

Star of Space 1091

Chapter 1091 For whom, God knows!

It was impossible for him to go to Lin Laogan's house again to bring bad luck to him.

"The boss, the boss."

Ding couldn't get a response from her man and hurriedly chased him out.

"Zha'er is your biological son. You are the only one who can help him now. Go and tell the clan leader. After all, he is a descendant of the Lin family. How can he compare to Lin Caisang, a girl who will marry sooner or later?"

She didn't believe it. Her Zha'er was a boy, so how could he be compared to Lin Caisang? It only takes two years at most. Lin Caisang will get married sooner or later.

Who knows where she will marry then?

"Head of the family, you only have this one son. If he has a son who is both good and bad, how will we live in the future?"

When the man heard her words, he turned around and looked at her.

"Son, there may not be only one like this."

"Ah, Master, what do you mean?" Ding's eyes were filled with astonishment after hearing his words.

Did her husband want her to give him another son? But how old is she? She's not Yang Lin. If she can get pregnant at such an old age, she must not be able to give birth to a son.

"Master, my belly can't be bulging anymore."

She turned red and said to the man.

The man's eyes were heavy and he looked Ding up and down.

"Who said I have to let you give birth?"

"Wha...what?"

When Mrs. Ding heard this, a chill shot up from the soles of her feet and rushed to her forehead.

"As... the head of the family, you... you still want to marry... marry a young man? In our village, no man will marry a young man. You will be... laughed at!"

Anyway, if her man wants to marry another young man, she will definitely not agree!

"Who said you want to marry a kid?"

The man narrowed his eyes coldly and sneered.

"If you continue to make such a fuss, I can divorce your unworthy wife and marry someone else, Mrs. Ding. Although my Lin family is not a wealthy family, I, Lin Ba, can divorce my wife and marry someone else." There are still some!"

"you--"

After hearing what he said, Mrs. Ding was so frightened that she took a step back!

What did she hear? Her husband said he wanted to divorce her and marry another? How is this possible?

"Master, how can you be so cruel? For whom am I working hard outside? Isn't it for this family? If not for this family, would I offend Lin Caisang?"

She had done so much for this family, given birth to children, and yet she ended up with the possibility of being divorced?

"Who are you doing for, God knows!"

The man didn't listen to her complaining words, and his tone was even colder.

"I'm just warning you, if that old man Mo comes to your door again, I'll be the first to kick you out. I, Lin Ba, have always behaved myself in Yacun, and I don't have the kind of wife who plots against others!

From now on, you will live in the woodshed by yourself. When will you figure out what you did wrong? When will you go back to your room to sleep? "

With that said, he closed the door and shut Ding out of the room.

In the yard, Mrs. Ding opened her mouth and could not utter a word. She had just been angry with Lin Caisang outside, and she had to be angry with her husband when she got home. When will these days end?

"Mom, you should hurry up and find a solution for me."

Lin Zha didn't care about the quarrel between his parents, he only cared about his wife. He only knew that if he didn't think of a way, his wife would be lost.

Chapter 1092 People from Qianhuan Continent?

"That is my daughter-in-law. If she is gone, how can I have a son? Didn't you say that you would help me bring my daughter-in-law home? You should hurry up and tell Lin Caisang.

"you....."

Ding turned her head blankly and looked at her son, who was more than half a head taller than herself.

Raising his hand, he didn't know what image flashed through his mind, and slapped Lin Zha directly on the face.

"Get out of here!"

She was almost on her last legs, so how could she give her son a wife?

"Mom, are you hitting me?"

Lin Zha covered his hurt face in disbelief and looked at Ding.

"You are not my mother, you are just a bitch. Dad, divorce her immediately and marry me a gentle second mother. I don't want this bitch to be my mother."

With that said, he went to knock on Lin Ba's door.

In the room, Lin Ba didn't know that there were several breaths of bad breath trapped in his chest.

What evil has he done to marry such a daughter-in-law and teach such a good son to such a virtue!

"Get out, get out of here!"

A roar broke out in the room.

...

"Oh, this family is really lively."

In the room, when Lin Caisang heard Beidou coming to report the situation of the Lin Ba family, he chuckled, shook his head and sighed.

"Who says it isn't?"

Beidou also sighed lightly.

"Mother, my subordinates heard that Lin Ba was a loyal and honest person before, and now he is very kind to others. It's a pity that he has such a daughter-in-law, which is quite pitiful."

"Ignore them."

Lin Caisang did not continue this topic, but looked at Beidou.

"Is there any news about Brother Melian recently?" she asked.

"There has been no news recently." Beidou replied.

However, she calculated carefully and felt that something was wrong. After all, the news from Shaohua City should have come. Why hasn't it come yet?

"However, mistress, there is news from Jian'an City that... people from Qianhuan Continent have been discovered and stayed outside the eldest princess's residence."

"People from Qianhuan Continent? Outside the eldest princess's residence?" Lin Caisang's eyes narrowed.

For some reason, when she heard that people from Qianhuan Continent were targeting the eldest princess, she felt so uneasy, as if she was extremely afraid that those people would do harm to the eldest princess.

Could it be because I heard that the eldest princess came back from Qianhuan Continent?

"Yes, Mistress."

Beidou responded and looked at Lin Caisang seriously.

"Because the mistress has mentioned some connection with the eldest princess before, my subordinates have asked people to keep an eye on the situation in the eldest princess's mansion, but they never thought that traces of people from Qianhuan Continent would be discovered."

Hearing this, Lin Caisang took a deep breath.

"Are there any differences between those people?" she asked.

"Nothing strange has been discovered, but the intention of the people from Qianhuan Continent is very obvious. They are going after the eldest princess." Beidou replied.

"However, the Emperor of Liang seemed to have been prepared for the people from Qianhuan Continent. As soon as they showed up, they were discovered by the guards. There was a big fight, but they escaped even after being injured."

None of them had heard of the Thousand Fantasy Continent before. If she hadn't heard about it from the guards in Jian'an City, she wouldn't have known that such a continent existed.

Lin Caisang's eyes darkened and he bit his red lips lightly.

After a while, she let out a sigh of relief and looked up at Beidou.

"I understand, you go back first."

Chapter 1093 Something weird happened

"Yes, I am resigning."

Beidou turned around and left from the window.

The next moment, after closing and locking the window, Lin Caisang flashed into the Jinzhu space.

"Sister-in-law, you're here. You haven't come in for a long time."

Sui Ziyou was bored when he saw Lin Caisang coming in and hurried over.

"Ziyou, wait for me."

Lin Caisang didn't have time to talk to Sui Ziyou at the moment, so he just walked in front of the jade mirror.

"Brother Yujing, do you have any tasks to build An City recently?" she asked.

'Dear Master, Liang Guo has no mission to build An City, but Luoche County has one mission.' Two lines of words were displayed on the jade mirror.

"Luoche County?"

Lin Caisang lowered his head and thought for a moment.

Luoche County is the closest county to Jian'an City. Ya Molian said before that it only takes one day to drive a carriage from Luoche County to Jian'an City.

"What mission?"

She raised her head, looked at the jade mirror, and asked.

'Advanced mission: Wan County, the county closest to Jian'an City in Luoche County, has recently seen many people die for no apparent reason. The cause was poisoning. Mission reward: 10,000 taels of gold, from the Liang State Treasury.

"received."

Lin Caisang took a deep breath and said to the jade mirror.

...

In the early morning of the next day, Lin Caisang's carriage stopped outside Wan County in Luoche County.

"Sister-in-law, it's so strange in Wan County. The city gate is closed in broad daylight. Are you not letting people in?" Sui Ziyou temporarily acted as a coachman and looked at the closed city gate. Not even a guard guarding the city gate was there. No.

Hearing the sound, Lin Caisang stuck his head out of the carriage and looked at the closed city gate.

"Go call the door."

"Okay, sister-in-law."

Sui Ziyou responded, jumped off the carriage and walked towards the city gate.

However, before she had time to approach the city gate, she only took a few steps when she heard the voice of a soldier coming from above the city gate.

"Girl, don't go any further. Weird things have happened in Wan County recently. No merchants are allowed to enter. You should go back wherever you came from."

Hearing this, Sui Ziyou looked up at the soldier outside, then turned around and looked at Lin Caisang who had already put on the mask.

After hearing this, Lin Caisang got off the carriage and came to her side to look at the soldiers on the city wall.

"Please tell me, brother, that I am a doctor and I came here specifically to discuss what happened in Wan County. If possible, I hope the county magistrate can open the city gate and welcome us in."

When the soldiers on the city wall heard her words, they were silent for a while, and then asked loudly.

"Excuse me, what is the girl's name?"

"Your surname is Lin. As for the rest, it's inconvenient to disclose it." Lin Caisang said.

"Miss Lin, wait a moment, I'll go and report it right away." After the soldier said this, he left.

"Sister-in-law, is the disease in this place really that serious? The county has been closed down." Sui Ziyou looked at Lin Caisang and asked.

"It's not serious. How could the emperor of the Liang Kingdom know about it and offer a reward of 10,000 taels of gold just to find out the reason for the frequent deaths in Anhui County? It must have made people panic."

Lin Caisang said.

At this moment, a line of ox carts came from a distance and also stopped next to Lin Caisang's carriage.

The two of them looked towards the oxcart, and saw bamboo baskets placed on top of the oxcart, with vegetables exposed inside. It seemed that they were here to deliver vegetables to Wan County.

Chapter 1094 It's scary just thinking about it

"You two girls, why are you here? This is not a good place, it's too scary.

When an uncle driving a bullock cart saw them, he hurried over and asked.

"Uncle, is Wan County really that scary?" Sui Ziyou looked at him and asked.

"It's scary, can it not be scary?"

The uncle's face became nervous when he heard her asking.

"I heard that hundreds of people have died in Wan County, but that's hundreds of people, not hundreds of vegetables and radishes, and I don't know whose turn it will be next.

If it weren't for the county magistrate's order, who of us would be willing to come to Wan County to deliver vegetables? We would rather the vegetables rot in the ground. "

So a little bit of money is not as important as the head on your neck. Who dares to go to Wan County to die? These days, nothing is as important as your own life.

"Uncle, do you know when people started dying in Wan County?" Lin Caisang asked.

"Hey, you have to think about this carefully."

When the uncle heard her words, he was stunned for a moment, and then after saying something, he began to think about it carefully.

"Oh, by the way, it was that day. Oops, that was two months ago. At first, I didn't know why people were dying, but then more people died, and that's when Ye Shou was alarmed. ah.

No, the entire Wan County is surrounded by soldiers. I heard that a big shot came from Jian'an City and lived in Wan County.

I don't know if he can suppress the monsters in the county. Everyone said that with so many people dying in Wan County at once, the county magistrate must have done something outrageous and offended the people in the mountains. of demons and ghosts. "

Hearing this, Sui Zi raised his eyes and glanced at Lin Caisang, his eyes also full of helplessness.

It would be good if one out of a hundred of the common people's hearsays is true.

Not to mention who the magistrate of Wan County is, even if he really does something that is harmful to nature, the person he offends is not the monsters, but God, right?

"Uncle, these words are all nonsense. Didn't you say that a big shot came from Jian'an City? If the county magistrate was really not a good person, then the big shot wouldn't have removed the county magistrate long ago. ?"

She said to the uncle.

What's more, she had already heard from her sister-in-law that the people in Wan County were poisoned, not sick.

"Tsk, the girl is right." The uncle nodded after listening to her words.

"Although it's not the fault of the magistrate, people always die, and it's very scary. Who knows who will die next?"

Just thinking about it makes me feel terrible. The poor people in Wan County can't get out no matter what, and they have to die inside. Thinking about it this way, they, the adobe people in the countryside, are lucky.

Although I have to deliver food to the county every day, at least I can go home, right?

After a while, the city gate of Wan County was opened, and several soldiers came out driving ox carts.

Lin Caisang saw that they exchanged the empty ox carts with those people, and then prepared to drive the ox carts filled with vegetables into the county town.

only.....

"etc."

Just as they jumped on the bullock cart and were about to drive the cart into the county town, Lin Caisang, who had been paying attention to them, spoke up.

Chapter 1095 Is there anything unusual?

Everyone's eyes fell on her. The soldier leader was about to ask a question when he heard an excited voice.

"Miss Lin, it's really you. I've been looking forward to you."

"The great prince?"

Lin Caisang turned around and saw the great prince coming on horseback. Behind him were two guards.

"How will you be here?"

The big shot that the uncle just mentioned was actually the Grand Prince. The incident in Wan County was so big that it actually alerted the Grand Prince to come over in person.

"My lord, do you know this girl?" The soldier leader looked at the lord and then at Lin Caisang.

The person he almost wanted to scold just now actually met the great prince, which really scared him to the point of breaking out in a cold sweat.

"What are you doing here, why haven't you sent the vegetables in?" The prince glanced at them, feeling that there was no need to answer the soldier leader's words, and ordered directly.

"Well."

The soldier leader was immediately embarrassed.

"Your Majesty, it was this girl who asked me to wait."

We had already left in the ox cart, so how could we stay here?

"Um?"

The eldest prince looked at Lin Caisang with doubtful eyes, puzzled.

"Miss Lin."

"I just think you should put the vegetables from these oxcarts on the oxcart you drove out of the city, and then drive the original oxcart back." Lin Caisang explained.

"Girl, isn't this unnecessary?" The soldier leader was even more puzzled.

Why do you do that? Couldn't they just exchange the oxcart? Anyway, they would still deliver the food tomorrow.

"Is it unnecessary?"

Lin Caisang repeated, then looked sideways at the prince.

"Moving the food."

The eldest prince did not think twice and gave orders directly to the leader of the soldiers.

"Yes, Your Majesty."

The soldier leader had no choice but to order his soldiers to do something he thought was unnecessary.

"Uncle, let me ask you something."

Lin Caisang saw them moving the vegetable racks, and the uncles were helping, so she pulled the uncle who had just been chatting with her.

"Excuse me, girl."

The uncle patted the mud on his hands and said.

"Uncle, it's been a long time since you delivered food to Wan County, right?" Lin Caisang asked.

"Yes, it's been almost a month and a half." The uncle replied.

At first, people were allowed to enter the city, but then there was really no other way, so the county seat was sealed off, and then they, the vegetable farmers, came to deliver vegetables every day.

"Then what's wrong with you guys?" Lin Caisang asked again.

"ah?"

When the uncle heard her words, his face suddenly darkened.

I thought to myself: What's wrong with this girl? Could it be that the face under the mask is a Yaksha face? How could you say such a thing? Isn't this a curse to them to die?

However, he also heard what she and the great prince said just now. These two people knew each other.

He didn't want to offend the big shot, so he had to endure it and not get angry.

"Girl, we're all fine."

"Really?"

Lin Caisang didn't believe it.

Although it is a good thing that everyone is fine, the poisoner cannot only poison Wan County. Now that the city has been closed down, if you want to poison, you can only do it to these food delivery people. The vegetable farmer was poisoned.

"Maybe I didn't ask clearly. Uncle, let me ask you again. Are you, your family, or the old cow you use to deliver food okay?"

Chapter 1096 Half and Half

She confirmed again.

"this....."

This time, the uncle stopped talking.

"The human is fine, but the cow... Lao Wang, Lao Wang, come here."

He turned his head and shouted to a companion who was moving the bamboo frame. The uncle also put down the bamboo frame and walked over.

"Lao Wang, this girl wants to ask about your cow. Didn't your cow die that day? For this reason, the county magistrate even compensated you for one, right?" The uncle asked Lao Wang.

"Yes Yes."

Lao Wang responded repeatedly.

"I don't know what's going on. It was fine when I fed it at night. But at dawn the next day, when I went to pick up the cow to deliver vegetables to the county town, the cow was out of breath.

It happened just the day before yesterday. My cow didn't have any disease at all. How come it died without any problems? "

"What about the cow?" Lin Caisang asked quickly.

"Well."

Lao Wang heard her question and looked at her awkwardly.

"To be honest with the girl, because my cow had entered Wan County, even if it died, our family would not dare to eat its meat, so we called a few people in the village to pull the cow to the ravine. "It's buried."

A good cow, even if it dies, is still good beef. Who wouldn't want to eat it?

But the cow had entered Wan County, who would dare to eat it? I'm afraid I might have contracted an illness.

Therefore, without saying a word, they directly took him to the mountains and buried him. Although they were greedy for petty gains, they couldn't risk their own lives in it.

"Huh, that's good."

Hearing what he said, Lin Caisang breathed a sigh of relief.

...

"Miss Lin, do you mean that this disease is contagious?" On the way to Wan County's government office, the eldest prince gave up his horse and got on Lin Caisang's carriage.

Through the conversation between Lin Caisang and the uncles just now, he seemed to understand something.

"Half and half."

Lin Caisang glanced at him and said.

"What do you mean?" The prince didn't understand.

"It's contagious, but... it's not a disease." Lin Caisang explained.

"Not a disease?"

The eldest prince was even more confused.

But soon, he figured it out, and the next moment, his black eyes narrowed dangerously.

"It's poison! Someone is poisoning people in Wan County?!"

No wonder he brought more than a dozen imperial doctors, but they couldn't find out how the disease was transmitted.

Because now many people are at home and don't go out, but accidents still happen. But unfortunately, we are a family and live under the same roof. Some people die, but some people live well, and there are no symptoms of any disease. No.

"Miss Lin, did you hear about what happened in Wan County and came here to detoxify them?" He looked at Lin Caisang and asked.

"Not this one."

Lin Caisang hesitated for a moment, but still answered honestly.

"no?"

The eldest prince raised his eyebrows in surprise.

"Then Miss Lin came here this time..."

"I won't hide it from the great prince. I received the news and heard that the eldest princess almost encountered someone from Qianhuan Continent, so I came here specifically to check on the eldest princess's condition."

Lin Caisang said honestly.

"As for the matter in Wan County, I just happened to pass by and came to take a look."

Of course, if it hadn't been for Wan County, she wouldn't have been able to come here, and then go to the eldest princess's mansion.

"What?!"

Hearing Lin Caisang's words, the prince jumped up and hit the top of the carriage before bouncing back and sitting down again.

Chapter 1097 This person...is not dead!

"Auntie encountered people from Qianhuan Continent? How could this happen? When did it happen?"

He actually didn't receive any news at all. It's no wonder that he has no news here and can't come in and out freely. His father must have thought that he could handle his aunt's affairs.

"I don't know the specifics. I'll check it out for them first, and then I'll set off to Jian'an City later." Lin Caisang said.

"Then let's go directly to the county government's morgue?" the prince suggested.

Because this kind of poison cannot be detected before a person dies, and after he knows he has been poisoned, he is already dead. Therefore, only in the morgue can you see what kind of poison it is.

"Um.

Lin Caisang responded.

...

County government office, morgue.

"Girl, because I really can't figure out how these people died, I'm afraid it was the plague. The dead people were collected by the county government and then taken to the wasteland west of the county government to be burned. They were taken there every day once."

The county magistrate had already come out. Seeing Lin Caisang being treated so politely by the prince, he explained sincerely.

"So, the people parked in the morgue are the dead people brought in today."

Lin Caisang had already put on a mask and homemade gloves, and walked into the morgue accompanied by the prince.

"Old Liu, come here."

The county magistrate waved to Old Liu, who was in charge of the morgue.

Lao Liu immediately came over, took Lin Caisang and the others to a corpse, and lifted off the white cloth.

"Your Majesty, girl, this is the latest delivery. The body is still soft."

Nowadays, when a family has a dead person, they don't dare to leave it at home. They want to take it to the morgue immediately. Therefore, it is normal for the body to be still soft.

Lin Caisang reached out and first lifted the collar of the corpse a little, revealing the blackened skin. She twisted her eyebrows and stretched out her hand towards Sui Ziyou.

"Ziyou, knife."

"good."

Sui Ziyou behind him responded and handed the dagger directly to Lin Caisang's hand.

Lin Caisang took the dagger, lifted up the clothes on the corpse's right hand, and was about to stab the arm, but was stunned.

She looked sideways at the corpse's chest in surprise and raised her eyebrows.

"Miss, what's wrong?" Sui Ziyou asked when he saw her like this.

"Go and prepare a bowl of cold boiled water and dissolve this medicine in the water." Lin Caisang took out a porcelain bottle from his small bag and handed it to Sui Ziyou. Sui Ziyou immediately took it and looked at Lao Liu.

"Girl, please come over here. There is water here." Lao Liu hurriedly took Sui Ziyou to his room.

"Miss Lin, what are you..."

The prince was very confused when he saw that she actually took out the medicine, but he was even more confused when he saw that she continued to make a bloody gash on the arm of the corpse and used a porcelain bottle to catch the blood that flowed out.

What's going on?

"This blood has not coagulated, and this wound..." An imperial doctor behind the great prince finally couldn't help it. He looked at the wound on the corpse's arm and frowned.

"My lord, this man...is not dead!"

"What?!"

Hearing the words of the imperial doctor, the great prince screamed and took a step back.

Not only him, but also everyone else stepped back and looked at the 'corpse' in front of them in disbelief.

I thought I was dead before I was admitted to the morgue, but I didn't expect that I was not dead? !

"Lin...Miss Lin, what is going on?" He looked at Lin Caisang and asked.

Chapter 1098: Burned to death?

"It should be caused by the poison in his body. In fact, the person is not dead, but his breathing and pulse have become weak, and even the rise and fall of his chest have become non-existent. This is why people think he is dead.

Lin Caisang replied.

She also just saw the slightest ups and downs in this man's chest, and then checked his pulse, only to realize that this man was not dead.

"Your Majesty, let all the imperial doctors come in and carefully check the pulses of all the corpses here. Maybe there are still some survivors," she ordered.

"well."

The great prince immediately responded and looked towards the imperial doctor behind him.

Unexpectedly, after hearing Lin Caisang's words, the imperial doctor had already gone outside to call for help. There was no need for anyone to give orders. Soon, several imperial doctors hurried in.

"Miss Lin, this one here is still breathing."

After a while, an imperial doctor called Lin Caisang, and then several more voices came one after another.

"Bring more bowls, dissolve these pills in the water, and feed them." Lin Caisang took out the porcelain bottle from the small bag and handed it to the prince's hand.

"good."

The eldest prince took the porcelain vase and immediately went to work.

...

"I didn't expect that something like this would happen."

After coming out of the morgue, not to mention everyone else, even the county magistrate couldn't help but shake his head and sigh heavily.

They originally thought that the corpses that were sent here were from family members, and they must be very dead, and the cause of death was the same as the previous ones, so they no longer asked the widowers to come for autopsies.

Who would have thought that these people are still alive and alive?

At the beginning, someone in the county died for no reason. Their family members must have been very sad, so they kept the body at home for a long time. People who have been poisoned for such a long time will naturally die.

But now, the entire Wan County is in panic, and whenever someone dies, the body is sent to the county government office.

But Wu Zuo only examined the corpses at the beginning. Since the causes of death of the people who were sent later were all the same and there were too many corpses, they were not examined one by one.

Who knew there would be such a flaw.

"Have you ever...burned a living person before?" Thinking of this, the magistrate's face turned pale, and he felt chills and goosebumps all over his body.

"These people are placed in the morgue. If they are not rescued, they will die in the evening. The county magistrate does not need to worry about this." Lin Caisang said.

However, I have to say that this poisoner is so vicious that he would actually come up with such a poison to harm people!

Where did this kind of poison come from that makes people think they are dead and will no longer help?

"call."

Letting out a breath, she looked at the prince, took out several porcelain bottles from her small satchel, and placed them on the table.

"Your Majesty, I will leave these medicines here for now. Whenever someone is sent here, let the imperial doctor check their pulse first. If the person is still alive, he will take this medicine directly. Although this medicine cannot completely detoxify, it can still provide some relief. "

"Your Majesty, my subordinates will immediately send orders to the people in the county to send them to the county government office for treatment if they find anyone poisoned?" The county magistrate looked at the porcelain bottles and asked the prince.

I saw that the eldest prince raised a hand and glanced at him coldly.

"It can't be like this."

"Why?"

The county magistrate doesn't understand. Isn't saving people the first priority?

Chapter 1099 But going to Jian'an City?

"Now we know that the strange phenomena in Wan County are not illness, but poisoning, so there will be poisoners. 07]" The prince thought for a while and replied.

"If we let the people in the county know directly, we already know that everyone is poisoned, not sick, then won't the person who poisoned it also know it? If you want to catch that person, you can't alert the snake.

Once the poisoner is given an opportunity, he may hide, and it will be even more difficult for us to find this person. "

"Yes, yes, what the prince said is absolutely true." The county magistrate nodded repeatedly after hearing his words.

"Not only that, the person who poisoned them is very likely to poison the people in Wan County after Miss Lin has left and the matter has calmed down. By then, it will be difficult to deal with it.

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but gasp.

If this poisoner is caught by him, he will definitely cut this person into pieces!

"But, how can we catch the poisoner?"

"Miss Lin, what do you suggest?" The eldest prince looked at Lin Caisang and asked.

"First wake up all the people who are alive today and ask them if they have done the same thing before. Whether it is food, clothing, shelter, or housing, you have to ask them clearly. It is very likely that they have found the person who poisoned them. The essential."

Lin Caisang said.

"Secondly, since the target of the poisoner is Wan County, he must have a grudge against Wan County to commit such a vicious attack. Or maybe he has no grudge against anyone and is just acting on a whim, but because of a whim People who kill people usually have some abnormal behaviors.

Perhaps there is a person who is at odds with the neighbors, or perhaps is extremely friendly to the neighbors, but is always secretly criticized by the neighbors. In short, if you search in these areas, it is possible to find the poisoner.

Third, I will take a look at the poison first and give you an answer after three days. "

"Three days?"

The county magistrate screamed when he heard Lin Caisang's words.

"Miss Lin, the situation in Anhui County is very critical at this time. Can you... hurry up?"

He felt that he didn't want to wait a day longer. The lives of the entire county were weighing on his shoulders.

"this....."

Lin Caisang glanced sideways and looked at the great prince.

"County Magistrate Chen, please go out first."

Seeing this, the eldest prince waved his hand towards the county magistrate, beckoning him to go down first.

"Yes, I am resigning." The county magistrate withdrew, and the other imperial doctors also went out.

"Miss Lin, are you going to Jian'an City?" Seeing that everyone had left, the eldest prince asked Lin Caisang.

After all, Lin Caisang had said before that she came to Wan County just by the way, and her real purpose was his aunt. To be honest, he was very anxious when he heard that his aunt was being targeted by people from Qianhuan Continent.

"Um."

Lin Caisang did not deny it and nodded.

"After Miss Lin goes to Jian'an City, can you send a message to my father, saying that everything is safe in Wan County?" the eldest prince said again.

"Okay, I understand." Lin Caisang responded.

She tilted her beautiful eyes and looked at the prince seriously, with the corners of her lips slightly raised.

"Your Majesty, everyone was here just now. There are some things I didn't say. I'm afraid what happened in Anhui County this time is not as simple as seeking revenge."

"What does Miss Lin mean by this?" The eldest prince blinked, not understanding what she meant.

"Don't you think that if something goes wrong in just one county, the emperor will not send the prince here no matter what happens?" Lin Caisang asked him in return.

Chapter 1100 The exclusive mark of the royal family

Not to mention others, she was quite shocked when she saw the eldest prince outside the county town just now.

If there was a plague in Wan County, it would be even less likely that the emperor would send the eldest prince here. It was not like she didn't know that the eldest prince was the emperor's favorite son.

"Then what do you mean..."

The eldest prince's eyes narrowed slightly, and there was a slight glimmer of danger.

"If I'm not mistaken, something happened to the eldest princess as soon as the eldest prince arrived in Anhui County, right? And before, the people around the eldest prince were responsible for the eldest princess's safety, right? Hmm."

"this....."

The prince's face suddenly turned cold.

"What Miss Lin means is that they are interested in my aunt, but because my people have been protecting my aunt, leaving them unable to do anything, they created this disaster in Wan County?"

If that's the case, then these people should all be killed and no one should be left alive!

"Perhaps, it's more than that. Lin Caisang said bluntly.

"But I don't know and can't guess about other things. I can only connect the doubts in my heart together and come to the conclusion just now."

No matter how much more, she didn't know. She could only wait for those people to attack again, so that she could know what they wanted to do and how to respond.

"I'm just reminding the eldest prince to be careful every day in Wan County."

With that said, she took out a porcelain bottle from her small bag and handed it to the great prince.

"This is a bottle of 'Fearless'. Keep it with you, or put half of it on the bodyguard beside you. If you feel any discomfort, take one pill. I will go out for three days and then come back."

"good."

The eldest prince took the porcelain vase and responded.

...

The carriage has arrived outside Wan County, and the eldest prince came out to see it off.

"Miss Lin, there is something I don't know whether to ask or not."

The eldest prince looked at Lin Caisang's carriage, and then at Lin Caisang himself, with a somewhat tangled expression.

"What's the matter?" Lin Caisang asked him.

"Miss Lin, where did your carriage come from?" the great prince asked.

"Um?"

Lin Caisang glanced sideways and glanced at his carriage.

This carriage is the carriage of his Mo Liange Prince Mo Mansion, but she has dismantled the Peugeot of Prince Mo Mansion. Is there anything wrong?

Or maybe the great prince has sharp eyes and can see who has been in this carriage before?

However, it seems that the fiery eyes and golden eyes don't have this ability, right?

"Is there something wrong with this carriage? I've been to Shaohua City before, and the carriage belongs to Shaohua City." She turned around, looked at the great prince, and asked.

"That's it."

After listening to her words, the great prince suddenly realized.

"You don't know something, but everything used by the royal families of various countries, even if it is an ordinary piece of cloth or a piece of ordinary wood, will be printed with the exclusive mark of the royal family, so..."

He looked toward the carriage.

"Miss Lin, among the fabrics used on your carriage, there are silk threads specially used by the Wei Kingdom royal family, which cannot be copied by other countries."

Lin Caisang: "!!!"

If the eldest prince hadn't told her, she would definitely drive this carriage to Jian'an City to show off!

If she really drove this carriage to Jian'an City, would the guards of Jian'an City think that she was a royal family member from Weiguó? By then, her whole body and mouth were really at a loss for words.

"I know, I will change to a carriage." She nodded, indicating that she understood.
