

Star of Space 1641

Chapter 1641 Too lazy to tell you!

After all, these two people were here to help their county. She had to wait for these two people and not make them angry, then pat her butt and leave.

Then who should she cry to then?

"No, you go and do your work."

Lin Caisang glanced at the woman and said.

She finally found something to do, how could she just leave it to others?

And looking at the woman's eyes, you can tell that she is like one of those rich ladies who can't lift their shoulders, lift their hands, and don't touch the beauty of the moon.

But God knows, she just doesn't have the talent for cooking.

But if she is at home alone, she can still make food, although the taste will definitely be average.

It's just that her brother Mo Lian doesn't want her to cook. What can she do? She is also very helpless.

"This...or else..."

"Get out, she'll burn."

The woman still wanted to speak, but was interrupted by Sui Zimo.

"Well."

All the unfinished words of the woman were swallowed up in Sui Zimo's cold eyes.

Glancing at Lin Caisang under the stove again, she could only turn around, take out the breakfast she had prepared, and send it to the main room for her family to eat.

"Have you sent it to those two distinguished guests?"

In the main room, the man was already sitting there waiting to eat.

Although he was still a little scared when he heard the sound of hail hitting the ground outside, his son and daughter had already invited people from Wuzhu Tea House, and the problem would be solved soon.

Therefore, he was in a particularly good mood today and did not have a straight face like before.

he asked his wife.

"Everyone has to do what they want to give."

The woman looked at her husband who was opening his mouth for food, and then thought about Sui Zimo who was cooking for her woman in the kitchen.

She suddenly felt very angry, and even the look in her eyes towards her husband became unkind.

"Do it yourself? Why do it yourself?"

When the man heard her words, he put down his chopsticks and looked at the woman reproachfully.

"Did you offend them again? Didn't my daughter tell you yesterday that you should be nice to the two distinguished guests? They are people from Wuzhu Tea House, and we cannot afford to offend them!"

woman:"....."

Why did she offend those two distinguished guests again?

In the eyes of her husband, is his wife just a woman who causes trouble all the time?

"I'm too lazy to tell you!"

Sitting down on a stool nearby, she rolled her eyes at the man and began to eat her meal.

"What's your attitude?"

The man was immediately angry. He was in a good mood, but suddenly felt bad.

"I just said something to you, is that what it is? Also, what about meat? Why is there not a single meat dish on the table? Don't you know that your son and daughter all need to eat meat?"

He asked the woman with a slight fault.

"If you like to eat, you'll be sick if you don't!"

The woman slammed her chopsticks on the table, stood up and left the main room.

"What...what's going on? Who messed with her?"

The man looked at his wife's retreating back in astonishment and had not yet recovered.

He was provoking someone. He was obviously in a good mood, but he was so stunned that he was not even in the mood to eat. What on earth is going on?

Chapter 1642 Breakthrough

"Dad, what are you doing, have you offended my mother?"

The younger brother came in from outside, and happened to encounter his mother who walked away angrily, while in the main room, his father had a look of astonishment on his face.

he asked.

"I don't know. Why does she look like this just after eating? She... is really..."

The man felt that he was even more wronged than Dou E. He had never provoked her before. Didn't he always talk like this before? He never saw his wife being angry.

"Dad, when I came here just now, I saw that young man cooking." The elder sister took a step behind her younger brother, walked in from the door, and explained to the two of them.

"That young master is cooking?"

A flash of surprise flashed in the man's eyes, and then he asked.

"Where's that girl?"

he asks.

"Didn't see it."

My sister replied.

In their kitchen, people outside could not see anyone under the stove. Naturally, she did not see Lin Caisang.

"Mom, I guess you feel uncomfortable when you see a man cooking, but she cooks our food every day and brings it to you, right?"

she said.

man:""

How many men in this world can cook?

Even if we could find a few people, who would be willing to cook for his wife?

There is probably no other person who cares about his wife as much as the young master. As for being so angry?

"Tsk, it's true...this girl has a good life, why is she angry?"

When her sister heard her biological father's words, she raised her eyes and glanced at him.

"I just went outside to take a look, and the wooden boards on the roofs of several houses were damaged by hail, and they are being replaced with new ones," she said.

If she had not gone out, she would definitely have gone to the kitchen to cook with her mother. Unfortunately, she had something to do when she went out today, so she let her mother do it alone.

No, that's what made her angry.

"It broke through again."

Hearing this, the man's face was obviously not very good, and he thought of the roof of his home.

"Then after dinner, you take the two distinguished guests for a walk around the city, and I'll get some boards."

he said.

"I am coming too!"

The younger brother stretched out his hand and suggested.

As a result, his words attracted two unkind looks.

"What are you going to do? Just stay at home and don't go anywhere!" The elder sister glared at her younger brother and said.

The man, on the other hand, didn't give his son a good look. He just raised his hand and slapped his son on the head.

"Dad is already very accommodating by letting you follow your sister to Wuzhu Tea House. If you want to go elsewhere and chop down trees, don't even think about it!"

Even though the place where the trees were cut was outside the city, there was still hail falling.

Although there will be less there, but what if it gets hit?

"Dad, if you go to chop down the tree by yourself, can you come back?" The younger brother looked at his biological father and asked.

"You have two hands to hold an axe. Do you want to grow two more hands to hold a board to block the hail?"

He asked his biological father, unless his biological father had four hands, otherwise, two people still had to go together?

"I'll call your second uncle to go with me. His family will have to cut down the tree in a day or so. It's better to cut it down and replace it early, so as not to smash through the roof!"

The man thought for a while and said.

younger brother:""

After all, I'd better not let him go.

Forget it, just go if you don't want to go. He doesn't want to go outside the city every day.

Chapter 1643 It will be smashed...!

It's just that if this place continues like this, it's really going to be unbearable. I hope the two distinguished guests they invited can find a way soon.

"Then I won't go. I can follow my sister, right?"

he said.

Hearing this, the man thought for a while and then nodded after a while.

"Just follow your sister."

"Okay, okay."

After hearing this, the younger brother nodded quickly, and then looked at his sister proudly.

"Dad asked me to follow you."

The elder sister rolled her eyes helplessly, and there was nothing she could do about this younger brother.

What a mess the city is now. He actually still thinks about having fun every day. It's really a young man who doesn't know what it's like to be sad.

"Dad, you eat first. I'll bring the food to Mom, so you don't go hungry."

After saying that, she stood up, put a lot of vegetables on the rice that the woman had eaten before, took the chopsticks and went out.

As soon as they arrived in the yard, they saw Sui Zimo carrying a tray with two bowls of fragrant noodles, followed by Lin Caisang with empty hands, and the two of them headed towards their room.

elder sister:"....."

She twitched the corners of her mouth, then looked down at the bowl of food in her hand, and suddenly felt that there was no aroma at all.

Sure enough, people can make people more angry than others.

If she saw this, she would be jealous. A man actually protected a woman so well. He even cooked food for her. She had never seen such a man in their county. ah!

After eating, Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo came to the south of the city under the leadership of their sister. Of course, the younger brother was not following behind them.

"The hail in the south of the city is denser and bigger than that there before."

Lin Caisang looked at the hailstones that fell to the ground and melted quickly without even a puddle of water, and said to Sui Zimo.

The heads of several people were still supported by wooden boards and iron plates. Originally, she thought this posture and appearance was quite funny and quite helpless.

But after coming out, she saw that the people in a hurry looked like this, and she was not surprised.

"Yeah, I can see it."

Sui Zimo nodded, tilted the iron body above his head, and looked up at the sky.

I saw even denser hailstones in the sky, falling down and hitting the roofs. It hurt just to look at them.

"call."

Lin Caisang sighed carefully.

"Fortunately, it didn't hit anyone, otherwise..."

If such a big hailstone really hits the head, half of the head will be cut off, right?

If it hits the center, the hole in the head will not just be as big as a bowl, it shouldn't be too scary! horrible!

"You are here, I will go up and take a look."

Sui Zimo warned Lin Caisang, and then moved the iron sheet on his head to Lin Caisang's side.

"What?!"

Lin Caisang was shocked by his decision.

"Don't go, you'll get smashed...!"

Before she could finish her sentence, she saw Sui Zimo being hit by a hailstone bigger than a fist, passing directly from his head through his body and falling to the ground.

But.....

"You...you...are you okay?"

It was his younger brother who stammered his words. He watched helplessly as the hail fell on Sui Zimo, but it didn't even hurt him in the slightest.

"This is impossible, this is impossible...ugh!"

Chapter 1644 It's not too late to find out now

Before he could finish speaking in disbelief, a hand stretched out to cover his mouth.

"Shut up!"

The older sister stared at her younger brother with her cannibalistic eyes.

No matter what the people of Wuzhu Teahouse did, there was nothing surprising. They just didn't get hurt. Isn't it normal?

Who told them that they were from Wuzhu Teahouse?

"If you say one more thing, believe it or not, I will push you out and smash you into hailstones!"

"Uh-huh."

The younger brother shook his head and told his sister with his eyes that he was silent.

"Am I okay?"

"Are you okay?"

The voices of Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo sounded at the same time.

He had just asked Sonner to hold the iron sheet, but he had ignored the fact that he was already standing outside the iron sheet.

But he didn't expect that even if he was standing outside, even if he was hit by hail on his head, nothing would happen, not even a scratch on his skin.

Looking at him, Lin Caisang couldn't help but squat down and reach out to touch the hail that had just hit the ground but had not yet melted.

Who knew...

Her hand didn't touch the hailstone at all, but passed directly through it.

"this....."

She raised her hand and threw the piece of iron sheet to the ground!

Her arms almost hurt from carrying it, but in the end she found that they were actually carrying it for nothing, because these hailstones could not hit them at all.

"Brother Mo Lian, we are lifting such a heavy iron block in vain!"

"It's not too late to find out now."

Sui Zimo smiled and raised his hand to touch her face.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded, then looked up at the sky.

She had to admit that although the hail would not hurt them, her heart was still trembling as she watched the hail falling from the sky, fearing that the hail would kill her in the next moment.

"Let's go up together."

Taking a deep breath, she said to Sui Zimo.

"good."

Sui Zimo responded, then looked at the siblings.

"Take this iron plate and don't use wooden boards anymore."

"oh oh."

The younger brother nodded, quickly picked up the iron sheet at their feet, and then put it on his and his sister's heads.

The board in my sister's hand has been thrown to the ground.

And on that piece of wood, marks have been smashed out one by one. They are very big, but they are not enough to break through the board so quickly, but it will be faster if you think about it.

"Walk."

Sui Zimo and Lin Caisang flew up and stood on the roof of a house.

Looking at the sky from a high place, except for the falling hail, I still can't see anything, only a gray mist.

"Brother Melian, I think we should look for the places with the largest hailstones. I see that the sizes of these hailstones are exactly the same in the same place, but the sizes in the south and north of the city are obviously different."

Lin Caisang reminded.

Sui Zimo naturally understood this and nodded.

"Go and have a look again."

After he said something, the two flew to the roof of another family's house, and then looked at each family.

But even if he looked so carefully, he really didn't find anything.

They wanted to compare it with hailstones, but their hands couldn't pick up the hailstones. What could they do?

We can only take our time.

"Go down and take a look again."

After a long time, the two returned to the siblings.

"You two are familiar with this place. Can you knock on a house and ask them if anything special happened in the south of the city when the rainbow appeared that day?"

Lin Caisang asked her sister.

Chapter 1645 It won't be a divine punishment

"Of course this is possible.

The sister nodded immediately, and the two of them went over and knocked on the door of a house they were most familiar with.

"Who?"

After a while, someone from that house came out to open the courtyard door.

When the courtyard door opened and the people inside saw that Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo were not even holding up the wooden board, they were almost frightened to death.

"Why do you guys come to my house when you have time?"

After coming back to his senses, he looked at the siblings and asked.

"Uncle, these two are the experts I invited from Wuzhu Teahouse. They are here to help us solve the hail problem. Then, they have something to ask you people living in the south of the city. I don't know. Can?"

My sister asked the man.

"Wuzhu Teahouse? That Wuzhu Teahouse?"

When the man heard his sister's words, his eyes lit up, and he looked at Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo with eager eyes.

If the people from Wuzhu Teahouse come, then the people in their county will be saved.

"Quick, please come in and sit down."

He hurriedly welcomed the four people in and asked his wife to make tea for them.

After a while, the man started talking to Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo.

However, what I heard from his mouth was different from what I heard from the man in the previous family.

"How can this be a divine punishment? It's absolutely impossible."

The man shook his head, feeling that what Lin Caisang said was just a fantasy.

"How do you know it's impossible?"

My sister frowned tightly and felt very uncomfortable.

What her father said yesterday was a lie, and the person he lied to was the person she and her brother invited to Wuzhu Tea House!

How could her father be like this?

"How come I didn't know?"

The man smiled at his sister and continued to speak.

"There is natural punishment in our county, but this is not how it comes. The natural punishment here will only deal with those who have done wrong things. The degree of natural punishment will also be different depending on the size of the wrong thing. of."

he explained.

"So, the hailstorm now is definitely not a punishment from God. Even if a few people in our county do some bad things secretly, it will not cause the entire county to suffer.

Distinguished guests, do you think this is true? "

He looked at Lin Caisang and Sui Zimo and asked them.

It's a punishment from God. How could this be a punishment from God? It's absolutely impossible.

"Where did you hear that this is a punishment from heaven? This is not right. Based on your age, you should not know that there is a punishment from heaven in our county. How did you know?"

"this....."

The elder sister glanced at her younger brother, and their eyes were full of embarrassment.

Their father is really good at tricking people. He tricked his two children into it, and he is still talking about heavenly punishment without shame!

"We only found out after listening to other people's comments there."

Lin Caisang opened his mouth and confused the parents of the siblings.

"Oh, listen to what others say."

The man had no doubts. Naturally, Lin Caisang took whatever he said.

"Actually, we also find it strange that it's so good, why did it start to rain? It's not like hail has never happened in our county, but it only happened in a few hours. Such big hailstones."

He muttered as he thought.

Chapter 1646 Yes, yes

"Has it happened before?"

Hearing his muttering, Sui Zimo looked at him and asked. 【】

"Yeah, I've done it several times before." The man nodded.

"I have only encountered it twice. I heard from my parents that they also encountered it several times, but the hailstones at that time were not big. The largest ones were as big as eggs, and the small ones were small. It's like it's snowing."

Like this time, several people have been killed.

Unless they have nothing to eat at home, who would dare to go out? At most, the wooden boards on the roof are not strong, and they have to cut down trees and make wooden boards to cover them again.

"I heard that before the hailstorm, a rainbow appeared in the south of the city. Is it true?" Lin Caisang asked.

"What a rainbow? Is that fog?"

The man denied Lin Caisang's words and said.

He didn't think it was a rainbow, and the people living in the south of the city didn't think it was a rainbow.

It was very beautiful. What was it so beautiful about? At that time, they couldn't even see the road clearly, and as soon as the fog cleared, it started to hail.

It's getting bigger and bigger, it can scare a person!

"Girl, sir, that is definitely not a rainbow, nor is it a beautiful scenery like others said." The man's wife walked in and spoke to Lin Caisang and the two of them.

"I was outside with my child at that time. When the fog came, I couldn't even see the road clearly. My child was hit because he couldn't see the road clearly. The injury on his face is still not healed."

However, they didn't even ask for a doctor because they didn't have time to ask for one.

When the fog was thick, it was useless for them to go out because they couldn't see the road clearly.

When the fog finally cleared, the hail started to fall. It was so hard. Where could I get out?

Even if she went out, the doctor wouldn't come because of the weather. Only her husband went out a few times to cut some wood and come back to make wooden boards for the roof.

"They said the fog was colored, but what I looked at was red. I didn't see any other colors, only red."

Hearing the woman's words, Lin Caisang turned around and glanced at Sui Zimo, who also happened to look at her.

"That's not a rainbow, but a strange fog." Lin Caisang said.

"Then let me ask you again, before the strange fog appeared, did anything strange happen in the south of the city?"

she asked.

"Something strange?"

The man and his wife looked at each other, then shook their heads.

"There's nothing weird. It's just like usual. Our county couldn't be more peaceful."

"Yes, girl, the people in our county have always lived a peaceful life because of the constraints of heaven's punishment, and we will never cause any weird things."

The woman echoed.

"Really?" Lin Caisang asked again.

"No."

"Really not..."

The two couples spoke at the same time, but before they finished speaking, they heard their son's voice.

"Yes, yes."

The little guy was not yet ten years old. Although his face was injured, it had already been more than ten days and the scabs had already formed and there was no pain anymore. He rushed into the main room.

"Why not? Dad, Mom, I saw little Huzi picked up a colorful ball. Several of his companions were playing with the ball. They threw it into the mud and then into the water.

Even when Xiao Huzi threw the ball into the fire, the ball was not burned, which was strange. "

Chapter 1647 Everyone will suffer

"ball?"

Lin Caisang looked at the little guy and raised his eyebrows.

"Kid, do you know where Xiao Huzi got his ball?"

she asked.

"I know."

The little guy nodded and pointed in a direction.

"It's in the tree hole in the temple over there. He got in and took out the ball."

"Hey, what's so great about this!"

After hearing her son's words, the woman suddenly screamed and her face turned livid.

The man's face is still uglier than the woman's at this moment, and even the faces of the siblings are not good-looking.

"Is the temple important?"

Seeing their expressions, Lin Caisang asked aloud.

"Girl, you don't know that people in our county worship the gods in the temple." The woman explained to her.

What should I do about this? That little tiger can really do anything!

How could a young child go to the temple and actually climb the sacred cave in the sacred tree? That sacred cave is the most important in their county. Who dares to desecrate it?

"This little tiger, really... I don't know how his parents teach their children!"

"Say less."

After hearing what his wife said, the man looked very unhappy, but he still shook his head at her.

"Why."

The woman sighed heavily.

"What's wrong? Can't Xiaohuzi's family talk anymore?" Lin Caisang asked.

"Girl, it's not that I can't say it, it's just..."

The elder sister glanced at Sui Zimo, then looked at Lin Caisang, her face even more ugly.

"Last time I mentioned that someone was crushed to death in our county, including Xiao Huzi's family. His grandfather was crushed to death by hail.

As for Xiao Huzi, his grandfather is the most pampered at home, and he depends on him for everything. His parents can't teach their children well, and they will be chased and beaten by his grandfather. "

Lin Caisang: "..."

You actually bring someone like this. No matter how much you pamper your grandson, you can't pamper him to the point of being lawless, right?

But think about it, many times people like this are normal.

"It must be Xiao Huzi and the others."

The woman gritted her teeth and spoke to Lin Caisang and the others with great certainty.

Then, she turned to look at her son and asked again.

"Shan'er, tell mother, besides Xiao Huzi, who else did you see playing with the red ball with Xiao Huzi?" she asked.

"Let me think about it."

Xiaoshan'er was questioned by his mother, and he lowered his head and began to think carefully.

"There are two brothers Mingzi, sister Baige, Yuwazi and Xiaobai'er, that's all."

The more I listened to Xiao Shan'er's words, the more ugly the faces of the man and his wife became. The faces of the two siblings were also extremely ugly.

"It is indeed the red ball, indeed it is."

The woman muttered involuntarily, with an expression as if she was about to cry.

"What should we do? What should we do? They have offended the sacred tree. The people in our county will all suffer. What should we do?"

When she thought that so many people were killed because of a few disobedient children, she really wanted to beat those children to death.

"Um?"

Lin Caisang raised her eyebrows and looked at the sister.

"Girl, among the families that Xiao Shan'er just mentioned, some of them were killed by hail." The elder sister explained to Lin Caisang with a gray look on her face.

She was almost crying.

Chapter 1648 Let's do it like this

"There were also several families where people were smashed to death, but they were all very close to Xiao Huzi's family, and there were children about the same age as Xiao Huzi in their homes, and they probably played with the red ball together.

"It seems that the red ball is very important."

Sui Zimo looked at Lin Caisang and said.

"No, we have to get that red ball back and put it back in the cave!" The man patted the table and stood up.

"etc."

Seeing him like this, Lin Caisang quickly spoke up to stop him.

"Girl, you don't know that the Divine Cave is very important to us. Every year we throw so many sacrifices into the Divine Cave, isn't it just so that the Divine Cave can bless us with good weather here.

The man spoke bitterly.

What he hates is naturally that little tiger, who can't take anything but the red ball in the divine cave!

If you can't go anywhere and have to go to the temple to play, don't you want to kill the entire county?
If such children are not taught well, what will they do in the future?

"I must go, must..."

"If you go like this, people won't admit that their child took the red ball from the God's Cave." Sui Zimo said to him calmly.

"Why won't you admit it? Do they want to kill more people?" the man yelled angrily.

They did something wrong, shouldn't they take out the red ball and put it back into the hole intact?

"Do you want them to admit that they killed so many people in the county?" Lin Caisang looked at the man and asked him.

"If this matter were laid on your head, and it was your Xiao Shan'er who did this, would you dare to admit it?"

"Well!"

The man choked hard at her words.

Yes, if it were revealed to him, he might not admit it. It's not that he doesn't want to, but that he doesn't dare!

"Beautiful sister, Xiao Shan'er would not do such a thing. Only Xiao Huzi would do that. He is so naughty." Xiao Shan'er immediately refused to accept what Lin Caisang said.

"Okay, sister knows that Xiao Shan'er is the best and will never do anything wrong. Sister is just comparing it to your father, it's not true."

Lin Caisang looked at Xiao Shan'er with a smile and comforted him.

However, when she raised her head and looked at the man, her eyes changed and she looked at him very seriously.

"Then...girl, what should we do now? Is this why the hail is falling like this?" The man looked at Lin Caisang and asked.

This is not okay. The hail is falling endlessly, and the hail particles are getting bigger and bigger. If this continues, who can bear it?

But he knew in his heart that according to the temperament of Xiao Huzi and his family, if they knew that the cause of the hailstorm was their own son, they would never admit it!

They can teach their son to be like this, which shows that his character is not very good.

"Since you can't get it back directly at the door, then..." Lin Caisang looked at Sui Zimo and raised an eyebrow at him.

When Sui Zimo received her gaze, he raised his hand, touched his nose in a funny way, and shook his head.

This girl actually wants him to be a gentleman in Liang Shang.

However, emergency situations call for extraordinary measures, and if he can do it this time, it won't be a big deal.

"Just do it."

He agreed.

"What should we do?"

Neither the man, his wife nor the siblings understood what Sui Zimo said.

Chapter 1649 Isn't this... bad?

What does it mean to just do it? What should we do?

They don't know anything yet. Is it because the hail keeps falling like this?

"Girl, sir..."

"Take me to Xiao Huzi's house to have a look.

Before the man could ask the question, Lin Caisang said to them.

"have a look?"

The man was a little stunned, not understanding what she meant.

"Yes, look at it."

Lin Caisang nodded, then looked at the man's wife.

"Madam, did you ever quarrel with your husband-in-law when you were at home?"

"ah?"

The woman was stunned by her question.

After glancing sideways at his husband, he quickly lowered his head.

There is no quarrel between this couple. No matter how good their relationship is, there will still be bumps and bruises.

Quarrel is of course inevitable.

"This...how can there be no quarrels between this couple? It's just quarrels at the end of the bed and at the end of the bed, hehe, hehehehe."

She smiled awkwardly and whispered.

The people who heard her words rolled their eyes at her, but there was no trace of disgust in their eyes, just a little helplessness and something that others couldn't understand.

"Well."

Lin Caisang said two words lightly.

"What?"

Women don't understand, so what's the point?

Could it be that this girl wanted to see the couple quarreling?

But at this time, who can still make a noise? All the thoughts are on the hail outside.

Don't even think about quarreling!

"You will take me to Xiao Huzi's house later, and then, madam, just speak at the top of your voice about what his little Huzi did and about the red ball. Make it as loud as possible.

Not only the hailstorm that killed people before, but also what might happen in the future should be punished on the heads of their whole family! "

"ah?"

The woman was stunned by Lin Caisang's words.

"Isn't this... bad?"

Although she said it was not good, she felt in her heart that the family should indeed receive the lesson they deserved.

Otherwise, if you continue to spoil your child like this, you don't know what kind of trouble it will cause in the future. Maybe, their family will be the next to be punished by God.

This is also very possible.

"Then, let's go."

Before Lin Caisang could continue, she convinced herself, picked up the wooden board standing on the side, and was about to lead them out of the yard.

"Brother Mo Lian, I leave it to you."

Lin Caisang glanced at Sui Zimo, saw him nodding, and then left with the couple.

And the siblings also followed.

"Girl, won't that young master come with us?" The younger brother asked Lin Caisang in confusion.

"He had other things going on."

Lin Caisang continued walking and said something.

'Bang, bang bang bang. '

The knock on the door kept ringing, and just like before, it took a while before someone opened the door.

On the one hand, they were looking for something that could protect them from hail. On the other hand, the hail was really hitting the ground and the sound on the roof was too loud. The slight knocking on the door was hard to hear.

But the sound of the couple knocking on the door was a bit loud.

"Who is it? Come on, come on, stop knocking, you guys broke the door!"

A woman's voice sounded from inside, and after a while, a woman wearing linen clothes opened the courtyard door.

"Aren't these Shan'er's parents? How come you have time to come to my house? Come on, come on in..."

Chapter 1650 What is this?

"Whatever goes in, I'll tell you right here!"

The woman has a tigerish face, and she doesn't have a good face towards the woman at all.

"Damn it, Huzi, has your Huzi been in trouble recently? And your family didn't dare to tell anyone about it in order to save this son?"

She asked Huzi's mother.

"What...what's going on?"

Huzi's mother's eyes jumped when she heard Shan'er's mother's words.

I thought to myself, could it be that they knew about her tiger digging a sacred cave before?

But so what, it's just a magical cave. Someone has climbed it before, and nothing has ever happened to her. Even her tigers will be fine if they try to climb it.

"What else are you asking about?"

Shan'er's mother was so angry when she heard what she said.

One look at the look on this woman's face, and it was clear that she knew and dared to hide it.

Isn't this a trick to trick people? I still want to trick everyone in their entire county!

"Don't think we don't know. Your tiger went to climb the God's Cave that day, right? Just the morning before the hailstorm, he even took out a red ball from the God's Cave!"

"this....."

When Huzi's mother heard this, she was so frightened that her face turned green.

No one in their family knew about the red ball, only she knew.

That day, she saw her son and several children playing with something at the door. When she saw it was a ball that had been played with to make it look dirty, she casually asked where it came from.

Who knew that her son, who cheated his parents to death, actually said that he took it out of the divine cave.

Ouch, you scared her!

She immediately snatched the red ball, then returned home and hid it in a corner.

If someone finds out about this red ball, that's fine. Their family will definitely not be able to stay here anymore, and they will definitely be kicked out.

But they are all controlled by the heavenly punishment in this county. Where can they go?

Since we are no longer in the county town, we can only live in a thatched hut outside the city.

But who wants such a day?

Therefore, she kept the matter of the red ball a secret and did not tell anyone else in the family.

And she also told her son again and again that day, telling him not to tell anyone else, otherwise he would suffer retribution.

It happened that hail started to fall after that day, and her old man was killed by the hail. She threatened Hu Zi, saying that if he told the story about the red ball, the hail would kill his head. A few holes were made.

The child was so frightened by her that he didn't tell anyone about it.

"You are talking nonsense. There is no red ball. What is the red ball? I don't know, and my little tiger doesn't even know."

After coming back to her senses, she angrily yelled at Shan'er's mother.

"Don't know yet?"

When Shan'er's mother heard this, the anger in her heart became even stronger.

Originally, she thought that if the family knew their mistakes, they would correct them and pretend that nothing happened.

But look now, this is not about correcting the mistake after knowing it. It is clearly intentional, deliberately hiding the red ball from others, so that no one knows!

"Everyone in my family has seen it. Your tiger brought the red ball from the sacred cave of the temple and was playing with some children on the street! Don't think that no one knows!"

"No, there is no such thing."

Hu Zi's mother continued to deny it, and treated it as if it had never happened!
