister's happiness." Huang Rongjin quickly promised.

"En, Second Brother, you tell Lele not to worry. It is no big deal. I will help her solve the problem," said Yang Ming.

"I believe in you!" Huang Rongjin said very seriously after listening.

Hanging up the phone, Yang Ming sighed. A new problem arose before the old problem is solved. I have a lot of things in my hands these days. Zhao Ying's matters have not been dealt with, yet something happened to Huang Lele.

No wonder I couldn't get in contact Huang Lele before. However, this matter is also easy to handle. Isn't it just the provisional government of a small African country? Yang Ming was not afraid of anyone yet. If worst comes to worst, he will blackmail the person in charge of the provisional government. If the contract were not dealt with properly, he would kill that person directly. Most probably, he was most afraid of people like Yang Ming. He would not have a good ending if he offended an assassin organization.

Even if Yang Ming really had no time to go over there, it was still easy to handle. Yang Ming would fork out the money the Huang Family had lost in Africa. Therefore, Yang Ming was not particularly worried.

Zhou Jiajia was in the car and heard Yang Ming's phone call, but she couldn't hear what Huang Rongjin said. She only heard just a word or two from Yang Ming, and couldn't figure out what was going on. Moreover, she had something deep in her mind, so she didn't pay much attention to Yang Ming's phone call.

Zhao Ying went upstairs and found the bathroom. After entering the bathroom, the first thing she did was to lock the door. She had just talked to Wang Xiaoyan about the matter of not locking the bathroom door, so Zhao Ying's conditioned reflex was to lock it.

After filling up the bathtub with water, Zhao Ying began to take off her clothes. After putting her clothes away one by one, the bathwater was almost adequate. Zhao Ying opened the cabinet that Wang Xiaoyan mentioned and took a towel and a new set of pajamas out from the inside. As she was about to close the cabinet, Zhao Ying's hand suddenly stopped. Her eyes were looking at a small box in the cabinet...

Durex? Condom? Zhao Ying was surprised all of a sudden. Why does Wang Xiaoyan have such a thing? Zhao Ying was not a little girl. She naturally recognized this thing and knew what was it for.

Although Zhao Ying knew that she should not touch Wang Xiaoyan's things, it couldn't be helped. Her hand still unconsciously touched it and put the condom box in her hand...

It is opened? Zhao Ying carefully opened the box but found that there were only three left, and the other nine had long since disappeared. Was this... used by Wang Xiaoyan?

Who did she use it with? Zhao Ying's breathing suddenly became rushed. Her arms could not help but tremble... She knew Wang Xiaoyan's personality. She was still a virgin when she lived with Wang Xiaoyan. Wang Xiaoyan was definitely not that kind of casual girl... but now she found this thing in her cabinet. Then...

Could it be Yang Ming? Zhao Ying's heart suddenly trembled... When she thought of it, there was only one possibility! Since Wang Xiaoyan could find Yang Ming to pretend to be her boyfriend, it meant that she had no boyfriend yet! Since there was no boyfriend, it was impossible to use this thing with others. She wouldn't buy it to blow a balloon, right?

Therefore, the remaining candidate could only be Yang Ming... It was not strange that Zhao Ying could think of so much. She already suspected something was going on between Yang Ming and Wang Xiaoyan. Although Wang Xiaoyan explained it, how would she explain this open box of condoms now?

Chapter 1053: The Huang Family's Affair

Although Zhao Ying wasn't willing to doubt what Wang Xiaoyan said, she didn't want to complicate things. The facts were in front of her eyes, and she couldn't help but think this.

From the production date marked on the box, it was only recently produced. Zhao Ying sighed secretly and put the box carefully back in its original place.

She was somewhat dejected and sad. She didn't understand why Wang Xiaoyan wanted to deceive her. However, what if she told the truth? She knew that Yang Ming was very fickle in relationships. Even if he had something with Wang Xiaoyan, Zhao Ying wouldn't say much. Besides, she didn't have the right to say anything.

But now? Zhao Ying felt like a fool, being deceived by her best friend. Zhao Ying thought that all of this was just a misunderstanding, a beautiful misunderstanding. However, this possibility seemed to be small.

Quietly lying in the tub, Zhao Ying's mind went blank. She didn't know how to face Wang Xiaoyan and Yang Ming in the future... Should she treat them as usual or as a stranger?

Zhao Ying was really in a dilemma...

It could be said that Huang Lele really was cheated into going back home. Her elder brother called to say that her father was looking for her for something, but he didn't mention anything about an arranged marriage. Not until Huang Lele went back home did she realize that her family's investment in Africa had a problem!

In the second half of last year, the Huang Family invested in a giant gold mine in a small country in Africa, Country X. They spent five billion US dollars to purchase the mine's mining rights for one hundred years.

Of course, most of the money came from bank loans. In addition to these funds for the purchase, the mining equipment and employment of the mining staff had already cost nearly one billion US dollars. In total, the total investment exceeded six billion US dollars.

However, according to the amount of ore content in the mine, it would take less than one hundred years. The cost would be recovered in about twenty years, and then it would only be pure profit in the future!

With such a huge profit, how could the Huang Family's boss, Huang Rongtian, not be moved? After discussing with the family's elder, Huang Xiaofei, he invested all his family's money.

However, both Huang Rongtian and Huang Xiaofei made a fatal mistake, which was to ignore the political situation in Africa's Country X! In this kind of country where the government changed faster than the season, it was impossible for the average person to participate in it!

Only half a year later, the interim government that they signed the contract with collapsed. The former president also took all the banknotes and fled. They thought that after the new government took over, it wouldn't change the signed contract with businessmen to gain public support. In fact, most of the deals weren't changed. Only the contract signed with the Huang Family was rejected.

Other businessmen had more or less local private armed forces, so no matter which government took over, it wouldn't simply provoke them.

However, the Huang Family was different. They were only businessmen. They had no support in Country X. As soon as the new interim government was established, it destroyed the previous contract between the previous government and the Huang Family. It wanted to extract a large amount of military money from the Huang Family. Of course, if the Huang Family couldn't get the money, it was still fine. The brother of the new president, General Kars, was an iron ore owner. If General Kars directly handed the mine to his brother, he wouldn't even have to buy the equipment.

Due to the downfall of this small country's interim government, the regime had changed, so the contract signed by the Huang Family was really wasted paper. If the Huang Family wanted to continue mining, then they must re-sign the agreement with the new securities leader.

It was just that the other party had asked for a ridiculous condition. It asked for five billion US dollars for the gold mining rights. Although the contract seemed to be very generous, it was a contract for two hundred years, and Huang Rongtian also understood that two hundred years was just a lie. Even if he signed a thousand year or even ten thousand year contract, the newly established regime would still not recognize it after the interim government was overthrown.

For this kind of ungrateful move of leaving the benefactor in the lurch, the Huang Family wouldn't allow this to happen. The Huang Family was also a famous family in Singapore and had a high social status. How could they endure being bullied one-sidedly?

Huang Rongtian immediately looked for General Kars to reason with him, but when the gun muzzle was placed on Huang Rongtian's head, he suddenly woke up.

In this small African country where there was no diplomacy and no participation in the United Nations, there were no laws at all. It could be said that the supreme leader here was the law. Anyone who dared to disobey him would be eliminated by him.

Amidst General Kars' sneers, Huang Rongtian carefully retreated and didn't dare to mention anything.

However, it didn't mean that the Huang Family would do nothing if they didn't say anything! Because Huang Rongtian wasn't reconciled, he was unwilling to lose his money just like that. It was impossible to have him pay five billion US dollars!

Most of the five billion was borrowed from the bank by mortgaging current businesses. Now there was a problem with the mine in Africa. It was already not bad for the bank not to urge them to repay the loan, let alone lend them another sum of money.

Just when Huang Rongtian was desperate, he suddenly received very important news! The Li Family also wanted to invest in the mining industry in Africa! The Li Family was also a big family. Their financial resources were comparable to the Huang Family's financial resources. It was only that the businesses of the two companies were different in the first place, so there were few opportunities for cooperation. Now he heard that the Li Family was also preparing to invest in mining. Huang Rongtian was interested immediately. He looked for the Li Family's current helm, Li Tianjia. Moreover, according to reliable sources, the Li Family had business dealings with General Kars. This was the most crucial point!

Li Tianjia and Huang Rongtian were about the same age; he was the eldest son of Li Zhicheng. Li Tianjia was very indifferent to Huang Rongtian's visit. He did not agree nor did he disagree, but only said that he would consider it.

When Huang Rongtian saw Li Tianjia's indifferent attitude, he knew that this matter was relatively impossible. After all, there was no significant benefit. Why would Li Tianjia want to cooperate with him?

To form an alliance with Li Tianjia, Huang Rongtian proposed a marriage. In the beginning, Li Tianjia was not very interested in it, but when he saw the photo on Huang Rongtian's mobile phone, his eyes immediately widened. Huang Rongtian had to call him several times, and only then did Li Tianjia regain his consciousness.

However, Huang Rongtian did not care at all, he was delighted secretly. It seems that Li Tianjia likes Lele, then this matter is still possible.

Sure enough, Li Tianjia tried to evade. "Rongtian, I won't disagree about this marriage. We are both noble families with a similar social status. However, don't we have to consult our parents for this marriage? I basically agree with it, but I still have to discuss with my dad!"

"That's fine!" Huang Rongtian said with pleasure after listening.

After Huang Rongtian left, Li Tianjia told Huang Rongtian's intention to his father, Li Zhicheng. Of course, he didn't hide the matter about marriage mentioned by Huang Rongtian. Li Zhicheng listened to Li Tianjia, but he didn't express his will. He and Huang Rongtian's father were different. Huang Rongtian's father, Huang Xiaofei, had already handed most of his powers to Huang Rongtian, but Li Zhicheng didn't. He still had the decision-making power to the major matters.

"Father, I think this is very beneficial to us!" Li Tianjia saw that his father didn't express an opinion, so he couldn't help but say.

"Do you fancy the girl in the Huang Family?" No one knows a man better than his own father. Li Zhicheng knew his son's mind at a glance.

"I..." Li Tianjia's face was red. Indeed, it was like what his father said. He did fancy Huang Lele.

"Marriage is a big event. Africa's investment is even more important!" said Li Zhicheng slowly. "Although we have cooperated with General Kars, our relationship with him is not very close. Moreover, now General Kars is already the supreme leader. He is different from the past. He may not respect my face! He won't give up the hard sought financial resources because of my words, right?"

Li Tianjia nodded silently. Yes, what father said is indeed true. After all, this is not a trivial matter.

"The benefits are definitely there if we participate in this matter, but the key is whether it is cost-effective or not!" Li Zhicheng sighed and said, "If it is just cooperation, I may have promised it, but this marriage... you should be clear that once the marriage is formed, then our Li Family will be on the same line as the Huang Family. Their problems are our problems... At that time, we can't get out even if we wanted to!"

"I understand..." said Li Tianjia said. "Father, I won't think about it anymore."

"Hehe, I didn't say that this thing is completely impossible!" Li Zhicheng saw his son's appearance and said in amusement, "Let's do it this way. Let me consider it to see if this is a good deal; then I will look for a time to call General Karls to see if he will buy my face!"

When General Kars seized his power by armed forces, he received financial support from Li Zhicheng. Although his current status wasn't the same as previously, General Kars was also a nostalgic person. When he knew that it was Li Zhicheng, he was very enthusiastic and chatted with Li Zhicheng.

However, when Li Zhicheng asked about the gold mine invested by the Huang Family, General Kars was in a dilemma. Logically, he should buy Li Zhicheng's face, but if he bought it, then the money would be gone. So he hesitated and said, "Mr. Li, you know that I just became the supreme leader. I need money for many matters... If..."

"I understand what you mean, but I will also participate in the partnership in this gold mine, so I hope the rent can be reduced a little..." said Li Zhicheng.

"Let me think about it, then we will talk again." After all, General Kars couldn't completely not give face to Li Zhicheng, so he promised to consider it.

Chapter 1054: About the Amnesia

Of course, the Huang Family could understand the Li Family's intention at this moment. In this situation, no one wanted to be involved. The gold mine in Africa was a treasure and a bottomless pit.

Huang Rongtian regretted that he had listened to the boasting of his friends, saying that those adventurers had earned astronomical figures in Africa that could not be imagined for a lifetime.

However, this was indeed not fake. Many people had become super-rich overnight, but many people had also become poor overnight.

Everything was relative. If there is a profit, there is also a loss. It was no wonder that Huang Rongtian and his father, Huang Xiaofei, would be so hot-headed. In the face of huge profits, few people would be absolutely calm!

Marx said long ago that once there is a proper profit, the capitalist will be bold. With a profit of fifty percent, they would take risks. To make a profit of a hundred percent, they would dare to trample on all human laws. If they had a profit of three hundred percent, they would commit any crime or even put their lives in danger.

This statement was not wrong. What about the recent three hundred percent profit in Africa? Therefore, Huang Rongtian would participate at all costs.

However, in this small country, not everyone could do it well. It was obviously unwise for Huang Rongtian to get in it without knowing the rules of the game.

He also went through an inquiry in advance. Although the regime of Country X changed quickly, the interim government collapsed, and the other went into power, those local capitalists were basically well taken care of. As long as they paid taxes according to the regulations, they would not be mistreated. They had never heard of anyone whose contract had been breached! Huang Rongtian was the first one!

Why was he the first one? He ignored the critical point, which was that their Huang Family did not have strong private armed forces in Country X. The new Kars Regime was not afraid of what the Huang Family would do. As for the local mine owners, General Kars did not dare to offend them.

Just after he gained political power, he still was at rest. What's more, when these people were united, their armed forces were not small. It was really necessary to fight until the end. Kars also did not have many advantages. Maybe other hostile forces would take advantage of a lapse and force him to step down.

Therefore, General Kars would not do such a stupid thing. However, the Huang Family was different, so the Huang Family was singled out.

When Huang Rongtian realized this, it was already too late. Africa and these risky countries were not something that a businessman like them could be involved in.

As a business empire, the Huang Family still had a lot of loyal business partners. It was not that he couldn't fish out five billion dollars. The key issue was that if he really fished it out, and if the Kars regime collapsed and a new regime came into power, would the new regime do the same thing?

This was not an impossible problem, but it was very likely! From this matter, Huang Rongtian understood his own importance. It was impossible to occupy a part in Country X without a powerful private armed force of his own.

However, he was only a businessman. Although it was possible to get someone from the organized crime syndicate, it was simply nonsense for him to get an armed force.

Ask him to give up the six billion dollars that he had thrown in before? Never mind Huang Rongtian who was not reconciled; even Huang Xiaofei would not agree. However, if he continued to invest, Huang Rongtian was even more afraid.

This was a big matter in regards to the Huang Family's future. Once this matter was not handled well, then the Huang family would go bankrupt. Huang Rongtian and Huang Xiaofei had discussed it for a long time, and finally came up with a countermeasure!

That was to get someone else involved in this mess and find a partner to let him invest more. Even though his own shares would be diluted, and the profit would be less than before, he would still obtain the property rights of the gold mine again without investing another penny. This was the best result!

With this resolution, the Huang family's father and son's gazes were locked on Li Zhicheng! Li Zhicheng was chosen because he also had a mine in Africa. It was an iron ore mine. Although it was not big, there was a small-scale security force in the local area! The crucial point was that Li Zhicheng and General Kars had cooperated before. His iron ore mine was where General Kars' original base was. He gave military expenses to General Kars! In this way, with his participation, they thought that things should be smoother.

Li Zhicheng had two sons. The eldest son, Li Tianjia, and Huang Rongtian were almost the same age. They were twenty-six years old and unmarried. The younger son, Li Tianyu, who just entered middle school this year, would not be considered.

In order to allow Li Zhicheng to participate earnestly in it, Huang Rongtian and Huang Xiaofei discussed the means of marriage. Although Huang Lele was a few years younger than Li Tianjia, it didn't matter.

Huang Lele was spoiled from an early age. She liked to do everything according to her own temperament, but this time, things were different. It was related to the future life and death of the Huang Family. Therefore, Huang Xiaofei had to sacrifice his daughter's interests in exchange for the greater interest of the family. Although it was ridiculous, the facts were facts.

If you want to get something, you have to lose something. Only after Huang Lele came home, did she learn what was going on. Listening to her father say that she had to marry into the Li family, she immediately had a big fight with him. Then her father placed her under house arrest and prevented her from going out.

Although Huang Lele had the forty billion patacas that Yang Ming gave her, which was equivalent to six billion dollars in American dollars, Huang Lele also knew that it was not so easy to solve the problem at home.

What her father needed was the Li family's relationship, not just the money. If there weren't a strong relationship in Country X, no matter how much more money was invested, they might go bankrupt in an instant.

Therefore, Huang Lele hesitated again and again. She did not take the money out in the end. Although Huang Lele was relatively simple-minded, she was not stupid. She knew that if she took out her own money, it would not change her father's idea. It was better to keep it with her and use it as her final card.

When Huang Rongjin got home and found out about the news that his sister was under house arrest, he was furious. He found and got into a fight with his father, but when his father explained the situation in Africa, Huang Rongjin became silent.

He knew that it was a big deal, and his own words would not change his father's idea. So, he hesitated and called Yang Ming. In Huang Rongjin's eyes, Yang Ming was a mysterious and resourceful person. Although it was not clear whether Yang Ming could reverse the situation in Africa, Huang Rongjin still called Yang Ming.

After all, Yang Ming was his sister's boyfriend, and Lele was in trouble. It was natural to inform Yang Ming. Moreover, Huang Rongjin had an instinct and felt that Yang Ming would have a way!

Huang Xiaofei did not care about Huang Lele's boyfriend. In his opinion, Huang Lele could no longer go back to Macau. Then, naturally, she had to break contact with her so-called boyfriend. Never mind that he was a mainlander.

After Huang Rongjin called Yang Ming, he did not stay idle but began collecting information on General Kars of Country X. He hoped that these things would help Yang Ming.

During this time, the Huang Family was already building a connection with General Kars, so the information that was collected was in great detail. Therefore, Huang Rongjin secretly copied the information.

Africa? Gold Mine ? Yang Ming shook his head. Huang Lele's eldest brother is really fascinating. This is also a place that he went to . Remembering that he still had a diamond mine in Africa that had not been claimed, Yang Ming smiled bitterly . I don't even have time to manage that diamond mine, yet this Huang Family is still so keen. If worst comes to worst, I can have them change to mine diamonds or even consider a joint venture.

For the diamond mine, Yang Ming was not afraid of anyone who dared to go back on his promise. In the small country where the diamond mine was located, no matter how the provisional regime changed, some high-level people knew the owner of the diamond mine. Who dared to go back on their words? Wasn't that looking for death?

Yang Ming didn't know which country his diamond mine was located in, so Yang Ming planned to ask Fang Tian again.

"Jiajia, how are you feeling these days? Are there any ramifications and the like?" Yang Ming decided to put Huang Lele's matters aside first. After all, it was not the most urgent matter. Even if he were in a hurry, it would be of no use. Zhou Jiajia's injury was on her head, so Yang Ming would be very cautious, fearing that Zhou Jiajia would be left with intermittent headaches.

"It's okay. The injured place doesn't hurt at all..." Zhou Jiajia shook her head.

"Then, do you remember what happened before?" This was what Yang Ming cared about. Zhou Jiajia couldn't always have amnesia, right? My relationship with her is indeed a bit awkward.

Initially, he agreed with Chen Mengyan's opinion, and Zhou Jiajia was taken home. However, Yang Ming found that Zhou Jiajia was very shy, and it was almost impossible to push her down ¹ without any development.

Although Yang Ming believed that if he insisted on doing this, and Zhou Jiajia would not object, this was not the result Yang Ming wanted. Even though Yang Ming couldn't be considered as being in love with Zhou Jiajia, he already had certain feelings. However, they were limited to the degree of mutual love. They lacked the dating process. If it went directly into the process of being pushed down, it would be too reckless, and it also disrespected Zhou Jiajia.

Therefore, Yang Ming wanted Zhou Jiajia to restore her memory as soon as possible so that he could give her a perfect relationship. They were classmates and often sat together in class, so he wouldn't need to be afraid that feelings could not rise quickly.

"Before..." Zhou Jiajia was also trying to talk to Yang Ming about her amnesia. When Yang Ming first mentioned it, she was hesitant and didn't know how to open her mouth.

I can't say that I pretended to have amnesia, right?

Chapter 1055: Cohabitation before Falling in Love

Zhou Jiajia didn't want to lie to Yang Ming, but she couldn't refrain from lying to him. Zhou Jiajia could only use the excuse that she told Lin Zhiyun once more.

"Yang Ming, when I was at home recently, I looked at the diary I wrote before... I also remembered some things..." Zhou Jiajia hesitated and said, "But I found out... Actually, I am not your girlfriend... I've been pursuing you all this while..."

As Zhou Jiajia said this sentence, in fact, it had taken her a great determination. Once she said this sentence, the relationship between the two people would return to best friends just like in the past. Zhou Jiajia could not continue to act dumb and stay in Yang Ming's home.

After all, Yang Ming hadn't accepted her yet. What would she be doing here?

Yang Ming heard Zhou Jiajia's words and was surprised. He didn't expect Zhou Jiajia to remember about the past. Then, Yang Ming did not need to say anything more, so he said, "Jiajia, did you remember it yourself? That's great. I also wanted to talk to you about this..."

Zhou Jiajia suddenly looked pale. She said with some grievances, " En ... I remember it. Yang Ming, you can rest assured. I know what to do. I will move back to the university's dormitory tomorrow..."

" Ah ?" Yang Ming looked at Zhou Jiajia's expression, and he was somewhat inexplicable. I sn't everything alright? How come you will just leave like that? What is going on? "Jiajia, what are you saying? Why are you leaving?"

"You... Didn't you just say that is great...?" Zhou Jiajia said sadly, "I remember everything. I'm not your girlfriend, so you said that..."

"How is this related?" Yang Ming was dumbfounded from hearing that. He said quickly, "Jiajia, what I meant by great is that you have restored your memory... Ugh , I am not saying that it is great you are not my girlfriend... I didn't mean to drive you away!"

"I'm not your girlfriend, but why would I still live in your home..." When Zhou Jiajia saw Yang Ming's nervous look, she was at ease deep down in her heart. Maybe I have misunderstood? Yang Ming has no intention to drive me away?

Thinking of that night, Yang Ming hugged and kissed me. It doesn't seem pretentious, but more like he really likes me. Zhou Jiajia was delighted. It appears that I am over concerned. The onlooker sees more of the game.

"Jiajia, in fact, from this incident, I also fully understand you. When you were in the coma, I read the diary you wrote before. I know that matter isn't your fault. You were just misguided by others." As Yang Ming spoke up to here, he became shy. "In fact, if I forget about this, I still like you very much... You are so beautiful with snow-white skin, a good figure and bulging chest..."

At first, Zhou Jiajia was still moved by Yang Ming's words. After all, Yang Ming personally admitted that he forgave her and didn't mind the previous matters, so Zhou Jiajia was very happy. However, the latter words actually became more and more outrageous. It actually came to the topic of her figure and chest which made Zhou Jiajia lower her head in embarrassment. "You... don't talk nonsense..."

"Haha , I'm sorry. I'm off topic..." Yang Ming laughed a little. "Sorry! I didn't mean it..."

In fact, how was Yang Ming not intentional? He was actually deliberate because he noticed that the atmosphere between the two people was somewhat unnatural. Hence, he said that deliberately. Sure enough, the atmosphere had become much better than before. Zhou Jiajia was no longer so sad.

"Then... you mean..." Zhou Jiajia was a little confused and didn't know what to say.

"My intention is very simple. You like me. I like you too. Ah , now we are just missing the process of falling in love, but it's fine. It will come slowly..." Yang Ming smiled. "You stay here first. Rest assured that I will not be eager to do anything lecherous to you. I am always honest."

Zhou Jiajia thought, If you are honest, then there is no dishonest person. You are not my boyfriend, and yet you lied to me, hugging me as you kissed and caressed me. However, Zhou Jiajia still couldn't refuse it... Thinking of what happened that night, Zhou Jiajia's face had become feverish.

However, after hearing Yang Ming's words, Zhou Jiajia also completely became at ease deep down in her heart. Yang Ming was not trying to drive her away but to build a romantic relationship with her again. How could Zhou Jiajia not be happy?

Although being together with Yang Ming was her ultimate goal, which girl did not want to have a vigorous romantic relationship? The process was also very important.

"You have Chen Mengyan and Lin Zhiyun. Of course, you are not so lecherous..." Zhou Jiajia complained.

"Tonight, isn't there just the two of us?" Yang Ming said as he laughed mischievously.

"Ah !" Zhou Jiajia was shocked. She was scared as she leaned against the door. Although Yang Ming had seen her nude in addition to the hugs and kisses, girls were like this. She still had some conditional reflexes.

"I am just kidding. Let's have two rooms..." Yang Ming smiled and said, "Just like there is a book. It seems to be called 'Cohabitation with the Campus Belle.' That is, cohabitation before falling in love..."

"Stop it!" Zhou Jiajia's face turned crimson red as she replied and moved back to her normal position.

"Hey , are you leaving?" Someone knocked on the window outside the car.

Yang Ming just parked at the roadside as he spoke to Zhou Jiajia. Now, he looked up and realized that his parking position had delayed the loading and unloading of a truck next to a supermarket. He smiled apologetically and started the car. Then, he drove off.

"Alright, don't think too much..." Yang Ming smiled and said, "Please don't blame Mengyan. She just thought that you had suffered a lot, so she took advantage of your amnesia and made you my girlfriend..."

"How can I blame her?" Zhou Jiajia shook her head. "I am glad that she can accept me. In the past, I was afraid that she would disagree!"

"Mengyan seems to be quite narrow-minded, but she is, in fact, very kind. You will learn more about it as you get close to her." Yang Ming smiled and said.

"En, I know." Zhou Jiajia, Chen Mengyan, and Lin Zhiyun had slept on the same bed for several days. Naturally, she already knew Chen Mengyan's temper. "Right, Yang Ming. I heard from Sister Yan that when I was in a coma, Su Ya came to visit me. Am I right?"

"En, but at that time, I didn't know that she was Su Ya. I brought her." Yang Ming said with some sentiment, "Can you imagine that Su Ya is the popular celebrity, Shu Ya?!"

"Ah!" Zhou Jiajia was shocked when she heard Yang Ming's words. She opened her eyes widely because of the incredible news! "Su Ya is Shu Ya? Is this true? Yang Ming, you wouldn't lie to me, right?"

Chen Mengyan and Zhou Jiajia also mentioned that Su Ya visited her in the hospital briefly, but they did not say so much in detail. Hence, Zhou Jiajia did not know that Su Ya was Shu Ya. After hearing this from Yang Ming, she was astounded.

"Indeed, I was baffled at the time...but that's the truth..." Yang Ming smiled bitterly, "With regards to her, wait for her to come back, and she will tell you more about it. When she learns that you've woken up, she will be pleased too."

"Really!?" Zhou Jiajia was very concerned about Su Ya's opinion. She heard Yang Ming tell her that Su Ya not only forgave her but also worried about her condition, so she was very nervous and excited.

"Of course, it is true. There is no point in me lying to you." Yang Ming smiled.

Zhou Jiajia sat at the front passenger seat quietly, but it seemed as though she returned to the night after Christmas. Before the class reunion, Zhou Jiajia was also sitting in Yang Ming's car with only two of them.

In this sense, this was Zhou Jiajia's second ride alone in Yang Ming's car.

As the two spoke openly, Zhou Jiajia could also rest at ease. Initially, she was nervous on the road because she was afraid that her relationship with Yang Ming would be over just like that. However, what came as a surprise to her was that Yang Ming gave her a concrete suggestion to cohabitate before falling in love.

Thinking about it, Zhou Jiajia felt embarrassed. In case Yang Ming wants to do something similar to that night to me again, what should I do? Zhou Jiajia did not know why, but she was somewhat eager and afraid... Ai, what a contradiction.

The car slowly drove on the road. It had just snowed. The vehicles on the road wouldn't be too fast. When the sun came out, the road would be as smooth as a mirror.

After the viaduct, the speed of the car became very slow. As they passed by a crossroad, Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia discovered that an old lady with a cane was lying down on the ground, groaning painfully. Apparently, she fell down because of the slippery road.

A car passing by would detour and go past the old lady, for the fear that something terrible would happen and involve them.

"Why didn't anyone help her up?" Zhou Jiajia frowned and wondered, "Yang Ming, stop the car. I am getting off to take a look."

"..." Yang Ming smiled bitterly and said, "Do you think the others don't want to help? They are afraid that after helping her up, she wouldn't say thank you but blame you, saying that you hit her!"

"Ah!" Zhou Jiajia was surprised, "No way. Will there be someone who bites the hand which feeds them like this?"

"Wasn't there a similar case published in the newspaper a while ago?" Yang Ming continued, "One person kindly helped an old lady, but the old lady blamed him and started a lawsuit against him!"

"Is there such a person?" Zhou Jiajia said with some indignation, "But not everyone will be like this!"

"Of course, not everyone is like this, but who knows if this person is the same?" Yang Ming shook his head and said, "So, nowadays, people will detour when they encounter incidents like this. They will try their best not to involve themselves!"

"But, I can't let her lay on the ground like this..." Zhou Jiajia was worried about the safety of the old lady.

Chapter 1056: On the Eve before School Started

"It is better to be safe than sorry..." said Yang Ming helplessly. "Don't say anything else. Just talk about the film, 'The Days Without Lei Feng' ¹ that was broadcasted on TV. The driver, who accidentally was reversing his car, hit the telephone pole. Then the telephone pole dropped on top of Lei Feng and killed him. After the driver changed his job, he saved one person while he was driving, but he was pestered by the old man's child. What was even more frustrating was that the old man's child actually said that if he even dared to crash into Lei Feng, who else dare he not hit... He really had a difficulty, but he couldn't explain it..."

Zhou Jiajia nodded silently. She didn't know if she should get off the car. As she was hesitating, she saw a girl walking quickly toward the old woman.

"Song Yu?" Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia recognized the girl at the same time; the girl was a college classmate of Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia. Song Yu was Yang Ming's class monitor. She also participated in public welfare activities like the propaganda of civilization with Yang Ming.

"She is going to help the old woman..." Zhou Jiajia sighed. She said embarrassedly, "I am also the class monitor, but she..."

"You don't have to blame yourself. If I didn't say a few more words, it's you who would be helping others now!" comforted Yang Ming.

"Yeah, I suddenly remember after being reminding by you. I have to quickly use the mobile phone to record the process of Song Yu saving the old woman. You are right. It is better to be safe than sorry. In case the old woman wants to trouble Song Yu, I can also provide evidence!" As Zhou Jiajia spoke, she took out her phone and ran out of the car.

Yang Ming nodded secretly listening to Zhou Jiajia's words. This girl is not simple; she knows to keep evidence for everything. When Chen Fei asked her to help investigate Wang Xifan's case, he did not choose the wrong person!

Today's mobile phones were equipped with a camera function, which could easily be several megapixels. Although it was different from professional camera equipment, it was more than enough to record some ordinary videos.

Zhou Jiajia switched the phone to the camera function, then stood by the side. Zhou Jiajia recorded the whole process of Song Yu running over and saving the old woman.

If the old woman really wanted to frame Song Yu in the future, then with this video, they wouldn't be able to wrong Song Yu. So after listening to Yang Ming's words, just in case, Zhou Jiajia completely recorded the proceedings until the old woman said thank you. Then Song Yu helped her to get a taxi, and she disappeared from their vision.

Zhou Jiajia got in the car and stored the video inside the phone. She said, "I saw the old woman even say thank you to Song Yu. She shouldn't be that kind of person, right?"

"With human nature, it is hard to say." Yang Ming waved his hand.

This interlude was just over like that. They didn't care much. After the old woman left, the road became smooth, and soon they went to the Hua Shang District where Yang Ming lived.

Zhao Ying did not know how she took the bath. She wiped the water drops on her body and put on the pajamas in a daze. She walked out of the bathroom and stood on the stairs. The cold air outside woke her up.

Everything was just her own guess. Zhao Ying had no evidence. Moreover, the condoms weren't necessarily used to do that. Zhao Ying once read an IT magazine saying that condoms could be used to repair the computer's CD-ROM drive as a substitute for the belt.

Of course, the possibility was very small. Zhao Ying knew that Wang Xiaoyan wasn't a computer expert. It was impossible for her to repair a CD-ROM drive. Perhaps there could be other purposes...

Zhao Ying wasn't willing to think about it, and she didn't dare to think about it. She needed to be calm. Absolutely calm! She needed to re-examine her attitude toward Yang Ming. Are these things really important to me?

Even if Yang Ming and Wang Xiaoyan are really together, will they affect me? Zhao Ying should think carefully. She needed to find time to consider it seriously. But now, she had to pretend as if nothing happened.

She didn't want to question Wang Xiaoyan, and it wasn't necessary. Wang Xiaoyan had her reason not to tell her. Zhao Ying didn't want to make the sisterly relationship between the two people too awkward, so it was better to act dumb right now.

Going downstairs, Zhao Ying tried to make her expression look natural. However, Wang Xiaoyan still found that Zhao Ying's smile was somewhat unnatural. "Sister Ying, what's wrong with you? How come your smile is so strange?"

Wang Xiaoyan didn't think much about it. She just thought that Zhao Ying's smile was weird. It was more like she had a conspiracy.

"Nothing. Maybe I bathed for too long, and the facial muscles are somewhat stiff." Zhao Ying shook her head, smiled, and said.

"Oh, you bathed for a long time indeed." Wang Xiaoyan stretched out on the sofa and said, "I was falling asleep. Sister Ying, you should stay here tonight. We haven't had pillow talk for a long time..."

"Ah ..." Zhao Ying was shocked and refused immediately. "I will pass for tonight. Your classes start tomorrow. You should prepare for it. Besides, I still have a dissertation to write..."

Zhao Ying was afraid that if she stayed with Wang Xiaoyan for too long, she would show flaws. At least, not today. She needed to go home and adjust her emotions.

"I don't have anything to prepare. Moreover, tomorrow I just have to mark my attendance and get new books. There is nothing special." Wang Xiaoyan said, "Your dissertation can also be written here!"

"No... the information is at home. It's too much trouble to get it here... Next time!" Zhao Ying hurriedly waved her hand. "Then I will go back, Yanyan."

"Going back so soon?" Wang Xiaoyan was somewhat inexplicable. "Sister Ying, your hair is still not dry. You might catch a cold going out like that."

"It's okay, my house is close. I can reach home very soon." Zhao Ying was flustered and waved her hand to Wang Xiaoyan, then she quickly walked out the door.

"Wait, Sister Ying, I will walk you..." Wang Xiaoyan got up from the sofa and put on her slippers, but she saw that Zhao Ying had already opened the door...

Wang Xiaoyan was baffled. Why was Zhao Ying so anxious? She shook her head and closed the door; then she went upstairs. She was already sleepy, so Wang Xiaoyan planned to get some good sleep.

These days, when Yang Ming was here, she was tossed around for a few nights. Wang Xiaoyan was a person who refused to admit defeat. Although she couldn't stand it, she still endured it.

Lying in bed, she fell asleep in a daze. Then, she forgot about Zhao Ying's things.

When Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia went back to the villa, Aunt Li was wiping the floor. When she saw Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia coming back, she rushed over. Previously, after Chen Mengyan went home, Yang Ming did not return to the villa and lived with Wang Xiaoyan, so he had not been there for several days.

Zhou Jiajia went upstairs to prepare for the school tomorrow, and Aunt Li called Yang Ming.

"What's the matter, Aunt Li?" asked Yang Ming.

"This is the case..." Aunt Li told Yang Ming about Zhao Ying's strange action waiting a whole night for him. Although Aunt Li didn't know what Zhao Ying was looking for, she wanted to call Yang Ming, but Zhao Ying refused. However, she described the whole incident to Yang Ming when she saw him.

Yang Ming had already learned about Zhao Ying's matter from Wang Xiaoyan. He didn't expect Zhao Ying to wait here for an entire night! Yang Ming regretted it. No wonder Zhao Ying didn't contact him these days. I thought that after the memory tree was given, it elicited no response. I didn't expect Zhao Ying to come to find myself, and I had missed her!

Moreover, it also hurt Zhao Ying's heart! Thinking of this, Yang Ming was a little ashamed. It seems that I really have to restrain myself a little in the future. Now, Zhao Ying is already angry with me. It seems I need to look for time to guide her.

Fortunately, Wang Xiaoyan had explained to Zhao Ying that I am just Wang Xiaoyan's fake boyfriend, not the true boyfriend. I hope Zhao Ying will believe this reason.

It is not that Yang Ming was not willing to tell Zhao Ying about himself and Wang Xiaoyan, but the relationship between himself and Wang Xiaoyan was somewhat complicated. It could not be made clear in a few words, and this relationship should not be promoted. If it were passed to Chen Mengyan's ear, then it would be another war. With Wang Xiaoyan's temper, would it be a loss? Maybe something will happen!

"I got it, Aunt Li. Don't mention it to anyone else." Yang Ming informed. Yang Ming was afraid that if the other girls heard it, it would cause more trouble.

"Okay, Mr. Yang. I understand." Aunt Li nodded. She also knew that the owner of this family was Yang Ming. She was just a nanny, so she naturally had to answer to Yang Ming. In fact, she waited for Zhou Jiajia to go upstairs before telling Yang Ming about Zhao Ying's incident. For this reason, Aunt Li did a good job at this point. She was a competent nanny.

Although Zhou Jiajia decided to stay in Yang Ming's house, she must leave some clothes in the dormitory at school. This was just a place to stay during weekends. Most of her time would still be spent in the dormitory.

Yang Ming was the same too. It was impossible to live here every day. It was okay to come here to be intimate with Chen Mengyan and Lin Zhiyun. But if they cohabitated, his parents wouldn't agree with it.

However, Yang Ming's dormitory was a kind of luxury apartment. They had everything there, and he didn't have to worry about forgetting something after the holidays, so the daily necessities were all prepared. Yang Ming didn't need to bring anything.

In the twinkling of an eye, it was time for dinner. Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia ate dinner with only the two of them. It was very warm. Zhou Jiajia also slowly adapted to this life. However, it was somewhat disappointing. "In the future, we would have little chance to be alone with each other, right?"

"Why?" Yang Ming laughed after listening, "The university life is four years. Both of us will be at the same desk. You have a bigger advantage than Chen Mengyan. At that time, the others will be jealous of you!"

Zhou Jiajia thought the same too. Indeed, I am at the same desk every day with Yang Ming. I am really looking forward to it!

Chapter 1057: The Small Box inside the Cabinet

In the evening, although Yang Ming wanted to sleep with Zhou Jiajia, the words had already been spoken previously, and he couldn't back out of a promise. Moreover, he really wanted to give Zhou Jiajia time to adapt. So, after Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia had dinner, they went to their separate rooms.

Zhou Jiajia returned to her own room, but Yang Ming did not go to the master bedroom. He went to the guest room where he had slept before instead. (.c om)

Back in the room, Yang Ming turned on the computer and wanted to use a netizen's identity to enlighten Zhao Ying. However, he suddenly remembered that Zhao Ying's new house could not access the Internet yet. Although she had applied for broadband installation, there were too many new residents in the community. She had to wait in the queue for several days.

When he opened QQ casually, he saw a small avatar that kept flashing. It was Little Fox Fairy!

"Are you there?" "Are you there or not!" "It's urgent!" "Contact me immediately after going online!"...

Little Fox Fairy sent out more than a dozen similar messages. Yang Ming was somewhat inexplicable. He didn't know for what reason she was looking for him, so he replied, "I am here. Is there anything wrong?"

Not long after Yang Ming's message was sent, Little Fox Fairy answered, "Lele is in trouble. Did you know?"

Yang Ming frowned and didn't know what Little Fox Fairy was referring to. Indeed, Huang Lele really was in trouble, and Yang Ming knew it. However, how did Little Fox Fairy know it?

Therefore, Yang Ming did not say whether he knew or not, but just replied with a "What happened?"

"Lele's family forced her to get married. This is such a big thing. You really don't know? What are you doing as a boyfriend!?" Little Fox Fairy sent an angry expression

Yang Ming saw the message sent by Little Fox Fairy, and suddenly he was astonished! Does Little Fox Fairy really know about Lele? He asked, somewhat puzzled, "How did you know?"

"Don't care about how I know it. Do you know about this or not? Why aren't you worried about it?" Little Fox Fairy said in a hurry.

"Lele is my wife, and I am not anxious. Why are you anxious?" Yang Ming gave a sullen expression

"Nonsense. Lele is my good friend. Of course, I am anxious!" said Little Fox Fairy.

"I've also just received the news from other means. How do you know?" Yang Ming had some doubts about the identity of Little Fox Fairy. Logically, she should not know that Huang Lele was in trouble! Huang Lele was under house arrest. Obviously, she could not contact the outside world. How did she find Little Fox Fairy?

Yang Ming wanted to find Zhou Jiajia to help him search the detailed information of Little Fox Fairy. He believed that with Zhou Jiajia's technical strength, it should be a breeze to find the location where Little Fox Fairy was online. However, Yang Ming hesitated and decided to forget about it.

Am I making a fuss over a small issue? When Yang Ming saw the following words of Little Fox Fairy, he suddenly realized that he was really fussing over a minor issue!

"Lele can go online, but her computer is limited to chat tools such as QQ. She could only play games. She told me in the game," explained Little Fox Fairy.

"It turns out to be like this! Don't worry. I already know about this," said Yang Ming.

"What is the use of knowing? You have to find some ways to solve it!" Little Fox Fairy said anxiously.

"I definitely have to solve it. I am more anxious than you, but how is it easy to go abroad? I need free time!" said Yang Ming.

(.com)" Oh, hehe. I am anxious. Then you should do your thing. I will not bother you during this time. When Lele is fine, you send me a message to inform me that everything is well." Today, Little Fox Fairy was surprisingly well-behaved. She did not annoy Yang Ming to play a game.

"Of course." Yang Ming saw that Little Fox Fairy really cared about Lele and also considered Lele as a good friend. Yang Ming was also very pleased, and he was more polite to her. How would an average netizen worry about these things for others? It seemed that for Lele, fortune favors the fools. She had a friend who was willing to worry about her.

"Alright, I will go offline now. I waited for you until very late every day for a few days, and you finally came online today!" complained Little Fox Fairy.

"I'm sorry. I have been busy with other things these days and have not taken the time to go online." Yang Ming explained apologetically.

"Alright, I won't talk to you. I have to sleep. I will start school tomorrow. I have to get up early," said Little Fox Fairy.

Yang Ming was surprised. He didn't expect Little Fox Fairy to be a student. Tomorrow was March 1st; it was the day where Song Jiang's various universities opened officially. So, Little Fox Fairy should be a college student.

However, whatever she did had no relationship with Yang Ming. Yang Ming also did not want to meet her, so he did not think much about it. Looking at other people's messages, "I'm a Superstar" left a message for Yang Ming. "I've been performing every day; I am exhausted. I miss you."

Although it was a few simple words, it contained Su Ya's deep love. As a superstar, Su Ya's every move was in the public's attention, so it was rare for her to say such childish words. However, Yang Ming was an exception.

"I miss you too. Jiajia is already awake. When there is a chance, you both can meet." Yang Ming replied.

After leaving the message, Yang Ming turned off the computer and left it aside. He looked at Zhou Jiajia's room with his x-ray vision and found that she had rested peacefully. However, the door was unlocked. He didn't know if she had forgotten it, or she really didn't prepare to protect herself.

However, with Zhou Jiajia's careful character, the second possibility was relatively high. It meant that Zhou Jiajia trusted him. However, even if he wanted to do anything, he believed that Zhou Jiajia would not object.

However, Yang Ming was unlikely to be the kind of person who would go back on his words. Since he had agreed with Zhou Jiajia, he would not violate it.

Looking at the time on the phone, it was before twelve o'clock. It was still early, so Yang Ming jumped out of the window and went to Wang Xiaoyan's villa.

This sneaky feeling made Yang Ming felt very excited, just like having an affair.

Wang Xiaoyan was sleeping soundly, and she dazedly felt that suddenly another person was next to her. She was immediately shocked! She woke up instantly and asked, "Who is it?!"

Wang Xiaoyan was a little surprised. Why did someone come in, and the alarm in the villa didn't ring? When looking at the familiar figure in the dark, Wang Xiaoyan was relieved. She somewhat complained, "Yang Ming, what are you doing? You tiptoed and came in. You scared me!"

The alarms in the villa were all installed by Yang Ming personally, so it was not unusual for Yang Ming to come in without triggering the alarm.

"I was afraid that you'd miss me, so I came to see you." Yang Ming smiled.

"Who misses you? I can sleep well when you don't come!" Wang Xiaoyan started to sleep after Zhao Ying left, probably around six o'clock in the evening. She slept until twelve o'clock. She had slept for six hours, which was almost enough.

Yang Ming smiled and climbed into Wang Xiaoyan's bed. Wang Xiaoyan did not refuse. After all, she also knew that her opportunities to be alone with Yang Ming were not many. Even less so after university started...

" En

" Yang Ming touched the bedside table, and he was suddenly surprised. "Where are the condoms? Why is it gone? I remember there were still a few left, right?"

These condoms were also bought by Zhang Zhishen from the supermarket after Yang Ming told him to do so. He bought two boxes and used one box. There were still a few left in the remaining box.

"I was afraid that others would see it, so I put it in the cabinet in the bathroom." Wang Xiaoyan said lazily, "You can get it!"

"Which cabinet?" asked Yang Ming.

" Aiya , you're really troublesome!" Wang Xiaoyan complained, "Forget it. I'm going to find it!" So, she got up and walked out of the room naked...

Not long after, Yang Ming heard a scream from Wang Xiaoyan, and he was surprised all of a sudden. He asked, "Yanyan, what happened?"

"It's over! It's over!" Wang Xiaoyan ran back to the bedroom with a small box and said, "Sister Ying took a bath here today. The towels and underwear were taken from the cabinet. She won't find this, right..."

Yang Ming was stunned for a moment, and then he had no choice but to smile bitterly. Wang Xiaoyan was too smart for her own good. She didn't want it to be discovered by others, but she put it in a place that was easily discovered.

He didn't know if Zhao Ying saw it or not, so Yang Ming said, "What did Sister Ying say after?"

"Nothing. She went home after the bath. I was quite puzzled at the time. Why did she go back so urgently? Could she have really seen this?" Wang Xiaoyan also was somewhat blushing. She had already vowed to Zhao Ying and said that she and Yang Ming had nothing going on, but now the evidence was found by others.

"Who knows?" Yang Ming sighed. "Forget it. Don't think too much. Our matters will be known to her sooner or later."

"You mean the assassin group?" Wang Xiaoyan was surprised and looked suspiciously at Yang Ming.

" En , there will always be one day when our identities will be revealed to them." Yang Ming said, "But, not now."

.....

Early the next morning, when the first glimmer of light came, Yang Ming went back to his villa. Zhao Ying's matters made him a little anxious. If Zhao Ying didn't see it, it would be easier. If she really saw it, it was no use to explain anything. It was better to keep silent.

However, all this could only wait for Zhao Ying to go online, and then slowly ask her as a netizen. Then, he would look at the situation and plan.

Originally, Yang Ming wanted to pick up Chen Mengyan and Lin Zhiyun to go to school together, but they didn't agree. They said that it was too conspicuous. After all, on campus, Yang Ming, a boy who took a car full of girls would affect other people's perception of them negatively.

After Yang Ming thought about it, what Chen Mengyan said made sense. Even if he didn't care, he couldn't let Chen Mengyan be criticized by others.

However, sitting on public transportation during the morning commute time was very difficult, and the taxis were hard to hail. Yang Ming simply chose a compromise. That was, Chen Mengyan and Lin Zhiyun both were picked up and dropped off at the villa. Then, they would leave separately to go to school.

Chapter 1058: I Love Little Ming

Yang Ming naturally walked along with Chen Mengyan, while Lin Zhiyun and Zhou Jiajia walked with each other.

However, in this way, Chen Mengyan was embarrassed. She just abandoned Yang Ming and walked with Lin Zhiyun and Zhou Jiajia. Only Yang Ming was left, and he drove slowly behind. He was like the bodyguard of the three.

After arriving at the school, they naturally separated. However, Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia came together. Both of them were from the computer science course and were under the same supervisor. Hence, they naturally attended together.

During the journey to the school, they found out that a group of people stood in the windy and harsh winter. They did not fear the invasion of the cold. After a careful look, Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia realized that the clubs were recruiting people.

The university stipulated that freshmen were in the adaptation stage in the first semester, and they were not allowed to join various clubs. In the second semester, after everyone was familiar with the university system and rules, they were free to join the clubs.

In fact, this was also just to prevent the freshmen from getting fooled by some club propaganda. If they casually joined the club and resigned, it would become very messy. It was not conducive to the student union and the Youth League Management, so there was such a rule.

Everyone in the first semester of the freshman year was basically familiar with what the club organizations of the university were doing. With that, they could join directly.

However, despite this, to recruit more people, some clubs set up a club recruitment station in the university on the first day of the second semester to attract people.

"Fellow classmates, you are from computer science. We are from the computer club. Join our club!" A male student and a female student wearing the Song Jiang University uniform came over. They had a stack of leaflets in their hands. They handed them separately each to Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia.

"How do you know that we are in computer science?" Zhou Jiajia asked the boy who handed her the leaflet.

"This is the computer science teaching building! As you approach this direction, you must be reporting to the computer science course!" The boy stared at Zhou Jiajia; his eyes were filled with desire.

Over the years, the Department of Science and Engineering was short of girls, let alone any beauty! A rare beauty like Zhou Jiajia was simply impossible to meet. How could a boy not seem eager in his eyes?

If he got Zhou Jiajia to join the club, then wouldn't the others be envious of a hero like him? So, he spent the extra effort in recruiting.

However, the image of the girl who handed a leaflet to Yang Ming was not very good, but there was not enough to go around. The club could only pick the best they had. She was the only girl in the club, so she was appointed with the work to distribute leaflets.

It was better than nothing. In a department like computer science, which was short of pretty girls, having a cute girl could attract many werewolves.

The girl noticed that Yang Ming was tall, sturdy, and full of masculinity. She was also attracted. Yang Ming was unlike others in the club. He did not wear glasses; he was not as thin as thread paper; he was not unkempt.

"It turned out to be like this. You are quite good at observing!" Zhou Jiajia nodded and smiled. She was very interested in computer things, so she asked, "What do you do in this club?"

Seeing that Zhou Jiajia seemed to be interested, the boy was overjoyed and quickly took the two to the club recruitment station which was nearby. The temporary recruitment station was a makeshift office consisting of several tables and a canvas umbrella. At the club recruitment station, several students were already consulting there.

Several computer club members who were responsible for consultation were vigorously explaining to the students the purpose of the club and the benefits of joining the club. "Our club has reached an agreement with a well-known software company to help finish the company's project during the club's spare time. The project will get a lot of money..."

For most students, money is the most attractive. After all, the ultimate goal of the university is to make money. Instead of making money after graduation, it is better to earn a little now. They can accumulate some working experience, so they can find a job easily.

Therefore, the promoters of these clubs seized the weak points of these students and tempted them. However, it could not be considered a lie. The computer club would indeed undertake some small software development, but the basic reward was between several thousand yuan to ten thousand yuan. When it was divided among a few people, it would just be a few hundred yuan, and sometimes it even would require a semester of work.

However, a shortage was far better off than the absence of it. The students became excited in their minds as they picked up a pen and started filling out the form.

“President, both of them are computer science students in their freshman year. They are interested in our club...” The boy who was responsible for the leaflet had brought Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia to the club recruitment station. He spoke to a guy who was happily blasting his words non-stop.

The person happily blasting his words was Li Boliang, president of the computer club. Li Boliang heard that there were new students joining. He quickly drank a mouthful of water. As he raised his head, he saw Zhou Jiajia, and his eyes glinted brightly. Although Li Boliang had a girlfriend, he still instinctively swallowed his saliva when he encountered a beauty!

This is a beauty that can inflict war. If she is recruited into the computer club, then I would not need to publicize much. Wouldn't these little fellows rush to join in?

Li Boliang thought of a good idea and decided to put some effort into recruiting Zhou Jiajia into the computer science club. She is a living advertisement! Once Zhou Jiajia stands here, she is much better off than me saying hundreds of words.

Sure enough, when Zhou Jiajia stood here, the boys who were still hesitating to join the computer club could not wait to sign their names on the lower right of the registration form.

Seeing such a quick result, Li Boliang was thrilled. He was determined to recruit Zhou Jiajia.

“Our two fellow students please sit down!” Li Boliang gave the girl an eye signal to let her deal with Yang Ming. She was the only girl. It couldn't be helped. He had to make do with utilizing her.

The girl moved the chairs to Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia, and let the two sit down. Li Boliang cleared his throat and began to speak, “Our computer club is a comprehensive club organization that integrates computer hardware, software development, and maintenance...”

Having said that, and seeing that Zhou Jiajia's expression was the same, not showing the intention to join or not to join, Li Boliang knew that these ordinary things could not attract Zhou Jiajia. So, he came up with another idea. “Moreover, our computer club is a hacker organization!”

“Ah!” A couple of students who wanted to join the computer club earlier were surprised. They looked at Li Boliang curiously. Hackers were a mysterious presence in the eyes of many college students!

Hackers were like Internet heroes. They were chivalrous and robbed the rich to give to the poor, the “Smiling, Proud Wanderer”¹ in the ocean of the Internet! University students were all people with a strong sense of justice, especially when the national interests were infringed. They would stand up and voice out, feeling indignant at justice!

At this time, if they saw a hacker organization hacking the websites of hostile forces that infringed on the national interests and hanging up the national flag, they would be overwhelmed with emotions, and their blood would be boiling!

When they heard Li Boliang say that the computer club in the university was actually a hacker organization, how could they not be interested? Each one of them had widened their glasses², waiting for Li Boliang to continue!

Although Li Boliang knew a little about hacking techniques and was a peripheral member of a small hacker group, he was still far from the core level. Never mind attacking the official websites of foreign countries, he was unable to attack a campus intranet.

However, Li Boliang felt that girls would worship heroes. Hackers were mysterious heroes. Since Zhou Jiajia was a computer enthusiast, she must have heard of hackers!

Li Boliang looked at the classmates who were dumbfounded. Finally, his eyes fell on Zhou Jiajia, but it was disappointed to discover that Zhou Jiajia's expression was still very calm...

Li Boliang did not give up and continued, "For example, I participated in the challenge with an American hacker group last year."

" Oh ? Really?" Zhou Jiajia finally reacted, looked at Li Boliang, and asked.

Seeing that Zhou Jiajia finally spoke, Li Boliang suddenly saw hope and continued to say, "Of course, I participated in the challenge on behalf of our SFH Phoenix Hacker Group..."

"SFH Phoenix Hacker Group? I know it." Zhou Jiajia frowned. She knew this hacker group. It was a small hacker group in China. What they studied were not network protocols, but were rather inclined toward the satellite positioning system. Moreover, Zhou Jiajia did not remember what the SFH Phoenix Hacker Group achieved in the hacking challenge last year.

"What? Have you heard of it?" Li Boliang heard that Zhou Jiajia knew the organization and immediately rejoiced and was excited. He started bullsh*tting. "I am a member of this organization. Last year, under my leadership, we achieved a few impressive results... I was praised by the number one Chinese hacker, 'I Love Little Ming'..."

"You... know 'I Love Little Ming'?" Zhou Jiajia's face suddenly turned red. She glanced to the side at Yang Ming and found that his face was normal. Only then was she relieved.

"Yeah, this I Love Little Ming is the number one network expert in the Chinese hacker world. He is very mysterious... You must have heard of him, right?" Li Boliang nodded and said.

"I've heard of him..." Zhou Jiajia pursed her lips and said.

" Hey , I Love Little Ming is very mysterious. On the Internet, he has an elusive existence. He doesn't belong to any hacker organization. He is called, King of Hackers..." Li Boliang spoke incessantly.

King of Hackers ? Yang Ming broke into a sweat after hearing it. Isn't he going to fight with me? I'm the King of Assassins; this I Love Little Ming is actually King of Hackers... It is just that the name is a bit stupid. I Love Little Ming? It's so funny. It's like a sentence constructed by a primary school student.

Chapter 1059: The King of Hackers

“King of Hackers!” The students standing by the side had all shown amazement! The King of Hackers was the ultimate mysterious existence. In the cyberspace of China, there was no one who didn’t know this name!

He was a genius in the hacker world, but no one knew whether he was a man or a woman nor his age. They only knew that no computer problem would be difficult for him.

Li Boliang, the president of the computer club, seemed to know about it. Several members immediately flattered him, “President Li, do you know the King of Hackers?”

Li Boliang looked around and then lowered his voice. “I will tell you guys, but don’t spread it around. I am actually the apprentice of the King of Hackers, the inner apprentice kind!”

” Sha !” Everyone was shocked. “So bad*ss!”

“It’s still okay...” said Li Boliang complacently.

“How old is the King of Hackers?” asked someone curiously.

“The King of Hackers... hmm ... almost the same age as us!” Li Boliang immediately realized that he had gone overboard with the boasting! He couldn’t end it well. If these people chatted about the King of Hackers, how should he answer? So he quickly said, “ I can’t just simply talk about the King of Hackers. I will tell you about his heroic deeds then!”

“Okay!” These people standing here were more or less computer fans, so they were particularly interested in hackers. They were all eager to listen.

“You know that in 1998, there was a global outbreak of a bad*ss virus called CIH ¹ . For the common virus that destroys the system software, as long as there is no important data, reinstalling the system directly can solve the problem. But this CIH was not the same, it was the world’s first virus that could damage computer hardware. It could destroy the motherboard by rewriting the BIOS information so that the motherboard stops working!” said Li Boliang cheerfully. “Although you can repair the faulty motherboard by rewriting the BIOS chip, this is a chip-scale repairing solution. It is not suitable for ordinary computer users, so when the virus broke out, the computer users around the world were in a panic. At this time, a hero appeared out of nowhere. He introduced an anti-virus tool anonymously in the computer virus professional forum. It could kill the CIH virus completely which was faster than those anti-virus manufacturers. Moreover, he published the signature of the virus so that the CIH virus was quickly recognized by people. Then the immunization and prevention could be executed quickly!”

Most people present had heard of this horrendous virus from the past, but they didn’t know it was related to the King of Hackers! One person couldn’t help but ask, “President, are you saying that the anonymous hero is the King of Hackers?”

“Yes! This was known by everyone later after the event!” Li Boliang nodded a little smugly as if he knew the inside story. He continued to tell delightedly, “This matter was over for a few years. When the Internet was popularized, the name of the King of Hackers became famous throughout the world... One day, a computer fan had nothing to do. He decompiled the anti-virus software released by the anonymous user. He discovered a ++ annotation at the end of the code!”

“++? Isn't the King of Hackers known as I Love Little Ming? What does it have to do with ++?” Many people were expressing doubtful expressions. “Could this symbol be written by others?”

“NO! NO! NO!” Li Boliang put his hand in an inscrutable manner and said, “Of course, it wasn't written casually! I Love Little Ming is the ID of the King of Hackers, but the symbol of this ++ is his code name. You can see from his habits in writing some hacking tools later on. In all the code of his programs, a ++ symbol appears in the end without exception!”

As Li Boliang said this, he picked up the pen and wrote two “+” symbols on the paper in front of him.

” Ah !” Everyone was surprised that they dropped their jaws widely. They exclaimed, “It turned out to be the case! The King of Hackers is really low-key. He won't even talk about such an important matter...”

“Of course, the King of Hackers is a very low-key person. Besides, his reputation is already high enough. He doesn't need to increase his reputation again!” Li Boliang nodded and replied.

“Then, did anyone decompile the anti-virus tool?” Some people asked curiously.

“Of course, there must be someone who tried to decompile it,” said Li Boliang affirmatively. “But at that time, the King of Hackers wasn't famous. Even if others decompiled it, they would not think too much. As you guys mentioned, they would think the symbol was written casually!”

“Yeah, right. Who would pay attention to the ++?” The crowd nodded and agreed to it.

“And, whenever our national interests are damaged, the King of Hackers will stand up and express our anger in his own way!” said Li Boliang. “Many foreign hostile websites are paralyzed overnight!”

“President, since you are his disciple, you must be very powerful, right?” asked everyone with envy.

“I just learned some of it. There is still so much to learn!” Li Boliang didn't dare to continue to brag. If someone discovered that he wasn't that powerful, wouldn't he be ashamed?

Zhou Jiajia's eyebrows were full of smiles. Seeing that Li Boliang was overjoyed, she quickly said, “How about it? Our president is very powerful, right? Do you want to join?”

“Yang Ming, what do you think?” Zhou Jiajia thought about it and turned to ask Yang Ming.

“I don't know. However, I heard the president say that he was the apprentice of the King of Hackers, then he should be very good, right?” Yang Ming said, “It is just right that I want to learn some hacking skills. Let's join the club then?”

“Okay!” It didn't matter for Zhou Jiajia. Since Yang Ming had joined, she would naturally follow her husband. She nodded. “We are joining.”

Li Boliang was overjoyed and quickly handed two registration forms to Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia, and then told them how to fill it out. Only then did he take a sigh of relief and drink some water.

Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia filled out the forms and handed it over to the computer club for them to verify. At this time, a large group of people gradually filled out the forms and prepared to join the computer club.

With Zhou Jiajia's beauty effect and the extravagant speech from Li Boliang, Many people were interested in the computer club. Of course, Li Boliang also knew that he had overdone the boasting, but it was fine. Since he could recruit more people to join the club, it wasn't wrong to bullsh*t. Anyway, his knowledge of hacking was still okay. At that time, he could just demonstrate to them some basics.

After they enrolled, they left the contact information. Yang Ming and Zhou Jiajia got up and walked in the direction of the teaching building. The time for registration was near, so they couldn't stay in the recruitment booth for long.

"Yang Ming, do you like hacking?" asked Zhou Jiajia with some delight.

"Of course. If I were not interested in this, would I study computer science?" Yang Ming smiled and said, "Yes, how can I forget you? A computer genius is beside me. Why did I still enroll in that useless club?!"

Yang Ming was really interested in computer science. However, the most crucial point was that as a professional killer, he needed to be proficient in everything. Now that technology was developing rapidly, hacking technology had become a means of war, so Yang Ming must also understand it.

Fang Tian was lacking in this aspect. He couldn't teach Yang Ming anything, so Yang Ming could only explore it himself.

Zhou Jiajia blushed, listening to Yang Ming's appreciation, but her heart was sweetened. She hesitated and said, "It is good to join some clubs. At least, it can enrich life after school!"

"It's true. Just take it as dating with you!" Yang Ming nodded and said.

"..." Zhou Jiajia's face was more flushed. She didn't know how to answer Yang Ming. In her impression, Yang Ming had always been a very serious person. She didn't expect that when she was close to Yang Ming, he was so lascivious.

"Right, Jiajia. Do you know the King of Hackers?" Yang Ming was the King of Assassins. Naturally, he was very interested in the King of Hackers. If he had the chance, he wanted to make a friend.

"I... know him. Why?" Zhou Jiajia hesitated and asked.

"Nothing. I just want to make a friend," said Yang Ming with a smile. "Are you familiar with him?"

"You could say that..." nodded Zhou Jiajia.

"Is Li Boliang really his apprentice?" Yang Ming gossiped.

"Who knows... but it shouldn't be. The King of Hackers doesn't accept apprentices." Zhou Jiajia shook her head and replied.

"So that's it. I also felt that he is a liar. It's over now. I got fooled!" Yang Ming said with a bitter smile.

"Hehe ..." Zhou Jiajia was amused by seeing Yang Ming's appearance. "If you want to learn hacking skills, I can let you become the disciple of the King of Hackers!"

"You? Really?" Yang Ming squinted. "Your reputation is so high? Hey, Jiajia, you tell me. What is your name in the hacker world? Is it also famous?"

"Me, ah ... I won't tell you!" Zhou Jiajia smiled and said, "You will know later!"

Yang Ming nodded and no longer asked. When they entered the teaching building, they couldn't talk loudly. According to the instructions on their notice, they came to classroom 413 upstairs. This was the reporting location for computer science class 1 and class 2.

The tutor, Xie Yongqiang, was sitting at the podium, registering the classmates who came to the classroom. When he saw Zhou Jiajia coming, he immediately asked her to help.

Zhou Jiajia's hospitalization was handled in a low-key manner. Xie Yongqiang wasn't informed, so he didn't know that so many things happened to Zhou Jiajia during this holiday. He treated her as usual.

Chapter 1060: Graduate Students

Some people came, and some people couldn't come anymore. Wang Zhitao was one of them. In the freshman batch of Song Jiang University, there was always such a person missing.

What made Yang Ming baffled was that the body of Wang Zhitao had not been discovered. However, it was not surprising to think of it. The place where Wang Xue killed him was far from shore, and the body would be eaten by sharks that were encountered along the way until no bones were left.

Yang Ming found a seat and sat down, which was where he usually sat. What made Yang Ming surprised was that not long after, Tian Donghua and Wang Xue, this pair of adulterers, entered the classroom, holding hands. They walked straight to Yang Ming and sat directly next to him.

"I say, why don't you go and report to your department? Why did you come to our class?" Yang Ming looked at Tian Donghua, who was sitting next to him and was a little dumbfounded.

"I can't care so much. I don't know anyone in that class. Why would I go there?" Tian Donghua said indifferently, "All the directors of our department know me anyway. They understand why I came to this university. They don't bother about me."

Yang Ming shook his head and didn't say anything. The big young master, Tian Donghua, came after money was spent, so Yang Ming didn't care much about him. He could do whatever he pleased.

Wang Xue didn't know that Zhou Jiajia had woken up. Her jaws dropped in surprise when she saw Zhou Jiajia standing in front of the podium and helping Xie Yongqiang to register people. "Jiajia... you?"

"I'm fine." Zhou Jiajia smiled slightly. "In a while, I will tell you. There are many people now."

"Oh ... Alright..." Wang Xue snapped out of it. There was a look of apology and an awkward expression on her face. Zhou Jiajia was injured. It could be said that Wang Xue was also mostly responsible for it. After all, Wang Zhitao was her half-brother. Although Wang Zhitao died in her hands, seeing Zhou Jiajia, she was still a bit regretful.

"How was your holiday?" Tian Donghua casually drank some of his beverage and asked Yang Ming.

"One word, busy!" Yang Ming sighed. "I basically had no break during the entire holiday."

"Hey, who told you to have so many girlfriends?!" Tian Donghua smiled and said, "Look at me. I have just one. Every day I am bored to death."

"How is your relationship with Wang Xue?" Yang Ming asked. Of course, Yang Ming wanted to ask about Wang Zhitao.

"It's alright. Wang Xue has also repented," said Tian Donghua. "During this time, her performance is also in fear and trepidation. She is afraid that I am not satisfied... In fact, I am mainly afraid that you will see her and become awkward..."

"I don't care. You don't have to worry about me." Yang Ming patted Tian Donghua's shoulder and said, "Things have already passed. Wang Xue also had a hard time. However, I am afraid that Jiajia cannot forgive..."

Tian Donghua nodded silently, expressing his understanding. He hesitated, clenched his teeth, and said, "If Zhou Jiajia really does not forgive her, then I can only break up with her!"

"It's not so serious. I will go and talk to Jiajia. And you two, don't butt heads again, or else, we are all sinners!" Yang Ming laughed.

Tian Donghua smiled gratefully. After all, he did not want to break up with Wang Xue. Tian Donghua was a person who prioritized relationships. If he wanted to break up, he would have broken up sooner and would not drag it to the present. What's more, this guy was born to be an affectionate person. Back then, was it not because of a girl that he was in a fight and was transferred?

Xiao Qing had something to do last night. Because a new batch of computers arrived, Xiao Qing had to personally go with the teachers in the department to assemble and debug them. She had been busy for most of the night, so the plan with Yang Ming to go to Liu Weishan was ruined.

However, it allowed Yang Ming and Wang Xiaoyan to have s*x again for one night. These days, the university had just started. Xiao Qing was not sure if there was free time, so she could only be contacted by phone.

In addition to teaching her regular courses, Xiao Qing also taught an elective course in advanced computerized accounting. This elective course was for postgraduates in the economics department. What made Xiao Qing interested was that Sun Jie had become her student.

Looking at the classroom, Miss Sun was sitting quietly there. Xiao Qing couldn't help but laugh.

"Hello, my name is Zhao Ying." Zhao Ying was very friendly and reached out to her new tablemate. Her eyes secretly assessed her new tablemate. She has a flawless face and a sexy body... Just why is her chest so big? A bit like papaya...

"Sun Jie. I am very glad to meet you." Sun Jie smiled a little. She also amiably reached out and shook Zhao Ying's hand. "You are very beautiful!"

If it were a man who said that to Zhao Ying, Zhao Ying still wouldn't feel anything. After all, she was used to it. However, these words were spoken from a woman's mouth, which made Zhao Ying shy. "You are also very beautiful..."

Sun Jie slyly smiled. "Look. Many people are jealous of us."

"Jealous of us? Why?" Zhao Ying was somewhat inexplicable, but when she looked up, she did see a lot of gazes. In the science and engineering-based university, there were already not enough to go around. It was even more so for postgraduate students. Never mind a beautiful woman; aunties were also rarely seen.

Sun Jie and Zhao Ying, the most beautiful women in the world, had actually gathered together at the same time. It was difficult to be ignored by others.

"Jealous that you and I are tablemates; jealous that you and I are tablemates," Sun Jie giggled and whispered. It was rare for a graduate student to meet a girl who looked quite pleasing and was not proud. Sun Jie also wanted to be friends with her.

In the college era, Sun Jie was basically lonely. Although she had Xiao Qing as her companion, the relationship between the two people was a very indecent half-lover relationship. But now, it had gradually become normal.

After studying as a postgraduate, other than some boys who liked to be courteous, there were a few nerd-type girls. It was hard for Sun Jie to find a friend who she could talk to.

Now, she met Zhao Ying. Not only was she clean and beautiful, but she also took the initiative to greet her. Moreover, she didn't seem to have bad intentions, so Sun Jie was very fond of Zhao Ying.

"Ah!" Zhao Ying was stunned. Only then did she understand Sun Jie's meaning. She smiled shyly and said, "Just let them be jealous..."

"Why? Are you disdained with the boys' gazes?" Sun Jie looked at Zhao Ying with a smile and said, "Let me guess. You must have a problem with sexual orientation..."

"Ah? I..." Zhao Ying was stunned. She didn't expect Sun Jie to say this. Her face was red, and she quickly denied, "I have no problem..."

"Don't worry! I haven't finished yet!" Sun Jie said amused, "Or, you already have a boyfriend. Is that right?"

Hearing Sun Jie refer to a boyfriend, Zhao Ying's face suddenly turned gloomy. She thought of Yang Ming and Wang Xiaoyan. Zhao Ying then shook her head and smiled bitterly. "How could I have a boyfriend?"

Seeing Zhao Ying's look, Sun Jie suddenly felt a little weird. From Zhao Ying's expression and tone, why does she look as if she has fallen out of love? Such a good girl should be the focus of mass attention in school, right?

However, she just met Zhao Ying. Sun Jie naturally wouldn't ask too much. When the two became acquainted, Zhao Ying would tell her about her own affairs. Thinking of herself and Xiao Qing's past, then it wouldn't be very strange.

Sun Jie was even thinking, Is Zhao Ying like me, having a sad history of love?

The class time of graduate students started very early, so now it was time for normal classes. Xiao Qing explained some of the uses of the professional financial software from the front, and Zhao Ying carefully jotted down notes.

Although the course name was computerized accounting, Xiao Qing covered in the content of the course, the application of some financial software, and the use of some professional management software.

With the development of the times, the company's management had also been reduced from the original manpower organization to software that could replace the status quo of many departments. So, although this course was only an elective course, many economics graduate students still chose this course.

Zhao Ying took notes and sighed. She looked at Sun Jie out of the corner of her eyes but was surprised to find that Sun Jie just listened to Xiao Qing's explanation. She did not jot anything in her notebook. She somewhat asked curiously, "Sun Jie, why don't you take notes?"

"Hehe, this software is already in use at my company. I already know most of the functions and operations. Now I am just listening to the details and special features that I missed." Sun Jie smiled.

"Ah? Your company?" Zhao Ying was shocked. She said surprisingly, "Did you start the company yourself?"

"It's only a small company." Sun Jie said, "Child's play."

"If you have time, can you bring me to visit?" Zhao Ying looked at Sun Jie very admiringly. She did not expect that this postgraduate student, who was a beautiful classmate, was already the boss of a company!

"Of course!" Sun Jie nodded. "But today is not good. There are courses for the whole day. When we finish class, the company is already off work."

"En, we can do it any day." Zhao Ying saw that Sun Jie agreed and was very happy.

With a few words, the relationship between the two became close. Sun Jie was more accurate at reading people. From Zhao Ying's eyes, it could be seen that this girl was someone who was very kind and had no bad intentions.

So Sun Jie was also at ease to say these things to her. Although Sun Jie was not afraid of anything, Sun Jie was also annoyed to meet some friends who were snobbish and wanted to take advantage of her. Zhao Ying was obviously not like that. When Zhao Ying wanted to visit the company, Sun Jie only saw surprise and curiosity in her eyes, and she did not have greed nor want material gain.

"You didn't immediately become a graduate student directly after graduation, right?" Sun Jie asked.

"Ya? How did you know?" Zhao Ying asked very curiously. She didn't expect Sun Jie to notice it.

"Hehe, very simple. Because when you talk to me, you don't know how to be sneaky at all. Your stupidity is seen by the teacher!" Sun Jie smiled and said, "If you are a student, you should know how to avoid the teacher's gaze, right?"

" Ah ... " Zhao Ying was surprised. She was a teacher. How would she know these tricks from students?
