Chapter 229 Figure out things at home

"Why not? Didn't I wash her clothes? You still ask me to cook for her. Isn't this just work?" Lin Caihe shouted.

She couldn't care about that much anymore. The grievances she had suffered for many years broke out at this moment, and she just wanted to express her feelings. She had suffered enough from Lin Caisang's anger over the years.

"Second sister, why don't you say that you are eating the meat hunted by Brother Chang Hong, the wild eggs picked up by Sister Sang Sang, and the rice grains exchanged for the money they earned? What you wear on your body, what you eat in your mouth It's all earned by Brother Chang Hong and Sister Sang Sang, why don't you say this?"

Lin Caiqing muttered, looked at her sister, and asked.

"If these were exchanged for silver, it would be a lot, right? Second sister.

"you....."

Lin Caihe didn't expect Lin Caiqing to say that, and was speechless for a moment.

"Everyone ate these together, and I wasn't alone. Oh, everyone ate together, but I was left to do the work alone. Why?"

The confused crowd: "..."

"Why."

Finally, Lin Laogong sighed heavily.

"At first, Sang Sang wanted to divide the money earned at home because she was afraid that the family would be uneasy. I thought Sang Sang was overthinking it. But now it seems...Old lady, find some free time and figure out the things at home. Don't mix everything together, look what it's become!"

"good.

Lu Qiubo nodded and sighed heavily.

She also didn't expect that Lin Caihe would become like this. The food and drink should be given to her, but the things she was asked to do must be so clearly divided. She was self-interested and not good for others. This was the second Liu Baixiao.

"Don't be like this, everyone. From now on, I will still do the kitchen work. You can do whatever you have to do. After I have discussed it with your grandpa, I will tell you what to do with this family. Let's all disperse. "

With that said, she went into the kitchen.

Lin Baiyi raised his thick eyebrows and glared at Lin Caihe. Yang Lin was so angry that his teeth chattered. He didn't even look at Lin Caihe's daughter and followed him into the kitchen to help.

"Chu Shui, stop standing outside and go eat in the main room."

Lin Changfeng greeted the stunned Liu Chushui into the main room, and Lin Caiqing and Lin Changyi followed him in.

"Sang Sang, Brother Mo Lian asked us to have dinner, then should I go to the mountain to get something and bring it over? It's not like I'm going to be empty-handed, right?" Lin Changhong asked his sister, using Lin Caihe as air.

"I'll go to the mountain to pick up some wild eggs in the afternoon, so don't go there. We're still busy on Menghuang Mountain," Lin Caisang said.

"Okay, then be careful."

Lin Changhong nodded and warned.

Carrying half a basket of wild eggs, Lin Caisang and Lin Changhong arrived at Ya Molian's house.

When she came back from picking up so many wild eggs, she wanted to keep half of them at home, but she didn't know that because of Lin Caihe's incident, Lu Qiubo wouldn't let her keep them, saying that if she had the kindness to give eggs to others, she might as well take them to the town. Exchange a few copper coins.

She had no choice but to bring all the wild eggs to Ya Molian's house.

"Brother Mo Lian, where are you? Sangsang and I are here." As soon as we arrived in the yard, Lin Changhong shouted with a loud voice.

After a moment, Ya Molian walked out of the kitchen, wearing an apron. He looked like a good-looking chef. Lin Caisang was stunned when he saw it, and he almost couldn't recover.
