Chapter 1111 Leave no one behind

After hearing her words, the eldest princess seriously thought about Lin Caisang's suggestion.

"What Ms. Lin said is absolutely true. Perhaps I should avoid his influence for the time being."

"Um."

Lin Caisang just responded lightly.

As long as the eldest princess is willing to leave the princess mansion temporarily, as for the rest, she will naturally not interfere with it.

"If the eldest princess intends to leave the princess's mansion temporarily, then I will prescribe some more medicines for the eldest princess to take with her for emergencies. In addition, the eldest princess also knows where my home is. If there is an emergency, I can send someone here. Find."

she said.

Hearing this, the eldest princess was startled. She raised her eyes and looked at Aunt Bai, asking with her eyes.

Could it be that this girl has already guessed something?

Then why is she still so calm? Is it because she is not the mother she expected, and she doesn't feel there is anything to recognize?

If this is the case, she is really a failure as a human being.

Aunt Bai shook her head hurriedly, saying that she had never said anything that should not have been said, and Lin Caisang did not ask her any questions.

Seeing this, the eldest princess breathed a sigh of relief.

As long as Sangsang doesn't know the truth, it's fine. She probably thought she sent someone to check her out, so she said that.

"In that case, thank you very much, Miss Lin."

Lin Caisang smiled lightly and said nothing more.

...

At night, after meeting Old Man Zeng and seeing that the eldest princess was fine, Lin Caisang took Sui Ziyou and left the eldest princess's mansion for Wan County.

After all, she had made an appointment to go back in three days, so it couldn't be too late. She couldn't worry about things over there.

Here, Aunt Bai saw people leaving and came to the eldest princess.

"Princess, where are we going?" she asked in a lowered voice.

Hearing this, the eldest princess waved to her, motioned for her to come over and whispered a few words in her ear.

After hearing her words, Aunt Bai looked up at her in surprise, her eyes full of disbelief, "Princess, are you...sure? Do you really want to go there?"

"Sooner or later, I have to go, so let's take this opportunity to go." The eldest princess thought for a while and said.

"That....."

Aunt Bai paused again.

"Princess, do you need to take away all the hidden guards?"

The hidden guards are the secret guards who belong exclusively to the eldest princess's palace. Even the emperor and the others don't know about them. They are people trained by these elder princesses themselves.

"Where is the emperor? Why don't you say something?" she asked.

"Take them all away, leaving no one behind. After we leave, we can send someone to report to the emperor. This time, the more hidden the better, except for you and me, we are not allowed to tell anyone in advance where we are going." place."

The eldest princess explained.

"Yes, princess." Aunt Bai responded.

...

Outside Wan County.

As soon as Lin Caisang and Sui Ziyu arrived at the city gate, they were welcomed in by the soldiers guarding the city gate.

There were many corpses brought to the county government office, but most of them were still breathing, so they were saved by the imperial doctor after taking medicine.

But the poison in the body is still unresolved.

More and more people are gathering in the county government office, and even eating is a big problem.

Seeing Lin Caisang coming back, the prince and the county magistrate hurriedly greeted her, "Miss Lin, you are finally back."

"What's wrong? What happened?"

Lin Caisang saw that both of their expressions were not very good and asked aloud.

"No, it's because all the medicine you left behind has been used up." The great prince explained.

Chapter 1112 How to know

"All used up?"

After hearing his words, Lin Caisang stopped and looked at the prince in surprise.

Just in case, the medicine she left behind was given in excess. According to her estimation, it would last for at least five days, right? Are there so many people sent in from the county government?

"Yes, Miss Lin, all the medicine you left has been used up. There is not a single pill left. There are still a few people who have not taken the medicine, but they still have breath." The county magistrate said.

Hearing this, Lin Caisang immediately took out another bottle of medicine and handed it to the county magistrate.

"Lord County Magistrate, please go rescue people first."

"Okay, okay. ~"°•.~~.°~""

The county magistrate hurriedly responded, took the medicine, saluted the prince, and left.

"My lord, tell me what's going on now."

After the county magistrate left, Lin Caisang looked at the prince and asked him.

"Now, according to the girl's previous method, we have locked a dozen targets in the county. However, because we dare not alert the enemy, we can only stand still and order the soldiers to keep an eye on them at all times."

The great prince said.

"Your Majesty, I'm not asking about this. I'm asking about what's going on in the county government. Why is the medicine I left behind not enough?" Lin Caisang raised her hand to stop him and asked.

She left so much medicine, would it not be enough?

Unless more poisoned people than before poured into the county government office in the past three days, how could it not be enough?

"You asked this."

When this matter was mentioned, the eldest prince also frowned.

"I don't know what's going on. Since you left, more and more people have been poisoned in Wan County. Every day, more than a dozen or even dozens of corpses are sent over, some of which have expired.

But most of them are still breathing and can be revived, so more and more medicines are used. Miss Lin, I have used up the 'Fearless' you gave me before. "

He scratched his head a little sheepishly and said.

After all, this 'fearlessness' is the medicine Lin Caisang left for him to save his life. If it runs out, he will not be able to save himself if something happens to him.

However, in the face of so many people trying to save but unable to save them, how could he be so selfish and keep the medicine by his side? Naturally, one can be saved.

"Is it more than any day before?" Lin Caisang asked.

"What?"

The eldest prince could not understand her words for a moment and was stunned for a moment.

But soon, he came back to the meaning of Lin Caisang's words. She asked about the 'corpse' that had been sent to the county government in recent days, and nodded quickly.

"Yes, more than any other day. There have not been so many people poisoned before, and it is very strange. No animals have been found poisoned before, but in the past three days, many animals in the city have been poisoned. It's poisonous."

he said.

Because animals are not as important as human lives, no one cares about them.

However, this phenomenon is very strange, as if the person who poisoned them already knew that they had guessed that those people were poisoned and not suffering from some plague.

However, although the news of Lin Caisang's arrival was not sealed, she left the county government office not long after she stayed there.

Except for the people in the county government office and the imperial doctor he brought, no one knew that the body they found was still alive, and the people they rescued had been kept in the county government office and had not left.

How did the poisoner know?

Chapter 1113 Who asked you to eat?

"Then what happened to those people you suspect?" Lin Caisang asked.

"No."

The great prince shook his head.

"However, we cannot deny the possibility that they did not commit the crime. After all, the soldiers could only keep an eye on them secretly. If they wanted to escape from the soldiers, it was possible."

Especially if they already know that someone is watching them, they will be more likely to continue to attack the people of Wan County secretly.

"My lord, please first order people to secretly bring those people to the county government office. If they have really been exposed to poison, I will have a way to make them reveal their true colors."

Lin Caisang said. (audience)

"good."

The eldest prince responded and ordered the people around him to do it.

...

Soon, a dozen people were brought into the county government office, two of them were women.

But it has to be said that they all look quite wretched. Even when they were brought to the county government office, their eyes were looking randomly to the side, as if they were roe-headed and rat-like.

"Sister-in-law, these people are not good people at first glance. Are you sure you can find the poisoner among so many people?" Sui Ziyu looked at them and lowered his voice in Lin Caisang's ear. muttered.

She saw that none of these people were good people anyway, and they should all be arrested and put in prison.

"Who said the person who poisoned must be among them?" Lin Caisang glanced sideways and glanced at Sui Ziyu with a smile.

The Grand Prince only said that these people are more suspicious. According to the thinking of the Grand Prince and the County Magistrate, the people arrested must be heinous people, but there is no way to bring them to justice.

Maybe among them, there is really no one who poisoned them.

"ah?"

Sui Zi was stunned when he heard her words.

"Then why did you ask the eldest prince to bring them all? So many people were brought to the county government office. No matter how hidden it is, the news will leak out, right?"

Wouldn't doing this make the poisoner aware?

What if that person knows someone is looking for him and hides himself? How long do they have to stay here?

"Isn't it bad if the news leaks?"

Lin Caisang smiled and asked her back.

"Okay?" Sui Ziyou asked her back.

How could she feel that she couldn't figure out what her sister-in-law was thinking at all? Just like her cousin, she had too many ideas in her mind that no one could figure out.

"Don't worry about it for now."

Lin Caisang picked up a white fox from the golden bead space and put it in his arms.

Then, he took out the bottle of poisonous blood that he had carried with him before, opened the lid and placed it on the stone table in the backyard. He also put the white fox on the stone table to let it smell the poisonous smell.

next moment.....

There was a 'pop' sound.

A slap was slapped directly on Bai Hu's flexible forehead.

The white fox shook his head a few times and looked at Lin Caisang with innocent eyes, as if asking: Master, what are you doing? Isn't this food for me?

"I let you smell it, but who let you eat it?"

Lin Caisang raised his hand angrily and almost slapped the white fox on the head again.

"That's poison. Do you think it's a great tonic? I'll poison you to death. I'll never see you or your wife again! Smell it for me and remember it."

The little white fox seemed to be able to understand Lin Caisang's words. He really didn't dare to eat it and just sniffed it hard on the mouth of the porcelain bottle.

Chapter 1114 I've never killed anyone before

Then he jumped back into Lin Caisang's arms and lay there motionless.

More than a dozen people saw Lin Caisang wearing a mask and saw her holding a white fox in her arms, walking towards them. They all looked at her with horror on their faces and wanted to retreat, but behind them, there was someone. A whole column of soldiers blocked them.

"Auntie, you... what do you want? We are all good people." One of the men looked at Lin Caisang with trembling legs and said with trembling lips.

"Don't be afraid, I just want to confirm something about you, and I will let you go home immediately." Lin Caisang chuckled and replied to him.

However, no one could see her smiling face while she was wearing a mask.

Soon, Lin Caisang squatted down and put the white fox on the ground. All of a sudden, the white fox rushed out, sniffing left and right at the feet of more than a dozen people. Everyone screamed in fright. His feet moved wildly, trying to escape.

The great prince winked at the soldiers.

"Where are we going? Stand still!" The soldiers stepped forward and fixed more than a dozen people so that they could not move.

After a while, the white fox was taken back by Lin Caisang.

She raised her hand and pointed at the two men among them, "You, and you, stay here, the others can go, the great prince, give them one tael of silver every day to calm their fears.

After she finished speaking to them, she looked at the great prince.

"Go and do it."

The eldest prince glanced sideways at the county magistrate and ordered.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Upon hearing this, the county magistrate asked the master to do it.

"Sir, I...why should I stay? I have never done any bad things." The two men were left behind, their eyes rolling around.

After all, they are all hooligans, and they have done a lot of bad things outside. If they were really brought up, it would be enough for them to chop off their heads several times.

But fortunately, they were able to use money and did things rigorously, so they didn't come looking for them.

But now, are the things they did before exposed? Otherwise, why leave them here alone? Or, have they broken any laws recently?

However, the recent deaths in Wan County have made people panic, and they dare not go out. Who dares to do bad things again?

"Yes, yes, we have never done anything. Sir, we are wronged." The other person heard the previous person's words and quickly shouted that he was wronged. Anyway, he has really not done anything recently.

"I know you haven't done anything, but I still want to ask you, where did the poison on your bodies that is exactly the same as those of the deceased come from? Is it possible that this poison killed so many people in Wan County? People, are they all related to you?"

Lin Caisang's eyes sharpened and he asked.

A 'plop' sound.

As soon as Lin Caisang finished speaking, the two men knelt down on the ground without being frightened.

"It's an injustice, my aunt, I have never killed anyone. Although I have done many bad things, I really have never killed anyone. Sir, it is a small injustice. You can't let her wrong us."

After one of them asked Lin to pick mulberry trees, he looked at the county magistrate again and complained.

At this time, even if they have really killed someone before, they cannot admit it. Otherwise, today next year will be their death anniversary. Who would be so stupid?

The magistrate looked at the man, then at Lin Caisang, without daring to say a word.

Chapter 1115 Is that the person?

He would not plead for these ruffians. He knew exactly what bad things they had done.

But unfortunately, none of the victims were willing to come forward as plaintiffs and sue them. As a county magistrate, he had no choice.

"God knows what you have done." He shook his sleeves and said angrily.

"What nonsense are you talking to them about? Come, search their bodies, and then search their homes." The great prince directly ordered.

The guard behind him heard his order and immediately left with his men. The soldiers behind the two men also directly picked them up and began to search their bodies.

...

More than half an hour passed.

The people who searched their homes had returned, but found nothing and returned empty-handed.

Instead, poison was found on the two of them. Lin Caisang took a look and found that the poison was exactly the same as those who had been poisoned before.

"It seems that it was these two people who poisoned the people of Wan County."

The county magistrate said to the eldest prince and Lin Caisang, with that look, it was already confirmed that this incident was caused by these two people.

"These two people are simply abominable. They usually just dominate Wan County, but they are so heartless and murder so many people's lives. They deserve to die... No, killing them a hundred times is not enough to satisfy their hatred!"

"Your Excellency, the County Magistrate, you think this case can be closed?"

Lin Caisang raised his eyebrows, glanced at the county magistrate, and then looked at the prince.

"What do you think, the great prince?"

"this....."

The eldest prince hesitated for a moment.

"The poison was found from the bodies of two people. Presumably, they were the two who poisoned the people of Wan County, right?"

"It's just that I feel strange that this poison is so terrible. How could these two people put the poison on their bodies like this? Wouldn't they hide it in a hidden place and only go to get some when it is needed?"

This is also the biggest doubt in his heart.

After harming so many people, don't you feel guilty at all? He actually hid the poison on his body so carelessly, and was found directly at the county government office.

Are they stupid?

If he was really stupid, how could he kill so many people without being noticed?

This was really strange to him.

And this was exactly what Lin Caisang was confused about. No matter how stupid those two people were, they should have known to be more careful, right? Putting poison on them so carelessly?

"Detain those two people first, and then see if anyone is poisoned," she said.

"good."

The Grand Prince and the County Magistrate responded at the same time.

...

"Sister-in-law, do you really think that is that person?"

Another day passed, and no more corpses were received from the county government, and Wan County seemed to have returned to peace.

Everyone in the county government office could see the excitement on their faces, and they were overjoyed to have caught the poisoner. However, there was no news of anyone being poisoned again in the county government office, which made them even more sure. Yes, the two of them were the ones who poisoned me.

"Do I think it's important?" Lin Caisang asked her.

"Of course it's important, very important." Sui Ziyou nodded vigorously and said.

"What do you think?" Lin Caisang asked her opinion.

"I think... those two people don't look like they are doing big things at first sight. Although killing people is not a good thing, people like them might have to hide at home for several months without leaving the house to kill someone, let alone killing someone. Where are so many people?"

Chapter 1116 No Exceptions

Sui Ziyou put forward his own ideas.

Killing also requires courage, okay? They can't say those two people were poisoners, they are the poisoners, right?

"They have already confessed." Lin Caisang said calmly.

"What's the use of confessing?" Sui Ziyou's eyes widened.

"How many people can withstand the punishment in the prison? People like that can't be frightened into confessing. It doesn't matter whether they were poisoned or not, as long as they don't suffer."

Seriously, how many people can really endure severe punishment?

"Yeah?"

Hearing this, Lin Caisang's red lips curled up slightly, and she finally stood up from the stone bench.

"Sister-in-law, where are you going? Are you going to investigate the poisoner?"

Lin Caisang raised his head, looked at the sky, and squinted at Sui Ziyou.

"The weather is perfect today. We have nothing to do in the county government office. Why not go shopping on the streets? Now everyone thinks that the poisoner has been caught and all the trading shops are open."

"ah?"

Sui Ziyou opened his mouth wide and looked at Lin Caisang in disbelief.

shop? !

Even if those two people were really the poisoners, now is not the time for them to go shopping. After all, there are still so many people waiting for the antidote, and my sister-in-law has not even developed an antidote.

...

The cold wind blew, and Lin Caisang and Sui Ziyou arrived at a house, led by a county government agent.

"Brother Jin, is this the home of one of the poisoners?" Lin Caisang looked at Agent Jin and asked.

"Yes, Miss Lin."

Captain Jin quickly nodded and opened the courtyard door so that Lin Caisang could enter easily.

When he came out of the county government office, he was only sent by the county magistrate to act as a guide for Lin Caisang, so that she could go to the street to buy some things.

Who would have thought that Lin Caisang and the two had just left the county government, and after passing only one street, their expressions changed and they were directly ordered to take them to the homes of the two poisoners.

"Miss Lin, the people brought by the prince have searched here before and found nothing." He reminded.

Could it be that Lin Caisang felt that there was something missing? It shouldn't be, those are the people around the great prince. How could there be anything missing when searching for an ordinary house?

Lin Caisang just glanced at him and released the white fox, letting it wander around the house on its own.

"Captain Jin, there are some questions in my mind that I don't understand. I wonder if you can help me explain them?" She came to Agent Jin and asked him.

"Miss Lin, you're too polite. If you know anything, you will tell me everything." Detective Jin said immediately.

Even the eldest prince respected this little girl. He still had some sense, how could he offend Lin Caisang?

"Is such that."

Lin Caisang pursed her lower lip and then spoke.

"Generally, when corpses are transported to the county morgue, the autopsy is done by a widower. Why is there an exception in Wan County?"

she asked.

"No exceptions?"

Agent Jin blinked, feeling that Lin Caisang's question was very strange.

"Then so many corpses were transported to the county government before, why didn't we see Wu Zuo come to do the autopsy?" Lin Caisang asked immediately.

"Miss Lin, you misunderstood."

After hearing her words, Agent Jin quickly shook his head.

"At the beginning, only a few people, or even one person, were poisoned every day, so Zeng Wuzuo still had time to conduct an autopsy, but gradually, more and more people were poisoned.

Chapter 1117. Will there be a scapegoat?

However, there was only one Zeng Zuo in the county government office, so it was inevitable that he was unable to cope with the situation. The county magistrate sympathized with Zeng Zuo and ordered him to only select a few people from among all the corpses to come out for autopsy every day.

Of course, this is also because the corpses that were delivered all died in the same way. Miss Lin, this is not considered a violation of the county magistrate... right? "

He looked at Lin Caisang carefully and asked.

"You mean, before I came, Zeng Wu had been conducting autopsies on the bodies that were sent to the county government, and he never slacked off for a day?" Lin Caisang raised an eyebrow.

Put that way, it does make some sense.

"Yes, Miss Lin."

Agent Jin nodded and had no objection to Lin Caisang's words.

"Originally, the great prince wanted to let the imperial doctors he brought take over, but the imperial doctors could only treat living people and had no experience in doing autopsies. Therefore, this matter has been done by Zeng Wuzuo. Zeng Wuzuo also He is a rare good person.

At that time, he didn't even know that these people died of poisoning. He was not afraid of the plague and went to the morgue every day... Uh, Miss Lin, what do you mean by this? Could it be that you want to say that Zeng Wuzuo..."

"Um?"

Hearing his doubtful words, Lin Caisang narrowed her eyes and glanced at him as a warning.

"Captain Jin, I hope that no one will know about what happened today except you and my sister. Do you understand what I mean?"

"Yes, yes, I understand." Detective Jin nodded quickly.

In fact, he was so scared that he broke into a cold sweat just thinking about that possibility.

He felt strange just now. This matter has come to an end. Why is this Miss Lin still coming here?

When she asked him about the autopsy, he didn't think much about it, but when he thought about it carefully later, he was able to figure out some smells.

After Lin Caisang arrived, so many of the 'bodies' that were sent to the county government were found alive. If Zeng Zuo had been conducting autopsies every day, it was impossible that he had not encountered any of them, right?

Is it really such a coincidence?

The answer is of course impossible, so there is only one possibility. Zeng Wuzuo knew clearly that those people were not dead, but he concealed it and watched helplessly as those people were treated as dead and died slowly.

Think about it, this is more terrifying than killing someone directly with a knife.

This Zeng Wuzuo... Could it be that the person who poisoned him was really Zeng Wuzuo?

"Miss Lin, if you have anything to do, just ask me to do it. I guarantee that other than me, I won't say a word more, even to the county magistrate."

He made a silent gesture.

"good."

Lin Caisang nodded with satisfaction.

"Agent Jin, go and check for me where Zeng Zuozuo was when he brought those dozen suspects into the county government office."

she ordered.

The two people who had poison hidden on their bodies were worthy of suspicion, but she had given the prince so much medicine before, but it was not enough to use them all within three days, which made her even more suspicious.

If he had not known of her existence in advance and deliberately poisoned more people in order to prevent her from having any medicine, it would not have been possible that more people would have been sent to the county government office in those three days than at any other time. Once said.

However, she had to admire the courage of this poisoner. Knowing that they all knew that he was poisoning and not sick, he still dared to risk poisoning!

Perhaps, he was thinking that there would be a scapegoat soon?

Chapter 1118 Find out clearly

It's a pity that he thinks of others too simply and thinks too much of himself!

"Yes." Captain Jin quickly nodded.

After a while, the white fox returned to Lin Caisang's arms.

As she expected, there was no smell of poison in this house, which made her even more sure that the poisoner was not the two people who were arrested.

"Miss Lin, you are really good at predicting things." Agent Jin was beside her and couldn't help but praise.

These guys are still in excitement. They have already caught the murderer. Where can they find other people?

It can be seen from this that this poisoner is really vicious. For his own sake, he actually planted such a thing on others. However, for a person like him who has killed countless people, planting dirt on others is just one more person killed. , you've long been used to it, right?

"You guys have been deceived." Lin Caisang replied calmly.

After that, the three of them did not go to another person's house because the answer was already very clear. Even if they went again, they would not be able to find out anything.

Lin Caisang and Sui Ziyou walked around the street for a long time and bought some things.

Since I said I was going shopping, I couldn't come back empty-handed. If I didn't buy something, wouldn't it arouse people's suspicion?

"Captain Jin, send all these medicines to me, hurry up." Lin Caisang patted the things on the carriage and told Captor Jin pointedly.

Captain Jin immediately understood what she meant and nodded.

"Don't worry, Miss Lin. These medicinal materials are the most important. I will send them over immediately. Come on, my brothers will come over and help us move them together."

With that said, he called the guards at the yamen and came over to move things together.

After a while.

After the last trip of moving the medicinal materials, Captain Jin quickly thanked everyone.

"Thank you all, I'll treat you all to tea another day."

"Lao Jin, stop bragging. Why are you drinking tea? How can brothers let you pay for it out of your own pocket? This is what everyone should do." One of them said to Agent Jin with a smile. , waved his hand.

"Thanks then."

Agent Jin clasped his fists at them and said something.

Wiping the sweat from his forehead, he walked into the temporary pharmacy where Lin Caisang was.

"Miss Lin, I've already found out everything."

"How to say?"

Lin Caisang raised his head from a pile of medicinal materials and asked.

"Because there was a case of poisoning and harming people in our county, the county government office was short of manpower, so the gatekeepers worked in two shifts. The ones who helped me move things just now were the guards around the prince that day. When I came, there were people guarding the gate of the county government office."

Captain Jin quickly spouted a lot of nonsense, and after taking a breath, he spoke again.

"According to what they said, they actually met Zeng Wuzuo that day, and it happened to be when the dozen or so people were being brought.

Originally, they would not remember such a trivial matter. After all, Zeng Wuzuo was from the county government, and it was normal for him to walk in and out. But that day, the guards around the prince had diarrhea for some unknown reason.

After bringing the people to the yamen gate, they couldn't hold it in any longer, so they handed over the dozen or so people to Zeng Zuozuo who happened to be passing by. "

"I didn't expect that Zeng Zuozuo is such a capable person. He can fill the gap wherever there is a shortage of people in the county government." Lin Caisang's lips curled up slightly and she laughed sarcastically.

Chapter 1119 It's time to take action

"Where is that?"

Detective Jin didn't take Lin Caisang's words seriously.

"Miss Lin, you are wrong about that. That Zeng Wuzuo was not so diligent in the past. Even if a stool fell over at his feet, he would not help him.

It was this time that something like this happened in Wan County. Zeng Wuzuo ignored his own safety and did autopsies in the morgue every day. Only then did everyone change their minds about him. This must be put aside until now..."

But who would have thought that this Zeng Zuo was not a discovery of conscience at all, but...

"Let's not talk about this, Miss Lin. I found out that what happened that day was taken over by Zeng Wuzuo from the guard. Originally, the guard was going to hand over the matter to the guard guarding the door.

After all, among the guards guarding the door, several of them came from Jian'an City with that guard, and they were all familiar with each other. "

"So, he knew about it early on, so the people waiting for the prince fell into his hands?" Lin Caisang said.

And why the guard had diarrhea for no reason? This must be Zeng Zuo's work, right?

Otherwise, how could such a coincidence happen?

"Captain Jin, please go outside and ask around. Who did Zeng Wuzuo have a grudge against before?"

She gave the order, then stood up from the chair, and headed out the door with Agent Jin.

"Sister-in-law, where are you going?" Sui Ziyu hurriedly followed.

As soon as her sister-in-law investigated the case, she could forget everything, even her, a living person, was forgotten.

"Go find the great prince."

Lin Caisang stopped and turned to look at Sui Ziyou.

"Ziyou, come here."

She hooked her hand towards Sui Ziyou, and Sui Ziyou immediately came over and heard her whisper a few words in his ear.

"Okay, I'll do it right away." Sui Ziyou nodded and hurried away.

"Agent Jin, do you have any good brothers in the county government?" Lin Caisang asked Agent Jin who had not yet left.

"Yes, there is, but..."

Captain Jin nodded quickly, but he still looked hesitant.

"Zeng Zuozuo is always good at deceiving people's hearts. Most of the brothers who are good friends with me are also good friends with him. If Miss Lin wants to send them to do something, I think it's better not to do it.

Isn't the girl familiar with the prince? It would be better to ask someone close to the prince to take care of it. "

Hearing this, Lin Caisang shook his head.

"What I'm looking for is someone who is familiar with Zeng Wuzuo, preferably someone who can talk to Zeng Wuzuo about everything."

"Miss Lin, what do you mean?" Agent Jin quickly blinked, confused.

"Now that the suspects have been identified, it's time to deal with him. If we keep him, he won't take action again in the near future." Lin Caisang said.

"I see."

Agent Jin suddenly understood.

"If you say that, girl, there really is a person. Girl, do you remember Old Chen who was guarding the morgue? On weekdays, Old Chen and Zeng Wuzuo could talk about everything, and they could even drink a few sips. If he drank too much, Once I get it, I can talk to Zeng Wuzuo endlessly."

"Old Chen?"

Lin Caisang recalled it.

That old Chen seemed to be an honest man at first glance, the most able to be bribed, and he also liked to drink. It is estimated that a few ounces of wine would be enough to get rid of what was in his heart.

She took out two taels of broken silver from her small satchel, then took out a wine bottle, and handed them all to Agent Jin.

Chapter 1120 It's true, it's true!

"I brewed this bottle of wine myself. It's hard to buy for a lot of money. After you go outside to check out Zeng Wuzuo, go and have a sip with Lao Chen. When you go outside to check up on Zeng Wuzuo, there's no need to avoid talking about Zeng Wuzuo.

she said.

"Okay, little one, let's go."

Captain Jin responded, took the silver and wine and left.

...

In the evening, at the gate of the county government office.

A young woman hurried over, but was stopped by the guard guarding the door.

"No trespassing in the important county government area!"

"I'm looking for Mr. Zeng. I'm his wife." The woman looked anxiously inside the county office and said to the guard.

"Zeng Wuzuo?"

The guard looked at the woman and frowned.

"Then go in."

With that said, he signaled to his companions to let people enter the county government office.

The woman didn't think about why she was let into the county government office so easily. When she saw that she could get in, she hurried inside.

"Go and notify Agent Jin that they are here."

After the woman entered, one of them said to the other.

"Okay, you stay here and I'll notify you right away. x9°"~""°9x"

With that said, the guard followed the woman to another place to inform Agent Jin, because they knew that Agent Jin was working for Miss Lin and could not be neglected.

...

"What did you say?!"

Seeing the anxiety on his woman's face, when Zeng Wuzuo heard her words, his heart had already hit rock bottom.

He had seen Agent Jin and Lin Caisang approaching before, and brought a jug of good wine to Lao Chen to drink for a long time. Seeing that it was almost dark, Agent Jin left.

He was just about to ask Lao Chen what Agent Jin had asked him, when his woman came to his door.

"Are you sure you read it correctly? It's really the county police officers who went to our neighborhood to inquire about me?" He confirmed again.

"Really, it's true!"

The woman nodded quickly, fearing that her husband would not believe it, so she quickly added a few words.

"Although I couldn't recognize all the people in the county government office, he was wearing clothes from the county government office. How could I not recognize him? When I heard that he was asking about us from the neighbors, I was so scared that my legs went weak. , quickly close the door.

Later, when I thought about it, it felt wrong, so I came over quickly to tell you, Sir, did someone know what we were doing? "

She wanted her family to think about it for a long time before she felt uneasy and came to the county office to tell her man. Didn't this mean that he had been arrested? Why did someone still come to ask about her husband's father-in-law?

"If it really doesn't work, let's run away? It's still too late to escape now, but if it's later, it will really be too late." The more she thought about it, the more frightened she became, and she hurriedly suggested.

"What are you talking about? I'm a county government official, and I get a monthly salary after all." Zeng Wuzuo glanced at his woman.

Do you want him to give up such a good job, give up a home where he can live, and escape to wander outside? He would never do such a thing.

He would rather die here than do something that is beneath his status.

What's more, things haven't gotten out of hand yet!

"You go back first and leave the things here to me. Don't worry, nothing will happen." He comforted the woman.

Now, what is certain is that the person who went to inquire about him near his home was undoubtedly Agent Jin.

But now, Agent Jin is following Lin Caisang. Before, he heard the county magistrate order Agent Jin to accompany Lin Caisang to go shopping. He thought that the little girl was just in vain.
