Chapter 108 She harmed me on purpose

"Captain Wei, I really don't know. The corpse has been buried. How can I send someone to look at the grave every day? I really don't know how he disappeared.

"snort."

Wei Captou snorted coldly.

Of course he knew that Old Man Gong probably didn't know anything, but so what?

What he needs to do now is to push Old Man Gong to the edge of the cliff so that he no longer dares to hide any words he has not said before.

"Why, didn't Mr. Gong dare to burn Mr. Ling's body because he had to make a fuss in the first place, just so that he could use that strange disease to harm the people who were at odds with you?"

he asks.

"No, no, I don't dare to do this. I don't dare to do this." Mr. Gong shook his head like a rattle and denied it with all his strength.

But he also knew in his heart that no matter how much he denied it, it was useless. Even if he had not done this, Capt. Wei would pour all the dirty water on him in order to exonerate himself and the county magistrate.

"Who else could it be if it wasn't you? Huh, this old guy really can't see it. He's even willing to give up his own son. It's not enough to poison him to death. He even digs up graves and digs up the corpse! There really are fathers like you in the world!"

Capt. Wei snorted coldly and said.

"I....."

Master Gong opened his mouth, but he didn't know what else to say. It felt like he was covered in mouth now and couldn't explain it clearly. His big eyes rolled around and he suddenly thought of someone.

"I know, it's that bitch!"

He remembered that he was originally afraid that the strange disease would bring greater harm to the house and wanted to incinerate his son's body. However, the woman kept saying something in his ear:

The Gong family has never had a precedent of incineration of deceased persons. If this burial method is destroyed, it may be detrimental to the family's feng shui, and the Gong family may suffer a disastrous decline in the future.

He was worried for a moment that the woman would really tell her off, and he didn't want his family's foundation to be ruined, so he thought of going to Capt. Wei's place to cause trouble.

"Captain Wei, it was her. She harmed me intentionally. She must have dug up the body."

He looked up at Capt. Wei, and finally saw a glimmer of hope that could put all the blame away.

"who?"

Wei Captou asked.

"It's the villain's third wife, Gong Yushi, Yu Mian'er." Master Gong said.

"Besides, Xiaoren and Yu's son is also a good doctor. Ever since a strange illness broke out in his family, the child went out to find some miracle doctor, but he hasn't come back yet."

He was wondering whether Gong Beiting didn't go to any miracle doctor at all, but hid secretly and dug up Xi Ting's body?

But what's the point of digging up the body? He was really puzzled.

But now is not the time to think about this. What he needs is to put all these sins on other people to protect himself. Therefore, Gong Yushi is the best candidate.

Because the person who always made slanderous remarks in his ears in the past was none other than Gong Yu.

"Go and bring Gong Yushi here." Capt. Wei immediately ordered the policeman beside him.

"Yes, Wei Tou."

The two detectives took the order and went out to find Gong Yushi.

"Captain Wei, how's your investigation going?" Lin Caisang and Ya Molian walked in carelessly, looked at Mr. Gong kneeling on the ground, and smiled mockingly.

"Hey, what's wrong with Mr. Gong? Why are you sitting on the ground? It's so cold."

"Well."

Master Gong looked embarrassed, quickly stood up holding the handle of the chair, and continued to sit on the chair.
